Worth a Guinea a Box.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

ARE admitted by thousands to be worth above A GUINEA A BOX for Billous and Nervous Disorders, such as Wind and Pain at the Stomach, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Fulness, and Swelling after meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Scurvy, Blotches on the skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, &c. &c. The first dose will give relief in twenty minutes.

This is no fiction, for they have done it in thousands of cases. The Proprietor of these Pills having obtained (at great expense) a Patent for them, he challenges the whole world to produce a medicine equal to them for removing the above named complaints and restoring the patient to sound and lasting health.

Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try one box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be

WORTH A GUINEA A BOX.

For females of all ages these Pills are invaluable, as a few doses of them carry off all gross humours, open all obstructions, and bring about all that is required. No female should be without them. There is no remedy to be found to equal BEECHAM'S PILLS for removing any obstruction or irregularity of the system. If taken according to the directions given with each box, they will soon restore females of all ages to sound and robust health.

For a weak Stomach, impaired digestion, and all disorders of the Liver they act like "MAGIC," and a few doses will be found to work wonders upon the most important organs in the human machine. They strengthen the whole muscular system, restore the long lost complexion, bring back the keen edge of appetite and arouse into action, with the ROSEBUD of health, the whole physical energy of the human frame.—These are "FACTS" admitted by thousands, embracing all classes of Society, and one of the best guarantees to the Nervous Debilitated is, BEECHAM'S PILLS have the largest sale of any Patent Medicine in the world.

BEECHAM'S MAGIC COUGH PILLS

Are a remedy for Coughs in General, Asthma, Difficulty of Breathing, Shortness of Breath, Tightness and Oppression of the Chest, Wheezing, &c., these Pills stand unrivalled for anyone labouring under any of the above complaints. They need only try One Box to prove that they are the best ever offered to the public for asthmatic and Consumptive Coughs, Hoarseness, and Oppression of the Chest. They speedily remove the sense of oppression and Difficulty of breathing which nightly deprive the patient of rest. They give almost instant relief and comfort to those afflicted with the above distressing and, when neglected, dangerous complaints, but any person troubled with any of the above complaints should give Beecham's Cough Pills a trial.

The most violent Cough will in a short time be removed.

Caution.—The public are requested to notice that the words "BEECHAM'S PILLS, St Helen's," are on the Government Stamp affixed to each box of the Pills; if not on, they are a forgery.

Prepared only, and sold wholesale and retail by the proprietor, T. Beecham, Chemist, St. Helen's, Lancashire, in boxes, 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Sent post free for 15 or 36 stamps.

Sold by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Dealers in the United Kingdom.

N.B.—Full directions are given with each Box.

CAUTION.—THE QUEEN v. LAMPLOUGH.—The unanimous Verdict of the Court was in favour of Pyretic Saline being sold without the usual Medicine Duty; this has induced several Chymists and other dealers to put up effervescing powders, worthless & in many instances containing Caustic & injurious ingredients. It is important and imperative that in all cases of Sickness, Fevers, & CHOLERA Symptoms, the genuine Pyretic Saline should be purchased bearing my name only, HENRY LAMPLOUGH, 113, Holborn, London.

Friday, January 9, 1885.

THE Bill for re-distributing the seats in the Reformed Parliament of 1886 still holds most closely the attention and activity of all who take an interest in national affairs. The increase of electors secured by the passing of the Franchise Bill is a great and momentous stride in the progress of events, and one with which we have complete sympathy, as being only just and fair, giving to the country householder the same privileges and position as his neighbour who breathes the dull and smoky air of the town. But this step was only the extension of a plan which had already been tried and approved. The Bill which now exercises the minds and organizations of the country is one which is working dismay and disruption in all our political clubs and societies, and both Liberals and Conservatives find their ordinary arrangements more or less upset, necessitating an entire revision of their usual programme. It is not probable that Parliament will be dissolved this year, though there are rocks enough ahead of us, on which they might break up, and yet another election might take place before the Redistribution Bill gets through. Supposing, however, that 1885 passes under the present Parliament, what a variety of changes must transpire in the new House. Many of our best-known statesmen will have lost their present seats; the ancient names of Tiverton and Aylesbury (Bucks) will be no longer associated with descendants of their former members, Lord Palmerston and the Rt. Hon. Benj. Disraeli; and such celebrated members as sat for Woodstock (Lord Randolph Churchill) and for Eye (Mr. Ashmead Bartlett) will have to seek other constituencies. These and a host of other small towns will disappear from the list of constituencies, and the big towns and populous counties will swallow up the members; Knaresbro', Northallerton, Malton, Richmond, Ripon, Thirsk, and Whitby, are all doomed, and will only re-appear as portions of county divisions. Four weeks ago, we gave a general idea of the character of the proposed alterations, among these being Leeds with five single members, as detailed in another column.

A proposal has also been agreed upon by the agents on either side for this Division of the South West Riding into eight electoral districts, and being accepted by the chiefs of the two political parties, is likely to be finally decided on by the Boundary Commissioners when they sit for the county enquiry. Under this arrangement it will be seen that Rothwell is about midway between the extreme points of the division, Horbury being at one end, and Normanton at the other. Under this plan, the Rothwell polling district is likely to be a very important one, covering nearly one-third of the population, and as we urged a month ago, our leading authority ought to take some steps for securing to Rothwell and neighbourhood, a representation on the Committee deciding these matters. In the Rothwell Local Board district, some 1,200 or 1,300 persons will be entitled to exercise the suffrage, and surely a matter affecting so large a number of persons should be worth while considering. By all means we ought to have a representation on any Committee having the arrangement of electoral questions, and we urgently press on all the necessity for making the best of the change, both individually and as a district.

We have received a copy of the memorial which is being signed throughout the Hunslet Union, against the latest proposal of the Leeds Board of Guardians, which, so far as some of the out-townships are concerned, is very little better than the previous scheme, and as regards the intownships, amounts to the same thing as before. The scheme proposes that the borough boundary shall be the Leeds Union boundary, and swallowing up the townships of Hunslet, Holbeck, Bramley and other places, while the out-townships as Rothwell, Oulton-with-Woodlesford, and Middleton, are to be added to Wakefield Union, and Temple Newsam and Thorp Stapleton to Tadcaster. Although something has been said in favour of amalgamation with Wakefield as being likely to reduce our rates, the advocates of this proposal have not yet made any effort to shew what advantages will actually be gained. If it can be shewn that great benefits may be anticipated by connection with Wakefield, the other considerations will have to give way, but should there be no considerable monetary advantage, then in every other portion of the argument, it is better for us, if possible to remain where we are, rather than have our head quarters six miles off, the whole distance of which must be done by road. The Hunslet offices are comparatively easy of access, either by recipients of relief, for Guardians, or for poor law officers, and taken all together we are forced to the conclusion that, except something very tempting is offered in the financial line, our best plan is cordially and vigorously to support the Hunslet Board of Guardians in opposing the Leeds scheme, and bear the ills we have, rather than fly to those we know not of. We would therefore advise all to sign the memorial which is being presented to every person over 18 years of age.

HER MAJESTY is the first English Sovereign who has been spared to see the coming of age of her Heir-Apparent's successor presumptive. It seems but the other day since Prince Albert Victor—or Prince Edward, as we are now urged to designate our country's rising hope—emerged from the cradle, and we trust that many years may elapse ere he is called on to sway the sceptre. Our beloved Queen is but in her sixty-sixth year, long as she has occupied the throne; and when the time comes for her to lay down the earth's brightest diadem—as come, alas! it will—all England hopes that her eldest son will initiate another lengthy and brilliant reign. The country wishes heartily, and in all earnest loyalty a happy future to the illustrious prince who is now no longer a minor; but because the people desire his succession to be far off in the time to come, and because his boyhood has been passed in unassuming preparation for the weighty responsibilities which await his later life, and hence he is personally little known, the coming of age of the Queen's chief grandson has not been so demonstratively celebrated up and down in the land as one might have expected. Let him spend his young manhood in seeking to grasp the heart of the nation as his father already holds it, and when his turn comes to wear the crown, Prince Edward may then succeed to the rich legacy of her subjects' love which one day Queen Victoria must leave to the Prince of Wales.

THE proposed marriage of the Princess Beatrice with Prince Henry of Battenburg will create a very confused state of relationship in the Royal Family. Prince Henry of Battenburg is the younger brother of Prince Louis of Battenburg, who married the Queen's grand-daughter, Princess Victoria of Hesse. Thus Princess Beatrice will be sister-in-law to her own niece; and, Prince Henry's brother having married her niece, she will virtually be aunt to her own husband—or her own niece and her own aunt as well. But one of the most curious facts of the case is that two brothers should marry aunt and niece respectively, the younger brother taking the aunt, whilst the elder takes the niece. Perplexity itself is the result of an attempt to trace all these relationships through their devious courses. And the senses positively reel in the face of any attempt to ascertain what exact relationships will exist between any possible issue of this marriage and the children of Prince Louis, the husband of Her Majesty the Queen's grand-daughter.

THROAT IRRITATION & COUGH.—Soreness and dryness, tickling and irritation, inducing cough and affecting the voice. For these symptoms use Epps' Glycerine Jujubes. In contact with the glands at the moment they are excited by the act of sucking, the Glycerine in these agreeable confections becomes actively healing. Sold only in boxes, 7½d., tins 1s. 1½d., labelled "JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London." A letter received: "Gentlemen,—It may perhaps interest you to know that, after an extended trial, I have found your Glycerine Jujubes of considerable benefit (with or without medical treatment) in almost all forms of throat disease. They soften and clear the voice.—Yours faithfully, GORDON HOLMES, M.D., Senior Physician to the Municipal Throat and Ear Infirmary."

RED

The Boundary Commis will sit at Leeds Town Hall on Frid xt, to hear any remarks which may b de on their proposed division of the tow into five single member constituencies. The following is the proposal:—

The NORTHERN DIVISION, with a population of 58,491 persons, includes the municipal ward of Headingley, and portions of the North-West, North, North-East and Brunswick wards.

The CENTRAL DIVISION, with a population umbering 64,725, comprises the West, Mill-hill, and portions of the Brunswick and Central wards.

The EASTERN DIVISION, with a population of 59,537, includes the East, and portions of the North-East, North, and Central Wards.

The SOUTH-EASTERN DIVISION, with a population numbering 65,113 persons, comprises the municipal wards of South and East Hunslet, West Hunslet, and part of Holbeck.

The SOUTH WESTERN DIVISION, with a population of 61,260, includes the municipal wards of New Wortley, Armley and Wortley, Bramley, and part of Holbeck.

SOUTH-WEST RIDING.

By mutual arrangement, the secretaries of the Liberal and Conservative parties in this division have agreed to recommend a scheme for the electoral boundaries of the South-West Riding, including a number of townships with the following centres and populations:—Saddleworth (with Golcar, Meltham, etc.,) 63,973; Mirfield (with Morley and Ossett, etc.) 64,061; Lower Agbrigg (Normanton, Horbury, Rothwell, etc.,) 62,052; Doncaster (with Hemsworth, etc.,) 60,280; Wath (with Mexbro', Swinton, Wombwell, etc.,) 54,169; Rotherham, (with Kimberworth, Rawmarsh, etc.) 65,037; Barnsley (with Hoyland, etc.,) 65,356; and Penistone (including Bradfield, Ecclesfield, etc.,) 62,405; altogether 497,333

Rothwell and neighbourhood are included in No. 3 (Lower Agbrigg) Division, of which the following are the details:—

Altofts	3,172	Normanton	8,038
Alverthorpe with Thornes, part ..	4,723	Oulton with Woodlesford	2,344

From Morley, we learn that steps are being taken to alter the arrangements in which we are interested by making that town the head of a division, with Ossett, Soothill, Ardsley, Rothwell, Oulton, Woodlesford, and Middleton, and Horbury, with a population of 59,217; but we do not think the scheme will commend itself to the Associations, nor to the Commissioners. This proposal is only an additional reason why we should have a say in these arrangements.

METHLEY LOCAL BOARD.

The postponed ordinary monthly meeting of this Board was held at the Red House on Monday. The minutes of the previous meeting having been read and confirmed, the clerk reported that he had received a letter from the Local Government Board transmitting a letter they had received from the Rothwell Local Board, and asking for the observations of the Board upon it. The letter from the Rothwell Board said that they understood that in order to obtain a water supply for the Methley Local Board from the Leeds Corporation, pipes would have to be laid on the Leeds and Barnsdale Road in the Rothwell district, and they wished to be informed of the date of the Government Inquiry, so that they could appear before the Inspector if they considered it necessary. There was already a line of pipes on the road supplying Oulton and Woodlesford.—Mr. Richardson said there could be no objection to the Rothwell Board knowing the date of the enquiry, and the Clerk was directed to furnish the Local Government Board with the information asked for.

PRINCE ALBERT VICTOR.

THE coming of age of Prince Albert Victor, the eldest son of the Prince of Wales, was celebrated yesterday at Sandringham, where many congratulatory addresses were received, and in towns throughout the kingdom, especially at those places which are residences of members of the Royal Family. In London the customs carried out on Royal birthdays were observed at the Government offices and barracks; flags were hoisted, and the bells rung, and at a special meeting of the London City Council it was resolved to vote the freedom of the City, in a gold box, to Prince Albert Victor, and also to present an address to His Royal Highness, to the Queen, and to the Prince and Princess of Wales, in congratulation on the coming of age of His Royal Highness.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Some occupations tend to the development of certain diseases, and those who toil as miners are peculiarly liable to rheumatism, lumbago, and other allied complaints. In the goldfields and copper mines, Holloway's remedies have been largely patronized by the workers to their very great advantage, and they can be confidently recommended as invaluable remedies for inward congestions, spasms and cramps in the bowels, and all those conditions of the lungs and liver to which those who work underground or in impure atmospheres are so peculiarly liable. For cuts, bruises, sprains and stiffened joints, the action of Holloway's Ointment is eminently healing and soothing, and a supply should always be at hand in case of need.

The medical profession are now ordering Cadbury's Cocoa Essence in thousands of cases, because it contains more nutritious and flesh-forming elements than any other beverage, and is preferable to the thick starchy cocoa ordinarily sold. When you ask for Cadbury's Cocoa Essence be sure that you get it, as shopkeepers often push imitations for the sake of extra profits. Makers to the Queen. Paris depôt, 90 Faubourg St. Honore.

LOC[illegible]ENERAL.

ROTHW[illegible]ERANCE SOCIETY'S ALMANACK SHOW.—T[illegible]l show of the above Society was held in th[illegible]perance Hall, on Saturday and Monday last. [illegible]e entries did not number quite so many as last [illegible], but some good samples were shewn Mr. and Mrs. Tennant officiated as judges, and awarded the prizes in the class for large sizes, 1st (£1) to Jack's Yarn. 2nd (10s.) Going to Market, (of which there were five) this almanack having gained the second prize at last year's show, and first at the one held in 1882. The third prize (5s.) fell to Pride of the Coast (three). Of the smaller lot, Diplomacy, or Grandfather's penny, (there being four of these) took first place (£1), Haddon Hall, (4) second 10s., and third 5s., Famous British Workmen (4), which has also been awarded prizes at the other shows. The various almanacks included the following:—Large size, Tired after a day's sport, Carnival at Nice, The reception (2), The better land (4), Tintern Abbey (11), Not much of a scholar (2), Two pets (2), Tender and true, Going to the Masquerade, Rosalind, Hartz Mountains (3) Little grandfather (3), Four Beauties, Christian Martyr (2), The guardian angel (3, highly commended), Little dears (2) Romeo and Juliet, The conservatory, On guard (2) The young gamekeeper (highly commended), Little grandmother, Come at last, The nose gay, Be true to me (highly commended). Small size, A bride (2), Christmas morning (3), The bridesmaid, Our Dorothy (2), Egyptian Captive (2), The spinning wheel, Fanny and Fawn (2), God's Helper (2) The Eagle Tower (4), Two views of life, Morning (2), Mastiff dog, Rosie and Rover (2), Returning home (2) Lawn Tennis (3), Let me te if you like butter, A winning partner, The garden teaparty (2), Robert Burns (2), The first of May (2) Miss Mischief (5), Home again, The donkey ride, The home ruler (2), Every inch a sailor, Waiting for a customer, H R.H. Princess of Wales (2) The nightingale's song, The nigger's family, Bedtime (2) Love me, love my dog, Will you have me, God speed, Yes, God speed, Prodigal's return (4) Helping grandpa, Scarbro, The unfrequented path, Our girls, A day with the hounds, Her first sorrow, Jack's yarn, Evening summer, Amy Robsart, Prince Leopold, Poppy, A Christmas card for grandma, Home from the fair, The first tune, Wounded comrade (2), Darby and Joan (2), Daisy's first ride, I'm very tired, In the right path, Loving memories (4), Little Emily, The ancestral home, Lilly Langtry, The star of Bethlehem, Thoughts of home, Summer, Homeward bound, Christmas visitors, Going to the pantomime, The happy valley (2), Sambo at the seaside, Sambo settled, Our Emma, Playing at bear (highly commended), Nearing home, Turn again Whittington, Autumn flowers, Winter of life, Summertime, Salvation Army almanack. There was a fair attendance of visitors, and on Saturday the Brass Band paraded the village, while on Monday the Drum and Fife Band turned out for the occasion, and also rendered a few pieces in the hall.

STOURTON ST. ANDREW'S SUNDAY SCHOOL.—In connection with the above Sunday School, a Christmas Entertainment for the children was given on Monday evening. The children first met in the church, and after a few words spoken by the vicar, the Rev. A. J. Miller, and the curate, the Rev. A. J. Litchfield, they went to Mrs. Gyton's house, who had kindly lent a large room for the occasion. The children were then presented with toys and useful articles from the Sunday School funds. A very enjoyable evening was spent, and all the children seemed well pleased with the presents they had received.

STOURTON MUTUAL IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY.—The usual meeting of the above Society was held on Friday evening last. There was not any particular essay for that night, but each member gave in a subject, and then each exchanged his subject and spoke on the one he received. A very pleasant and instructive hour was thus passed.

PROPERTY SALE AT WOODLESFORD.—On Wednesday evening last at the Two Pointers Inn, Woodlesford, Mr. E. W. Batley, of Leeds, offered for sale by auction, three dwelling-houses with vacant land, situate opposite Woodlesford Church, and occupied by Messrs. Shires, McWilliam and Cotton. The bidding commenced at £200, and rapidly advanced to £222, at which price the property was sold. Messrs. Tennant and Barret acted as solicitors on behalf of the vendor.

EMBEZZLEMENT AT CARLTON.—At the Leeds Assizes, on Tuesday, Joseph Frost, of Leadwell Lane, Rothwell, was convicted with having obtained £300 from his brother-in-law, and was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment with hard labour.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

WE gather from the printed copy of a New Year's address from the Vicar of Woodlesford to his parishioners, that the proposed parish 'mission' is definitely fixed for the month of April next, commencing on the 1-th and concluding on the 27th. The mission is to be conducted by the Rev. T. R Willacy, of Thorganby, near York. During the present week special 'mission' services are being carried on in connection with the Wesleyan Chapel, by the Rev Sydney Pitt and assistants from Rothwell. It will be seen that efforts are being made to remove the reproach—which is often used as an excuse by those who object to subscribe to foreign missions—that while we lavish enthusiasm and money on the interesting heathens abroad, we carelessly neglect the spiritual condition of the Christian heathens at our doors.

.. ..

THE property sale on Wednesday last at Woodlesford, though not of very great importance in itself, serves to show that freehold property is looking up a tittle. In spite of the number of empty houses, and the incubus of heavy rates, the price reached (£222) is some 15 per cent in advance of the price the same property was sold for in 1881. It can hardly be said to have reached its full value, however. We are suffering in Woodlesford and Oulton for our share of the shower of benefits and advantages which were to follow the introduction of the new railway, the promoters of which seem to be actively engaged in trying 'how not to do it.'

.. ..

THROUGH the kindness of the vicar, one of the churchwardens, and Mr. R. J Smith, a member of the choir, the choir boys in connection with Woodlesford Church, were on Friday last taken to the Grand Theatre to witness the Pantomime. Many a used-up votary of pleasure would envy the supreme delight of the lads—some of whom were entering that Elysium of boyish dreams, the inside of a theatre, for the first time—as the shifting panorama of brilliant scenery, droll acting, and bright music passed before them. It was a treat they could thoroughly enjoy, and they would no doubt be grateful for the kind thoughtfulness which prompted it.

IN our notes on the season last week, we unfortunately neglected to notice the Christmas Waits. We take the earliest opportunity of supplying the omission. Amongst many other 'waits' that have appeared this year, we may mention the following:—

'All of us waiting for the appearance of the new railway.'

'The vicar of Woodlesford waiting for his vicarage.'

'Eshald House and other mansions waiting for tenants.'

'Skaters waiting for a settled frost.'

'Readers of the Times waiting for the next paper on 'Village Churches, and their services.''

'Members waiting for the next of the 'series' of lectures at the Mechanics' Institute.'

'Labour waiting employment.'

'Everybody waiting for the good time coming.'

EPPS COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame." Civil Service Gazette.—Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in Packets, labelled, 'JAMES EPPS & Co, Homœopathic Chemists, London.' Also makers of Epps' Chocolate Essence.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

A surprise awaited most footballists at Rothwell last Saturday, when the home club were defeated by Stourton St Andrew's by 1 goal to nil. The game as witnessed by the spectators was most decidedly in favour of Rothwell, though the visitors were not slow to take advantage of the slightest chance to make headway. The weak point in the Rothwell team was, as usual, want of combined action on the part of their forwards, as several times when a rush would have secured the coveted point, the centre men were too far back to be of any use. However, the game was fairly contested, and the home team have only themselves to blame for their defeat. For Stourton, Exley, Charlesworth, and Goldthorpe did some hard work, while for Rothwell, Ward, Hartley, and Wormald executed some good foot work. One thing I must mention, however, and that is the performance of the Stourton umpire Such decisions as he gave on Saturday will probably tend to lower his character in the estimation of his own players, as well as in that of the spectators, who were naturally enough indignant at the way he performed his duties as umpire Pardon me, I should not have said duties as most of his work was partial and unfair, and reflected greatly on his good sense.

CAPTAIN.

ROTHWELL v. STOURTON ST. ANDREW'S.

Played at Rothwell on Saturday last. Hartley won the toss, and Stourton kicked off from the town goal. The game raged in the centre of the field for a time, and then the home team were forced back into their own territory, but the ball was got safely away, and a run to the other end of the field was made by the home forwards, after which even play ensued for a while. The visitors again got the upper hand of the home team, and were soon found in their goal mouth, and the leather being kicked out by one of the home team, a 'corner' fell to St. Andrew's, but nothing resulted from it, and Rothwell forwards getting hold worked the ball to the half-way flag, and then it was given to Ward, who evaded the remaining players, and then sent in a splendid shot, which should have scored, had the forwards been up to rush it through; as it was, Laverack threw it out, and the Stourton backs were enabled to clear their lines, and soon after half time was called. The second half was soon commenced, and a bombardment of the visitors' citadel ensued for a time, and a corner kick fell to the home team, but nothing resulted. One of the Stourton men taking a pass intended for Ward, their forwards were allowed to break right away, and soon found themselves in the vicinity of the home goal, where Waterhouse had little difficulty in lowering the Rothwell colours. The leather was once more kicked off, and though the home forwards were mostly in the visitors quarters, nothing further was scored, and the game ended in a win for the St. Andrew's by a goal to nil.

TEAMS.—Stourton.—Laverack, goal; J. Goldthorpe, (capt) J. Green, backs; J. Judd, J. Rathmell, H. Stead, half backs; J. Lunn, J. Exley, Johnson, A. Charlesworth, and F. Waterhouse, forwards Rothwell.—J. W. Wright, goal; H. Wormald, E. Newbold, backs; W. Hartley, (capt.) A. W. Seanor, R. A. Longley, half-backs; J. Harrison, H. Greenwood, J. Blackburn, J. W. Chadwick, and A. Ward, forwards.

STOURTON ST. ANDREW'S (A Team) v. ROBIN HOOD.—Played at Stourton, and chiefly owing to the good play of Ambler and the brothers Goldthorpe, resulted in a win for Stourton 4 goals to nil.

ROBIN HOOD v. CARLTON.—Rugby—Played at Carlton on Saturday, and resulted in a win for the home team by 5 goals, 7 tries, 9 minor points, to nil. Two of the goals were kicked from the field of play by J. Rinder, two from place kicks by the same player, one was kicked by H. Rinder from a free catch by J. Ashton, the latter being in the most difficult place. J. Ashton gained 2 tries, R. Ward 2, J. Brown 1, A. Newton 1, J. Rinder 1, T. Charlesworth 1, T. Brown, Jun. 1. The ball was in the visitors '25' most of the time.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high coloured; depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population have this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. The disease is Dyspepsia or Indigestion, for which Seigel's Curative Syrup is a certain remedy. Seigel's Operating Pills are an effective remedy for Constipation and Biliousness. Those afflicted with Asthma will find immediate relief by using the Rosinweed Tar Mixture. Genuine has A. J. White, Lim., on the stamp. An almanac containing testimonials from persons who have received benefit from use of Seigel's Curative Syrup will be furnished, free of charge, by the proprietors, A. J. White, Lim., 17, Farringdon Road, London, E.C.

TOWN TALK.

The event of the week in Rothwell has been the Art Exhibition at the Temperance Hall. The promoters have not given this name to it, but have styled the exhibition an "Almanack Show" which being pronounced in Roddill dialect is "Awhmenack Show." and to hear one and another as I passed along the streets on Saturday evening, enquire of some friend "hes te been to 'tawhmanack show" gave me anything but a good impression of the affair. However, I went and inspected the many pretty calendars exhibited, and was much pleased with the collection. There are one or two suggestions I would like to make to those who have to undertake the arrangements for another year In the first place I would have only one calendar of the same design exhibited, in the second I would exclude those designs which have taken prizes in their previous exhibitions, and last but not least, get a better name for the exhibition. The old name would give the uninitiated the idea that 'Old Moor,' 'Zadkiel,' "Clock Almanack," "Marshall's Family Almanack." "Back a' t'Moin" and "Mother Seigel's Almanack" were to be on view. Call it "The Annual Exhibition of Artistic Calendars" or something of the sort, and it will sound a bit better.

With reference to the action of the Leeds Corporation in turning the polluted water from Woodhouse Cemetery into our main sewer at Stourton I must have another word. It has been under the consideration of our Medical Officer, and he has deemed it a dangerous thing to do. The Board has engaged Mr. Simpson, solicitor, to attend to their interests; the connection with the Rothwell system was made a considerable time since, and the Board seemed as though they were going to "make a point" of it; but the time has passed on and they are as far off the end as ever, and at the last Board meeting a letter was read from Mr. Simpson, saying that very little has been accomplished with reference to the agreement with the Leeds Corporation. It is to the interest of the Leeds people to dally with the question, but the Rothwell Authority should be as determined for its settlement as they are to delay the agreement. The legal expenses are going on, whether progress is being made or not. I wonder if Mr. Simpson will be as easy about his bill as he seems to be about the settlement of the question.

Can any person or persons furnish me with a clear and concise statement of the object which a certain well-known Rothwell gentleman had in view, in visiting the Wakefield Court House on the 2nd inst. People say he was there for the purpose of applying for a summons against somebody because he thought they had been doing something or other, which in his opinion was not exactly what they should have done, but who was the "somebody" and what the "something" I cannot ascertain. If it had been this Friday instead of last I should have conceived the dread idea that I was the "somebody" and that my last epistle was the "something," and probably while I was despondingly contemplating the state of affairs, I should have been arrested, locked up, tried, sentenced, and hung amid the agonised sobs of my numerous readers and friends.

That latest speech of the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain at Birmingham, before the Birmingham Artisans Association, reported in full in the newspapers on Tuesday, cannot fail to delight the hearts of our local radicals. The programme to be set before our Imperial Legislators returned under the new conditions created by the Franchise and Seats Bill would have been looked upon as revolutionary from a cabinet minister twenty years ago. To-day, the proposed legislation affecting those who have and those who have not is no doubt regarded with apprehension by those who have but still such is the state of the public mind, no efforts on the part of those who have can longer stem the tide of popular rights. The new era to be brought about by the enfranchisement next year of some two millions who are unenfranchised to-day, will introduce into politics a new force which it is expected will dilute that old one generally associated with the idea of the parson and the squire.

At last the unfortunate Farmers may breathe more freely. There appears to be an end for the present to drooping prices of wheat. Last Tuesday was a day of more than usual interest for the persons once described by Mr. Spurgeon 'as rogues in grain,'—(alluding to the corn factors)—on the Leeds Corn Exchange. Wheat was decidedly dearer. Speculators are beginning to operate, timidly at first, but who knows how soon there may be a rush, which will send flour up in price several pence per stone? Householders, however, may cause the very thing they wish to avoid if they take alarm and stock their pantries with flour unreasonably. The quantity of wheat on hand is very large, and although prices cannot go much lower, there is no reason to fear any considerable advance.

I AM told that Mr. John Turner is still on the hunt for grievances against the Gas Co. Until the next Local Board Election is over, I rather commisserat the position of the gas directors. Mr. Turner is a very active enemy, and with the aid heretofore afforded by the organisation of the Rothwell Liberal Association he has been able to kick up a dust on any occasion convenient to him. If what I hear be true, he has rather over ridden the Rothwell Club, the members are getting jaded, they have so often under the Turner leadership been led into the mud; the clear heads among them begin to fear they may stick fast in it, if they continue to rush where he leads, But if the members of the Liberal Association are slack to respond to his cry, or dance to the pulling of the string, he can operate upon the members of the Local Board. He fondly imagines that body can be got into his toils, and that he can make of them excellent marrionettes. In this respect I think he slightly overrates his own skill, and underrates the shrewdness of the Board. I don't profess to be infallible, and herein I may be mistaken. There is every indication of fun in prospect though. Unless a more entertaining greivance should turn up in the meantime there is no fear of this gas trick fever subsiding. Meantime, as I have said, I sincerely pity those unfortunate directors.

.. ..

I remember witnessing once upon a time a novel sport in Ireland provided by some Tipperary boys. A number of men in effigy, stuffed with saw dust and tricked out in Mick and Pat's worn out garments, were placed in the middle of a field. Each effigy had a gay red sash round its middle, and a long piece of gauze of the same colour tied to its head gear, the ends floating in the wind. I see these poor effigies still in my mind's eye, fastened to stakes stuck in the ground at the distance of a few yards from each other At a given moment, a bull from a neighbouring pasture was turned in amongst these harmless figures, and no sooner did the lord of the lowing tribe cast his eye upon them than, with tail erect, and every hair of his body bristling with excitement, he rushed at them. The effect was terrific. Every member of that company of effigies went down, and the applause of the bystanders testified their delight. This is the fate in store for the gas directors, (secretary and manager, if need be included); supposing no other cry be available by which Mr. Turner may triumphantly be 'run in' at the next Local Board Election

AMALGAMATION.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Mr. Editor,

Dear Sir,

If any additional argument were wanted against the 'Amalgamation Scheme,' it is supplied, I think, by the Leeds Board of Guardians and their clerk, whose vulgar quarrels are now obtruded on the attention of the public to its disgust and annoyance.

Yours &c.,
NICHOLAS PHIBBS, Sr.

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name CONSUMPTION EMULSION. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 143 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find there is a gain of weight even after it has been used." Such a testimony as this speaks volumes for the efficiency of Phthisicon. In addition, it has proved of immense value as a curative agent in the early stages of Brain Disease and Scrofula; in fact, wherever there is impaired nutrition or lack of nerve power, its action is almost certain. It can be obtained of all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s., and 21s. per bottle. Wholesale of Barclay and Sons, Farringdon-street, London, E.C.; or of W. B. Trick, A.P.S., 92, Green-lanes London, N

TREATED for the WRONG COMPLAINT.

It is at all times hard to lose one whom we hold dear, but it is terribly so when we have the consciousness that but for mistaken treatment the loved one might have been with us still. In some cases the fact that the sufferer is treated for the wrong complaint is known in sufficient time to admit of the patient being saved, and the following is a case in point:—

A little more than two years ago, a beautiful young lady in New York was given up to die of consumption. Her fond parents took her to Paris, as a last resort, hoping to find some skilful physician there capable of arresting the rapid strides of the supposed dreadful disease. In this their hopes were blighted, but fortunately away in that distant foreign city they met with a description of a new method of treating Dyspepsia which emanated from the Mount Lebanon Shakers of the State of New York. The thought struck the parents of this helpless young girl that perhaps their daughter was afflicted with Indigestion or Dyspepsia, and not consumption; and if so, there might be a chance for her recovery.

Some of the Seigel's Curative Syrup, made especially for the cure of Dyspepsia, was obtained and administered to the patient, and the result was marvellous. To-day their daughter lives in the enjoyment of good health. The fact was, the patient had been treated for the wrong complaint, and when she was treated for Dyspepsia (her real trouble), all the alarming symptoms of consumption vanished. This is not an isolated case. The country is full of suffering thousands that are being treated for Liver Complaint, Malaria, Kidney Disease, Lung Disorders, &c., &c., when the fact is they are afflicted with Indigestion in some of its varied forms, and all of such sufferers would obtain relief if they were properly treated for Dyspepsia. Seigel's Curative Syrup can be obtained from any chemist or patent medicine vendor, or from the proprietors, A. J. White, Limited, No. 17, Farringdon Road, London, E.C.

SYMPTOMS.

IF your vital forces are depressed, if you have a feeling of general lassitude and weakness, are easily fatigued, have night sweats, are short of breath on every slight effort, and experience feelings of melancholy and depression, you are suffering from GENERAL DEBILITY, and Hop Bitters will remove it all.

IF you have a sense of weight or fulness in the stomach, a changeable appetite, sometimes voracious, but generally feeble, a morbid craving, low spirits after a full meal, with severe pain for some time after eating, wind, sourness, vomiting, and fluttering at the pit of the stomach, and a soreness over it, headache, or some of these symptoms, you are suffering from DYSPEPSIA, which Hop Bitters will permanently cure.

IF you have weakness in the loins, with frequent pains, a voracious appetite, an unquenchable thirst, harsh and dry skin, darkly furred tongue, swollen and inflamed gums, dropsical swelling of the limbs, frequent hiccoughs, inability to void the urine, and great fatigue in attempting it, you are suffering from some form of KIDNEY OR URINARY COMPLAINT, such as Bright's disease of the Kidneys, stone in the bladder, or inflammation, gravel, and renal calculi, diabetes, strangury, stricture, and suppression or retention of the urine, and Hop Bitters are the only remedy that will cure you.

IF you have nausea, want of appetite, flatulency, dizziness, and feverish symptoms, you are suffering from COSTIVENESS, and Hop Bitters are the surest cure.

IF you have a dry, harsh, and yellow skin, a dull pain in the right side, extending over the shoulderblade and pit of the stomach, a tenderness over the region of the liver, and sometimes an enlargement of that organ, yellowishness of the eyes, bowels irregular, generally disposed to looseness, a hacking or dry cough, irregular appetite, shortness of breathing, feet and hands generally cold, tongue coated white, a disagreeable taste in the mouth, low spirits, blotches on the face and neck, palpitation of the heart, disturbed sleep, heart-burn, disinclination of exertion—if you have any of these symptoms, you are suffering from LIVER COMPLAINT, and Hop Bitters will cure you.

IF you have a complaint which few understand and none will give you credit for:—An enfeebled condition of certain organs, a weariness throughout the whole system, twitching of the lower limbs, a desire to fly all to pieces, and a fear that you will, an increasing loss of strength and health—any of these symptoms show that you are suffering from NERVOUSNESS, and Hop Bitters will effectually cure you.

Hop Bitters are used in Six of the Large London Hospitals and similar Institutions throughout the world, and are the Purest and Best Medicine ever made.

BEWARE of bogus stuff sold in all forms, pretending to be like Hop Bitters. The only genuine is put up in very large square-panelled amber-coloured bottles. Dr. Soule's name blown on the glass, white label on one side, with black letters and green hop cluster. The other side yellow label. Directions in English and German. —Manufactured only by HOP BITTERS COMPANY. For Sale by all Chemists and Medicine Vendors.

Worth a Guinea a Box.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

ARE admitted by thousands to be worth above A GUINEA A Box for Bilious and Nervous Disorders, such as Wind and Pain at the Stomach, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Fulness, and Swelling after meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Scurvy, Blotches on the skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, &c., &c. The first dose will give relief in twenty minutes.

This is no fiction, for they have done it in thousands of cases. The Proprietor of these Pills having obtained (at great expense) a Patent for them, he challenges the whole world to produce a medicine equal to them for removing the above named complaints and restoring the patient to sound and lasting health.

Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try one box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be

WORTH A GUINEA A BOX.

For females of all ages these Pills are invaluable, as a few doses of them carry off all gross humours, open all obstructions, and bring about all that is required. No female should be without them. There is no remedy to be found to equal BEECHAM'S PILLS for removing any obstruction or irregularity of the system. If taken according to the directions given with each box, they will soon restore females of all ages to sound and robust health.

For a weak Stomach, impaired digestion, and all disorders of the Liver, they act like "MAGIC," and a few doses will be found to work wonders upon the most important organs in the human machine. They strengthen the whole muscular system, restore the long lost complexion, bring back the keen edge of appetite, and arouse into action, with the ROSEBUD of health, the whole physical energy of the human frame. —These are "FACTS" admitted by thousands, embracing all classes of Society, and one of the best guarantees to the Nervous Debilitated is, BEECHAM'S PILLS have the largest sale of any Patent Medicine in the world.

BEECHAM'S MAGIC COUGH PILLS.

Are a remedy for Coughs in General, Asthma Difficulty of Breathing, Shortness of Breath, Tightness and Oppression of the Chest, Wheezing, &c., these Pills stand unrivalled for anyone labouring under any of the above complaints. They need only try One Box to prove that they are the best ever offered to the public for Asthmatic and Consumptive Coughs, Hoarseness, and Oppression of the Chest. They speedily remove the sense of oppression and Difficulty of breathing which nightly deprive the patient of rest. They give almost instant relief and comfort to those afflicted with the above distressing and, when neglected, dangerous complaints, but any person troubled with any of the above complaints should give Beecham's Cough Pills a trial.

The most violent Cough will in a short time be removed.

Caution.—The public are requested to notice that the words "BEECHAM'S PILLS, St Helen's," are on the Government Stamp affixed to each box of the Pills; if not on, they are a forgery.

Prepared only, and sold wholesale and retail by the proprietor, T. Beecham, Chemist, St. Helen's, Lancashire, in boxes, 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Sent post free for 15 or 36 stamps.

Sold by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Dealers in the United Kingdom.

N.B.—Full directions are given with each Box.

CAUTION.—THE QUEEN v. LAMPLOUGH.—The unanimous Verdict of the Court was in favour of Pyretic Saline being sold without the usual Medicine Duty; this has induced several Chymists and other dealers to put up effervescing powders, worthless & in many instances containing Caustic & injurious ingredients. It is important and imperative that in all cases of Sickness, Fevers, & CHOLERA Symptoms, the genuine Pyretic Saline should be purchased bearing my name only, HENRY LAMPLOUGH, 113, Holborn, London.

LOCAL BOARD MEETING.

The ordinary meeting of the Board was held on Monday evening, present:—Messrs. W. Hargreaves (chairman), J. Holmes, J. Oliver, H. P. Newsome, J. Dobson, J. Turner, J. Nowell, and the clerk, collector, and surveyor.

The minutes of previous meetings having been read, were confirmed.

Tenders were submitted for the supply of 100 tons of best green dross, and it was agreed on the proposition of the chairman and Mr. Newsome, that Mr. Whitaker's estimate at 6s. per ton, delivered in Wood Lane, be accepted. Mr. Turner moved an amendment for Skipton stone, but this was not seconded. He also spoke approvingly of some galliard he had seen, costing about 1/6 a ton, but both the chairman and Mr. Nowell gave their experience strongly against its use.

The chairman gave notice that at next meeting he should move the rescinding of the resolution dividing the roads and streets of the district into north and south, as being open to several objections.

The clerk reported some correspondence he had had in relation to the Metbley water scheme, the purport of which has already been published.

FINANCE.—The several accounts and salaries having been examined, were ordered to be paid.

GAS.—In reply to Mr. Holmes, Mr. Turner stated that the Committee had not yet had a test taken. He proceeded to state that on Tuesday he had endeavoured to gain access to the room, but had been refused; on Wednesday, however, he applied again, accompanied by the inspector, and was allowed to visit the testing room, but did not take any test. Before moving a resolution, Mr. Turner asked the clerk if he was in order in doing so, to which the clerk replied that being a shareholder and therefore an interested party, the Act did not allow him to vote on any subject in which he might be interested. The chairman said that while chairman of the Gas Light Co., he had never voted on any question connected with the Company. Mr. Turner urged upon the Board to take some action in the matter, otherwise individuals would. Mr. Newsome stated that the directors had agreed to allow Mr. Turner to enter the testing room, and that if accompanied by a competent and impartial person, tests might be taken; they could not allow Mr. Turner to make a test. Mr. Turner said he did not intend to make a test. The chairman thought the Committee was to blame for not having secured a proper test before now, a month after they were instructed to do so. Dr. Nowell retorted that it was no use going except when there was a good case. The chairman said several ratepayers had asked about it. Mr. Turner asked if he was to understand that the Board would not take it up. The chairman replied that the Committee were armed with full powers, and that if the photometer was not in the room, and in good working order, whenever a test was required, the Company should be summoned. The matter then dropped.

Mr. Turner then entered a second contention that the Co. have no right to hold a reserve fund. The chairman pointed out that by the Gas Clauses Act they have power to put by a reserve fund, not exceeding one tenth of the nominal capital (sec. 31 of 1847 Act). It was also shewn that although not mentioned in the Rothwell Act, the provisions of the Gas Clauses Act are included in the local Act, and that therefore the Directors are quite in order to making this reserve fund. Dr. Nowell referred again to the testing question, followed by a few remarks from Mr. Oliver, who reminded Mr. Newsome that the Directors had objected to admit any one at first, and had only allowed the Committee to enter the room after considerable delay. Mr. Holmes now moved that the Board proceed to the next business, seconded by Mr. Dobson. Mr. Turner moved that legal advice be taken as to whether the Gas Light Co.'s action in laying aside a reserve fund is justified by their powers; seconded by Mr. Nowell, who thought such a balance should go to the benefit of the consumers. The resolution was carried to proceed to the next business Mr. Oliver being neutral, and Messrs. Turner and Nowell for the amendment.

REDISTRIBUTION BILL.—The clerk reported that he had received a letter from the clerk to the Morley Local Board as regards a meeting to be called for furthering the scheme propounded by that Board, who would include Rothwell in the division. The clerk had consulted most of the members on the subject, and it was not thought necessary to call the Board together. Mr. Turner thought a special meeting ought to be called, however, to consider the best means of furthering the interests and claims of Rothwell, and that two representatives each from the Liberal and Conservative clubs should also be invited to attend. Mr. Nowell was of opinion that these things are all cut and dried beforehand. The chairman asked whether it was necessary to call in any political parties; he looked on the question as apart from any party opinion. Mr. Oliver was quite of opinion that the claims of the district should be looked after, and seconded the resolution. It was finally agreed that the Board meet on Thursday (yesterday) at 6, and that political representatives join the Board at 7 o'clock.

SURVEYOR'S HOUSE.—Some communication having passed between the clerk and Mr. Joe. Wright, plumber, in regard to his house in Commercial Street, it was now proposed that the Board accept Mr. Wright's offer of house, warehouse and land, at a rent of £17 per annum, for the use of the surveyor, and as a depôt for the Board's tools, &c.; seconded by Mr. Dobson and carried, Messrs. Turner and Nowell neutral. An arrangement has been made whereby the surveyor will pay the same rent as he is now paying, leaving the balance as rent for the use of the warehouse, &c., by the Board (a similar amount to what is at present paid for the depôt in Wood Lane.)

MEDICAL OFFICER.—The yearly term for which Dr. Glaister was appointed having expired, Mr. Newsome gave notice of his intention to propose his re-election at next meeting.

ROTHWELL SEWAGE.—Mr. John Holmes having commenced work for connecting his property with the main drain, the adjourned trial is compromised.

It was arranged that the Compensation Committee meet on Thursday, when several questions, including the Cross St. drainage, will be considered.

ASHPITS.—The present contract terminating shortly, the Sanitary and Sewage Committee will inspect the ashpits during the month.

WATER.—The surveyor reported that on Saturday last, the reservoir went down five feet, instead of the usual daily consumption of three feet, occasioned by the extraordinary amount of water used in cleansing the flags, etc., in the streets and yards of the town. Dr. Nowell remarked that it was an exceptionally dirty day, and they must have cleanliness if they could get it. Mr. Oliver feared that there was more water wasted than was consumed, if people did so. It was agreed that the Inspector take the consumption for several days.

On the motion of Mr. Newsome and Mr. Holmes, it was agreed to write another strong letter to Messrs. Bromet and Taylor, requiring them to take steps for supplying the property near Jaw Bones with water.

COLLECTOR'S REPORT.—The following sums have been received during the fortnight on the Board's account.

General District Rate	£220	14	3
Water Rent	7	17	9
Miscellaneous	30	7	8
	£258	19	8

At the close of the meeting, an effort was made on the part of other members to obtain an apology from one of the Board for striking another gentleman during a discussion, but unhappily no apology was offered, and the action remains as a blot on the fair fame and dignity of the Board.

THROAT IRRITATION & COUGH.—Soreness and dryness, tickling and irritation, inducing cough and affecting the voice. For these symptoms use Epps' Glycerine Jujubes. In contact with the glands at the moment they are excited by the act of sucking, the Glycerine in these agreeable confections becomes actively healing. Sold only in boxes, 7½d., tins 1s 1½d., labelled "JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London." A letter received: "Gentlemen,—It may perhaps interest you to know that, after an extended trial, I have found your Glycerine Jujubes of considerable benefit (with or without medical treatment) in almost all forms of throat disease. They soften and clear the voice.—Yours faithfully, GORDON HOLMES, M.D., Senior Physician to the Municipal Throat and Ear Infirmary."

CHEAP NOURISHMENT.—Fourteen large Breakfast Cups of strong, reliable Cocoa can be made from a Sixpenny Packet of Cadbury's Cocoa Essence. Ask for Cadbury's, and do not be imposed upon.

HUNSL DIANS.

The usual ard was held on Wednesday, present:—Mr. J. Hargreaves, (chairman), Councillor Pickersgill and Mr. J. Dixon (vice-chairmen); and Messrs. J. Graveley, B. Aaron, J. Parker, W. Lawton, J Hardcastle, H. Sheard, J. Smith, R. J. Smith, G. Jepson, C. Grosvenor, G. Greaves, Rev. J. H. Evans, with Mr. Schofield, (clerk to the Board).

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

The lists of permanent cases were gone through, and also the children who are boarded out are satisfactorily cared for.

It was reported by the clerk that Newbold, who is indebted to the Board for a considerable sum for maintaining a relative in the Workhouse, had made an assignment of property whereby the Guardians will be able to recoup themselves for expenses incurred.

It was proposed by Mr. Parker, seconded by Mr. Graveley, that the report of the relieving officers' duties be accepted, according to the recommendation of the Committee.

The vaccination officer having shewn that actual expense is incurred in postages, it was resolved on the motion of Councillor Pickersgill and Mr. Sheard, that the resolution declining to pay postages be now rescinded. It was finally agreed that 10s. a quarter be allowed for postages, to Mr. Snowden, the officer for Hunslet,—on the proposal of Mr. Aaron and Mr. Hardcastle.

GUARDIANS' EXPENSES.—Mr. Pickersgill moved that the expenses of all deputations appointed by the Board or by Committees of this Board be submitted to the Board.

Mr Greaves seconded the motion, feeling that the Board having selected the gentlemen, any expenses incurred by them, should be sanctioned by the Board.

Mr. Aaron moved that the Board pass on to the next business Mr. Lawton seconded the amendment On being put, this was lost by 7 votes to 5.

Mr. Aaron then spoke against Mr. Pickersgill's resolution, arguing that such a decision would act in a very detrimental manner in appointments to future deputations. He explained that the deputation appointed to purchase the furniture some time ago had commenced their work at 9 o'clock, and that they not only spent several hours on this work but also attended to other duties connected with the Board, which occupied the whole day, and that in the evening he was engaged at the workhouse in arranging for the erection of the new grates they had purchased, whereby two guineas had been saved. Mr. Lawton also spoke in a similar strain, pointing out that the whole day was spent on the Board's business, and asking whether it was expected that they should be debarred from charging expenses which had been incurred by reason of that work. He had been 30 years in one situation, and was never before questioned as to expenses. They were selected for the work, not only as Guardians, but as professional men, and he objected to every little item of expense being questioned.

Mr. Pickersgill was sorry that any feeling had been aroused; his wish was that his resolution should be passed without any reference to any person or action. In reply to his question, the clerk stated there were many precedents for charges for expenses of deputations.

The chairman referred to the great expenses incurred by out-township guardians in attending meetings, for horse hire, &c., and averred that he had never received a copper from the Board, except in the cases of an amalgamation meeting at Leeds, and his expenses to the conference at Huddersfield. He regretted, however, that this affair had become so personal a matter. Mr. R. J. Smith said this was not a personal matter, nor were ordinary expenses objected to, only that the Board should have such particulars before them. Some stormy passages of arms occurred during the discussion, in which several members took part, but things eventually cooled down, and the resolution on being put, was found to be seven for and seven against, so that it was not carried.

WALL BUILDING.—Mr. Aaron, who with four other Guardians, was deputed to undertake the building of an enclosure wall at the Workhouse, made his report. The Committee had arranged with Mr. Leak, the architect, to do the entire work of plans, advertising, and oversight for £10. The tenders were presented to the Board, and it was unanimously agreed, on the motion of Mr Aaron and Mr. Dixon, that the tender of Mr. Wm Gibson for £168 be accepted. Mr. Graveley and Mr. Lawton mentioned other details in connection with the work, which has evidently been well done.

AMALGAMATION.—The clerk stated that the enquiry intended to be held on the 18th of this month, had been postponed, on the objection of the Hunslet Board, and a later day will be fixed.

The usual lists of wants and returns were then read, and the business concluded.

LOFTHOUSE SCHOOL BOARD.

A special meeting of this Board was held on Wednesday night; the members present were Messrs. T. Oliver, (chairman), H. Hall, J. Hammill, and T. Hargreaves, with the clerk (Mr. J. H. Lee).

The Board ordered a cheque to be signed for £278 11s. 2d, for the interest and part principal due to the Public Works Loan Commissioners. The Board next considered the 17 applications sent in for the post of assistant teacher at Carlton School, and they were unanimous in giving the appointment to Mrs. Fairburn, (who is wife to the head teacher at the same school), at the salary of £55 per year.

Two applications for remission of fees were made and granted; this concluded the business.

THE RED

MEETING

Last night a meeting of the Local Board and two representatives from each of the two political parties, was held in the Board-room, for the purpose of deciding upon taking some action in connection with the Redistribution scheme, so far as it affects this district. There were present Messrs. W. Hargreaves (chairman), J. Oliver and J. Turner, Messrs. W. Richardson and J. A. Harms, and Messrs. R. M. Sykes and Jos. Harrison, senr.; with the clerk and surveyor to the Local Board. In the speeches of several gentlemen it was pointed out that the Lower Agbrigg Scheme was a suitable one for us; Horbury was not central enough, and it appeared that the contest for the centre of the polling district would take place between Rothwell and Normanton; on the one hand Normanton had excellent railway accommodation in its favour, and on the other, Rothwell with the villages round, which would be likely to support it, contains over one half of the population of the whole division. It was then proposed by Mr. Harrison, seconded by Mr. Richardson, and carried unanimously, that the joint committee of the Local Board and the representatives of the political parties adopt, the Lower Agbrigg scheme. A committee of three Local Board members, and one each from the Conservative and Liberal Associations, was formed to watch the interests of the district, and press upon the Commissioner to make Rothwell the centre. Mr. Harms moved a resolution, which was seconded by Mr. Turner and carried, that the committee invite the authorities in the surrounding villages to unite in asking urging the Commissioner to make Rothwell the centre. The meeting of the committee will probably take place on Monday evening.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

Beckett's Dramatic Company.—On Tuesday last, the above Company opened the Mechanics' Institute for a series of dramatic performances during the week. A special platform had been erected, and the scenery was very good. The first drama was taken from Mrs. Henry Wood's celebrated work, entitled 'East Lynne,' and in the hands of this company, every individual part was well performed and did great credit to each actor taking part. The part of Archibald Carlyle found a good exponent in Mr. McClelland, while Sir Francis Levison was undertaken by Mr. Beckett, whose coolness in revealing his false acts proved that he was possessed of good dramatic powers. The part of Lady Isabel (taken by Mrs. Beckett) and Barbara Hare (performed by Miss Drury) also deserve special mention, while the other parts were all pretty well gone through; on the whole, the company is a good one, and appear to understand their work. Yesterday evening the performance was (by special request) 'Jo, the crossing sweeper,' which was excellently played before an appreciative audience.

Successful Pupil Teachers.—It is very gratifying to find from the annual report of the examinations under the Leeds and District Pupil Teachers' Prize Association, that the following young people in this district have gained prizes for the subjects attached:—Thomas Myton, of Rothwell Board School, for writing, second prize; Edith Chadwick, of the same school, a prize for writing; and Lily Gill and Harriet Holmes, for domestic economy, from Rothwell Haigh Infants School.

Performance of the "Messiah" at Hunslet.—On Sunday last, the Hunslet Orchestral Society gave a service in the Primitive Methodist Chapel, Joseph Street, kindly lent by the trustees for the occasion. The band and chorus numbered eighty performers, and the solos were taken by Miss Dyson, (soprano), Miss Ellis, (contralto), Mr. Brook and Mr. Roberts, (tenor), and Mr Scales and Mr. Rhodes, (bass), while Mr. J. W. Haywood filled the post of conductor. There was a good congregation, and a collection in aid of the Orchestral Society's funds was taken at the close of the service.

Church of England Temperance Society.—The general meeting of the above Society, was held in the National Schools on Monday last. There was a good attendance, and the business was of a very quiet nature. From the report we learn that the Society is in a flourishing condition from a financial point; but with regard to members, the society seems very weak, there being only 28 adults. The income for the year is £6 14s. 1d., the expenditure £2 7s. 1d., leaving a balance of £4 7s. 0d. The officers for the year are as follows:—President.—Rev. F. Fawkes; Treasurer.—Mr. J. G. Turner; Secretary.—Mr. J. W. Walker; Auditor.—Mr. E. Hampson; Committee.—Mrs. Arundel, Miss A. M. Chapman, Miss S. C. Lewis, Messrs. B. Arundel, R. H. Lewis, J. Heaton.

Stourton Wesleyan Mutual Improvement Class.—The above class met on Friday night last to hear an essay on 'The Human Eye.' The essay was divided into three chief classes: 1. 'The structure of the Eye;' 2. 'How we see;' 3. 'Various explanations.' There was a very good attendance and every one seemed pleased by the way in which the essay was delivered. Discussion followed at the close of the essay, and the questions were either answered by the essayist or some of the members.

Stourton St. Andrew's Choir Tea.—Collections were made in the above church on Sunday week to provide for the church choir tea, which is given every year as a token of respect for the services rendered. The congregation gave very liberally, and so of course they were able to make a very good knife and fork tea for the choir. On Saturday evening, the choir assembled for tea, and seemed to enjoy very much the good things which the ladies had laid out for them. After tea a short meeting was held, presided over by the Rev. A. J. Miller, who made a few appropriate remarks urging the choir to do their very best during the next year in their very valuable work. After the meeting, they passed the rest of the evening in games, dancing, &c., and all were pleased by the way in which they had been treated. They retired to their several homes about 10 o'clock.

Rothwell Temperance Hall.—On Sunday last, two song services were given in the above place by the Guiseley Temperance Lifeboat Crew, afternoon and evening. Good congregations attended, and collections were made at the close of each service.

The Largest Mat in the World.—The circus or ring of the Covent Garden Theatre has been entirely covered by an enormous mat, over two tons in weight. It is made of unbleached Cocoa Nut Fibre, has a soft pile four inches thick, and so makes a splendid substitute for turf. This huge mat was made by Messrs. Treloar and Son, 68, 69, and 70, Ludgate Hill, London, E.C.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Some occupations tend to the development of certain diseases, and those who toil as miners are peculiarly liable to rheumatism, lumbago, and other allied complaints. In the goldfields and copper mines, Holloway's remedies have been largely patronized by the workers to their very great advantage, and they can be confidently recommended as invaluable remedies for inward congestions, spasms and cramps in the bowels, and all those conditions of the lungs and liver to which those who work underground or in impure atmospheres are so peculiarly liable. For cuts, bruises, sprains and stiffened joints, the action of Holloway's Ointment is eminently healing and soothing, and a supply should always be at hand in case of need.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

A 'lad's' team of the Rothwell F. C. travelled to Knottingley on Saturday, and vanquished the club connected with that village. The players arrived at Knottingley in good time, but the home team were not ready for a while. Rothwell had the advantage of a strong wind and downhill the first half, which was enjoyed by the home players the second half. On commencing hostilities, it was seen that the visitors were having it almost all their own way, but owing to wild kicking when in front of the posts, combined with a want of 'rush' in the forwards, (which I have spoken about before), they failed to score for some time, although the home players made a near attempt to score. Eventually, however, the coveted point was gained by Harrison heading the ball through, from a good shot by Ward. Just before the call of half time the second point was scored by a beauty from near the corner by Longley. Change of ends ensued, and Knottingley had now the advantage. A plea of off-side being raised, the point was waived, and play resumed. Rothwell now had a run up the field, and a shot by Harrison took effect on the home goal. This was disputed, and Rothwell giving way, the game recommenced, and Knottingley were not long in scoring. Nothing further of interest transpired, and therefore our village club was declared victorious by 2 goals to one—a hard-earned victory; this is the second time they have defeated Knottingley this season.

Our friends at Oulton journeyed to Foxholes on Saturday, and gave that club a severe thrashing—to the tune of 6 goals to one. The home team tried their usual tactics—charging—but were of no avail, as while they were indulging in that business, the visitors were putting the ball between the posts. This is as it should be, and I am glad to see that the Foxholes men have met a team who understand what to do with them.

Meanwood played the return match with Stourton St. Andrew's, and were defeated by 2 goals to one. It will be remembered that when Stourton visited Meanwood at the commencement of the season, they were defeated, but this time the case was reversed, I am pleased to note. I have read the report of the match in the Post, in which it is stated to be a tie, (one goal each), but the Stourton version of the match is that they won by 2 goals to one. Which is correct, can anyone explain?

The Rugby game seems to be coming more fully into vogue in this neighbourhood. A club has been formed at Robin Hood, which met the 2nd team of the Carlton organization on Saturday, and made a tie of it. The first fifteen of Carlton club gave Middleton a crushing defeat, winning by 2 goals, 7 tries, and 5 minor points, to one dead ball. The small number of goals scored, compared with the lot of tries, was probably owing to the high wind which prevailed during the match.

CAPTAIN.

ROTHWELL v. KNOTTINGLEY.

The return match between the above teams was brought to a conclusion on Saturday on the ground of the latter. The Rothwell captain won the toss, and decided to play with the wind (which blew very strong) at his back. The game commenced by the home team kicking off, and the ball soon found its way into Knottingley territory, where for about a quarter of an hour a severe bombardment of the goal ensued, but without success. The home forwards at this point removed the siege to the other end, and a nice shot was made from the right wing, but Smith cleared his lines with a drop, and the leather was again taken into the home quarters, and once more the chance was lost by the visitors' forwards, whose shying was very bad indeed. The Knottingley men were no doubt impressed with the idea that they were going to keep their opponents from scoring during the first half, and thereby make an easy win of it. However, this was not to be, as Ward getting hold, completed a neat dodgy run, and made a good shot which struck the crossbar, but Harrison succeeded in heading it between the posts. The kick-off brought no relief, and Wright sent in a sharp shot which the home custodian cleverly put out, and shortly after Harrison, after a short run, very nearly scored from the corner, but as the centres were not up to put on the finishing touch, the chance was lost. Play went on in this way till within a few minutes of half-time, when Longley sent in a rare shot from the right wing which the goal keeper failed to stop, thus when half-time was called Rothwell had scored 2 goals to their opponents' nil. The second half was commenced without delay, and the home team, aided by the strong wind, were enabled to get into the visitors' quarters, and with the exception of a few runs by the Rothwell forwards to about the home 25-yards flag, kept the ball in that position. When the ball was in the centre of the field, the home forwards got hold and before reaching their destination in the Rothwell territory, an appeal for off side was made, but Knottingley scored, and a dispute arose. The home captain gave way, however, and the game proceeded as before. Only about five minutes had passed before the home team scored their first point, after which the Rothwell men pulled themselves together, and gradually worked the leather up to the other end of the field, where Harrison took his shot, but the ball struck the goal post, and bounded back to the same player, who was credited with the third point. This was objected to, the home backs holding that the ball was fouled, and their umpire not being able to see it, the point was being allowed, when Greenwood admitted the foul, and so the backs had their free kick. Nothing of further note transpired, and Rothwell won by two goals to one. Rothwell team:—W Smith, goal; R H Lewis, H Richardson, backs; R Longley, A W Seanor, J Child, half backs; J Harrison, J W Wright, H Greenwood, I Blackburn, A Ward (capt.), forwards.

OULTON v. FOXHOLES WHITE STAR.

This match was played on Saturday last in very disagreeable weather. The visitors had only a weak team on arriving at Foxholes, several second team players being drafted in. The home team kicked off with wind and slope in their favour, and the first noticeable incident was an attack on their citadel, but no good came of it. Aided by the wind, the White Star invaded Oulton territory, and kept up an attack on their opponents' goal, and were at last rewarded by a goal—an easy one. The back play of the visitors prevented any addition to the score, and half-time found no alteration in the game. With slope and wind in their favour, the Oultonians commenced business by at once severely pressing the home backs, and compelling the custodian to use his hands. For a very short time the White Star held their ground, and then fell to pieces, and from now to the call of time, the Oultonians did almost as they liked, and captured their opponents' fortress no less than seven times, but one of the goals was disputed by the home umpire. All the home team worked hard, especially the two right wing players, but they were overmatched in passing and dodging by their more experienced antagonists. More command of the ball, and less trying to charge the men would soon improve their position in the football world.

STOURTON ST. ANDREW'S v. MEANWOOD.

This match was played at Stourton on Saturday, in very unfavourable weather. The Meanwood captain won the toss, and decided to play with the wind the first half, it blowing very strong at the time. Stourton set the ball in motion at 3.15, and very soon it came back into the home territory, but Laverack returned it with a good pass to Jas. Goldthorpe, who then made a grand run up the field to the visitors' goal, but without result. The Meanwood men again brought down the ball into the home goal, and a corner resulted, which had no effect. After some more good play by Meanwood, they got the ball in dangerous proximity to the home goal again, but Laverack shewed his good form once more, and stopped the ball under the crossbar, when the visitors made a rush, but the custodian got it away. However, Meanwood did not mean to be disappointed, and after some good play by Hepper, he cleverly put it through. Soon, after half-time was called, and Meanwood, without any delay, kicked off. Stourton soon lowered the visitors' colours with a good shy from Exley. The Meanwood men held that one of them fouled the ball in the goal mouth, but however, both umpires gave it in as a goal, and as such it was counted. After this, Stourton made shot after shot, but without result; however, in time Lunn managed to put the ball through for the home team. Both teams failed to score again before the call of time, thus leaving Stourton the victors by 2 goals to 1. Teams:—Stourton: A Laverack, goal; J Goldthorpe, J Green, backs; W Goldthorpe, J Rathmell, H Stead, half-backs; Exley, Lunn, Ambler, Pearson, Charlesworth, Waterhouse, forwards. Meanwood: Kelk, goal; G H Hepper, G Holiday, backs; H Kirk, (capt.), J S Hepper, A Harrison, half-backs; J Bower, W S Hepper, C H Hepper, A B Bolland, Holmes, Wright, forwards.

Middleton v. Carlton (Rugby).—Played at Middleton on Saturday, and resulted in a win for the visitors by 2 goals, 7 tries, and 15 minor points to 1 dead ball. The tries were got by J. Rinder (2, one after a splendid run from the half-way flag), Wrigglesworth (1), Fozzard (1), H. Crossley (1), A. Newton (1), Tom Brown Junr. (1), E. Nunns (1), Joe Brown (1). The goals were kicked by Wrigglesworth and H. Rinder.

Robin Hood v. Carlton 2nd Team.—Played at Carlton on Saturday, and resulted in a draw. Carlton scored 1 try and 5 minor points, to Robin Hood 1 try and 3 minor. G. Brown got the try for the home team and B. Bedford for the visitors.

HARRIERS.

Stourton Harriers.—This club had their run on Saturday from the Beckett's Arms, Meanwood. Owing to the unsettled state of the weather there was only a poor muster of members, and it was decided to have a fast run, without hares. At 3.40 the pack, with W. Atkinson as pace, and W. Patkin whip, set out, and ran through Meanwood, past the National Schools and over the Seven Arches, then by the right to Alwoodley, through Rider's Nurseries and into Dark lane, and then home, arriving at 4.30, after a good run of above eight miles.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

Occasional Notes.

Public opinion here-abouts seems to be generally adverse to the proposed scheme of the Local Government Board for the re-arrangement of the Poor Law Unions. So far as we are concerned there appears to be no compensating benefit to be gained as a set off to the many decided disadvantages which would follow our transference from Hunslet to Wakefield. We have little business, or social connection with the latter place; which is as foreign to our sympathies and habits of thought as Pudsey, and most difficult of access. On the other hand we gravitate towards Leeds as our natural centre and metropolis. The would-be recipients of relief would find the weary tramps to Wakefield and back, and the loss of time waiting for the conclusion of the political squabbles of which the Board-room is occasionally the scene—a heavy sum to pay for the much needed bounty, whilst to the aged or infirm the task would be virtually prohibitory. Besides being much nearer to walk, Hunslet is handy by rail from here, and candidates for relief have found their guardian, or some other friend in need, not indisposed to pay the fare when it has seemed necessary or advisable. The task of finding a qualified gentleman willing to put himself to the inconvenience of attending the Board meetings at Wakefield, as a guardian, would, we imagine be a difficult one. The one advantage put forward by the advocates of the new scheme, that of lightening the rates, is considered rather a dubious one, some authorities stating that it would be merely leaping from frying pan to fire. These considerations are leading people to support the action of our local guardians in this matter, and we trust that the memorial which is being extensively signed, will contribute towards keeping intact the present arrangement, until at any rate a better loophole of escape presents itself.

.. ..

The steady increase of deposits in the local Savings Banks, is pretty conclusive evidence of the growth of more prudent habits amongst us. The amount standing to the credit of depositors in the Woodlesford Branch of the Penny Savings Bank, has been doubled during the past year; at Oulton too, good business is done, the total amount here being over £1600. A pleasant feature of these little banking transactions, is the number of accounts opened on behalf of young children, who are thus encouraged to take care of their stray pence and are taught habits of thrift which will be of incalculable advantage to them in after years. Turning from local branches to the nation at large, we find that the yearly savings of the people in this way reach an enormous sum. This is only one mode of investment with the working classes; but it may be taken as typical of the progress of that large section of the community dependent upon wages.

The reports on the annual examination of the Board Schools, which have just come to hand, are on the whole very favourable, and a satisfactory grant has been earned towards the maintenance of the schools. The policy of keeping up the efficiency of the schools, by a well-paid staff of fully qualified teachers—which was foolishly opposed by some at the last election—is thus justified. We are glad to notice an increase in the grant for average attendance, the natural result of the valuable inducements offered in the way of prizes for regular and punctual attendance. As the value of these prizes is now more generally known, no doubt more earnest efforts will be made to obtain them, with corresponding advantage to the schools and children.

On Wednesday morning one of the inmates of the asylum escaped, and in the course of the day made his way to Woodlesford, where with the assistance of some of the railway employés, he was secured and taken back to Wakefield late in the afternoon. The escape of a wild beast with sanguinary proclivities could hardly have created a greater sensation, nor would it have received rougher treatment on its recapture. Pity for the hunted fugitive and terror at the dread of possible mischief he might commit, caused some excitement in the neighbourhood. The poor fellow made pathetic appeals for refuge at several houses and offered a very determined resistance before he could be secured in the trap which conveyed him back to his temporary home.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high coloured; depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population have this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. The disease is Dyspepsia or Indigestion, for which Seigel's Curative Syrup is a certain remedy. Seigel's Operating Pills are an effective remedy for Constipation and Biliousness. Those afflicted with Asthma will find immediate relief by using the Rosinweed Tar Mixture. Genuine has A. J. White, Lim., on the stamp. An almanac containing testimonials from persons who have received benefit from use of Seigel's Curative Syrup will be furnished, free of charge, by the proprietors, A. J. White, Lim., 17, Farringdon Road, London, E.C.

OLD RHYMES WITH NEW FACES

"James and John, went up the hill
Across our beck of water;
John came down, but got 'done brown,'
And James said, 'He'd come after.'"

"For John, John, the Lawyer's son,
To the Gasworks he did run,
When he arrived, they to him did say,
'You'll have to come another day.'"

"Hey diddle, diddle,
The Chairman did fiddle,
We can't grant you your boon;
The Directors laughed,
To see such sport,
And told him, he'd come too soon"

So up John got, and home did trot,
As fast as he could caper;
'A. M.' had the job, to hit him on the nob,
In his next weekly paper.

There were two little Guardians,
Belonging to Hun—;
(s)Let's have a jolly do they said, said, said,
For when furniture we buy,
Economy we'll try,
The Board will pay the bill, when we're fed, fed, fed.

And as the bread was swimming,
In the soup of ox tail;
Said one to the other, what a lark, lark, lark,
Its really very fine,
Only costs thirteen and nine,
But of course you'll try your best to keep it dark, dark, dark.

This is the house that Jack built.

This is the malt,
That lay in the house that Jack built.
This is the beer,
That was made from the malt,
That lay in the house that Jack built.

This is the vat,
Where they brewed the beer,
That was made from the malt,
That lay in the house that Jack built.

This is the room, where 'tis said, they sat
To drink the beer,
That was brewed in the vat,
That was made from the malt,
That lay in the house that Jack built.

These are the tumbler glasses, not horn,
That we found in the room, where 'tis said, they sat
To drink the beer,
That was brewed in a vat
That was made from the malt,
That lay in the house that Jack built.

These are the six who sang night and morn,
But who used the tumbler glasses not horn,
That were found in the room where 'tis said, they sat
To drink the beer,
That was brewed in a vat,
That was made from the malt,
That lay in the house that Jack built.

This is priest all shaven and shorn
Who wrote to the six who sang night and morn,
But used the tumbler glasses—not horn,
That were found in the room, in which they sat
To drink the beer
That was brewed in a vat
That was made from the malt
That lay in the house that Jack built.

This is the choir that looked forlorn
After the priest all shaven and shorn
Had sent to the six, who sang night and morn,
But who used the tumbler glasses—not horn,
That were found in the room where 'tis said they sat
To drink the beer
That was brewed in a vat—
That was made from the malt
That lay in the house that Jack built.

These local 'Tom Tuckers' sang a year for their suppers
Should they do it again I should say they were duffers,
There was really no need to have all this strife,
'Did ever you hear such a thing in your life.'

Bow, wow, wow,
'Who's dog are you?'
I'm not a currier dog,
Bow, wow, wow.

TOWN TALK.

A very serious disagreement has taken place between a considerable number of the men in the Rothwell Church Choir and the vicar, and one which if not made up, will result in great strife and much dissension among the numerous worshippers who are in the habit of attending the Parish Church. I believe Mr. Fawkes has served written notices on by far the greater number of the men singers, stating that their services in the choir will not be required again until they receive an intimation to that effect. The men in question have done something to displease the vicar, and have received a rather severe reprimand for their misbehaviour. Numerous causes are assigned as the reason of this action on the part of the vicar; one is that the singers have called and got a 'revivifier' at the White Swan after the service on one or two occasions, but this I don't believe to be true; the one that seems to be the most reliable, and which I have heard one of the fellows relate, and moreover, one which commends itself to the ordinary reasoning faculty is that on Christmas morning, when the singers met prior to making their visit to their friends, one young man was suffering from that most unpleasant and irritating pain, the toothache, and being one of those who 'take time by the forelock,' and having previously proved the efficacy of a 'little drop' of whiskey in relieving his pain, he had carefully taken the precaution of putting a small bottle of that excellent medicine in his breast pocket, in case of a severe attack when singing in the cold morning air. How the fates seem to conspire for our ruin! Strange to say, his tooth became very troublesome at the vestry, and he reluctantly brought out his flask to take a teaspoonful; what followed may be easily imagined, all his companions, with one or two exceptions, took a teaspoonful too, until by-and-bye it became 'lost to sight.' As to whether the vicar has been rather too severe in his treatment of these old and excellent members of his choir, I will not say, but one thing I will say, that we are all liable to err, and it should be a flagrant act of vice or folly which is visited with such rigorous punishment. The musical brethren of the choir must in future wet their whistles with town's water undiluted, not only inside the church, but outside of it also, or take the consequences. Mr. Fawkes will find great difficulty in filling the vacant places with competent singers. Rothwell working men have had to perform the musical service in the church for a great number of years, and they are noted for one or two things: first and foremost is their stalwart independence, a characteristic of which I am proud, and next in the list is their unity in helping and defending each other; few men will consent to occupy the seats from which their their fellow townsmen—their kinsmen and neighbours—have been forced, whether rightly or wrongly, for they have a perfect, complete and abiding hatred to the soubriquet of 'blacksheep.' If Mr. Fawkes and the 'sacked singers' will meet and compromise the matter, it may be settled, without leaving a thorn in the flesh; but if not, I can't see the end of mischief, so far does it extend that it is lost to view on the distant horizon.

'Keep Turner out, or by the Lord
He'll swear, and smash the Board,
And thump his fellow members!'

So sang the unkempt youth of the village, now nearly three years ago. The refrain will have to be altered at the next election, but only slightly;

Run Turner in, for by the Lord
He's sworn to smash the Board,
And thump his fellow members!'

Those full, particulary, and concise reports of the doing of the Board which we were promised should be printed if the Liberal Association candidate was elected, have not appeared, but instead thereof we get only the tame sedate reports as before. A lively reporter would have dished up the proceedings of last Monday night in the form of a pantomime, and entitled it 'The Babes in the wood,' to be followed by a new sensation under the heading of

BOXING NIGHT.

There is a subscription on foot to raise the necessary funds to purchase well padded sparring gloves, to be presented to the officials of the Board for use by the members just to relieve the monotony of the sitting by a 'set to.' Subscriptions may be left in the front room over the Co-operative shop.

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name Consumption Emulsion. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 143 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find there is a gain of weight even after it has been used." Such a testimony as this speaks volumes for the efficiency of Phthisicon. In addition, it has proved of immense value as a curative agent in the early stages of Brain Disease and Scrofula; in fact, wherever there is impaired nutrition or lack of nerve power, its action is almost certain. It can be obtained of all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s., and 21s. per bottle. Wholesale of Barclay and Sons, Farringdon-street, London, E.C.; or of W. B. Trick, A.P.S., 22, Green-lanes London, N.

ARE the PUREST, CHEAPEST, and BEST BITTERS EVER MADE.

They are compounded from Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Podophyllin, and Dandelion.

The oldest, best, and most valuable medicines in the world, and contain all the best and most curative properties of all other Bitters, being the greatest BLOOD PURIFER, LIVER REGULATOR, and Life and Health Restoring Agent on earth. No disease or ill-health can possibly long exist where these Bitters are used, so varied and perfect are their operations.

They give new life and vigour to the aged and infirm. To all whose employments cause irregularity of the bowels or urinary organs, or who require an Appetiser, Tonic, and Mild Stimulant, these Bitters are invaluable, being highly curative, tonic, and stimulating, without intoxicating.

No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease or ailment is, use

HOP BITTERS.

Don't wait until you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use the Bitters at once. It may save your life. Hundreds have been saved by so doing. £500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help. They are a pleasant refreshing flavouring for sick-room drinks, impure water, and other beverages.

Do not suffer yourself or let your friends suffer, but use, and urge them to use

HOP BITTERS.

Remember,

HOP BITTERS

is no vile, drugged nostrum, but the Purest and Best Medicine ever made; the "Invalid's Friend and Hope," and no person or family should be without them. Try the BITTERS to-day. FOR SALE BY ALL CHEMISTS AND DRUGGISTS.

CAUTION.

Beware of bogus stuff sold in all forms, pretending to be like Hop Bitters. The only genuine is put up in very large square-panelled amber-coloured bottles, Dr. Soule's name blown in the glass, white label on one side, with black letters and green hop clusters. The other side yellow label. Directions in English and German. Manufactured only by Hop Bitters Company.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

BEECHAM'S PATENT PILLS. ST. HELENS LANCASHIRE

ARE admitted by thousands to be worth above A GUINEA A BOX for Bilious and Nervous Disorders, such as Wind and Pain at the Stomach, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Fulness, and Swelling after meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Scurvy, Blotches on the skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, &c., &c. The first dose will give relief in twenty minutes.

This is no fiction, for they have done it in thousands of cases. The Proprietor of these Pills having obtained (at great expense) a Patent for them, he challenges the whole world to produce a medicine equal to them for removing the above named complaints and restoring the patient to sound and lasting health.

Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try one box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be WORTH A GUINEA A BOX.

For females of all ages these Pills are invaluable, as a few doses of them carry off all gross humours, open all obstructions, and bring about all that is required. No female should be without them. There is no remedy to be found to equal BEECHAM'S PILLS for removing any obstruction or irregularity of the system. If taken according to the directions given with each box, they will soon restore females of all ages to sound and robust health.

For a weak Stomach, impaired digestion, and all disorders of the Liver, they act like 'MAGIC,' and a few doses will be found to work wonders upon the most important organs in the human machine. They strengthen the whole muscular system, restore the long lost complexion, bring back the keen edge of appetite, and arouse into action, with the ROSEBUD of health, the whole physical energy of the human frame —These are "FACTS" admitted by thousands, embracing all classes of Society, and one of the best guarantees to the Nervous Debilitated is, BEECHAM'S PILLS have the largest sale of any Patent Medicine in the world.

BEECHAM'S MAGIC COUGH PILLS

Are a remedy for Coughs in General, Asthma Difficulty of Breathing, Shortness of Breath, Tightness and Oppression of the Chest, Wheezing, &c., these Pills stand unrivalled for anyone labouring under any of the above complaints. They need only try One Box to prove that they are the best ever offered to the public for Asthmatic and Consumptive Coughs Hoarseness, and Oppression of the Chest. They speedily remove the sense of oppression and Difficulty of Breathing which nightly deprive the patient of rest. They give almost instant relief and comfort to those afflicted with the above distressing and, when neglected, dangerous complaints, but any person troubled with any of the above complaints should give Beecham's Cough Pills a trial

The most violent Cough will in a short time be removed.

Caution.—The public are requested to notice that the words "BEECHAM'S PILLS, St Helen's," are on the Government Stamp affixed to each box of the Pills; if not on, they are a forgery.

Prepared only, and sold wholesale and retail by the proprietor, T. Beecham, Chemist, St. Helen's, Lancashire, in boxes, 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Sent post free for 15 or 36 stamps.

Sold by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Dealers in the United Kingdom.

N.B.—Full directions are given with each Box.

CAUTION.—THE QUEEN v. LAMPLOUGH.—The unanimous Verdict of the Court was in favour of Pyretic Saline being sold without the usual Medicine Duty; this has induced several Chymists and other dealers to put up effervescing powders, worthless & in many instances containing Caustic & injurious ingredients. It is important and imperative that in all cases of Sickness, Fevers, & CHOLERA Symptoms, the genuine Pyretic Saline should be purchased, bearing my name only, HENRY LAMPLOUGH, 113, Holborn, London.

Friday, January 23, 1885.

NEXT to being alive to passing opportunities, nothing succeeds so well as dogged perseverance in a fixed course, and of this truth we have a striking instance in the action of the Morley people in relation to the Redistribution scheme. Taking time by the forelock, and looking ahead, these neighbours saw that an opportunity presented itself of securing their town as a Parliamentary centre, and up to present advices, it is probable they have secured their object. In this matter Rothwell has a large interest, and whatever may be the effect of certain groupings in the political fortunes of Liberals or Conservatives, undoubtedly the natural division was the original one, as stated by us a fortnight ago. The Lower Agbrigg Petty Sessional division includes all the places holding Wakefield as their centre, judicial and Parliamentary, and formed a compact and harmonious whole, having Horbury and Normanton at either end with the intervening villages between. Morley has, however, managed to form an entirely different scheme, which has been so presented as to secure the approval of the Boundary Commissioners and also of the South-West Riding Liberal Association. In this plan our neighbours and close friends are wrested from us, and if carried out, we lose Lofthouse with Carlton, Thorpe, Middleton and the two Ardsleys, about 12,000 population. We cannot but look on this proposal with regret, as such an arrangement must have the effect of more or less alienating our relationship with these, our next door neighbours, and while accepting the supposition that our committee have done what they could in the time left them, we certainly feel that an earlier handling of the question, with some amount of energy, might have given us a better position than we now hold.

We observe for our comfort, that Ossett Local Board have taken up this alteration of division, and they are unanimously petitioning that "as there is no similarity of trade or identity of interest between these townships (Lofthouse, Carlton, and Middleton) and the others," it was "far better to substitute Horbury and Shitlington, which would render their division more compact." This is exactly what we should like; the Morley division would then be Ossett, Mirfield, Morley, Horbury, East Ardsley, West Ardsley, Shitlington, Whitley Lower, with parts of Thornhill, Soothill, and Batley; and the Normanton division Altofts, Alverthorpe with part of Thornes, Flockton Over and Nether, Lofthouse-with-Carlton, Methley, Middleton, Newland with Woodhouse Moor, Normanton, Oulton with Woodlesford, Rothwell with Rothwell Haigh and Royds Green, part of Stanley-cum-Wrenthorpe, Thorpe; Whitwood, and the county voters in Wakefield.

To-day, the Commissioners sit at Wakefield for the hearing of any objections, and so far as we can learn, the latest proposal cutting off the three named townships will be accepted. One point, at any rate, we hope will be watched, that Rothwell still retains her position as a polling station, and while other places are striving to improve their opportunities, we trust means may be taken for preserving what we already possess, although we have failed in improving our standing

So we are to have another Inquiry on the Amalgamation scheme, and Leeds is to make a second effort to enlarge her boundaries. The proposal is well known, and at one time it was thought would not be pressed just now. Mr. Davey is coming however, and it will require all the power and argument that Hunslet, Holbeck, and Bramley can command, in order to prevent the more populous portions of the three Unions being swallowed up by Leeds, and the rest of us sent north, south, east, and west, "anywhere, anywhere out of the way." The outlook is not a very pleasant one. Wakefield is not at all anxious to have us. Leeds is not permitted to "gobble us up." What is to be done. We only wish Wakefield would entirely object to us. Our indoor poor are but units, but our rates are thousands. If we are kicked out of Hunslet have we no 'say' as to our future home. Surely our large rateable is of some account. Has the idea of a small Union ever been propounded? Or is there no provision for a group of townships situated as we should be, if cut off from Hunslet? We suppose we shall have to wait with patience the result of the Inquiry, but in the meantime, let us maintain our resolve not to leave Hunslet till we have a better resting place and to assist the Board in its most strenuous opposition to the dissolution scheme.

ROTHWELL SCHOOL BOARD.

The usual monthly meeting was held on Friday last, present, Messrs. W. Hargreaves, (chairman), J. G. Turner, J. R. Seanor, J. Batty, W. Lawton, and the clerk, teachers, and attendance officer.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

FINANCES.—The Finance Committee having previously considered and approved a number of accounts for the past quarter, cheques were signed for the amount of the same, including tradesmen's accounts £30 14s.; subscription to Pupil Teacher's Prize Scheme Association, £1 1s.; rates, etc., £8 7s 11d.; salaries Rothwell £29 1s. 2d., Rothwell Haigh £42 7s. 0d.

ROTHWELL REPORT.—The report of the Mixed School has been received, and shews an improvement on last year's average pass of nine per cent; there have been no extra subjects, however, and the Board anticipate much better results next year. The sum earned is £103 8s 6d, the average attendance being 153. This amount includes £2 grant earned by Master Myton. Miss Chadwick has completed her term of pupil teachership, and is therefore not on the staff. Mr. Whitaker and Miss Craise continue as before, assisting Mr. Harms. The sewing is credited with the 1/- grant, and also the singing. The report on the Infants' School is not so good as expected, although every allowance has been made for the smallness of the room. The average attendance is 83, which has resulted in a grant of £45 13s. 0d., including a 1s. for needlework and 1s. for singing.

ATTENDANCE.—Continued difficulty being experienced by Mr. Denton in securing regular attendance, it was agreed that he have authority for putting summonses in force without waiting for the official order of the Board, in cases of repeated neglect of parents to send their children to school.

The fees of several children whose parents are widows or very poor, were remitted for the next three months. Instructions were also given for the compulsory payment of certain arrears of fees.

BYE-LAWS.—After due notice being given, it was agreed unanimously that the bye-law fixing the third standard for partial exemption be rescinded, and the fourth standard be substituted.

GRANT.—The treasurer acknowledged having received £149 1s. 6d., the amount earned by Rothwell schools.

The several teachers attended, and a short conversation took place on the state and prospects of their several schools.

EPPS COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame." Civil Service Gazette.—Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in Packets, labelled, 'JAMES EPPS & Co. Homœopathic Chemists, London.' Also makers of Epps' Chocolate Essence.

COAGULINE — Cement for Broken Articles. 6d., 1s., 2s.; postage, 2d. Sold everywhere. Kay Bros., Stockport

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Some occupations tend to the development of certain diseases, and those who toil as miners are peculiarly liable to rheumatism lumbago, and other allied complaints. In the goldfields and copper mines, Holloway's remedies have been largely patronized by the workers to their very great advantage, and they can be confidently recommended as invaluable remedies for inward congestions, spasms and cramps in the bowels, and all those conditions of the lungs and liver to which those who work underground or in impure atmospheres are so peculiarly liable. For cuts, bruises, sprains and stiffened joints, the action of Holloway's Ointment is eminently healing and soothing, and a supply should always be at hand in case of need.

KAY'S COMPOUND Essence of Linseed, Aniseed, Senega, Squill, Tolu, &c., with Chlorodyne. Of all Chemists.

THROAT AFFECTIONS AND HOARSENESS.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by JOHN I. BROWN & SONS, Boston. U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London

CRICKET CLUB CONCERT.

In order to assist the funds of the Rothwell Cricket Club, the committee some time ago secured the kind offices of Dr. Purdy to get up a concert after Christmas, and this promise was successfully redeemed on Monday evening. The character and status of the performers was of the best description, but we could not help feeling that a sprinkling of the "trilling soprano" and the "mellow contralto" would have added lightness and variety to the effective 'tenori' and 'bassi' who filled up the vocal portion of the programme. The Mechanics' Hall was nevertheless, nearly full, and no doubt a handsome sum will have been netted by the effort, for which all thanks are due to the energetic manager, Dr. Purdy.

Miss Middlemiss opened the proceedings by a pianoforte solo from "Der Freichutz," played in a manner which fully maintained the high character she has long held as the most skilful pianist in the neighbourhood. The Rev. H. M. Sims was down for the next item, but being unwell, his place was kindly filled by Mr. B. W. Higgins with the marvellously descriptive song 'The Raft;' our well-known bass was in splendid voice, and in securing his valuable help, Mr. Purdy rendered a real service. Mr. R. W. Gleadow was placed next, and although he rendered his song correctly, ("I dream'd a dream") his performance was shadowed by contrast with the powerful voice of his predecessor. Grossmith's "Muddle Puddle Porter" was given by Mr. A. Batty, and although there was a little stumble at first by reason of the song being new to him, he got through to the evident satisfaction of the audience, who vociferously demanded another song; "The nine little pigs," was substituted and went well. In Mr. Wm. Phillips, a Leeds friend of Dr. Purdy's, we enjoyed listening to a light but remarkably sweet singer, and the "Blue Alsatian Mountains" was so warmly received as to require an encore, which was given. Mr. Higgins, who seems to be specially qualified for the presentation of descriptive songs, gave a thrilling story of a lone traveller "In a desert," who, overcome with thirst and hunger, is compelled to cease his journey, and accompanied by weird, wild music, fearfully anticipates the gradual approach of the vultures; just at the critical moment, however, the tinkling bells of far-distant camels is heard, and hope revives, culminating in the arrival of friends and the salvation of the pilgrim. The grand old "Village Blacksmith" was given in reply to the encore, and very agreeable was the contrast. Mr. R. J. Smith, who is well known in the sister villages, made his first appearance in a Rothwell concert, and proved a pleasing variety, as evidenced by the reception of "The Speaker's Eye;" a recall being acceded to by the humorous story of "The Twins." Mr. T. West's song "The Skipper," was tastefully given, and his previous character both as a singer and a cricketer served to win him a warm approval, which was acknowledged by his singing of "The Gauntlet."

Before the interval, examples of legerdemain were performed by Dr. Purdy, whose powers seem to be sufficient for almost anything, and evidences of approbation and applause greeted the various tricks. Among these were several performances with a marked shilling, passing from one box to another, through a glass and table into a hat below, etc.; also several tricks with cards; concluding with a representation of the Davenport rope illusion.

The second portion of the programme was introduced by Miss Middlemiss, who, with the greatest ease and sang froid played from memory "Theme D'Ecosse," variations at once difficult and beautiful delighting the listeners. "Dream Faces," sung by the Rev. A. M. Samwell, formed the next number, given in his usual manner, followed by Mr. Gleadow in "The Owl." Mr. R. J. Smith was quite at home in the old (but to Rothwell ears, new) song "The Lost Child," and the ludicrous mixture of motherly sadness in his loss, and motherly threatenings on his discovery, produced considerable laughter. "Down in a mine" is new to us and rendered so effectively by Mr. Higgins, is eminently suited to the feelings of those who spend so much of their time in those dark regions. The depth of voice to which Mr. Higgins descended in closing his song was something extraordinary, and cannot soon be forgotten. Another treat was experienced in the sweet singing of Mr. Phillips, and "Carissima" was followed by "The Carrier Dove," to the great satisfaction of everyone. Dr. Purdy's recitations are always relished, and the pathetic story of "The Magic Wand" was touchingly told. Owing to the repeated encores in the first part, the hour was now getting late, and Mr. West had to sing his song under some difficulty, although the rendering was none the less enjoyable. Mr. A. Batty brought up the rear with his new topical song, "Tut, tut, dear me," including two new verses, which will be found in another column. The accompaniments were divided between Miss Middlemiss and Mr. W. Lockwood, both of whom very efficiently and accommodatingly assisted in furthering the success of the evening. The National Anthem concluded the performance.

EAT BATTLE IN THE DESERT.

BRITISH VICTORY.

n Wednesday evening telegrams were ived from General Wolseley reporting a great battle was fought between Sir bert Stewart's advance column and the di's force on the 17th, at Abu Klea ls, about 23 miles north-west of Metam- . General Stewart's column consisted ,700 men. The enemy's force numbered 000. The enemy was sighted on the h, but as he refused to leave his position English troops bivouacked for the night. the morning of the 17th the English e moved forward in square, and compelled enemy to attack or be enfiladed. The gagement was a severe one The enemy ietrated the left rear of the square, and a nd-to-hand fight took place. In the antime severe loss was inflicted upon the emy by the other portions of the square; l in the end he was driven back at all ints, leaving on the field of battle 800 led, and a great number of wounded. The glish loss was severe, and included 9 icers killed and 9 wounded, and 65 non- mmissioned officers and men killed and 85 ounded. Amongst the killed was Colonel urnaby General Stewart had a very rrow escape.

OCAL & GENERAL.

St. Andrew's Football Club, Stourton.—Under e auspices of the above energetic organisation, a a and Concert were held in the Board School, ourton, on Saturday evening last. At five o'clock, out 70 persons sat down to a capital tea, and this as followed by a concert. The chair was occupied by r. Whitworth, who apologised for the absence of the car, (Rev. A. J. Miller), and the curate, (Rev. V. ichfield), who, he regretted to state, were both nwell. The programme was then proceeded with, e opening glee, 'England's Queen,' being given by e Rothwell Glee Party, consisting of seven members. liss Greaves, (Wrangthorn), followed with 'Dolly's evenge,' and Mr. John E. Smart, (Crossgates), was eservedly encored for his rendering of 'The octor's Boy.' Mr. Williams sang 'The Vagabond,' Molloy), and Miss Abson 'The Nightingale's Trill,' ucceeded by Mr. P. Day, who gave 'The girl I left n England's shore.' The Rothwell Glee Party sang The Soldier's Love,' in very good style, and Mr. Job mart sweetly rendered 'Tell her I love her so.' De Faye). Again was Miss Greaves to the fore with The miller and the maid,' followed by Mr. G. Black- urn, who played in a very efficient manner the verture from the 'Caliph of Bagdad.' Mr. Whit- vorth sang 'The British Lion' with much vigour, and the first part of the programme was brought to a close by Miss Fieldhouse singing with much effect Tit for Tat' (Pontet). In the second part of the programme, the Rothwell Glee Party again gave valuable help, while other songs were contributed by Mr. Braithwaite, who gave 'An awful little scrub,' (Grossmith), Miss Abson offering 'The female auctioneer,' and Mr. John E. Smart, 'The boy can say papa;' followed by Mr. Williams with 'Dolly Varden,' Mr. Job Smart, with 'My sweetheart when a boy,' Miss Greaves with 'The broken pitcher,' (Pontet), Mr. Day with 'Nancy Lee,' (Adams), and Mr. Whitworth with the humorous song 'A jolly old man,' the whole concluding with the well known glee, 'Hail Smiling Morn, contributed by the Rothwell Glee Party. The proceeds of the tea and concert went to augment the funds of the St. Andrew's Football Club, Stourton.

St. Stephen's Saturnalia, the winter number of St. Stephen's Review, has attained such a success, owing to the combined talents of Lord Lytton, Lord Carnavon, Harry Furniss, Wallis Mackay, and Phil May, that it has been found absolutely necessary to publish another edition, although owing to the quality of the paper on which it is printed, there can be very little profit in doing so. It is the first time that men of the eminence and ability of Lord Lytton and Lord Carnarvon have made themselves responsible for a number of a weekly paper, and their very great success in this instance will prove to all that the House of Peers possesses strong literary representatives. It is a fact that Lord Lytton ("Owen Meredith") is thought more of in America than is Lord Tennyson.

Poaching at Swillington.—At the West Riding Police-court, on Monday, before Mr. Ellershaw and a full bench of magistrates, David Calvert, labourer, Wm. Oldham, miner, and John Ouston, miner, all of whom live at Swillington, were charged with having trespassed in pursuit of game on land belonging to Sir Charles Lowther, at Swillington, on Sunday, the 11th instant. Calvert and Oldham were each fined 20s. including costs, with the alternative of fourteen days' imprisonment; and Ouston was fined 40s., including costs, or one month's imprisonment.

Fatal Accident at Beeston Pit.—A very unusual accident occurred at the Beeston Pit, Bell Hill, on Monday the 12th inst, to William Hainsworth, (49) a coal leader, late of 8, Darby Street, Leeds, and which resulted in the death of the unfortunate man at the Leeds General Infirmary on Saturday last. The inquest was held at the Leeds Town Hall, on Monday, before Mr. J. C. Malcolm, and from the evidence we gather that on the morning named the deceased was at work in the colliery yard. Whilst leading coal into his cart, he found it necessary to stand on one of the wheels, and while in this position he overbalanced himself, and falling upon the wheel of the next cart, he sustained a serious fracture of the spine. He was at once taken to the Infirmary and received the usual skilful treatment and care, remaining an in-patient until his death. Before he died the poor fellow told his friends who were visiting him, that it was a pure accident, and that blame could not be attached to anyone. The jury returned a verdict of "accidental death."

Rags and their Remedies.—The Committee of The Ragged School Union have just issued a paper by Prof. Leone Levi, and a sermon by the Rev. Dr. Dykes, both of which give interesting information respecting the work of the affiliated Ragged School Missions in the Metropolis, and the urgent need for its continuance and extension. It is hoped these effective pleas will be widely circulated, and succeed in enlisting both teachers and funds for this noble work amongst the poorest of our City poor.

Carlton Temperance Hall.—On Saturday and Monday last, the committee of the Carlton Temperance Society gave £1 15s. for the best almanack, in two classes, large and small. There were 150 entered for competition, and of the large size 'Diplomacy, or Grandfather's Penny' was awarded first prize, 'Haddon Hall,' second, and 'The Reception,' third. In the small class, 'Sunday Morning' gained first, 'Wintry weather' second, and 'Settled for life,' third. Mr. Wm. Wright, Rothwell, acted as judge. The Temperance Concertina Band were also in attendance, and gave several pieces during the two days of the exhibition. There was not a very large attendance on Saturday, but on Monday the place was well filled.

Stourton Wesleyan Mutual Improvement Class—The usual meeting of the above class was held on Friday night when Mr W. Hainsworth, delivered an essay on "The art of Printing" Mr. Hainsworth, who is apprenticed to the printing trade was able to deal very well with his subject. He showed how many different processes the print had to go through before it was ready for use There was a good attendance, and many questions were asked, which were ably answered by the essayist.

DEAR ME!

The Lords have passed the Franchise Bill, so very, (very quiet,
Tut, tut, tut, tut, dear me;
And it certainly has saved some disturbances and riot,
Tut, tut, tut, tut, dear me;
The compromise agreed to is by far the wisest plan,
And the Premier, with Lord Salisbury, have done all that they can,
So don't you really think, he is a 'Grand Old Man.'
Tut, tut, tut, tut, dear me.

To change our Poor Law Union some have tried their very best,
And would send all the out-townships both North, South, East and West.
'Twill be to us no joke, if Leeds should prove the master,
And then to be 'tacked on' to Wakefield or Tadcaster,
For this might only make the rates go up the faster.

An Editor of a paper I should really like to be;
If I were, more information you most certainly should see;
The news we now obtain is perhaps good of its sort,
For they give us a whole column of merely football sport;
When the Local Board have meetings, do we get a full report?

I must not overlook, in this rather curious rhyme,
The changes to be made in the reckoning of our time;
This newest style, of course, when once it is begun,
To be invited to a party, it will be jolly fun
When they say 'Now don't be later than half-past twenty-one.

There's one thing I must name, for I cannot let it pass,
The illuminating power of our three-and-ninepenny gas;
To charge us such a price is for them very fine,
But the Directors should 'kick up a better shine,'
And when deputations go, let them test it the next time.

Our Board make alterations which are really very funny,
And they do not seem to care as to which way goes the money;
They're going to pull the pavement up, that was not long since laid,
And the roadway in Bell Hill with macadam's to be made,
Perhaps that will prove as useful as—well, say marmalade.

A mansion for the road engine did our Board, you know, erect,
And other vast improvements you may very soon expect,
I see from a report that when they lately met
They moved to put it gas in—(let it be a splendid jet)
And to keep the poor thing warmer, wrap it in a good blanket.

Now will you all be silent whilst I whisper in your ear,
They had a lively time of it at a meeting held this year,
We must not mention names, tho' everybody knows
And from using choice remarks 'tis said they came to blows,
Up to now I thought the Leeds Board was the place for having rows.

Tho' my cricketing days are over, yet I cannot still forget
Tut, tut, tut, tut, dear me;
Of a match, 'twas played last season, when our club and Lofthouse met;
Tut, tut, tut, tut, dear me;
To those who saw the game it was indeed a treat,
For our mutual friend, R. Whiteley, performed a splendid feat,
'Six wickets for no runs' would indeed be hard to beat.
Tut, tut, tut, tut, dear me.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

Occasional Notes.

When the Board Schools were built, a room was fitted up and set apart for the purpose of giving practical lessons in cookery to girls; this was a sensible provision, but for some reason or other the original idea has never been carried out. It would be interesting to know why this most important branch of a girl's education should be neglected. It may be said that girls are taught what is necessary for them to know about cookery at home, but is this so? In the majority of cases they are more likely to learn habits of extravagance, waste, and mismanagement, which arise out of utter ignorance. The experience of mistresses and housekeepers is sufficient proof of this. It must be granted that it would be worth while to teach cooking practically in our schools, if it could be done successfully and made to pay. The experiment has been extensively tried at other schools, and the results show that it can be done successfully. The question, will it pay? which is the most important one from a manager's point of view, may be partly answered by the following quotation from the Code of March, 1882, 'In schools in which the inspector reports that special and appropriate provision is made for the practical teaching of cookery, a grant of four shillings is made on account of any girl over twelve years of age who has attended not less than forty hours during the school year at the cooking class, and is presented for examination in the elementary subjects in any standard.' In addition to this an extra fee might be charged for admission to the class, and the prepared food would find a ready sale at cost price. An arrangement might be made for the girls from the Oulton National School to take lessons at the same time, and this would reduce the cost per head. The following estimate based on the figures given in an article on the subject in the current number of Chambers Journal, shows the probable expenses and income. The expenses would stand—salary of a competent teacher for course of 20 lessons of two hours each, (the minimum on which the grant is paid) say £5, travelling expenses from Leeds, say 20s; total £6. To meet this there would be the following income:—Government grant, 4s. per head, say 20 girls, £4; extra fees, 2d. a lesson, (which would be willingly paid), £3 6s. 8d.; total, £7 6s 8d. This calculation leaves a margin for extra cost of fuel which would be trifling, and for an instalment towards first cost of necessary utensils which would be considerable, say £5. It will be seen that the class could be carried on without extra cost to the ratepayers; it would be popular with parents, and interesting to children as a link between home life and school. And is not the subject quite as important in fitting them for the duties of after life as anything else taught in our school. But the sensible man in search of a wife, or the mistress engaging a maid, would be better pleased to know that the girl was thoroughly fitted for a thrifty, managing housewife, or an intelligent, careful 'help,' than she was up in book learning, but ignorant of the useful and womanly arts of domestic economy and cookery, which are so essential to the contentment and happiness of home-life.

The distribution of prizes for good conduct and regular attendance in connection with the Woodlesford Church Sunday School took place on Sunday last, at the ordinary Sunday afternoon school. This occasion has usually been made a special event, but this year the proceedings were very quiet and unostentatious. The books and rewards given would be not the less appreciated by the children however, and they would have the delight of giving their parents a pleasant surprise on taking them home. Last night, the teachers, some of the older scholars, and the local members of the Girls' Friendly Society were entertained to tea by Mrs. Barker at the Board Schools.

The second of the series of Mechanics' Institute lectures is announced for next week, when Dr. Purdy will give an 'Ambulance' Lecture. The subject is a practical one and should be interesting to all. We especially commend the lecture to local football players; there is no class to whom it is more important to know what to do in cases of fractured collar bones, dislocated necks, broken ancles, &c. We are promised a concert on behalf of the Institute in the following week, there is also we understand, to be a concert at Oulton about the same time, and if the usual Minstrel Entertainment is to be given before Lent, we shall have a lively time of it for the next few weeks.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

Our local footballists had to put up with bad weather last Saturday, the ground, owing to the rain of the previous week, being of course very soft and sloppy, while rain also put in an appearance at the time for commencing matches, and altogether, the various clubs playing last week had a rather miserable time of it.

Robin Hood received another drubbing at the hands of Meanwood to the extent of 7 goals to one. This makes the number of points gained by Meanwood against the new organization into 15 goals to one. Our neighbour, Robin Hood, are being exposed to rather bad luck at the present time, owing to the Rugby club (lately formed) taking some of their players, thus tending to make their team a weak one. However, they did better on Saturday than in the first encounter with Meanwood, and next year may hope for still better results.

Carlton seem to be progressing very favourably with their Rugby play. On Saturday they encountered the Halton at Carlton, and after a fast forward game, the home team won by 2 tries and 5 minor points, to 1 minor point, but it must be mentioned that Halton played with 2 men short.

CAPTAIN.

Meanwood v. Robin Hood.—Played at Robin Hood on Saturday, and resulted in a win for Meanwood by 7 goals to 1, after a very one sided game.

Halton v. Carlton.—Played at Carlton on Saturday, and resulted in a win for the home team by 2 tries and 5 minor points to 1 minor point. G. Brown got both the tries for the home team, and should have had a third, but the visitors' captain disputed it, saying the ball was not thrown out straight from the line out, which the Carlton captain granted, the players objecting in no measured terms. The game was a fast forward one throughout, leaving very little for the backs to do, as the forwards were always on the ball. Halton played at a disadvantage, being two men short of their team.

HARRIERS.

The Stourton Harriers had their usual weekly run on Saturday from the Cemetery Tavern, Beckett Street, in which the following members took part, G. Sheard, (pace), Rowland Hill, (capt.) F. W. Jones, W. Atkinson, B. Ross, B. Clark, J. Clark, W. Fatkin, R. Tuttell, (Hunslet Gordon Harriers), and J. W. Weatherhead, (whip); the ground was in a wretched state, and entirely prevented any signs of good running. At 3.32, the hares, B. Clark and J. Clark, were despatched and followed ten minutes later by the pack, who found the trail leading up Beckett St, across Stoney Rock, and up Coldcotes Lane, past Myers' farm, round by Killingbeck, then a sharp turn to the left, and along Foundry Lane, across country by the low side of Seacroft Green, across Horseshoe Lane, and through the fields to Stone Pier Lane, across Harehills Lane to the end of Harehills Road, where the trail ended, a good pace was then kept up until home was reached at 4.30, the hares having arrived fifteen minutes sooner, after a very heavy run of about 7 miles.

TOWN TALK.

It may be of interest to many to know that it is intended to celebrate a confirmation service at the Rothwell Church on July 18th, at 11 o'clock. Candidates will no doubt be prepared by pastors of the surrounding villages, and it is probable an interesting ceremony will be conducted. It is a very suitable period of the year for such a service, the young ladies will be able to appear in their white robes, should the weather be favourable, and this is a very important consideration in the minds of those immediately concerned.

Mr. John Turner and Dr. Nowell have been completely outwitted by the Secretary and Directors of the Gas Co. They were vested with great power from the Local Board, but failed to have the test made, because they appear to have taken a very erroneous view of what constituted "a competent person." They seem to have had an idea that they were well qualified to make a test, whereas the Company held a very different opinion (no doubt based upon the best authority) and therefore refused to allow them to do so. All their efforts at the last meeting to get the Board to take further action proved fruitless. They have mismanaged the whole affair. The gas was of an abominable quality when they were instructed to look after it, and through ignorance of the Gas Acts, or misinterpretation of its provisions or some other cause, they have let the opportune moment pass by, and the gas is now of a good sort, therefore to test its quality would be superfluous. These are our Town Councillors, professors of great penetration and discernment, expert scientists, learned in the law. When they get the chance of doing the public a good service, they allow it to pass away unimproved. When next we have to complain of the inferior quality of the gas, let the Board send such a deputation to execute their will, as will let us have something left after all their talk and noise, in the shape of a statement of illuminating power, &c.

It seems the people of Rothwell have been cleaning their flags and steps a fortnight ago rather freely, and the inspector reported that usual daily consumption has been well nigh doubled on the 10th inst. The causeways have been wretchedly dirty and it was almost impossible to do without "swilling" these last two weeks. I saw the lynx-eyed Starkie looking about in the town on Saturday morning last. Many of the flags were cleansed already. Did'nt he wish he'd caught 'em at it. He passed on, and when his coat tails were out of sight round the corner of the street, out came the women with pail and brush and scrubbed away until the scene was quite transmogrified. There are no public wells within easy carrying distance, the two 'town pumps' erected by the Board have been taken away long ago, and there remains nothing to do but to use the town's water in these circumstances; only let everyone be as careful as possible; I should be the first to complain if I observed extravagance in the use of it by anyone.

.. ..

Speaking of the town water reminds me of what I have said before, about the use of it for washing traps and watering horses. I am confident that there are severel persons who use it in this way without paying the ordinary extra charge, viz 5s. per annum in each case. It is useless, my pointing out to these offenders the wrong they are committing on their neighbours and the whole ratepaying public, by their illegal practice, for to do wrong knowingly, their sense of right and wrong must have become hardened, if not dead, and instead of appealing to the consciences of the offenders, I just want to remind the Board that the practice is punishable by a heavy penalty, and I as a ratepayer—a water-rent payer—desire that they will take this matter into consideration, and do what is in their power to have these men convicted and punished.

I am glad to hear that the Vicar of Rothwell has asked the singers whom he so hastily dismissed to return to their accustomed places in the church. Some of them are desirous of having the one who so sneakingly informed the vicar of their proceedings made known to them, and turned out of the choir; this is not quite right, I think; seeing that the vicar has met them about half-way, I hope they will see the advisability of going the other half, and I shall be delighted to see my old friends in their seats on Sunday morning next, making melody within the sacred walls of God's house as of old. Two lessons may be learnt from this unpleasant little episode: 1st, by the vicar—To consider well any action which he may have to take with anyone within his jurisdiction, so that he may have no reason for undoing one day what he did the day before. 2nd, by the choristers—To attend more closely to their spiritual duties, and less to the spirituous liquors which have led them into such trouble in the past.

GOSSIP.

THE LOCAL BOARD.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

In looking over the report of the Local Board meeting of January 12th, I could not find any reference to the report or action of the Building Committee with respect to certain property in Carlton Lane. At the Board meeting held on December 29th, it was resolved that the works be immediately stopped, and that the Building Committee visit the site and act according to report, I should not have been surprised to have found the committee report as follows: 'We, the Building Committee have inspected the works in Carlton Lane, as resolved at your last meeting, but before our visit, we were informed there was a certain important person interested in the property, and for the sake of brotherly love we have come to the conclusion to recommend the Board to take no further action in the matter,' and very good advice it would have been, because it is time the buildings were completed.

According to report, the gas question has again been engaging the attention of the Board. In a previous letter you inserted in your journal, I expressed a doubt that some members of the Board had got gas on the brain; now, sir, where there is a large quantity of gas, people naturally fear an explosion, therefore our attention was drawn to the Board Room, where we expected one taking place of extraordinary force; to our horror our expectations have partly been realized, the explosion has taken place, and a very dreadful affair it has been, not from gas, but an explosion of temper, and according to report, the result was that one member of the Board received a blow straight from the shoulder of another member. People have been trying to find out the cause of this disgraceful affair, and have come to the conclusion, that it is the result of the Board meddling with something which was not their business. I consider our Board has sufficient to do to look after their own business, and knowing the out-come of their not so doing, I hope in the future our Board will not show so much animosity to the Gas Company, but give more attention to the interest of the ratepayers. Cannot the Board find something to engage the mind of this self made pugilist. I was going to suggest that our Board give him a pickaxe, to pull up the paving in Bell Hill, but as there has already been too much money spent in that part of the district in doing work and then pulling it up, and perhaps pickaxe work would be too severe a test for the body, and not sufficiently employ his great intellectual powers. Why should he not be appointed to inspect some work that requires to be done in Rothwell. For instance, Carlton Lane from the bridge to the front of Mr. Harms' house is in a dreadful condition for want of a channel on the causeway side of the road, as in some places the water runs down the road at least five feet from the causeway edge. Why should not the Board have some of the old sets that have been pulled up in Bell Hill carted to Carlton Lane, and lay down a channel and make the road look respectable. There are other places that require the attention of the Board, for instance, from the bridge to Mr. Parker's houses is in a dreadfully dirty state, there being no outlet for the water. The sludge has remained so long that it is nothing but a nuisance. If the Board would appoint the man who shows fight, to keep him from other mischief, to have the road put in good condition, and he should carry out the work as it ought to be done, then when his term of office is expired, he can go to the public and say, 'I have come to give you an account of my stewardship as a member of your Local Board; in the first place, I may say my behaviour has been good. I have chastised the Board with a bump; I advocated the purchase of Enterprise, as I thought we could let it on hire and in a few years it would pay for itself, (though I am afraid I shall be disappointed); after that I remained quiet; then I thought I should make another move, and expressed a wish to have all your crossings pulled up, but in that I could not have my own way; so I thought I would look after something, not the business of the Board, but something which I thought would be interesting to its members, therefore I hit upon the gas question, which in due time I introduced for the entertainment of the Board; to my delight for a time my novelty was very pleasing and interesting, but not instructive, and it did no good to anyone, but at the conclusion of the entertainment the Board wished me to apologise for the finishing stroke, but you know I am not the man for that kind of business. In return for my entertaining them, the Board appointed me to carry out the work in Carlton Lane, which I have brought to a successful issue; the only thing I have been successful in I admit, but, gentlemen, as I am showing an improvement, I trust you will again place your confidence in me by again returning me one of your members.'

Yours truly,
A WORKING MAN.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

Will you kindly allow me space sufficient in your journal to raise a question for the consideration of the public of Rothwell generally, and for the Local Board in particular.

Are the inhabitants of Rothwell treated with that consideration which they have a right to expect from their Local Board in allowing the builders in Church Lane to encroach on an important public thoroughfare as they have been doing now for several months, and to all appearance (if left to their own sweet will) will continue for an unknown length of time yet to come? Was it necessary in the first place that the hoarding should be brought out into the road to the extent it has been? I say not; half the distance would have been sufficient, seeing they have space behind the buildings on which to lay material. I for one was disposed to submit quietly to the public inconvenience caused by the encroachment, thinking that when the buildings got covered in, and the front scaffolding taken away, the obstructive hoarding would also be taken away; but not so, I see they are now washing the lime for plastering in the road in front. For this there is no need whatever, there being plenty of room behind the buildings, and we have yet the disagreeable prospect of being compelled to wade through the mud for weeks yet to come. Is this the way our local authorities would compliment the Church people on Sundays through the whole of winter? And I would further ask—Is our worthy and well paid inspector quite blameless in this matter?

By the way, I am just wondering if the said inspector has ever noticed the broad stream of soapsuds flowing down a certain yard (not half-a-mile from Church Lane head) on Monday mornings, over the causeway, into the main street, and sometimes reaching Church Lane. A sight disgusting to behold, and a reflection on some good housewife.

Wishing you, Mr. Editor, the compliments of the season (though rather late) and better times for our 'owd Roddill.'

I am, yours respectfully,
AN INHABITANT.

FOOTBALL.

STOURTON v. MEANWOOD.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

Having seen a report of the above match in your paper of last week, I shall be glad if you will give me an opportunity of replying to it, as it may mislead those who did not witness the match. It is evident from the tone of the report that it must have been a partizan of Stourton who reported above, as it is all one-sided, and does not really state the facts properly, but gives praise only to Stourton. When Stourton claimed to have scored the goal (which we are said to have disputed), it was owing to their appeal for a foul. The facts are these: our full back fouled the ball, which Stourton claimed and which we could not deny, and were prepared to give them the free kick, but some of them, not stopping for the foul, forced the ball between the posts. They then wished to claim the goal to, which we objected. Probably, had they not sent the ball through the goal no dispute would have arisen. Again, the report goes on to say that both umpires gave it in a goal. This is again wrong. Being without an umpire, we were obliged to ask one of the spectators to umpire for us. When they appealed to him, he gave it as a foul, but when it was stated to him that we were disputing the goal, he gave it as a goal. We certainly understand that an umpire's decision is final, and when he gave it in a foul, we were prepared to allow them the kick, but when he changed his opinion and gave it a goal, we certainly could not allow that. When the case was stated to Stourton captain, he ordered them to take the foul which had been given by the umpire (if such he might be called). The next paragraph says Stourton made shot after shot, but without result; so did our forwards, but the person who reported the match evidently forgot that, as it occurred during the first half of the game. Again, it says that Lunn managed to put the ball through for the home team, which would lead one to suppose that it was a clean shot. That Lunn played well I cannot deny, but he sent the ball into the hands of our goal-keeper, who would have thrown it out had not our full back (the same who had caused the foul previously referred to) jumped right into his arms, and forced him and the ball through the goal. If the person who reported the match cannot report from an impartial point of view, by all means let him drop it and take to something else. As an instance of his one sided report, I feel bound to state that our goal-keeper (C. Kelk) stopped a shot in such a manner as I have rarely seen excelled in my football experience. He does not mention this, but praises Laverack, the Stourton goal-keeper, for his good play. I do not think the report has come from the Stourton players, as we never played a pleasanter game, with the exception referred to. In conclusion, I must state that the report in the Yorkshire Post was sent to that paper by the Stourton secretary, and not by me, which report you will now see is correct. This I think will be sufficient answer to 'Captain's' query as to which report was correct. Trusting you will be able to find room for this in your next issue.

I remain,
Yours respectfully,
H. KIRK,
Captain and Secretary to the Meanwood F. C.

A CRY FROM CROSS STREET.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

As your paper is ever ready, I am pleased to find, to expose any defects arising in the township, I take the opportunity of drawing the attention of the Local Board for your township, to the disgraceful state of the roads and causeways leading from the Church Well, and past the Corn Mill, up to Mill Hill, and towards the Cross. The deplorable condition they are in at present is a disgrace to the Board, who can unblushingly levy a rate of 1s. 10d. in the pound. On making inquiries, which I have done, from several of the oldest inhabitants of that locality, I am unable to trace that any of the money drawn from the pockets of the ratepayer has been spent in improvements at all Therefore, I think it is high time their attention was drawn to it. Possibly, none of your Local Board members live in the locality, or these remarks would have been superfluous, for they would have seen and felt the necessity for improvement. Trusting these few remarks will have the desired effect,

I remain,
Yours respectfully,
A RATEPAYER.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high coloured; depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population have this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. The disease is Dyspepsia or Indigestion, for which Seigel's Curative Syrup is a certain remedy. Seigel's Operating Pills are an effective remedy for Constipation and Biliousness. Those afflicted with Asthma will find immediate relief by using the Rosinweed Tar Mixture. Genuine has A. J. White, Lim., on the stamp. An almanac containing testimonials from persons who have received benefit from use of Seigel's Curative Syrup will be furnished, free of charge, by the proprietors, A. J. White, Lim. 17, Farringdon Road, London, E.C.

Valuable Discovery for the Hair.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d. —For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name Consumption Emulsion. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 163 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find there is a gain of weight even after it has been used." Such a testimony as this speaks volumes for the efficiency of Phthisicon. In addition, it has proved of immense value as a curative agent in the early stages of Brain Disease and Scrofula; in fact, wherever there is impaired nutrition or lack of nerve power, its action is almost certain. It can be obtained of all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s., and 21s. per bottle. Wholesale of Barclay and Sons, Farringdon-street, London, E.C.; or of W. B. Trick, A.P.S., 23, Green-lanes London, N.

KAY'S COMPOUND, a demulcent anodyne expectorant for Coughs and Colds, 9½d., 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d.; postage, 3d.

Advice to Mothers!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it soften the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

Floriline!—For the Teeth and Breath.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

Worth a Guinea a Box.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

ARE admitted by thousands to be worth above A GUINEA A BOX for Bilious and Nervous Disorders, such as Wind and Pain at the Stomach, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Fulness, and Swelling after meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Scurvy, Blotches on the skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, &c., &c. The first dose will give relief in twenty minutes.

This is no fiction, for they have done it in thousands of cases. The Proprietor of these Pills having obtained (at great expense) a Patent for them, he challenges the whole world to produce a medicine equal to them for removing the above named complaints and restoring the patient to sound and lasting health.

Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try one box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be

WORTH A GUINEA A BOX.

For females of all ages these Pills are invaluable, as a few doses of them carry off all gross humours, open all obstructions, and bring about all that is required. No female should be without them. There is no remedy to be found to equal BEECHAM'S PILLS for removing any obstruction or irregularity of the system. If taken according to the directions given with each box, they will soon restore females of all ages to sound and robust health.

For a weak Stomach, impaired digestion, and all disorders of the Liver, they act like 'MAGIC,' and a few doses will be found to work wonders upon the most important organs in the human machine. They strengthen the whole muscular system, restore the long lost complexion, bring back the keen edge of appetite, and arouse into action, with the ROSEBUD of health, the whole physical energy of the human frame —These are "FACTS" admitted by thousands, embracing all classes of Society, and one of the best guarantees to the Nervous Debilitated is, BEECHAM'S PILLS have the largest sale of any Patent Medicine in the world.

BEECHAM'S MAGIC COUGH PILLS

Are a remedy for Coughs in General, Asthma Difficulty of Breathing, Shortness of Breath, Tightness and Oppression of the Chest, Wheezing, &c., these Pills stand unrivalled for anyone labouring under any of the above complaints. They need only try One Box to prove that they are the best ever offered to the public for Asthmatic and Consumptive Coughs, Hoarseness, and Oppression of the Chest. They speedily remove the sense of oppression and Difficulty of Breathing which nightly deprive the patient of rest. They give almost instant relief and comfort to those afflicted with the above distressing and, when neglected, dangerous complaints, but any person troubled with any of the above complaints should give Beecham's Cough Pills a trial

The most violent Cough will in a short time be removed.

Caution.—The public are requested to notice that the words "BEECHAM'S PILLS, St Helen's," are on the Government Stamp affixed to each box of the Pills; if not on, they are a forgery.

Prepared only, and sold wholesale and retail by the proprietor, T. Beecham, Chemist, St. Helen's, Lancashire, in boxes, 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Sent post free for 15 or 36 stamps.

Sold by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Dealers in the United Kingdom.

N.B.—Full directions are given with each Box.

Rothwell Times,

Circulating in Rothwell, Woodlesford, Oulton, Carlton, Lofthouse, Middleton, Leeds, Hunslet and Stourton.

Friday, January 30, 1885.

THE Boundary Commissioners have held their Inquiry at Wakefield, and save one gentleman from Lofthouse, this entire district has been unrepresented. In fact, so far as we can learn, Normanton, the reputed head of the whole division, and which naturally took great interest in the matter, is only place (with the above single exception) that has shewn sufficient energy to put in an appearance at the Inquiry. Whatever other townships have or have not done, we do stoutly maintain that Rothwell should have been to the fore, and the result of the interview on Friday proves that had we been properly represented, and the matter taken in hand at the commencement, we might possibly have had "Rothwell" as the title and centre of the division, as urged in our leader of December 12th, instead of Normanton. At any rate we should have secured a good second, and by the force and weight of our arguments, obtained a favourable decision in regard to the retention of Lofthouse, Ardsley, &c., in our division, in lieu of Horbury. Thanks to the addresses of Mr. Rowland Winn, Mr. Webster, and others, this alteration may be agreed to, especially if the resolution proposed at Monday's meeting be speedily carried out, but any benefit or result of this kind cannot be claimed as the outcome of efforts on this side. We can only hope for the best, but failure to catch this splendid opportunity will always be regretted.

LOCAL BOARD MEETING.

The ordinary meeting of the Board took place on Monday, present, Messrs. W. Hargreaves, (chairman), J. Holmes, J. Hargreaves, J. Oliver, H. P. Newsome, J. Turner, J. Dobson, and J. Nowell, with the clerk, medical officer, collector and surveyor.

The minutes of last meetings were read, and after some remarks, were confirmed.

REDISTRIBUTION BILL.—The chairman mentioned that a meeting had been held of the three appointed members of the Board, along with representatives of the Liberal and Conservative Clubs, when some preliminaries were agreed on, favouring the acceptance of the Lower Agbrigg scheme, as sketched some weeks ago in this journal. Another meeting was arranged for, but owing to the non-attendance of the Liberal representatives and Mr. Turner, no definite decision was arrived at, and he regretted to say, no appearance was made before the Committee. He felt this the more, as he understood a resolution was passed last Friday by the Conservative Association, censuring the Local Board for not taking some steps in the matter. He protested that Mr. Oliver and he were present, but because of the absence of the above named gentlemen, the committee did not feel authorised to take any more decided step. After some conversation, it was moved by the chairman that a memorial be sent to the Boundary Commissioners further urging the claims of Rothwell as a centre, and specially praying that Lofthouse with Carlton, Thorp, Middleton, and the two Ardsleys, be included in this division, in lieu of Horbury and Shitlington, as explained by several gentlemen at the late enquiry. The division, extending from Normanton to Wakefield would then include the principal collieries in the locality, and thereby secure a similarity of interest, and compactness of area. Mr. James Hargreaves seconded the proposal, which was unanimously carried. Mr. Turner, not being present at the earlier part of meeting, mentioned the subject later on, and after explaining, that it was entirely through his failure to inform the Liberal representatives of the Committee meeting, that they were not present and apologising for it, he went on to urge that every particular as to area, valuation, similarity of interest &c., should be presented in the forthcoming memorial. Mr. Oliver and Mr. Newsome were requested to assist the clerk in preparing the petition.

TEAM LABOUR.—The chairman moved that the previous resolution dividing the road contracts into North and South, be rescinded; seconded by Mr. Oliver and carried. Mr. Hargreaves then proposed that tenders for the team labour be advertised for in the Rothwell Times, the county roads being one contract, and the streets and other roads separate; seconded by Mr. Dobson, and carried.

TENDERS FOR STONE.—About ten firms sent prices for stone delivered according to advertisement, and it was agreed that samples should be asked from four firms whose rates were most suitable. A division of opinion existed as to the quantity to be sent as sample, the chairman and Mr. Turner, with Dr. Nowell, voting for a sample load of two tons, while Messrs. Oliver, Dobson and Newsome thought it advisable to have a sample cargo from each. Mr. Holmes being neutral and Mr. J. Hargreaves out of the room, the casting vote of the chairman decided the question.

HEALTH REPORT.—Dr. Glaister having entered the room, the further matters on highways were postponed till after his report. He stated that during the four weeks ending Jan. 24th, 1885, there have been 19 births, (9 male and 10 female), 12 deaths, (6 male and 6 female). During the corresponding period last year, there were 14 births and 4 deaths. The causes of death during the past four weeks are as follows.—1 female, 82 years, senectus; 1 male, 8 months, capillary bronchitis; 1 male, 61 years, scirrhous of liver; 1 female, 29 years, puerperal septiceamia; 1 female, 1 year 9 months, bronchitis; 1 male, 1 year, 5 months, convulsions; 1 male, 85 years, cerebral softening; 1 female, 41 years, syphilis; 1 male, 4 years, rheumatism endocarditis; 1 female, 1 year, convulsions; 1 male, 6 hours, inanition; 1 female, 25 years, disease of spinal cord. There are a few cases of measles and whooping cough, but generally the district is free from infectious disease. Mr. Holmes asked whether the Doctor's attention had been called to a report of infectious disease said to have occurred at Stourton, and respecting which a letter had appeared in one of the Leeds papers. The whole case had been most disgraceful to all concerned, and the burning of the bed and bedding near the houses had caused the most offensive smell. The doctor said the woman had not died of an infectious disease at all, and that there was no danger of its being taken by anyone. It was further explained, that the bedding would not have been received either by the smallpox authorities, or at the "destructor" office, the disease not being infectious on the one hand, and the person having lived outside the borough on the other. There was no intention or order, however, to have the bedding burnt near the houses, it should have been in an open field. The doctor then retired.

HIGHWAYS.—The chairman mentioned the necessity for a sludge cart, but after some conversation the subject dropped through.

Dr. Nowell and Mr. Turner expressed their regret at the Board's neglect of the streets, which they characterised as simply abominable. Mr. Dobson also joined in the complaint, and mentioned the quantity of paper and rubbish which was laying about the streets on Saturday and Sunday.

The clerk reported that the chairman and he attended on Mr Farrer in support of the Board in Mr. Bulmer's contract, and that so far as the Board was concerned the case now only awaited the arbitrator's award.

Mr. Dobson had some complaints about the engine and the difficulty of supplying her with water at the shed, warmly reiterating his objection to the shed being built there at all. It was afterwards shown that these complaints were either incorrect, or capable of explanation.

WATER.—Mr. Lawton had an interview to enquire whether any reply has yet been received from Mr. Bromet, as regards his water supply. The clerk explained in detail the position of affairs, and anticipated a reply shortly. The statement was satisfactory to Mr. Lawton. Dr. Nowell gave an instance in which, by sending a plan and every particular, a stubborn landlord had been compelled by the Local Government Board to connect his property with the water main. It was stated that everything had already been done in that way, except the enclosing of a plan shewing the position of the property. It was agreed that such a plan shall now be sent.

SEWAGE.—The vexed question of Cross Street sewerage again came up, but no actual decision was arrived at. It was, however, resolved, that the Sanitary and Sewage Committee consider the entire system of Rothwell sewerage, and report what further is to be done, so that the balance, if any, of loan obtained for this purpose, may be remitted to the Public Works Loan Commissioners.

ASHPITS.—The clerk having intimated that the yearly contract has nearly terminated, it was resolved on the motion of Mr. Holmes and Mr. Turner, that the Board advertise for tenders in the Rothwell Times. From reports, it appears the work has been done pretty satisfactorily, and that fewer complaints have reached the Board than in previous years.

FINANCE.—The collector reported the following receipts during the fortnight:—

General District Rate	...	88	13	7½
Water Rents	...	30	18	11
Miscellaneous	...	11	5	1
		£130	17	7½

HUNSLET BOARD OF GUARDIANS.

The usual meeting of the above Board took place on Wednesday; present, Mr. Jas. Hargreaves (chairman), Councillor Pickersgill and Mr. J. Dixon (vice-chairmen), Rev. J. H. Evans, Messrs. J. Parker, J. Graveley, J. Smith, H. Sheard, B. Aaron, W. Lawton, J. Hardcastle, G. Greaves, C. Grosvenor, G. Jepson, R. J. Smith, and the clerk, (Mr. Schofield).

The minutes of last meetings were read and confirmed.

The reports of the relieving officers were read, and in one case, a month's imprisonment had been adjudged, and in others, warrants were ordered for neglect of family.

BOUNDARY WALL.—An error having occurred in the estimate lately accepted for the erection of this wall, another contractor was agreed to at the present meeting.

SICK WOMAN FOUND AT OULTON.—This case was mentioned as having caused some expense, having been sent at night, but Mr. Smith satisfactorily explained the dangerous state of the woman, as being medically certificated to be at once removed.

VALUATION.—The Assessment Committee recommended that Messrs. Hedley and Sons, of Sunderland, be appointed to re-value the remainder of the works in Hunslet township, on the same terms as in the previous contract. The document specifying the several particulars was placed on the table, and ordered to be signed and sealed on behalf of the Board.

AMALGAMATION.—The clerk said a letter had been received from the Local Government Board similar to those which have been sent to Holbeck and Bramley, intimating that the proposed Inquiry had been postponed, and declining to receive any deputation. In the course of conversation, the clerk expressed his opinion that there was very little fear of the Hunslet Union being dissolved. From what he could gather the township of Templenewsam would be taken to Leeds; whilst the Hunslet and Holbeck districts, together with the South Ward, would probably be formed into one union. The Board decided to postpone any discussion of the subject until the receipt of the official notice giving the date of the inquiry.

NURSE.—The workhouse nurse, who has been ill, now reports herself able to undertake her usual duties. The temporary nurse will therefore close her services on Saturday.

LUNATICS.—A circular letter from the Local Government Board was read intimating that from the reports of the Medical Superintendents, it appeared that there are a number of pauper lunatics in county asylums, who might very safely and more economically be kept in the workhouses. The chairman suggested that a letter be written to Dr. Major's successor at Wakefield Asylum, asking his opinion on any cases which might be safely removed.

HOUSE OF RECOVERY.—In accordance with the terms of a letter from the secretary of this institution, it was agreed that the chairman and the clerk be deputed to attend a meeting of the trustees, to be held shortly.

CERTIFICATES.—A complaint was made that some of the medical certificates were still sent open, instead of closed in the printed envelopes.

The usual reports and returns were then presented and agreed to.

LOFTHOUSE SCHOOL BOARD.

The ordinary meeting of this Board was held on Wednesday night, when the following members were present:—Messrs. T. Oliver, (chairman), J. Armitage, T. Hargreaves, H. Hall, and J. Hammill, with Mr. J. H. Lee, (the clerk), and head teachers.

The amounts received by the treasurer since last meeting are Robin Hood School fees £7 4s. 9d., books sold 17s. 1d.; Carlton School fees £6 10s. 10d., books sold 12s. 5d.; £1 for use of school; overseers of Lofthouse-with-Carlton, £215 2s. 8d.; overseers of Thorpe, £53 6s. 2d. Cheques were signed for the following amounts: salaries at Robin Hood School, £23 5s.; Carlton School, £19 5s.; plumber's account, £2 2s. 10d., and £5 for petty cash. The Board also instructed the clerk to pay Mrs. Moorhouse 35s. for certain fixtures at Robin Hood school-house. There was one application for remission of fees, which was granted. Sundry requisites for the schools were ordered to be got, and other routine business concluded the meeting.

As a safe, permanent and warranted cure of Pimples, Scrofula, Scurvy, Bad Legs, Skin and Blood Diseases and Sores of all kinds, we can with confidence recommend CLARKE'S WORLD-FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE.—Sold by Chemists everywhere!

THE REDISTRIBUTION OF SEATS BILL.

THE PROPOSED DIVISIONS FOR THE SOUTH-WEST RIDING.

GOVERNMENT INQUIRY AT WAKEFIELD.

Last Friday Major Hector Tulloch, R.E., one of the Commisioners appointed to inquire as to the boundaries to be assigned to the divisions of the several counties proposed in the above Bill, attended at the West Riding Court House at Wakefield, for the purpose of hearing any objections to the constitution of the several divisions of the Southern Division of the West Riding, and of receiving proposals for their alteration.

The greatest interest appeared to be taken in the inquiry, and the body of the large Court was somewhat inconveniently crowded with gentlemen from almost every part of the South-West Riding.

The Morley division, as has before been pointed out, includes the parishes of West Ardsley, East Ardsley, Middleton, Thorpe, Lofthouse-with-Carlton, the Petty Sessional division of Dewsbury (except the parishes of Gomersal, Heckmondwike, Liversedge, and the municipal boroughs of Batley and Dewsbury).

The Normanton division includes the Petty Sessional division of Lower Agbrigg (except the parishes of West Ardsley, East Ardsley, Thorpe, Middleton, Lofthouse-with-Carlton, and the municipal borough of Wakefield).

The Commissioner, after some introductory remarks, revised the figures, and ultimately the following statistics were agreed to :—

Morley	division,	59,363
Normanton	,,	66,257
Colne Valley	,,	55,784
Penistone	,,	66,339
Barnsley	,,	59,937
Ecclesfield	,,	61,527
Rotherham	,,	65,047
Doncaster	,,	63,079

Considerable objection was raised to the inclusion of Lofthouse-with-Carlton, Thorpe, Middleton, and East and West Ardsley in the Morley division, it being very clearly shewn that these places have a community of interest with the Normanton and Rothwell division. Mr. Webster, of Lofthouse (who was the only representative, we are sorry to say, from this entire neighbourhood) said he appeared on behalf of both political parties, to urge the desirability of leaving Lofthouse, Carlton, and Thorpe in the Normanton polling district. They belonged (especially Carlton) to Rothwell for all practical purposes, and the population was almost exclusively colliers, so that their place seemed naturally to be in the Normanton division along with Rothwell. They had also better railway communication with the Normanton than with the Morley district. If their suggestion were adopted it would only make a difference in population of 197, as compared with the Commissioners' proposal.

Mr Percy Tew said Middleton, Thorpe, the two Ardsleys, and Lofthouse were in community of interest with the rest of the Normanton division, and had nothing in common with the Morley division, the one being mining, the other manufacturing. As it was necessary some townships should go from the Wakefield petty sessional division, he would suggest that Middleton, Thorpe, &c., be retained in the new Normanton division, to which they properly belonged, and that Horbury, Shitlington, Flockton, and Emley should be taken and added to Morley division, for Horbury, &c., was a manufacturing district.

Several gentlemen from Ossett, Thornhill, &c., supported this contention, feeling the propriety of adding Horbury and Shitlington to Morley, rather than Lofthouse, Ardsley, etc.

The Commissioner, after hearing objections and suggestions from other portions of the Riding, promised that every proposal of any value should have its full weight with the Commissioners so far as he could urge it.

ROTHWELL CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION.

The members of this Association held their annual meeting in their rooms at the Working Man's Club, on Wednesday evening last. The proceedings began soon after 6 o'clock with an excellent knife and fork tea, to which 29 members sat down. On the tables being cleared, Mr. Turner was nominated to the chair in the unavoidable absence of the President, J. S. Calverley, Esq. After opening the meeting in a brief, but pithy address, the chairman called on the treasurer, Mr. Joseph Wright, to give his financial report for the year. This proved to be of the most satisfactory character, shewing that after meeting every liability up to Dec. 31st, 1884, the Association had a balance in hand of £4 12s. 8d. Mr. J. A. Harms, the secretary, then gave an exhaustive report of the status of the Association, and its work during the past year, and while congratulating the members on the progress made, urged very strongly the necessity for increased energy, and combined work among them, especially under the present aspect of the political sky. The following gentlemen were then elected as the committee for the current year :—Mr. J. G. Turner, Mr. Richardson, Mr. Wm. Chapman, Mr. H. Chapman, Mr. G. Wilson, senr., Mr. Wice, Mr. John Hirst, and Mr. Thos. Wormald; Mr. Harms and Mr. Wright again occupying the positions they so effectively filled last year.

Mr. Shuttleworth, the Conservative agent for the district, who was present as the guest of the Association, now gave a most interesting address on the political situation, and a most enjoyable evening was brought to a close with votes of thanks to the retiring officers, the chairman, and Mr. Shuttleworth.

THE WAR IN EGYPT.

THE splendid achievements of our troops near Metammeh are recorded on our 6th page.

LORD WOLSELEY, telegraphing from Korti yesterday morning, says General Stewart was reported to be progressing most favourably. He was wonderfully free from inflammatory symptoms, and suffered comparatively little pain. There were no bad symptoms, and every hope of a rapid recovery. No attempt has been made to extract the bullet. The wounded were doing well, and there was no sickness amongst the troops. The Queen, whilst rejoicing at the victory gained on the 19th and following days, learns with sincere regret the losses sustained, and laments deeply the wound received by Sir H. Stewart, which has deprived Her Majesty of a most valuable officer. Sir Herbert is gazetted for promotion as Major General.

MR. JOHN TURNER v. ROTHWELL GAS LIGHT COMPANY.

This morning, at the West Riding Court, the above case came on for hearing, before Dr. Kendall and Mr. Marriott. Although considerable interest is felt in the case by Rothwell people, there were very few persons from the neighbourhood in the court besides those immediately concerned.

The Company were defended by Mr. Tindall Atkinson, of Leeds, (instructed by Messrs. Tennant and Barret, of Rothwell), while Mr. Ernest Blakeley, of Dewsbury, represented Mr. Turner.

Mr. Blakeley, in opening the case, dwelt on the extremely poor quality of the Rothwell gas, and detailed the circumstances leading up to the visit to the gas works by Messrs. Turner and Nowell, and wished to distinctly state that they went there by resolution of the Rothwell Local Board to make arrangements for having the gas tested, to see if the necessary apparatus was kept on the premises, and ascertain if it was in proper working order. He narrated in detail the three separate visits made, describing the way in which they were received, pointing out that they were absolutely refused admittance twice, while on the third occasion they were only allowed to enter the room. He submitted that the Act provided that every facility should be given to the Local Authority for testing the quality of the gas, and that his client was entitled to enter the testing-room to ascertain that all was ready for a gas test being made. In concluding, he said his client was fully competent to make a test, and that the Company, without any reason whatever, had refused him access to the testing room, and he asked for the full penalty (£5) in each case.

Mr. Turner was then placed in the witness box, and was being examined, when Mr. Atkinson interposed, and said that according to section 29 and 31 of the Act, no person had a right to go and ask to be admitted to the testing room, except for the purpose of testing the quality of gas, and that any person seeking such admittance should be competent and impartial. He said that the plaintiff was neither competent nor impartial, and that the Company was therefore justified in refusing to let him in.

Mr. Turner's counsel held that his client was both competent and impartial, and shewed reasons why he was so, but the Bench pointed out that as he was a member of the Local Board and also the informer in the case, he could not be considered a perfectly disinterested person.

Mr. MARRIOTT added that there was no need to call witnesses, as it was sufficiently clear that the plaintiff had no right to enter the testing room, but should have employed a professional man to make the test, and he gave a verdict for the defendants.

Mr. Atkinson asked for costs, which the Bench declined to allow.

POLICE NEWS.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.—On Monday, at the West Riding Police Court, Bryant Pawson, miner, Rothwell, was charged by P. S. Turton with being drunk and disorderly on the night of the 17th inst. Turton said that on the night named at 10 o'clock he met with the man, who was fighting with an Irishman. He separated them, and asked them to go away, the Irishman went, but defendant refused, and the Sergeant had great difficulty to keep him in order. He was fined 2/6, and 12/6 costs.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

THE EAST & WEST YORKSHIRE RAILWAY.—At the Redistribution Inquiry held at Leeds on Wednesday, the Mayor incidentally remarked, in connection with the boundary arrangements for the borough, that the extension to be carried out by the above mentioned line, might be expected greatly to increase the population of Hunslet within the next few years.

THE LOCAL BOARD.—We understand that Mr. Wm. Hargreaves, for many years vice-chairman of the Board, has become wearied of the difficulty of conducting the business of the Board, and has placed his resignation of that office in the hands of the clerk. No one who is acquainted with public business needs to be informed that Mr. Wm. Hargreaves is one of the most energetic and faithful member of our community in any work he undertakes, and this decision will be received with dismay and regret by all interested in local matters. It is to be hoped he may be induced again to occupy the chair, and let us trust that the Board will more heartily support his ruling.

ROTHWELL TEMPERANCE HALL.—On Saturday, Jan. 17th, the Lofthouse Excelsior Minstrel Troupe visited the above hall, and gave an excellent entertainment, which appeared to be highly appreciated by all present.

STOURTON WESLEYAN MUTUAL IMPROVEMENT CLASS.—This class met on Friday night last, to hear a very able and interesting essay on "Hearing, in reference to Humanity" given by Mr. Abm. Smith. Mr. Smith divided his essay into three chief classes viz. :—(1) Sound, (2) Structure of the ear, and (3) Explanations how we bear.' He shewed very plainly the way in which the sound vibrates in the air, and how the ear is so made that it catches the least sound. Mr. Smith also showed diagrams which he had drawn to shew the different parts of the ear. Many questions were asked, and answered by the essayist. The class is very well attended and progressing favourably at present.

PRIMITIVE METHODIST NEW SCHOOL, STOURTON.—The members of this organisation held a tea on Monday last in their new School-Chapel, Pontefract Road, to which a fair number sat down. After tea, a miscellaneous Entertainment was given by the Primitive Methodists from Methley. The entertainment consisted of singing, recitations, and a humorous dialogue entitled "Improvident marriages, or a scene from real life." The chair was taken at 7 o'clock, by Mr. Jno. Goodall, of Methley. A collection was made at the close in aid of the circuit and trust funds.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH, STOURTON.—DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT.—On Monday last, January 26th, a dramatic entertainment was given in the Mechanics' Institute, Hunslet, by the members of the Holbeck St. John's Dramatic Society, for the purpose of raising funds towards the warming apparatus to be introduced in the Stourton St. Andrew's church. The piece selected was that of 'Ten nights in a bar-room,' and taken altogether, was very successfully given, each performer acquitting himself with credit. The evening was wound up by the representation of the laughable farce entitled 'Wanted, a wife,' which was also well given. The Rev. A. J. Miller (the vicar) proposed a vote of thanks to the Society for their valuable assistance, after which the proceedings were brought to a close. Mr. H. B. Maude presided at the piano during the intervals.

A lecture on "The Life and Works of Handel" was given by Mr. Edward Lancaster, organist of the Parish Church, Hunslet National School, on Monday evening, to the members and friends of the Mutual Improvement Society in connection with the above parish. The lecturer sketched the early days and subsequent career of the great master, giving illustrations from some of the choicest works of Handel. The vocal parts of the music were rendered by Miss Abson and Messrs. Hodge, Heath, Hollings, and Brook, the lecturer accompanying them on the pianoforte.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

Football was not very rife last Saturday in this neighbourhood, none of the principal clubs having matches arranged for that day. Stourton St. Andrew's encountered Robin Hood at the latter place, and a very one-sided game ended in a win for Stourton by 8 goals to nil. Rather hard on poor Robin Hood, who would perhaps do better if they would arrange to play matches with clubs of second rate calibre another season.

I find the answer to my query of a fortnight since in last week's paper. I asked which report of the Meanwood v. Stourton match was correct, two goals to one, or one each? A masterly letter from the secretary of the Meanwood club satisfies all doubt on the subject. I fancy the reporter of the match in question must either have been asleep, or else did not wish to see the good play of Meanwood men, but he appears to have done it rather too brown this time, and I would advise him to watch both sides of the game another time, and report fairly. I may mention the Stourton captain gave it in a tie, one goal each.

As regards the Rugby game in this district, Carlton journeyed to Halton on Saturday, and won a good game by 1 try and 3 minor points, to 3 minor points.

CAPTAIN.

STOURTON ST. ANDREWS v. ROBIN HOOD.—Played at Robin Hood on Saturday. The Stourton captain having won the toss, decided to play with the slope and against a slight wind. Robin Hood set the ball in motion, and for some time play was confined to neutral territory, until the visitors made a rush towards the home goal, and from now until the call of half-time a continual bombardment of the home goal ensued, Pearson scoring twice, Exley once, and Johnson once. Thus at the call of half time the score stood 4 goals to nil. During the second half the Stourton players had it much their own way; a long kick by Jas. Goldthorpe just cleared the tape. Soon afterwards Exley, by a good dribble, once more lowered the home team's colours, which was immediately followed by a goal from J Goldthorpe from mid-field. Lunn did the needful twice after this, thus leaving Stourton the victors by 8 goals to nil. The Stourton team played well throughout, Robin Hood tried hard, but the back play on the part of the visitors was too good for them. Stourton team—J Godson, goal; Jas. Goldthorpe, (capt.), J M Green, backs; A W Laverack, F Waterhouse, J Rathmell, half-backs; J Lunn, W Pearson, J Exley, G W Blackburn, E Johnson, forwards.

HALTON v. CARLTON.—Played at Halton on Saturday, and resulted in a win for the visitors by 1 try and 3 minor points to 3 minor points. The try was gained for the visitors by J. Speke. J. Rinder made a splendid shot at goal from a most difficult place. The ball was in the home team's '25' all the first half of the game, and most of the second half, it being a forward game throughout, the backs having scarcely any work at all.

HARRIERS.

The Stourton club had a six miles run on Saturday on the Wakefield road, starting from the Queen Hotel at 3.30. Rowland Hill, Geo. Sheard, and J W Weatherhead were the first back, having done the distance in 37½ minutes, B. Ross next in 39 minutes, F W Jones and W Atkinson in 40½ minutes.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

IT is only charitable to assume that ignorance of the meaning of the title 'Ambulance Lecture,' and the subjects likely to be treated upon led to the comparatively small attendance at the second of the series of Mechanics' Institute lectures by Dr. Purdy, on Tuesday evening. Had the importance and usefulness of such a lecture to working men been more fully explained beforehand, and a vigorous personal canvass been made, (without which, we repeat, nothing can be made to succeed here), we should doubtless have seen the room crowded with miners, quarrymen, and others whose occupations lay them open to the risk of accidents, which it is important should not receive careless or improper treatment in that critical interval before the doctor arrives. As it was, the audience though small, was highly appreciative. The lecturer, briefly introduced by Mr. C. F Hoyle, who presided, proceeded first of all, by the aid of a diagram drawn on the black board, to show the circulation of the blood, in order to point out clearly the difference between arterial and venous wounds, and the best modes of promptly stopping the loss of blood in such cases. When an artery is severed the blood a bright red colour, is discharged in little spurts corresponding with the pulse of the heart, and in this case a tourniquet or tight bandage should be at once applied above the wound. In the other case when a vein is injured, the flow of blood is steady, and the colour dark, the limb must be tightly bound below the injured place. Other effectual modes of temporarily stopping serious bleeding, which would otherwise be speedily fatal, were illustrated on the person of a boy selected from the audience, (only in theory though, not practically). The symptoms of poisoning, irritant and narcotic, were described, and the different modes of treatment carefully pointed out. The lecturer explained what to do in cases of swoonings, apoplectic and epileptic fits, &c. The proper treatment of sprains, handy methods of making a temporary splint with an umbrella, a walking stick, a newspaper, or an overcoat; for a fractured limb, the easiest mode of conveying the patient without aggravating the mischief, (this it is important to know). The means to be employed in restoring an apparently drowned person, were carefully and minutely illustrated on the boy previously operated upon, the patient being placed on a table in full view of the audience while the process was practically described. This concluded a very comprehensive and most interesting lecture. The vicar, in supporting a vote of thanks proposed by the chairman, expressed the feeling of all present, when he hoped that the lecturer would continue his series of health lectures, predicting that on a future occasion the room would be filled with a more numerous, but not more attentive or appreciative audience.

A testimonial of respect and good-will in the shape of a handsome little timepiece, has just been given to Mr. Wm. Hirst, by his brother cricketers in connection with the Woodlesford Cricket Club. The timepiece bears a suitable inscription on a gold plate, and will be exhibited for a few days in the shop window of Mrs. Coombs, Woodlesford.

The annual concert for the benefit of the Mechanics' Institute is to be given next week. An attractive programme has been drawn up, amongst other novelties we are promised a new topical duett. Is this item the 'High class vocal music' announced on the bill? This novelty is unique, we never remember hearing of comic songs as 'high class' music before.

THROAT IRRITATION & COUGH.—Soreness and dryness, tickling and irritation, inducing cough and affecting the voice. For these symptoms use Epps' Glycerine Jujubes. In contact with the glands at the moment they are excited by the act of sucking, the Glycerine in these agreeable confections becomes actively healing. Sold only in boxes, 7½d., tins 1s 1½d., labelled "JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London." A letter received: "Gentlemen,—It may perhaps interest you to know that, after an extended trial, I have found your Glycerine Jujubes of considerable benefit (with or without medical treatment) in almost all forms of throat disease. They soften and clear the voice.—Yours faithfully, GORDON HOLMES, M.D., Senior Physician to the Municipal Throat and Ear Infirmary."

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Some occupations tend to the development of certain diseases, and those who toil as miners are peculiarly liable to rheumatism, lumbago, and other allied complaints. In the goldfields and copper mines, Holloway's remedies have been largely patronized by the workers to their very great advantage, and they can be confidently recommended as invaluable remedies for inward congestions, spasms and cramps in the bowels, and all those conditions of the lungs and liver to which those who work underground or in impure atmospheres are so peculiarly liable. For cuts, bruises, sprains and stiffened joints, the action of Holloway's Ointment is eminently healing and soothing, and a supply should always be at hand in case of need.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We would particularly urge our friends to send in their letters and news, as early as possible, as we cannot accept contributions later than Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, except in the case of matters occurring on Wednesday or Thursday, which should be forwarded within a short period after. Advertisements may be sent as late as Friday morning.

TOWN TALK.

Did ever anybody hear of a child's first birthday being forgotten, and therefore completely overlooked, or more marvellous still, did anyone ever hear of that child informing its friends a day or two after, of the event. No! Well then you are going to hear something which you have never heard before, for I am going to tell you

"I is more 'an one year old, I is."

My existence commenced on January 25th, 1884, when the first "Town Talk" appeared in Rothwell Times. Since then I have endeavoured to keep pace with events, and have always made it my aim to give my numerous readers as much interesting news as possible, mixed with my own opinions on all local topics. I am vain enough to believe that I have made many friends, and few, if any, enemies, and proud to be able to say from close observation, that my column is very largely read and enjoyed by a good many readers, while my weekly epistle has been of service in suggesting ideas for the public good, and in other ways assisting in benefitting the community. As no one else has done so, I beg most heartily and respectfully to wish myself

"Many happy returns of the day."

During the last few months, several questions of considerable importance have been brought before the members of the Rothwell Local Board. In proportion to the importance of the action to be taken, is the praise or blame passed upon those concerned, according as the work has been executed. A question vitally affecting the interests of the local fraternity, has lately been before them, I refer to the Redistribution Scheme. In the Rothwell Times of December 12th, 1884, the Editor moved in the matter, and in striking the thrilling note of "Member for Rothwell" endeavoured to awaken the sleepy members of the Board to a sense of their duty, and urged them to take the matter up in earnest. What was the result? They had a meeting, and that is all I can say in their favour; they have done nothing, they have said nothing. I, with many others, was vexed and annoyed, not to say enraged with them. Why could they not have asked their chairman to represent them at the Inquiry held last week, by Major Tulloch, at Wakefield? I see Mr. Webster, from Lofthouse, spoke on behalf of his townsmen, while Rothwell was completely unrepresented. What is the Board for, if not to look after such things as these; they appear to be utterly incapable of dealing with any question outside the ordinary business of ordering road materials, accepting tenders, passing plans, &c. This subject required some prompt, decided action, and we should have gained our point; as it is, we are at the beck and call of the Commissioners; we have not said where we want to go, therefore they will send us where they like.

Our roads and causeways are in a fearful state of filth; it is something to be dreaded, to be compelled to make a tour round the principal streets in the town. But this inconvenience we are suffering, along with most other places. Such weather as this is just the thing to show the wisdom or folly of laying down crossings. I believe if Mr. John Turner will notice the crossing at Mrs. Lambert's he will at once see that his idea on this point is far from being right. Those who want to go along Marsh Street or Carlton Lane, both find this crossing to be of great value to them, and are not long in deciding the difficult problem, which has occupied the mind of the Board so often, as to whether it is better to cross the road on a paved crossing or on macadam. While speaking about the roads I should like to endorse the remarks in the letters from 'Working Man' and 'Inhabitant' last week, with reference to Carlton Lane and Church Street; I think it is high time they did something on these roads.

The great event this week is the trial at Wakefield on Friday, (to-day) 'Turner v. Rothwell Gas Co.' Everybody is interested in it, and are anxious to see how it will end. What I say is that the gas was of a very poor quality, and should have been tested, and I think Messrs. Turner and Nowell are to blame for not getting a test made. The point to be decided at Wakefield Court House appears to be as to whether these gentlemen sent by the Board were unprejudiced and competent. If they can prove this satisfactorily they may win, but I won't be sure they can. However before this reaches the public, the point will probably have been decided, so I will say no more yet.

Mr. William Hargreaves is vice-chairman of the Rothwell Local Board, and by virtue of that office presides over the meetings of the Board nine times out of ten. For some time there have been complaints that he did not hold the reins of authority sufficiently tight when unruly members began to rear and show symptoms of restiveness. The consequence was the sittings of the Board were of tiresome length, and very little business got through. Committees met and gave their best attention to the special subjects in hand, but the recommendations of these committees were generally disregarded, so that now it is difficult to get a committee together. The meetings of the Board had become more or less demoralised some time ago, and were in a bad way already, when a worse catastrophe happened—one young member struck an elderly member in the heat of debate, and moreover refused to apologise when called upon by the chair. At the last meeting another member presented himself to take part in the deliberation of the assembly, in a condition which proved, if he had ever signed the pledge, he had broken it a short time before he came to the meeting. During the progress of business no member could speak without being interrupted in the most coarse and insulting fashion by this person. Mr. Hargreaves it seems, is not disposed to go the length of ruling the meetings with a rod of iron to control these coarse and turbulent spirits. Rather than do this, he says he will resign. There is no wonder of him being sick of the business. Things are going from "bad to worse," and where it will end it is difficult to say.

.. ..

I'VE just heard the news—I must have one word. here it is—

John, John, our lively son,
To Wakefield Court House he did run;
At a cantering pace he lost his case,
And journeyed home with a dark, long face.
"Beaten, but not conquered."

GOSSIP.

OUR WATER SUPPLY.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

I see that according to your paper there has been an excessive use of town's water during the dirty weather we have had lately. People have been using the water for swilling flags, doorsteps, &c, &c.

I happened to pass a shop in Leeds the other morning and saw a man with a hose swilling not only the flags, but the windows, and outside paint. I thought to myself, 'There, that's just what I should like to see with us.' I suppose the occupier of the place would have a water meter measuring the quantity that would be used. Now this is the system that we ought to have in more general use at Rothwell. What can the people do? Use it they must: we cannot wade through the mud as some of our Local Board men seem to think we should. I fancy I hear some one say, 'Yes, but water meters are very costly things.' I will tell you what Messrs. Guest and Chrimes, (of Rotherham) price is for a ½-inch water meter all ready for fixing, carriage paid to Woodlesford Station: it is £3 2s. This size would be sufficient to supply between 30 and 40 gallons per day. I understand that at Oulton and Woodlesford many houses are supplied in this way, the meter being fixed just outside one of the houses; the water consumed and the rent of meter is then charged to the owner, and the total is divided, and each tenant pays an equal share. Suppose the bill for water and meter rent was 30s. for a row of 5 houses, each tenant would therefore have to pay 6s. per year, and they can use it as they like—for swilling, cleaning paint, windows, &c.; if they use much, they pay for it; if little, of course they pay little. Now this is the best and fairest way to regulate the water supply. Let our sanitarians consider what a great factor in the preservation of health pure water is, and they will at once decide that the system I advocate is the best. Every farmer in our district, or in fact any person who desires it, should be supplied in this way. By-the-bye, I should like to know what we pay the Leeds Corporation for water per year; what is the cost of bringing it here; and what we receive for water rents? Now, if we had these figures we could reckon up what our swilling, etc., ought to cost us. It is, I believe, some six or seven years since we got our supply from Leeds. I wonder if our Board are able after that length of time to say what it costs; they ought to be.

I remain,
Yours respectfully,
A SPECTATOR.

Rothwell,
Jan. 29th, 1885.

DR. PURDY'S LECTURE.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

I was fortunate enough to hear Dr. Purdy's lecture on 'Ambulances' on Tuesday evening in the Woodlesford Board School. Those who were present had a rich treat, the Doctor's remarks being very interesting and highly instructive. But my object in writing to you, Sir, is to draw the attention of the public, and particularly the working men of this district, to the great benefits to be derived from such lectures. Accidents are not uncommon, and one may at any time be called upon to act in a sudden emergency, and as the Doctor truly observed, many valuable lives have been sacrificed simply because those present at the time of an accident did not know what to do with the patient until the arrival of a medical man. Very valuable hints for stopping bleeding, making splints, dressing wounds, and recovering the apparently drowned, were given by the lecturer, and yet, Sir, the audience, I am ashamed to say, was miserably small. Will nothing rouse the good folks of Oulton-with-Woodlesford except comic singing? Surely such a lecture as the one under notice deserves more recognition than was accorded to it. A remark was made that perhaps the term 'Ambulances' was not sufficiently understood, and I am inclined to think there is some truth in it. At any rate, the lecture was too good to be lost, and I hope the doctor will be prevailed upon either to repeat it on some future occasion, or, if his time permit, to write a series of papers to be published, with your permission, in the Rothwell Times. Apologising for thus troubling you, I am, Sir,

Yours faithfully,
E. BOOTHROYD.

Myrtle Cottage, Oulton.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high coloured; depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population have this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. The disease is Dyspepsia or Indigestion, for which Seigel's Curative Syrup is a certain remedy. Seigel's Operating Pills are an effective remedy for Constipation and Biliousness. Those afflicted with Asthma will find immediate relief by using the Rosinweed Tar Mixture. Genuine has A. J. White, Lim., on the stamp. An almanac containing testimonials from persons who have received benefit from use of Seigel's Curative Syrup will be furnished, free of charge, by the proprietors, A. J. White, Lim. 17, Farringdon Road, London, E.C.

KAY'S TIC PILLS, a specific in Neuralgia Face-ache, 9½d., 1s. 1½d.; postage, 1d. Kay Bros., Stockport.

CHEAP NOURISHMENT.—Fourteen large Breakfast Cups of strong, reliable Cocoa can be made from a Sixpenny Packet of Cadbury's Cocoa Essence. Ask for Cadbury's, and do not be imposed upon.

THROAT AFFECTIONS AND HOARSENESS.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by JOHN I. BROWN & SONS, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

KAY'S COMPOUND Essence of Linseed, Aniseed, Senega, Squill, Tolu, &c., with Chlorodyne Of all Chemists.

FLORILINE!—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d. —For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

Percy, Vyse Street, Birmingham. The press universally recommend their readers to obtain a catalogue.

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name CONSUMPTION EMULSION. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 103 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find there is a gain of weight even after it has been used." Such a testimony as this speaks volumes for the efficiency of Phthisicon. In addition, it has proved of immense value as a curative agent in the early stages of Brain Disease and Scrofula; in fact, wherever there is impaired nutrition or lack of nerve power, its action is almost certain. It can be obtained of all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s., and 21s. per bottle. Wholesale of Barclay and Sons, Farringdon-street, London, E.C.; or of W. B. Trick, A.P.S., 98, Green-lanes London, N.

ARE the PUREST, CHEAPEST, and BEST BITTERS EVER MADE.

They are compounded from Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Podophyllin, and Dandelion.

The oldest, best, and most valuable medicines in the world, and contain all the best and most curative properties of all other Bitters, being the greatest BLOOD PURIFIER, LIVER REGULATOR, and Life and Health Restoring Agent on earth. No disease or ill-health can possibly long exist where these Bitters are used, so varied and perfect are their operations.

They give new life and vigour to the aged and infirm. To all whose employments cause irregularity of the bowels or urinary organs, or who require an Appetiser, Tonic, and Mild Stimulant, these Bitters are invaluable, being highly curative, tonic, and stimulating, without intoxicating.

No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease or ailment is, use

HOP BITTERS.

Don't wait until you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use the Bitters at once. It may save your life. Hundreds have been saved by so doing. £500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help. They are a pleasant refreshing flavouring for sick-room drinks, impure water, and other beverages.

Do not suffer yourself or let your friends suffer, but use, and urge them to use

HOP BITTERS.

Remember.

HOP BITTERS is no vile, drugged nostrum, but the Purest and Best Medicine ever made; the "Invalid's Friend and Hope," and no person or family should be without them. Try the BITTERS to-day. FOR SALE BY ALL CHEMISTS AND DRUGGISTS.

CAUTION.

Beware of bogus stuff sold in all forms, pretending to be like Hop Bitters. The only genuine is put up in very large square-panelled amber-coloured bottles, Dr. Soule's name blown in the glass, white label on one side, with black letters and green hop cluster. The other side yellow label. Directions in English and German. Manufactured only by Hop Bitters Company.

Worth a Guinea a Box.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

BEECHAM'S PATENT PILLS. ST. HELENS LANCASHIRE

ARE admitted by thousands to be worth above A GUINEA A Box for Bilious and Nervous Disorders, such as Wind and Pain at the Stomach, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Fulness, and Swelling after meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Scurvy, Blotches on the skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, &c., &c. The first dose will give relief in twenty minutes.

This is no fiction, for they have done it in thousands of cases. The Proprietor of these Pills having obtained (at great expense) a Patent for them, he challenges the whole world to produce a medicine equal to them for removing the above named complaints and restoring the patient to sound and lasting health.

Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try one box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be

WORTH A GUINEA A BOX.

For females of all ages these Pills are invaluable, as a few doses of them carry off all gross humours, open all obstructions, and bring about all that is required. No female should be without them. There is no remedy to be found to equal BEECHAM'S PILLS for removing any obstruction or irregularity of the system. If taken according to the directions given with each box, they will soon restore females of all ages to sound and robust health.

For a weak Stomach, impaired digestion, and all disorders of the Liver, they act like 'MAGIC,' and a few doses will be found to work wonders upon the most important organs in the human machine. They strengthen the whole muscular system, restore the long lost complexion, bring back the keen edge of appetite, and arouse into action, with the ROSEBUD of health, the whole physical energy of the human frame —These are "FACTS" admitted by thousands, embracing all classes of Society, and one of the best guarantees to the Nervous Debilitated is, BEECHAM'S PILLS have the largest sale of any Patent Medicine in the world.

BEECHAM'S MAGIC COUGH PILLS

As a remedy for Coughs in General, Asthma Difficulty in Breathing, Shortness of Breath, Tightness and Oppression of the Chest, Wheezing &c., these Pills stand unrivalled for anyone labouring under any of the above complaints. They need only try One Box to prove that they are the best ever offered to the public for Asthmatic and Consumptive Coughs Hoarseness, and Oppression of the Chest. They speedily remove the sense of oppression and Difficulty of Breathing which nightly deprive the patient of rest. They give almost instant relief and comfort to those afflicted with the above distressing and, when neglected, dangerous complaints, but any person troubled with any of the above complaints should give Beecham's Cough Pills a trial.

The most violent Cough will in a short time be removed.

Caution.—The public are requested to notice that the words "BEECHAM'S PILLS, St Helen's" are on the Government Stamp affixed to each box of the Pills; if not on, they are a forgery.

Prepared only, and sold wholesale and retail by the proprietor, T. Beecham, Chemist, St. Helen's, Lancashire, in boxes, 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Sent post free for 15 or 36 stamps.

Sold by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Dealers in the United Kingdom.

N.B.—Full directions are given with each Box.

FALL OF KHARTOUM.

SUSPECTED TREACHERY.

NARROW ESCAPE OF GENERAL WILSON.

HIS STEAMERS WRECKED.

The following has been received from the War Office:—

"Telegrams have been received at the War Office from Lord Wolseley announcing the fall of Khartoum on the 26th of January.

"Sir C. Wilson arrived there on 28th, to find the place in the hands of the enemy. He returned under a heavy fire from the river banks.

"Steamers in which he returned were wrecked some miles below the Shabluka Cataract. The whole party were saved and landed on an island, where they are in safety. A steamer had gone to fetch them.

"Fate of Gordon uncertain.

"Lord Wolseley reports Sir H. Stewart doing well, and that nearly all the wounded were being brought to Gakdul."

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

Cairo, Thursday.—The first news of the fall of Khartoum was received here from London, the official despatches not having been made public. No further details have been received here. The tidings have created the utmost consternation.

TO-DAY'S LONDON PAPERS.

The Pall Mall Gazette, in a special edition, gives the following additional details of the fall of the city and Sir Charles Wilson's reception at Khartoum:—The report of the fall of Khartoum was first brought to Metammeh by a messenger who went ashore from the island where the steamers stranded, and came by foot to Gubat, whence the news of the disaster was at once sent across the desert to Lord Wolseley. Shortly afterwards Colonel Stuart-Wortley, who had accompanied Sir Charles Wilson in the steamers to Khartoum, arrived at Gubat in a small boat with further details, and a second messenger was promptly despatched to Korti. The date when the last messenger left Gubat is believed to have been the 31st of January, passing Gakdul on the 3rd of February. The Arabs still hold Metammeh itself in force, and received the news of the fall of Khartoum with repeated salutes of artillery. An attack upon Metammeh in force is not improbable, as soon as the reinforcement now at Gakdul make their way to the Nile. There are still believed to be some few wounded at the action near Metammeh who are at Gubat, or at Abu Klea, but all the wounded from the first fight are safe at Gakdul. The approaches to Khartoum are still held in force by the rebels, and the steamers ran the gauntlet of a smart fire from the banks. At Halfiyeh the rebels had placed four Krupp guns upon the banks, from which they fired upon the steamers. On approaching Omdurman they discovered that the report that Omdurman had fallen into the hands of the enemy was only too true, and from that position also the enemy opened fire. Things began to look worse when the enemy was found to be in possession of the island of Tutti, which lies at the junction of the two Niles, just outside the city of Khartoum. Still pressing on, under a storm of bullets, they came within hail of Khartoum. To their dismay, they found that instead of being welcomed as deliverers, the garrison of the capital took up the fire from which they had been suffering and received them as foes. No flags were flying from any of the public buildings in the town, which appeared to be in undisputed possession of the enemy. The Palace, a well-known building, visible from the river, was to all appearance gutted. Finding it impossible to effect a landing in face of the overwhelming forces of the enemy, they were compelled to retreat out of range, and then endeavour to obtain what information they could by communication with the shore as to the fate which had befallen General Gordon.

Rumours vary immensely as to the fate of General Gordon. All agree in asserting that Khartoum is now in the hands of the Mahdi, and that the city passed into his possession through treachery. The best reports seem to point to one Faraz Pasha as the traitor. This commander, being left in charge of the ramparts, is said to have opened the gates and admitted the enemy into the town on the 26th of January.

It is feared that there is no foundation for the story that General Gordon was still holding the citadel, beyond the rumour brought by the messengers across the desert, that General Gordon, with a few Europeans (Levantines probably), was shut up in a church in Khartoum. Most of the reports say that he is killed. As the place fell by treachery this is improbable. He would probably be captured, and he is too valuable as a hostage for his life to be wasted in so improvident a fashion.

The Standard of this morning says—Some further particulars have transpired from official sources respecting the fall of Khartoum. After Sir Charles Wilson and his party were wrecked, a messenger was sent along the Nile bank to the British camp at Gabut, the information he brought being at once sent across the desert to Lord Wolseley at Korti. Afterwards Colonel Stuart Wortley came down to Gabut in a small boat, and then a second messenger was sent on to Korti with fuller despatches than those sent by the first messenger. Both arrived safely at Korti. The Arabs at Metammeh received news of the fall of Khartoum before the messengers set out across the desert for Lord Wolseley; and the rebels shewed their appreciation of the victory over General Gordon by repeated salvoes of artillery. Sir C. Wilson is believed to have had one of his two steamers wrecked in going up to Khartoum, and the remaining one wrecked in returning, the low water rendering navigation extremely dangerous. The rebels lined the banks of the Nile, and maintained a heavy fire upon the steamers, no less than four Krupp guns being in position at Halfiyeh. At Omdurman, also, the steamer had to run the gauntlet of a heavy fire, thus showing that the report that the place had been captured by the Mahdi was correct. On nearing Khartoum the rebel fire became hotter than before, one continuous storm of bullets striking the little vessel. The Island of Tuti was found to be strongly occupied by the enemy, but still Sir C. Wilson pushed on right up to Khartoum itself. Here the firing was maintained, and it then became apparent that the place was in the hands of the Mahdi's adherents. Nothing could be done in the face of the overwhelming force of rebels holding the place, and the vessel steamed out of range. It was apparent, however, that the palace in which Gordon resided had been gutted, but whether this occurred after General Gordon's capture or during an assault upon the place is not known. It is generally believed that Khartoum fell through the treachery of the officer in charge of the ramparts opening the gates to the rebels on the night of January 26th. The officer in charge on that important occasion is believed to have been Faraz Pasha. Although Sir C. Wilson remained for some time in the neighbourhood of Khartoum he was unable to gather any definite intelligence regarding Gordon's fate, and whether he is killed, a prisoner in the Mahdi's hands, or still holding out in some stronghold within Khartoum itself is at present a mystery. It is generally believed, however, that the Mahdi holds him as a hostage, and in that case no harm is likely to happen to him. The Mahometans hold it a deadly sin to slay a "holy" man, General Gordon being regarded in that light. It is believed that Metammeh will be assaulted at all hazards on the arrival of the reinforcements at Gubat in order that British prestige may be re-established in the native mind.

THE ATTACK ON ROSSA.

NEW YORK.—Thursday.—Rossa has been removed to a private hospital, and is doing well. A Pittsburg paper publishes an interview with an Englishman from London, who stated that it was intended to organise an association of retaliation against the dynamiters. It appears that on Miss Dudley's arrival here on board the Sahiedam in September last, she was classed as a domestic servant.

CONCERT AT WOODLESFORD.

There was a fairly good attendance at the Mechanics' Institute concert on Tuesday last, and the audience very cordially expressed approval of the efforts made for their entertainment. The programme was sufficiently varied to excite interest, comprising, as it did, handbell ringing—we beg pardon, 'Campanological Selections,'—readings, grave and humourous; songs, comic and sentimental; a topical duett, and two piano solos, 'La Trieste' by Lizst, and a 'Nocturne' by Leybach, brilliantly played by Miss Middlemiss, who also (in the absence of Mr. W. Lockwood) accompanied all the vocalists. The performance of the moureeau by Lizst, would have satisfied even the exacting taste of this composer's gifted disciple, Mr. Walter Bache. Miss Stead sang very nicely 'The Children's Home,' by Cowen, and Barry's 'Fishermaid's Evening Song,' and in response to an encore 'Auntie.' Mr. T. West gave with his usual success, 'The Storm Fiend,' and 'The Gauntlet,' both of which were encored. Mr. Parkin, who was evidently on the best of terms with the audience, sang the favorite song from the 'Grand Pantomine,' 'I dream'd a dream,' and on his recall gave 'The Village Blacksmith.' Mr. John Hartley, a young local basso making his debút in Woodlesford, sang 'Margery May,' which was well received. He possesses a voice, which with careful cultivation, will make him a useful addition to the limited number of soloists in the neighbourhood. It is in no ill-natured or carping spirit that we point out the mistake he made in giving 'Tom Bowling' as an encore. This song requires a good tenor voice, light and very artistic treatment, to do a decent amount of justice to its beauty and pathos. Hood's amusing sketch of the garrulous mother describing her 'Lost Child' and its recovery, was recited to a quaint chant by Mr. R. J. Smith, and in response to the general desire for more, he sang 'The Speaker's Eye' The only other vocal item was a topical duett by Messrs. R. J. Smith and H. Parkin. The happiest allusions in this original production were those referring to the 'drains,' the 'Institute,' the 'cricket club,' and that 'castle in the air,' 'the Vicarage.' The campanological selections by the Church bell-ringers were very creditably given, and evoked much applause. A couple of readings exhibiting a specimen of excellence in different styles of composition—'The swan song of Parson Avery,' a very touching story, and 'T'parson and t'posnit,' a dialect reading brimful of broad humour, (encored) were given by Dr. Nowell. The vicar, the Rev. A. J. Irvin, contributed a reading 'Holly Tree Inn,' which was also much appreciated.

LEEDS COUNTY COURT.

On Wednesday last, a number of tradesmen in this neighbourhood, attended the County Court, where Herbert Sheldon had placed his affairs for liquidation. The bankrupt is pretty well known, and his conduct in the past has not served to increase the number of his friends. During the trial of the case it transpired that Sheldon had had the opportunity of earning excellent wages, both at Messrs. Pawson's and Messrs Charlesworths', but that he had failed to attend to his work when it was waiting for him, and that besides the £40 odd which was entered as liabilities, there are numbers of other sums owing to parties who have lent him money, and an amount of about £60 due to the several members of his wife's family. An attempt was made by the defendant to plead heart disease and other ailments, but it became pretty evident that the only disease he ailed was a spinal complaint, (commonly known as (a bone in the back). The judge finally made an order at 15s. in the £, payable 8s a fortnight for three months, and 10s afterwards, with the caution of imprisonment, if not regularly paid.

Holloway's Ointment & Pills.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally, and the ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceedingly efficacious. When influenza is epidemic, this treatment is the easiest, safest and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of escaping from suffering when afflicted with colds, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which the health of so many is seriously and permanently injured in most countries.

COAGULINE—Cement for Broken Articles, 6d., 1s., 2s.; postage, 2d. Sold everywhere. Kay Bros., Stockport.

VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade. Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has cast about him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. Having been thirty-five years in the trade, in the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was naturally "up to all the wrinkles." The middle men, known by the names of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of Manufacturers, who arranged to supply his Establishment at the cost of materials and men's time in the making. In short, placing the Goods before the public, at single articles at wholesale prices. The management is still under R. Scott's personal control, who takes this opportunity of thanking his Patrons in the past, and hopes to receive anew a mark of their confidence. In future the firm will be known as SCOTT & Co., Goldsmiths, Silversmiths, Opticians, Watch and Clock Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.

If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly restored by good workmen. Scott & Co. guarantee their work for 12 months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made as new, on very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

Rothwell Wesleyan Chapel.—Two services in connection with the Wesleyan Chapel Anniversary were preached on Sunday, by the Rev. Thos. Rathmell, and their character and force evidenced both the ability and earnestness of this minister, who has lately come into the circuit. Collections were made on behalf of the trust fund, and realized nearly £10 a sum which may be considered very satisfactory. Owing to the trustees' intention to paint and decorate the building during the spring, the special efforts usually made at the anniversary are deferred till the re-opening, when extra services, public tea and meeting, will be arranged.—On Wednesday evening, a homely meeting was held in the chapel under the presidency of the resident minister, Rev. Sidney Pitt, when the stewards and other friends gave suitable addresses After the usual preliminaries, singing and prayer, Mr. J. R. Seanor, one of the chapel stewards, presented an interesting report of the past, and proposals for the future. The chapel has been erected about five years, having cost with the organ, £2600. The whole of this is now paid except an annual repayment of £20 a year for eight years. The yearly income, principally derived from seat rents is over £80 about half of which is expended in cleaning, warming, lighting, &c., while £20 is repaid to the General Chapel Committee, and £16 to the general circuit funds at Wakefield. The sittings are well taken in the body, but there are a number of unlet pews in the gallery. There are about 177 actual members of society, and a large number of Sunday scholars. It is proposed to paint and generally beautify the chapel during the coming spring, and the hearty co-operation of all connected with the congregation was earnestly desired. The chairman, in a kindly and attractive manner, followed up the statistics given in the report, congratulating his people on their success in the past, on their present hopeful condition, and on future signs of prosperity, both financially and spiritually. He urged them to see that God's house was not less attractive and comfortable than their own homes, and maintained that taste and beauty should be found there as much as anywhere else. Speaking of the proposed mission, Mr. Pitt warmly and earnestly asked each one to do his best in bringing others to a better and higher life, and to connection with the church. He was happy to hear that the congregations were improving, and he believed great good was being done by the ladies who were so kindly visiting the people in their houses, and by the cottage services.—Mr. Jas. Hargreaves was pleased to take part in the meeting, and cordially echoed the hopes which had just fallen from the lips of their minister. While music halls and places of amusement were light and attractive, leading very often to habits of sin and folly, by all means they ought to see that everything was done to induce the people to attend the house of God and lead Christian lives.—Mr. S. Batty wished to correct an idea that the stewards and trustees of the chapel were the only persons who had to do with the chapel concerns; he held that every member of the congregation ought to be interested in its welfare. They had helped to build it, they helped to support it by their pew rents, and they must help to fill it; he urged all to work both in making their chapel comfortable and in doing what they could to bring people to join in the service.—Mr. Jos. Morton referred to the early history of Methodism, Mr. Wesley having had to preach out of doors the first time he visited Rothwell; a cottage was then taken, which was afterwards enlarged, followed by a small chapel, which had also been enlarged, and now this new one was built. They had advanced by degrees in the building, and they desired now to increase their congregation, by making the chapel pleasant and attractive, and by inviting their friends and neighbours to attend. Mr. S. Seanor renewed the remarkable success which had attended every effort connected with the erection of the chapel, and was quite sure that they would be able to complete their work and pay for it.—Mr. Abbishaw in moving a vote of thanks to the stewards for their past services, added to the statements which had already been made, that besides the work done in the chapel, they had raised £80 during the past two years for warming, painting and improving the school premises, and he quite thought the chapel ought to be attended to now. Mr. J. Walker, of Oulton, cordially seconded the vote of thanks, as he knew by experience the anxieties and duties devolving on chapel stewards; he had enjoyed the meeting and wished them success. The motion was heartily accorded, as was also a vote of thanks to the chairman.—The meeting, which had been varied by the singing of several hymns, was then concluded with prayer.

Mr. Fred. Seanor.—We have pleasure in publishing the following extract from the Bootle Times the reading of which will doubtless be gratifying to Mr. Seanor's many friends.—

On Thursday last the members and friends of the above lodge were entertained by Mr. Fred Seanor, their secretary, in the Lincoln Rooms, Derby-road, before a good audience. The programme consisted of a couple of duets by Mr. Forsyth and Mr. J. R. Seanor on the pianoforte and violin respectively, which were very well rendered and gave entire satisfaction, being selections from the opera by Gilbert and Sullivan, 'Les cloches des Corneville,' &c Also, two songs by Mr. R. A. Sykes, 'True till death' and 'Three Sailor Boys,' both being given in good style. Mr J. R. Seanor then gave a song, 'I fear no foe,' which was well received. The remainder of the programme consisted of mind revealing through the action of the nerves, by Mr. Fred. Seanor, which was effected by means of a committee of ladies and gentlemen, who were selected from the audience, and a chairman was elected to place a pin on any person on the committee. Mr. Seanor then came in blindfold and went round to the persons one by one feeling each hand as he pasted and after failing the first time, succeeded in getting the pin amidst much excitement and great cheering. The next experiment was to find three pins and also number them, saying which was the pin hidden first, second, and third, which was done also in a very able manner, the feat being perfectly original and straightforward, and should be seen by all who have the opportunity. The other feats were the ordinary cabinet mysteries and tricks of so-called spiritualism. A vote of thanks was given at the close to Messrs. Seanor and Sykes, also to Mr. Forsyth for coming forward at so short a notice to accompany the violin and songs. 'God save the Queen' brought to a close one of the most enjoyable evenings ever spent by the lodge.

Rothwell Old Brass Band.—Supper and Presentation.—The above band paraded the town on Saturday last, after which, along with several friends they partook of an excellent supper in the band-room of the Miners' Arms, provided by Mr. and Mrs. Brook. This being finished, and the tables cleared, Mr. S. Fowler, (the bandmaster), was called upon to take the chair, and in a few well-chosen words spoke of the four members of the band who were to receive a present, as an example to the younger members. Mr. C. Ward, who had kindly consented to make the presentation, said he felt proud of having the honour confessed upon him, and in a suitable speech put forth the duty of musicians towards each other; he then called upon Mr. Mark Fowler, Mr. Thomas Bennett, Mr. Wm. Bedford, and Mr. Wm. Smith, and presented each with a sterling silver scarf pin, each being a model of the instrument they played. The health of the four old veterans having been drunk, Mr. Bennett responded. The rest of the evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner, the company being much delighted with the rendering of several glees by the Rothwell Harmonic Union.

Royal College of Surgeons.—It will be interesting to many who became acquainted with Mr. Barnes Nowell, while carrying on Dr. Nowell's practice some two years ago during that gentleman's illness, that he was admitted a member of the above college at a meeting on the 30th ult. We heartily congratulate him on his success, and trust he will still further adorn the name he bears.

The Infirmary and Our Miners.—We are greatly pleased to state that Mr. Jas. Hargreaves has paid over £39 8s. 4d. to the treasurer of the Leeds Infirmary, the yearly subscription of the workmen employed at Rothwell Haigh Colliery.

The Stourton Wesleyan Mutual Improvement Class met on Friday night last to hear an essay on 'Railway Signals,' by Mr. Harvey, of Pottery Field, Hunslet. Owing to the essayist appointed for the evening being away from home, Mr. Harvey came in his place; this caused the attendance to be rather small, as it was not known that there would be an essay. Nevertheless, a very profitable and interesting evening was spent, there being a good debate at the close.

Wesleyan Musical Society.—On Monday evening, the members of this society sat down to the first annual tea, each one having the privilege of bringing a friend. About 60 persons attended, and after partaking of an excellent tea, a short meeting was held, at which the annual report was read by Mr. A. W. Seanor, the secretary, from which it appears that the Society is flourishing, and has been enabled to hold its own, and to present £11 to the chapel and school, and over £3 to Woodlesford chapel. A short address was then given by Mr Marshall, who presided, followed by votes of thanks to the several officers, on the motion of Mr. J. W. Gibson, seconded by Mr. H. Lambert. The various officers were then elected, and other business transacted After a little vocal music, in which Mr. A. Batty kindly assisted, both young and older gave themselves up to games, friendly chat, etc., a very pleasant programme closing at ten o'clock.

Oulton.—On Tuesday last, on behalf of the Gospel Temperance Society, in the Free Church school room, Oulton, Mr. Pearson, from Hunslet, gave a very useful and entertaining lecture entitled "Great and noble deeds done without drink." The lecturer, in introducing his subject, said he had been induced to get this subject up in contradiction of a statement made in the London Times some time ago "that all teetotallers were milksops, and incapable of anything great and noble." But Mr. Pearson succeeded in proving from the lives of Wesley, Livingstone, and many others from all branches of society, that great and noble deeds had been done without the assistance of drink, and that hard and laborious work might be done too without it. A good company enjoyed the rich treat.

Oulton Band.—We have pleasure in reminding our readers of the Oulton Band Concert, which is to be given to-night. Besides enjoying a good concert, those who attend will have the satisfaction of contributing to the testimonial which is to be given to the leader, Mr. B. Walker, for his long and valuable services to the band.

Mr. Fred Parker.—We have just received a letter from Mr. Fred Parker, who arrived at Hobart on Saturday, Dec. 20th. They have had beautiful weather, though things are rather monotonous on board ship. As usual, however, several entertainments and concerts have been held, and altogether the voyage has been pleasurable. He appears to be in good health and spirits, and is only anxious to hear news from this side. He would not get to his final destination before the end of the year, we understand, and after a few days' stay, purposes returning home again.

We regret to learn that measles are very prevalent just now among children in Rothwell.

REMINISCENSES OF LOFTHOUSE

By Mr. G. Roberts.

The market garden below Wright's was planted about 1816; previously it was the Cock-garth, in which cocks were fought, and thrown at.

The next property northward—a large, old irregular brick building, founded several feet below the surface of the present road—was formerly a farmstead. In 1719 it was occupied, and I think owned as well, by Robert Wood; later, about 1800, it was occupied by John Dickinson, (to be afterwards mentioned) and John Ord, Esq., was owner.

The church was erected in 1840, mainly through the exertions of the third Joseph Charlesworth, Esq., of Lofthouse Park and John Jones, Esq., of Lofthouse Hall. The Rev. G. Campbell was the first curate, and Mr. Jones the first church-warden. The Rev. Robert Chadwick came in 1842, and was ordained vicar in 1845. He planted the shrubs and fruit-trees, and a vine which covered the south side of the house. Mr. Chadwick died in 1883, and is buried close to the grave of the late Joseph Charlesworth, Esq. Lately a handsome cenotaph of Carrara marble has been erected bearing the following inscription:—'This stone is placed by the parishioners in sacred memory to the Rev. Robert Chadwick, who for forty-one years was the faithful pastor of this church. Died July 21st, 1883, aged 71 years.

The oldest person buried in the churchyard, so far as I can ascertain, is a miner named Charles Firth, aged 88 years. Some further account of the church and vicarage will be given in a supplement to "Topography of Lofthouse."

The ivy-covered house northward of the church was formerly the residence of the ancient family of the Burnells. The house and some land seems to have descended from Burnells to D'Oyley, and afterwards to Harrisons. It is now in the hands of Lucy Hudson, neice of the late Miss Margaret Harrison, who was the donor of the land on which the church is built. The Burnells acquired property in various parts of Lofthouse, and were of sufficient distinction to be buried inside the church of Rothwell. One of the family who was an attorney, died at Lofthouse in 1786. The last of the family, a poor old man who lived in a cottage in the Town-end field, (now pulled down) died, I am informed, about 1810. The Burnells took much interest in town affairs, and attended the overseers' meetings at Rothwell. Madame Elizabeth Black (daughter of a Burnell) was a notable old lady in Lofthouse a century ago. She died in 1795, and was buried at Rothwell.

Further north there is Pymont House. Before the erection of Lofthouse Hall this was one of the principal houses in the village. It consisted of two large south rooms, and several secondary rooms, and cellars and outhouses. The principal room has an ornamental ceiling in good preservation. A black oaken beam in the staircase is inscribed with a Scriptural passage cut in English characters, but it is mutilated and partly covered by plaster. In the porch there are two apertures, one round, the other square, similar to others that may be seen in old porches, the use of which I have not been able to make out. The door in the porch is the original door, very thick, and studded like a church door, with large-headed nails, being perfectly thief-proof. The flags in what was the kitchen are all a size and will fit anywhere. The fireplace is capacious, and has several cupboard-like recesses in the walls. Part of the walls are wainscotted. Some of the doors inside are the original doors of thin oak boards, very plain The chamber floors were formerly of plaster but are now boarded. The building has been larger than it is at present, and when erected would be considered a mansion. It is now made into cottages, and occupied by John Ward, the naturalist, and other tenants. From the name of a field I infer that the Gamyell or Gamble family must have lived hereabout. A Gamyell is mentioned as being at Lofthouse in 1379, and the Gamyells occur in the earliest Rothwell registers. A 'John Gamyell' was buried Jan. 29th, 1542. Some of the family were buried inside the church. The Pymonts seem to have succeeded the Gambles. The arms of Pymont formerly appeared over the principal door-way. The head-stone with arms is now built in a wall, and the shield may yet be traced.

There was formerly a foot-road from Pymont property straight down to Mr. Joseph Hartley's wind mill. When there were only about one or two small shops in the village, this footpath was much frequented by people fetching flour from the mill. The lane leading to Carlton was called Back Lane, and the lane leading to Ouzlewell Green, now called Green Lane, was called Pyman Lane. The large brick house sunk below the present road was built by a Pymont. The remains of another much more ancient house of stone stands behind in the farmyard, and is now used as an outhouse. This is said to have been a refreshment or 'baiting' place when cavalcades of pack-horses were continually passing from Bradford and Morley to Castleford and Pontefract. The Pymonts who lived here were farmers and tanners. They were succeeded in the tanning business by a Samuel Child, who had married a Pymont. About 1760 a John Pymont was waylaid at the bottom of Lofthouse Hill (then a narrow lane between high hedges), and robbed, when returning from Wakefield market. The robbers were captured at York and brought to justice.

A few items relating to the Pymont family may be introduced as follows:—

In 1315 a Robert de Prymont was summoned, amongst others, to attend a council held in Doncaster Parish Church respecting the incursion of the Scots. Adam of Swillington, and many other knights attended.

A Thomas Pimond lived at Kirkthorpe in 1541.

A Richard Pimond had lands in Crofton in 1545.

A Richard Pimond (probably the above) was buried in Wakefield Church in 1546.

A William Pimont had a son christened at Rothwell in 1548.

Elizabeth Pymont, a widow, was buried in Wakefield church in 1552. She left by will 20 shillings a year to the poor of Halifax, to be paid out of houses and land at a place called Blackledge Style.

The Pymonds were settled at Methley prior to 1600.

On the 8th of April, 1656, Mary, daughter of John Pymont of Heath, was married to William Dodgson, a Leeds merchant.

John Pymond of Heath, was married to Annis, daughter of Wilfred Armitage, of Little Liversedge; on July 27th 1654.

John Pymond, of Lofthouse, son of John of Heath, married a servant girl named Ann Bower in 1686, He died in 1722 and Ann his widow died in 1747. both buried at Rothwell. Before 1686, the entries of Pymonts in the Rothwell registers so far as I have examined are not numerous, but after that year they are frequent and continue down to about 1840. George Pymont seems to have been the last. The house and land in Green Lane were in the hands of his devisees in 1843, but were soon after sold. Amelia, widow of George, died Oct. 23rd, 1839, and is buried at Rothwell. The property was finally divided amongst heiresses.

(Erratum.—In the last article the name Ward in the last line but one should be Wood.)

FOOTBALL NOTES.

Rothwell took a journey to Higham, near Barnsley, on Saturday last. They had only a very poor team, and had to start with only ten men. However, Rothwell should have won as matters stood, but their play throughout was of a disgraceful description, the forwards being simply out of it. They had certainly hard luck in having to put up with such a strong wind the first half, and then to become changeable in the second half, but after all, it only required a little good passing (which was out of the question) to have pulled the match through. For Rothwell, Lewis played remarkably well at back, and for the home team Senior worked hard.

CAPTAIN.

ROTHWELL v. HIGHAM (BARNSLEY).

This match was played on Saturday last, on the ground of the former. The Rothwell team was not a good one, having to start from Woodlesford with only ten men. The home captain winning the toss elected to play with the wind in his favour, which blew very strongly at the commencement of the game, and for about ten minutes the home players had a little advantage, when play was stopped on account of the wet. On turning out again into the field the wind had settled down a little, and Rothwell was enabled to hold its own, and the ball travelled first to one end of the field and then to the other, but the backs kept their goal intact, and up to half time nothing had been scored by either side. On resuming, the wind which blew so strong at the commencement in favour of the home team, had become of a more changeable nature, thus neither side had any material advantage. Even play ensued for some time, but eventually, the visitors forced the home players into their own quarters, and the ball being kicked out, a corner fell to Rothwell, but however, nothing came of it, and the leather was once more found in neutral ground. Higham further improving their position, one of the players made a shot which Smith drove back, but only to be returned, and a scrimmage ensued, the result of which was a corner for the home team. Nothing resulted from the kick, but the visitors' backs were unable to get the ball right away, and after a few minutes Higham were credited with the first point. Harrison re-started, and the Rothwell forwards worked the ball past the half backs and backs, but on Greenwood being tackled by the goalkeeper, headed the ball just outside the posts. From now up to the call of time, the game was of a give and take character, and when the whistle blew, Higham were declared victors by 1 goal to nil.

Rothwell.—W. Smith, goal; R. H. Lewis, H. Richardson, backs; A. W. Seanor, I. Blackburn, E. Copley, half-backs; J. W. Wright, H. Greenwood, W. Richardson, J. Harrison (capt.) and another forwards.

TOWN TALK.

Although Mr. Wm. Hargreaves' suggestion with reference to the advisability of purchasing a sludge cart fell through at the last Board meeting, it is not without good results. Early on Saturday morning, the streets were cleared of the mud which had been swept to the sides of the road on Friday, and by noon presented quite a neat and clean appearance. I think a sludge cart ought to be used regularly in wet weather, it is no use sweeping the mud off the road unless it is taken away. I hope the practise will be continued, so that at least on Saturday evenings and Sundays, our roads will not only be passable, but tidy and clean.

There is a subject I would like to notice, inasmuch as it is of vital interest to all those inhabitants of Rothwell, who have a respect for the sabbath, and a love for its peace and quiet. It is an unquestioned fact that the Sabbath, apart from its higher and spiritual objects, is of all gifts the most precious to the man who earns his bread by the sweat of his brow; let them take care of it, and preserve it in all its entirety. It is the custom of certain shopkeepers dealing in tobacco, cigars, sweetmeats, &c, to do business on Sundays, and I have noticed that their transactions during the whole of the Sabbath day are very numerous; this has led other shopkeepers to join in the illegal practice, and it is likely to become a great scandal and a grievous nuisance. I have only to remind the police of their duty in this matter, they have the power to stop this work, and I am requested by several gentlemen to ask them to compel these offending shopkeepers to act in compliance with the law The religious bodies are very dull about these things, but I believe they are looking about them a little more, and will insist on my intimation to the police being noticed, and the nuisance abated.

I was just in time last week to notice the result of the Gas Company's trial last Friday. Of course everybody knows the case was dismissed, The judgment turned, as I said it would, on the words 'competent and impartial,' and proved fatal to Mr. Turner. I believe we have not heard the end of the dispute yet, for Mr. Turner is of opinion that there are yet greater, and more glaring illegalities existing in the company's conduct, and he is, to all appearances, determined to have it out of them in one way or another. I am given to understand that he is going to charge them with illegally placing on the Reserve Fund, a large amount of money which should have been expended to the benefit of the consumers, and there is every probability of a hard fight between them.

The Mercury of Saturday last in its report of this trial, made it appear that the Local Board had ordered the prosecution. Much surprise and indignation was felt and expressed in Rothwell when the paragraph in question was read, but as the report blundered in another essential, where it stated that Mr. Tyndall Atkinson represented the Local Board, it was indulgently imagined by those who knew, that the reporter had got his short*hand* mixed, and put his foot in it On Monday, I carefully scanned the Mercury to find if any correction was published,—none was to be found, but on Tuesday morning my search was rewarded; the 'man at the corner' had a letter in, correcting the report, and denying the statement that our Local Board was prosecutor in the case, and saddled the right horse with the responsibility of that ill-advised step—I had nearly written—high stepper In which case the sentence would have read—that ill advised stepper, but I recall the words and apologise. If I have been surprised at the Mercury's Saturday report, I was still more taken aback on Wednesday when I discovered another letter on the subject in the same journal signed 'Your Wakefield Correspondent,' and who very emphatically sat upon the Tuesday's correction of 'the man at the corner.' The Wakefield correspondent in his letter says he had examined the magistrate's register of the cases dealt with by them on Friday last, as well as the magistrates' clerk's book, and the books of the West Riding police, and in all of them the case is entered as follows:—'Rothwell Urban Sanitary Authority' complainants, 'Rothwell Gas Company,' defendants. No mention is made of the name of Mr. John Turner, who was the prosecutor in the case. It thus appears evident on the face of it, that Mr. Turner on the day he took out the summonses, got into the shoes of the clerk to the Local Board, and entered the case in the name of the Urban Sanitary Authority as complainants, instead of his own, which is funny—very. I may add for the information of those who live in foreign parts, that the Rothwell Local Board is the Urban Sanitary Authority for this district.

I am glad to hear that Dr. Glaister has consented to give a lecture on 'Robert Burns,' on the 16th, inst. at the Rothwell Mechanics' Institute. I hope there will be a good audience, for I am sure there is a treat in store for all who may attend.

.. .. ..

The Parish Tea and Entertainment is to be held on the following day, (Shrove Tuesday), and promises to be of great interest, and a good sort.

The financial year of the Rothwell Temperance Society will come to an end in March, and if I am not mistaken the committee will find themselves worse than when it began. I am sorry to hear of the way in which the work at this once useful hall has been carried on during the last year. When good and innocent entertainment was provided on Saturday evenings, it was the means of keeping many men away from the public houses, without doing them harm in any other way, but recently the concerts have been of a decidedly lower nature and seem to be more fitted for a low music hall, than a Temperance meeting room; besides this the Sunday services have been given up altogether. This general declension from the higher aims has caused the society much trouble, and the natural consequence is that many liberal supporters have ceased paying their subscriptions, and separated themselves from the Society, causing the funds to be in a very poor state, compared with other years. The remedy is in the hands of the members, let them at their annual meeting, see that they who form the working committee have as their aim the success of temperance, and the cultivation of taste and refinement in the members of the Society, and I feel sure there are better days in store for them yet.

Throat Affections and Hoarseness.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by John I. Brown & Sons, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name Consumption Emulsion. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 143 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find there is a gain of weight even after it has been used." Such a testimony as this speaks volumes for the efficiency of Phthisicon. In addition, it has proved of immense value as a curative agent in the early stages of Brain Disease and Scrofula; in fact, wherever there is impaired nutrition or lack of nerve power, its action is almost certain. It can be obtained of all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s., and 21s. per bottle. Wholesale of Barclay and Sons, Farringdon-street, London, E.C.; or of W. B. Trick, A.P.S., 93, Green-lanes London, N

KAY'S COMPOUND, a demulcent anodyne expectorant for Coughs and Colds, 9½d., 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d.; postage, 3d.

Floriline!—For the Teeth and Breath.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

Advice to Mothers!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it soften the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

IS RHEUMATISM CURABLE? Yes, if you take WOODCOCK'S RHEUMATIC MIXTURE. Speedily cures Rheumatic Pains in the Limbs, Rheumatic Pains in the Head, Rheumatic Pains in the Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatic Swellings and Stiffness; in fact, every phase of Rheumatism; no matter how acute or long standing, it never fails. Order or Stamps, from Page D. Woodcock, Lincoln.

KAY'S COMPOUND.—Asthma and Bronchitis are immediately relieved by it. Kay Bros., Stockport

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares, Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high coloured; depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population have this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. The disease is Dyspepsia or Indigestion, for which Seigel's Curative Syrup is a certain remedy. Seigel's Operating Pills are an effective remedy for Constipation and Biliousness. Those afflicted with Asthma will find immediate relief by using the Rosinweed Tar Mixture. Genuine has A. J. White, Lim., on the stamp. An almanac containing testimonials from persons who have received benefit from use of Seigel's Curative Syrup will be furnished, free of charge, by the proprietors, A. J. White, Lim. 17, Farringdon Road, London, E.C.

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF DR. E. W. ALABONE,

Yours very truly
Edwin W. Alabone

AUTHOR OF "THE CURE OF CONSUMPTION."

The present, more than any age of the world's history, is remarkable for the practical application of scientific principles, and scarcely any undertaking in which human skill and ingenuity can play a part but science has to a great extent revolutionized the old methods; indeed, nothing seems to be too stupendous in the engineering world to be undertaken, and failure in the construction of a gigantic waterway, or the making of a tunnel either through miles of solid rock, or beneath the foundations of a city, is a word unknown. The subject of this biography is the exponent of scientific truths which have more to do with the well-being and happiness of the community than any of the newly-created or supplied wants which affect principally the more materialistic world.

The Happiness of Society must depend upon the general health, and Dr. Alabone has made "the grand progress in medical science" that not only ensures the "continued vitality of the art of medicine," but gives such promise of indefinite extension and development, that eventually it is hoped the "scourge of the world"—"Consumption"—will be stamped out. We gladly give as much of the outline of his life and work as our space affords (excluding many of the dry details which must necessarily be uninteresting to the general reader).

Dr. Alabone was born at Newport, Isle of Wight. We next hear of him as receiving his earlier education at one of the colleges in Taunton, where, even at an age when most boys are more intent upon recreation than otherwise, his disposition for the study of anatomy was so pronounced as to lead his friends to decide to educate him especially for the surgical profession, and, at fourteen years of age, young Alabone duly presented himself, and successfully passed his preliminary examination in mathematics, at the Royal College of Surgeons; and, almost immediately after, passed successfully a similar examination at the University of Durham. When sixteen he appears, as a prominent student, at Guy's Hospital, and here he seems to have found scope for his persistent application to his studies, as he rapidly attained several important appointments, and received "six certificates of merit." Each fellow student had a good word for "Alabone." Even then his decision of character secured him not only the countenance of the professors, but the confidence of the students generally.

A large number of successful cases brought the Author many flattering testimonials, and editors of influential and responsible public journals yielded a just tribute to the man who had done so much to raise the status of the healing art in the treatment of Consumption to a humane and rational standpoint. A few members of the profession, however, at the period of which we write, still maintained a hostile attitude; while others, not blinded by obstinacy or ill-will, not only accepted his propositions, but adopted his treatment with their own patients.

Dr. Alabone's crowning work, entitled, "The Cure of Consumption by an entirely New Remedy," published at 5s. (it can be obtained of any bookseller, or direct from the Author, Lynton House, Highbury Quadrant, London, N.), is the one to which we draw the reader's attention, especially as in it not only is the curability of that disease (which destroys the largest number of lives) established, but the means of prevention and treatment are clearly given, with many invaluable hints founded on a wide and lengthened experience. Chapters are devoted to the Physiological Aspect of the Disease; its Definition and Causes—Is it Contagious?—Its Nature—Symptoms, Diagnosis, Prevention, and Treatment. We especially direct attention to the chapter on Prevention, many invaluable hints will be found to any who are threatened with chest disease, and are invaluable even to the ordinary reader, and combine to make the book a dependable work of reference upon health matters.

Turning from the record of his life's work to Dr. Alabone himself, those who have had the opportunity of observing his professional characteristics describe the doctor as possessing the suaviter in modo, fortiter in re, to an extent not usually met with; jealous not only of his own time, but of the time and health of his patients, he allows no latitude as regards his appointments. His attention to his clients is marked by a minuteness of observation and soundness of judgment, while his uniform politeness to all is proverbial; his presence is a tower of strength, and the united testimony of all who have had the benefit of his advice is that no circumstance is passed over by him as trivial which can promote or assist recovery. Principle is his guiding star, and on no account will he treat other diseases. The sworn foe to Consumption, the great mass of victims to this dire ailment have no more faithful friend.

Dr. Alabone's name at the present time is foremost as a physician skilled in the curative treatment of Consumption, and whenever national rewards are given to the friends of humanity, a high tribute will be due to him from a grateful nation. In quitting what has been really a pleasing record, let not the reader imagine that Dr. Alabone has allowed his special work and calling to exhaust his other qualifications; on the contrary, he has acquired a sound knowledge of music, and is gifted with remarkable skill in organ playing. He possesses an exceptionally large, fine-toned organ of splendid quality. Time and space, however, will not permit us to dilate upon his artistic abilities, his paintings, and discoveries in photography, &c., microscopical investigations, &c. He is known as the founder of the Highbury Microscopical and Natural History Society, which is now one of the leading societies of its kind in London. His biography, as it mainly concerns the general public, will ever be associated with the "Cure of Consumption."

We learn that on one occasion, whilst acting in the capacity of Assistant Surgeon's dresser, his ability in the use of the knife was acknowledged, and by request he performed several minor operations in the theatre before the assembled surgeons and students of the hospital. From another source we hear that "Alabone," before receiving his final qualifications, happened to be in the country, when a case of extreme importance, demanding a skilful surgical operation was brought to his notice (this case being more onerous from the fact of its having been pronounced hopeless by two eminent country surgeons, a major operation), was undertaken, and successfully performed by him, and he received as a compliment to his ability a silver service of plate.

Returning however to his hospital career, we find that both friends and acquaintances alike expressed their astonishment at his decision to abandon surgery and to devote his entire energies to the study and practice of medicine. Such was the case, however, and immediately he had taken his degrees he entered into general practice as a physician, his auspicious commencement being the subject of warm congratulations from those who even at that time predicted a brilliant future for him.

Dr. Alabone's articles in the medical papers appeared shortly after, the first of a series being entitled "Symptoms of Heart Disease communicated from the Cerebro-Spinal system." Among the most prominent articles that emanated from his pen we notice "The Economization of Tissues in Typhoid Fever," "Diseases of Females and their Treatment," a Treatise on "Fevers," "Epilepsy, its Treatment." He rapidly acquired the nucleus of an extensive practice. Being then in his twenty-second year only he accepted the offered post of Physician to the Home for Reclaimed Females. The appointment of Physician to the Clapton Orphan Asylum soon followed.

These with many minor but onerous positions he held for some years. The many cases of diseases of the lungs and the appalling waste of life which came under his notice, however, caused him to direct his whole energies to the treatment of Consumption in all its varied forms, and Dr. Alabone, not being a man to do anything by halves, conscientiously gave up all appointments that interfered with his whole application to what was then, and has been ever since, the one object of his life, the perfection of a system of cure for Consumption. His first book on this disease, "The Curative Treatment of Consumption," was illustrated by cases of consumption which were absolutely cured mainly by the treatment he propounded. Some of these cases were more remarkable as having been given up by eminent medical men as "incurable." It is needless to say such a work excited much interest and also opposition in the medical world, as the dogma of the incurability of Consumption was assailed in fact as well as in theory; these facts were, moreover, supported by medical and other authorities well able to criticize and form a judgment in the matter. Dr. Alabone, far from being discouraged by adverse opinions, continued his pursuit as arduously as ever, finding his pleasure in his work, which began to bear fruit, and further discoveries were made known to the world in his works, "The Specific Treatment of Phthisis," and "The Inhalation of Oxygen Gas in the Treatment of Phthisis."

ARE the PUREST, CHEAPEST, and BEST BITTERS EVER MADE.

They are compounded from Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Podophyllin, and Dandelion.

The oldest, best, and most valuable medicines in the world, and contain all the best and most curative properties of all other Bitters, being the greatest

BLOOD PURIFER,

LIVER REGULATOR,

and Life and Health Restoring Agent on earth. No disease or ill-health can possibly long exist where these Bitters are used, so varied and perfect are their operations.

They give new life and vigour to the aged and infirm. To all whose employments cause irregularity of the bowels or urinary organs, or who require an Appetiser, Tonic, and Mild Stimulant, these Bitters are invaluable, being highly curative, tonic, and stimulating, without intoxicating.

No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease or ailment is, use

HOP BITTERS.

Don't wait until you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use the Bitters at once. It may save your life. Hundreds have been saved by so doing. £500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help. They are a pleasant refreshing flavouring for sick-room drinks, impure water, and other beverages.

Do not suffer yourself or let your friends suffer, but use, and urge them to use

HOP BITTERS.

Remember.

HOP BITTERS

is no vile, drugged nostrum, but the Purest and Best Medicine ever made; the "Invalid's Friend and Hope," and no person or family should be without them. Try the BITTERS to-day.

FOR SALE BY ALL CHEMISTS AND DRUGGISTS.

CAUTION.

Beware of bogus stuff sold in all forms, pretending to be like Hop Bitters. The only genuine is put up in very large square-panelled amber-coloured bottles, Dr. Soule's name blown in the glass, white label on one side, with black letters and green hop cluster. The other side yellow label. Directions in English and German. Manufactured only by Hop Bitters Company.

Valuable Discovery for the Hair.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d.—For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

Worth a Guinea a Box.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

ARE admitted by thousands to be worth above A GUINEA A BOX for Bilious and Nervous Disorders, such as Wind and Pain at the Stomach, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Fulness, and Swelling after meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Scurvy, Blotches on the skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, &c., &c. The first dose will give relief in twenty minutes.

This is no fiction, for they have done it in thousands of cases. The Proprietor of these Pills having obtained (at great expense) a Patent for them, he challenges the whole world to produce a medicine equal to them for removing the above named complaints and restoring the patient to sound and lasting health.

Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try one box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be

WORTH A GUINEA A BOX.

For females of all ages these Pills are invaluable, as a few doses of them carry off all gross humours, open all obstructions, and bring about all that is required. No female should be without them. There is no remedy to be found to equal BEECHAM'S PILLS for removing any obstruction or irregularity of the system. If taken according to the directions given with each box, they will soon restore females of all ages to sound and robust health.

For a weak Stomach, impaired digestion, and all disorders of the Liver, they act like 'MAGIC,' and a few doses will be found to work wonders upon the most important organs in the human machine. They strengthen the whole muscular system, restore the long lost complexion, bring back the keen edge of appetite, and arouse into action, with the ROSEBUD of health, the whole physical energy of the human frame. —These are "FACTS" admitted by thousands, embracing all classes of Society, and one of the best guarantees to the Nervous Debilitated is, BEECHAM'S PILLS have the largest sale of any Patent Medicine in the world.

BEECHAM'S MAGIC COUGH PILLS

Are a remedy for Coughs in General, Asthma Difficulty of Breathing, Shortness of Breath, Tightness and Oppression of the Chest, Wheezing, &c., these Pills stand unrivalled for anyone labouring under any of the above complaints. They need only try One Box to prove that they are the best ever offered to the public for Asthmatic and Consumptive Coughs, Hoarseness, and Oppression of the Chest. They speedily remove the sense of oppression and Difficulty of breathing which nightly deprive the patient of rest. They give almost instant relief and comfort to those afflicted with the above distressing and, when neglected, dangerous complaints, but any person troubled with any of the above complaints should give Beecham's Cough Pills a trial.

The most violent Cough will in a short time be removed.

Caution.—The public are requested to notice that the words "BEECHAM'S PILLS, St. Helen's," are on the Government Stamp affixed to each box of the Pills; if not on, they are a forgery.

Prepared only, and sold wholesale and retail by the proprietor, T. Beecham, Chemist, St. Helen's, Lancashire, in boxes, 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Sent post free for 15 or 36 stamps.

Sold by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Dealers in the United Kingdom.

N.B.—Full directions are given with each Box.

CAUTION.—THE QUEEN v. LAMPLOUGH.—The unanimous Verdict of the Court was in favour of Pyretic Saline being sold without the usual Medicine Duty; this has induced several Chymists and other dealers to put up effervescing powders, worthless & in many instances containing Caustic & injurious ingredients. It is important and imperative that in all cases of Sickness, Fevers, & CHOLERA Symptoms, the genuine Pyretic Saline should be purchased bearing my name only, HENRY LAMPLOUGH, 113, Holborn, London.

THE WAR IN THE SOUDAN.

ANOTHER BATTLE.

GENERAL EARLE KILLED.

VICTORY OF THE ENGLISH.

COMPLETE ROUT OF THE ENEMY.

OFFICIAL DESPATCH.

The following telegram has been issued by the War Office:—

"From General Lord Wolseley to the Secretary of State for War (received February 12th), dated Korti, February 11th, 1885, 11.50 p.m.

"No. 68. The following telegram just received from General Brackenbury: Dulka Island is about 0 miles above Merawi. The attack was well planned and gallantly executed, and I expect its effect will be to open the way without further fighting to Berber. Message begins:—

"'Camp, opposite Dulka Island, 10th February.

"'Having found enemy in position stated in telegram No. 98 of the 9th instant, General Earle concentrated Staffords and Black Watch here yesterday, reconnoitred the position, and this morning advanced to attack it. They held a high ridge of razor-backed hills and some advanced koppies in front, close to the river. Two companies Stafford and two guns being left under Colonel Alleyne to hold the enemy in front, we marched with six companies Stafford and six companies Black Watch round the high range of hills, entirely turning the enemy's position, which we attacked from the rear. The enemy's numbers were not great, but their position was extremely strong and difficult of access, and they fought with most determined bravery.

"'The Black Watch advanced over rocks and broken ground upon the koppies, and, after having by their fire in the coolest manner driven off a rush of the enemy, stormed the position under a heavy fire. General Earle was among the foremost in this attack, and, to the deep sorrow of every officer and man in the force, was killed on the summit of the koppie. The Staffords attacked the high ridge, and over the most difficult ground it was possible for troops to advance upon, carried the position. In this attack their gallant commanding officer, Lieutenant-Colonel Eyre, was killed.

"'Meanwhile the squadron 19th Hussars, under Colonel Butler, swept round to the rear and captured the enemy's camp. Our success is complete.

"'We have captured ten standards, and the whole of the position is in our hands. It is difficult to estimate the enemy's loss, but their dead are lying thick among the rocks and in the open, where, when they found themselves surrounded, they tried to rush through our troops; scarcely any can have escaped.

"'Our own loss is as follows:—

"'Major-General Earle.

"'Lieutenant-Colonel Eyre.

"'Brevet Lieut.-Colonel Coveny.

"'One corporal and eight privates.

"'Missing.—One private.

"'Wounded very severely.—Brevet Lieut.-Colonel Wauchope.

"'Severely wounded.—Capt. Horsbugh, Lieut. Hon. J. G. R. Colborne, Lieut T. Kennedy.

"'Wounded.—38 non-commissioned officers and men.

"'Prisoners report enemy led by Moussa Wad Abuhegel, Ali Wad Hussein, cousin of Lekalik, and Hamid Wad Lekalik, brother of Lekalik. All these are reported killed. The enemy said to have consisted of the Monassir, with some Robatab, and a force of dervishes from Berber.

HEAD-QUARTERS, KORTI.—The convoy of wounded has arrived here this evening. It consists of nine officers and thirty-nine men, all of whom have borne the journey admirably. There are no cases to give cause for anxiety among them. Lieutenant Lyall, of the Royal Artillery, although weak, is improving daily.

The Mudir of Dongola and the natives in this neighbourhood still continue to disbelieve the fall of Khartoum.

This persistency on their part is singular, as the natives have all along proved to be well informed of what was going on, and had Khartoum fallen at the date generally supposed the fact should have long since been known by them.

Lord Wolseley inspected the wounded on their arrival, and expressed his astonishment at their favourable condition. The medical arrangements for their comfort on the way were admirable. Another convoy is expected to-morrow.

THIS MORNING'S NEWS.

TO-DAY'S LONDON PAPERS.

THE DEATH OF GORDON.

The following has been received at the War Office:—

From General Lord Wolseley to the Secretary of State for War.

KORTI, 12th February, 10.13 p.m.

Following received from General Brackenbury:—

"KERBEKEN, Wednesday.—'Following is a translation of a document found to-day by a private soldier of the Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry in a donkey's saddle bag, about 400 yards behind the position we captured yesterday. Document begins a copy of a letter, received from the Governor-General of Berber to the Governor of the section:—In the name of God, &c., from Mohammed Kheir Abdullah Khoy Fal, Emir General of Berber, to his friend, Abdul Magid Abi el Dekalek, and all his men. I inform you that to-day, after the midday prayer, we received a letter from the faithful Khalifa Abdullah Eben Mahammed, in which he tells us that Khartoum was taken on Monday, the 9th Rabi, 1302, on the side of El Haoni, in the following manner:—The Mahdi called upon his dervishes and entered Khartoum in a quarter of an hour. They killed the traitor Gordon, and captured the steamers and boats. God has made him glorious. Be grateful, and thank and praise God for his unspeakable mercy. I announce it to you. Tell your troops. Document ends.

It is dated the 13th Rabi, &c. On it is written—"Received Friday, 20th Rabi.

"Shall continue my advance to-morrow," Brackenbury's message ends. The 9th Rabi is the 26th January.

(From General Lord Wolseley to Secretary of State for War.)

KORTI, Thursday, 10.40 p.m.—First convoy of wounded just arrived, nine officers and thirty-four non-commissioned officers and men. I have visited all of them. I found them in the best of spirits, and looking very healthy, the desert air having done them much good. All anxious to be well again, and to have another fight with the enemy. The only one who looked worn by the journey was Lieutenant Lyall, R.A. The officers' names are Major Dickson, Lieutenant Beach, Dr. Macgill, Captain Snow, Captain Leonard, Lieutenant Miles, Lieutenant Livingstone, Lieutenant Lyall, and Lieutenant Stannel, who is ill from sunstroke.

The Post says—We should be only too glad if we could unfeignedly congratulate ourselves on the brilliant victory which we, in common with so many of our contemporaries, announced yesterday as having been on the banks of the Nile. Brilliant in one sense it certainly was, for we succeeded in capturing an extremely strong position which was held by the Arabs, and the discomfiture of the enemy was as complete as could have been desired. But it is impossible to close our eyes to the fact that the price we have been obliged to pay for this success is, so far as we are at present in a position to judge, out of all proportion to the advantage we secured. It is somewhat confidently alleged that the result of the victory will be to open the road to Berber; but we are bound to say that this is simply speculation. The wish is father to the thought, and we can only hope that both the thought and the wish will be realised. Considering the number of our troops engaged, the loss was enormous, and it is disheartening to reflect that this has hitherto been the invariable results of our conflicts with the warriors of the Nubian desert. If all our victories over the Soudanese are to be purchased as dearly as those at Abu Klea, Gubat, and Kerbekan, the price we shall have to pay for the campaign in the Soudan will be something appalling.

Other details of the War will be found on page 6.

HUNSLET BOARD OF GUARDIANS.

The usual fortnightly meeting of the above Board took place on Wednesday; present, Mr. Jas. Hargreaves, (chairman), Councillor Pickersgill and Mr. J. Dixon, (vice-chairmen), Messrs. Graveley, W. Lawton, J. Parker, H. Sheard, G. Greaves, C. Grosvenor, B. Aaron, J. Rollisson, G. Jepson, R. J. Smith, J. Hardcastle, J. Smith, and the clerk, (Mr. Schofield).

The minutes of last meetings were read and confirmed.

Over an hour was occupied in the consideration of cases reported by the relieving officers. Two or three persons, who are in arrears for payments for maintaining relatives in the workhouse, were ordered to pay the amount at once, or be summoned before the magistrates. In the case of other persons, there had been satisfactory arrangements for payment.

HARMLESS PAUPERS IN ASYLUMS.—After conversation, it was agreed that one person who is now in the asylum, may be accepted to in the workhouse.

Mr. R. J. Smith gave notice that at next meeting he shall move that instead of the Board visiting the Asylums once a year, a committee be agreed on for the intervening half-year, as he thought twelve months too lengthy a period, to allow their inmates to be unvisited.

HOUSE OF RECOVERY.—The chairman reported that the clerk and he had attended a meeting of the governors and subscribers, previous to the closing of the House of Recovery as a charity, and a resolution was passed to transfer the funds for the establishment of a home for convalescents.

BOARDING-OUT COMMITTEE.—Two children are put out in the ordinary manner, in a suitable home. The reports respecting other children boarded out are satisfactory, as usual.

VACCINATION COMMITTEE.—It appeared that a meeting of the Vaccination Committee was called for Wednesday last, when Mr. Snowden, for Hunslet, Mr. Denton, for Rothwell, and Mr Whitehead, for Woodlesford, were present, but unfortunately, not a single member of the Committee attended.

MEDICAL CERTIFICATES.—Dr. Smith explained that the complaint of his sending medical certificates open, had been caused by his assistant being unaware of the new plan of enclosing the certificates in envelopes, and trusted this explanation would be satisfactory; he heartily approved of the mode now adopted by the Guardians.

SALE.—The chairman having referred to the forthcoming sale of sleepers, suggested that a Committee be appointed to purchase some for the Workhouse. It was agreed on the motion of Messrs. Dixon and Greaves,—That Mr. Jepson and Mr. Aaron be the Committee for this purpose. Agreed.

PURCHASES.—The clerk having mentioned that a considerable amount is paid for yeast, by the master, it was agreed that next year, this commodity be included in the contracts for supplies.

PRESENT OF BOOKS.—The master reported that he had received a choice lot of books for the workhouse inmates, from Mr Councillor Cooke. A very cordial vote of thanks was carried for Mr. Cooke's thoughtful kindness.

The usual lists and returns were then read and approved.

ROTHWELL SCHOOL BOARD.

A special meeting of this Board was held on Monday afternoon, present, Messrs. W. Hargreaves, (chairman), J. G. Turner, J. R. Seanor and J. Batty, and the clerk.

ROTHWELL.—The clerk reported that immediately after last meeting, he had received an intimation that Miss Russell wished to resign her post as infants' mistress at Rothwell; he accordingly advertised for a teacher in her place, and had called this meeting in order to appoint some one of the numerous applicants. The several applications were then read, and although there were other excellent teachers seeking the post from other places, the Board were unanimously in favor of one of their own assistants. It was accordingly moved by the chairman and Mr. Turner—That Miss Ada Walkington, of Rothwell Haigh Schools, be appointed mistress of the Rothwell Infants' School.

A mutually advantageous arrangement was come to with Mr. Whitaker, whereby the amount of his salary depends on the success of his individual class.

ROTHWELL HAIGH.—The chairman reported the continued illness of Mrs. Dobson, mistress of the Infants' School, and the clerk was instructed to ask Mrs. Dobson to provide a temporary substitute.

REWARDS.—The arrangements for the distribution of prizes and the giving of concerts at the two schools were left with the clerk and the teachers, to take place as early as may be possible.

LOCAL BOARD MEETING.

The usual meeting of the Board took place on Monday, present, Messrs. W. Hargreaves, J. Holmes, J. Hargreaves, J. Oliver, J. Turner, H. P. Newsome, J. Dobson, J. Nowell, and the clerk, collector and surveyor.

After waiting a few minutes, in the expectation of Mr. Charlesworth occupying his position as chairman, the clerk took the head of the table, and read a letter announcing the resignation of Mr. W. Hargreaves, as vice-chairman of the Board. In reply to an enquiry by Mr. Newsome, as to whether Mr. Hargreaves had resolved to abide by his resignation, that gentleman replied in a decided affirmative. Mr. Newsome, having expressed his regret that Mr. Hargreaves should have got so grieved during the last few meetings, as to cause him to take this step, then moved in a few suitable words, that the resignation be accepted; seconded by Mr. Holmes. On being put, Messrs. Newsome, Holmes and Oliver voted in favor, Messrs J. Hargreaves, Turner and Dobson being neutral.

The clerk then asked some gentleman to nominate a member as vice-chairman. Mr. Turner moved that Mr. Oliver be elected vice-chairman, seconded by Mr. W. Hargreaves. Mr. Oliver expressed his determination not to accept the proffered honour, as there were older and more experienced men on the Board. Mr. Oliver then proposed Mr. Holmes, but that gentleman at once declined, feeling assured that if Mr. Wm. Hargreaves could not regulate the business, he could not. After some delay, Mr. Newsome then said that as Mr. Wm Hargreaves had finally resolved not to act as vice-chairman, he knew of no one who was likely to wield the "magisterial wand" with such dignity and authority as Mr. James Hargreaves, who had had considerable experience as chairman of the Hunslet Board of Guardians. Mr. Dobson seconded the motion. The other two names having been withdrawn, this remained as the only proposal and on being put to the meeting, there voted for it, Messrs. Newsome, Dobson, Oliver, and Turner; neutral, Messrs. W. Hargreaves and Holmes. Mr. Jas. Hargreaves, on taking the chair, intimated that as there were only four other meetings before the expiration of the Board year, he consented to accept the position in which they had placed him, and while endeavouring to conduct the business of the Board without fear or favour, he trusted they would have better results than they had had lately. Mr. Turner was proceeding to say that had Mr. Charlesworth been present, he should have expressed his opinion that the entire difficulty had arisen from their having a chairman who very seldom attended, but the chairman drew Mr. Turner's attention to the fact that the appointment of vice-chairman having been made, any remarks on this subject would be out of order. Mr. Nowell was not present up to this stage of the proceedings.

The minutes of last meeting were then read, and approved. In reply to Mr. Turner's enquiry, the clerk stated that the payment to the Leeds Corporation for the last quarter's water amounted to £99; he also stated that a much larger quantity than usual has been registered by persons having meters, amounting to one third of the entire consumption, and that it was thus satisfactory to know that the leakage which was supposed to have partly caused the increased consumption was not nearly so serious as was feared, but that on the other hand, their meter accounts were all much heavier.

Team Labour.—The tenders for team labour were opened and considered, and it was agreed on the motion of Mr. Newsome and Mr. Oliver—"That Mrs. Ann Smith's tender be accepted for "other roads."

The estimate submitted by Mr. Bleasby for the "main roads" was accepted, on the motion of Mr. W. Hargreaves and Mr. Dobson.

Road Material.—Mr. W. Hargreaves reported that the Highway Committee had inspected several samples of stone, and had decided on the most suitable. As, however, one or two matters in connection with the tenders required further examination, it was agreed, on the motion of Mr. Holmes and Mr. Newsome, that the final decision be again referred to the Highway Committee to report at next meeting. Previous to voting, Mr. Turner mentioned the shocking state of Royds Lane, which was worn to the clay in some places, and which ought to be attended to at once; he asked if the Committee could mend this road before getting the new stone. Mr. Hargreaves stated that this road was being repaired with stone they had in hand. Mr. Turner expressed his satisfaction.

Water.—Mr. Bromet having intimated his wish to have a personal interview with the clerk on the subject of water supply to Messrs. Lawton, Oliver, &c., it was agreed to.

Mr. W. Hargreaves asked what steps the Waterworks Committee had taken to remedy the late scarcity of water suffered by Rothwell people, and if they were assisting the surveyor in this matter. Mr. Turner, as chairman of the Committee, asked what they could have done. He had had an interview with Mr. Filliter's deputy, who said there was plenty of water in their reservoirs, and blamed the smallness of the pipes, and the leakages in Bell Hill. He believed the leakage had been caused by the coal being got under Bell Hill, letting down the pipes, and urged their being properly re-cauked. Mr. Nowell thought that Woodlesford and Oulton being in the same fix, proved that the reduced pressure arose from the same cause—the smallness of the pipes between Thwaite Gate and Church Street, and the extra consumption of 30,000 gallons a day now being used by a Hunslet firm. The surveyor said the supply had been much better the last fortnight. Mr. Holmes said he only knew of one meeting of this Committee being called during the whole year. The Committee should have met and reported to the Board; the meters at the boundary had only registered a pressure of 84 instead of 92 or 94, and they ought to have pressed the Corporation on the subject. Mr. W. Hargreaves said that as the Committee had not done so, he should now move that a strong complaint be made to the Corporation respecting the inconvenience caused by the small supply of water lately given. Mr. Newsome seconded the motion. Mr. Turner asked if this had not already been done. The clerk replied that at a hurried meeting, of which Mr. Holmes did not have intimation, a telgram was despatched "that there was not a drop of water in the reservoir," and asking immediate attention, and that it was in connection with this meeting that Mr. Turner visited Mr. Filliter's office. Mr. Hargreaves severely blamed the Committee for not taking more active steps in the matter; the motion was then carried.

Ashpits.—The reports as to the manner in which Mr. Ransley and Mr. Nichols had carried out their contracts for the emptying, etc., of ashpits, were generally satisfactory. Tenders were then opened, and on the motion of Mr. W. Hargreaves and Mr. Oliver, the tender of Mr. Jordan was accepted for Stourton; and on the motion of Mr. Oliver and Mr. Nowell, that of Mr. Nichols for Rothwell.

Mr. Nowell laid a complaint against the position of certain privies, which had been commenced near his house; the chairman of the Building Committee replied that the building had been immediately stopped on the surveyor observing that it was not according to plan.

Finance.—The collector reported having collected the following amounts during the fortnight:—

General District Rate	87	4	4
	£129	2	6

The Board and the Gas Co.—Mr. Wm. Hargreaves having observed the report of a trial at Wakefield, and certain letters in the newspapers, asked the clerk whether the Board had served any summons on the Gas Co. The clerk replied in the negative. He then asked what right had anyone to take out a summons in the name of the Board. Mr. Turner expressed his delight in having the matter brought forward in this manner, thus saving him the trouble of doing so himself. After referring to what had already appeared in the Leeds Mercury and in the Rothwell Times, he declared that Mr. Newsome knew very well that he had entered the case in his own name, and this was simply a trick. Mr. Newsome then read the report of the trial as it appeared in the Mercury, and knowing that the Local Board had not summoned the Gas Co, wrote a letter to that paper, which was replied to by the Wakefield correspondent, who declared he had "that day seen the West Riding Magistrates' Register of the casess dealt with by them on the day in question, the Magistrates' Clerk's book, and also the books of the West Riding police, and in all of them the case is entered (as it was on the list of cases on the day of hearing)—"Rothwell Urban Sanitary Authority," complainants; "Rothwell Gas Light Company," defendants." Mr. Newsome now wished to know how the name of the Urban Sanitary Authority (Rothwell Local Board) had got on to the books at all. Mr. Nowell said his subpœna was under the name of John Turner. Mr. Turner reiterated the fact that Mr. Newsome knew very well that he had taken out the summons in his own name and nobody else. He had gone in the regular way, and was glad that Sergeant Turton was with him at the time, and that the summons was signed by Mr. W. B. Beaumont. Mr. W. Hargreaves expressed himself as quite satisfied. Mr. Newsome could not feel satisfied as to how the name of Rothwell Urban Sanitary Authority had got on to the official books. The chairman, who said he had no interest whatever in the Gas Company, would also like to know how this entry had got on to the list. Mr. Turner could not say, he was not responsible for it at all. In further conversation, it transpired that Mr. Turner had described himself as a member of the Rothwell Urban Sanitary Authority, and in this fact probably rests the explanation of the mistake which has been made, in placing the name of the Board as complainants instead of Mr. Turner.

Newspaper Reports.—Mr. Turner asked that in case an incorrect or unfair report of the Board meetings appeared in the paper, if the publisher declined to admit a letter correcting the same, 'that the reporter be excluded.' Mr. Turner said that Mr. Marshall had told him that he should only publish what he thought proper. Several members pointed out that it was not in the power of the Board to say what should be published, and what should be withheld, though they could exclude a reporter if they so decided. The reporter expressed his surprise at Mr. Turner's remarks, and distinctly stated that he had never refused a single letter on public matters, and that being quite independent of any individual member of the Board, he endeavoured to give unbiassed reports. [We may also state here, that in the last letter sent by Mr. Turner on the gas question, our objection was to the postscript, which was not in the manuscript as approved by us; but even this would have been permitted, had not Mr. Turner threatened that if the whole was not published, he would not have any of it in, (this was after we had got the letter in type, including the postscript), and the editor then said that if it was only to be done under threat, he would not be made do it, and declined the whole thing, stating that "he should publish what he liked." An Englishman will usually turn, if an attempt is made to force him,—a truth which even Mr. Turner would not object to maintain.—Ed.]

Byelaws.—Mr. W. Hargreaves urged the revision of the byelaws. Mr. Turner suggested that a book be kept in which to insert any remarks for the improvement of the byelaws. Mr. Nowell thought the clerk should write for copies of byelaws used by other Boards; this was seconded by Mr Turner, and carried. The clerk said the Local Government Board issued a set of byelaws, and they would be their best guide.

Books.—Mr. W. Hargreaves wished to know where he would find any of the reference books purchased by the Board. The clerk said they would be found in the Board Room, except one on the Gas Acts, which Mr. Turner had borrowed. Mr. Turner intimated that he would return it that night. The chairman thought the best plan was for any member to be at liberty to have the loan of these books on application to the clerk.

Cheap Nourishment.—Fourteen large Breakfast Cups of strong, reliable Cocoa can be made from a Sixpenny Packet of Cadbury's Cocoa Essence. Ask for Cadbury's, and do not be imposed upon.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

Rothwell Church Sunday School.—It has been the custom of the Rothwell Church Sunday School to have a tea and dance just before the season of Lent began. This year it has been celebrated with more eclát than usual, and has been in every way a great success. Friday last was the date selected, and there assembled about 70 or 80 teachers and friends at the appointed time for tea, which was provided in the girls' school-room; the tea and provisions were of excellent quality and enjoyed by all present. At eight o'clock the dancing commenced in the boys' school, which had been cleared and very tastefully decorated with tissues, banners, pictures, &c., and the floor of which had been well waxed, adding greatly to the enjoyment of those who had the opportunity of having a spin. There were twenty-four dances gone through, consisting of Circassian circle, three polkas, three quadrilles, and one quadrille in line, four waltzs, four lancers, three schottisches and one Highland schotische, two mazurkas, one ninepins, and one sarabands. Mr. Geo. Goodair, of Outwood, was the pianist, and played with his usual ability. The dancing ceased at one o'clock, and the company broke up well satisfied and well tired.

Bell-Ringing.—On Sunday last, the members of the Rothwell company, rang a 'date touch' of 1885 changes, on the bells of Rothwell Parish Church in 1 hour and 4 minutes. The following methods were used, 85 Oxford Treble Bob, 360 New London Pleasure, 720 Duke of York, 720 Violet. The performers were J. Verity, treble; Alf Chapman, 2; J. Harrison, 3; Wm. Abbishaw (conductor), 4; J. Chapman, 5; J. M. Chadwick, tenor (13 cwt).

Stourton Wesleyan Mutual Improvement Class.—The above class met on Friday evening last to listen to a discoursd on "Entire Sanctification," by Mr. Jas. Keightley, of Stourton. Owing to the absence of the president, Mr. T. Kale (vice-president) took the chair, and presided over the meeting. The attendance was not quite so good as usual, but notwithstanding this a very profitable evening was spent. At the close of the essay, Mr. Keightley was asked to give one of his own poems (he having composed some very good ones) and to this he agreed, and delivered it with very good expression.

Stourton Wesleyan Sunday School Band of Hope.—The members of the above Band of Hope held a public tea on Saturday last, to which a good number sat down. After tea, a miscellaneous entertainment was given, presided over by Mr. Handforth Richardson, of Horsforth. The chapel was well filled at 7 o'clock, when the entertainment was opened by singing and prayer, after which the chairman gave a very interesting address touching on teetotalism and kindred topics. After this he proceeded with the programme, the first called upon being Miss R. Gillings, to give a recitation entitled 'My mother,' followed by a solo by Mr. T. Genner. Next came Miss E. A. Longthorn with a recitation entitled 'A husband's vow,' which was given in good style. A duett 'Safe in the ark' was the next, by Misses M. and E. Smith, followed with a melody by the choir. Miss A. E. Clemson then sang in good style 'Beautiful Brooklet.' After a recitation, 'The widow's son,' by Miss E. Smith, a 'tonic sol-fa' quartette was given by Mr. Kale and party, which was deservedly encored. A recitation "Found ready" was next given by Miss E. Pease, followed by a duett entitled "My happy home" by Mrs Webb and Miss C. Booth. Mr. Kale sang a solo "Jesus by the sea," followed by a reading by the chairman, Mr. Richardson, which was encored. Next came an anthem by the choir, "Praise the Lord" after which a "collection piece" was recited by Miss J. Ramsden, followed by the collection. After a solo by Miss A. Nash, and a melody by the choir, the meeting was brought to a close at about 9.30. The singing was conducted by Mr. Abm. Smith, and Mr. F. Fatkin presided at the harmonium.

Found Drowned at Stourton.—An inquest was held yesterday at Stourton Hotel Pontefract Road, before T. Taylor Esq., coroner, on view of the body of a male child, unknown, probably about two days old, which was found dead in the Aire and Calder canal. The body was observed floating on the water by the captain of the Screw boat, and he informed Thomas Roberts, of Thwaite Cottage of the fact. Roberts had the child conveyed to the Stourton Hotel. Medical evidence shewed that death had taken place before the child had been put into the water, and was probably caused by neglect or unskilled treatment after its birth. A verdict of "Found drowned" was returned.

Oulton.—The Gospel Temperance Society, gave an entertainment on Monday last 9th inst., in the Free Church School-room, to a crowded audience, who evidently enjoyed the treat provided for them. The glees, songs, dialogues etc., were well rendered by various members of the society.

WOODLESFORD and OULTON.

Occasional Notes.

The concert given under the auspices of the Oulton Brass Band in the National School-room on Friday evening last, was a decided success. The object of the promoters was to supplement the subscription which is being raised to present a testimonial to the leader of the band, Mr. B. Walker. The programme contained much that was excellent in the way of good music, and the room was crowded to a degree of discomfort, by a very respectable audience, who were very liberal, if not always discriminating, in bestowing applause. Songs were contributed by Miss Longbottom (of Methley), who sang 'I've just had a letter,' (Southwell), and 'The mariner's wife,' (Fowlds)—(encored); and Miss Teale, who gave 'The reign of the roses' (Lowthian) and Cowen's 'Better Land.' Miss Teale also accompanied several of the songs. Mr. Atkinson, who was evidently not in his best form, sang 'Sally in our Alley,' (Cary), and 'When Vulcan forged the bolts of Jove,' (Braham). Mr. B. W. Higgins substituted 'Jerusalem' for Pinsuti's 'King's Minstrel' put up for him on the programme, apologising for, and explaining why the change had to be made. He also sang with his usual dramatic force Emmanuel's descriptive song, 'The Desert;' both songs were encored. Mr. T. West gave 'The King's Champion,' (Michael Watson), and Sullivan's 'By-and-bye.' His fine voice and unaffected style securing for him as usual hearty recalls. Comic songs were given by Mr. R. J. Smith and Mr. A. Batty; these, of course, were all encored. It is but just, however, to say that the compliments in each case were well-merited. The songs given are getting too well known; the singers would hardly feel grateful for the assistance volunteered by the 'gods,' in the choruses to the 'Speaker's Eye,' and 'The three little pigs.' A reading in the Yorkshire dialect, 'T'berryin brass,' which was full of broad—very broad—humour, was given by Mr. T. A. Coope, and evidently highly relished by the majority of the audience. Adjectives have been exhausted in eulogising Miss Middlemiss's playing, we therefore simply state that she gave as a piano solo Weber's 'Invitation à la valse,' and as the encore Thalberg's 'Home, sweet home.' Miss Middlemiss also accompanied most of the songs, and the cornet solo played by the beneficiare, Mr. B. Walker. The soloist neglected the precaution of tuning to the piano, the consequence was that the effect of his playing was spoilt by a very prominent discord in the pitch of the two instruments. He was more successful in the cornet solo, 'I dream'd a dream,' which he played alone as an encore. The overture by Widdel which opened the concert, was very neatly played by the band; they resisted the temptation to play too loud, one could listen in comfort without cotton in one's ears, which is more than can be said of many brass band performances which we have suffered from in small rooms. A trio by three members of the band concluded the concert. Before the company dispersed, the Rev. R. H. Hamilton took the opportunity to say a few words. He highly praised the performers, congratulating them on the success which had deservedly rewarded their efforts, and expressed very hearty sympathy with the object of the subscription which the concert was intended to help forward.

The cornet purchased for presentation, which was on view in the concert room, is by Besson, London. It is a beautiful silver-plated instrument, richly chased and inlaid. It is said to be one of a set of instruments which secured for the maker the first prize at the Calcutta Exhibition.

A miscellaneous entertainment consisting of glees, songs, recitations &c., was given in the United Methodist Free Church at Oulton on Monday last, in aid of the temperance society, which has had its quarters there. Several entertainments, services of songs &c., have been given successfully from time to time by members of this society, which is carrying on a very active and useful existence. The society seems to have sprung, Phœnix-like, from the dying ashes of the Band of Hope which was organised and kept together for a considerable time at the Oulton Wesleyan Chapel, chiefly by the efforts of Miss Castle, Miss Walker, Mr. Willie Mason, and others. This in its turn may be said to have been a revival of the Band of Hope promoted by the Rev. R. H. Hamilton many years ago, when the temperance cause was not so popular, nor had so many influential adherents as is happily the case now.

We are requested to state that the annual Minstrel Entertainment by members of the Choral Society, which was to be given on Shrove-Tuesday, will be abandoned this year. We regret to announce this decision, which we are told has been arrived at chiefly on the ground that too many concerts have been given in the neighbourhood lately, and that another so soon would be superfluous, and not likely to succeed. There is something in this, but our black friends have a constituency of their own, to whom it is always safe to appeal. Much disappointment will be felt, as many people look forward to this annual event, and consistently support it.

A very enjoyable concert was given on Monday evening last, in the Parochial School-room, Swillington, in aid of the Church Choir fund. Amongst those who assisted were Miss Middlemiss, Miss C. Braime, the Misses Davis, Mr. T. West, Mr. Hartley, etc. The choir contributed several glees. There was a very good attendance, and the proceeds will realise over £6.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

Rothwell had to put up with another defeat on Saturday last, this time at the hands of Meanwood. A very fast game was witnessed, and up to nearly five minutes off time, I may add a pleasant one to, when a dispute arose in reference to a foul in front of the Meanwood goal. The facts of the case, as supplied me by an eye witness of the match as follows:—the ball being in the Meanwood quarters, one of the visitors made a pass, when the captain of the home team in trying to stop the ball, held it with his elbow against his body, and having lost his feet kept the ball in this position a few seconds in trying to regain a firm standing. An appeal for a foul was made by Rothwell, and all their men stopped playing, meanwhile Bolland and Hepper got the ball, ran to the other end of the field and put it between the uprights—a very easy task, seeing they had nobody to dodge. The Meanwood umpire said he told the men to keep on playing, but the Rothwell umpire held that the ball had been fouled, and to settle the matter it should be thrown up. This the home team would not agree to, they wanted the goal they had so gallantly fought for, or else nothing at all. My own idea with regard to the point is that if the captain of the home team did hold the ball as above stated, while in the act of regaining himself (which he admitted he did) he must have carried the ball, and it distinctly says in the rules in two places that neither knocking-on nor carrying the ball under any pretence whatever is allowed, and any player offending, a free kick shall be given to the opposing side. It appears that Rothwell had to play against the wind during the first half, and in the second half were getting slightly the best of their opponents, and about the time when the foul occurred, the Rothwell forwards were keeping them hard at work, and I am given to think that under the circumstances, Meanwood men were afraid that before time their opponents might make matters equal or perhaps gain the upperhand of them so that if they could only get a couple of goals in front of them they might appear safe, for to be defeated with a second team of the Rothwell club, would be a lowering—for such was the case. In the first half of the game Meanwood had undoubtedly the best of it, and for about half way through the second half matters were pretty even, after which Rothwell began to have the best of play until the dispute arose. The goal obtained by J. Hepper in the first half was a real beauty, being kicked from near the corner. Tiffany's goal-keeping was a treat to witness, and H. Richardson was also seen to advantage, in fact the whole team of Rothwell played up gamely, and against such heavy odds are to be congratulated on the way they held their own.

Stourton St. Andrew's arranged an extra match on Saturday last with East Hardwick School, Pontefract, a club I have heard little, as one of any importance. Stourton did not muster a strong team, several of their best men were absentees. However, a pretty even game appears to have been played, as each side when the wind was in their favour, scored two goals.

CAPTAIN.

ROTHWELL v. MEANWOOD.

The return match between these clubs was played at Meanwood on Saturday last. Despite the heavy rain which had descended during the week, the ground was in excellent condition, and a fast game resulted. Rothwell having lost the toss, kicked off in face of a heavy wind. The defensive play of the visitors backs was a treat to witness this half, as they resisted every effort of the home forwards, although a grand shot from the right wing by J. Hepper, mastered the goal-keeper, Tiffany, who, however, defended his charge in a daring manner throughout. The Rothwell forwards got hold and ran to the other end several times, but with no tangible result. Half-time being called, the ball was re-started, and the wind having dropped, play was even for a while, but eventually the visitors were pressing the home backs, and with every likelihood of scoring, when a foul occurred, and a dispute arising there-from, the game ended rather abruptly in a win for Meanwood by 1 goal to nil. The Rothwell players made a hard fight of it with the team they had, which was a weak one.

Rothwell Team.—Goal, W. Tiffany; backs, R. H. Lewis, E. Newbould; half backs, A. W. Seanor, A. Baines, H. Richardson; forwards, H. Greenwood, I. Blackburn, H. White, W. Blackburn, J. Harrison, (capt.)

STOURTON St. ANDREW'S v. EAST HARDWICK SCHOOL.

This match was played at Pontefract on Saturday. Stourton were poorly represented, Charlesworth, Lunn, Pearson, Waterhouse, Stead, Green, and Goldthorpe, being absentees. Having won the toss, Stourton elected to play with the wind and Barrett set the ball in motion for East Hardwick. During the first half the ball was mostly in the home quarters. From a corner kick by J Goldthorpe, Johnson scored the first goal for Stourton, which was soon followed by second which, however the umpires over-ruled owing to some off side play. A. Goldthorpe, afterwards scored another goal for Stourton, and at half time the score stood 2 goals to nil. On restarting, the leather was at first carried into the school territory, but nothing came of it. The ball now travelled quickly all over the field and the School forwards at last did the needful. Just before the call of time Barret again put the ball through for the School, thus leaving the match a tie, each side scoring 2 goals. Exley played well forward, but the exhibition of the others was undoubtedly below form. The School team all played fairly, North and Addingley forwards, and Barstow and Rollisson backs, doing good service. A word of praise should be given to the school goal-keeper, Fearnside. Teams.—Stourton—Goal, A. W. Laverick; Backs, J. Goldthorpe, (capt) and F. Fatkin; half-backs, J. Rathmell, Sharphouse, J. Warwick; forwards, A. E. Goldthorpe, Exley, Johnson, Castlehouse, and a substitute. East Hardwick.—Goal, Fearnside, Backs, Rollinson and Slack; half-backs, A. Waterhouse, and P. Barstow; forwards, Barret, (capt) North, Sharples, Addingley, Bevan and Craven.

ROTHWELL PARISH CHURCH.

TOWN TALK.

The writer of Town Talk, albeit he has the satisfaction of knowing his column is read, gets many a kick by divers persons in divers places. This is but natural. He who tilts in the open field must expect a whack occasionally. There are persons who do not care the snap of a finger at being hit by paper bullets, and I generally select these when the public good demands it, as subjects of my gossip.

A gay-hearted character of the village seized me the other night and spoke certain things in my ear, which caused me to exclaim amid fits of uncontrollable merriment. "You don't say so." Is it a fact?" What absurdity," "why did'nt you deny it!" and so on. "Deny it!" said he, "not I. Let them pursue the 'Will o' the wisp' and flounder in the quagmire until their imagination gets sobered."

Are there those who think Town Talk is written by some individual and particular mortal? Banish the thought! Town Talk is the quintessence of village chat. The photograph of certain phases of Rothwell life and sentiment, focussed by the sun, pictured by genial gossip, and sent into the world on the golden wings of that local luminary known in the civilized world as the Rothwell Times.

The day is fast approaching when the question of the incidence of the water rate, and the charges for water generally, will be brought up for discussion and, perhaps, for settlement. The present arrangement is merely temporary. The principle to be set before the ratepayers is this. The water should pay its own costs and charges, but should not be levied to relieve the highway rate. It is unfair, in a community like ours, to charge for water on the rateable value. Every tenement up to a £10 rental should pay an uniform price for town's water, and the scale regulated for houses above that value. If we go in extensively for meters, a lot of capital will have to lay dead in the cost of them and much expense incurred in the repair and inspection thereof. This is quite unnecessary. The charge for water can be made equitable and satisfactory. It is a subject which warrants, and will demand the serious attention of the ratepayers.

At the end of the year I looked into the cost of my gas cooker, and at the same time examined my coal and cinder bills for the 13 weeks ending December 31st, and compared them with the corresponding 13 weeks of last year, with this result:—my gas bill is 13s extra, and my coal and cinder bill (carting included) is 15s. less; so that I save 2s., but to this has to be added the cost of hire of the gas oven and the fixing of it. The comfort derived from a gas cooker must be experienced to be appreciated. Under careful management it is not only economical, it is a real boon in a tidy household. Always ready at a moment's notice for heating water, baking bread, pies or pudding, or roasting flesh or fowl. For making soup it is unrivalled. A good sized brown jar is put inside the gas oven containing the ingredients, and the smallest blue light left burning all night. If this is done during the evening, next day the soup is excellent. We use split Egyptian lentils, Haricot beans, chopped onions, celery, with fresh meaty bones. To this the epicure would add when served, a morsel of Liebig's extract of beef and a few drops of Yorkshire relish; but really these are not needed to make the dish enjoyable.

From a few lines in the Rothwell Times last week I was pleased to know, that the work people at the Rothwell Haigh colliery, had subscribed the noble sum of £39. 8s. 4d., towards the maintenance of that invaluable institution, the Leeds General Infirmary. Before proceeding further, let me thank them, in the name of suffering humanity, for their liberal gift. But this is not the only subscription sent to the Infirmary out of Rothwell; there are many private gentlemen who give liberally of their money, and last June at the Infirmary demonstration, over £40 was cleared, and handed to the funds of the Infirmary by the committee. The Infirmary Sunday question will soon be brought up again. Last year much "feeling" was introduced into the controversy, and the effort was not supported so unitedly as one would have liked. If possible we must get every individual in the district interested in the work, and endeavour to conduct the demonstration in such a way as to command the approval of all. Of course, there will be a difference of opinion as to the day on which it shall be held, and I desire to offer one or two suggestions for the guidance of the committee in this respect. Everybody will no doubt remember how I supported Sunday last year, as the most suitable day on which to aid the halt, the maimed and sick, and I still think I am right in my opinions; but there are grave reasons why we should be most careful how we act, and after having carefully surveyed the surroundings, we must decide—not as we as individuals think it right—but for the general success of the demonstration. The heads of various religious bodies last year recommended that their members should not encourage Sunday demonstrations, and many members of the church and chapels refrained from joining in the proceedings, and as these are usually generous supporters of philanthropy, the collection although a good one, must have suffered considerably. In the face of these facts can we continue the demonstration on a Sunday. The president of the Wesleyan Conference, and the Rural Dean, will probably continue to oppose Sunday demonstrations, and the members of these denominations will become more and more separated from us, so that we shall suffer more and more. With these facts before us, I should try Saturday. There were some who even took prominent places in the proceedings last year who would prefer Saturday, and seeing that opinion is so greatly divided, we cannot but do fairly to all and try both days.

This year is the two hundredth anniversary of the birthday of Handel the celebrated author of the "Messiah" and other great works of musical composition, and among the celebrations of the event, I am glad to notice that Rothwell is taking her part. The Old Brass Band is arranging for an instrumental Concert on the 23rd inst., when selections from the great composer's works will be rendered, and I hope it will be as successful as concerts generally are in Rothwell.

GOSSIP.

ROTHWELL OLD BAND SUPPER.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir.

In the account of the supper and presentation to four old members of the Old Brass Band in last Friday's paper, it is stated that the proceedings were enlivened by the Rothwell Harmonic Union. This statement is untrue, as not one of the members of the Union were present, but we are informed that the usurpers of the name are the late members of the Rothwell Church Choir.

Yours Truly,
Members of the Rothwell Harmonic Union.

HARRIERS.

The Stourton and St. Mark's Harriers had an inter-run on Saturday from the Queen Hotel, Stourton, only a small number of members having turned up it was decided to run without hares. At 3-25 the pack with W. Atkinson (Stourton) as pace, and H. Powson, (St. Marks) as whip started across Mr. Ransley's farm, through Parnaby's Wood into Middleton Road, past the New Hall Collieries, and into Gipsy Lane, then along Sharp Lane and across country towards Middleton, then a sharp turn to the left to Ardsley, where a turn for home was made coming across country and out into the Wakefield Road at Robin Hood. The race in commenced at Jaw Bones, one mile from home. A. Bywater, (St. Marks) coming in first, then B. Ross, W. Fatkin, (Stourton) J. Thompson, G. Smith, H. Pawson, (St. Marks) F. W. Jones, and W. Atkinson (Stourton) arriving at 4-40 after a good run of about 9 miles.

Throat Irritation & Cough.—Soreness and dryness, tickling and irritation, inducing cough and affecting the voice. For these symptoms use Epps' Glycerine Jujubes. In contact with the glands at the moment they are excited by the act of sucking, the Glycerine in these agreeable confections becomes actively healing. Sold only in boxes, 7½d., tins 1s 1½d., labelled "James Epps & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London." A letter received: "Gentlemen,—It may perhaps interest you to know that, after an extended trial, I have found your Glycerine Jujubes of considerable benefit (with or without medical treatment) in almost all forms of throat disease. They soften and clear the voice.—Yours faithfully, Gordon Holmes, M.D., Senior Physician to the Municipal Throat and Ear Infirmary."

KAY'S COMPOUND. Essence of Linseed, Aniseed, Senega, Squill, Tolu, &c., with Chlorodyne. Of all Chemists.

Holloway's Ointment & Pills.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally, and the ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceedingly efficacious. When influenza is epidemic, this treatment is the easiest, safest and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of escaping from suffering when afflicted with colds, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which the health of so many is seriously and permanently injured in most countries.

COAGULINE.—Cement for Broken Articles, 6d., 1s., 2s.; postage, 2d. Sold everywhere. Kay Bros., Stockport.

THE Borough Arms Cocoa House Kirkgate.—Dinner from the joint 12.0 to 2.30

KAY'S COMPOUND.—Asthma and Bronchitis are immediately relieved by it. Kay Bros., Stockport

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high coloured; depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population have this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. The disease is Dyspepsia or Indigestion, for which Seigel's Curative Syrup is a certain remedy. Seigel's Operating Pills are an effective remedy for Constipation and Biliousness. Those afflicted with Asthma will find immediate relief by using the Rosinweed Tar Mixture. Genuine has A. J. White, Lim., on the stamp. An almanac containing testimonials from persons who have received benefit from use of Seigel's Curative Syrup will be furnished, free of charge, by the proprietors, A. J. White, Lim. 17, Farringdon Road, London, E.C.

KAY'S COMPOUND, a demulcent anodyne expectorant for Coughs and Colds, 9½d., 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d.; postage, 3d.

Throat Affections and Hoarseness.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by John I. Brown & Sons, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name Consumption Emulsion. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 123 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find there is a gain of weight even after it has been used." Such a testimony as this speaks volumes for the efficiency of Phthisicon. In addition, it has proved of immense value as a curative agent in the early stages of Brain Disease and Scrofula; in fact, wherever there is impaired nutrition or lack of nerve power, its action is almost certain. It can be obtained of all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s., and 21s. per bottle. Wholesale of [illegible] and Sons, Farringdon-street, London, E.C.; or of W. B. Trick, [illegible], 82, Green-lanes London, N.

MEDICINES, Elastic Stocking, Chemicals of every kind, per parcel post promptly. Kay Bros. Stockport.

IS RHEUMATISM CURABLE? Yes, if you take WOODCOCK'S RHEUMATIC MIXTURE. Speedily cures Rheumatic Pains in the Limbs, Rheumatic Pains in the Head, Rheumatic Pains in the Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatic Swellings and Stiffness; in fact, every phase of Rheumatism; no matter how acute or long standing, it never fails. OBSERVE—This is not a quack remedy warranted to cure everything, but a genuine SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM only. Order or Stamps, from Page D. Woodcock, Lincoln.

VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the Individual: an instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock and Optician Trade. Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has cast about him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. Having been thirty-five years in the trade, in the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was naturally 'up to all the wrinkles.' The middle men, known by the names of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of Manufacturers, who are willing to supply his Establishment at the cost of materials and men's time in the making. In short, placing the Goods before the public, at single articles at wholesale prices. The management is still under R. Scott's personal control, who takes this opportunity of thanking his Patrons in the past, and hopes to receive a mark of their confidence. In future the firm will be known as Scott & Co., Goldsmiths, Silversmiths, Opticians, Watch and Clock Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.

If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly restored by good workmen. Scott & Co. guarantee their work for 12 months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made as new, on very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

LOCAL BOARD MEETING.

The usual meeting of the above Board was held on Monday evening, though some doubts were felt as to whether a quorum could be managed, only Mr. J. Hargreaves and Mr. Oliver being present at the hour of six. Messrs. Newsome, W. Hargreaves, J. Nowell, and J. Turner dropped in however, one by one, and business proceeded.

The minutes were read and confirmed.

HIGHWAYS.—The chairman of the Highway Committee stated that they had decided that the order for stone should be held over till the new Board was formed, as the quantity proposed to be purchased is considerable. In reply to a question, there is plenty of material now on hand for present necessities.

The clerk read a letter from Messrs. Green's, asking the Board's opinion on the steam road roller lately purchased from them, and it was proposed by Mr. W. Hargreaves, that a testimonial be forwarded to Messrs. Green and Sons, expressing the entire satisfaction of the Board, with the steam road roller purchased from them. Mr. Oliver cordially seconded the motion, which was unanimously carried.

In reply to a letter from the Clerk, the secretary to the Co-operative Society asked that the hoarding in front of their buildings in Church St., might remain a little longer, till the lime was got away. The Board, with one voice, expressed their surprise that the Society should not have at once removed the hoarding, after having been there so long, and a resolution was passed requiring the clearance of the footpath at three days' notice.

A letter was read from Messrs. Horn Bros. asking the Board to repair the road to Thwaite Mills. A similar reply was ordered to those previously given, pointing out that being a private road, it is not in the Board's jurisdiction.

Dr. Nowell asked about the hedges overhanging the road. The chairman also referred to the inconvenience of the low branches of trees overhanging the wall in Wood Lane. Mr. Oliver said the churchwardens had considered the subject. Mr. Newsome suggested that a letter be written to the churchwardens asking their attention to this matter. Mr. W. Hargreaves said the Committee would attend to the cutting of the trees and hedges.

HEALTH.—Dr. Glaister, the medical officer of health, read his annual report, that during four weeks ending February 21st, there have been 10 births (4 male and 6 female), 9 deaths (5 male and 4 female); during the corresponding period last year there were 17 births and 4 deaths. The causes of death during the past four weeks are as follows:—1 male, aged about a day, found in Aire and Calder canal; 1 male, 2 years and 11 months, measles and diarrhœa; 1 female, 2 years, measles—catarrhal pneumonia; 1 female, 2 years, measles—catarrhal pneumonia; 1 male, 14 days, marasmus; 1 female, 9 weeks, infantile paralysis; 1 male, 5 weeks, marasmus; 1 female, 66 years, bronchitis; 1 male, 86 years, apoplexy. He said that there was at present quite an epidemic of measles and whooping cough, but nothing else to call for special report.

The clerk stated that he had received a letter from the Local Government Board, signifying approval of Dr. Glaister's appointment as medical officer for another year.

ELECTION.—The clerk reported that the Board ought now to appoint some gentleman as returning officer at the forthcoming election. Mr. Charlesworth had signified his intention not to act in that capacity. It was proposed by Mr. W. Hargreaves, that Mr. Holmes be elected returning officer for this year, seconded by Mr. Newsome, and carried.

The clerk said that according to a recent letter from the Attorney General, the provisions in regard to Local Board elections were now much more stringent than they had been, and special care should be taken that there was no infringement of them in the coming election, should there be a contest.

WATER.—In reply to the clerk, a letter had been received from the Corporation stating that the scarcity of water at Rothwell would receive attention at the next meeting of the Waterworks Committee.

The clerk reported that Mr. Lunn, of Lofthouse, had been asking when the Board could receive another deputation as regards the water supply to Carlton and Lofthouse. After some conversation on the failure of the last arrangement for this purpose, it was finally agreed that the Board will be willing to receive a deputation on this subject, at the next meeting. It was also agreed that the Waterworks Committee be called together previous to such meeting, specially to consider this question.

The interview asked for by Lord Stourton's agent, having been narrated by the clerk, it appeared evident that the Board could make no further progress for the water supply of Messrs. Oliver, Lawton and others, and it was resolved to pass to the next business.

A letter was read from Messrs. M. Oldroyd & Sons, applying for a reduction in the charge for their water, but as it is according to their application, and was a serious cost putting in, no alteration could be made.

CONTRACTS.—On the motion of Mr. Oliver and Mr. Newsome, the seal of the Board was ordered to be affixed to the two contracts for ashpits cleansing.

BYE ROADS.—Mr. W. Hargreaves, Mr. Turner, and other members complained of the shocking condition of Mr. Nickols' roads, there being nothing done on them at all; and after further conversation it was resolved that seven days' notice be served on Mr. Nichols to carry out his contract, as instructed by the surveyor.

TELL TALE.—Mr. W. Hargreaves moved that a tell tale be published of the attendances of the several members during the year. He only wished that they could have a record of the time at which they came to the meetings. Mr. Turner warmly complained of Mr. Hargreaves bringing forward such a proposition after the action of himself and others last year. He believed it was just about twelve months since he moved and got carried, a resolution to the same effect, and yet at the next meeting Mr. Bramley got it rescinded. He believed it was the last thing Mr. Bramley did while a member of the Board, and he would like to know how certain members voted then, pointing to Mr. W. Hargreaves, Mr. Newsome and the chairman. Mr. Oliver believed that Mr. Bramley gave notice to rescind the motion at the next meeting, but that when that time came round, (being the last meeting), the motion was valueless for that year. [While the clerk was looking for the minute, Mr. Nowell enquired through the chairman, whether Mr. Newsome was suffering from any infirmity in his legs, as he observed that gentleman did not stand when speaking (!) Mr. Newsome, in his usual composed manner, laconically replied that he was at present suffering from indisposition, which most unaccountably fell to his legs, making them feel, on the present occasion, like pieces of paper pulp. The explanation was cordially accepted, and no doubt deep sympathy expressed for the hon. member.] The clerk having found the resolutions respecting the tell tale, it appeared that at a meeting held on March 10th, a resolution was passed on the motion of Mr. Hargreaves, seconded by Mr. Turner, 'that a tell-tale of attendances be published for the year; Mr. Holmes, and Mr. Bramley neutral. At the following meeting, March 24th, Mr. Bramley gave notice of his to move that the resolution be rescinded next meeting. When that meeting came round, the election had already taken place, on April 5th. Mr. Turner, having withdrawn his strictures on the gentlemen above named, it was agreed on the motion of Mr. W. Hargreaves, seconded by Mr. Newsome, that a tell tale of attendances be published.

By the advice of Mr. Turner, certain action was agreed on, as regards the bye-roads, which it is hoped will result in a speedy improvement in them.

GAS TESTS.—Mr. W. Hargreaves enquired if any action had been taken with regard to the testing of the gas. Mr. Nowell said it had been very bad the previous evening, and if it had not been Sunday, he should have arranged for a test. Mr. Turner had not observed its bad quality. Mr. W. Hargreaves urged that preliminary arrangements should be made with a practical man, so that they could drive off to Leeds at any hour and bring Mr. Buckley or some one else back with them, and make a test, without informing anyone else. Mr. Newsome, who is one of the directors, expressed the equal anxiety of the directors that the gas should be tested. He wished to complain of the one-sided view usually taken by the Rothwell Times as regards gas questions, especially that while the Company gave gas of one or two candles more than was required, they got no credit for that, but any little complaint or failure was fully ventilated.

General District Rate	84	11	10½
	£111	11	4½

CEMETERY DRAIN.—After some conversation, it was proposed by Mr. W. Hargreaves, to give Mr. Simpson instructions that if the Corporation do not carry out the arrangements to be decided between Dr. Goldie and Dr. Glaister, for disinfecting, etc., the drainage from the Woodhouse Cemetery, within 14 days, that the entire matter will be laid before the Local Government Board. Mr. Newsome seconded the motion, which was carried.

VOTING LISTS.—Mr. Nowell asked whether any list existed in the Board room, shewing which way persons voted at elections. The clerk replied that the law required that the voting papers should be kept six months, after which time they might be destroyed. Mr. Nowell asked if any for years past were now in the Board-room, to which the clerk expressed his inability to answer without an opportunity of search; he knew that a number of voting papers had been destroyed each year. Mr. Nowell then gave notice that he would ask the question at next meeting.

THE GAS TRIAL.—Mr. Turner having expressed his wish that the clerk should ascertain from the magistrates' clerk at Wakefield in whose name the summonses against the Rothwell Gas Light Co. were taken out, and how such entries came to be made. A proposition to this effect was moved by Mr. W. Hargreaves, seconded by Mr. Nowell, and carried

HUNSLET BOARD OF GUARDIANS.

The usual meeting of the Board took place on Wednesday evening, present—Mr. James Hargreaves (chairman), Mr. J. Dixon (vice-chairman), and Messrs. J. Graveley, B. Aaron, C. Grosvenor, R. J. Smith, G. Jepson, J. Smith, H. Sheard, J. Hardcastle, J. Parker, W. Lawton, and the clerk (Mr. Schofield).

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

TEST PAYMENT.—The report of the appointed Committee was brought up, and the regulations for keeping the accounts and paying the amounts due to test men, were approved with slight alteration.

ASYLUM VISITATION.—According to a notice given by Mr. R. J. Smith, that gentleman moved that a Committee be appointed to visit the inmates of the Lunatic Asylums, who are under the care of the Hunslet Union, and argued that as the Guardians felt bound to see the receipients of relief in the out-townships, at least twice a year, there was every reason why the same, if not more, attention should be paid to the welfare of those who were cut off from their friends by reason of the fearful misfortune of insanity. Mr. Grosvenor cordially seconded the vote. The resolution was only carried by one majority, several Guardians holding that when once placed in the asylum, the inmates were under the charge of the authorities there. A division of opinion also existed as to the number of members who should form the Committee, Mr. Lawton holding that all have a right to go, and not simply a selected committee. As permission cannot be legally given for more than nine Guardians, this proposal was withdrawn. Mr. Hardcastle proposed, and Mr. Lawton seconded—That the committee consist of nine Guardians for Wakefield and two for South Wadsley. Mr. Parker moved that six be the number for Wakefield, but the larger number was carried.

OFFICIAL VISIT TO THE WORKHOUSE.—The clerk reported that an official visit was made by a Mr. Stephens, who, without notice, had inspected every portion of the Workhouse and its inmates, even to the state of the children's toe nails, and had taken pretty full notes of his observations. In view of the probable object of this visit being to supply evidence at the forthcoming inquiry, it was suggested that the plan of the site and proposed addition to the Workhouse be had in readiness, so as to shew what arrangements are in progress for future extension, if necessary.

AMALGAMATION INQUIRY.—The clerk read the letter giving notice of intended inquiry at the Town Hall, on March 3rd, relative to the new proposal for the dissolution of Hunslet, Holbeck, and Bramley Unions, and the addition to Leeds of all townships in those Unions which are wholly or partly included in the Leeds borough boundary. We understand that the Amalgamation Committee are fully prepared with their opposition.

VISITATION.—It was resolved on the motion of Mr. Dixon, that seven members be appointed to visit the recipients of relief at Halton. They have not been visited for some years, except by their own Guardians.

WORKHOUSE ORGANISTS.—The chairman having mentioned that two or three young men have kindly performed the duty of organist at the Workhouse, during Sunday service, suggested that the best thanks of the Board be presented to them for their services. On the motion of Mr. Lawton and Mr. Graveley, the Board unanimously passed the resolution.

PETITION.—In connection with the coming inquiry, two gentlemen had very kindly offered to obtain signatures from the principal firms in the union in support of the Board's opposition to a dissolution, and on the motion of Mr. Graveley, seconded by Mr. R. Smith, very hearty thanks were presented to Mr. Councillor Atha and Mr. W. Green for their valuable services. These gentlemen, both of whom were present, expressed their obligation for this acknowledgment of their efforts, and said both the Board and the ratepayers of Hunslet were heartily welcome to anything they could do to further the interests of the people.

The usual returns of wants and statistics were agreed to.

Holloway's Ointment & Pills.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally, and the ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceedingly efficacious. When influenza is epidemic, this treatment is the easiest, safest and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of escaping from suffering when afflicted with colds, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which the health of so many is seriously and permanently injured in most countries.

COAGULINE.—Cement for Broken Articles, 6d., 1s., 2s.; postage, 2d. Sold everywhere. KAY BROS., Stockport.

THROAT IRRITATION & COUGH.—Soreness and dryness, tickling and irritation, inducing cough and affecting the voice. For these symptoms use Epps' Glycerine Jujubes. In contact with the glands at the moment they are excited by the act of sucking, the Glycerine in these agreeable confections becomes actively healing. Sold only in boxes, 7½d., tins 1s 1½d., labelled "JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London." A letter received: "Gentlemen,—It may perhaps interest you to know that, after an extended trial, I have found your Glycerine Jujubes of considerable benefit (with or without medical treatment) in almost all forms of throat disease. They soften and clear the voice.—Yours faithfully, GORDON HOLMES, M.D., Senior Physician to the Municipal Throat and Ear Infirmary."

THE Borough Arms Cocoa House, Kirkgate.—Dinner from the joint 12.0 to 2.30

ROTHWELL SCHOOL BOARD.

The monthly meeting of this Board took place on Friday last, present—Messrs. W. Hargreaves, J. G. Turner, J. Batty, W. Lawton, and the clerk and attendance officer. There being only two members present at the hour named, it was not till half-past six that the business commenced.

The minutes having been read, were confirmed.

ROTHWELL HAIGH SCHOOL REPORT.—The clerk having received the report on the late inspection at Rothwell Haigh, read the several particulars; the boys and girls department have secured a very satisfactory though variable result, while the infants' mistress is credited with a most gratifying and highly commendatory report, carrying with it the "excellent" merit grant. In the boys' school, the average attendance was 134, of whom 111 passed in reading, 107 writing, and 100 arithmetic, out of 122 presented, the percentage being 87. The total amount of grant is 17/3 per head, a total of £115 11s. 6d. In the girls' school, the average attendance has been 120, the passes are reading 112, writing 102, arithmitic 96, out of 122 presented, a percentage of 85. The total amount of grant at 18/1 per head is £108 10s. In the infants school, the number of average attenders is 102, who have earned a grant of 16/6 each, or £84 3s. for the school. The success of the pupil teachers has also been gratifying, Lily Gill (infants) having gained a first-class grant, while J. T. Gurney (boys), A. Holmes (girls), and H. E. Holmes (infants), have each secured a second-class pass. Mr. Gurney is now qualified as assistant under Art. 50 and 52, and also Miss Holmes under Art. 50. A. E. Clemson having successfully passed her examination, was formally accepted as a pupil teacher for three years.

FINANCE.—Cheques were signed for teachers' salaries:—Rothwell Haigh, £46 8s. 10d.; Rothwell, £28 8s. 8d.; repayment of Loan, £108 14s. 11d.; grants to teachers, £14; Leeds gas account, £2 17s.

The receipts include January fees, Rothwell Haigh, £13 9s. 9d.; Rothwell, £7 19s. 7d.; work sold, 14s; also £200 from Rothwell overseers, and £317 4s. 6d. grant for Rothwell Haigh.

The attendance officer reported a serious falling off in the attendance by reason of the prevalance of measles and whooping cough, especially in the National Schools. Two persons had their children's fees remitted by reason of sickness.

PROPOSED DISSOLUTION OF THE HUNSLET UNION.

MEETING AT ROTHWELL.

Yesterday evening, a meeting of Rothwell ratepayers was held in the Club Room of the Mechanics' Institute, to consider the above question, and to decide what action shall be taken by the Overseers.

On the motion of Mr. James Hargreaves, seconded by Mr. S. Batty, the chair was occupied by Mr. Swales, of Stourton, who, after expressing the pleasure he always felt in presiding over meetings at Rothwell, requested Mr. Marshall to read the notice calling the meeting. This having been done, the chairman invited any remarks on the subject, when Mr. J. Hargreaves addressed the meeting. He referred to the letter from the Local Government Board, setting forth the reason for holding the proposed Inquiry, which reads as follows:—'Whereas it has been represented to the Local Government Board that it is expedient for rectifying or simplifying the areas of management and otherwise for the better administration of the relief of the Poor that the Hunslet, Holbeck, and Bramley Unions, in the West Riding of Yorkshire, should be dissolved, and that the several Townships which are comprised in those Unions and are wholly or partly included in the Borough of Leeds should be added to the Leeds Union, or that the Leeds Union as well as the Bramley, Holbeck, and Hunslet Unions should be dissolved, and that the several Townships which are included in those Unions and wholly or partly comprised in the Borough of Leeds should be constituted a new Union, and in either case that the several Townships in the said Unions which are not wholly, or partly comprised in the said Municipal Borough should be added to other Unions or be otherwise dealt with;" an inquiry will take place in the Leeds Town Hall, on Tuesday next, at eleven o'clock.

He recapitulated the difficulty and inconvenience to Guardians, officers, and poor, in getting to the Union Offices, if the business of this township is removed to Pontefract or Wakefield. He also mentioned that Hunslet is the lowest of the three Unions (Hunslet, Wakefield or Pontefract) in rates per £, as well as in rate per head. Besides these evident disadvantages, there were other expenses, of which Rothwell would have to bear its proportion, incurred by the dissolution of the present Union, and by admission into another Union, which would tend to increase the present heavy burden of taxation. From Mr. Davy's return of the 41 Unions in his district, it appears there are 29 of them more costly than Hunslet. The advantage of having the relief cases dealt with by Guardians who are acquainted with the real position of the applicants was also remarked on as being both a preventive to imposition, and a guarantee that the deserving would be fairly dealt with. After a question or two had been asked, and answered, it was resolved on the motion of Mr. Batty and Mr. Wormald, That it is the opinion of this meeting that Rothwell should remain in connection with the Hunslet Union.

A second resolution was moved by Mr. T. Hargreaves, seconded by Mr. S. Batty, and carried—That the overseers be empowered to employ legal assistance at the forthcoming inquiry, March 3rd, 1885.

The chairman trusted their decision would tend to the promotion of the welfare and advantage of the township, and in a few suitable words intimated that the business of the meeting was now finished.

A vote of thanks was cordially passed to Mr. Swales, for presiding, on the motion of Mr. Newsome, seconded by Mr. T. Hargreaves, to which Mr. Swales appropriately replied.

OULTON CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION.

This Association has recently been organised, and held its first public meeting on Tuesday evening last, in the Oulton National Schools. A very good audience assembled in the room at the appointed time, there being about 115 persons present. The meeting had been convened for the purpose of hearing an address by J. Shuttleworth, Esq., the Conservative agent for the district, entitled "Is not Radicalism a delusion." The chair was occupied by C. F. Hoyle, Esq., who, in introducing the speaker, explained that by the passing of the Franchise Bill, nearly every man in Oulton will become a voter in the Parliamentary elections of the future; this had in a great measure been the cause of the formation of their Association. They had formed it for the purpose of disseminating information, on the chief political topics of the day, and to educate the individual voters in such a way as to make them capable of taking hold of those difficult subjects which are constantly coming to the front, of forming an intelligent opinion on them, and using their influence in bringing about a right treatment of all such National questions. After speaking about the policy of the present Government abroad, especially with reference to the Russian advance towards India, he called upon Mr. Shuttleworth to address the meeting.

Mr. Shuttleworth then rose, and said that he felt great pleasure in being present with them in their first meeting. He thought he would have little difficulty in proving to his hearers that Radicalism is a delusion. He would not for a moment say that such men as Messrs. Gladstone and Chamberlain had wilfully deluded the people, but in consequence of their weak and vacillating policy, their want of firmness and decision, the present administration proved in reality to be nothing but a delusion, not only to the population of Great Britain, but to the whole empire. He directed the attention of his audience to speeches made in 1880 by the Liberal leaders, and observed that at that time, they promised the old thread-worn programme, viz., "Peace, Retrenchment and Reform," should constitute the principles of their rule. He (the speaker) proposed to review the action of the Government with respect to these three points, and would be content to leave all reasonable men to decide for themselves whether or not Radicalism is a delusion, Mr. Shuttleworth said that since the Liberals had been in power, there had been no 'peace,' and dwelt on the strife and bloodshed in Afghanistan, Transvaal, Egypt, and Ireland, attributing much of this calamity and lawlessness to the incapability of those who are in power, to deal successfully with such matters. Under the head of 'Retrenchment,' the speaker enquired if there had been any reduction in either local or national taxation since the Liberals were returned; he thought not, and from statistics which he quoted, proved that the financial matters were mismanaged, resulting in heavier burdens and less prosperity to the working class, which class these men profess to befriend so valiantly. After speaking very briefly on the 'Reform' part of their motto, the able lecturer urged all to notice how incompetent the Radicals were to fulfil their rash promises, how they had failed in the past, how they are blundering in the present, and after full investigation, thought they would be convinced that they had been very much deluded by the Radicals' bad policy and vacillation, in all parts of the world. (Applause).

Mr. E. Boothroyd then made a few remarks on the work of the Association, its intentions and prospects, and proposed a vote of thanks to the lecturer; this was seconded by Mr. Audsley, and carried, with three dissentients.

A vote of thanks to the chairman, proposed by Mr. Hampshire, and seconded by Mr. Batt, brought the meeting to a close.

As a beginning, the meeting was a most successful one, and must have been very gratifying to its promoters, who have evidently resolved to be up and doing, so that the impending strife of Parliamentary electioneering shall not find them unprepared and disorganised.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares, Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high coloured; depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population have this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. The disease is Dyspepsia or Indigestion, for which Seigel's Curative Syrup is a certain remedy. Seigel's Operating Pills are an effective remedy for Constipation and Biliousness. Those afflicted with Asthma will find immediate relief by using the Rosinweed Tar Mixture. Genuine has A. J. White, Lim., on the stamp. An almanac containing testimonials from persons who have received benefit from use of Seigel's Curative Syrup will be furnished, free of charge, by the proprietors, A. J. White, Lim. 17, Farringdon Road, London, E.C.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

BRASS BAND CONCERT.—A well meaning effort was made on Monday, to celebrate the 200th anniversary of Handel's birth, when the members of the noted Rothwell Old Band occupied the platform of the Mechanics' Hall, for the performance of selections from the world-famed composer's works. The general rendering of the music was excellent, and certainly deserved a much larger measure of support than it actually received. The balance of the several instruments was good, and with one or two slight indiscretions on the part of inexperienced players, both time and tune were well kept. The proceedings were opened under the chairmanship of Mr. C. Ward, who made a few remarks on several of the numbers previous to their being presented. During the evening, Mr. Jas. Plows read a short resume of Handel's life, commencing with his birth on February 23rd, 1685, his early predilections for music, his difficulties in its prosecution, the dates of his various great works (33 in number), his gradually increasing popularity, and his death on the 14th April, 1759. The programme commenced with the chorus "Swell the full chorus" from Solomon, followed by the grand march from Judas Maccabeus "Sing unto God" and a selection of choice numbers from the same oratorio, the solo "Arm, arm ye brave" being well given by Mr. T. Fowler on the euphonium. The second part opened with the recitation, "Comfort ye" and "Every valley" the solos of which were well played by Mr. Thos. Bennett. Then followed the choruses "And the glory," "Lift up your heads," "Hallelujah" and "Worthy is the Lamb." Mr. S. Fowler conducted the performance with his usual ability. It was very dispiriting to see so small an audience, but no doubt, if a little variety had been introduced into the programme by means of voice and strings, a considerable attendance might have been secured; the number of concerts and entertainments which have been given had also something to do with the thin audience. All the same, great credit is due to our excellent band, who were determined that Rothwell should not be behind hand in commemorating the birth of the immortal Handel.

ROTHWELL PRIMITIVE METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL.—On Monday last, a public tea was provided in the above place to which a moderate company sat down. After tea, there was a good attendance to listen to an entertainment by a few friends from Methley, which was given in an excellent manner, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The proceedings opened with singing and prayer, followed by the chairman's speech, (Mr. J. Batty.) The choir then sang "That Beautiful Throne" followed by "I was sowing" and "Peace." Mr. Ellis here spoke a few words, followed by a dialogue "Trials of a patient Man." Mr. Steel now addressed the assembly for a few minutes, succeeded by the dialogue "Improvident Man" which was nicely given and reflected much credit on those taking part. while the composition contained several laughable pieces, there were also some good lessons. Mr. E. Hampson having given a short address, the choir rendered the best song of the evening "Will the angel come to me" closing with "Sweet Saviour bless us ere we go." Votes of thanks were accorded to the Methley friends, on the motion of Mr. Sharphouse and Mr. G. Varley, and to the chairman by Mr. A. Steel and Mr. Denton (Methley) bringing the entertainment to a close.

MR. F. W. ROBINSON is engaged in writing a new Serial Story for CASSELL'S SATURDAY JOURNAL, which will appear early next month. The scene is laid in Lancashire, and a story of exceptional interest may be expected from the pen of this accomplished novelist. —The Athenæum.

BAND OF HOPE CONCERT.—The annual demonstration of the Leeds and District Band of Hope Union took place on Tuesday evening in the Leeds Town Hall. The hall was not quite full, but the interest and pleasure evinced by the large audience was great. The principal part of the proceedings consisted of selections by the splendid chorus of 500 voices, drawn from the Leeds Harmonic Temperance Union and the choirs of the several Bands of Hope. The bright and lively appearance of the teetotal singers spoke well for the cause they represented, and all supporters of the cause, and especially Wesleyan supporters, might well feel proud of the scene presented by the young ladies and gentlemen who sat right and left of the conductor. Mr. John Tinney, the energetic and persevering secretary and conductor of the Union, wielded the baton with effect and taste, some of the 'points' reflecting special credit on his training. Mr. Harry Bingham presided at the organ, and besides carefully and sympathetically accompanying the choruses and solos, gave a capital rendering of "Fixed in his everlasting seat," as an organ solo. The pieces sung included three anthems, the choruses "Our Yeomen" and "Worthy is the Lamb," four part-songs and two melodies, by the choir. A very pretty and deservedly encored song "Bells of long ago" was sung by Miss Mitford, the chorus giving the humming accompaniment most beautifully. The only solos were by Miss Emma Dixon, who has previously done such good service in this and other causes, and who sang at the opening of the Rothwell Wesleyan Organ. Miss Dixon's songs "The golden pathway" and "A winter story" were both of the pathetic character, and displayed the singer's delicate appreciation of the beauties of light and shade. In the encore demanded after her second song, Miss Dixon wisely chose a composition of a lighter description, and evidenced her ability and power of voice. The entire musical programme was most enjoyable.—The proceedings were opened by singing and prayer, under the presidency of J. S. Stocks, Esq., after which Mr. W. Pearson, of Hunslet, read the secretary's report, on the brevity and completeness of which he deserves a compliment. There are 52 societies, with 8250 members included in the Union, and substantial progress has been made during the year. In the kindly address of the chairman, he looked forward to the time when the members of Bands of Hope would not only be as many as the roll of the Sunday School, but when the register of births would be in exact accord with the number of temperance people. The Rev. H. W. Holland delivered an eloquent address on the advance of the temperance cause and looked for the time when Parliament will take up the question earnestly. At the conclusion of the proceedings, thanks were presented to the choir, vocalists, conductor, organist, and to Mr. Holland, on the motion of Mr. Wesley North, seconded by the Rev. J. Woffenden; also to the chairman, on the motion of the Rev. John Martin, seconded by the Rev. H. W. Holland. The entire affair may be considered as highly successful in every particular.

STOURTON WESLEYAN MUTUAL IMPROVEMENT CLASS—The usual meeting of this class was held on Friday evening last, when the president, Mr. Webber, introduced Mr. J. Read to give a paper on "Life." Mr. Read dealt very ably with his important subject, and although all were not of the same opinion, the paper was very instructive and interesting. The company was moderate.

TESTIMONIAL TO MISS RUSSELL.—As was intimated in our columns a short time ago, Miss Russell, mistress of the Infants' department, Rothwell Board Schools, has resigned her post under the Board, and has this week terminated her engagement. The teachers and scholars of Miss Russell's school, have presented her with a testimonial, the little ones having brought their coppers, with the more substantial sums contributed by the teachers; a very handsome silver bracelet has been purchased and was given to Miss Russell to-day by one of the pupil teachers, Miss Ethel Nowell, who also presented a short address; asking Miss Russell to accept the bracelet as a token of regard for her as a teacher and friend, and cordially wishing her every happiness and success in the future. The bracelet is of medium width, chased in a handsome design all round, and will, we doubt not, be appreciated by its recipient, as a lasting pledge of the regard and affection of her juvenile friends in Rothwell.

SALE OF FARM STOCK, &c.—Messrs. Lodge and Bartle sold by auction on Wednesday, the whole of the live and dead farm stock of Mr. A. Judson's, of Rothwell, who is giving up the farm. The stock included 9 horses, 15 pigs, 11 head of cattle, besides clover, hay, implements, &c. The day was very fine, and the goods generally fetched a pretty fair price, there being a good attendance of buyers.

DR. HUTCHINGS, Surgeon Dentist to the Queen, writes to Dr. G. H. Jones, 57, Great Russell Street, London:—"Your system is the best and safest, and the teeth most lifelike." Pamphlet may be had post free from address as above.

ACCIDENT TO A LAD.—While a lad named Goddard, living in Rothwell, was playing with a hay-chopping machine at the sale on Mr. Judson's farm, on Wednesday, he accidentally had two fingers cut off.

SPECIAL SERVICES.—Special religious services have been held in the Rothwell Wesleyan Chapel during the last fortnight; although the Rev. Mr. Pitt has been unfortunately prevented from taken any part in the services, they have been made successful and attractive by the efforts of the lay preachers and members of the mission Band.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

The return match between Rothwell and Foxholes came of last Saturday, and I am pleased to note that the Rothwell players turned the scale in their favour. As intimated, when the first match was played at Foxholes, in which Rothwell was defeated, that had the field the right size, the result would have been different. Every one that saw the game on Saturday, will admit this fact, as the ball was kept continually in Foxholes territory; it was only once taken into the Rothwell quarters, and unluckily for the home players was improved upon, but only by a fortunate shot. Rothwell obtained one goal during the first half and two in the second, thus winning by 3 goals to one, not a very big score, considering the chances offered, eight or ten would not have been too many to have counted. The forwards of Rothwell in my opinion can work a ball into their opponents' quarters as well as any club I have seen, but after that, they seem to know no more about what to do with it, than people who have never seen the game before. Foxholes did not play well at all, and there was no one who shewed any good form. For Rothwell, Ward again took the lead, and the way in which he threads through the opponents is a treat to witness, but there is one thing I should like to point out to this valuable player, and that is not to keep the ball too long, when the other forwards have a good chance of scoring, if they had the leather passed to them. A. W. Seanor, also showed a marked improvement in his play all round, and on Saturday worked the position of centre half-back in a very creditable manner.

Stourton to the front again! This organization realized more than expectations on Saturday last at Doncaster, when opposed by the Rovers. It will be remembered when the first match was played, at Stourton, the home club were defeated by 6 goals to nothing, although as I said at the time, this number would have been greatly reduced had the home captain been in his place all the game through, because if he is not one of the truest kicks, his saving powers when pressed are almost perfect. I must not say that it was owing to his play alone that the Stourton club came off victorious last Saturday, for Charlesworth and Lunn (the two wing men) were in excellent form, and were ably assisted by Pearson. Evans, late of Hunslet Wesleyans, has been given a place in the team, and appears to have performed creditably. The game was keenly contested, and although Stourton were pressed a little towards the finish, their play throughout was good. A little hard luck was experienced by them, as besides the goal scored by Lunn, two others were objected to, while the captain (Jas. Goldthorpe) sent in a long shot which struck the crossbar. Their victory of 1 goal to nil is a very creditable one, and will have given a surprise in more than one quarter.

CAPTAIN.

ROTHWELL v. FOXHOLES.

This match was played at Rothwell on Saturday last, and ended in a win for the home team by 3 goals to one. Foxholes won the toss and chose to play with the wind in their favour. Rothwell kicked off, and the ball was taken straight into the visitors territory and after a while the first point was scored for Rothwell from the foot of Greenwood. More play ensued in Foxholes territory, and several corner kicks fell to the home team but nothing came of them, although several easy chances were missed in scoring. The leather was soon transferred to the other end of the field, but however the ball was kicked out of boundary and a 'six yards' was gained by Rothwell, which did not improve their position as no sooner had the ball been kicked off than one of the visitors took a shot and (the home goal-keeper not being in his place,) made matters equal. This brought about half-time, and after a few minutes rest, play was again resumed. There was nothing of any note during the second half as Rothwell had matters pretty much their own way, never letting their opponents get any further than the half way flag, while they succeeded in adding other two goals, thus making their number of points into three, and at the call of time the game ended as above stated. The following is the Rothwell team: W. Tiffany, goal; E. Newbould, H. Richardson, backs; R. H. Lewis, A. W. Seanor, W. Smith, half-backs; J. W. Chadwick, H. Greenwood, I. Blackburn, W. Richardson, A. Ward, (capt) forwards.

STOURTON ST. ANDREWS v. DONCASTER ROVERS.

This match was played at Doncaster on Saturday. The visitors captain having won the toss elected to play with a strong wind in his favour, the wind however blew diagonally and was not at all favourable for heavy scoring. For a time play was confined to the low part of the field, Pearson, Charlesworth and Rathmell being very busy. Pearson ultimately secured the ball and passed to Lunn, who scored the first goal. On restarting, the ball travelled quickly all over the field, until Charlesworth gained possession and passed to Lunn, who passed to Evans, the latter putting the ball within the uprights, but on account of off-side play no goal was allowed. From a free kick, W. Goldthorpe again put the ball between the posts, but as no one else played the ball the visitors were again denied. Soon afterwards, a long kick by J. Goldthorpe caused the ball to strike the crossbar and ultimately resulted in a corner for Stourton which Charlesworth undertook, but nothing came of it. Stourton here had several 'corners,' but on account of the treacherous wind nothing resulted. Half-time being shortly afterwards called, it was thought that the home team would certainly score in the second half, but the Stourton players worked splendidly together, Lunn, Pearson and Charlesworth being prominent with several good runs, the latter taking the ball close to the home goal, where Mosby fell on the ball and saved what seemed like a certain goal for Stourton. During the last five minutes the home team severely pressed the visitors, but on account of good back play, and the judicious kicking of Lunn, no goal resulted. The match thus ended in a well-earned victory for Stourton by 1 goal to nil. Lunn, Pearson, and Charlesworth played well throughout, and it will be seen Lunn again scored a goal, this now being usual with him. For the home team Pearce and Fowler forward, and Jenkins and Mosby back, were the pick. STOURTON TEAM:—Goal, W. Godson; backs, J. Goldthorpe, (capt.) J. Green; half backs, W. Goldthorpe, Johnson, Rathmell; forwards, J. Lunn, A. Charlesworth, W. Pearson, J. Exley, W. Evans.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

The new Conservative Association for Oulton and Woodlesford, to the planting of which we drew attention a while since, is already beginning to put forth the tender leaves and blossoms of budding activity. The killing frost of Radical antipathy has so far been sedulously guarded against, and with the fostering care and attention of its zealous cultivators, it promises to attain a healthy and vigorous maturity. If Punch's political definition "One is born a Tory, but one grows a Liberal" be true, the Conservative party will need all the efforts of this kind that can be made to keep its head above the overwhelming flood of growing Liberalism. In the neutral columns of the Rothwell Times criticism or approval of the proceedings on the occasion of the address of the Conservative agent on the subject "Is not Radicalism a delusion" are alike precluded, we therefore simply state that although the crowded audience had been carefully admitted by ticket, an occassional mild demonstration showed that those present were not all on one side of the question. The promoters of the meeting could hardly find fault with this however. An address on such a subject to an audience exclusively conservative, would be rather like carrying coals to Newcastle. It was better policy to admit the "deluded" Radicals, and so give the orater a chance of converting them from the supposed error of their ways.

.. ..

A short time ago "hope told a flattering tale" in the way of a rumour that at last some attempt was to be made to mitigate the nuisance arising from our scientific system of drainage. The plan was said to be on the lines suggested in this column about three months ago; that is to draw off the offensive gas through a ventilating shaft, or shafts, and pass it through fire. Something should be done before the heat of summer is upon us. Protests cannot be too persistently or vigorously made against the present state of things being allowed to continue. In this connection we are offered the following:—

ODOROUS RHYMES,

"BY A SENSITIVE MAN.

The vilest odours, now one meets
In passing through our village streets,
Oh! for the coming man, with brains;
Who'll safely ventilate our drains.

Each open grate does now afford
A sample of the odours stored;
Quiet easily by frequent smellings,
I note the fare in neighb'ring dwellings.

Here lovingly ox-tail I sniff,
There, cabbage water sends a whiff;
While Irish stew just on the street,
Renders my ecstacy complete.

And fouler perfumes at each turn,
My practised nose can now discern;
Fumes whence, doctors say, are bred
Diptheria, and fevers dread.

In short where'er my steps I wend,
New fragrances my nose offend,
E'en now in nasal memory dwells,
The horror of these loathsome smells.

"Slow and sewer" is a fit motto for our sanitary authority.—We beg at once to apologise for this atrocity, and promise not to perpetrate more. We have no wish to be classed with that feeble-minded part of community which is so fond of "paltering in a double sense" and occupies itself with making puns, rather than adopt the Johnsonian alternative of picking pockets.

TOWN TALK.

I was wandering down Commercial Street one evening this week, everything looked extremely wretched and uninviting. I was vainly endeavouring to find something with which to compare the dirty street and doleful picture presented to my gaze on all sides. Arrived at the bottom of Holmes street, I had my thoughts turned suddenly round; I thought I had all at once stepped into the Promised Land. Do you want to know what caused this wonderful and fairy-like change in the course of my thoughts? I will tell you. When I got to the bottom of the street I have named, I beheld a beautiful pale stream of milk, flowing with imposing splendour into Commercial street, "A land flowing with Milk and Honey." Here was the "Milk," flowing oe'r the land, but I did'nt see any "honey" so expect they must have kept it all inside the "Beehive" close by. Of course I was very curious to know the cause of this wonderous scene, and on proceeding a few yards up the street I found the milkman's "turn out" turned inside out; the horse had been left to its own sweet will, and in his wanderings had come in contact with the wall, upsetting the cart, spilling the milk and throwing himself on his side "Its no use crying over spilt milk" but one is tempted to swear when such things as these occur.

.. ..

The lecture at the Mechanics' Institute, by Dr. Glaister was in every way a successful one. I should like to inform the Committee that they have made a decided 'miss' in not arranging for a winter course. Let me ask them to be on the look out a bit more, they should arrange the lectures in the summer months; by doing this they will gain a double advantage, the lecturer will have plenty of time for preparation, and the Committee will be saved much trouble in "rushing up" something, when all should be ready for action.

A dispute has arisen between the members and caretaker of the Workins Man's Club, the nature of which it is unnecessary to describe here. This Club is the evening resort of a lot of young men, principally members of athletic clubs, and is a very valuable institution; the young men, of course, should be treated with reason and respect, and not as children or tools; they should have a bit of liberty given them, although that liberty should not be allowed to go so far as become lawlessness. The Committee is, to use a common expression, a little bit handicapped; they have not the absolute government of the affairs of the Club, and a committee who cannot do more than some superior power will permit, can do very little sometimes. Several resignations have taken place amongst the officers, on account of the disagreement and a meeting was held this week to appoint a new secretary and treasurer; I believe that since the meeting, Mr. Smith has decided to leave the club, and has thus opened the way to an amicable settlement of the dispute.

GOSSIP.

DR. GLAISTER ON "ROBERT BURNS."

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir.

Kindly allow me a small space in your valuable 'weekly' to say a few words respecting the lecture recently delivered in the Mechanics' Institute, Rothwell, on Scotland's national poet, 'Robert Burns.' Judging from the manner in which our worthy doctor acquitted himself on the occasion, I may say that nothing short of another lecture from Mr. Glaister, would satisfy the eager desire of those who were fortunate enough to be present on the occasion referred to. The attendance (I think) was small considering the subject, and the ability of the lecturer, but no doubt the inclemency of the weather was a matter for consideration. But let us hope (with a more favourable night and early announcement) we shall be able to answer the next call in larger numbers. If I am not considered out of place, I would suggest 'Hugh Miller' as a fitting subject for the next lecture. Trusting this may meet with a hearty response.

I remain,
Yours respectfully,
A WORKING MAN.

Rothwell,
Feb. 25th, 1885.

THE FREAKS OF "GOSSIP."

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

I always read with much interest the paragraphs which appear in your journal in the 'Town Talk' columns on the subject of temperance, and proceedings at our Temperance Hall, but it would be too much to expect that the information which your correspondent 'Gossip' gives to your readers week by week should in every particular be strictly correct, and perhaps you will allow me to point out one or two errors into which he has lately fallen.

I was rather amused when I read in your paper last week the following paragraph by 'Gossip'—'I heard of the Committee of the Rothwell Temperance Society giving their worthy president 'a good blowing up' last week. They blamed him for writing the paragraph which appeared in 'Town Talk' a fortnight ago, with reference to the present mode of doing their work. He had a hot time of it in the Committee meeting and it must have been very hard to bear, inasmuch as he had not the slightest knowledge of the author of the objectionable lines.'

Your correspondent was certainly not correctly informed respecting that meeting, as it was to me a pleasant one throughout. One speaker got a little excited while remarking too severely (as I thought) on the objectionable lines referred to, but he was easily calmed down, and not one disagreeable word was said to me personally; so that if there was a 'blowing up' at the Temperance Hall that night which was intended for me, it must have occurred when I was sat comfortably by my own fireside, and knew nothing of it. True it is, that I have been suspected of writing seditious things which have appeared in your paper from time to time; but one may be suspected of that of which he has a happy consciousness of being quite innocent, and I don't allow such suspicions to trouble me.

I am glad too, to be able to say that 'Gossip' was mistaken when he told your readers lately, that the 'Sunday evening services at the Temperance Hall were given up altogether.' From various causes, there have been times within the last few months, when there has been no service on a Sunday evenings; but these are the exceptions. The rule is, to have service on each Sunday evening.

With your correspondent in 'Town Talk,' I much regret that so many members whom we know to be good temperance men yet (although perhaps somewhat lacking in zeal) should have, as it were, turned their backs upon us. I earnestly hope that on the evening of the 16th March, when we shall hold the yearly business meeting of the Society, those long absent members will again be with us, to make a fresh start, with better prospects of success in the year to come.

I am, dear Sir,
Yours truly,
B. CLARK.

WATCHES, JEWELLERY.—MIDLAND COUNTIES WATCH COMPANY.—(Cheapest house in the World) Ladies' or Gents' Fine Silver Crystal Glass, heavy Ladies' Watches, 25/-; Ladies' heavy-cased Gold Levers, 70/-; Gents' do. do. do., 80/-. Before purchasing send for Company's Catalogue, beautifully illustrated, 1,000 fine copper-plate engravings, gratis, post free on application, to any part of the world. Apply Company's Manager, A. Percy, Vyse Street, Birmingham. The press universally recommend their readers to obtain a catalogue.

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name CONSUMPTION EMULSION. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 163 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find [illegible] a gain of weight [illegible]." Such a testimony as this speaks volumes for the efficiency of Phthisicon. [illegible] proved of immense value as a curative agent in the early stages of Brain Disease and Scrofula; in fact, wherever there is impaired nutrition or lack of nerve power, the action is almost certain. It can be obtained of all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s., and 22s. per bottle. Wholesale of Barclay and Sons, Farringdon-street, London, E.C.; or of W. B. [illegible], 23, Green-lanes London, N.

THROAT AFFECTIONS AND HOARSENESS.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by JOHN I. BROWN & SONS, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d. —For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

TOMLINSON & CO.'S BUTTER POWDER

Brings the Butter quickly, removing all unpleasant flavours of Turnips, Leeks, Mangolds, Wild Garlic, Sour Grass, Leeks, Dead Leaves, &c. Increases the Quantity and improves the quality of Butter. By its use farmers and dairymen insure good, firm, and sweet Butter all the year round. Butter made with this Powder invariably takes the FIRST PRIZES at the Agricultural Shows through the kingdom. Sold everywhere, by Chemists and Grocers, in Boxes, 6d., 1s., 2s. 6d., and 5s. each, or the three larger sizes free by Parcels Post, from the Sole Manufacturers, TOMLINSON & HAYWARD, LINCOLN, [illegible].

ADVICE TO MOTHERS!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it soften the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

IS RHEUMATISM CURABLE? Yes, if you take WOODCOCK'S RHEUMATIC MIXTURE. Speedily cures Rheumatic Pains in the Limbs, Rheumatic Pains in the Head, Rheumatic Pains in the Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatic Swellings and Stiffness; in fact, every phase of Rheumatism; no matter how acute or long standing, it never fails. OBSERVE—This is not a quack remedy warranted to cure everything, but a genuine SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM only. Sold by all medicine vendors at 1s. 9d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d. and 11s., or Post free for 23, 34, or 56 stamps. The 11s. size paid to nearest Railway Station for 11s. 3d. P.O. Order or Stamps, from PAGE D. WOODCOCK, Lincoln.

FLORILINE!—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

ARE the PUREST, CHEAPEST, and BEST BITTERS EVER MADE.

They are compounded from Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Podophyllin, and Dandelion.

The oldest, best, and most valuable medicines in the world, and contain all the best and most curative properties of all other Bitters, being the greatest

BLOOD PURIFER,

LIVER REGULATOR,

and Life and Health Restoring Agent on earth. No disease or ill-health can possibly long exist where these Bitters are used, so varied and perfect are their operations.

They give new life and vigour to the aged and infirm. To all whose employments cause irregularity of the bowels or urinary organs, or who require an Appetiser, Tonic, and Mild Stimulant, these Bitters are invaluable, being highly curative, tonic, and stimulating, without intoxicating.

No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease or ailment is, use

HOP BITTERS.

Don't wait until you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use the Bitters at once. It may save your life. Hundreds have been saved by so doing. £500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help. They are a pleasant refreshing flavouring for sick-room drinks, impure water, and other beverages.

Do not suffer yourself or let your friends suffer, but use, and urge them to use

HOP BITTERS.

Remember,

HOP BITTERS

is no vile, drugged nostrum, but the Purest and Best Medicine ever made; the "Invalid's Friend and Hope," and no person or family should be without them. Try the BITTERS to-day.

THE Golden Cup Cocoa House, 157, Briggate.—The new premises are now complete and the accommodation greatly improved.

VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the Individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade. Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has cast about him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. Having been thirty-five years in the trade, in the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was naturally 'up to all the wrinkles.' The middle men, known by the names of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of Manufacturers, who arranged to supply his Establishment at the cost of materials and men's time in the making. In short, placing the Goods before the public, at single articles at wholesale prices. The management is still under R. Scott's personal control, who takes this opportunity of thanking his Patrons in the past, and hopes to receive anew a mark of their confidence. In future the firm will be known as Scott & Co., Goldsmiths, Silversmiths, Opticians, Watch and Clock Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.

If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly restored by good workmen. Scott & Co. guarantee their work for 12 months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made as new, on very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

OFFICIAL INQUIRY.

Mr. J. S. Davy and Mr. B. H. Wodehouse, Local Government Board Inspectors, opened an inquiry on Tuesday, at the Leeds Town Hall, as to the proposed dissolution of the Bramley, Holbeck, and Hunslet Unions, and the formation of a new Union, comprising the entire Leeds borough; the out-townships to be added to adjoining unions, or be otherwise dealt with.

Mr. Davy commenced the proceedings by recapitulating the events and correspondence leading up to the present inquiry.

Among the legal gentlemen present were MR. L. GANE, representing the Leeds Union; MR. KERSHAW for Hunslet; MR. APPLETON the Overseers of Templenewsam; MR J. TENNANT the Overseers of Rothwell; MR W WRIGHT, the Overseers of Oulton-with-Woodlesford; the Wakefield Union being represented by a deputation.

After the Inspector had heard the evidence respecting Gildersome and Churwall; Mr. Wood, for Pontefract Guardians, said they were prepared to accept Woodlesford-with-Oulton, Rothwell, and Middleton.

Mr. Wright, representing the Oulton Overseers, said they had not understood they were to be annexed to Pomfret, but rather to Wakefield. They would oppose addition to either of the two unions, as it would cause inconvenience to everybody concerned. The rateable value was £13,301, and the population 2,344. Oulton was about four miles from the Hunslet Board-room, eight miles from Pontefract, and six from Wakefield. There was train communication to Hunslet and Pontefract, but the shortest mode of getting to Wakefield was to walk. A poorly pauper might die before he got to Wakefield. There were 59 outdoor and one indoor paupers.—Mr. DAVY—I should think that is the best proportion in England.—Mr. WRIGHT stated that the poor rate was 2s. 6d., and included the School Board rate. If they went to Pomfret or Wakefield they would be practically without Guardians at all, as there was difficulty enough to get two now. The Oulton Guardians could get to Hunslet after business hours, but the time and cost of reaching other places would be a bar to their assent to appointment. The same thing would affect aged paupers.—Mr. DAVY said that this would not influence the Local Government Board, as these were really compact unions compared with many others. Mr. WRIGHT added that Oulton had spent £4,000 on its drainage, and £3,250 on its water supply. The Oulton people were very favourable to the formation of a small union, to consist of Oulton-with-Woodlesford, Rothwell, Swillington, Thorpe, Lofthouse-with-Carlton, and Methley.—Mr. SIMPSON thought they ought not to have to deal with a model institution framed by any particular township.—Mr. DAVY thought this quite pertinent to the question.—Mr. KERSHAW said that they would be at sea in that case, not being prepared to meet every such possible proposal.—Mr. WODEHOUSE considered the matter quite within the scope of the inquiry. Any township was entitled to submit views that might have been formed as to the manner in which the township should be dealt with.—In reply to Mr. Wodehouse, Mr. WRIGHT was unable to say whether Oulton would prefer to be added to Pontefract or Wakefield. Both were equally inconvenient.

On behalf of Rothwell, Mr. Tennant said he opposed any change. Rothwell was divided into two parts—Rothwell village with 4000 inhabitants, and Stourton, near Leeds, with a population of 1100. Rothwell village was five miles from Wakefield, and there is neither train nor 'bus communication. The distance to the Hunslet Union Offices would be three miles, but from Stourton slightly over a mile, with direct tram communication. The inhabitants were mostly of the working class, one-half being employed in Hunslet. Neither Rothwell nor Stourton had any connection with Wakefield. Both for Guardians and paupers the addition to Wakefield would be inconvenient. The Rothwell people were satisfied with the present administration of relief, and they were afraid that any change made would be for the worse. Mr. Davy enquired the position of Rothwell as regards the new Union suggested by him at the previous inquiry, and just referred to by Mr. Wright. Mr. Tennant replied that at present they were not prepared to make any statement on the subject; their simple object at this inquiry was to oppose the dissolution of Hunslet Union. In reply to further questions, Mr. Tennant intimated that they had not altered their opinion on the matter, but considered that it was outside the scope of the present inquiry; should the Hunslet Union be dissolved, they would have something to say as to how they would wish to be dealt with. The Inspector intimated that he would accept the written evidence of the gentlemen who were prepared to support the Rothwell case, and they need not attend in person.

Mr. KERSHAW then proceededed to open the Hunslet case, which was continued on Wednesday, by the evidence of Mr. Schofield, clerk to the Union, and supported by Mr. J. Swales, of Stourton. Mr. James Hargreaves, Chairman of the Hunslet Union, and chairman of the Board of Overseers for Rothwell, thought it would be inadvisable for Rothwell to be annexed to Wakefield, as well as to destroy the present Hunslet Union, which was eminently fitted for the work it had to do. Local knowledge was a good thing, as it checked imposition, and the deserving poor received what they were entitled to. Messrs. Charlesworth, colliery proprietors, who employed 900 men, were opposed to amalgamation. A large number of those men lived at Stourton and Hunslet. Four members of the firm lived in the Wakefield Union. They had pits also at Lofthouse, in that Union.

Cross-examined by Mr. GANE.—He thought a little alteration of the boundaries would be in the interest of the whole of the Unions.

Mr. DAVY pointed out that the work of the proposed new union must be lessened, because the rural sanitary and the school attendance work would not be necessary.

Mr. Hargreaves said that in the Hunslet Union there was only one School Attendance Committee and only one place where a Rural Sanitary Authority was required, owing to the existence of various School Boards and Local Boards.

Evidence was also given by Councillor Atha, Mr W. Hill, architect, Mr. M. Shirley, medical officer of the Hunslet Workhouse, Mr. J. E. Leak, and Mr. Simpson, against the scheme.

Mr. W. Hargreaves, Rothwell Haigh, colliery manager to Messrs. Charlesworth, also opposed. He was an ex-Guardian of the Wakefield Union, where he represented Lofthouse. There was no direct communication between Wakefield and Rothwell, and the addition of the latter to Wakefield would be to the disadvantage of both Guardians and paupers.

Mr. R. J. Smith, land and mineral surveyor, Woodlesford, also spoke on the same side. The inquiry continued yesterday, and is not yet finished.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

ROTHWELL TEMPERANCE HALL.—On Saturday last, the entertainment at the above Hall was given by the Lofthouse Excelsior Christy Minstrels, who have appeared before at this place. The programme consisted of songs, conundrums, comic sketches, bone playing, clog dancing, etc., given in fair style, and appeared to afford intense gratification to the large audience assembled.

SERVICE OF SONG.—On Sunday evening last, a service of song was given in the Rothwell Temperance Hall, by the choir connected with the place, entitled "Harry Lee," the Happy Match Seller. Mr. T. Blackburn conducted, and Mr. W. Steel presided at the piano. The connective readings were given by Mr. R. Watkin. The place was well filled, and a collection made at the conclusion of the service.

STOURTON WESLEYAN MUTUAL IMPROVEMENT CLASS.—This class met on Friday night last, to hear a discourse on "Formation of character," by Mr. J. Fieldhouse. The essay was rather a lengthy one and resulted in considerable discussion afterwards. There was a moderate attendance, and the essay was thought to be very instructive.

STOURTON PRIMITIVE METHODISTS.—The members of the above chapel gave a service of song, "Rhoda," in their new school on Sunday afternoon, and it was repeated at night. Mr. A. Longley gave the connective readings, Mr. Webster conducted the singing, while Mr. Wm. Castlehouse accompanied on the harmonium. A collection was made at the close of each service, the proceeds of which will go toward the new chapel fund.

WE are pleased to record that two of our local teachers, Miss Harms, assistant at Carlton Board School, and Miss Craise, assistant at Rothwell Board School, have been successful in passing the Government examination for teachers' certificates held at the various training colleges and centres throughout the country, December 15 to 19 last. These two young ladies are now duly qualified to act as head mistresses in any Government School in Great Britain or the Colonies.

PRESENTATION.—On Friday afternoon the teachers and scholars of the Rothwell Haigh Girls' school, presented to Miss A. Walkington, on her leaving to take charge of the Rothwell Infant School, a very elegant polished oak silver-mounted inkstand, with the inscription 'A. W., 27th Feb., 1885,' as a small token of the high esteem in which Miss Walkington has been held for the three years she has been assistant mistress in the school.

YESTERDAY evening, (what is called a "Novelty Supper," was held at the Hall, when a fair number attended. Afterwards dancing was indulged in to the strains of the Brass and Fife and Drum Bands, and a variety of games indulged in by young and old. During the evening Mr. W. Blackburn, in the name of the Bazaar Committee, thanked those who had helped them during the past year in their work, and presented a small statement of accounts, which shewed the Committee to have a balance in hand of about £50.

SALVATION ARMY.—On Wednesday night last, Captain Rose and Lieutenent Hill, gave their farewell addresses in the Army Barracks in Church Street, previous to their departure for Melbourne, Nottinghamshire, on Thursday morning. The place was well filled and great sympathy expressed with the officers, who have succeeded in drawing round them a large circle of friends. The addresses were listened to with profound interest throughout, especially that of the captain, who gave some good and useful advice, and hoped they would muster in large numbers and give the officers a good and hearty welcome. Captain Chapman arrived here yesterday from Hull, and the lieutenant is expected from the Training Homes in London to-day.

Holloway's Ointment & Pills.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally, and the ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceedingly efficacious. When influenza is epidemic, this treatment is the easiest, safest and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of escaping from suffering when afflicted with colds, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which the health of so many is seriously and permanently injured in most countries.

BOARD SCHOOL CONCERTS.

ROTHWELL.

The fifth annual concert and distribution of prizes for Rothwell took place on Friday evening, in the Mechanics' Hall, the room being nicely filled. As usual, a "tiered" platform had been erected, and at seven o'clock it was occupied by a choir of about 80 boys and girls, together with some 20 infants, assisted by an efficient glee party.

Previous to the Concert, the chairman, assisted by Mr. Batty and the clerk, with the teachers, presented the several rewards for regular attendance gained by the under-mentioned scholars:—

Master Myton having gained a second class grant as a pupil teacher, the amount was presented to him, with commendation by the chairman, who stated that this teacher had also carried off the second prize for 'writing' at the Leeds and District Pupil Teachers' Examination.

The customary oranges were distributed at the school previous to the scholars coming to the Hall.

About half-past seven, the concert was commenced by the singing of the National Anthem. "The First Nowell" was then sung by the scholars, after which the infants with their tiny voices, gave "Around the throne of God." The scholars followed with three other Christmas carols ("Waken Christian children," "When Christ was born," and "The Manger Throne,") all of which were well sung, though they did not evoke any special enthusiasm among the audience. Between the carols, Miss J. Harms sang "Tired" vere nicely, and shewing promise of future efficiency; the glee party also rendered very sweetly the part song "What beams so bright." This portion of the programme closed with the patriotic song "Now pray we for our country," which was done with considerable taste.

During the interval, Mr. W. Hargreaves, chairman of the Board took the opportunity of expressing his pleasure in again meeting the parents and friends of the children, and mentioned several statistics, shewing the present educational condition of the district. There are now some 1160 children in the School Board district, all of whom are provided for, and are receiving at one school or another, a suitable elementary education The Board schools had received £460 in grants for the last year, and it was anticipated that this year, this amount would be increased to £500, thereby tending to reduce the cost of the schools to the ratepayers. The amount paid out of the rates for repaying the interest and principal of loan on the buildings and for maintaining the schools during the year is 7d. in the £, a much smaller sum than is demanded from the ratepayers of many places.

Mr. Jas. Batty heartily coincided with the remarks of Mr. Hargreaves, and expressed his regret that two members who would no doubt have been present, were unable to be so, Mr. Turner by reason of bereavement, and Mr. Seanor, who was unavoidably away from home.

The second portion of the concert then opened with the National song "Rule Britannia" by the scholars. The little ones then gave the Kindergarten song "Attention" which was very smartly done by the wee 'uns, and must have been as gratifying to Miss Russell, their teacher, as to the audience, whose applause evinced a wish for more; the infants replied with "A little cock sparrow." A rather difficult round in four parts, "Hark, the pretty birds" was next given by the scholars, who, once well-a-going, sustained their parts very nicely indeed. A treat was afforded by the Glee Party in the comic "Pro Phundo Basso" the principal part being taken by Mr. Woodcock, whose clear bass voice was well suited for that duty, while both he and the other members of the party carried the piece out splendidly; it was vociferously re-demanded, and the call was kindly acceded to. Miss J. Harms in "The Dream" again did well, and we shall be glad to hear her on another occasion. The ingenuity of Mr. Harms was displayed in the succeeding number entitled "Nursery Rhymes to a new setting", into the fun of which the scholars entered with evident zest and pleasure, the several rhymes being made to fit into each other in the most ludicrous manner. The way in which the effort was received, decidedly called for more, and an encore verse or two were given to the great amusement of all. "The drummer song" by the infants was very good, and the little people must have been well drilled in the different evolutions performed. Mr. Harms having been requested to sing the "Irish schoolmaster" represented that 'gintleman' to the life, and the boys and girls who acted as his scholars performed their parts with creditable care and dramatic interest. The little piece was well prepared and gone through without a hitch, to the intense amusement of the audience, and winning loud applause and an encore. The Glee Party's rendering of "Of a' the 'arts" was specially good, and though the number of voices was small, their singing of this and other pieces was well-balanced and tasteful. The last number was a serenade "Sleep, gentle lady" which the scholars did very effectively indeed, and had it not been at the finish, would certainly have evoked greater applause than it even did receive.

Previous to the last song, Mr. Hargreaves in suitable words moved a vote of thanks to the glee party and to the teachers for preparing and assisting in this concert; Mr. Batty cordially seconded the vote, which was warmly accorded. Mr. Harms, on behalf of the glee party and the teachers, returned thanks, and moved the thanks of the audience to Mr. Hargreaves for kindly distributing the prizes; Mr. Marshall seconded the motion, which was also heartily carried.

ROTHWELL HAIGH.

The annual festival in connection with this school was celebrated on Wednesday in a most successful and interesting manner. The affair was held in the Stourton schoolroom, which, although every means had been taken to allow the greatest possible space, was crowded from door to door.

The proceedings commenced at seven o'clock, with the distribution of prizes by the chairman (Mr. W. Hargreaves) assisted by the clerk to the Board and the teachers. As over 200 books and cards had to be presented, this business occupied a good half-hour. Special reference was made to the splendid attendance of Sam Taytor, J. Chadwick, W. Carter, J. Collinson, B. C. Fatkin, and H. Taylor in the boys' school (447 each), and Ada Carter, Louisa Walmsley, and Florence Castlehouse in the girls' school (449 each), and also Joseph Fowler in the infants' school, (449) all of whom have been present every time the school has been open. Fred Ellison, as head of the school, also obtained a special prize.

Additional interest was evoked by the presentation of a money grant earned by pupil teachers at this school, viz.:—Mr. J. T. Gurney, 2nd class, Miss A. Holmes, 2nd class, Miss Gill, 1st class, and Miss H. E. Holmes, 2nd class. A pretty, well fitted writing desk was presented to Mr. Gurney on leaving the school, to the cost of which the teachers and scholars had subscribed.

Previous to the concert, the chairman addressed a few remarks to the parents, in which he paid a high compliment to the teachers of these schools for the excellent results they had secured in the education of the children, and urging them to work in harmony with the Board and the teachers, in giving the scholars a good sound training.

Kindly reference was made to the recent serious illness of Mrs. Dobson, who would so much have wished to be with them, but who was still unable to leave her room. Her great disappointment and regret, were heartily reciprocated by all present.

The concert opened with the "March of the Men of Harlech" by the boys, succeeded by a violin solo by Master Tom Parker, who after a little difficulty at the beginning, played very nicely a short selection. The infants' action song "The busy little mother" under the guidance of Miss Fieldhouse was beautifully done, and this, as well as the after songs, were unanimously enjoyed.

A glee party consisting of Miss Whitaker, Miss Ineson, Mr. Stammers and Mr. Shaw, then rendered the comic quartette, "Pro Phundo Basso." Strange to say, the same glee had been given the previous Friday at Rothwell by males, and the opportunity of comparison enabled one to select the best manner of performing this capital piece. As basso, Mr. Shaw was nowhere to Mr. Woodcock in action and power of voice, but taking the party as a whole, Mr. Shaw's was the more preferable, his sweet baritone along with Mr. Stammer's light tenor, blending nicely with the ladies' voices, while the distinction between the four parts was much more marked than with all male voices. They were loudly applauded on finishing. The girls' performance of "Maybells and flowers" was very nice, and their rivetted attention to Miss Greaves' baton was most pleasing. Little Lizzie Taylor's recitation "My little dolly" was something unusual for a 'dot' of four years; everybody was surprised and delighted. Miss Whitaker evidenced the possession of an excellent voice and considerable taste in her rather lengthy song "Summer showers." The infants' "Imitation of Trades" was immensely popular, and the rule for 'no encores' was forced to be broken. Miss J. Massey, one of the scholars, recited in a pleasant and easy manner combined with a clear enunciation "The pied-piper of Hamelin," and both as an exercise of memory, and as an elocutionary effort, was most praiseworthy. Mr Stammers than sang "My sweetheart when a boy," the first part closing with "Beautiful Star" by the boys and girls.

The second part of the programme was introduced by a pianoforte performance of selections from "Martha" by Miss Nicholson, which was very creditable indeed The song "No Sir" was next rendered by Miss Whitaker, followed by "The Cambrian Plume" by the girls. Mr. Shaw next sang "Sailing" in a very tasteful and agreeable style. The infants' rendering of "The dismal ditty" was most amusing, and another persistent demand for more led to to the singing of "Spotty and Dotty." The appearance of Mr. A. Batty was the signal for a noisy welcome, and in singing his popular topical "I would if I could, but I can't" he fully sustained his reputation, and added two or three new verses, referring to Hunslet Union, the resignation of the vice-chairman of the Local Board, and the fall of Khartoum. Of course he was recalled, and gave an encore verse or two. The best hit by the boys was in the singing of the "Red, white and blue", as not only did they take the song up with spirit, but additional effect was given to it by the waving of coloured handkerchiefs during the chorus. Miss Tolson possesses considerable ability as a reciter, and though her choice of a composition in 'dialect' was not perhaps the most appropriate, yet her rendering of "What it is to be a mother" was very successful, and her recall was fully justified by the manner in which she told the story of a "New Year's Gift." Mr. J. Dobson having a cold, Mr. A. Batty kindly took his place, and sang "The Muddle Puddle Porter" which being heartily received, was succeeded by "The little pigs," in which the laughter of the audience quite drowned the "wee, wee" of the piglets. The hour was now getting rather late, and Miss Ineson hardly had fair play in her gratifying performance of "Give me those early flowers."

Previous to the "singing lesson" by the boys and girls, the chairman called upon Mr. Seanor, to propose a vote of thanks to the teachers and friends who had so kindly and efficiently contributed to the success of the evening. The motion was cordially undertaken by Mr. Seanor, who expressed his great pleasure in listening to both scholars and friends, feeling that a most entertaining programme had been provided by them and the teachers. Mr. Marshall, in seconding the motion, thought that this was the most successful children's concert he had listened to, and stated that so numerons had been the offers of assistance that he had had to considerably reduce the original length of the programme. The resolution was loudly applauded, and Mr. Nicholson returned thanks. The National Anthem brought the proceedings to a close.

It is only right to state that Mr. Pheasey taught and conducted the boys, Miss Greaves the girls, Miss Fieldhouse the infants. The accompaniments were divided between Miss Holmes, Miss Nicholson and Mr. F. Fatkin. To all these great credit is due for the successful concert.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

Rothwell gained another well earned victory last Saturday, when they were opposed by Higham. The home team was only a poor one, and considering the great odds they had to contend against, they are to be congratulated on their victory of 2 goals to none. Neither side seemed to have any material advantage as regards play, the ball being first at one end of the field and then the other. It was the Rothwell forwards who won the day, and their passing and combined attacks, were a marked improvement on previous occasions. The two Rothwell backs played a very good game all through, while Wight, the goalman kept his charge splendidly, and although many were long shots, yet the cool way in which he undertook his work, was very nice to witness. On the other side Higham were possessed of a strong set of backs, and if anything were a shade better than those of Rothwell, but their forwards showed bad judgment in front of the goal.

To-morrow, sees the return between Oulton and Rothwell, fought out, on Oulton Green. Methley Lane, I hardly know which side to predict as likely to win, seeing that the first match was so keenly contested, and then to end in a tie. At that time Rothwell men were all out of training, and since then have improved immensely. After all with having the advantage of playing on home soil, Oulton should have a little in hand at the finish. There is one thing, which I should like to point out to the two clubs, that is to appoint a referee, (if they have not already done so) and thus prevent the occurrence of disputes which are sure to arise if this plan is not adopted, and which bring disgrace on both parties. Why not ask Mr. B. Taylor to officiate, because he is not a member (I believe) of either organisation, and has acted in that capacity before for these clubs, and gave universal satisfaction.

Oulton played their return match with Sheffield Walkley at Sheffield. Neither side were able to score a single point though each goal was at times in danger, but the backs kept them intact. The first match at Oulton, the home team won pretty easily, but, then hardly anybody expected that when the return came to played at Sheffield that our leading village club would so gallantly hold their own against men of the "blades" district. And still people say that Oulton is not as good to day as of yore, while I think the reverse, because no one can remember of Oulton doing so well against Sheffield clubs in the past; so if Oulton club has gone down, the Walkley must have suffered worse. The only way of proving this is to ask such clubs as the Walkley, and I am bound to say the reply will be in the negative.

CAPTAIN.

ROTHWELL v. HIGHAM (BARNSLEY)

The return match between these clubs was played on Saturday last, at Rothwell. The weather was splendid for football playing, with not much wind stirring. The visitors did not arrive until about 4.30, and it was close upon 5 o'clock before the game commenced. Higham won the toss, and Rothwell kicked off, and quickly ran the ball to the visitors' end, but the good defensive play of the Higham backs saved their side for a while. Play was then transferred to the other end for a time, and the home goal assailed, but the backs saved, and soon the Higham goal was once more in danger. No tangible result ensued however, until one of the visitors backs, in attempting to kick the ball away, put it through his own goal. Higham restarted, and for a while played up rather better, but their efforts were frustrated by the home backs and goalman who managed to keep their lines clear, and at half-time the game stood Rothwell 1 goal to Higham nil. No time was lost in recommencing, and Higham played up better this half. However, they were met at every turn, and the ball again travelling to the visitors end, a goal was kicked by W. Richardson. Higham now made a determined effort to score, and several were very near, but nothing resulted, and at the call of time, a pleasant game ended in a win for Rothwell by 2 goals to nil. ROTHWELL TEAM.- J. W. Wright, goal; H. Richardson, R. H. Lewis, backs; E. Copley, W. I. Taylor, R. A. Longley, half-backs; J. Wilson, H. Greenwood, I. Blackburn, W. Richardson, J. Harrison, (capt) forwards.

OULTON v. SHEFFIELD WALKLEY.

The return match between these two clubs was brought off on Saturday last on the Queen's Ground, Sheffield. The weather was mild and spring-like, but the number of spectators was limited. Oulton won the toss and elected to play with the wind to their backs. Sheffield commenced hostilities by invading Oulton territory, and at once laid siege to the citadel, but the defence of the visitors backs was invulnerable and by careful kicking the ball was given to their forwards who made an inroad into the home territory, but no good came of it. Aided by the wind, a sharp encounter was fought in front of the Sheffield sticks, but again no tangible result followed The game was transferred to mid-territory by judicious play on the part of the home backs where the fight raged for some time, each side having occassional advantage. Corner kicks by both sides now became the order of the day, but the stubbornness of the backs and custodian admitted of no capture being made, and neither party scored when the whistle blew half time. The wind was now utilised by the 'blades,' and ere long the leather was found in the Oulton half, where the backs had a hot quarter of an hour. However, they manfully repulsed the attacks on their fortress, and breathing time was afforded them by the Oulton forwards invading their opponents' half. The visitors however, would no longer tolerate this, and again they swooped down into Oulton territory, where they kept up an incessant bombardment of the fortress, but owing to the vigilance of the backs, especially Coope, who excelled all his previous efforts, no goal was obtained, and the game ended in a draw. Too much praise cannot be given to the visiting backs and half-backs for their really splendid performance in checking such a clever body of forwards as those of the Walkley, whilst the goal-keeping of Counell, a novice at the job, far exceeded all expectations.

HARRIERS.

STOURTON HARRIERS.—The Stourton, Airedale (Bradford) and Headingley Harriers, had an inter-run on Saturday, from the Queen Hotel, Stourton. At 3-30 the hares F. Fatkin, and H Atkinson, (Stourton) started to lay the trail. The pack, with W. Chesham, (Airedale) as pack and J. W. Weatherhead (Stourton) as whip, followed ten minutes later, and found the trail leading down Wakefield Road to Thwaite Gate then by Pontefract Road to Haigh Park, then a turn to the right and under the railway, across Oliver's pastures (where some water jumps were met with) into Rothwell Lane past the Low-shops and across country into Carlton, through the village and towards Lee Moor, then a sharp turn to the right and across country into Wakefield Road at Robin Hood. The race for home commenced at the Jawbones, a distance of one mile, and resulted as follows:—R. Hill, W. Fatkin, J. W. Weatherhead (Stourton), A. Chisham, J. H. Mitchell, W. Chisham (Airedale), B. Ross (Stourton), E. Moses W. Learoyd (Headingley), S. Watmough (Airedale), Allinson (Headingley), Austerfield (Airedale), arriving at 4.55, the hares having arrived at 4.45 after a pleasant run of about 8 miles.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

THE rumour that the owner of what is known as 'Oddie's Estate' is coming to settle down in Woodlesford will be welcome news to many besides those who are directly interested in a brisker impetus being given to the present dull run of affairs there. It would be still better news to hear of an enterprising firm restarting the mill which has been standing idle so long. Admirably situated as it is for handy communication with all parts, by rail or canal, and well adapted for operative business, it seems a mystery that it should not be utilised. With the mill in full swing, giving employment to surplus labour, and with 'warm' tenants in Eshald and other deserted houses, the village would present less of a desolate and neglected appearance, and become more like the busy thriving community it was some years ago.

.. ..

The persistent efforts made by the vicar of Woodlesford to create amongst his people a more earnest observance of the season of Lent are beginning to be rewarded with something like the success they deserve. The attendance at the week-night services, we are told, is very good and is steadily increasing. At Oulton Church too, there is a revival of interest in these special services. The attendance on Thursday last was such as to draw from the preacher, the Rev. A. J. Miller, the compliment, that those present were not content with the 'respectable' and 'decent' observance of the conventional Sunday services, but gave evidence of the earnestness of their faith, by attending in such numbers the week-night service. It must be admitted, however, that the congregation on this occasion was considerably larger than is the rule here. It is to be hoped that the improvement will be lasting.

THE local branches of the Girls' Friendly Society at Woodlesford, Oulton and Swillington, are doing useful work in the district. They are fortunate in possessing the zealous and influential advocacy of Lady Lowther and Mrs. Lowther, of Swillington Hall. The social and moral advantages of membership are real and decided, and are sure to be of great assistance and encouragement to girls who have to leave home in search of a livelihood. As branches are established is most of the towns and villages in the diocese, any member arriving in a strange neighbourhood, receives at once an introduction to friends who are willing and able to look after and promote her welfare in every way. Certificates of merit in some cases endorsed by the Bishop, are given; these are often useful in obtaining desirable situations. In cases of illness there is the privilege of admission, at a nominal charge, to a convalescent home provided for the purpose at Bridlington, which is under the charge of Mrs. Harris, formerly housekeeper at Swillington Hall. The objects of the Society are likely to be most beneficial to those it is intended to serve, and we have pleasure in commending it to the notice of our readers.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We would particularly urge our friends to send in their letters and news, as early as possible, as we cannot accept contributions later than Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, except in the case of matters occurring on Wednesday or Thursday, which should be forwarded within a short period after. Advertisements may be sent as late as Friday morning.

TOWN TALK.

I AM greatly indebted to Mr. B. Clark for his most amiable letter, which appeared last week. That gentleman desires to point out one or two errors, into which I have lately fallen, and refers to some information which was published a week or two ago, with reference to the proceedings at the Temperance Hall. In the first place he notices the meeting at which it is said he got the 'blowing up;' Mr. Clark says 'one speaker got a little excited;' but if the 'blowing up' did not take place as I stated. I can only say that my informant has given me as extreme a view of the stormy side, as Mr. Clark has given of the calm and tranquil. My statements about the falling off of some of their members, and the reasons of their so doing, is admitted and lamented, and the letter also admits that the Sunday evening services have been neglected of late. Lastly, I should like to notice the denial, which Mr. Clark inserts in his letter, of being concerned in writing against the Temperance Society, in the columns of this journal. He say he "has a happy consciousness of being quite innocent" and does not allow the suspicions to trouble him. I am glad to see this sweeping denial of complicity in the work of injuring his own Society. It will be remembered that the week after 'A Supporter of Temperance' issued a letter in December last, I advised certain persons to entirely clear themselves of such suspicion. I am glad to see that Mr. Clark has acted on my advice; his words have been read by many with profound astonishment, for many persons gave him the credit of writing both the epistles signed 'R.T.S.' and 'A Supporter of Temperance.'

.. ..

THE Co-operative Society have at last taken down the hoarding in Church St. The Board has had to give them a summary notice to clear the footpath, and I think it was not done before it was needed. If it had not been so late in the week I should have respectfully hinted, that a special musical service, and an extra quality of sermon, would not be prepared in vain by the vicar and choir master for next Sunday's service in church. There is sure to be an extraordinary congregation seeing that this great obstacle has been removed, and it will be a treat to be able to give our undivided attention to the various parts of the service, instead of having so constantly to watch our neighbours' mud-covered boots or bespattered clothing, and avoid having a portion of it transferred to our own apparel.

Mr. Newsome thinks that the view usually taken by the Rothwell Times on gas matters is often one-sided, and when the Company supply the gas above standard quality they never get any credit for it. With reference to the view usually taken by the proprietors of this journal, I am in no way concerned, but my desire is that the gas supplied by the Company should be a bit more regular in its quality, and not one night two candles above and the next two candles below standard quality. We do not ask as consumers, to have it better than the Act provides for. The Act provides for a good quality, and so long as the Company supply us with good gas, we are content and quiet, but when the quality becomes inferior, we simply say 'we pay a good price, and we'll have a good sort.'

.. ..

On reading the paragraphs headed 'Bye-roads' and 'The Gas Trial' in the report of the Local Board meeting, it struck me that there was a very mysterious unanimity of opinion in the minds of Messrs. Wm. Hargreaves and Turner. It would be just a little startling if they are getting ready to issue a joint address at the coming election, and 'puff' into the Board-room on the back of 'Miss Enterprise.'

GOSSIP.

WATER CHARGES.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

I was glad to learn from a paragraph under "Town Talk" in your issue of the 13th Feb, that a resolution relating to the water rents as at present fixed will be moved at a Local Board meeting some time in the month of March, when it is to be hoped a more equitable and just scale of charges will be adopted. In my humble opinion, the fairest and most satisfactory way of supplying water to householders is by metre, each one paying for the quantity really used. Wastefulness would be prevented and no one need fear the "lynx-eyed inspector." I suppose the water metre is a simple machine costing about £3 each, and easily kept in repair, and it would not be considered unreasonable to charge say 7½ or 10 per cent. on the cost as rent for metre, the profit going towards expenses of taking the quantity used quarter by quarter by each householder. As the price of water is a matter of importance to all of us, I should be glad to see the subject ably discussed in your columns before it is taken up again by the Local Board.

I am, dear Sir,
Yours respectfully,
A HOUSEHOLDER.

WATER AT LOFTHOUSE WITH CARLTON.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir.

On this subject I am glad to have to report that there is now a good natural supply. There are no less than 12 wells within 400 yards of the centre of Lofthouse, and all these wells have within the last fortnight risen from 8 to 12 feet in good water. Several of these wells have never been dry during the late drought. One excellent well, which was situated in the property of the late John Hammond, was unaccountably filled up about 2 years since, thus depriving the inhabitants of the advantage of a never-failing spring. As long droughts occur only rarely, perhaps once in 20 years, and as Lofthouse and Carlton are not likely to increase much in business, wealth, or population, the Parochial Sanitary Committee would do well to hesitate before proceeding with an enterprise that will saddle additional burdens on property. Those few property owners who happen to be occasionally short of water, or who have not provided water before building cottages, have the remedy in their own hands by sinking wells. The poorer people can find time to fetch water a little distance, better than find money to pay for it. For the last 9 or 10 years many people have had too much water, the cellars in some instances being 2 feet deep. It seems absurd to drain away the fresh natural supplies of water and pay for an artificial supply. Further I am informed that only about a dozen property owners signed the request for the town's meeting, and only about the same number attended the meeting when the water supply was discussed, a certain index that a very large majority of property owners are opposed to the scheme. In every place in Lofthouse where water has been sought for by sinking wells deep enough it has been found, and a stream of good water runs completely round the township.

I am,
Yours respectfully,
AQUARIAS.

THE WORKING MAN'S CLUB.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

Will you permit me a few lines in reply to "Gossip" in your last week's issue, in reference to the dispute at the Working Man's Club. I find that like most gossips he throws out hints and leaves others to form what opinions they like in the matter. Now the facts of the case are these, that instead of the caretakers treating the members as children or fools, they were themselves grossly insulted by one of the said young men (little more than a child), and after repeatedly informing the secretary, and vainly asking to have the matter brought before the Committee, were obliged to appeal to the 'superior power.' another error in "Gossips" paragraph is that Mr. Smith has decided since the meeting, to leave the club; he made this decision several weeks ago. I would like to give a little advice to the young men, in the first place to make themselves financial members and behave in a manly way; in the second, I should advise "Gossip" to apply for the post of caretaker at the Rothwell Working Man's Club, and to hold the office for two years; while there he would have something other to do than meddle with other people's business, and at the end might perhaps write a different article for your valuable paper.

I am, Sir,
Yours truly,
M. J.

THE TEMPERANCE HALL.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir

I am right well pleased that gossip made that mistak about that there blowing up it Temperance Hall a fortnight since. A blunder does good sometimes, and it is worth something to get Mr. Clark out of his shell a bit for once I think he has been quiet too long, and now that he has com'd out, he has drawn it very mild, but I expect he has his reasons for that; there is the yearly meeting this month and telection of officers, and some gentlemen can be very mild and smoothe spoken at election times. I dont think he is the right man for the Presedent as things is now at the Temperence Hall, he is over quiet, and he lets them fellows at Hall have rather too much of their own way or else things would not be as bad as they are. I think there getting stalled on him and I hope there will be a change. but I could like it to be change for better and not for worse. I have heard say their going to have Mr. Ineson in, but I am thinking that will be a bit like jumping out of frying pan intot fire, as the saying goes.

But I want to ask Mr. Clark some questons. Why has nt he spoken out long since in your paper instead of letting the Society go down as it has done. Is it right that the band men and their friends should have all the place to themselves but there is no room for such as me, and yet I pay as much for my subscription as they do.

The band of hope pays for the use of the Hall every time they have a meeting, and I ask Mr. Clark is it right that the men of the Brass and Drum and Fife bands should use the Hall four times a week and pay nothing for it. Before the brass instruments were bought, which have cost I believe about a hundred pounds the band men agreed to pay four pence a week until the instruments were paid for. They did so for a time but for more than a year they have paid nought but their subscription which is two shillings a year not a farding a week apiece, then beside they agreed that the Society should have a share of the money they got for playing, instead of that they put it in their own pockets and the Society gets nought, and yet I reckon they cost every week for four practices, not less than four shillings in gas and fire and then there is Hall keepers wages and other expenses, with £50 debts on the Instruments and about £160 on the building. I should like the Presedent to answer these few questons. If you will put this letter in your paper this week Mr. Editor and oblige

Yours respectivly
A TEETOTAL WORKING MAN.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares, Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high coloured; depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population have this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. The disease is Dyspepsia or Indigestion. Seigel's Operating Pills are an effective remedy for Constipation and Biliousness. Those afflicted with Asthma will find immediate relief by using the Rosinweed Tar Mixture. Genuine has A. J. White, Lim., on the stamp. An almanac containing testimonials from persons who have received benefit from use of Seigel's Curative Syrup will be furnished free of charge, by the proprietors, A. J. THE Golden Cup Cocoa House, 157, Briggate.—The new premises are now complete and the accommodation greatly improved.

VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the Individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade. Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has cast about him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. Having been thirty-five years in the trade, in the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was naturally 'up to all the wrinkles.' The middle men, known by the names of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of Manufacturers, who arranged to supply his Establishment at the cost of materials and men's time in the making. In short, placing the Goods before the public, at single articles at wholesale prices. The management is still under R. Scott's personal control, who takes this opportunity of thanking his Patrons in the past, and hopes to receive anew a mark of their confidence. In future the firm will be known as Scott & Co., Goldsmiths, Silversmiths, Opticians, Watch and Clock Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.

If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly restored by good workmen. Scott & Co. guarantee their work for [illegible] months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made [illegible] very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

Friday, March 13, 1885.

ROTHWELL a political centre! Not much like it, certainly. So far as appears on the surface, there is little or no life in either the Conservative or Liberal camps, if indeed there are any camps at all. Where is the energy displayed at Nostell and at Woodhouse Moor? Have those efforts exhausted all the power of our opinions for a whole year or two? Here we have just secured a Bill giving us thousands of voters where there were not as many hundreds. We are the second place of importance and size in the New Parliamentary division. We have even been presuming to be selected as the head of the division itself, and yet there is no life; neither the attainment of the Parliamentary goal so long sought for, nor the serious and critical state of our foreign policy seem sufficient to awaken our drowsy politicians. Come gentlemen, let us not combine to bring on us the sneers of our neighbours. Organise your forces if you mean to have a hand in the fight. Is it to be Charlesworth or Pickard, Conservative or Liberal, capital or labour? Anything is better than stagnation. Where are our lectures, our political instructors, our clubs. As journalists, we are debarred by our independent position from taking sides, but this inactivity amid the liveliness and energy of our friends close by, is really unbearable. We have Major Albany Charlesworth selected by the Conservatives, and he has already made a good impression. We have Mr. Benj. Pickard, a labour candidate, a strong self-made man, who has addressed meetings at Normanton and Stanley. When these gentlemen come here, are they to find us nearly dead or dazed. Already the preparations for the registration of voters are being pushed forward. In seven months we shall have a general election, and for the first time, we shall be closely connected with "our member." Is somebody else going to send him, and leave us the proud consciousness (?) of having done nothing for ourselves. For the sake of our character, as well as to secure the representation of our opinions, let every man in the district discuss the question, and join himself to one side or another, and then when the struggle fairly begins, whether his man be victorious or defeated, he will be conscious of having done his duty.

OUR local elections are also drawing near, and without going into any details, we give the following facts. The members vacating their seats on the Local Board are Messrs J. Charlesworth, W. Hargreaves, and J. Turner; little has yet been done or said as regards the probable nominations; no doubt Mr. Hargreaves and Mr. Turner will seek re election, but Mr. Charlesworth has intimated his desire to retire. The Stourton people think they should have another representative on the Board. The time for nominations closes on the twenty-fifth of March, the papers will be delivered on the thirtieth of March, and be collected on the second of April, the casting up and declaration of the result will be made known on Saturday, the fourth of April.

THE election of Guardians takes place about the same time, the present members being Messrs J. Hargreaves, J. Parker, and W. Lawton. No rumours have yet come to our ears as to what may happen in this matter. It is said that in Hunslet several seats will be filled with new members.

THE Overseers' election will take place on or about the twenty-fifth of March, and in this matter also there is little in the air. The present overseers are Messrs J. Hargreaves, H. P. Newsome, and J. Batty.

HUNSLET BOARD OF GUARDIAN.

The fortnightly meeting of the Board took place on Wednesday, present—Mr. J. Hargreaves (chairman), Councillor Pickersgill, and Mr. Dixon (vice-chairmen), and Messrs J. Parker, J. Graveley, J. Smith, W. Lawton, R. J. Smith, H. Sheard, J. Hardcastle, C. Grosvenor, B. Aaron, G. Jepson, and the clerk (Mr Schofield).

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed, after which the relieving officers reported some special cases.

ASYLUM VISITATION.—On a committee being proposed to visit the Wakefield Asylum, the chairman, Messrs Pickersgill, Graveley, and Parker withdrew their names, and the remaining nine members then signified their willingness to attend, along with the clerk. The decision was only arrived at after some discussion.

Quite a number of amendments were moved in regard to a proposition for Wadsley Asylum visitation. The chairman and Mr. Parker were eventually appointed.

INQUIRY.—The clerk said there was nothing to report respecting the late Inquiry, but what had already appeared in the papers. The clerk produced the plans prepared by Mr. Hill for the proposed addition to the workhouse. Some discussion ensued as to whether these plans should be sent for approval to the Local Government Board. It was moved by Mr. Aaron, seconded by Mr. Dixon, that these plans be sent to the Board in London. An amendment was moved by Mr. Grosvenor that the consideration of these plans be deferred to next meeting. Mr. R. J. Smith had not gone into the plan, and preferred to delay this subject a fortnight. Mr. Parker also urged they should be sent, if they were to be of any use. Mr. Graveley seconded the amendment, but only Mr. Grosvenor, and he supported it. The original proposition was therefore carried.

VISITS TO OUT-TOWNSHIPS.—Arrangements were made for visiting Rothwell and Oulton on Friday March 20th, in order to see the persons receiving relief in those townships.

The chairman also reported that he and a number of Guardians paid an official visit to Halton, &c., on Friday last, and after seeing the poor people able to walk to the schoolroom, they visited others at Colton and Whitkirk, afterwards returning to Halton, when Mr. Graveley most hospitably entertained his fellow members.

STATISTICS OF VALUATION.—A question having been propounded to the Clerk, as to what advantage has been gained by the Union, through the new valuation lately made by Messrs. Hedley & Sons, he stated that the old valuation of properties considered, was £60,245; the rateable value of these works was now £77,445, an advance of £17,200. The amount paid to the valuers for their work was one per cent.

ELECTION.—On the motion of the chairman, seconded by Mr. Jepson, it was resolved that Messrs. B. Aaron, J. Parker, J. Smith, and J. Dixon, be a committee to select and appoint distributors of the voting papers at the forthcoming election.

The clerk asked for the providing of a number of bags to be used in distributing the papers, but as the cost would probably be £6 the Board thought they might manage without, as they have previously done.

TENDERS.—After some discussion, the various items to be contracted for, were agreed on, and on the motion of Mr. Graveley and Mr. Hardcastle, advertisements were ordered in the Rothwell Times and other papers.

SETTLEMENT.—A case of a Hunslet woman and three children now being relieved by Leeds was gone into, and a weekly allowance of 4/6 was granted.

RECREATION.—The offer of the "Queen's Minstrel Troupe" to give an entertainment to the inmates of the Workhouse, was accepted.

FINANCE.—The clerk read particulars of the estimated expenditure and income of the Board for the ensuing half-year, the expenditure being £6572, against £6740 last term, and the income £730, (an increase over last year,) thus leaving a balance of £5842 to be provided for by calls on the several townships, about £250 less than last time.

CONSOLS.—Mr. Parker proposed that £500 be sold for the benefit of Hunslet township, seconded by Mr. Dixon and carried.

DEPUTATION.—The chairman gave notice that next meeting he should propose that a deputation be appointed to wait on the Local Government Board previous to any decision being come to as regards the proposed dissolution of Hunslet Union.

The usual wants and returns were then approved.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame." Civil Service Gazette.—Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in Packets, labelled, 'JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London.' Also makers of Epps's Chocolate Essence.

KAY'S COMPOUND Essence of Linseed, Aniseed, Senega, Squill, Tolu, &c., with Chlorodyne Of all Chemists.

THE Golden Cup Cocoa House, 157, Briggate, has private rooms for ladies both on the ground and first floor rooms.

LOCAL BOARD MEETING.

The usual meeting of the Board took place on Monday evening, present, Mr. Jas. Hargreaves, (chairman), Messrs. W. Hargreaves, J. Holmes, J. Dobson, J. Nowell, and the clerk, collector and surveyor.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

HIGHWAYS.—Some conversation took place respecting the final settlement in Mr. Bulmer's contract. Continued dissatisfaction was expressed as regards Mr. Nichols' contract, his roads being in so bad a condition. As the notice for termination will expire in about two months, no further action was taken on the matter.

THE "GAS" SUMMONS.—The clerk read a letter from Mr. Ianson, magistrates' clerk, in reply to an inquiry respecting the apparent complicity of the Local Board in the trial lately heard between Mr. J. Turner and the Rothwell Gas Light Co. Mr. Ianson states that the summons was taken out by Mr. Turner as "agent for the Rothwell Local Board," and that by this means, the name of the Board had been introduced as plaintiffs in the reports of the Mercury and Express.

WOODHOUSE CEMETERY DRAIN.—Mr. Simpson had sent a letter intimating that he had given the Corporation notice to complete the arrangements agreed on, according to the Board's instructions.

TELL TALE.—The clerk reported that he had very carefully prepared a tell-tale of the attendance of members during the year, and he proceeded to read as follows:—

WATER FOR CARLTON AND LOFTHOUSE.—A deputation, consisting of Messrs. Lofthouse, Lunn, and Harrison, attended the meeting, in regard to a supply of water required by the township of Carlton-with-Lofthouse. Mr. Lofthouse stated that the object of their visit was to ascertain if the Rothwell Local Board were prepared to supply the above townships with water, about 24,000 gallons a day, and at what price. He supposed they would have to lay mains from the 'Jawbones' to the boundary of the Carlton township, where a metre would be erected to register what quantity was consumed by them. Mr. W. Hargreaves enquired if they had made any arrangements with Soothill or Ardsley, to which they replied in the negative. In reply to Dr. Nowell, Mr. Lofthouse supposed that Carlton and Lofthouse would be liable for any leakage or risks after passing through their meter. The chairman said, in reply to Mr. Lunn, that the Board would have to communicate with Leeds, before giving any definite reply. Mr. W. Hargreaves intimated that some correspondence had been going on between Leeds, and ratepayers in Carlton and Lofthouse, the purport of which was reported to the Board. At the close of the interview, the deputation were informed that they would be communicated with after correspondence with the Corporation. The question of sufficient means of supply was introduced, and Mr. Dobson expressed his anxiety that the Board should be fully assured of our ability to supply both ourselves and Carlton and Lofthouse. Dr. Nowell urged the necessity for an alteration in the size of the pipes the other side of Thwaite Gate. The clerk remarked that since the Hunslet firm (who have been using 30,000 gallons a day lately) had had their pumps repaired, there had always been a full reservoir. A resolution to communicate with Lofthouse and Carlton was afterwards carried, on the motion of Dr. Nowell and Mr. Holmes.

FINANCE.—Cheques for the salaries of officers, and for several contractors, were signed, on the motion of Mr. Holmes and Mr. Dobson.

The collector also reported the receipt of the following amounts:—

General District Rate ...	59	15	4
Water Rent	58	4	9
Miscellaneous		2	2
	£120	2	[illegible]

SUMMONSES FOR RATES.—The collector asked for the usual authority supporting him in any case requiring a summons for non-payment of rates, and a resolution was passed to that effect on the motion of Mr. Nowell and Mr. Dobson.

VOTING LISTS.—Dr. Nowell, in accordance with his notice asked a question as regards the voting papers. They ought to be kept six months, then be destroyed; he wished to know if they were destroyed. The clerk said the act required that they should be kept for six months, but nothing was mentioned about being destroyed. In reply to further enquiries, the clerk said that the books for the previous year are kept for the guidance of the returning officer. Mr. Nowell was inclined to think they were used for other purposes, and if so, the practice was most obnoxious and unjust. Mr. W. Hargreaves, as one of the oldest of the Board, felt such a remark affected him, and indignantly denied such an imputation. After some further remarks between these two gentlemen, Mr. Nowell said he did not refer to any individual member, but held that such lists ought not to be kept at all. The clerk pointed out that poll books for the entry of voters and how they vote, must be used, and the returning officer cannot do without. These books and papers have never been examined after the election, except on two occasions, once by the late Mr. Lunn, and once by Mr. Nowell himself. Except these two occasions they had never been asked for and inspected by anyone. They only kept one poll list for the guidance of the returning officer in the ensuing election. Mr. Holmes agreed that there were many things during these elections which ought not to be; and thought that when candidates or their agents came and sat at the table during the election, noting how every man voted, that that was certainly wrong. Eventually Mr. W. Hargreaves fully agreed on the propriety of these papers being destroyed after 6 months; while he strongly objected to and denied that any use was made of them, so far as he knew or was concerned. The chairman said he had never taken the opportunity of seeing what people had voted for him. Others had done so pretty fully, but he would scorn to sink so low. He had never seen the poll books or the voting papers, except just as they laid on the table in piles. He heartily wished the day had come when all voting papers should be done away with, and the ballot introduced. They would not have then such scenes as occurred two years ago, when papers were filled up for persons who had been dead three months. The clerk thought there was far more harm in exhibiting a list in a public house, than in locking the poll-books up in a cupboard. He said that the returning officer and he had decided that at this election, no notes shall be taken out of the Board room. In reply to Mr. Holmes, the clerk said the papers were destroyed nearly six months ago, and all they now possessed were one year's poll books.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

ACCIDENT AT ROTHWELL HAIGH COLLIERY.—John Haigh, miner, Gillet Lane, Rothwell met with an accident yesterday while at work in the Midland Pit, Rothwell Haigh Colliery. It seems that the unfortunate man was in the act of "baring," being partially laid on his right side, when a portion of the roof gave way and fell heavily on him, cutting and bruising his left side and leg. The accident occurred a little after one o'clock, at a considerable distance from the shaft. Assistance was speedily afforded, and Haigh was at once conveyed to the pit-head, where Mr. Hargreaves' trap was waiting for him, and he was driven home. Dr. Glaister was very shortly in attendance, and ministered to his injuries.

SUDDEN DEATH AT ROTHWELL.—On Tuesday morning last, Mrs William Howarth, of Gillet Lane, Rothwell, sustained injuries which resulted in her death on the following morning. At ten minutes past nine, Mrs. Howarth was shovelling some coals into the coal-house in the back yard and by a rather awkward twist required to deposit the coals at the far end of the place, she appears to have seriously injured her heart, for Samuel Smith, a neighbour who was crossing the yard at the time, heard her utter a sudden scream; she then walked into the house of Mrs Thompson, another neighbour, holding her side, and exclaimed "Oh, Mrs Thompson I'm done, I'm done." Restoratives were then obtained and applied, but in vain and when Dr. Glaister arrived he ordered her to bed at once. The poor woman lingered until nearly five o'clock on the following morning, when she quietly passed away; she was interred to-day at Rothwell.

STOURTON.—LOCAL BOARD ELECTION 1885.—The committee of the Ratepayers' Association for this district met at the Queen's Hotel on Wednesday evening, Mr. Swales in the chair. After the minutes of the last meeting had been confirmed and the report of the delegate to the Local Board respecting a better supply of lamps, had been submitted to the meeting; it was proposed by Mr. Midgley, seconded by Mr. Nicholson, and carried, "That in the opinion of this meeting it is necessary that we nominate a candidate to represent Stourton on the Rothwell Local Board for the next three years." The best thanks of the meeting having been given to Mr. Parker (the retiring guardian) for his services as our representative on the Hunslet Board of Guardians for the past year, it was proposed by Mr. Whitworth, seconded by Mr. Wynne, and carried, "That in the opinion of this meeting it is highly necessary that we have a representative from Stourton on the Board of Guardians for the Hunslet Union during the coming year." The meeting was then adjourned.

CARLTON TEMPERANCE HALL.—On Saturday last, a troupe of Christy Minstrels connected with this place made their début in an entertainment at the Hall. The place was nicely filled, and the jokes and conundrums of the 'darkies' caused continual roars of laughter, while the songs, etc., were mostly well rendered. The programme opened with the singing of "The Three Chafers" by part of the company, followed by the overture (arranged by Mr. S. Goldthorpe) by the band, which went fairly well. Mr S. Goldthorpe rendered two songs, "The cows are in the corn" being encored. Mr. W. Hobson sang two sentimental songs "The Spanish Cavalier," and "Leave me not in anger"; Mr W. Newton sang "Go and tell Maria" and another "comic." Mr W. Hammill's songs were "All through obliging a lady" and "Dear me." A well played concertina solo, "Men of Harlech" was given by Mr. R. Ellis. A comic feature of the performance, and which was re-demanded, was a "comic band rehearsal." The whole band were in full swing with conductor, and one by one the players left the platform, leaving the tambourinist by himself; he at last sinks from utter exhaustion, the conductor finds out all the musicians have departed, and tableau. A laughable lecture on "Sound" was given by Mr. S. Goldthorpe, and a "Patent Sermon" by Mr. W. Newton, which greatly tickled the risible faculties of the audience. Conundrums, jokes, etc., were interspersed among the songs, and served to make the thing lively and interesting. The concluding piece was a comic act "The Pilgrim Fathers," by Messrs. S. Goldthorpe and W. Hammill, which made an excellent finish up to the entertainment.

ROTHWELL TEMPERANCE HALL.—This place was well filled on Saturday night, the great attraction being Mr. G. W. Nicholson, the well-known comic, who rendered a number of his songs in his usual style, receiving the hearty applause of the audience. The other artistes were Miss Willans, Miss Hawkes, Miss Rider, Masters Ellison, Mr. C. Nettleton, and Mr. J. Wright, who did their best to please the company. Mr. J. Naylor and Mr. G. Blackburn accompanied the songs, dances, etc., in an efficient manner.

ON Sunday evening, the service of song, entitled "Rhoda, or the Gipsy Girls' mission of love," was given in the above hall, by the choir connected with the place. The story is a most interesting one, and many of the musical illustrations being original, the service is listened to attentively. Solos were given by Miss A. Cripps, Miss A. Brown, Mr. T. Dacre, and Mr. W. Varley. The choir acquitted themselves throughout in a creditable manner, accompanied on the harmonium by Mr. W. Steel. Mr. Blackburn conducted, and the connective readings were given by Mr. R. Watkin. A collection was taken at the close of the service.

STOURTON WESLEYAN MUTUAL IMPROVEMENT CLASS.—Before a very poor company Mr. W. Butterfield delivered an essay on Friday evening last. The essay was on "True Heroism" a subject which requires an amount of study, and was rather discouraging when it was found that there was going to be such a small company. Nevertheless the few that were there seemed to take much interest in it, and although the subject was not discussed as well as might have been expected, yet a great deal of information was gathered.

WESLEYAN HOME AND FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.—On Sunday afternoon the Stourton collectors of this cause were each presented with a book for the subscription collected during the past year. The names of prize-takers were, Alfred Ambler, R. Gillings, Joseph Fatkin, Hannah Fatkin, Annie Nash, William Batty, L. Ward, and B. Wrigglesworth. The Rev. W. G. Dicken distributed the presents, and hoped that there would be a larger number next year. Mr. Ward (Headingley) also gave an address. After the prizes were given Mr. P. Jefferson (Headingley) was called upon to say a few words, as well as Mr. Swales and Mr. Webber, the superintendents of the school.

STOURTON ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—On Tuesday evening Mr. H. Westerman, superintendent of St. Andrew's Sunday School, presented to Mrs. Dobson on behalf of the teachers of that school, a beautifully bound bible, Oxford edition, with explanatory notes, and concordance, as a small token of their esteem and appreciation of her past services in the school. Owing to Mrs. Dobson's illness, the presentation was made at her home, instead of publicly as had been previously intended.

WE deeply regret to announce that the succession of affliction and bereavement which has fallen on the highly respected Wesleyan minister stationed at Rothwell, was further increased by the death, after a short illness, of his eldest child of some six summers. Not a month ago both Mr. and Mrs. Pitt were ill, and were bereaved of their first little boy of nearly three years. Only last Wednesday, they were compelled to carry to the tomb their youngest child, and now the third out of their four children, is smitten down. Very sincere sympathy and sorrow is felt for the stricken parents, among all classes of society. May the gospel of consolation and benediction be their support.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

The great match has come and gone, and the Rothwell people have reason to be proud of the way their players distinguished themselves. Two alterations occurred in the Rothwell team, Chadwick found it impossible to play owing to an injury received the previous Saturday, while Wice expressed his wish not to assist his club in this match. On the other side, Connell was an absentee. Although a referee was appointed, a dispute arose, and the result was that the Rothwell players left the field, and the game was brought to an abrupt termination some twenty minutes before the call of time. Nearly every one present at the encounter were of the same opinion as myself, that a more disgraceful affair never cropped up in a match before, and the referee must have completely lost his head, or he would never have given such a decision. I will, as concisely as possible, point out the facts of the case. About twenty yards from the Rothwell goal, a foul was appealed for off one of the Oulton players, but Ward having the ball passed to the right-wing forward, who ran it to the other end of the field and kicked it out of boundary, thus making the ball dead. This same player brought the ball back to ascertain the cause of dispute, and placed in the hands of Abbey, but no sooner had this been done than the latter player took two or three kicks and put it between the Rothwell posts, after which instead of asking the umpires as they should have done, an appeal was made to the referee who gave his decision in favour of Oulton. In one of the rules it states "that by an agreement of the contesting parties, a referee shall be appointed, whose duties will be to settle all disputes between the umpires." Now if the umpires were agreeable on the point (and I have both their words for it) that it was no goal, but the ball should be thrown up, what right had the referee to interfere without being appealed to by the umpires. None whatever, I should say, and besides that, his decision won't stand for the simple reason that he had no authority to give it. Turning to the game, the Rothwell players never did better, and executed some good foot work, and kept their opponents in their own ground nearly all the first half, with the exception of a break through now and again by the home team. This fact may be taken from the number of corner kicks taken by the visitors, but as their forwards were only light and very small, their chance of getting one through was very poor. Shortly after the start, the Rothwell backs seemed to be a little mixed and allowed the home team to register the first point, but after this every man on the Rothwell side played extremely well, and in the second half made the score equal. It would hardly be fair to select any individual player, but still one cannot refrain from noticing the skilful play shown by Ward, who proved that he had not his equal on the ground, and the way he dodged his opponents three and four at a time was a treat to witness. The Oulton team made charging their motto, and were thus outshone nearly at every point, and had it not been for their goal-keeper, who time after time saved his side, and whose play throughout was almost perfect, the Oulton team would have suffered defeat to a large extent. But as it is, the Rothwell team of Saturday succeeded in doing what has only once before been accomplished on the ground by a Rothwell club, that is to avert defeat; the other time was when the Harmonic played them in the very same field, the second year Oulton had been in existence.

CAPTAIN.

ROTHWELL v. OULTON.

The return match between these clubs was played on Oulton Green on Saturday last. Owing to the well-known rivalry existing between these clubs, and the fact that the previous match ended in a tie, the game was doubly interesting from a spectator's point of view. It was thought by many that Oulton would have the best of it, but the game served to shew their mistake. Oulton won the toss, and Rothwell kicked off with a slight wind in their favour. The ball travelled quickly into the home territory, where it remained for a while, but the Oulton forwards breaking away, Rothwell backs were rather too slow, and the ball was put between the visitors' uprights. Loud cheers greeted this performance and a recurrence of the match played two years ago, when Oulton scored 8 to 1, seemed probable. However, the visitors played up gamely, and made a regular bombardment of the home goal, corner after corner being taken by Rothwell, but the Oulton men kept their goal intact, and once or twice got off and took the ball nicely to the other end, but at half-time the score had not altered. After a few minutes rest, the sphere was again set rolling, and Oulton now having the advantage of the wind, were intent on scoring. This was not to be, however and Ward getting away with the ball passed to Harrison, who made a splendid run of over half the length of the field, and the other forwards following close up, the ball was shot through off the foot of Richardson. Once more the globe was set agoing, and play was in the Rothwell quarters, when a corner fell to Oulton. On being kicked, the ball was fouled by Jowett; but Ward once more getting hold, passed to Harrison, who again got off. The foul was called by the Rothwell umpire, but Harrison ran the ball to the other end and kicked it out; he then carried the ball to the end where the foul had been committed, and threw it among the players, the ball being caught by Abbey, who at once dropped it on the ground, made a short dribble, and put the ball through the Rothwell goal. He at once appealed to the referee, and the point was given in a goal for Oulton. This did not appear to go down with the Rothwell players, and Oulton declaring their intention of sticking to the referee's decision, the Rothwell captain called upon his men to leave the field, which they did. We are sorry that the match came to such an abrupt termination, but we think upon no account should the players have appealed to the referee, before the umpires had disagreed, as they were both of opinion that the ball should have been thrown up, and that would doubtless have saved much of the feeling which will now exist between the two clubs. The game was one of the finest ever played by the Rothwell men, the passing of the forwards at times being up to the mark. For Rothwell, Ward played well and was doubtless the best man on the field, while Harrison also played a good game forward, as did Seanor half-back. For Oulton, Bradley kept the goal in a daring manner, and several times times barely saved his charge, and Ellis (forward) and Crawford (half-back), were perhaps the pick of the other players. Teams:—

OULTON.—W. Bradley, goal; T. A. Coope, C. Nunns, backs; J. Hirst, R. Jowett, J. Crawford, half-backs; H. Ellis, G. M. Abbey, E. Boothroyd (capt.), T. Moore, T. Higgins, forwards.

ROTHWELL.—J. W. Wright, goal; E. Newbould, A. Baines, backs; R. A. Longley, A. W. Seanor, W. Hartley (capt.), half-backs; A. Ward, W. Richardson, E. Copley, H. Greenwood, J. Harrison, forwards.

[We have also received a report of this match from Oulton, but as the above was written by an independent person, and was also set up in type when the Oulton report arrived, the latter had to be left out. If our Oulton correspondent desires to make any remarks we shall be happy to give publication to the same. —ED.]

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

THE Local Government Board enquiry on the proposed amalgamation of the Leeds Poor Law Unions, which closed on Friday last, will in its results probably have important consequences for this township. A strong case has been made out by the opponents of the dissolution scheme, but many people seem to think that amalgamation is a foregone conclusion, and that a decision in favor of the proposal is inevitable. So far as we are concerned, this would not be an unsatisfactory solution of this troublesome question, providing that as an outcome of the settlement we obtained the formation of a new union of the out-townships of Oulton-with-Woodlesford, Rothwell, Swillington, Thorpe, Lofthouse, and Methley. It seems a pity that the representative of Rothwell was not prepared to support the suggestion put forward on behalf of Woodlesford and Oulton at the enquiry, backed by the united influence of those most interested in fighting the battle of Hunslet and endeavouring to maintain our connection with the union, as a means of staving off the greater evil of being sent to Wakefield or Pontefract. If the dissolution of the present union led to the establishment of a separate union for the townships mentioned, we should be able to bear the defeat of our Hunslet friends with philosophical equanimity.

QUITE a little crowd of curious people assembled on different points of the railway on Tuesday evening last to watch the passing of the armour-placed locomotives towards their destination at Suakin. The engines are constructed by Messrs. Manning and Wardle, of the Boyne Engine Works. However much we may deplore the sacrifices we are called upon to make in Egypt, there is some consolation in the thought that it is not all waste. The demand for additional war and contractors' material gives employment to hundreds of workmen who would otherwise be next door to being out of work.

UNDER the auspices of the Oulton and Woodlesford Conservative Association, an address is to be given at Woodlesford in the Board Schools next week, by Mr. J. L. Wylde, of Leeds. Our Conservative friends are sparing no efforts to enlist the new voters under their banner, for the approaching election. The meeting is open to all, and there is pretty sure to be a good attendance to hear what the Conservative policy is, and why working men should be expected to support it. Interest in political matters is universal; as Milton or somebody says—

Into this world political
Every child that's born alive
Is either a little Liberal,
Or else a young Conservative.

HARRIERS.

THE Stourton, Hunslet Gordon, Leeds Teachers, and Moorland Harriers had an inter-run on Saturday from the Queen Hotel, Stourton, a field of 30 taking part. The hares—J. F. Simpson and H. Ison (Stourton) and Baxter (Teachers)—were despatched at 3.30 and ten minutes later the pack, with R. Suttell (Hunslet Gordon) as pace and H. Winecock (Moorland) as whip, started, and found the trail leading down Wakefield Road to Thwaite Gate, across Haigh Park to the Cinder Ovens, past Mr Jordan's farm; down Spibey Lane into Wood Lane, through Rothwell, past the Cross and along the pastures into Carlton Lane; a short distance along the lane, and then across country and into Wakefield Road at Lofthouse. The finish was found at the Jawbones, one mile from home, where the race incommenced, which resulted as follows:— J. W. Weatherhead, Rowland Hill, W. Fatkin, G. Sheard (Stourton), Ratcliffe (Teachers), B. Ross (Stourton), R. Suttell (Hunslet Gordon), J. Clark (Stourton), and Ruddock (Hunslet Gordon). The hares arrived at 4.40 and the pack at 4.50, after a pleasant run of nearly nine miles.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We would particularly urge our friends to send in their letters and news, as early as possible, as we cannot accept contributions later than Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, except in the case of matters occurring on Wednesday or Thursday, which should be forwarded within a short period after. Advertisements may be sent as late as Friday morning.

TOWN TALK.

MY remarks a fortnight ago anent the Rothwell Working Man's Club appear to have found their way home, and it is not to be wondered at that some such reply as was given by 'M. J.' last week should be forthcoming. I was not aware that Mrs. Smith's christian name was Mary Jane, nor do I think so yet, but it is possible that one of her friends bears that sweet name, and in this way we find Mary Jane doing battle for her beloved friend Mrs. Smith. Mary Jane is evidently a very close friend of the Smiths, for she writes with much feeling, and her statement of the whole case is so clear and precise, that one would imagine she was almost a constant visitor, and was enabled to see and know all their doings. The letter in question is, in short, written by an interested person; it is full of mis-statements and misrepresentations, and is therefore not worth the toss of a button. The fact that a new caretaker is appointed at the Club, is sufficient reason for hoping that the affairs of the institution will be carried on with more peace and pleasantness, and I hope to see the Club still thrive and flourish. One thing let me add, that it would be well if our worthy vicar would be to the Club what he is to the Mechanics' Institute: its head, but not its hands and feet and body. Don't let the head go one way and the body another, but let them consult each other's opinions a bit more.

"A TEETOTAL Working Man," in asking a few questions of his president, fully bears out my statements of the way in which the Temperance Society has degenerated of late months. Reform! REFORM! REFORM! That's what they want, a complete reform. Let the masters of the place (and this includes all its members, with few exceptions) see to these things, or they will go to the wall.

I WENT to Oulton to see the game at football, Oulton v. Rothwell. With reference to the play, the dispute, etc., I will say nothing, but leave that to my companion 'Captain,' who will no doubt deal with it as he thinks fit. This is the first match I have witnessed on Oulton Green, and it would be the last, if I thought things went on in the same way week by week. There was a thing wandering up and down the field (some said it was a man, but they knew no Moore about it) making the most fear-inspiring noises, shouting, thundering, screaming, yelling, raving, swearing; out of his mouth there flowed a constant stream of insulting, personal and unclean remarks against the Rothwell player. The fellow ought to be thoroughly ashamed of himself, and the Oulton Football Club are much to blame for countenancing such behaviour.

I AM glad to hear that next month, the Wesleyan Chapel is to be closed for the purpose of painting and decorating; the Mechanics' Hall is to be used for public service during the time the chapel is closed.

GOSSIP.

THE WORKING MAN'S CLUB.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

Your correspondent 'Gossip' in his 'Town Talk,' seems to have discovered what might be termed a 'mare's nest.' Judging from the tone of the letter of the week previous, as an answer to his remarks (which appeared in your last week's issue) the writer would have your readers to believe that all the fault has been on one side only, and endeavoured to state 'facts' to prove the case. It would have been better for the general public had they been better informed of the real authorship of the 'spiteful' note sent to you, rather than to depend on the mystic initials 'M. J.;' but however, it does not require a great stretch of the reader's mental faculties to discover that the prime movers in the matter are the ex-caretaker and his better half. We are fully aware that 'facts are stubborn things,' and are very difficult to disprove; it will be my intention, with your kind permission, to notice the 'facts' stated by your correspondent, and probably shall be able to prove them altogether wrong. My facts of the case are these: it appears on Dec. 26th, a difference arose between Mrs. Smith and one of the members of the club, respecting the lateness of the lighting of the fire, and words passed between them which would in all probability have been better left unsaid. Of this I was not made aware, until New Year's Eve, (some days after) and that by Mrs. Smith. The author of the letter would have it appear that I had been repeatedly informed respecting the matter, and took no notice, which necessitated their appealing to the superior power; that is, the Vicar. That statement is not correct, as the 'superior power' had been informed some days before I was aware of the fact. Providing I had been told of the occurrence, the matter would have been looked into sooner than it was, but on this, as on other occasions, the committee, along with myself, were never considered by those servants of the club, capable of managing its affairs. However, eventually a meeting was called, and it was then passed that the offending member, in the presence of myself and one of the committee, should tender an ample apology to Mrs. Smith. This was accordingly done, to the entire satisfaction of all parties, and this apology was duly accepted. Why the matter should have been again reaped up, and with what object, I am at a loss to understand, unless with an idea of greatly injuring the interest of the Club. For my own part, although not altogether severing my connection with the Club, I found myself under the necessity of resigning the office, which I held as secretary, as did also the treasurer, and this owing to the incivility shewn by Mrs Smith. As to the other part of the letter, which would, if possible, hit hard at 'Gossip,' I leave that, knowing full well that your correspondent is able to take care of himself, and answer any such frivolous, would-be jokes,' as those perpetrated by 'M. J.' In conclusion, I wish the Club every success, and hope the unpleasantness which has arisen will soon die out, and apologising for the length of my epistle,

I am,
Yours faithfully,
GEORGE WILSON,
late Secretary.

THE FREAKS OF GOSSIP.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

Will you allow me to say that I am just a little surprised at the number of misrepresentations by your correspondent "Gossip" on my letter which appeared in your columns on the 27th February, and with your permission I will notice two or three of them. There was no extreme or exaggeration in my account of the (so called) blowing up in the Temperance Hall; it was but a simple statement of facts as they occurred. 'Gossip' says, I should like to notice the denial which Mr. Clark inserts in his letter, of being concerned in writing against the Temperance Society, &c. I have neither denied nor admitted that I have been concerned in writing against the Temperance Society; as any one may see who will take the trouble to read over my letter. Again, he says "I am glad to see this sweeping denial of complicity in the work of injuring his own Society." This remark also is not warranted by anything that I have said. Again, he says "He has a happy consciousness of being quite innocent, &c." This is not true; I do not say so. I take this to be a misquotation to serve a purpose. Thus, throughout the whole of Gossip's paragraph on my very amiable letter (as he pleased to call it) is misrepresented and misquoted, so that I am made to say that which I do not say and to mean that which I do not mean. Further, I would say that I had not the good fortune to read the advice given by Gossip in December last, so that in what I have said I could not be acting upon that advice. With your permission I hope to have some answer to "Teetotal Working Man" next week.

Yours Respectfully,
B. CLARK.

REPLY TO "TEETOTAL WORKING MAN."

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times

Dear Sir,

Will you allow me a short space in your columns to reply to one of the assertions made in that well written and truthful (?) letter of last week, signed by a "teetotal working man." With the main part of the letter I have nothing to do, but in one place he says "it is right that the men of the Brass and Drum and Fife Bands should use the hall four times a week and pay nothing for it." As regards the Brass Band, they are no doubt able to speak for themselves, but in reference to the Drum and Fife Band, I may state for the enlightenment of the 'teetotal working man,' that they use the room one night per week, and instead of "paying nothing for it," last Christmas they voluntarily subscribed a sum of money out of the proceeds of their Christmas playing, not to mention parading the town on the occasion of an entertainment or tea, and playing inside the Hall for bazaars etc., gratis. I think I have said enough to show that the "teetotal working man" has got hold of some very watery ideas, the majority of which, I have no doubt, would be as easily answered as this one.

I remain,
Yours etc.,
KETTLEDRUM JOHN.

THE CHURCH STREET OBSTRUCTION.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

Seeing that the writer of 'Town Talk' in the Rothwell Times of late has commented strongly against the hoarding erected in Church Street by the Leeds Industrial Co-operative Society, I think that the view he takes of it might be greatly modified. The society, as I dare say you know, is an Institution formed for the benefit of the working class to encourage friendship, thrift, unity, and in fact all things essential for the welfare of the working population; such being the case I think they should be encouraged in their good and needful work from which so many benefits accrue and they having so many members among the inhabitants of this village. With reference to church-going people having to walk on the road and enter church in a mud bespattered condition that is not the society's fault, you should look to the Local Board for that, but apart from the duties of parties, the road previous to the pulling down of the hoarding was a more cleanly footpath than the old one was prior to the erection of the houses and even were it not so, the church-goers should have something more beneficial to their well-being when at church than to observe others' clothes and boots, which I daresay, to use Gossip's own phrase are mud bespattered prior to entering Church Street. If the condition of the roads kept them from Church, I think their interest in Church matters must be very lacking, as interested persons (health permitting) attend all weathers and conditions of roads.

KAY'S COMPOUND, a demulcent anodyne, expectorant for Coughs and Colds, 9½d., 1s. 1½d., 2s 9d.; postage, 3d.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high coloured; depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population have this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. The disease is Dyspepsia or Indigestion, for which Seigel's Curative Syrup is a certain remedy. Seigel's Operating Pills are an effective remedy for Constipation and Biliousness. Those afflicted with Asthma will find immediate relief by using the Rosinweed Tar Mixture. Genuine has A. J. White, Lim., on the stamp. An almanac containing testimonials from persons who have received benefit from use of Seigel's Curative Syrup will be furnished free of charge, by the proprietors, A. J. Butter made with this Powder invariably takes the FIRST PRIZES at the Agricultural Shows throughout the kingdom. Sold everywhere, by Chemists and Grocers, in Boxes, 6d., 1s., 2s. 6d., and 7s. 6d. each, or the three large sizes free by Parcels Post, from the sole Manufacturers, TOMLINSON & HAYWARD, LINCOLN, on receipt of stamps.

MEDICINES, Elastic Stocking, Chemicals every kind, per parcel post promptly. Kay Bros Stockport.

IS RHEUMATISM CURABLE? Yes, if you take WOODCOCK'S RHEUMATIC MIXTURE. Speedily cures Rheumatic Pains in the Limbs, Rheumatic Pains in the Head, Rheumatic Pains in the Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatic Swellings and Stiffness in fact, every phase of Rheumatism; no matter how acute or long standing, it never fails. OBSERVE—This is not a quack remedy warranted to cure everything, but a genuine SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM only. Sold by all medicine vendors at 1s. 9d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d. and 11s., or Post free for 23, 34, or 56 stamps. The 11s. size paid to nearest Railway Station for 11s. 3d. P. O. Order or Stamps, from PAGE D. WOODCOCK, Lincoln.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

THROAT AFFECTIONS AND HOARSENESS.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by JOHN I. BROWN & SONS, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name CONSUMPTION EMULSION. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. [illegible]

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d. —For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

ONE BOX OF CLARKE'S B41 PILLS is warranted to cure all discharges from the Urinary Organs, in either sex (acquired or constitutional), Gravel, and Pains in the Back. Guaranteed free from Mercury. Sold in Boxes, 4s. 6d. each, by all Chemists and Patent Medicine Vendors throughout the World; or sent to any address for 60 stamps by the Makers, THE LINCOLN AND MIDLAND COUNTIES DRUG COMPANY, Lincoln. Wholesale Agents, BARCLAY & SONS, London, and all the Wholesale Houses.

FLORILINE!—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

WATCHES, JEWELLERY.—MIDLAND COUNTIES WATCH COMPANY.—(Cheapest house in the World) Ladies' or Gents' Fine Silver Crystal Glass, heavy Cases, 25s.; Ladies' heavy-cased Gold Watches, 25s.; [illegible] Before purchasing send for Company's Catalogue, beautifully illustrated, 1,000 fine copper-plate engravings, gratis, post free on application, to any part of the world. Apply Company's Manager, A. Percy, Vyse Street, Birmingham. The press universally recommend their readers to obtain a catalogue.

ARE the PUREST, CHEAPEST, and BEST BITTERS EVER MADE. They are compounded from Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Podophyllin, and Dandelion.

The oldest, best, and most valuable medicines in the world, and contain all the best and most curative properties of all other Bitters, being the greatest BLOOD PURIFER, LIVER REGULATOR, and Life and Health Restoring Agent on earth. No disease or ill-health can possibly long exist where these Bitters are used, so varied and perfect are their operations.

They give new life and vigour to the aged and infirm. To all whose employments cause irregularity of the bowels or urinary organs, or who require an Appetiser, Tonic, and Mild Stimulant, these Bitters are invaluable, being highly curative, tonic, and stimulating, without intoxicating.

No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease or ailment is, use

HOP BITTERS.

Don't wait until you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use the Bitters at once. It may save your life. Hundreds have been saved by so doing. £500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help. They are a pleasant refreshing flavouring for sick-room drinks, impure water, and other beverages.

Do not suffer yourself or let your friends suffer, but use, and urge them to use

HOP BITTERS.

Remember,

HOP BITTERS

is no vile, drugged nostrum, but the Purest and Best Medicine ever made; the "Invalid's Friend and Hope," and no person or family should be without them. Try the BITTERS to-day.

THE Golden Cup Cocoa House, 157, Briggate.—The new premises are now complete and the accommodation greatly improved.

VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the Individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade. Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has cast about him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. Having been thirty-five years in the trade, in the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was naturally 'up to all the wrinkles.' The middle men, known by the names of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of Manufacturers, who arranged to supply his Establishment at the cost of materials and men's time in the making. In short, placing the Goods before the public, at single articles at wholesale prices. The management is still under R. Scott's personal control, who takes this opportunity of thanking his Patrons in the past, and hopes to receive anew a mark of their confidence. In future the firm will be known as SCOTT & Co., Goldsmiths, Silversmiths, Opticians, Watch and Clock Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.

If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly [illegible] by good workmen. Scott & Co. guarantee their work for 12 months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made as new, on very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

OULTON-WITH-WOODLESFORD CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION.

The second public meeting in connection with the above Association took place on Tuesday evening last. The first meeting was held in Oulton, so this time it was decided to have the meeting in the Board School, Woodlesford. There was a good attendance of working men from Woodlesford, Oulton, and Rothwell, who listened with great attention and lively interest to the lecturer's remarks. The Association had made a very good choice in asking Mr. J. L. Wylde to address the meeting; this young politician is the honorary secretary of the Leeds Junior Conservative Association; he evidently has thrown his whole heart into the work, and his ability in dealing with the great national problems is considerable. His subject on Tuesday evening was "Is it to the interest of the working classes to belong to the Conservative Party?"

Mr. H. F. Audsley occupied the chair, and in calling upon Mr. Wylde to address the meeting, he hoped the audience would listen patiently, so that he might be able to give a favourable opinion of their Association and its work. He then pointed out that two gentlemen have already been selected by the two parties of this division, to contest the next election. On the one hand there is Major Albany Hawke Charlesworth, a great employer of labour in the surrounding district, one who provides both work and wages for a very large number of men and boys, and in short, one of the friends of the working classes, as the Conservative candidate; while for the Liberal representation, there is Mr. Benjamin Pickard selected, a man who has been engaged all his life in stirring up strife and engendering disputes between the masters and men of the great Yorkshire coal-field, and one who has done as much as any man in the West Riding to raise those agitations amongst the miners which have resulted in so much misery. He then called upon Mr. Wylde to address the meeting, and intimated that any question would be answered by the speaker, on condition that it was put in writing.

Mr. Wylde, in introducing himself, said that as a neighbour in Leeds, he had great pleasure in coming over to Woodlesford to endeavour to shew the working classes that it is to their interest to be connected with the Conservative party. He was happy to know that the Association had got such a good start; the fact that they had formed themselves into an Association meant that they had got some opinions of their own; it meant that other people have got opinions of their own also, perhaps opposed to those which they themselves hold; and it meant that they were determined to do all in their power to oust the present Government, and return one which will more correctly represent their opinions and policy. Mr. Wylde said the title of his subject asked a question, and he proposed to give two answers to it: first, "It is not to the interest of the working classes to belong to the Liberal party;" second, "It is to their interest to belong to the Conservative party."

He then went back to the time of Gladstone's Midlothian campaign, and enumerated the great promises he then made, truly a most delightful list. He promised to reverse the policy of Beaconsfield; he has done so, and with the result of bringing about the critical state of affairs which now exists. The lecturer proceeded to point to our serious difficulties in Afghanistan, where the Russians are within striking distance of Herat; the "concert" of Europe had been disturbed, and he asked if there was one European country friendly to England. (A voice—"Italy.") The trade and commerce of the land had been growing worse and worse during all the time the present administration have been in power. We were to have an era of peace, and we find disastrous war has been the order of the day; we even find that members of Gladstone's cabinet cannot agree with his foreign policy, the best they can say being "He has done all for the best," and therefore they ask for support. We were to have retrenchment. The Liberals said that Beaconsfield harassed trade by his enormous expenditure, and now they are spending five millions per year more, the country being in every way in a worse position now than then. The Income Tax was to be abolished; instead, it has been raised. We were to have Reform. Did they thank Gladstone for the Reform Bill which had just given them the privilege of exercising their vote; he said it had been given by the generous support of the Conservative party. Ireland was to be happy. The speaker acknowledged that Lord Beaconsfield in his well-known letter to the Duke of Marlborough, said that seeds were sown in Ireland which would produce serious consequences, but the way in which the Irish had been dealt with by Gladstone, had in a great measure brought the seed to fuller growth. One of Gladstone's greatest faults is, that he can persuade himself, and many others, of almost anything.

The second, or positive answer to the question was then taken up by the able lecturer, who said, that the policy of the Conservative party had always been to maintain the whole empire intact, binding the colonies to the mother country in one band of unity. Until the Education Act of 1870, the Conservatives had given all the Education to the people, and still continued to uphold elementary schools free of expense to the ratepayer. Household suffrage had been given in the borough, and the whole of the legislation between the years '74 and '80 had been to benefit the working classes; one Bill especially passed by the Beaconsfield Government, will always mark that administration with extraordinary splendour, viz:—the Factory Act, having for its object the amelioration of the condition of the poor working women and children in the great manufacturing centres. Beaconsfield was to be thanked for the Artisans' Dwelling Act, whereby those blocks of houses which were nothing more than dens of fever and vileness were demolished. He it also was, who made it legal for workmen to combine for any purpose affecting their employment. In view of all these benefits which had been given by the Conservative party, he asked that they would give them their support, and thanking the audience for their attention, he resumed his seat, amid hearty and prolonged applause.

The chairman then asked if there were any questions forthcoming. None were sent, so he called upon Mr. Higgins and Mr. Batt to propose and second a vote of thanks to the lecturer. This done, Dr. Nowell rose to support it; he had heard before that Mr. Wylde was "a very good fellow," and he agreed with that opinion, he was only sorry he was on the wrong side. He thought his speech had been characterised by one thing,—an attack on Gladstone, and a holding up to reverence of Lord Beaconsfield. He believed that "a live dog was better than a dead lion," and at any rate Gladstone was not yet dead (a voice—"Three cheers for Gladstone"). He asked what the Tories had done with the balance which the Liberals left in 1874. (a voice—"Wisely spent it"). He noticed that the worthy speaker had omitted to say anything about the Corn Laws, and added that the Lords (a voice—"Down with 'em") tried the temper of the country, in connection with the last Reform Bill, as they would not, had they had some such shrewd man as Beaconsfield at their head, whose place there was no one to fill. He heartily supported the vote of thanks which was put and carried (a voice—"Contrary" when about a dozen hands were held up).

Mr. Wylde responded, and also replied briefly to the remarks of Dr. Nowell. He said he was always glad to meet a candid friend, even if his opinion was out of harmony with his own, and as they were to strengthen their force by making converts from the other side, he was glad to find so many Liberals in the meeting. He endeavoured to show where the balance in question had gone to, with some success; and with reference to the Corn Laws, replied, that if they put a shilling on bread, and provided two shillings to pay for it (a voice, —"I don't wan't my bread taxing," and another "Free Trade") they could not complain

Mr. Wylde and Mr. Boothroyd then moved a vote of thanks to the chairman, and the meeting was brought to a close.

The meeting all throughout was far in advance of the first one; the address was a reasonable and stirring one, the speaker having a loyal heart for his party, and yet a respect for the opinion of others; the audience was pretty well mixed, Liberal and Conservative, and although demonstrating their feeling to some extent, were quite orderly and respectful to the speaker, and willing to accord applause when deserved or give a "rub" either way, when the opportunity presented itself.

CAUTION.—HOMŒOPATHIC MEDICINES.—It is essential t success with these remedies that they should be pre pared with scrupulous care, and preferably by one wh o makes it his sole business; hence it is very desirab e that those using them should insist on each bottle ob tained from a vendor bearing the label of a firm of r pute. Those sold by the agents of JAMES EPPS an d Co. (the first-established Homœopathic Chemists i n England) have a label over the cork with their autog aph trade mark.

CHEAP N OURISHMENT.—Fourteen large Breakfast Cups of stron g, reliable Cocoa can be made from a Sixpenny Pac ket of Cadbury's Cocoa Essence. Ask for Cadbury's, and do not be imposed upon.

THE SOUDAN WAR.

THE ADVANCE ON OSMAN DIGNA BEGUN.

The Daily Telegraph second edition contains the following telegram from its special correspondent:—

SUAKIM, Thursday morning.

Our whole force here, with one day's rations and a hundred rounds of ammunition, started at seven o'clock this morning, and are now three miles out in the direction of Hasheen.

The Cavalry have gone on to beat up the enemy.

Fighting in an hour or two very probable.

(SPECIAL REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

SUAKIM, Thursday, 12.13 p.m.

Sir Gerald Graham inspected all the troops here, with the exception of the Shropshire, Berkshire, and Surrey Regiments, at seven o'clock this morning.

Five hundred of the enemy having been seen on the hills in the vicinity of Hasheen, the Cavalry, the Mounted Infantry, and the Indian Infantry were sent to reconnoitre, the Guards acting as a reserve. The enemy retreated.

The British advance is now close to Hasheen.

ELECTION NEWS.

NORMANTON DIVISION. — On Monday night, at a well-attended meeting of Liberals held at Methley, Mr. Poulter presided. Several gentlemen were elected to serve on the central committee, which is to select a labour representative to contest the Normanton Division in the Liberal interest. The name of Mr. Pickard, Barnsley, was well received, and it was thought that he will be the candidate.

On Wednesday night, a meeting of Liberals was held at Shitlington, when nine gentlemen were elected to act as part of the "200" committee.

We have not yet heard of any arrangements for a visit of either candidate to Rothwell, nor have we been informed of any step in the way of organization on either side.

MORLEY DIVISION. — A preliminary meeting of the representatives of the Conservative Association in this division was held on Saturday evening at Morley, (Lofthouse, Carlton and Thorp being in this division.) It was decided to form a Central Divisional Committee; that the number of representation be 1 to every 500 population; and to make other necessary preparations. At the next meeting in April it is anticipated that a candidate will be chosen for the forthcoming election.

REDUCTION IN MINERS' WAGES.

In the Castleford and Normanton districts the folllowing proprietors have given their workmen notice for a reduction of 10 per cent.:—Messrs. Henry Briggs, Son, & Co. (Limited), Methley, Normanton, and Whitwood; Messrs. Bowers & Co., Allerton Bywater; the Wheldale Coal Company, Castleford; the Fryston Coal Company, Ferry Bridge; and Messrs. Pope and Pearson, Limited, West Riding and Silkstone Pits, Altofts. In the case of Briggs & Co. and Fryston, the topmen have also got a notice which states their services will not be required at the expiration of 14 days. The miners have had meetings at all the pits, and resolutions have been passed to resist the demand of the owners. Altogether about 12,000 men are on notice in South Yorkshire. We have not as yet heard of any intimation being received by the Rothwell miners of a reduction.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

STOURTON RATEPAYERS' ASSOCIATION.—A well attended and influential meeting of the above association was held at the Queen's Hotel, on Wednesday evening, Mr. Swales in the chair. After a somewhat lengthy and heated discussion, it was resolved "That Mr. J. Parker, be requested to stand as the representative of Stourton at the forthcoming Local Board Election." Mr. Parker will consider the matter, and give his reply in due time to the secretary.—The next business for the consideration of the committee, was the re-election of a gentleman to represent the Stourton ratepayers on the Hunslet Board of Guardians, and it was unanimously decided "That Mr. J. Swales be selected as one of the Guardians for Rothwell (Stourton division)." Mr. Swales, after consideration, promised to allow himself to be nominated. After the usual vote of thanks to the chairman, the meeting was brought to a close.

THE members of the Wesleyan Congregation, but more particularly the ladies composing the Sewing Committee, will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Whittaker, who for some time—since the demise of his late wife—superintended the affairs of Mr. Newsome's household. The deceased lady, although well advanced in years, was most active with her fingers, and light of foot, and useful in all good works. She died at the house of her beloved sister, with whom she of late resided, at Hove Edge, Lightcliffe, last Wednesday. A sincere and devoted christian woman, she was never so well satisfied as when doing good to others. Mrs. Whittaker had been a widow for many years, and was over 70.

STOURTON WESLEYAN MUTUAL IMPROVEMENT CLASS.—This class met in the usual way on Friday evening at the above Sunday School to hear an essay on "Religion in former days." The essayist, Miss Clemson, started with the history of England from 55 years B. C. and following on, showed how Christianity had spread up to the present time. The best thanks of the class having been tendered to Miss Clemson, the meeting was closed in the usual way.

Holloways Pills.—Enfeebled Existence.—This medicine embraces every attribute required in a general and domestic remedy. It overturns the foundations of decease laid by defective food and impure air. In obstructions or congestions of the liver, lungs, bowels, or any other organs, these Pills are especially serviceable and eminently successful. They should be kept in readiness in every family, being a medicine of incomparable utility for young persons, especially those of feeble constitutions. They never pain or irritate the most sensitive nerves or most tender bowels. Holloway's Pills are the best known purifiers of the blood, the most active promoters of absorption and secretion, whereby all poisonous and obnoxious matters are removed from both solids and fluids.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

THERE was a fair, but not overflowing, attendance at the political meeting in the Board School, Woodlesford, on Tuesday last, held under the auspices of the Conservative cause by Mr. J. L. Wylde, of Leeds. The chair was occupied by Mr. H. F. Audsley, of Woodlesford, who in a few brief but vigorous sentences introduced the principal speaker. The lecturer in a long and spirited address, traversed the policy—or what he styled the want of policy—of the present Government, and if he did not tell his audience anything that was startlingly new, those who were most disposed to doubt his 'facts,' or question the deductions he made from them, must admit that his points were cleverly put, and his treatment of the subject—from his point of view—very interesting, and at times even exciting. In this respect the address was in striking contrast to the somewhat tedious affair at Oulton a week or two ago, on the occasion of the visit of the Conservative agent. Of course the greater part of the catalogue of 'sins, negligences, and ignorances' alleged against the present Ministry, consisted of their supposed blunders on questions of foreign policy. Much capital can be made out of the present unsatisfactory state of our foreign relations, and the speaker certainly did not neglect his opportunities. On questions of home policy, Mr. Chamberlain, who seems to be the pet antipathy of Tory speakers and writers, was singled out for very special attention, and his views on social policy strongly animadverted upon. May we interpose a humble opinion that by some Liberals and nearly all Conservatives, Mr. Chamberlain's influence on public opinion is greatly exaggerated. Some discussion—in which Dr. Nowell and others took part—followed, and the usual votes of thanks terminated the proceedings.

EXCEPTION has been taken in some quarters to the letting of the schools for the purpose of holding a political meeting. We see no good reason why this should be objected to. As the schools were built at the public expense, and as they furnish the only suitable accommodation for public purposes which now exist in the village, we trust that no action will be taken to interfere with the present understanding that a room may be engaged for any respectable public purpose at a fixed rate. As reports of the School Board meetings have not been published lately, it may not be generally known that the charge for the use of the room has recently been reduced, in accordance with a public memorial to that effect.

SPEAKING of public buildings we may mention that the structure known from time immemorial as the Woodlesford 'Town Hall,' has lately been extensively and thoroughly repaired and renovated, and will shortly be in the hands of painters and decorators. The tower and dome have been strengthened and pointed, the range of out offices re-modelled and almost entirely rebuilt, and the court yard in front covered with fresh gravel. The receptacle for refuse which formerly disfigured one corner of the quadrangle is removed, and the vacant place now affords a splendid site for a monument to one of our local public worthies. Who shall it be?

(ERRATUM.—In the paragraph on the Poor Law Enquiry last week read after "most interested" the following "The proposal would have been more likely to receive favourable consideration and might have had an important bearing on the decision. We are only interested in fighting the battle of Hunslet" &c., &c.,)

HEALTH REPORT FOR THE RURAL SANITARY DISTRICT, HUNSLET UNION.

On Monday last, at a special meeting of this Sanitary authority, the medical officer of health, Dr. Nowell, gave his annual report for the year 1884. It is satisfactory to learn from it that the year was, from a sanitary point of view, comparitively uneventful. The estimated population in Midsummer was 5964. The births registered during the year number one hundred and sixty-one, or 26.9 per one thousand population; against one hundred and ninety eight, or 33.6 per one thousand in 1883. The birth rate in this district has steadily declined for ten years past; in 1875 they numbered two hundred and sixty, and have averaged 228.9 for the past ten years. The deaths number one hundred and eleven; of these, one (an old man belonging to Woodlesford) occurred outside the district, i.e., in the Workhouse, and five were persons (not belonging to the district) who died or were killed within it. Of the total number thirty-seven or 33.3 per cent were children under five years old, and eighteen or 11.1 per cent. infants under one year; there were no deaths from small-pox, measles, diptheria, or typhus fever. One is recorded from scarlatina, one from enteric fever, and nine from diarrhœa; of these last, one was that of the old man mentioned above, who died in the Workhouse, one was a child eighteen months old, and the remaining seven were infants under one year—all 'hand fed,' or worse, 'bottle fed.' Four deaths are attributed to croup (which in their incidence were wide apart both as to time and locality); ten to phthisis, and twenty-two to bronchitis and pneumonia; eight to disease of the heart, and the same number to injuries.—Among other subjects contained in the report, that of sewer stench complained of chiefly in the hamlet of Woodlesford is considered at some length, and Mr. Nowell expresses the opinion that recent or fresh sewage does not give off the intolerable stink so loudly complained of here—he insists that the existence of this latter indicates that the flow of sewage is retarded or arrested, and rapidly decomposing, gives off the offensive gases. He proposes to remedy this by carefully excluding all road or ground surface water from the drains, and to admit as much rainfall pipe water from the roofs as possible into the drains, thus providing at once constant, free and automatic ventilation, and intermittent effective flushing.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

The Rothwell club had no fixture for Saturday, but Robin Hood came and encountered their second team. A lot of "novices" had been imported into the home team, which made it very hard work for the few "cracks" who were playing. Newbould was in form with his long "uns," while Greenwood was the pick of a fine (?)sample of forwards. After an unusally quiet game, with the exception of one or two "bursts," the home team were declared victors by 1 goal (almost a fluke) to nil.

CAPTAIN.

ROTHWELL 2nd v. ROBIN HOOD.

The return match between these clubs, was played on Saturday last at Rothwell. Several of the younger players being tried in the Rothwell team, Robin Hood had also several substitutes; Rothwell won the toss and elected to defend the town goal, after the kick off, the ball was soon passed into the vicinity of the visitors' goal, where play was continued for some time, but the home forwards playing recklessly the ball was kicked out; from the "six yards," the Robin Hood forwards got possession but were unable to pass the home backs, who throughout the game played well. Newbould relieved with a long kick, and the visitors' goal was for a time in danger, but Hemsworth saved by a kick into the centre, where some give and take play occurred. Seanor then got hold and ran the ball into the visitors' territory, passed to Blackburn, who made a slow shot, which G. T. Hemsworth failed to keep out. Halftime was now called, and in the second half both teams played better, and play was for a time about equally balanced, each goal in turn being in danger, but the good play of the Rothwell backs, at last brought the ball into the visitors 25, where it was kept till the call of time, the home forwards making a few good shots, which were nicely kept out by the Robin Hood custodian. At the close of a pleasant game Rothwell won by 1 goal to nil. TEAMS.—ROTHWELL—W. Smith, goal; E. Newbould, A. Thurwell, backs; A. W. Seanor, W. Higgins, R. Longley, half-backs; W. Tiffany, J. Child, R. Dobson, H. Greenwood, W. Blackburn, forwards. ROBIN HOOD.—G. T. Hemsworth goal; J. Hemsworth, W. Oldroyd, backs: E. Milner (capt.), J. Hartley, G. Booth, half-backs; E. Langstaff, J. Bolton, W. Dobson, A. Dobson, W. Pearce, forwards.

PARTIES visiting E. Miller's Furnishing Depôt, 22, North Street, Leeds, often express their regret at not having called sooner!

TOWN TALK.

It is becoming my weekly duty, and I may add pleasure, to have to reply to letters sent to the Editor, by persons variously affected by what my weekly contribution contains. Last week there were two exceptions taken to my statements of a fortnight ago. The first is headed "The Church Street Obstruction," and is signed 'W. R'; the writer of this epistle opens his letter by stating that the Co-operative Society is "an institution formed for the benefit of the working classes, to encourage friendship, thrift, unity, &c.," and ought to be encouraged in its good and useful work. Of course this is all open to argument, and in fact absolutely denied by many persons; no matter how good the aims of the Society may be, that does not exonerate it from complying with the orders of the Local Authority, nor have they any more right to obstruct the public footpath, than a pawnbroker or quackdoctor. With reference to the remarks of my sanctimonious friend about "church going people," I have no doubt those concerned read his advice with profound awe, and with elongated faces and penitent hearts resolved (health permitting) to attend all weathers and conditions of roads. So much for "W. R."

.. ..

The second letter was headed "Freaks of Gossip" and on its tail was written "Yours respectfully, B. Clark." I have examined his letter on all sides, and the object he has had in writing it appears to have been to undo or more correctly unsay what he said in his letter on Feb. 27th. Poor man! he says he has neither admitted nor denied that he was concerned in writing letters against the Temperance Society, let me say that his letter of Feb. 27th, seems as if intended to give one the idea that he was not concerned in it, and such was my impression on reading it. Having formed this conclusion from his letter, I expressed my pleasure at hearing his denial of complicity, and the sequel was to be found in the Rothwell Times last week, where Mr. Clark says "I am made to say that which I do not say, and to mean that which I do not mean." Now I like men to say what they mean and mean what they say, so if Mr. Clark reads my letter (he did not read my advice last December) I will say for his benefit, when you write again to correct or comment on anything which appears in Town Talk, say something, and if you do say anything, please mean something, then we may have something to talk about, and don't allow that vague, meaningless style to creep into your communications which has sometimes characterised them.

If any of my readers had been passing the place of business of Mr. Arthur Sunderland, hairdresser, &c., in Commercial Street, last Saturday morning, they would have had the pleasure (?) of hearing once Moore the melodious voice of him who figured so prominently among the spectators at the football match, Oulton v. Rothwell. This time his remarks were directed towards myself; they were indeed cutting words; my words have evidently cut him to the quick, the cap fits. I was outside the shop; had I been inside, undergoing the operations of haircutting, the barber would not have required his comb, for I verily believe that my hair would suddenly have assumed a vertical position, or as the people say "stood straight on my head." It is useless bothering with such men; he is as he is, and for ought I can tell will remain so all his days.

.. ..

THE candidates for the district of which we form a part to contest the next election are Major Albany Hawke Charlesworth and Mr. Benj. Pickard. These two gentlemen are well known in the district, so it is no use my going into their present position or antecedents. If I may be allowed to offer one or two remarks on this subject, I will do so; there is no desire on my side to push the interest of either candidate forward, I simply want to give an independent view of the position of the two great contending parties. The choice of Mr. Charlesworth by the Conservative party is a good one so far as I can learn; in this district at any rate he will be well supported, being a large employer of labour, and a moderate Conservative. I believe I am right when I say that many of the less extreme Liberals will give him their support. On the other side there is Mr. Pickard, the labour candidate; it is an undoubted fact that he will secure the support of a great number, simply because there are so many who vote for the Liberal candidate from the simple fact that he is a Liberal; but there are reasons for believing that gentlemen are to be found who would suit the palate of Rothwell Liberals more completely than Mr. Pickard does; further, the Rothwell miners are not in the Union, nor do they believe in Mr. Pickard and his cause, as the miners in some places do.

As instances of the way in which the Tories in Rothwell and district are working to gain a victory at the next election, let me repeat two stories which have come to my knowledge during the last few days. In the one case it was that a certain juvenile colliery manager or assistant manager had been delivering a small speech in some part of the workings to a few of the miners, in one of the pits on Rothwell Haigh, and in this little harangue, he painted in marked contrast the doings of Gladstone versus Beaconsfield, and especially when on the topic of capital and labour waxed valiant; the men got the idea that the great capitalists were Tories and unless Tories were returned at the next election, capital would be withdrawn and labour would therefore suffer. The second case was one in which a certain instructor of youth had informed his scholars that the name by which Mr. Gladstone had hitherto been known by many as 'Grand Old Man' or "G. O. M." had been reversed to "M. O. G." which being interpreted means "Murderer of Gordon." I leave these stories to tell their own tale.

GOSSIP.

LOCAL BOARD VOTING LISTS.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

I feel impelled to make a few remarks anent the subject of the 'voting records,' which subject I brought for the second time before such of my colleagues as were present at the last Local Board meeting, and failed to get a satisfactory answer. My question was simple enough, and I opine that most people will think with me that it did'nt require a fortnight to answer, and then, unsatisfactorily. I asked "if any book or books containing any list or lists of voters, and recording how they voted, were kept in the Board room?" Now first, as to the voting papers; I knew as well as anyone else that the law requires them to be kept for six months, and I know as well as anyone else that these papers are the legal evidences of such voting, and that the voting record called by the clerk the 'poll book,' can not take their place. In answer to my question, it was admitted by the clerk that books containing the names of the voters and how they voted were kept, and when I then asked 'for what purpose?' he said they were 'necessary for making out the voting list in the succeeding year, and for the guidance of the returning officer.' Sir, I protest against this admitted fact, and the pretext for it.—I know that by the 19th sec, sched. 9, chap. 55, of the Public Health Act, a register of property owners who claim to vote as such, or their proxies who may vote for them, is appointed to be kept, and I know that 'the returning officer may, if he thinks fit, cause to be made an alphabetical list of the persons entitled to vote at the election,' but I do not know that a list of voters, recording how they voted at the previous or any election, is necessary to make out this list, and I challenge the clerk of the Board, or the oldest member of the Board, or anyone else, to demonstrate this. The 38th section of the same schedule provides for the production of the rate-books, and the 51st for ascertaining therefrom the validity of the votes at the 'casting up.'—So much for the necessity of poll book or record of previous voting for the guidance of the returning officer. Now, Mr. Editor, by your report it is implied that I examined these books and papers.' I am somewhat amused at this parting slap from my friend the clerk, but it falls short of me and the truth. I will for the present recall to his memory a portion only of the circumstances that he knows more of;—I filled up a voting paper for an illiterate voter according to his expressed wish, and according to sect. 47 of the schedule before cited; his landlord's agent subsequently took it away, and on my enquiring of the clerk (I think) the night before the counting of votes, he said he 'had not received it, and could not issue another paper to the voter' in question. I did not attend the casting up of the votes, but I delivered to the returning officer, Mr. Charlesworth, a note intimating that if the votes of the said voter were not recorded, I should ask him to hold an inquiry, and take evidence of the voter himself, his landlord's agent, the clerk of the Local Board, and myself. Mr. Charlesworth passed the note to the clerk, and he (the clerk) signified to me that 'the voting paper had been received, and it was all right.' A few days after, I asked to see that voting paper which I had filled up and signed,—and should do so again under like circumstances. I neither asked to see, nor saw any other. As for the poll books, or as I would designate them, 'vote records,' I did not then know of their existence.

Yours faithfully,
JAMES NOWELL.

THE TEMPERANCE HALL.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

In your issue of 6th inst., a "Teetotal Working Man" attacks me so vigorously that, (with your permission) I do not see how I can let him pass altogether unnoticed. In answer to his insinuation of ambition for office, I will only say, that if he will favour us with his presence at our yearly meeting on the 30th inst., he may have an opportunity of seeing in what direction my ambition tends. It is rather a novel idea that the President of the Society should be held responsible for any and every thing that may happen to go wrong in that Society. From the way in which "Teetotal" writes, it may be presumed that he is one of those who have left us, and if he and those like him had stood firm and been true to the interests of the Temperance Society, probably he would not have had so much reason to complain. My opinion and disapproval of the various points in the questions which he asks are well known by the men who frequent the Hall, and have had my strongest opposition, but I have had to bend to a force against which I could not stand singly and alone. But although many things have gone contrary to my wishes, I would not be too severe in condemning what has been done. It should not be forgotten what many of these men were, only two or three years ago, when they took their first step in a grand moral reformation by signing the Teetotal Abstinence pledge, and giving up "the accursed drink;" so far they deserve our respect and esteem, in having turned their backs on the public-house and held firmly to the pledge. But it should also be borne in mind, that the beginning of their moral education dates only from the time when they signed the pledge, and to expect that such characters from the moment they became total abstainers should be perfectly correct in all their actions is not reasonable. It is unfortunate that the friends of Temperance of the higher class in Rothwell should have been content to give a yearly subscription, and beyond that to take no further interest in the Temperance movement, but leave the Society to be managed almost entirely by these raw recruits. I have still hopes that things will improve at the Temperance Hall; I am glad to know that the men who spend their evenings in the smoke room adjoining the hall, are, in their own way, trying to improve by encouraging habits of thought and discussing moral questions among themselves. I am persuaded that good will come out of this, and although the prospects and progress of the Temperance cause have been seriously injured and hindered, the experience of the past twelve months, although painful, will yet, I trust bear good fruit.

I am,
Yours respectfully,
B. CLARK.

THE TELL TALE.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

The publication of the Local Board Tell Tale last week was a most proper and satisfactory move, and although one cannot always reckon that the regular attendance of a member is a criterion of his actual value and influence on the Board, yet it is one of the best proofs of his interest in its work. It is impossible to pass over the name of Mr. Charlesworth, who has evidently lost his pleasure in attending Local Board meetings. I must confess that I am not surprised that a gentleman, so fully engaged both commercially and as county magistrate, (besides the deep interest he has in the "coming" railway) should be unable to find the necessary time for such meetings. Especially must he feel the waste of time such attendance involves, when the scenes enacted are so repugnant to taste and good feeling as we have lately heard of. While I am not surprised, therefore, at his few attendances, and also, at his desire not to be nominated again, I really think, we ought to bear in mind, the vast influence his name and presence has afforded to the Board in its communications with other authorities, as well as his kindly geniality and wisdom in guiding the discussions of the Board in past years. As a ratepayer, I have always felt that while such large ratepayers as Mr. Charlesworth had the regulation of the finances, that what was done in that particular must be the best for the time, and I heartily thank him for his continued service.

Of the other eight members, the attendance is certainly most creditable, 20 being the lowest number out of the 29 Board meetings, Mr. W. Hargreaves heading the list with 28, Mr. Dobson, one of the new members, closely following with 24. It is evident Mr. Nowell has no interest in finance, nor Mr. Dobson in sanitary matters, while only the last named gentleman is concerned in the "illumination" business. The application which Mr. W. Hargreaves and Mr. Holmes have devoted to highways is most creditable, the other two members of that Committee have also attended pretty well. Mr. J. Hargreaves and Mr. Newsome seem to have had most to do with the financial matters of the Board, having both attended every meeting, while Mr. Turner and Mr Newsome have shewn up most frequently in connection with buildings and plans. Mr. Turner and Mr. Nowell have attended each meeting of the Waterworks Comittee, of which there have only been three, however.

There are two or three things in the tell tale, I hardly understand, which may possibly be explained satisfactorily; for instance, are there only 6 finance meetings in the year, I understood they were held every month? Another difficulty strikes me, I understood from a report a short time ago, that there had only been one Waterworks Committee meeting, it appears there have been three.

Apologising for so far encroaching on your space,

I remain,
Yours respectfully,
NUMERAL.

MACADAM v. RUBBISH.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper to enter my humble protest against the manner in which our Local Board is repairing or attempting to repair the roads in Rothwell. One of the supposed great improvements which our Board has made is in Swithens Street, which was a macadamized road, but is now converted into a cindered road. Another supposed improvement now going on is in Carlton Lane, in front of the Board Schools, where the road is being risen with pieces of old bricks, broken flags, slates, and other rubbish of a worse description. Now if this is the way the present Board are treating the roads of Rothwell, by attempting to repair them with rubbish which they would not allow to be placed on the bye-lanes, I think it is time the ratepayers ascertained which of the members of the Board it is that so neglects their interests in this part of the Board's district; and as the election is so near at hand, if it was found to be any of the retiring members, then his or their places on the Board should be filled with some who would more honourably represent the interests of the ratepayers.

Yours truly,
A WORKING MAN.

THE RECENT FOOTBALL DISPUTE.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

I somewhat reluctantly avail myself of making a few remarks on the recent dispute by the Rothwell players at Oulton, and my only desire is to place before your readers the true state of affairs. As the dispute in question was one between Rothwell and the referee only, and not between Rothwell and Oulton, I cannot do better than inform you how the referee came to be appointed. I suggested two gentlemen to the Rothwell secretary; to the first he objected, urging as his plea that this gentleman was a member of the Oulton F. C. This was untrue, and his insinuation that I wished to have a referee from our own body was a gratuitous insult begotten of ignorance. However, I made no remonstrance and the second gentleman—Mr. Taylor, of Rothwell—was accepted by him, and to quote from a letter of his to me "I happened to see Mr. Taylor yesterday, and he expressed his willingness to stand." That, Sir, was the first intimation received by Mr. Taylor of his being chosen to act as referee, mark you, not from me, but from the Rothwell secretary. In the Times of March 6th, 'Captain' wrote "why not ask Mr. Taylor to officiate, because he is not a member of either organization, and has acted in that capacity before, and gave universal satisfaction." Thus, sir, you will observe that the referee was virtually appointed by Rothwell, that they were anxious to have him, that they had the fullest confidence in him, and consequently, their action in cavilling at his decision is greatly magnified and is to denounced by a much be stronger term than 'disgraceful.'

Your juvenile correspondent 'Captain,' in giving his version of the affair, deliberately omits the first cause of the rupture. He says "a foul was appealed for off one of the Oulton players," but he forgot to add "by the Rothwell umpire." There was the beginning. No umpire has a right to speak unless appealed to, and the Rothwell man, on being asked who appealed to him, became abusive, and himself ran to the referee to get a decision. There is no doubt on that point, and his excessive zeal marred the match, and on him must rest the odium of beginning this truly 'disgraceful' (to Rothwell) affair. Now the referee's decision to his appeal was 'play on' and at once the Oulton left-wing pounced on the ball, and beautifully dodging the opposing players, shot it through the goal in spite of the goal-keeper's efforts to stop it. The referee at once decided for a goal, for after giving 'play on' how could he do otherwise?

Again, after 'play on' was given, and the ball being as it was in the field of play (both your correspondents admit that) what was to be done? Wait until the Rothwell players got ready in their places? No, sir, 'play on' put the ball in play and both your correspondents know that, only they don't want to say so, and as none are so blind as those who won't see, so both of them shut their eyes to this fact, and try to bring the goal into question. Here are the words of one of them "The umpires were agreeable on the point (and I have both their words for it) that it was no goal." What point? and what was no goal? I repeat the point to be decided by the referee was, not whether the goal was a legitimate one or not, but whether a foul occurred, and he seeing no foul, declared the ball in play. Even if a foul had occurred (which I by no means admit) and the referee saw it not, he was bound to rule the ball in play. Then followed the galling part of the affair. Weasels are not often caught asleep and neither are the Oultonians when opposed to Rothwell, so, acting at once on the referee's decision, they went into business and scored. Thus outwitted, the rage of the Rothwell umpire and some—not all—of the players knew no bounds. They gathered round the referee for a decision, and they got it—a goal.

I have seen the referee since the match and he quite startled me when he told me that the Rothwell umpire actually asked him to alter his decision! I wont comment on that except to say one requires no further proof of that umpire's incompetency.

There is one remark of 'Captain's' which I thoroughly endorse, and that is "a more disgraceful affair never cropped up in a match before." To see the Oulton players standing apart and watching their opponents wrangle with the referee was a sight to be remembered. Disgraceful indeed, I should think so. Their conduct at this juncture amounted simply to this, "If you (the referee) do not let us have our own way, we wont play any more but go home" and carrying out this boyish doctrine they went home. In all my football experience I never knew a team do such a shabby trick as leave a field when a referee decided against them. To quote again the words of 'captain' "Rothwell people have reason to be proud of the way their players distinguished themselves." Insert "Quarrelsome" before the word "Rothwell" and I believe him.

Once more, Sir. The Rothwell Club have the baseness to send a false report to a contemporary of yours. I throw the blame on the whole club, because I wrote to the secretary asking if he sent the report, or was it sent by the cognisance of his committee, and with characteristic courtesy he has not replied.

Lastly it amused me when I read all the doings of the Rothwell players, but somehow they did not win; nor have they ever won a game with Oulton, and further, every dispute has been caused by their objecting to a point made by Oulton. This speaks for itself, and one can readily understand their joy, when, by hook or by crook, they managed to make a draw, for I verily believe, that when Oulton opposed them, their hearts were in their boots.

To sum up. Only a Rothwell Club would dispute a referee's decision; only a Rothwell Club would send false reports to a newspaper; only a Rothwell Club would have the best of every game, and yet not win; and only a Rothwell Club would behave as Rothwell did. We won the match, and no amount of wriggling can get over that.

I have given you, Sir, our version of the affair, and let all unbiassed people judge. All matches between the two clubs are at an end, else I would not have written you a line. For my part you will not have me trespassing on your space again, but in justice to the Oulton Club I ask you to insert this

I am, Sir,
Yours repectfully,
THE HON. SECRETARY.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

In view of the recent dispute between the Football Clubs of Rothwell and Oulton on March 7th, arising out of the fact that the referee's decision was given contrary to the rules of the game, I have taken the trouble to write the Secretary of the Yorkshire County Committee on the point, and have received the following reply this morning:—

Armley, March 19th.

Dear Sir,

It is not customary in Rugby for a referee to give any decision until appealed to, and then only in the presence of the two umpires. If the umpires are agreed about the fairness of a point, there can be no appeal. The duty of a referee comes in when they disagree, when he acts as arbiter between them. I am not sufficiently well versed in the laws of the Association game, which I see you play, to give an opinion as to what is the custom among referees, I merely give you what is generally done by the referees of Rugby Football.

Signed,
J. A. MILLER.

Trusting this will be sufficient to enable your readers to judge which party is in the wrong,

I remain,
Yours respectfully,
JOS. HARRISON, JUNR.,
Rothwell, March 20th. Hon. Sec. R. F. C.

KAY'S COMPOUND.—Asthma and Bronchitis are immediately relieved by it. Kay Bros., Stockport

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high coloured; depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population have this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. The disease is Dyspepsia or Indigestion, for which Seigel's Curative Syrup is a certain remedy. Seigel's Operating Pills are an effective remedy for Constipation and Biliousness. Those afflicted with Asthma will find immediate relief by using the Rosinweed Tar Mixture. Genuine has A. J. White, Lim., on the stamp. An almanac containing testimonials from persons who have received benefit from use of Seigel's Curative Syrup will be furnished free of charge, by the proprietors, A. J. White, Lim. 17, Farringdon Road, London, E.C.

KAY'S COMPOUND, a demulcent anodyne, expectorant for Coughs and Colds,, 9½d., 1s. 1½d., 2s 9d.; postage, 3d.

FLORILINE!—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

THROAT AFFECTIONS AND HOARSENESS.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by JOHN I. BROWN & SONS, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name CONSUMPTION EMULSION. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 1[illegible]3 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find there is a gain of weight even after it has been used." Such a testimony as this speaks volumes for the efficiency of Phthisicon. In addition, it has proved of immense value as a curative agent in the early stages of Brain Disease and Scrofula; in fact, wherever there is impaired nutrition or lack of nerve power, its action is almost certain. It can be obtained of all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s., and 21s. per bottle. Wholesale of [illegible] and Sons, Farringdon-street, London, E.C.; or of W. B. Trick, [illegible], 93, Green-lanes London, N.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it soften the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d. —For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

LOCAL BOARD for the DISTRICT of ROTHWELL with ROTHWELL HAIGH and ROYDS GREEN.

To the Ratepayers and Owners of the above named District.

I do hereby give notice, that in accordance with a requisition which has been served upon me, that a meeting of Ratepayers and Owners of the above-named District will be held in the Mechanics' Hall, Rothwell, on Thursday, the second day of April next, at 7 o'clock in the evening, to take into consideration the question of the price of the gas supplied by the Rothwell Gas Light Company, and also the state of the Reserve Fund of such said Gas Company, and that a resolution will be moved at such said meeting, as to the necessity of taking legal proceedings to enforce the proper administration of the Rothwell Gas Act, 1882.

Dated this 26th of March 1885,
JOSEPH CHARLESWORTH,
Chairman of the Board.

THE ELECTIONS.

A general meeting of Liberals for the Normanton parliamentary division was held on Wednesday at Wakefield, there being a good attendance. Mr. C. Milnes Gaskell, of Thornes House, presided, and there were also present, Mr. W. B. Beaumont, M.P., Mr. Wentworth Beaumont, Colonel Mackie, Mr. W. H. Lee (the ex-Mayor), and others. Rothwell was represented by Messrs. Jas. Nowell and J. Turner.

The object of the meeting was the formation of a central Association, and election of officers; also the selection of a candidate for the representation of this division. It was decided that the Association be composed of delegates in the proportion of one to every 300 of the population. As the population is about 60,000, the society will number 200 members.

It was then resolved that Mr. C. Milnes Gaskell be president of the Association. Mr. W. B. Beaumont, M.P., Colonel Mackie, Mr. W. H. Lee, Mr. J. H. Cookson, (Stanley), the Rev. W. Field, and Mr. E. Cowey (president of the Yorkshire Miners' Association) were appointed vice-presidents of the association. Mr. Thos. Reid (Normanton), and Mr. C. J. Foster (Normanton), were chosen secretary and treasurer respectively. It was agreed, on the motion of Mr. Beaumont, M.P., seconded by Colonel Mackie, that an Executive Council should be formed, to consist of the chairman of each township Liberal Association in the division, the chairman and vice-chairmen of the association, and six other gentlemen to be selected by the executive from well-known members of the party.

The remainder of the meeting was occupied in addresses relating to the best candidate for winning the seat, and although some gentlemen present thought there ought to have been an opportunity given to consider some other names, it was eventually agreed unanimously that Mr. Benj. Pickard be chosen as the Liberal candidate.

Mr. Pickard was brought into the room; and the result of the vote having been communicated by the chairman, Mr. Pickard gave a short exposition of his political views. He thought the Land Laws might be so altered as to injure no one, and yet so as to benefit both owner, tenant and labourer. He was against protection in any form. By means of a cheap press the new electors could judge of political affairs with far more facility than had formerly been the case. He was in favour of religious equality. The Liberal party had legalised trade unions; and he contended that no honest employer had anything to fear from the Employers' Liability Act. He believed, as a working man, that the interests of his class would be best served by limiting the opportunities for obtaining intoxicants and by the prevention of the sale of liquor on the Sabbath. (Cheers.) He was in favour of the County Boards Bill, free education, and triennial Parliaments. He was against aggressive wars, and while he would do his best to protect that which had been honestly secured, he would do his utmost to preserve peace and plenty both at home and abroad. He would vote for the repeal of the Contagious Diseases Act. (Cheers.)

The nominations for the vacant seats on our Local Board have been sent in, and it is found that notwithstanding the calm that has prevailed during the last few days, four gentlemen have nailed their colours to the mast, and are resolved to conquer or to—be defeated—in the struggle for the honor of being members of our local council. There are three vacancies, caused by the effluxion of time; Mr. J. Charlesworth (whose name we deeply regret to lose from our official list), Mr. W. Hargreaves, and Mr. J. Turner. The latter two gentlemen are on the nomination list again. Mr. Hargreaves has been a member of the Board ever since its formation twelve years ago, and is so thoroughly master of the many matters pertinent to Local Board duties, as to combine every quality necessary for a member of that authority. Mr. John Turner has sat three years at the table, and his name and abilities have become pretty well known. Mr. S. Bramley is again on the list, having left the Board-room but one year ago, when he declined re-nomination. His sturdy good sense was often very valuable. Mr. Lawton is again brought forward; he has already sat one year on the Board, and is a member both of the Board of Guardians and the School Board, and is, like the others, well known. The papers will be delivered on Monday, collected on Thursday, and counted on Saturday.

LOCAL BOARD MEETING.

The Rothwell Local Board held its usual meeting on Monday evening last; there were present Mr. Jas. Hargreaves (chairman), Messrs. Dobson, Wm. Hargreaves, Holmes, Newsome, Nowell, Oliver, and Turner, with the clerk and surveyor.

The minutes of the previous meeting and committee meetings were read by the clerk, and passed on the motion of Messrs Dobson and W. Hargreaves.

HIGHWAYS.—It was thought by some members of the Board, that for the next three months, the surveyor might do with six men on the roads instead of eight, and as two of the men who have been employed on the roads have recently left the employ of the Board, there is just the right number at present engaged.

The clerk reported that £5. had been received from the Local Government Board towards the maintenance of the Wakefield and Aberford Road, and he also stated that the next payment would be made in October, when the Board will receive a grant of £300.

Dr. Nowell asked about the cutting of the Hedges, he was informed that the Vicar had had the overhanging branches in Wood Lane lopped off, but in other cases, the several persons whose duty it was to attend to such work had not been served with notices.

It transpired in the meeting that Mr. Elliott, of Hunslet, and the Board, were in dispute with reference to the quality of dross supplied to the Board. Mr. Elliott has supplied two loads (81 tons) of dross much inferior in quality. The surveyor had asked Mr. Elliott for a reduction of sixpence per ton on this account, to which the contractor objected urging that the second load was of very much superior kind. The Board had passed a cheque for the account, less a discount of 6d per ton, which he had refused to accept. Mr. Lawton, representing Mr. Elliott, had an interview with the Board, and seeing that the account was very much overdue he pressed for an immediate settlement. Mr. Lawton having withdrawn; the Board considered the case, and a proposition was made by Messrs Dobson and Oliver that the account be offered less a discount of 3d per ton, on being put to the meeting there were three voted for, and three against the motion; the chairman gave his casting vote in favour of the proposition. Mr. Lawton was recalled and having been made aware of the decision of the Board, he intimated his willingness to settle the account on the conditions specified.

WATER SUPPLY.—The clerk had written to the Leeds Corporation pointing out the scarcity of water experienced by the Rothwell people of late, and asking that a larger main might be put down between Thwaite Gate and Swan Junction. A reply had been received stating that the Waterworks Committee had instructed their engineer to consider the matter and report on it.

There being some uncertainty as to whether the meters at the entrance to our district are in proper working order, the Waterworks Committee were asked to take up the matter on the earliest date, and report to next meeting, on the motion of Messrs Oliver and W. Hargreaves.

Messrs Mark Oldroyd and Sons, having written to the Board again with reference to the heavy charge made for the water supplied to their house and works on Pontefract Road, the Waterworks Committee were instructed to settle the matter at their next meeting.

MEDICAL OFFICERS REPORT.—The medical officer gave his usual monthly report of the condition of the district which ran as follows:—

"During the four weeks ending March 21st, 1885, there have been 21 births (13 male and 8 female) and 19 deaths (10 male and 6 female). In the corresponding period last year there were 13 births and 6 deaths. The causes of death are as follows:—male, 14 weeks, bronchitis; male, 4 days, uncertified; male, 2 years, measles; male, 37 years, disease of heart; male, 7 months, pertussis; female, 47 years, pneumonia—parturition; male, 11 months, measles; female, 11 years, scarletina; male, 18 months, diphtheria; male, 7 years, pertussis pneumonia; female, 56 years, angina pectoris; female, 5 years, diphtheria; male, 6 months, bronchitis; female, 14 days, convulsions; female, 82 years, senile decay; male, 28 days, found dead in bed with his parents.

He knew of no cases of Diptheria in the district, the epidemic of measles had begun to abate, but whooping cough was very prevalent. He had made an inspection of the sanitary condition of Stourton and found many ashpits not covered in, some of them being without doors. He found some of the privies at the top of Queen Street, very badly constructed and difficult to cleanse. All the owners should be requested to whitewash the privies, and make such additions and improvements as were necessary. A similar inspection of Rothwell will be made shortly. A resolution was made on the motion of Messrs W. Hargreaves and Nowell, that the Sanitary and Sewage Committee take the matter up, as suggested by Dr. Glaister.

Dr. Nowell drew the medical officer's attention to a certain house in Rothwell, which he understood was in a very dirty and dilapidated condition; he also mentioned a case where 10 individuals were occupying a single room. The doctor said he would look into matter.

GAS COMPANY.—The clerk stated that the Gas Company had forwarded a copy of their balance sheet, in accordance with the requirements of the law, and if any member would like to inspect it they might do so.

CROSS STREET DRAINAGE.—This question has often been before the Board, and again it came up for discussion. A great difference of opinion existed on the subject, and a proposition was made by Mr. Newsome and seconded by Mr. W. Hargreaves, that consent be asked of the Local Government Board, to drain this street to a certain point which was marked on the plan, and that the cost and other particulars, be laid before the Board, at the next meeting. An amendment was proposed by Mr. Nowell and seconded by Mr. Turner, that the work be done and that the cost be divided among the several owners; a counter amendment was made by Messrs Oliver and Holmes, that they pass to the next business. Certain information which was given, causing Messrs Nowell and Turner to withdraw their amendment, so that the original proposition and the "pass on to the next business" amendment were put to the meeting. For the proposition, the chairman and Messrs Newsome, W. Hargreaves, Nowell, and Turner voted; for the amendment Messrs Oliver, Holmes, and Dobson; the resolution was therefore carried.

GAS COMPANY SUMMONSES.—Mr. Turner said that when he read the report in the Rothwell Times of last meeting, he thought there must be some mistake about Mr. Ianson's letter, he had found however that it was perfectly correct. He then pointed out that Mr. Ianson said in his letter, that Mr. Turner had taken out the summonses as agent for the Local Board, whereas the name of the informer never appeared on the summonses, shewing how inconsistent the letter of Mr. Ianson really was. He therefore thought that was quite sufficient to show whose mistake it was which brought the name of the Board into the summonses.

GAS COMPANY RESERVE FUND.—Mr. Turner also said that he hoped very shortly to be able to present to the chairman, a petition from twenty ratepayers, asking him to call a public meeting, to discuss the question of the Reserve Fund of the Gas Company. He hoped the members of the Board would endeavour to be present as well as the directors of the Gas Company.

The Rates received, and paid into the bank by the collector are as follows:—

General District Rate	773 6 0
Water	25 4 11
Miscellaneous	6 7 0
	£804 17 11

The clerk reported that the collector had that day taken out summonses against four persons whose rates were still unpaid.

ROTHWELL SCHOOL BOARD.

The monthly meeting of the above Board was held last Friday; present, Messrs. W. Hargreaves (chairman), J. G. Turner, J. R. Seanor, J. Batty, and the clerk and attendance officer.

The minutes having been read, the clerk reported certain temporary alterations in the staff of Rothwell School, and the admission of junior teachers on trial at Rothwell Haigh.

The chairman was happy to state, that although Mrs. Dobson, their esteemed infants' mistress at Rothwell Haigh, had been seriously ill, she was now recovering, and able to attend school a portion of the day.

DRAWING.—The clerk read the report of the Inspector on the late drawing examination at Rothwell Haigh—Out of 45 presented, 34 have passed fair, 7 good, and 1 excellent, in the boys' school. In the girls' school 40 were presented, 33 passed fair, 5 good, and 2 excellent. The report was considered most satisfactory.

The fees for February are Rothwell, £12 12s. 1d., Rothwell Haigh 13 12s. 10d.; books sold, 17s. 2d. £320 has been received from the overseers of Rothwell, £6 from Thorp Stapleton, and £317 4s. 6d. Rothwell Haigh grant. Cheques were signed for Rothwell Haigh teachers' salaries £42 4s. 2d., Rothwell £25 6s. 8d., officers' salaries £11 5s., accounts £13 8s.

The attendance officer reported the continued prevalence of measles, whooping cough, etc., greatly injuring the attendance, as many as 60 being away from the National schools on this account, and 40 from the Board schools. Rothwell Haigh schools are also somewhat affected by the same complaints.

LOFTHOUSE SCHOOL BOARD.

The usual monthly meeting of this Board, was held at Robin Hood School on Wednesday night, all the members were present viz.—Messrs T. Oliver (chairman), J. Armitage, J. Hammill, Henry Hall, and T. Hargreaves and Mr. J. H. Lee clerk.

After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read, the clerk laid before the Board the Auditor's report, which shewed the books to be well kept. A letter from the Education Department was read stating that Miss M. C. Harms, assistant teacher at Carlton, had successfully passed the Government Examination having obtained a certificate of the second class. A letter from Miss Harms was read in which she asked for her salary to be advanced to £50 per year; the clerk was desired to write and ask her to attend the next Board meeting to discuss the matter.

Cheques were signed for officers' and teachers' salaries and accounts, amounting to £74 5 6.

A precept was made upon the Overseers of the district, requiring a rate of 2½d in the £.

Minor business concluded the meeting.

APPOINTMENT OF OVERSEERS.

A meeting was held last night for the selection of gentlemen whose names shall be submitted to the magistrates at Wakefield, for appointment as overseers for this township. The following names are proposed:—Messrs. Jas. Hargreaves, J. Sanderson, J. G. Turner, W. Lawton, J. Oliver, and Jas. Batty. The appointment will be made on Monday next.

HUNSLET BOARD OF GUARDIANS.

The fortnightly meeting of this Board was held in the Board Room, Hunslet, on Wednesday last; the members present were Mr. Jas. Hargreaves, (chairman), Councillor Pickersgill and Mr. Dixon, (vice-chairmen), Messrs. Lawton, Parker, Rollisson, Sheard, Hardcastle, J. Smith, R. J. Smith, Jepson, Eady, Grosvenor, Greaves, Graveley and Aaron, and the Rev. Mr. Evans, with the clerk, (Mr. Schofield).

The time in the afternoon was principally occupied in dealing with the relief cases.

BOARDING OUT.—A grant of two pounds was allowed, on the motion of Messrs. Dixon and Sheard, for outfit for a girl who has been in one or two families already, but who has been returned to the workhouse on account of her evil propensities. A hope was expressed that she would improve, and try and suit her new mistress.

DEPUTATION.—In accordance with his notice at the last meeting, the chairman proposed that a deputation be sent to the Local Government Board for the purpose of laying before Sir Charles Dilke, the case of the Hunslet ratepayers, previous to any decision being come to with reference to the dissolution of the Unions, the names of the gentlemen forming the deputation to be fixed upon after the election of Guardians. This motion was seconded by Mr. Pickersgill. Mr. Graveley objected to sending the deputation, the case had been fully investigated at the Inquiry, and he believed the Local Government Board would do as they liked in the matter. The chairman pointed out that there was certain information to be presented which was not used at the Inquiry, and thought it advisable to send some one to London, and on being voted upon, the motion was carried, with four against it.

TENDERS.—The tenders for the various workhouse requirements for the coming six months, were then discussed, and after considerable time had been spent in examining and comparing, the following list was decided upon:—

Tea—Messrs. Randall, Woolett & Co., London.
Groceries—Mr. Wm. Reynolds
Butter & Yeast—Messrs. Horsman and Lambert, Leeds
Butcher's Meat—Mr. John Kinchley, Hunslet
Flour and Oatmeal—Mr. Samuel Smith
Milk—Mr. Tom Dixon, Hunslet
Wine and Spirits—Messrs. Cowbrough & Co., Leeds (one gentleman humorously added, only on condition that samples were sent.)
Coal—Messrs. J. & J. Charlesworth, Rothwell Haigh
Drapery—Messrs. J. J. Stephenson and Co., Hunslet
Leather—Mr. Thos. Lee, Leeds
Coffins—Messrs. Lee & Walker, Hunslet
Hearse and Cabs—Mr. E. H. Robinson, Hunslet
Drugs—Messrs. Hirst, Brooke and Hirst, Leeds
Ironmongery—Mr. Geo. Thackeray, Hunslet
Bricklayer—Mr. Sharp, Hunslet
Plumber—Mr. Pogson, Hunslet
Joiner's Work—Messrs. Lee & Walker, Hunslet
Printing and Stationery—Mr. Alf. Cooke, Hunslet

TESTIMONIAL.—A letter was read from Mr. Outram, the master of the Workhouse, stating that in prospect of a possible dissolution of the Union, and in order to improve his position, he was desirous of applying for the post of master at the Bradford Workhouse, and asked the Board to give him a testimonial. This was granted, on the motion of Messrs. Graveley and Parker.

CONVEYANCE OF LAND.—The clerk stated that he had received Mr. Emsley's account for conveyance of land from the Leeds Corporation to the Guardians, which amounted to £14 15s., being based upon the scale provided by Statute.

MEMORIAL.—The clerk said he had forwarded the memorial signed by the ratepayers of the Union, against amalgamation, to Mr. John Barran, M.P., with a letter asking him to present them to Sir C. Dilke; he had expressed his willingness and pleasure in complying with the request of the Board; in another letter, he intimated that he had presented the documents to Sir Charles, who, however, was so much occupied with the business of the Seats Bill, that he could not give the Amalgamation Scheme any attention until that measure was out of the way. A vote of thanks was unanimously passed to Mr. Barran for his kindly attention, on the motion of Mr. Lawton, seconded by Mr. Parker.

ROTHWELL GAS CO.—The Clerk said he had received a copy of the balance sheet of this Company's accounts, as required by Act of Parliament.

NON-RESIDENT PAUPERS.—Formal applications from the Wakefield and Holbeck Unions, for the maintenance of Hunslet poor lodged with them, were read, and cheques granted for the amounts claimed.

MEDICAL OFFICER.—A note was read from the Medical Officer, complaining of the conduct of the nurse. He stated in his letter that one of the inmates having a certain complaint, he ordered an outward application; on looking in again he found his instructions were not being carried out, and asked the nurse for her reasons for neglecting to act on his directions, and received a reply that she had something else to do. Having heard the note read, the Guardians directed the Visiting Committee to fully investigate the case and report to next meeting.

REQUIREMENTS.—The several requirements as read over by the clerk, were granted, the quantity required during the fortnight to be divided between the old and new contractors.

HOLIDAY.—The testmen applied for holiday on Good Friday, which was granted.

ORPHAN.—A case in which an orphan girl is being kept by a woman was gone into, and finding that the home was a good one, and the girl well done to, the Board granted a weekly allowance of 3s, although an amendment of 2/6 was put to the meeting.

COST OF MAINTENANCE.—It was proposed by Mr. Aaron, seconded by Mr. Lawton, and carried: that a statement of the comparative cost of maintenance of indoor poor during the last three years, be prepared by the clerk and submitted to the next meeting. This brought to a close a long and busy meeting.

Holloways Pills.—Enfeebled Existence.—This medicine embraces every attribute required in a general and domestic remedy. It overturns the foundations of decease laid by defective food and impure air. In obstructions or congestions of the liver, lungs, bowels, or any other organs, these Pills are especially servicable and eminently successful. They should be kept in readiness in every family, being a medicine of incomparable utility for young persons, especially those of feeble constitutions. They never pain or irritate the most sensitive nerves or most tender bowels. Holloway's Pills are the best known purifiers of the blood, the most active promoters of absorption and secretion, whereby all poisonous and obnoxious matters are removed from both solids and fluids.

METHLEY MUSICAL SOCIETY.

The concluding—and most important—concert of the season by the above Society was given on Tuesday evening last in the Mickletown Board School. The most interesting feature of the programme was the production, with band accompaniment, of Sullivan's "Festival Te Deum," a work composed for the Crystal Palace Festival in celebration of the recovery of the Prince of Wales from a severe illness. The other part of the programme comprised a selection from the "Messiah," including the following choruses—'Behold the Lamb of God,' 'Lift up your heads,' 'The Lord gave the word,' 'Hallelujah,' and 'Worthy is the Lamb.' The aria 'He shall feed His flock,' 'Come unto Him,' was sung with devotional feeling by Miss Teale and Miss Braime. The recits and aria, 'Thy rebuke,' 'Behold and see,' 'He was cut off,' were well rendered by Mr. J. Prime, but he was not quite so successful in the more ambitious and difficult task of declaiming the aria 'Thou shalt break them.' The aria 'But Thou didst not leave,' was allotted to Miss Keighley, a young member of the Society who possesses a very promising voice. 'How beautiful are the feet' was well sung by Miss Braime; and Mr. Porter received well deserved applause for his very effective delivery of the bass aria, 'Why do the nations.' After a short interval the performance of the 'Te Deum' was proceeded with. Bearing in mind several disadvantages, we may say that the work as a whole was fairly well rendered, and the conductor and members are to be congratulated on the manner in which they have overcome the difficulties of a task, which was certainly not a light one. The solo music was entrusted, as usual, to Miss Braime, whose powerful and brilliant voice was well adapted to the somewhat florid nature of this part of the work. The chorus of the Society was augmented by members of the kindred society at Woodlesford. The band was composed chiefly of amateur members of the Musical Society, with additions from the Castleford Orchestral Society, and Mr. W. Flockton (viola), of Oulton. Mr. Holdsworth, the Society's accompanist, ably presided at the piano, and the organ part was played on a large harmonium by Mr. W. Lockwood, of Woodlesford. Mr. G. A. Atkinson conducted, and the success achieved is to be attributed to his zealous and untiring exertions. There was a good attendance, in spite of unfavorable weather. At the close of the concert a very cordial vote of thanks to those who had assisted, was moved by the Rev. Mr. Ripley, vice-president of the Society, to which Mr. Flockton briefly responded.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

SERVICE OF SONG.—On Sunday last in the Mechanics Hall, the members of the Wesleyan Musical Society, rendered the service of song entitled "The Torn Bible, or Hubert's best friend." The Hall was fully crowded, numbers being unable to gain admittance, and the whole affair passed off most successfully. Although the service is rather too long, there was the deepest interest manifested throughout, and the story and illustrative songs were greatly appreciated. The connective readings were given by Mr. J. R. Seanor in his usual clear and effective manner, and the musical performance was under the guidance Mr. J. Idle, whose patient teaching showed most creditably in the various pieces. The choir acquitted themselves well, not the least successful being the chorus "Disdainful of danger" from 'Judas' while the simpler songs and anthems were nicely given. Miss Clarkson and Mr. D. Tilley sang solos from the service with their usual excellence. Mr. A. Batty accompanied on the harmonium assisted by several 'strings.' A collection was taken during the afternoon for the Chapel Decoration Fund, amounting to £2 10 6.

STOURTON WESLEYAN BAND OF HOPE.—In connection with this organization, the committee succeeded in obtaining Mr. Wm. Pearson, of Pottery Field, to deliver a lecturer on "Drinking customs, past and present," last Saturday evening. At 7 o'clock, Mr. T. Kale opened the meeting, and after singing and prayer, introduced the lecturer. Mr. Pearson gave a number of figures shewing a very large expenditure in drink, but said that the cost was gradually diminishing and he hoped that it would not be long before the injurious drink traffic was done away with altogether. At the finish, Mr. Webber proposed and Mr. Butterfield seconded, that the best thanks be given to the lecturer, which was carried in the usual way. The proceeds are to be given to the Sunday School.

STOURTON PRIMITIVE METHODIST NEW SCHOOL.—The juvenile committee in connection with Joseph Street Chapel, Hunslet, gave an entertainment in the above place on Wednesday evening last, in aid of the funds to carry on the new school. Two dialogues were given, viz:—"Trials of a patient man" in six characters, and the "Teetotal Barber" in eight characters. Singing, recitations, and two concertina solos by Mr. W. Eddison were also given. The place was well-filled and the programme gone through in a creditable style.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY.—As will be seen from our advertising columns, a lecture is to be given on Monday by the Rev. H. Jefford, of Wakefield, in which the many historic treasures of our national Abbey will be described, and pictured by means of the magic lantern. Mr. Jefford has given this illustrated address in Wakefield and other places near, to the unbounded satisfaction of all who have been present. We strongly recommend all our readers, especially those who are privileged to look on Westminster Abbey as belonging primarily to the Church of England, to take advantage of this opportunity of seeing and hearing about it.

IT is well to know that the Largest, Cheapest, and Best selected stock of Furniture is at F. Millers, 42, North Street, Leeds.

WE understand, that a request has been made to the Old Band to repeat the 'Handel' programme given a short time since in commemoration of the great musician's birth. As the performance is well worth listening to, and will be heard to greater advantage in the open air, we shall be pleased to learn that the Band have decided to play these glorious numbers, say at the Cross. If opportunity is given, a small collection might be taken during the performance.

DROWNED. This morning a man about 50 years old was taken out of the Aire and Calder Canal, and removed to the Anchor Inn, where his body awaits the coroner's inquest. He is 5ft. 4in. high; he is clean-shaven, and has decayed teeth.

CAUTION—HOMOEOPATHIC MEDICINES.—It is essential to success with these remedies that they should be prepared with scrupulous care, and preferably by one who makes it his sole business; hence it is very desirable that those using them should insist on each bottle obtained from a vendor bearing the label of a firm of repute. Those sold by the agents of JAMES EPPS and Co. (the first-established Homoeopathic Chemists in England) have a label over the cork with their autograph trade mark.

KAY'S COMPOUND.—Asthma and Bronchitis are immediately relieved by it. Kay Bros., Stockport.

LOFTHOUSE AND CARLTON ELECTIONS.

A meeting of the Ratepayers of Lofthouse-with-Carlton, was held at Robin Hood Board School on Wednesday, the chair being occupied by Mr. T. Hargreaves. Messrs J. Armitage and T. Harrison were re-elected Overseers of the Poor; the Parochial committee remains the same as last year, excepting that Mr. T. Hargreaves takes the place of Mr. J. H. Lee.

The Lofthouse Ratepayers then proceeded with the business for their portion of the township, and three gentlemen were nominated for Highway Surveyors, viz.—Messrs J. Parker, G. Armitage, and J. Walton; there being only two surveyors required, these gentlemen's names were submitted to the meeting, a shew of hands resulting as follows.—Mr Parker 49, Mr. Armitage 45, and Mr. Walton 29. A poll was demanded on behalf of Mr. Walton, which the chairman fixed for to-morrow between 12 and 6 o'clock, in the Robin Hood Board School. Mr T. Hargreaves was elected churchwarden for Rothwell Parish Church.

Yesterday the Carlton Ratepayers met in the Carlton Board School, Mr. T. Hargreaves presiding. The business was the election of Highway Surveyors and Churchwarden. Messrs J. Dobson, G. and Armitage (Wm Armitage Brothers) being elected to the former office and Mr. G. Armitage, Jun. to the latter.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

Dear me! what a conscientious man the hon sec. of the Oulton F. C. is to be sure. Rather than see the guileless public led astray by the report of the recent match between his club and Rothwell, he last week laid before your readers a true state of affairs. He lays part of the honour of appointing a referee on to my shoulders, and then proceeds to say that he (the referee) was virtually appointed by Rothwell. I am willing to take my share of the matter, but while exonerating the referee from any intentional unfairness, must give it as my opinion that the instant appealing of the Oultonians had—in a sense—'muddled' him. Now comes the laughable part of his letter. He mentions 'Your 'juvenile' correspondent Captain.' That I take as a compliment, but must say that anyone judging from the Oulton sec's. letter, would take him for a juvenile, as the epistle is full of childish sentiment. I wonder who saw the Oulton left wing pounce on the ball and shoot it through the posts, in spite of the opposing backs and goalman? No one but the hon. sec., I should say; he knows as well as I do that Abbey caught the ball in his hands, put it on the ground, dribbled it some few yards, and shot it through, no player of the opposing side being near him at the time, although the goalman did make half an effort to stop it. The hon. sec. wishes to know what was to be done after 'play on' had been given. Why, no notice should have been taken of that command from the referee, as he should never have been appealed to on that question. He quotes my words of the previous week—'The umpires were agreeable on the point (and I have both their words for it) that it was no goal." He then states that the point to be decided by the referee was not whether the goal was legitimate or not, but whether a foul occurred. Now the foul was given in as such by the Rothwell umpire; did the Oulton umpire dispute it, or not see it? If such were the case, the Rothwell umpire's decision was final on that point, and it would consequently be reckoned as a foul. Further on, he likens the Oulton players to weasels; the simile is not bad, as weasels are of a very sneaky nature. Make what you like of that. There is actually one part of my 'notes' in which he agrees, and that is 'a more disgraceful affair never cropped up in a football match before.' That statement I uphold, as I think it is disgraceful for a team to be continually appealing for the referee's decision, and ignoring that of the umpire, as the Oulton players did. Towards the conclusion of his smart (?) epistle, the writer literally 'hangs himself,' so to speak. He says he can understand the joy of the Rothwell players when, by hook or crook, they managed to make a draw of it; and further on he says, 'we (Oulton) won, and no amount of wriggling can get over it.' Now what does he mean by that? I leave all unprejudiced people to judge what has been his frame of mind when he wrote his letter. Anger, malice, spite, blind jealousy, etc., Eh? At the finish he says he will not write again. No, he knows the reason why.

Rothwell and Stourton (A teams) met on the ground of the latter on Saturday, and after a very loose game, Stourton won by 1 goal to nil. Had the Rothwell forwards worked well up when they had the wind, I have no doubt they would have scored, but with no combination, it was not to be expected, especially seeing that three of them were strangers to the team. The goal scored by the home team occurred owing to the ball having been fouled in the Rothwell goal by a back, when it was scrimmaged, and the lot shoved through.

CAPTAIN.

ROTHWELL v. STOURTON (A Teams)—This, the return match between these clubs, came off at Stourton on Saturday last. The game ended in a victory for the home team by 1 goal to love. For the winners J Goldthorpe played well at back, while Blackburn passed well. Harrison and Seanor were the pick of the visitors.

TOWN TALK.

I am happy to see from an advertisement in the Rothwell Times, there is to be a bazaar this Easter in connection with the Parish Church, Rothwell. I intend having a look in and hope it will be a success in every way. I see that the managers have secured Albany Hawke Charlesworth, Esq., again to open the bazaar; it may be interesting to many to know that Mr. Charlesworth, who previously bore the title "Major" has been made "Lieutenant Colonel," a notice of which appeared in the Mercury on Tuesday.

IT is really interesting for me to go in and out among my fellow townsmen and hear them give their very impartial opinions on what my weekly letter contains. I often hear them agree that my column is at any rate interesting, some say it is usually correct, others say, I am not very exact, but "Gossip" ought to have a pretty long tether, and in that sense I am not out, and a few say my remarks are sometimes useful and benefitting. Many of my readers were glad that I made the revelations which appeared last week, about Tory activity, and I think such stories should tend to make the Liberal members of the community, bestir themselves, and see what can be done in their interests. Let them come to the front, and shew us at least that they are in existence.

THE FOOTBALL DISPUTE.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times

Sir,

I noticed in your last issue, a letter from the hon. sec. of the Oulton F. C. in reference to the recent dispute between Rothwell and Oulton, which being an untruthful statement from beginning to end, and written so as to lead your readers seriously astray, I am bound to contradict. It is not my intention to take exception to every remark made in that epistle, but only to reply to that portion affecting myself and my Committee.

He commences by stating that his only desire is to place before your readers a true statement of affairs. Those who were present at the encounter, I leave to judge for themselves as to whether it was a true statement of affairs, but to those of your readers who were not, I think I can prove to a certain extent, that most of the matter found in his letter was incorrect.

The first part is as to how the referee came to be appointed. Two gentlemen were suggested to me, one of which I objected to, at the same time giving my reason for so doing, viz:—"that as Mr. R. J. Smith was a member of the Oulton club it would not be fair for him to act." This he says was untrue, and "my insinuation that he wished to have a member out of their own body was a gratuitous insult begotten of ignorance." I do not insinuate anything, but tell him straight that this gentleman is a member of the Oulton Club, and am able to prove it. If I had remained silent on the subject of chosing the referee, who would they have appointed? Why this gentleman to be sure, and in order to strengthen my argument, I quote the first letter received from the secretary by me. "We expect your team on Saturday next at Oulton as near 3 o'clock as possible; we shall have a referee chosen." It is true that I did see Mr. Taylor, but did not speak more than half-a-dozen words to him; I merely asked him, that if the Oulton Club was agreeable, would he act as referee, to which he replied in the affirmative. I did not try to draw him over to our side as Mr. Boothroyd would have us think by the tone of his letter. Further, I had only two names to choose from, and they were suggested to me by the Oulton secretary; so you see, Sir, both persons were suitable to him, or he would never have proposed them. Now, if I had rejected them both, and taken another man altogether, his remarks as to us having the referee all to ourselves might have been looked at in a different light, but as it is, they must be taken for what they are worth.

Providing the referee's decision for 'play on' be taken as final, did I not myself dribble the ball to the other end of the field and kick it out, thereby causing the leather to become dead, and the referee and Mr. Boothroyd know quite well that before the ball could be again in play, it ought to have been kicked off by Oulton, six yards from their own goal line. And then he has the audacity to say that when the referee decided for 'play on' the Oulton left wing forward pounced on the ball, and after beautifully dodging the opposing players he put it between the posts. A more incorrect report was never given, and he must have had his eyes shut or he would never have written it, as Abbey never did any such thing, because after kicking the ball out at the Oulton end, I brought it down the field (partly carrying it) and gave it to the player in question myself, after which he put it through the goal, not being interfered with by one single player on the Rothwell side. Then he says "the referee decided for a goal after giving 'play on' and how could he do otherwise." Well then, after giving 'play on' how could he give a goal after the ball had been kicked dead. I know that 'play on' means 'play on,' and when a ball is dead it remains so until kicked off in the manner prescribed by the rules. Now as to whether the referee can decide a point unless called upon to do so by the umpires was sufficiently proved in your last issue by Mr. J. A. Miller, Hon. Sec. Yorkshire County F. C.

The Rothwell players were not by themselves round the referee, because as soon as ever Abbey kicked the ball through the goal, he himself immediately ran to him and asked for his decision. I being also near him at the time, warned him not to do so until consulted by the umpires, but he gave it—before hearing the umpires' opinion—in favour of Oulton. I then asked him what he thought about my kicking the ball dead at the other end, when he replied that he knew nothing about it. The umpires afterwards came to the conclusion that it was no goal, but that the ball ought to have been thrown up. By rule, their decision comes before that of the referee, and if they can agree, he has no power whatever. I went purposely to witness the match between Hunslet and Leeds St. John's, in order to ascertain how these gentlemen went about their business, to find that when appeal was made, the umpires in some instances settled the matter themselves, and in others they went to the referee, when he decided for them; but mark you, not before they had disagreed.

The Oulton players perhaps did stand on one side after the decision, but did they do so before it? No Sir, they did not, and it was owing to their appealing to the referee (when it was not their duty to do so) that was the cause of the dispute. On one occasion our goal-keeper appealed for one of the most disgraceful fouls I think I ever saw committed, when the Oulton captain sharply told him that he had no right to ask the referee, but was promptly answered that the appeal was made to the umpires, and not to the referee. So you see, Mr. Editor, none of the Rothwell players were to have anything to do with the superior power (nor did want, for they had the good common sense to know that it was out of their place), but when Abbey put the ball through, he was not long in seeking his decision.

When we left the field, we did so at the command of our captain, but when Oulton quitted the field at Rothwell a few years ago, they did so very much against the wish of their captain (then Mr. Hutchinson). There's a contrast for you, Mr. Secretary, and in all your football career, can you remember that?

To say that the Rothwell Club had the baseness to send false reports is more than he knows, because when he wrote to me, I neither admitted nor denied the fact, being in the same mind as the majority of my Committee, that if he did not know how and when to mind his own business, we would try and teach him, and therefore decided to keep silent on the subject. Besides, if the referee's decision is wrong (which all unbiassed people admit) how can the reports be false?

He writes, "one could readily understand their joy when by hook or crook they managed to make a draw." If we did make a draw, how can they call it a win? But, Sir, it was not by either of these that we above held our own, but by football alone (not by charging which the Oulton players thought fit to adopt to a large extent), and in this three-fourths of those present at the match will go with me, as I (and no doubt Mr. Boothroyd as well) heard it expressed on all sides, that we had the best of them at nearly every point. Our hearts were not in our boots either, but to alter the version a little, our art was in our feet, and this the Oulton team found out to their disappointment before the match had long been in progress.

In his summing up, he writes more like a person ignorant of every point in the game, than the secretary of a football club, and I have no doubt will be considered as such by all footballers who have a little knowledge of the game at all. For instance, if only a Rothwell club dispute a referee's decision, how came Dewsbury to play Halifax Free Wanderers on Wednesday, March 18th, and for what reason have the great international fixtures between England and Scotland (Rugby rules) not taken place this season? We had this much our own way, that when we were about to take a "corner" every man on the Oulton side went into his own goal-mouth and this is what is not usually done, in other club games, nor did the the Rothwell players do it. As to our behaviour, I think it will compare favourably with that of Oulton, and if our captain disputed the referee's decision, it was legal, but I challenge him to prove that any of our players appealed to the referee on one single occasion, which I am able to do as regards the Oulton players. Again, there is no person who saw the match can come forward and say that we used any unfair means in our play, but the way in which the home team went about their work, was most abominable, and succeeded in eliciting the sneers of their own supporters.

He concludes by saying that all matches are at an end &c. Well, if he knows that, he knows more than what I do, because I have to carry out the bidding of my committee, and if the present one decided that we never more should play, the new one might be of a different opinion. But I am told that the secretary has the management of the Oulton Club between his finger and thumb, so I suppose he can speak for this committee and the remaining ones to come.

Apologising for trespassing so much on your valuable space,

I remain,
Yours respectfully,
JOS. HARRISON, JUNR.,
Hon. Sec. R. F. C.

Rothwell, March 24th.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

In reading your last issue of the Times, I was not at all surprised to find myself in (hon sec.'s letter) the object of many, I must say, very mean and false remarks.

It is not my intention to comment upon the whole letter, but to that part concerning myself only, as I have no doubt there are others, who will not, in justice to themselves let it pass unanswered. Hon. sec. says in quoting 'Captain's' version of affairs, 'a foul was appealed for off one of the Oulton players, but he (captain) forgot to add by the Rothwell umpire, through whose excessive zeal the whole match was marred. Now I will as short as possible (and deny the truth, Hon sec. cannot) enlighten the readers on the subject. The ball was fouled by an Oulton player, and a Rothwell player appealing, I said it was a foul. The Oulton umpire blowing his whistle for play to cease, I was immediately attacked by hon. sec. and his left wing forward, to know who fouled the ball? On answering that question, another was asked me, to know who did appeal? Now I was not obliged to answer him any question, and I therefore refused to do so, using these words, 'mind your own business,' referring him at the same time to his own umpire if he had any objections to raise, and to lay them before him. This is the abuse complained of.

Now mark! instead of consulting their umpire, and allowing the foul to have been settled by us, he (not I) with his left-wing forward ran to the referee to ask his opinion on the matter, thus ignoring their own umpire's presence altogether, whose duty it was to settle the affair. If hon. sec. knew the rules of the game a little more, and would brag a little less, he would know that the duties of a referee are to settle disputes between umpires, and not players, therefore, as there was no dispute between us (the umpires), in this case, no referee was needed to give a decision. However, his decision was 'play on,' and the left-wing forward taking the ball from the hands of a Rothwell player, placed it on the ground, thus making it a free kick, and a rule to that effect says, "In no case shall a goal be scored from any free kick, nor shall the ball be again played by the kicker until it has been played by another player." No opposition was given to his scoring the goal, and on his appealing to the referee, his decision was in favour of Oulton.

Thus outwitted (hon. sec. says), my rage knew no bounds, and he was actually startled after the match by the referee saying to him that I asked him to alter his decision. If the referee did make that false statement, which I cannot at all credit, I am greatly mistaken in him. If hon. sec. makes one false statement, he will not hesitate at making another.

Apologising for trespassing on your valuable space,

I am, Sir,
Yours respectfully,
JOHN W. CHADWICK,
Umpire, R. F. C.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

Having read in Mr. Boothroyd's letter of last week, several false charges against the Rothwell players, with your permission I will try to answer them. He accuses us of being quarrelsome and boyish, a charge which would be more fitly applied to Oulton, seeing that all the appeals to the referee were made either by 'Hon. Sec.' or his pet left wing, they disputing almost every decision of our umpire, no matter how glaring the violation of the rule was, whilst on the other hand, not a single objection was raised by us against Oulton umpire. I leave your readers to judge on that point; also which was most boyish, our 'leaving the field at the call of our captain,' or Abbey's infantile trick of kicking the ball through the posts unopposed, and rushing off straight to the referee crying 'Give yer decision, 'Arry.' He then goes on to say that at the decision 'our rage knew no bounds; this he later contradicts by writing that 'he could readily understand our joy, &c.' Comment on that would be useless. Last of all, he verily believes 'our hearts were in our boots; what was that caused by? Not by Oulton players certainly; perhaps by the animal mentioned by 'Gossip.' I cannot understand what made him think that, as our play throughout the match was admitted by all, except the most bigoted Oultonian partizans, to be far superior to that of Oulton; the only solution I have been able to see is, that Mr. Boothroyd, feeling very acutely the position of his own heart, and with his spirits at zero, why, poor fellow, he quite naturally supposed that each of our hearts would be in the same position. But if our hearts were in the position indicated by 'Hon. Sec.,' I will give that gentleman a sum to set his sixth standard boys on Monday next, viz.,—'If Rothwell players can shew such superior play to Oulton and score 1 goal with their hearts in their boots, what would be the number of goals scored and the general result of the game with their hearts in their normal position.

Yours respectfully,
A PLAYER.

"GOSSIP" ON TORY TACTICS.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

The thanks of all reasonable minded and sensible people, are certainly due to your correspondent 'Gossip,' for his having drawn public attention to the means by which the Tories of this district are endeavouring to instil into the minds of those who are able to understand such matters, but more especially into those who at present are not, their own prejudiced political opinions, as instanced in the two stories told last week in "Town Talk."

As to the first of the valuable illustrations given, namely, the oration delivered at one of the pits, by a juvenile aspirant, and would-be-authority on political questions, the arguments with repect to capitalists (apart from its eminently local bearing) will scarcely 'hold water,' for if one had time and opportunity, instances innumerable could be cited to prove, that instead of the Tories being the great capitalists, "the boot is on the other leg." It was always my impression the party which is honoured by the able support by the orator in question had, their interest chiefly in the land; and if so, in what way does that greatly affect or benefit the working man? Again, if it so be, then unless there is a return to power of the Tory party (a calamity we hope will not take place) by what means will they withdraw their capital from the country? Can they at any given moment do this? Will the gentleman kindly favour us with a clear statement as to the "why and wherefore" of this matter? We suppose that some at least of his hearers on this occasion would not take all he said as 'gospel,' and our only desire is that instead of giving vent to political feelings 'in the dark places of earth,' although that perhaps is the likeliest place for them, he will next time appear in the clear daylight, and before an audience composed (not of those who, owing to circumstances, dare not oppose or contradict) but amongst those who would be prepared to refute the weak and 'wishy-washy' statements made.

But if fault is to be found in one case, severe condemnation is amply deserved in the other, in that 'a local schoolmaster' being so imbued, if not saturated, with political animus against our Premier forgot himself, takes advantage of his position, and endeavours to instil into those of tender years, (and who should take especial notice of anything taught them by their master), he attempts, I say, by means of a paltry transposition of letters to give an wholly erroneous idea of the present state of affairs, and would make it appear that Mr. Gladstone is no better than a murderer. Things have come to a pretty pass, when such as this shall be allowed. Whoever the perpetrator of this stale joke is, it behoves those "who are in authority over him" to at once put a stop to the same, and not only so, but to administer a severe reprimand for such an excess of duty and outrage on public feeling.

It appears to me that the conservative party (to which I suppose the "schoolmaster" in question is closely allied and would pose as a "burning and shining light") they for lack of something better to do, wish to appear as a party who never did any wrong, and do not scruple to lay the troubles that have occurred in Egypt, coupled with the lamented death of General Gordon (a loss everyone, irrespective of party, deplores) they would put all the blame on Mr. Gladstone's shoulders, and make him the "scape-goat" to carry all the ill-feeling and spleen they can possibly heap upon him. If the turn which affairs have taken may not be to their, or even to our liking because of one fault, if fault it is, shall that obliterate the fifty years of splendid service which he has given for the good of his country? Is that to be counted as nothing? Your "local schoolmaster's" short memory on these matters, for has he not forgot it was a Liberal Government, with Mr. Gladstone at its head, that passed the Elementary Education Act, an act which probably placed this worthy teacher "of young ideas" in the position he now holds. He may have considered how best to illify one of the greatest men of the present century, but he has not considered the harm it may "in the long run" do to, himself. We presume what was then stated to his young hearers would be included in the lists of special subjects, but whether it comes under the head of geography or grammar we are unable to determine. Perhaps the Education Department will be able to settle the point and make a provision for such a subject in their next Code.

It is to be hoped that such an indiscretion will not again take place, but that this publicity will serve as a lesson not to indulge in any such frivolous remarks to children, the parents of whom hold different opinions, and these in a great majority are contrary to those held by "a local schoolmaster," and it is certain they will strongly resist any attempts to inculcate ideas in opposition to their own, and most assuredly out of place in a public school.

After such an amount of feeling shown against the Premier, perhaps the M.O.G. jokist will endorse the sentiments of a fellow Tory, and editor of a paper at Sheffield. This worthy, in a recent speech, gave expression to the following atrocious and diabolical words, viz.—"He wondered why the devil had not before now done his duty by removing Mr. Gladstone to the lower regions, and could only explain it on the ground that the "subterranean potentate" was jealous of the Premier, and afraid that the latter might make a party down there, and with his wonderful persuasion and earnestness he would persuade them that the place was cold and chilly, and not nearly so well warmed as had been represented." Comment is needless.

The tory party are "hard up" when they resort to such arguments as are now instanced, but then it is an easy matter to find faults in others, but quite another matter to mend them. Can they do it?

Yours faithfully,
A DISGUSTED ONE.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high coloured; depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population have this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. The disease is Dyspepsia or Indigestion, for which Seigel's Curative Syrup is a certain remedy. Seigel's Operating Pills are an effective remedy for Constipation and Biliousness. Those afflicted with Asthma will find immediate relief by using the Rosinweed Tar Mixture. Genuine has A. J. White, Lim., on the stamp. An almanac containing testimonials from persons who have received benefit from use of Seigel's Curative Syrup will be furnished free of charge, by the proprietors, A. J. White, Lim. 17, Farringdon Road, London, E.C.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

THROAT AFFECTIONS AND HOARSENESS.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by JOHN I. BROWN & SONS, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

KAY'S TIC PILLS, a specific in Neuralgia, Face-ache, 9½d., 1s. 1½d.; postage 1d. Kay Bros., Stockport.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d.—For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

IS RHEUMATISM CURABLE? Yes, if you take WOODCOCK'S RHEUMATIC MIXTURE. Speedily cures Rheumatic Pains in the Limbs, Rheumatic Pains in the Head, Rheumatic Pains in the Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatic Swellings and Stiffness; in fact, every phase of Rheumatism; no matter how acute or long standing, it never fails. OBSERVE—This is not a quack remedy, warranted to cure everything, but a genuine SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM only. Sold by all medicine vendors at 1s. 9d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d. and 11s., or Post free for 33, 36 or 56 stamps. The 11s. size paid to nearest Railway Station for 11s. 3d. P.O. Order or Stamps, from PAGE D. WOODCOCK, Lincoln.

FLORILINE!—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE

ONLY GENUINE ORIGINAL AND

IS THE GREAT SPECIFIC FOR CHOLERA,

COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—Dr. J. C. BROWNE (late Army Medical Staff) DISCOVERED a REMEDY to denote which he coined the word CHLORODYNE. Dr. Browne is the SOLE INVENTOR, and, as the composition of Chlorodyne cannot possibly be discovered by Analysis (organic substances defying elimination), and since the formula has never been published, it is evident that any statement to the effect that a compound is identical with Dr. Browne's Chlorodyne must be false.

This Caution is necessary, as many persons deceive purchasers by false representations.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—Vice Chancellor Sir W. PAGE WOOD stated publicly in Court that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was UNDOUBTEDLY the INVENTOR of CHLORODYNE, that the whole story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, and he regretted to say it had been sworn to.—See The Times, July 13th, 1864.

DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY.

GENERAL BOARD of HEALTH, London, REPORT that it ACTS as a CHARM, one dose generally sufficient. Dr. GIBBON, Army Medical Staff, Calcutta, states: "2 DOSES COMPLETELY CURED ME of DIARRHŒA."

From SYMES & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Simla. Jan. 5, 1880.

To J. T. DAVENPORT, London.

DEAR SIR,—We congratulate you upon the widespread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine has earned for itself all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike.—We are, Sir, faithfully yours, SYMES & CO., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE is the TRUE PALLIATIVE in NEURALGIA, GOUT, CANCER, TOOTHACHE, RHEUMATISM.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE is a liquid medicine which assuages PAIN of EVERY KIND, affords a calm, refreshing sleep WITHOUT HEADACHE, and INVIGORATES the nervous system when exhausted.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE rapidly cuts short all attacks of EPILEPSY, SPASMS, COLIC, PALPITATION, HYSTERIA.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—The IMMENSE SALE of this REMEDY has given rise to many UNSCRUPULOUS IMITATIONS. Be careful to observe Trade Mark. Of all Chemists. 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d.

ARE the PUREST, CHEAPEST, and BEST BITTERS EVER MADE.

They are compounded from Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Podophyllin, and Dandelion.

The oldest, best, and most valuable medicines in the world, and contain all the best and most curative properties of all other Bitters, being the greatest

BLOOD PURIFIER,
LIVER REGULATOR,

and Life and Health Restoring Agent on earth. No disease or ill-health can possibly long exist where these Bitters are used, so varied and perfect are their operations.

They give new life and vigour to the aged and infirm. To all whose employments cause irregularity of the bowels or urinary organs, or who require an Appetiser, Tonic, and Mild Stimulant, these Bitters are invaluable, being highly curative, tonic, and stimulating, without intoxicating.

No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease or ailment is, use

HOP BITTERS.

Don't wait until you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use the Bitters at once. It may save your life. Hundreds have been saved by so doing. £500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help. They are a pleasant refreshing flavouring for sick-room drinks, impure water, and other beverages.

Do not suffer yourself or let your friends suffer, but use, and urge them to use

HOP BITTERS.
Remember.

HOP BITTERS is no vile, drugged nostrum, but the Purest and Best Medicine ever made; the "Invalid's Friend and Hope," and no person or family should be without them. Try the BITTERS to-day.

FOR SALE BY ALL CHEMISTS AND DRUGGISTS.

CAUTION.

Beware of bogus stuff sold in all forms, pretending to be like Hop Bitters. The only genuine is put up in very large square-panelled amber-coloured bottles, Dr. Soule's name blown in the glass, white label on one side, with black letters and green hop cluster. The other side yellow label. Directions in English and German. Manufactured only by Hop Bitters Company.

HOGE'S HOREHOUND HONEY

FOR THE PROMPT RELIEF OF CHEST COMPLAINTS, COUGHS, AND SORE THROATS.

SUPPLIED BY ALL CHEMISTS.

The safest and most efficacious remedy ever discovered for all pulmonary diseases, sore or congested lungs, consumption, coughs, colds, sore throats, hoarseness, &c. An uncompounded product of Nature secreted in the petals of Horehound blossoms, and gathered by the honey bee.

SUCCESS IN THE PURSUITS OF LIFE depends much on a thorough knowledge of every branch pertaining to the vocation the individual chooses to follow. Yielding to the early inclination of making the study of the honey bee a professional one, Mr. Hoge's life-long association and continual study has been with them. This gave him unequalled facilities for investigating the curative properties of various kinds of honeys, and enabled him to discover and corroborate the wonderful healing powers of Horehound Honey.

IT IS A COMMON ERROR to think that any kind of Honey will make a good cough mixture, and we regret to say most chemists employ Honey as a basis for such medicines, without the least discrimination as to its source. It would be just as rational to expect any kind of bark to make good quinine. Francois Huber, Baron Liebig, and Sir John Lubbock agree with all other investigating naturalists in the assertion—that the characteristics of various Honeys are attributable to the plants from which they are gathered. Xenophon tells us that all his soldiers who ate of the Honey found in the villages on the mountains of the Colchians lost their senses; that those who ate but little were like men very drunk, and those who ate much like madmen. Pliny accounts for this by saying the honey was gathered from the flowers called Rhododendron, while of the Horehound plant Keats beautifully says—

> "The bee, with sense so subtly true,
> From Horehound herbs extracts the healing dew."

HONEY IS NOT MADE BY THE BEES, they are simply the vehicles provided by an all-wise Providence for conveying the Honey from the petals of the blooms and depositing it into the cells of the honeycomb. Notice a bee as it alights and insinuates itself into the very heart of the flowers, and you will have no difficulty in observing by a telescope motion of its body that it is sucking or rather pumping the drop of nectar into its honey sack, which is lined with a muscular tissue. When filled the little almoner of nature flies away to its hive, and, by compressing the muscles of its honey sack, deposits the Honey into the cells. The Honey undergoes no digestion, and is chemically the same in the hive as in the petal of the flower.

The LORD MAYOR of LONDON ORDERS IT.

MANSION HOUSE, LONDON, E.C.,
September, 28, 1883.

The LORD MAYOR would thank Messrs. W. M. Hoge and Co. to send him half a dozen of their Hoge's Horehound Honey, which has been well recommended to him.

W. L. BRIGHT, Esq., son of the Right Hon. John Bright, M.P., says Hoge's Horehound Honey CURED his father of a bad cough.

WHAT THE CLERGY SAY OF IT:—

ELY, CAMBS., May, 1883.

The Rev. C. D. KINGDON has great pleasure in bearing testimony to the excellent properties of Hoge's Horehound Honey for preaching. It makes the voice clear and pleasant, and takes away all that huskiness in the throat which is so uncomfortable to preacher and congregation.

ENORMOUS SALE OF
AS SUPPLIED to the QUEEN'S PALACE at WINDSOR.

S. NELSEY and CO., the well-known Stockport Firm, have now to hand another parcel of 24,000 dozen beautifully designed Hearthrugs, which have gained a world-wide favourable reputation, owing to their cheapness and beauty, and, coming direct from the manufacturers, the public will save all intermediate profits.

They are 6ft. long by 3ft. wide. Each Rug is handsomely blended in six or seven of the newest and richest colours. May be had in shades to match any colour of carpet or suite. The designs are exquisite, including Grapes, Ferns, Oak Leaves, Flowers, Masonry, &c. They are suitable for drawing-room, bedroom, dining-room, or kitchen.

Three of these beautiful rugs were supplied to Her Majesty's Palace at Windsor, which gave so much satisfaction that we received an order for three more, thus making six that are now in use in the "Royal Home." In addition to this we received renewed orders and testimonials from all parts.

Since the establishment of the Parcels Post no place can be too distant for us to send to.

Never before was such a large and handsome Rug offered at the price.

In order that every home in the land may possess one or more of these beautiful Rugs, we will send them, carriage paid, at the prices stated in Coupon below. Please name this paper.

VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good to the Individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade. Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has cast about him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. Having been thirty-five years in the trade, in the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was naturally "up to all the wrinkles." The middle men, known by the names of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of Manufacturers, who arranged to supply his Establishment at the cost of materials and men's time in the making. In short, placing the Goods before the public, at single articles at wholesale prices. The management is still under R. Scott's personal control, who takes this opportunity of thanking his Patrons in the past, and hopes to receive anew a mark of their confidence. In future the firm will be known as Scott & Co., Goldsmiths, Silversmiths, Opticians, Watch and Clock Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.

If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly restored by good workmen. Scott & Co. guarantee their work for 12 months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made as new, on very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

Friday, April 3, 1885.

The time for the Local Board Election has come and gone, and whatever may have been the opinions of the ratepayers is now finally registered, the total result of which will be declared on Saturday. With the exception of the meeting called for last Thursday, at which nothing was accomplished, the meetings in connection with the several candidates have been few or none. Only two addresses have been issued, and generally there has been less apparent interest in the result than has usually been the case. We regret however, that considerable personal antipathy has been felt and displayed, from which no good public benefit can accrue. May we hope, nevertheless, that although strong language may have been used and is being used, by some of the candidates and their partizans, that the general constitution and procedure of the new Board may be far in advance of the present one, and that the improvement of our public works, with a careful regard to the nett economy of the rates may claim the serious and harmonious attention of our local legislature.

Messrs. Jas. Hargreaves, W. Lawton and John Swales are the unopposed representatives of this district on the Board of Guardians. For Woodlesford and Oulton there are four nominations, Messrs. R. J. Smith, Chas. Inman, John Jackson, and John Dixon (Hunslet). As Mr. Inman is contesting a Hunslet ward, and Mr. Dixon is also a Hunslet man, we presume Mr. Smith and Mr. Jackson will be elected. Mr. Grosvenor is unopposed for Middleton.

At Wakefield, on Monday, Messrs. Jas. Hargreaves, J. G. Turner, and J. Sanderson, were appointed overseers by the magistrates. For Woodlesford and Oulton, Mr. Smith and Mr. Higgins are the overseers, and Mr. Hoyle and Mr. King, surveyors.

ROTHWELL LOCAL BOARD.

A special meeting of the Board was held last night, present—Mr. Jas. Hargreaves (chairman), Messrs. W. Hargreaves, Holmes, J. Turner, H. P. Newsome, Dobson and Nowell, and the clerk, collector and surveyor.

The chairman stated that the object of the meeting was to consider what steps should be taken in view of the serious water famine, from which Rothwell was now suffering. From what he could gather, the fault seemed to be insufficient pressure from Leeds. Mr. Dobson understood that Leeds was short, and if so, they would not send water to Rothwell. Mr. Turner asked that the contract between Leeds and Rothwell might be read. The clerk did so, and the principal clause relating to this subject provided that the Corporation "shall supply Rothwell Local Board with water, so long as the Corporation have a sufficient supply to meet the requirements of the borough, and of all contracts previously entered into,"—the Morley Local Board being the only authority which had then agreed with the Corporation for a supply. Mr. Holmes said they had plenty of water at Stourton, so that he could not see how the Leeds people could be scarce. Mr. W. Hargreaves, after some uncomplimentary remarks on the Waterworks Committee in not moving more actively in the water supply question, maintained that from a close examination of the mains, he was satisfied that there was no defect or leakage in our district, and that the Leeds Corporation was at fault in not providing a sufficient pressure. In speaking of the great privations to which Rothwell people had been exposed on account of having no water, he urged that a special Committee be appointed to meet a Committee of the Leeds Corporation, and at the earliest moment, secure an improvement on this serious question. He proposed the chairman, Mr. Holmes, Mr. Turner, and Mr. Newsome, as the Committee. Mr. Holmes, after objecting to the strictures Mr. W. Hargreaves had uttered as regards the Waterworks Committee, agreed that immediate action should be taken to secure a proper supply, but he felt that they should prepare themselves with statistics for supporting their complaint. It had been pointed out to him that the amount registered at the meters this quarter was 329,000 gallons increase on the March quarter last year, and the Leeds Inspector thought this proved that there must be a leakage in our district. He had found, however, that very nearly that increase was shewn by the four meters which we have in the district, so that it was evident there was no leakage, but that the pressure had fallen short. Mr. Nowell said that he had just come from a meeting of the Rural Sanitary Authority for Oulton and Woodlesford, and they had to complain of a similar want of water; commencing a fortnight ago, the meters registered 280,000 gallons in five days, while the succeeding seven days did not shew a consumption of 1000. Mr. W. Hargreaves said he had heard that a brush with which the Corporation clean out the pipes had been lost up one of the mains, and suggested the possibility that this had been pushed up one of the mains running in this direction. The chairman remarked that a much greater consumption must be going on in Hunslet just now, as the machine works were running night and day for government orders, and that this might be one reason for the present scarcity. Mr. Holmes agreed in this, saying there are ten two-inch meters out of our main before it reaches Thwaite Gate. Mr. Dobson urged prompt action in the matter, and seconded the Committee. Mr. Turner said he had contented himself with listening up to now, but he felt bound to deny the imputation of laxity which had been placed on the Waterworks Committee, and on their behalf, felt insulted at the naming of another committee. He maintained that it had been shewn by all the previous speakers that the fault lay not within our district, and that it was rather at the door of the Leeds Corporation. He had been out twice the day before at considerable risk to his own health, and had done his utmost to seek out a remedy. He was perfectly well aware, however, what was the reason, and so was every one else. Mr. Starkie the Inspector then gave the readings of pressure as registered on Jany. 26th and March 26th, besides other dates, but there was very little difference, it being 83 lbs. at the meter, 75 at Old Engine, 45 at Carr Lane, and 8 or 9 at the Jaw Bones. The Committee was then carried by the votes of the three members not included, Messrs. W. Hargreaves, Dobson and Nowell. On the motion of Mr. W. Hargreaves, seconded by Mr. Turner, it was resolved to "wire" the Town Clerk and Mr. Filleter, appointing three o'clock this afternoon for an interview with the Leeds Committee.

Mr. Nowell introduced the subject of re-opening Colley well; he was sorry, however, to find that the water had gone. Mr. Dobson said the spring was still there, that it had been cut by the Board in making the main sewer, but that it could be again found and utilised. Mr. W. Hargreaves thought that if they cut deeper they would soon be able to find it, and supply the well as before. Mr. Newsome said that Mr. Nowell and he had visited the well, with the intention of having it re-opened, but found no water in. It was finally resolved on the motion of Mr. W. Hargreaves, seconded by Mr. Nowell, that the Committee take steps to re-open Colley well.

Holloway's Ointment & Pills.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally, and the ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceedingly efficacious. When influenza is epidemic, this treatment is the easiest, safest and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of escaping from suffering when afflicted with colds, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which the health of so many is seriously and permanently injured in most countries.

THE SOUDAN CAMPAIGN.

Up to Monday, the scouts of our army in the Soudan, found the various points hitherto occupied by the Arabs quite deserted, and it was confidently asserted that Osman Digna had retired with a very small following, most of his soldiers having become disheartened and gone home.

Yesterday, however, large numbers of the enemy re-appeared, and our advance was continued, with the probability of a decisive battle to-morrow.

THE RUSSIAN REPLY TO THE ENGLISH PROPOSALS.

EXPECTED SETTLEMENT OF THE AFGHAN DISPUTE.

The Press Association says the Imperial messenger bearing the reply from M. de Giers to Lord Granville's last despatch with reference to the Russo-Afghan difficulty, arrived at Victoria Station at six o'clock last evening, and at once drove to the Russian Embassy, where he handed to M. de Staal the despatch from his Government, which it is expected will be left at the Foreign Office to-day. The Press Association adds that Lord Granville's propositions as to the basis of negotiations, have been accepted by M. de Giers, and that General Zelenoi will, after certain formalities, meet the British Commission.

From India the news is most gratifying, the relations between the Viceroy and the Ameer of Afghanistan being cordial. Many native princes are coming forward with offers of help, and individual natives are presenting money and influence, with warm expressions of hearty loyalty to the Empress of India.

GREAT STRIKE OF YORKSHIRE MINERS.

THIRTY THOUSAND MEN IDLE.

About half the colliers in South and West Yorkshire are now out on strike against a reduction of 10 per cent. The strike commenced yesterday, and the number of men out will be largely increased to-day. The members of the Coalowners' Association met at Sheffield yesterday. They unanimously agreed to insist upon the full amount of the reduction, and not to accept a compromise. Thirty thousand miners have brought out their tools, and have ceased work. Most of the coal merchants in Sheffield and the district have increased their prices.

In West Yorkshire, the colliers which brought out their tools yesterday were the whole of those on notice, viz:—Pope and Pearson's, 800; Briggs and Co.'s, 1,500; Glass Houghton, 300; Wheldale, 550; Fryston, 550; Allerton-Silkstone, —; Allerton-Bywater, —; Foxholes, 350; Waterloo Main, 280.

The strike of miners commenced yesterday in the Normanton and Castleford district, 1,100 men working at Messrs. Briggs and Co.'s, in addition to several hundred topmen, and nearly 500 boys, brought out their tools.

The employès of Messrs. Charlesworth have not received any notice of reduction, and still continue at work. It is hoped, and probable, that the present arrangements between masters and men will be prolonged, and that if any alteration takes place, it will simply follow the plan usually adopted, of accepting the prices which may be agreed on at other collieries. We sincerely trust such a course may be maintained.

ROTHWELL TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of this Society was held on Monday evening, with a moderate attendance of members. Mr. B. Clark, the president, occupied the chair, and after briefly opening the meeting, called on the secretary, Mr. T. N. Smith, to read the report. From this document it appears that the results of the bazaar held at Christmas has been sufficient to pay off the £50 debt on the band instruments; from teas, concerts, lectures and entertainments there appears to be a nett balance of some £26; payments from members amount to £16 1s. 4d.; other items on the two sides of the account do not call for special notice; the balance in hand at the close of the year (March 30th) is £4 4s. 4½d. The present number of members is 183, being 8 less than last year; 25 have withdrawn, while 17 new adherents have been placed on the books. The committee present their thanks to the choir under Mr. T. Blackburn, for their constant assistance, and also to those who have assisted in the bazaar, etc. The report was approved, and the result of the Society's operations appear from the particulars presented, to be satisfactory.

The appointment of officers was then proceeded with. Mr. B. Clark was proposed by Mr. Whitehead, for re-election as president, but that gentleman declined, having held the office for five years. Mr. Hampson was also mentioned by Mr. Clark, but he also withdrew his name. The name of Mr. Mantle was then moved and carried by a considerable majority. Mr. Smith was cordially re-appointed secretary, Mr. J. Nunns kindly promising his assistance. There was great difficulty in obtaining a treasurer, several names being mentioned, but Mr. S. Sidebottom eventually agreed to re-election. The vice-presidents are Messrs. B. Clark, C. Ineson, and T. Whitehead. The general committee, auditors, and collectors were afterwards agreed on, and the meeting concluded in an agreeable manner.

LECTURE ON WESTMINSTER ABBEY.

On Monday evening, the Rev. Henry Jefford, of Wakefield, entertained a moderate audience in the Wesleyan School-room, by delivering an illustrated lecture on "Westminster Abbey." By the assistance of Mr. Oakes, a series of views were exhibited by the lantern, which greatly heightened the interest and pleasure of the evening's entertainment. Mr. J. R. Seanor having opened the proceedings with devotional exercises, briefly introduced the lecturer in kindly words, and the rev. gentleman entered on his work. Mr. Jefford traced the first signs of a church at Westminster back to the year 164, when a legend exists pointing to such a probability. The original Westminster church was erected in the seventh century, portions of which are still in existence in the present structure, but are not usually shewn. To Edward the Confessor belongs the credit of building and decorating the first Westminster Abbey, and his magnificent chapel is one of the principal sights in it. Various kings have added to the glory and beauty of the Abbey itself, while untold gold has literally been spent in its decoration, and that of the glorious monuments and memorials which so crowd its spacious area. The Abbey was dedicated to divine worship, shortly before Edward died, and William the Conqueror headed the long unbroken line of monarchs who have been crowned within its sacred walls.

After giving a short account of the Abbey and some of the historical events connected with it, the lecturer proceeded to exhibit and briefly describe the various chapels, tombs, memorials and relics which are the admiration and wonder of people throughout the world. Various views of the 'Abbey,' of the nave and choir, of its magnificent altar, of the coronation chair, and its ancient stone (said to be the identical pillow on which Jacob laid his weary head); the chaste and delicate sculpture of poets, warriors, statesmen, and other great and noble men of all ages, closing with the Wesleyan medallion and scene lately introduced by the sainted Dean Stanley; the tombs of the kings and queens of England, and the memorial chapels; all these and more, not forgetting the crown jewels and state regalia, were exhibited on the screen and tersely described.

The entertainment wound up with a few amusing and mechanical slides, which of course put everybody into good humour. The whole affair was, as we anticipated, most interesting and useful, and the vote of thanks presented through Mr. Batty and Mr. Marshall, was very heartily carried, Mr. Jefford cordially expressing his acceptance of the pleasure manifested. The balance of the lecture goes towards the fund for carrying out the decoration of the chapel.

POETRY.

THESAUROS EN TOIS OURANOIS.

(Treasure in Heaven.)

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

The accompanying poem suggested by my recent losses, has been written and sent to me by a talented friend and brother minister. Knowing that many hearts in Rothwell are just now heavy with sorrow similar to my own, I venture to ask you to publish these lines, in the hope that they may be a comfort and help to those, who like myself have lost sight for a time of the jewels they esteemed most precious.

I am, dear Sir,
Sincerely Yours,
SIDNEY PITT.

I had three jewels of the rarest worth,
A ruby with an opal and a pearl;
This cut with facets angled to all lights;
This softly blending mild, unventurous rays;
This a sweet nest of scarce distinguished tints;
And all the gift of One, my Friend of friends.
I held them with a clear, but trembling joy:
For in this tinctured air—in my soiled hands—
In caskets such as those I knew to frame,
I feared their tarnishing; feared lest the eye
Of Him who gave them should perceive His gift
Harmed in my keeping, and His heart be pained.
He knew my care, even as He knew my joy;
For in my love of Him I told him all,
And prayed His help to guard what He had given.
He heard, and said "For love of thee and thine,
I take them to me for a little space,
In that fair land whence all their beauty comes,
Where sullied air can no more breathe nor be,
Nor tainted thing approach their loveliness."
This was not as I hoped or thought. I turned
My face away; and murmurs deep, impulsive,
Stirred in my wounded heart, and rose, and pressed
Half to my quivering lips and tear filled eyes:
How could I live to lose what I had loved,
Even as my life? He read the unspoken thought,
And, patient, laid His hand on me and said,
"Think not thy gems less thine for that I take them;
Such gifts once given, thus prized, are ne'er revoked;
Thine are they ever: I but keep them for thee:
And if I take them from thy present view,
It is that I may bear them into light
Where none but I can bring them, where their hues
Shall glow transcendent, and still glow for thee.
For love of them and me then lend them to me,
Till thou shalt come to be with me and them."
"Thou knowest best," I said; 'twas all I could.
And then He touched them, and I saw them tremble
Into His hand—saw at His touch a grace
Unknown before transfigure them—then all
My thought was 'wildered by my rushing grief:
"My treasure gone" was all I saw or knew.
But now as days pass by there is no day,
But by my side I find my Friend of friends;
As though He thought His loving deed were harsh,
And that He needs must shew me how He loves.
And day by day those words of His grow clear,
Till I take heart and say, "Mine still are mine;
Mine all the more for that they are with Thee."

ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.—The aggregate production of gold, in the United States of America, up to June, 1883, we have just been told on the authority of the Times was 78,965,572 troy ounces. When we saw this particular weight of gold given as the accumulation of all preceding years, we were at once struck with the remarkable approximation of the weight given to what had just come to our knowledge was the output of Cocoa in this Country by one firm (James Epps and Co.) for one year only, the last twelve months, it being 86,403,333 troy ounces or 2,645 avoirdupois tons, and, on the moment we could not withstand recalling to mind the old adage—"Worth its Weight in Gold."

SERVICE OF SONG.—Last Saturday evening, the Stourton Primitive Choir visited Rothwell, and gave a service of song entitled "Rhoda" or "The Gipsy Girl's Mission of Love" in the Primitive Methodist School Room. The pieces were nicely sung, under the direction of Mr. A. Webster, Mr. Castlehouse playing the harmonium. The readings were well given by Mr. J. A. Longley, who has attained some popularity as an elocutionist. There was a large and attentive audience, and the effort realised over £3. Mr. W. Hartley occupied the chair.

FURNISHER'S note!—The real worth o each article and the moderate prices charged throughout, are the causes of the great Public Confidence which has been reposed in E. MILLER for so many years."

INQUEST.—An inquest was held on Saturday, at the Anchor Inn, on the body of a man found drowned in the Canal last week. He is now indentified as Samuel Peacock, tailor, of York Road. Verdict "Found Drowned."

LOCAL BOARD ELECTION.—A meeting was held on Thursday evening to endeavour to make arrangements for avoiding a contest in this election. Mr. Swales, of Stourton, occupied the chair, and addresses were delivered by several gentlemen. The attendance was very small, and as none of the candidates felt prepared to withdraw, the annual struggle was the only solution of the question, who should occupy the three vacant seats.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

A good exhibition of the association game was shewn on the Rothwell ground on Saturday, when the holders of the Sheffield Minor Cup (Attercliffe) engaged our village club. The visitors had three men short, but found substitutes in Fielding, Hopkinson, and Speight. The two former played a good game the first part of the match, but seemed to be slightly "fagged" before the finish. The Sheffield men were remarkably fleet of foot, and played well to avert defeat, but the good combined play of the home team was too much for them. The bit of dodging exhibited by Ward at one period of the match was excellent, and would be hard to beat anywhere, and finishing up with a goal—as it did—was certainly the smartest piece of play shewn during the game. Hartley, Richardson and Seanor were occasionally "in it" to a large degree, and played with good judgement, while Harrison passed nicely. The efforts of the home team were rewarded at the finish by 2 goals to love.

So the Rothwell club have decided to adopt the Rugby game next season, it appears. Well, the best of men are addicted to being "whimmy," and such I should most certainly designate those who appear to favour Rugby. It is said there will not be the slightest difficulty in raising a team of 15 men to the Rugby game. Perhaps not for the first match or two, but let the novelty of the thing die away, and I have no hesitation in saying that that will be one of the greatest difficulties to contend with. There is to be an exhibition match of the Rugby rules next Saturday, and after that, I should fancy the ardour of some of the enthusiasts will be somewhat damped. However, I am informed that matches will (?) be arranged for the coming season with Wakefield Trinity, Halifax, Bradford, Castleford, Dewsbury, Batley, Manningham, and other clubs of note. The Challenge Cup is also spoken of with confidence by some of the enthusiasts who are far advanced.

A rumour has reached my ear that Oulton is abandoning the Association rules, and intend playing Rugby next season, but as yet I hear nothing difinite.

CAPTAIN.

ROTHWELL v. ATTERCLIFFE.

This match, which was the return between the above clubs, was played off on the Rothwell ground, on Saturday last, before a fair concourse of spectators. Rothwell won the toss, and Attercliffe (who were minus three men, and had therefore to find substitutes) kicked off defending the park goal. For a time play was very even, until the visitors' goal was assailed, but the defending backs saved. and play was again transferred to the other end. Nothing definite resulted for a while, but after some quick travelling all over the field, the sphere found its way into the visitors' goal-mouth, and was rushed through. From the kick off the Attercliffe men played up well, and had several narrow shaves of scoring, but the good back play of the home team kept their goal intact, and nothing more resulted up to half-time. After a few minutes rest, play was resumed, and went on evenly for a while, but Ward getting hold, cleverly dodged the opposing backs, and made a long shot, which was successful. The Sheffield men now redoubled their efforts to score, but were hardly good enough, and at the call of time the game stood, Rothwell 2 goals to Attercliffe nil. For Rothwell, Ward, Harrison, Hartley, and H. Richardson shewed up well, while C. Hopkinson (sub.), J. Fielding (sub.), Pashley and Jackson did good service for the visitors.

(RUGBY RULES.)

ROBIN HOOD v. ARDSLEY ST. MICHAELS.—Played at Robin Hood on Saturday last. The visitors won the toss, and Bedford kicked off on behalf of the home team, the ball rolling into touch in the visitors' '25.' From the line out which followed, the home forwards in a body took the ball over the visitors' line, and Sharpe claimed a try, the kick at goal by Bedford failing. Nothing more of importance occurred up to half time. Winterburn recommenced on behalf of the visitors, and A. Broadhead returned into touch. Scrimmages were formed in front of the visitors' posts, and James Walker picking up, rushed through the whole of the opposing forwards, and gained a try close to the posts; A. Broadhead landed an easy goal. The ball was again brought out, and by fine dribbling and following up on the part of the home team, the oval was rushed over the visitors' line, and John Walker being well up, fell on the ball and claimed a try, the kick at goal failing. Just before 'no side,' A. Broadhead got hold and ran round his opponents and claimed a try, but the point was not allowed. Winterburn secured a try for the visitors, but the kick at goal was charged down. At the call of time the home team were declared the winners of a fast game by 1 goal, 2 tries and 2 minor points, to 1 try and 1 minor point.

POLICE NEWS.

ALLEGED HIGHWAY ROBBERY BETWEEN WAKEFIELD AND LEEDS.—On Monday, at the West Riding Police Court, at Wakefield, Charles Verity, a stonemason, living at Hunslet Moor-side, near Leeds, was brought up in custody before Mr. Charles Milnes-Gaskell, and charged with highway robbery. Mr. Kemp prosecuted. On the previous night the prisoner and a Rothwell Haigh miner named Alexander Remington, were drinking at the Rosebud Inn, at Carlton, until ten o'clock. The two men, who were perfect strangers, left the public-house together and walked in company towards Rothwell Haigh. When they had arrived near Remington's house and before parting company, the prisoner asked Remington what time it was, and on the man taking out his watch the prisoner seized it, and was about to take to his heels, when Remington seized him, and a severe struggle ensued, during which the prosecutor's face was much injured. The prosecutor contrived to retain the prisoner until assistance came, and then the prisoner was handed over to Police-constable Slimmon, and the watch was found upon the prisoner. The prisoner said that he and the prosecutor had a fight, during which the latter lost his watch. Remanded until Thursday.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

THAT "the beginning of strife is as when one letteth out water" is exemplified by the flood of correspondence on the recent football dispute. The partisans of Rothwell have come down on our hon. secretary like the proverbial thousand of bricks; he must have felt overwhelmed with the attentions he received in these columns last week. It seems to be impossible for the rival teams of the two villages to meet in a spirit of friendly emulation; and as these periodical bursts of rancour and bitterness, only tend to bring the game itself into ill-repute, we are driven to the conclusion that after all it would be wisest to adopt 'Hon. Sec's.' suggestion, and avoid these contests in future. Even if the players themselves were so friendly disposed, the rabid zeal of some of the more blatant of their supporters in the field, would make it difficult to keep the peace.

.. ..

NEARLY the whole of the colony of miners resident in Woodlesford and Oulton will be affected by the lock-out which commences this week. The miseries of a prolonged resistance, on the part of miners, to the proposed 10 per cent reduction of wages can hardly be exaggerated, and the hardships will be shared to a great extent by the numerous class of small tradespeople who have to supply them with the necessaries of life. A serious responsibility rests upon those who have advised the miners to pursue the course they have taken, and who unfortunately do not share the loss and suffering which a strike entails upon the men themselves, their wives, and children. The coalowners state that they are not only justified but absolutely compelled to ask the miners to go down to the rate of wages which prevailed from 1879 to 1881, previous to the advance in 1882; an advance which has not been subsequently justified by improvement in trade or advance in prices. At all events the men and not the masters will be the chief losers by a strike in the present state of trade. It is earnestly to be hoped that this unsatisfactory dispute may be speedily terminated, and the "strained" relations between masters and men adjusted on a wise and just basis, to the permanent interests of both.

.. ..

A Ratepayers' meeting for the purpose of passing the accounts of the Highway Surveyors for the past year, and appointing their successors, was held in the Board School, Woodlesford, on Monday evening last. There was a fairly numerous attendance. There is said to be a good stock of metal for the roads on hand, and the surveyors are able to promise a welcome reduction in the rate for the ensuing year. The retiring surveyors, Messrs Thompson and Langstaff, were re-appointed, an advance in the salary of the assistant surveyor was agreed to.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We would particularly urge our friends to send in their letters and news, as early as possible, as we cannot accept contributions later than Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, except in the case of matters occurring on Wednesday or Thursday, which should be forwarded within a short period after. Advertisements may be sent as late as Friday morning.

TOWN TALK.

My contribution last week was a very short one. I was late in sending it to the Editor, and the consequence was that he found it necessary to use the "shears" pretty freely. This is the explanation of the mystery, why "Town Talk" was so scarce in the last issue.

.. ..

Of course the great event this week is the Local Board Election, and by the way a young aspirant to fame, I know, asked my opinion this week of a verse he had composed, which was intended for a beginning to a long line of verses, should my opinion be a favourable one. This is the verse:—

"An event is just approaching which comes but once a year,
Of all times we could mention this is to some very dear;
It gives them chance to ventilate their notions great and small,
And often they illify and call one another; yes! them all."

Of course I did not advise him to continue his 'poem' on this topic, but carefully observed that people about Rothwell had no taste for good 'poetry.'

But, to the election doings; what is going on? Everybody knows there are four candidates for three seats, so that one will be 'done out.' Who that is to be I shall not attempt to determine. Mr. Hargreaves is I think safe, he will have colliery votes. Mr. Lawton will be elected this time, I think, the farmers will support him, and he has many friends at Stourton. Mr. Turner and Mr. Bramley will contest the other seat, and public favour seems to lean a bit to the former being returned; we shall not have to wait very long, however, for the poll will be declared on Saturday next. Mr. Turner's address is a wonderful piece of literature, it is fearless and strong, it is correct and incorrect, it hits others and hits himself, in short it is one of the most mixed productions I ever read. The other addresses so far as I have seen them up to this time (Tuesday night) are of the ordinary sort. There has not been much excitement about the election, the question has not been relished so much as in past years, and many persons appear to be unconcerned about the outcome of it.

We have a good many different sorts of folks in and around this important town. I see from the record of the cases at the Wakefield Court House on Monday week, there was a case of neglecting vaccination, by a well-known farmer of Carlton, who in defence told the bench that he did not believe in vaccination at all. This was the case of Mr. Jno. Dobson, who thinks he has a right to please himself about these things. Of course the magistrates had to administer and not discuss the law, and made an order that the child (14 months old) should be vaccinated within 14 days, and that the costs should be paid by defendant.

.. ..

One of the most extreme water famines which has ever occurred in Rothwell, has come upon us this week. The supply has been completely cut off without a moment's warning, for an uncertain period of time. This has proved to be a most serious inconvenience to many persons, occurring as it has done, just before Easter, when a lot of extra washing and cleaning is usually done. Leake or "Jolly Waggoner" as he is often called, has been employed in eking out a scanty—ay a very scanty—supply, from a barrel, which travels, tortoise speed to and from Bell Hill; it was a truly amusing sight to see this man and his barrel, surrounded by a hundred clamouring women, each determined to have a bucket full, of the precious water. The wells have been of priceless value, but for them, we should have had to go unwashed, and thirsty; the natural supply continues good, when the artificial fails. I hope we shall not be long in this pickle, we must have water, and I hope those who are at the head of our affairs will spare no pains to secure a regular, plentiful, and constant supply.

GOSSIP.

SCHOOLMASTERS AND POLITICS.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

The match so adroitly applied by your contributor "Gossip" has evidently found congenial inflammable material in the bosom of "a disgusted one."

I was considerably surprised when I read the statement of "Gossip" on the subject in your issue of the 21st inst. Do not misunderstand me. I was not surprised at the statement itself; in fact I never yet knew the "Gossip" to whom he chooses to refer. He is a—(Dear me Sir! I had almost forgotten how delightfully harsh of personalities these gentlemen who write under "Nommes de plume" can be) Well! Well! I was only going to say: he is a very useful sort of fellow in a community like ours, but, like his deceased friend "Ajax," rather apt to let his tongue run on his courtesy.

It is at these points, Sir, I think your editorial veto ought to be exercised, and hence my surprise, the you should have allowed "Gossip" a place in your columns for an accusation, only general enough in its character to bring under suspicion eight professional Teachers, of whom, seven at least must be innocent. I know the grave Editorial "We" declines, very properly, to be held responsible for the opinions of contributors, but this, Sir, was not an opinion at all, but was deliberately stated as a fact. Do I hear "Gossip" gently murmur "If the cap fits &c, &c." Bad logic, dear "Gossip"! Very bad indeed! Here is a cap deliberately thrust "Nolens Volens" on the head of each of eight individuals, and it is obvious that up to now each has been compelled to wear it, whether it fits or not.

Of the eight schools to whose teachers I have alluded, viz:—Rothwell, (two), Rothwell Haigh, Woodlesford, Oulton, Carlton, Robin Hood, and Lofthouse, 3 are Denominational, and 5 are Board Schools. With regard to Denominational Schools there is an amount of latitude which is in many ways denied to the Board Schools, where equal right of admission is granted to the children of every shade of Religion and Politics, and every graduation of infidelity. The honourable teacher in such schools refrains from trying to impart to any of his scholars what may offend the conscience of reasonable parents, and I can assure "A Disgusted One" that out of the thousands of professional teachers in England, Board or Denominational, he would have a difficulty in finding half a dozen who would stoop to make the attempt to instil politics in any form into the young minds they have to train.

Your correspondent will see that I endorse the spirit of his remarks in the central part of his letter. On the remainder, I offer no comment, as I write simply as head master of Rothwell Board School.

If "Gossip" has any genuine foundation for his statement of the 21st inst., let him name the particular school where that wretched joke on the G.O.M. was retailed, otherwise I fear we must classify him as a modern "Mirza" and conclude that the statement was only a very poor "allegory."

I am,
Yours Faithfully,
J. A. HARMS.

LOCAL BOARD ELECTION.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

I think this the most open and straightforward way of protesting against the unwarrantable falsehoods contained in Mr. Turner's manifesto, in which he sets forth his own virtues and the glaring vices of myself and various other members of the Board, and I beg your indulgence whilst I deal with them.

First then, the Gas question.—The requisition sent to the chairman of the Local Board to call a meeting, was presented by Mr. Turner personally, and he was given the privilege of fixing the date and time. Now he seeks to throw the onus upon the Chairman, saying that he "wisely postponed the meeting until the voting papers are collected."

When Mr. Turner brought the Reserve and other questions before the Board, in his usual bearish style, he so humbugged and insulted various members that it was carried with two dissentients (Messrs Nowell and Turner) 'that we pass on to the next business.'

He complains of Mr. Tennant, the Company's solicitor, &c., &c. May I inform him and the public that Mr. Tennant is not the Company's solicitor, as they do not employ one; and further, Mr. Tennant had but one bill with them, and that was audited by Mr. Thomas Hargreaves, the Gas Company's auditor.

And now comes the slander against which I strenuously object, viz.:—the £20 which he says was 'illegally given to me by Mr. Newsome on behalf of the company,' and I beg to give the public the following facts to show whether I or Mr. Turner gave them cheap gas. In 1868, I was appointed chairman of the Gas Company, and the position of it stood thus: £5 shares were selling for £4 10s., gas was 7s. 6d. per thousand, of wretched quality, and the Board of Management so much behind the time, that I started at once to work the Company into a better position, and toiled assiduously to that end. For my services I received 10s. per year for 7 years; the next 6 years I was paid 15s. per year, and by this time I had succesfully remodelled the works, vigilantly watched the management and changed when necessary, and the last year that I served the Company, I received £18 all told, for salary. I then retired from the Directorate and left the Company's £10 shares selling at £19, the gas cheaper and better than any Company of the same size in England, as the Board of Trade Returns now show. Let us for a moment glance at a company of the same size, Normanton Gas Co. Whilst I got from 10s. to £18 a year, the chairman of that Company received £100 a year for his services, with £100 shares selling at £140, the dividend lower, and gas of much worse quality.

Well Sir, the public will perhaps think that the shareholders were justified at their half-yearly meeting in deciding to make me a present as some recognition of my services, and at that meeting Messrs. J. G. Turner and his son, John Turner, voted that £20 be expended in a present for me. Then he endeavours to make capital out of it for his re-election; he calls it illegal. May I inform this wise barrister-at-law that the Gas Company's Act provides for gratuities, so where is the illegality; and that if I received the present, he stole it. But sir, after all this squabbling against the company, of which he is a shareholder, what does it all mean? Why simply this, he hates the Company's officials because he cannot get on the Board of Directors, and wishes to make the ratepayers pay his little game of revenge; but whilst he is doing this let him take care how he tries to drag other people's reputation down to his own level. The above is a complete statement, and I hope will show this consistent boaster's inconsistency.

To pass on to the other subjects. Water for instance. I may tell the public that the Water Committee (of which Mr. John Turner is chairman) have held 2 meetings during the year, and were so dilatory and neglectful with him at the head, that I myself had to move two resolutions urging them to action, and had finally to do ten times more work in the matter than the worthy chairman himself. He got off with less attention to the Board than any other committeeman, for every committee on which he sat had to do the work without his presence, except for five minutes or so at the finish. Where would the Finances be, but for Mr. Newsome's attention; and the Building Committee but for Mr. Jas. Hargreaves and his two collegues. It is the boast of Mr. John Turner, frequently and loudly given | "What do I care for the ratepayers' money? I pay no rates and have nothing to lose." And when these things are considered there is no wonder at his neglectful way of treating the Board meetings.

As for the engine shed—he wanted to build it in Rothwell, so that it could be easily filled; and that is all the advantage. He did not consider disturbing the whole village at 6 a.m. (sick people included) by clattering up from Gillet Bridge through Rothwell streets to its work. With regard to the roads, he has no part or parcel in the Highways Committee, or the roads would have been in the same fix as the water, and so he must not take any credit for either the roads or the engine. If we had given in to his impetuousity we should have got a roller without knowing anything about its working powers, or any respect to the then overburdened rates. His talk about saving £100 and doing work for other districts is as shallow and hair-brained as the generality of his utterances.

Mr. Turner is good enough to mention the matter of knocking Mr. Holmes' band aside. Sounds a very [illegible] matter, but it is [illegible] in the same manner that I knock—or rather strike—my horse, except perhaps he struck with greater ferocity than I have ever displayed when dealing with horses.

In conclusion, I may say that Mr. John Turner rarely attends a meeting at the time advised; he is always late, and then he frequently interrupts with his infantile notions, that no business can be done; and so long has this gone on that I say he has given me the opportunity of advertising his utter worthlessness on the Board.

Apologising for taking up so much of your space,

I am,
Yours respectfully,
WILLIAM HARGREAVES.

THE FOOTBALL DISPUTE.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

In justice to the Oulton secretary and myself, will you please allow me to say that it was Chadwick, the Rothwell umpire, who appealed to me to decide the question of the foul, and it was he, too, who asked me on the field of play, to alter my decision.

Yours respectfully,
H. TAYLOR, Referee.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares, Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high coloured; depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population have this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. The disease is Dyspepsia or Indigestion, for which Seigel's Curative Syrup is a certain remedy. Seigel's Operating Pills are an effective remedy for Constipation and Biliousness. Those afflicted with Asthma will find immediate relief by using the Rosinweed Tar Mixture. Genuine has A. J. White, Lim., on the stamp. An almanac containing testimonials from persons who have received benefit from use of Seigel's Curative Syrup will be furnished free of charge, by the proprietors, A. J. White, Lim. 17, Farringdon Road, London, E.C.

CAUTION—HOMŒOPATHIC MEDICINES.—It is essential to success with these remedies that they should be prepared with scrupulous care, and preferably by one who makes it his sole business; hence it is very desirable that those using them should insist on each bottle obtained from a vendor bearing the label of a firm of repute. Those sold by the agents of JAMES EPPS and Co. (the first-established Homœopathic Chemists in England) have a label over the cork with their autograph trade mark.

Holloways Pills.—Enfeebled Existence.—This medicine embraces every attribute required in a general and domestic remedy. It overturns the foundations of decease laid by defective food and impure air. In obstructions or congestions of the liver, lungs, bowels, or any other organs, these Pills are especially serviceable and eminently successful. They should be kept in readiness in every family, being a medicine of incomparable utility for young persons, especially those of feeble constitutions. They never pain or irritate the most sensitive nerves or most tender bowels. Holloway's Pills are the best known purifiers of the blood, the most active promoters of absorption and secretion, whereby all poisonous and obnoxious matters are removed from both solids and fluids.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it soften the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

THROAT AFFECTIONS AND HOARSENESS.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by JOHN I. BROWN & SONS, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d.—For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

LOCAL BOARD ELECTION.

The final act in the election of three gentlemen to seats on the Local Board, took place at noon on Saturday, in the Boardroom, Churchfield.

Mr. Joseph Holmes sat as returning officer, and was assisted by the clerk, the collector, and Mr. J. T. Gurney as registration clerk. Mr Turner and Mr. Lawton, two of the candidates, were the only gentlemen present besides the above officials.

Previous to commencing the business of the day, Mr. Holmes expressed his wish to do justice to all. He hoped that no gentleman would take any notes shewing how individual ratepayers had voted. He had no objection to their taking the numbers given to each candidate, but he strongly objected to the name of any ratepayer being recorded. Mr. Turner expressed his willingness to do so, provided the papers were left in the office and sealed up. The returning officer said they had to be left in the office for six months for inspection, as provided by Act of Parliament, and at the end of that time, he would see that they were destroyed.

The counting then proceeded, and the final result was ascertained about five o'clock, the numbers being

Squire Bramley ...	357
William Hargreaves ...	853
William Lawton ...	532
John Turner	636

The returning officer then formally declared Mr. Hargreaves, Mr. Turner and Mr. Lawton duly elected. Mr. Turner, in the absence of Mr. Hargreaves, moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Holmes, for the agreeable manner in which he had conducted the election. Mr. Lawton had pleasure in seconding the motion, Mr. Holmes having performed his duties in an impartial and workmanlike manner. Mr Holmes suitably replied, feeling that he had only tried to do his duty. The number of papers was over 1,200, the spoilt ones counting 73, and blank 42, so that about 1,100 good papers were included in the voting.

RATEPAYERS' MEETING.

THE GAS COMPANY AND THEIR POWERS.

In accordance with a requisition to the Local Board signed by twenty ratepayers, the chairman of the Board called a public meeting in the Mechanics' Hall, Rothwell, for the purpose of "taking into consideration the question of the price of gas supplied by the Rothwell Gas Light Company, and also the state of the Reserve Fund of such said Gas Company, and that a resolution will be moved at such said meeting, as to the necessity of taking legal proceedings to enforce the proper administration of the Rothwell Gas Act, 1882."

The meeting took place as advertised, on Thursday week at seven o'clock, when the hall was nearly filled with householders who naturally felt considerable interest in the subject. Most of the members of the Local Board were present, as well as the directors and a number of shareholders of the Gas Company.

Mr. Holmes, of Stourton, having asked Mr. James Hargreaves if he was a shareholder in the Gas Company, that gentleman replied that he had not been a shareholder for three years. Mr. Holmes then moved that Mr. Hargreaves take the chair; Mr. John Turner had pleasure in seconding the motion, which was carried, without a dissentient.

Mr. Jas. Hargreaves, in taking the chair, thanked those present for the honor, and promised so far as he was able, to allow nothing to be introduced but what was included in the object of the meeting, and trusted all would assist him in giving to every speaker a fair and impartial hearing He then read the notice, as above recited, warning them that he should rule as "out of order" anyone who spoke outside this matter.

Mr. Turner, before going into the question for which the meeting was called, took exception to the terms of the printed notice, which he declared was very different to the written resolution of which he gave notice to the chairman. After some conversation on this matter, Mr. Turner proceeded to open his charges against the Gas Company, which were tabulated as follows: "That the Act had been fraudulently obtained," and "that it had been evaded in the matter of the 'Reserve Fund' 'illegal presents,' and the 'auditor.'"

The first part of the charge was ruled as being outside the scope of the requisition. The second part was then proceeded with. Mr. Turner recited the advantages gained by the Act, in securing power to lay pipes anywhere within the district comprised in the schedule, and other benefits which they had not previously. Consumers also have privileges secured in being able to petition against any failure on the part of the Company to fulfil their regulations. One of the great advantages to consumers is their ability to control the price of gas and see that it is fairly regulated, and he held that as the Local Board is the local authority, it is their place to take up the complaint of the people. Mr. Turner then explained how the price is or ought to be regulated: from the balance sheet of the previous year, the directors are able to estimate the probable requirements of the next year, and that after they deduct the amount of dividend payable to the shareholders at ten per cent. and £80 a year towards the Insurance fund, any considerable balance should be used for the reduction of the price of gas to consumers. He declared that instead of reducing the price of gas, this balance had been carried to what was called a "reserve fund" amounting to £900 during the last two years. This £900 he maintained, should have been given to consumers in a reduction of the price, and he held that that amount was illegally retained by the Co. Mr. Turner referred briefly to what he considered was an illegal present to Mr. Hargreaves, and also to the appointment of Mr. Tennant as auditor, when he was solicitor to the Co. He concluded by denouncing the action of the Local Board in "passing on to the next business," and by reading the opinion of Mr. C. M. Atkinson, on the points above mentioned, which entirely coincided with his statement of the case.

The chairman then moved the resolution, as written by Mr. Turner—

> "That this meeting of owners and ratepayers of the Rothwell Local Board District, having heard the opinion of C. M. Atkinson, Esq., Barrister-at-law, on the matter of the reserve fund of the Rothwell Gas Company, regards with amazement and displeasure the refusal of the Rothwell Local Board to take up the question of the price of gas supplied by the Rothwell Gas Company, and the state of their reserve fund, and further, that this meeting demands that the Local Board shall co-operate with Messrs. Nowell and Turner in the matter, and if necessary, take legal proceedings along with either or both of them or any consumer or consumers, to enforce the proper administration of the Rothwell Gas Act, 1882."

which was seconded by Mr. R. M. Sykes.

In reply to Mr. Lawton, Mr. Turner said he held up his hand at the shareholders' meeting, against Mr. Tennant being appointed auditor, but voted for the present to Mr. Hargreaves (though he believed the presentation to be illegal, there being no mention of the subject in the notice convening the meeting). Mr. Nowell said he spoke in order to shew both Mr. Turner and Mr. Newsome that he was not only not 'starved,' but alive and kicking. He thought their thanks were due to Mr. Turner for his trouble in this matter, and in recapitulating several previously used arguments, he maintained that whether with or without intention, the directors were wrong in forming this reserve fund.

Mr. Drew thought the Local Board should be compelled to sift the matter from top to bottom. Mr. Batty suggested that perhaps the Company repented, and would now reduce the gas. Mr. Lawton advised the meeting not to compel, but to request the Board to take up the matter; his experience went to shew that the Board would not be forced to do a thing. Mr. Holmes explained that the reason the Board decided to "pass on to the next business," was because Mr. Turner introduced the subject in the middle of other important business, and that no notice had been given that the question was coming forward.

Mr. Tennant then opened the other side of the dispute, agreeing with Mr. Turner, as to the difficulty of placing such a legal question so as to be understood by a non-professional audience. As to the first charge laid by Mr. Turner, that the Act was fraudulently obtained, he declared the statement to be a piece of impertinence, which had no right to be introduced. Taking up the complaint against the 'reserve fund,' he explained the difficulties they had to contend with, when the bill was before Parliament, and the alterations which had to be made; their intention having been to catch the electric light as well as gas, while they also hoped to work on the 'sliding scale,' as explained three years ago by Mr. Turner. They then had to look after some reserve fund for any contingencies, and in various conversations were assured by Lord Redesdale, and by Mr. Warner, his counsel, that the Gas Clauses Act of 1847 was incorporated in their Bill, and a reserve fund up to one tenth of their nominal capital was allowed (in this case £2,000). He was quite sure that the Directors only desired to do right, and were wishful for nothing more than their right. In further explaining the object of a 'reserve fund,' Mr. Tennant stated that after putting by the £2,000 referred to (£1,488 of which is already in the bank) every penny of balance in future accounts would go towards the reduction of gas. By the Act referred to, the reserve fund is raised to provide against the possibility of strikes, advance of material, or diminution in price of residuals. Taking up the question of the present made to Mr. W. Hargreaves, he thought it a very mean thing of Mr. Turner to bring such a charge after that gentleman had voted for it. Mr. Hargreaves had benefitted the Company to the extent of hundreds of pounds, and such a complaint was most mean. As regarded his position as auditor, Mr. Tennant declared that he was not the salaried solicitor to the Company, but was only a member of a firm having occasional work from the Company. As to auditing his own accounts, Mr. Turner knew very well that an auditor has nothing to do with payments of accounts. He was quite sure the directors would put anything right that was shewn to be wrong, and suggested that the opinion of a man like Mr. Michael (from whose book Mr. Turner had been reading) should be taken. In reply to Mr. Lawton, Mr. Tennant said that the Ashton case is still under appeal.

Some further questions were propounded by Mr. Oliver, Mr. Nowell, Mr. Batty and Mr. Sykes, as regarded the reserve fund, Mr. Drew concluding with the suggestion that the Board ask the opinion of Mr. Michael.

Mr. W. Hargreaves, who said he was not a shareholder of the Co, argued a deep interest in this matter, as representing Messrs. Charlesworth, and therefore claiming a larger influence on this question than all others in that room, seeing they pay half the rates, and would have to pay half the cost of any expenses the Board might incur. He fully supported Mr. Tennant's statements as regards the 'reserve fund,' and corroborated it from his own experience during the passage of the bill. He warned ratepayers against committing themselves to expense, especially while the Ashton case is still undecided, and by the result of which hundreds of Gas Companies would be affected. He advised the directors to hold their position until their action is proved illegal, and if they find themselves in the wrong to bow at once to the decision. As regarded the £20 present which Mr. Turner said is illegal, Mr. Hargreaves said he was not a man to deal in illegal things, as every man knew. Mr. Turner had voted for it himself, and had scores of times complimented him on the progress of the Company under his chairmanship. There was no other Co. in England of the same size, whose gas was so cheap. He strongly urged all to await the decision of the Ashton case, and then if against the Gas Co. he should at once go in for asking the Co. to lower the price; this was the intention of Messrs. Charlesworth who were the largest consumers.

Mr. Lawton was quite sure no one wished to speak against Mr Hargreaves being worthy of the present made to him, but the way it was done was said to be illegal. He believed it was not the intention of the meeting to go to much expense, all they wanted was that the Board be recommended to support Mr. Turner in this matter.

Mr. Turner replied on several matters, and in answering questions, informed Mr. H. Chapman, that the expense of getting an opinion from some eminent counsel would not be over £7; if it was, he would venture to pay it himself: as regards the Ashton case, he did not think it had much to do with the Rothwell case.

After Mr. W. Hargreaves had intimated his intention of claiming a right of reply, the chairman declared, that as it was now half-past ten, he adjourned the meeting till Friday next (to-night) at seven o'clock.

On the motion of Mr. Lawton, seconded by Mr. Turner, a cordial vote of thanks was carried to Mr. Jas. Hargreaves, who as chairman had a very difficult task to perform, and some delicate points of order to decide, but conducted the meeting in such a manner as to reflect great credit both to himself and on the large audience assembled.

A vote of thanks was presented to Mr. Turner, on the motion of Mr. Lawton and Mr. R. M. Sykes, thanking him for his action in bringing this matter before the public.

HUNSLET BOARD OF GUARDIANS.

The last meeting of the present Board was held on Wednesday, present—Mr. Jas. Hargreaves (chairman), Councillor Pickersgill and Mr. J. Dixon (vice-chairmen), and the whole of the remaining members, the Rev. J. H. Evans, Messrs. Graveley, Parker, J. Smith, Sheard, Greaves, Rollisson, Lawton, Grosvenor, Aaron, R. J. Smith, Jepson, Nickols, Hardcastle, and Eady, and Mr. Schofield, the clerk.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed. The relieving officers then made their reports, and the necessary action was ordered in several instances.

A letter was read from Mr. John Barran, M.P., stating that he had presented the memorial against the proposed dissolution of Hunslet Union, and it would shortly receive the attention of the Board.

It was reported that a man who had lately been an inmate of Wadsley Asylum, had been admitted to the house for a month on trial.

ESTIMATE.—The usual estimate of income and expenditure for the current half-year was laid before the Board, from which we gather the following items:—

The total estimated expenditure for the half-year ending Sept. 29th, 1885, is on common charges £6575, and separate charges £1021 18s. 9d, from this is to be deducted £730 repaid by other unions, by friends of the recipients, and from the Government, leaving a balance of £6863 18s. 9d, to be obtained by calls on the overseers of the several townships. These calls are as follows:—Hunslet £3837, Middleton, £429 11s. 9d., Oulton-with-Woodlesford £527 16s. 5d, Rothwell £1,230 3s. 8d., Templenewsam £821 7s. 2d., Thorp Stapleton £17 19s. 9d.

On the motion of Mr. Lawton, it was resolved to order a sample hundred weight of Kaye's Lavaline for use in the house.

SUNDAY CLOSING.—Mr. R. J. Smith desired to call attention to the manner in which the petition was shelved at a previous meeting. As there was no resolution on the question at that meeting, he now proposed that the petition be signed by the chairman on behalf of the Board. He thought, as Guardians of the poor, they ought to lessen the facilities for obtaining drink, one of the great causes of pauperism. Mr. Lawton cordially agreed with the motion, which Mr. Jepson seconded. On being put to the meeting, the votes were even, and it therefore remains unsigned.

Mr. Dixon secured the appointment of certain persons in each ward, where the poor might obtain their relief on presentation of the ticket, so as to prevent shopkeepers taking advantage of them.

The chairman then stated that this concluded the business of the meeting, and also of the year.

THANKS.—Mr. Graveley, as the oldest member of the Board, rose, and addressing the first and second vice-chairmen, with the other members of the Board, proposed their very best thanks to Mr James Hargreaves, their esteemed chairman, for the amicable and satisfactory manner in which he had conducted the difficult and impartial business of the Board during the year. In choice and eloquent language, Mr. Graveley enlarged on the motion, expressing his opinion that of all the gentlemen under whose presidency he had sat, none exceeded Mr. Hargreaves in efficiency and kindness. The Rev. J. H. Evans, as the latest addition to the Board, seconded the vote, remarking that some of the pleasantest hours of his official life had been spent in the Board room. He had heard that the Board-room was more like a bear garden than anything else; he only wished that many such "bear gardens" might be found in the country; the pleasant meetings they had had were largely due, he considered, to the kindness and efficiency of the chairman. Mr. Aaron, as one of those who first placed Mr. Jas. Hargreaves in the chair two years ago, cordially supported the motion. Mr. Councillor Pickersgill spoke in similar terms. Mr. Lawton wished to join in the general felicitation, although he had tried to get his friend Mr. Graveley in last year. The motion having been carried with acclamation, the chairman replied, and while greatly obliged for the many kind remarks that had been made, said he had tried to act impartially and respectfully to all. The recollection of their meetings would always be pleasant, and he only hoped that whoever might occupy the chair next year, would have as much pleasure and respect as he had received.

The chairman then moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Councillor Pickersgill, whom he had known for many years. He was only sorry that the Board was going to lose his services, but trusted he would be very useful in the Council Chamber of Leeds. Mr. Aaron very heartily seconded the motion which was carried unanimously. Mr. Pickersgill in returning thanks, expressed the regret he felt in leaving the Board, but trusted he might again be found with them at some future time.

Mr. Greaves then moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Dixon, the second vice-chairman, who has proved a regular attender and earnest worker on the Board. Mr. Lawton and Mr. Aaron supported the vote, which was also carried and replied to.

A vote of thanks was also passed to Mr. Schofield, the clerk, on the motion of the chairman, seconded by Mr. Greaves.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

The delightful weather which prevailed on Good Friday and the two following days, was succeeded, as is often the case, by a miserably cold and wet Easter Monday. Bank holiday must have been a day of disappointment to pleasure-seekers. Numbers who usually avail themselves of the railway excursions which commence at this season were deterred by the dispiriting weather and the bookings were very small. On Good Friday the usual services were held in the churches and were well attended. The weather was beautifully fine and still, and a Sunday like quietness hung over the neighbourhood, quite in keeping with the character of the day. On Sunday the services in the churches were of the usual joyous discription. At Woodlesford church the service is always of an appropriate character. This year the festival was marked by an innovation in the way of a full choral Communion service, which was very well rendered. The anthem taken was "They have taken away my Lord" Dr. Stainer. The decorations were pretty and effective, but not so elaborate as usual. There were good congregations at each of the services, and an exceptional large number of communicants.

The spring festival marks the decadence of football, and the advance of cricket. We are glad to hear that our oldest established club in this neighbourhood, the Woodlesford Cricket Club, is reviving into something like its old "form." A fairly strong eleven can be selected to do battle for the credit of the village, and amongst the list of matches, some interesting events may be anticipated. We are afraid the same cannot be said of our club at Oulton, which after going up like a rocket a few years ago, is showing signs of coming down like the stick.

There are no indications of a speedy settlement of the miners' wages dispute. The men hold firmly to the position they have taken up, and the masters are equally determined. The consequences in this district will be most deplorable, the miners have been working a long time on very low wages, and are ill prepared for a protracted struggle. Disturbances are anticipated at the workings, and precautions are being taken to prevent possible mischief.

The annual vestry meeting for the election of churchwardens, sidesmen, &c, was held at Woodlesford on Tuesday. The retiring wardens were re-appointed, Mr. R. J. Smith being nominated by the vicar, and Mr. T. Taylor re-elected by the parishioners. Messrs J. R. Purdy, J. Craven, W. Hampshire, and W. Ripley were appointed sidesmen. The churchwardens' accounts for the past year show a balance in hand of over £5.

LOCAL BOARD MEETING.

Owing to the Easter holidays, the meeting which should have been held on Monday, took place last evening, present—Mr. Jas. Hargreaves (chairman), Messrs. J. Turner, H. P. Newsome, J. Dobson, J. Nowell, and the clerk, collector and surveyor.

The clerk having read the minutes, their confirmation was agreed to.

HIGHWAYS.—Mr. Bulmer having paid to the clerk his half of Mr. Farrer's charges for valuing the roads and making his award, a cheque was granted for the full amount £20 18s. 4d., on the motion of Mr. Dobson and Mr. Nowell, Mr. Turner neutral.

Mr. Nowell called attention to certain places where the water stands on the road, and thereby injures it, and suitable steps were ordered for remedying these defects.

WATER.—A long and interesting discussion took place as regards the scarcity of water. Mr. Turner reported the result of the examination carried out by the Committee, which proved that the pipes and entire system of water works were in perfect order, and that the fault lay with the Corporation; the question was how to get it remedied. Mr. Dobson held to his former belief that there was an insufficient height of water at Woodhouse reservoir, and that if it was a yard lower there, it would prevent our reservoir being filled. Mr. Nowell inclined to the same opinion, and also blamed the small pipes at this end of Hunslet. The chairman also remarked on the interview held with Mr. Wood, the inspector from Leeds Waterworks, and it seems probable that one great reason is, that whereas there has hitherto been about ten hours in which the reservoir had opportunity of being filled, this time has been greatly reduced, owing to the enormous quantity used by the various machine shops in Hunslet, which are now working night and day. The Inspector stated that the water only began to enter the reservoir about midnight, and falls off at six o'clock in the morning, being only six hours instead of ten as it used to be. Other matters were gone into, as regards the increased quantity passing through the meters, but as this is only surmise, this part of the subject is left till the Corporation account comes before the Board.

The clerk said that two schemes for a better supply are to be brought forward to-morrow at the Leeds Waterworks Committee meeting.

WASTE OF WATER.—The Inspector reported a repeated waste of water going on at the Queen Hotel, by the landlord allowing the trough tap to run unnecessarily, and as this has been several times repeated, instructions were given for an immediate prosecution of the person in question.

Mr. Newsome gave notice that at next meeting, he should move for a report of income and expenditure on the water account.

FINANCE.—On the motion of Mr. Newsome, seconded by Mr. Dobson, several accounts were ordered to be paid. Mr. Turner took exception to one of these accounts, for ashes, which had been spread in Swithen's Street, and which he strongly disagreed with.

The collector reported having paid into the bank as follows, during the last fortnight:

General District Rate	54	6	6¼
Water Rents	9	10	7
Miscellaneous	14	5	0
	£78	2	1¼

CANAL BOATS.—The Local Government Board require a return of certain particulars in connection with the Canal Boats Act, which was ordered to be made.

SANITARY.—A meeting was arranged to consider the subject of draining Cross Street.

Mr. Newsome gave notice of his intention to move at next meeting, that the Board undertake the periodical cleansing of the gullies in the district.

A letter was ordered to be written to Mr. Mitchell, as regards the want of an ashpit, &c., on his property.

ELECTION.—Dr. Nowell gave notice that at next meeting he should move that the Local Government Board be requested to substitute the ballot for the present objectionable mode of voting.

POSTAL.—Dr. Nowell purposed also to move for an application to the postmaster of Leeds, to establish a second despatch and delivery of letters in Rothwell.

The chairman having intimated that this was the close of the meeting, and also the close of the business for the year, thanked the members present for their attention, and left the chair.

THE AFGHAN QUESTION.

OUTBREAK OF HOSTILITIES.

RUSSIAN ATTACK ON PENJDEH.

DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

RAWUL PINDI, Thursday, 3.10 p.m.—A despatch from Sir Peter Lumsden, dated Gulran, April 1st, states that the Russians have attacked the Afghans in their intrenched positions at Penjdeh, and slaughtered 200 of the garrison.

(TIMES TELEGRAM.)

GULRAN, April 3rd.—The Russians, making a pretext of a change in the position of the Afghan outposts, attacked the Afghans in Penjdeh on the 30th of March, and drove them out.

The Afghans fought stubbornly, but the day was wet and their muzzle-loaders were ineffective.

Two companies defended one position till every man was killed.

The Afghans retreated in perfect order to Meruchak, and no pursuit was made.

The Sariks remained neutral, but plundered the Afghan camp.

The Russian loss is said to have been great.

The British officers remained till the Afghans had effected their retreat, and then joined General Lumsden's camp.

A Cabinet Council was held yesterday, and it is everywhere considered that war is now inevitable, and will be declared immediately.

CHURCH BAZAAR.

A bazaar was held in the National Schools, on Monday, to raise funds for a new reredos which it is intended to place in the parish church. There was only a moderate attendance at the opening, but the number gradually increased during the day, and the ultimate total of visitors was very satisfactory.

The bazaar partook of the usual style of such efforts, and the several stalls were well supplied with useful and ornamental needlework, &c., besides a large variety of glass, porcelain, china and other knicknacks, photos, &c., &c. The oversight of these amateur shops was entrusted to Mrs. Wright Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Harms, Mrs. R. Batty, Miss Arkwright, Miss Wilson, Miss Smith, Miss Webster and Miss Fawkes, while Mrs. Fawkes was most energetic in directing and assisting throughout.

Several young ladies occupied themselves with various devices for drawing the needful, Miss Abbishaw offering the chance of hooking a fish from the pond, Miss Parker and Miss J. Harms inviting passers-by to a piece of bridecake, while Miss Hargreaves successfully played the part of fortune-teller.

The refreshment stall was replete with the good things of this life, and afforded work for Mrs. Clayton, Mrs. Abson, Mrs. Wilson, and Mrs. J. Clayton.

Banners, festoons, and other designs adorned the room, and greatly added to its lightness and attractiveness.

Shortly after two, the vicar, the Rev. F. Fawkes, addressed those present, before calling on Lieut-Col. Charlesworth to open the bazaar. He explained the object for which the effort was being made, in order to further beautify their old parish church by the introduction of a new reredos. The ladies comprising the sewing meeting had laboured hard to produce many of the articles on the stalls, while others had been presented. He was quite sure there was no need to introduce Colonel Charlesworth, as he had already been kind enough to assist them last year, and he had no doubt he would be found to be still better on further acquaintance. Politics were excluded from such a gathering or else he was strongly tempted to indulge; he had great pleasure in asking Colonel Charlesworth to open the bazaar.

Lieut-Col. Charlesworth having expressed his great pleasure in again visiting Rothwell, said he supposed it would not be the last time he would have the opportunity of addressing them. Whatever opinion there might be as regards bazaars, he was sure the present object was a good one, as the church needed all the support she could get. Referring to the cry which was now being raised for disestablishment and disendowment, he believed that if ever such a day dawned, which he hoped was far distant, that one of the greatest disasters possible would have befallen our ancient constitution. He urged all churchmen to put aside their minor differences, and join in supporting the honour of their church against all her enemies. He denounced the attempt of the present government to abolish the oath as an admission to Parliament; he must not however, touch upon politics, as he understood these were to be excluded, but he supposed he would have more than enough of politics during the next six months. He had great pleasure in declaring the bazaar open.

Entertainments of various descriptions were provided, for which certain ladies and gentlemen who have previously displayed evident genius for such performances, willingly rendered their services, and thereby contributed to the pleasure and enjoyment of the visitors. The groups of animated waxwork were splendidly got up, and reflected the greatest credit both on the promoter and the models. In this department, Dr. Purdy appeared as showman, displaying marvellous facility in extemporizing his ludicrous descriptions of the models exhibited, while Mr. W. Copley acted as 'John'. The following is the list of models;—Mr. Jewison as 'a friar'; Mr. W. Bennett as 'Christopher Columbus'; Mr. H. Bennett 'a Yankee'; Mr. J. Kilburn the 'Mahdi'; Mr. H. Richardson a 'football player'; Mr. C. Brears 'Lord Byron'; Mr W. Sheldon a 'civilized nigger'; Miss Fawkes and Fraulein Pflücker as the 'sleeping beauty and the Prince'; Miss Charlesworth as 'Red Riding Hood'; Masters Eric and R. Fawkes as 'King Cophetua and beggar maid'; Master W. Fawkes as 'Casabianca'. Short theatrical performances by Dr. Purdy and Mr. R. Smith were also given during the day, and were carefully and tastefully presented.

The business of the day was soon in full swing, and as many of the gentry honoured the bazaar with their presence, a considerable amount of money changed hands, and the nett result shews an addition of £60 11s. to the funds.

Mr. W. Richardson, of this town, has kindly prepared and presented the design for the reredos, which may be seen at the church.

ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.—The aggregate production of gold, in the United States of America, up to June, 1883, we have just been told on the authority of the Times was 78,965,572 troy ounces. When we saw this particular weight of gold given as the accumulation of all preceding years, we were at once struck with the remarkable approximation of the weight given to what had just come to our knowledge was the output of Cocoa in this Country by one firm (James Epps and Co.) for one year only, the last twelve months, it being 86,403,333 troy ounces or 2,645 avoirdupois tons, and, on the moment we could not withstand recalling to mind the old adage.—"Worth its Weight in Gold."

BORAX PREPARATIONS are manufactured by the PATENT BORAX COMPANY, under Royal Patents, which the Queen has awarded in recognition of their 'GREAT EXCELLENCE,' 'PUBLIC IMPORTANCE,' and 'UTILITY.'

Holloway's Ointment & Pills.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally, and the ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceedingly efficacious. When influenza is epidemic, this treatment is the easiest, safest and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of escaping from suffering when afflicted with colds, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which the health of so many is seriously and permanently injured in most countries.

THE Golden Cup Cocoa House, 157, Briggate.—The new premises are now complete, and the accommodation greatly improved.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

FESTIVE GATHERING AT MESSRS. SEANOR'S.—On Thursday evening, the 2nd inst, Messrs. Seanor and Sons, match manufacturers, entertained their employés, to the number of over 200, by providing an excellent tea and entertainment in some new premises lately added to their already extensive works. The tea meeting was held in connection with the opening of these new rooms, and also to celebrate the majority of Mr Fred J. Seanor, Mr. J. R. Seanor's youngest son. Besides the members of the firm, (Mr. Jabez R. Seanor and Mr. S. Seanor) there were present most of the members of the families connected with them; Mr. John R. Seanor and Mr. Fred Seanor (sons of Mr. J. R. Seanor) were also present, representing the Liverpool establishment, which is conducted by them; and also Mr. Arthur W. Seanor, who assists in the direction of the Rothwell works. After having partaken of the good things provided by their employers, the workpeople assembled for a short meeting, which was addressed in suitable language by the two members of the firm, responded to by Mr A. Cripps and Mr. John Sheldon, on behalf of the employés; all the addresses partaking of the kindly good feeling towards each other which is so valuable an adjunct to successful work. Three hearty cheers were given for Mr. Fred, and the vote of thanks presented to the masters by the workpeople, was responded to by Mr. Arthur W. Seanor, the second son of the elder member of the firm. The remainder of the evening was spent in games and recreative amusements, the festive meeting closing about half-past ten o'clock.

OULTON CHURCH.—Another stained glass window has been placed on the north side of this church, containing three subjects from the Old Testament—the meeting of Rebekah and Isaac's servant; Rebekah alighting from the camel; and Jacob's dream, in medallions surrounded by rich scroll ornament on a ruby ground within a rich border. At the bottom of the window is a memorial inscription—"Charles Stuart Calverley, born Dec. 22nd, 1831, died Feb. 17th, 1884." The work was executed by the eminent firm of Ward and Hughes, of Frith Street, Soho, London, who have previously filled so many of the windows in the church, and are commissioned to fill the remaining ten windows, through the liberality of the Calverley family of Oulton Hall.

STOURTON WESLEYAN SUNDAY SCHOOL-ROOM.—A sacred concert was given in the above school, on Easter-Monday. Before the concert, a tea was provided, to which some 200 persons sat down. At 7 o'clock, Mr. Swales introduced the chairman, Mr. Jas. Hargreaves, who in a few words addressed the meeting. The concert opened with an harmonium solo "I know that my Redeemer liveth" by Mr. F. Fatkin, the choir following with the anthem "Blessed is the people." Miss A. Ellis next sang "Gentle words," after which a quartette "At anchor laid" was given by Master J. Fatkin, and Messrs. T. Genner, Wormald, and G. W. Smith. A solo "Honour and Arms" from Handel was given in fine style by Mr. A. Smith, as also was "Lead Thou me on" by Mr. Thos. Kale. Miss Ward gave "Let the Angels in," and "Their sound is gone out" by the choir concluded the first part. After the interval, Messrs. Richardson, A. Smith, A. C. Smith, and G. W. Smith, gave a string quartette, composed by Mr. A. C. Smith, and in response to an encore, another piece was given. "Ye shall dwell in the land" was next given by the choir, Mr. A. Smith and Miss E. Smith singing the solos. Mr. T. Genner rendered "Arm, arm, ye brave" and Miss E. Smith sang "Angels ever bright and fair" with good expression, and Miss C Booth also gave a solo very nicely. The concert finished with "Praise ye the Lord" by the choir. Mr. Thos. Genner conducted, and Mr. F. Fatkin undertook the work of accompanying. The proceeds are in aid of the Sunday School funds.

STOURTON ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH ANNUAL TEA AND CONCERT.—The above tea and concert was held in the Board school on Tuesday evening last. The tea was well attended and all seemed greatly pleased with the good things provided. After tea, Mr. Miller proceeded to open the concert by calling upon the choir to sing "See our oars with feathered spray," and then with a few remarks presented the offertories of Easter-Sunday to the curate, the Rev. V. Lichfield, and also two books to Mr. Williams, who he said had worked very hard with Mr. Lichfield, and therefore deserved a little presentation in acknowledgement of his services. Mr. Whitworth was deservedly encored for giving the "British Lion," and in response sang "Paddle your own canoe." Mr. Miller recited "The burial march of Dundee," which was well received. Mr. Gyton, Mr. Williams, Mr. Percy Lichfield, and Mr. Exley each contributed a song, which were greatly relished. Miss Wynnie Gyton sang "The lost song" and was encored. Mr. Kirby also gave "Silly Billy," the audience demanding an encore. Mr. Williams then gave "Not much" and Mr. Whitworth "My old wife," followed by Mr Gyton's 'Bashful young gentleman', and other songs by Mr Exley and Mr P Lichfield; and the choir contributed three glees; and the programme was concluded in the usual style. The proceeds are to be given to the church funds.

ROTHWELL WESLEYAN SUNDAY SCHOOL.—The annual tea and meeting in connection with the above school, was held on Easter Monday. The attendance was moderately good at the tea, there being no doubt some persons who were detained at home on account of the rain; there was, however, a nice audience at the meeting, which commenced as soon as the tea-tables could be cleared, and the seats arranged. The Rev. Sidney Pitt occupied the chair, and said a few suitable words at the opening, followed by the annual report, which was read by Mr. J. T. Gurney, shewing the school to be in a satisfactory and flourishing condition; the Wesleyan Musical Society rendered valuable assistance, giving two anthems "Praise the Lord" and "Jubilate," and two hymns "Stand still, O child of God" and "Nearing the opposite shore." Readings were given by Mr. A. Young, "Young Philips" and Mr. J. T. Gurney "Lady Wentworth," and recitations by Mr. Gurney "The pursuit of Pleasure" and by Mr. G. H. Armitage "Curfew must not ring to night." Speeches were delivered by the Superintendents, Messrs J. R. Seanor and J. Goodall, and by Mr. Butterick, one of the teachers. The meeting was brought to a close a little after half-past eight by singing "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

WESLEYAN SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION, WAKEFIELD CIRCUIT.—The annual conference of Sunday School teachers and friends, was held this year in the Wesleyan Chapel, Lofthouse, on Good Friday. The weather was favourable to the undertaking, and a good number of Sunday school workers from the various schools in the circuit, were gathered together. In the afternoon, at half-past two, the conference was held, presided over by Rev. T. Rathmell, who opened the meeting with singing and devotional exercises, and introduced Mr. Milnes of Wakefield, asking him to read an essay, which he had prepared for the conference, entitled "Questioning the Sunday Class." The essay, which was read in a clear and pleasant style, was full of valuable hints to those who have the care and training of the young folks in the sabbath schools; it was pointed and real, and contained some very correct versions of the style of questioning used by some teachers, and also the course of questioning which he would advocate on the same topics, shewing how to put the questions so that it would secure the lively interest of the scholars, and thereby cause them to keep in mind what they had been taught, and what was the true meaning of the lesson. A short discussion followed in which Messrs Alcock, J. R. Seanor, Wilson and others took part. A substantial tea was provided in the school-room, adjoining the chapel, at a reasonable charge, after which the public meeting was held in the chapel, when there were interesting speeches by Messrs J. Goodall, Wilson, Nurse, Stephenson, Alcock, and Parker, and also the Secretary's report on the work of the year. The meeting was well attended and generally interesting.

ROTHWELL FEAST.—The annual "Feast" which has been held so many years, was celebrated on Easter Monday. The weather was much against its success, and there were not so many attractions as are usually to be found. Many there were however, young and old, who were determined to be "in it," and in spite of the wet and dirt there was a considerable number congregated, extending through the lower end of Commercial Street, to which part of the town the feast is confined.

ROTHWELL TEMPERANCE HALL.—On Monday afternoon, a procession was formed at the above hall, consisting of the Brass Band, and several men fantastically attired, mounted on ponies and donkeys. They paraded the town, and when about half way round, a regular downpour of rain and hail commenced. This necessitated a hasty retreat to the Temperance Hall, and by the time the procession arrived, most of the members of it were wet through. This did not prevent them sitting down to tea at 5.30, in the Hall, however, and a large number did full justice to the good things provided. In the evening, an entertainment was given by some amateur members and friends of the Society. This passed off in good style, everyone being well pleased with the songs, instrumental pieces, etc, which were included in the performance.

ROTHWELL OLD BAND.—This band kindly gave a grand open-air concert, near the Cross, on Saturday evening last; the programme consisted of selections from the various compositions of the celebrated "Handel" and was the same as was given, in the Mechanics' Hall, on the Handel celebration day, some weeks ago. The music was well rendered and certainly deserved a much larger audience, but the weather was exceptionally cold, and not many would venture to stand out. There was, nevertheless, a pretty fair company assembled, to listen to the sublime strains of the great master, and many were coming and going during the whole performance. The band are to be greatly praised for their kindness in providing such an entertainment, and at the same time raising the musical taste of the public at large.

ROTHWELL PRIMITIVES.—A tea and meeting was held in the Rothwell Primitive Sunday School on Easter Monday. The tea was well attended and at the meeting, addresses were delivered by the two superintendents, Messrs Batty and Steel, and also by several teachers, Mrs. W. Hartley and Miss Ely, and Messrs W. Hartley, W. Naylor, G. Brown, R. Ellis, and others. Mr. W. Fretwell occupied the chair, and a pleasant evening was passed.

"THE appearance upon entering (Providence House, 42, North Street, Leeds), gave us an idea of a fairyland of Furniture and Crystal palace of mirrors."

FOOTBALL NOTES.

An exhibition of the rugby game was gone through on the Rothwell Football Ground, on Saturday last, between Rothwell and Carlton, and ended (as every one might have expected) in a win for the visitors by 2 tries and 7 minor points to nil. The Rothwell forwards did not pack well at all, and in the 'lines out' they were nicely beaten, although at the same time it is only fair to state that they were neither as heavy or so tall as their opponents. On one occasion they had a fine chance of scoring, but one of the team attempted to pick up instead of making a dribble, and the chance was thus lost. The halfs operated fairly well, but did not pass with any good judgment, while the backs lost lots of ground by kicking straight instead of into touch. The visitors did not play in their usual style either, their supporters being very much disappointed with their form, and expected a larger score than the one obtained. Perhaps the best of them was the captain (Newton), who, on some occasions handed off splendidly. However, we may hope for something different to-morrow, when the teams meet for the return match at Carlton, as I am told that Rothwell has strengthened its team considerably.

On Easter-Tuesday, the well-known club, Stourton St. Andrews, which has made such a good impression during the past season, visited Rothwell to play a friendly game with that club. Rothwell had not her best team in the field, and Stourton suffered even worse in this respect, having only five or six of their usual team present. The day was miserably cold and the ground was also in a very slippery condition, making running very heavy and kicking somewhat difficult. During the first half each side obtained two goals, but after the interval the home team scored rather fast, adding 6 more goals to their score, thus winning by 8 goals to two. The Rothwell forwards played moderately well, and the backs performed as well as could be expected considering the state of the ground. For the visitors, W. Goldthorpe worked hard all through the game, and the captain did nicely at times, the run of his in the first half being a real beauty.

CAPTAIN.

ROTHWELL v. STOURTON.

(ASSOCIATION RULES)

A match was arranged between these clubs for Easter-Tuesday, and was played at Rothwell. The match was not a fixture, but was arranged as a friendly game on the popular holiday. It will be remembered that of the two ordinary club fixtures, the St. Andrew's team were successful on both occasions winning two splendidly contested games by 1 goal to nil. The ground was in a very bad condition owing to the wet, and good play was almost entirely out of the question. Stourton won the toss, and Rothwell kicked off against a strong wind blowing from end to end. Play of a give and take nature ensued for a while, until a run by Ward put the ball in dangerous proximity to the visitors' goal. The backs saved, however, but the Rothwell forwards, not to be denied put the ball through the posts. Another goal was registered by the home team before half-time, and one which was not allowed owing to alleged off-side play. Stourton put two through, (one by J. Goldthorpe, after a good run up the top side) and at half-time, the game stood two goals each. The second half was a bombardment of the visitors' goal, and Rothwell aided by the wind, managed to score six more goals. Two of the goals scored by Rothwell were kicked by the Stourton backs, and will be accounted for by the slippery nature of the ground. Stourton was fairly pinned during the last quarter of an hour, and more goals might possibly have been registered had the ground been in better condition. The Stourton team was far from being a representative one, and of course the work entailed on the good players was too much for them. At the finish Rothwell were declared victors by 8 goals to 2.

TEAMS:—ROTHWELL.—Goal, J. W. Wright; backs, W. Hartley (capt), R. H. Lewis; half-backs, A. W. Seanor, A. Thurwell, E. Copley; forwards, H. Greenwood, I. Blackburn, A. Ward, J. Harrison, W. Richardson. STOURTON.—Goal, T. Warwick; backs, F. Fatkin, W. Goldthorpe; half-backs, J. Waterhouse, W. Ellison, P. Day; forwards, F. Waterhouse, B. Ross, A. Pape, Johnson, J. Goldthorpe (capt).

ROTHWELL v. CARLTON. (Rugby Rules.)

This match was played at Rothwell on Saturday, before a fair sprinkling of spectators, and afforded them great amusement. The Carlton captain won the toss, and Rothwell kicked off against a slight breeze. The oval travelled from one part of the field to another, and scrimmages were the order of the day. Ward was soon compelled to save by touching down a try was ultimately secured by Carlton nearly in front of the posts, but the place kick failed. A free catch by Carlton soon after was of no good, and up to the call of half-time the game consisted mostly of 'lines out' and scrimmages. From the kick-off Rothwell seemed to play up better, but were again pressed, and another try was registered to Carlton: the place kick fell short, and soon after a fine rush on the part of the Rothwell forwards carried the ball a good distance up the field. They were stopped, however, before they became dangerous, and after more scrimmaging, etc, the game concluded in a win for Carlton by 2 tries and 7 minor points to nil.

TOWN TALK.

THE very dullest of my readers could not fail to see what was the object Mr. Harms had in view, when he penned his letter last week. It was simply to clear himself of all suspicion, in connection with that pun (?) on the Grand Old Man. Mr. Harms was not the man. In his last paragraph, he says "If 'Gossip' has any genuine foundation for his statement of the 21st inst., let him name that particular school where that wretched joke on the 'G.O.M.' was retailed; otherwise I fear we must classify him as a modern 'Mirza.'" Well, I think Mr. Harms has been slightly visionary, when he gave that advice for my benefit. I shall not name the school, though if it was necessary I might do; it was not my object to expose an individual, but to give those two incidents, as specimens of what was going on in Conservative circles, and I am still prepared to hold to my statement, for I have undoubted proof that it is a correct one. Therefore Mr. Harms, or any other man, may classify me as a 'modern Mirza' or any other thing: it matters not, I shall still continue to put my veto upon all such flagrant outrages on public feeling, and abuses of confidence, as it has been my pleasurable duty to do in this instance.

THE meeting last Thursday on the Gas question was a warm one. Mr. Turner had his speech well cooked beforehand, I should think, and the audience liked the flavour. On the other hand, the Gas Co.'s directors, who were present in an imposing group, had to collect the ideas and cook them on the spot, offering them to the audience through Mr. Tennant, but the dish was not tasty enough, and they could not force it down. The meeting to-night (Friday) will possibly bring matters to a definite conclusion.

.. ..

THE letter last week by Mr. Wm. Hargreaves was a hot one, evidently written in a rage, and intended to hit hard; but I'm afraid it missed its mark. Mr. Turner is not soon put out, and he does not seem to feel it much.

.. ..

Is it a fact—after what Mr. Fawkes has recently told us in his sermons, about thinking of the great event which occurred on the first Good Friday, and observing the greatest and most solemn religious festival in the year—that the decorations for the Church Bazaar were carried on, on Good Friday? And is it also true that the painting of the Rothwell Wesleyan Chapel was being prosecuted with all speed on that holy day? Mark what I say: I ask, 'Are these things true?' I have heard they are.

THE Local Board election this year has passed by with but little excitement. The members elected are Messrs. Hargreaves, Turner and Lawton. The two latter are well up in the number of votes polled, especially Mr. Turner, who is only 200 short of Mr. Hargreaves' number. The Board will therefore be only altered by Mr. Lawton filling the vacancy made by Mr. Charlesworth's removal. It is to be hoped that these gentlemen will give their earnest attention to the various questions affecting the ratepayers, giving us all the benefits they can at as little cost as possible.

GOSSIP.

MR. TURNER AND THE GAS. CO.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir;

The agitation which Mr. Turner has raised on the question of the Gas Co.'s action in creating a Reserve Fund, is one of much interest and great importance to every consumer of gas connected with the Company's mains, and I am convinced that Mr. Turner has a lot of truth and right on his side; the Company appear to my mind to be doing wrong, and if Mr. Turner succeeds in compelling it to do right, he will deserve the cordial thanks of all those who are interested.

There is, however, one view of the affair which seems to have been completely overlooked. Mr. Turner, I understand, wishes to have the prosecution done by the Rothwell Local Board, and of course paid for out of the General District Rate. Well, that sounds very well indeed, but I must remind Mr. Turner and the other members of the Board that there is a very large population in the Local Board's district which is not connected with the company or its gas in any way whatever, and to sum up the whole of my argument in a single sentence; the proposal of Mr. John Turner resolves itself into this, that the numerous and heavily assessed ratepayers of Stourton (who cannot possibly derive any benefit from it) shall find the money with which to conduct a risky and (at the lowest) expensive prosecution, which has for its aim, not any interest of their own, but the reduction in the price of gas, to those who live in quite another direction, viz.:—Lofthouse, Carlton, &c.; these people pay us no rates and are in no way connected with us, yet they will get all the benefit.

The fair thing to do (and I hope Mr. Turner wants nothing unfair) is for the consumers of Rothwell gas to fight their own battles, and if they are desirous of securing what they look upon as their right and an advantage, let them, and them alone pay for it. As a Ratepayer to the Rothwell Local Board and not a consumer of Rothwell gas, I most strongly protest against the course of action advocated by Mr. Turner.

Yours respectfully,
JUSTITIA.

THE ROTHWELL GAS COMPANY'S RESERVE FUND.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times

Dear Mr. Editor.

Very likely many will attend the adjourned meeting to-morrow (Friday night) who were not present on the 2nd inst. It may assist these to know that the 'paid up' capital of the Company is eight thousand pounds in eight hundred shares of £10 each. By the 28th section of the Rothwell Gas Act, the amount of profits to be taken by the shareholders is limited to ten per cent per annum, or one pound on every share yearly. Section 3? provides that if the profits exceed the amount required to pay this ten per cent profit, the excess—to the extent of one per cent on the paid up capital, that is eighty pounds yearly—may be invested and allowed to increase at compound interest until it reaches one-twentieth of the paid up capital, that is £400; and that this shall be the Insurance Fund to meet any extraordinary claim such as accidents or strikes might cause. The 37th section says 'If the clear profits in any year are more than sufficient to pay the ten per cent dividend and the one per cent for insurance, the excess shall be carried to the credit of the divisible profits for the next year. The 38th section enacts that any reserve or other fund of the company existing at the commencement of this Act—that is the £521 5s. 0d. the Company had when they became incorporated—may be invested and allowed to accumulate at compound interest, and this shall be called 'the reserve fund,' and shall be applicable to pay the dividend in any year when the profits are not sufficient to do this,' and (that is in this Act otherwise provided (that is in section 36, the ten per cent for insurance) be carried by the Company to any reserve fund.

9th April, 1885.

JAMES NOWELL.

THE LOCAL BOARD AND THE GAS COMPANY.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

After what has been said on both sides of the case about the Reserve Fund of the Gas Company, it is clearly the duty of our Local Board to get the opinion of the authority, named at last Thursday's meeting by Mr. Tennant, who Mr. Turner would accept. I have no doubt on the subject, as it is evident that Mr. Atkinson, of Leeds, and Mr. J. Turner quite think that the Gas Company are wrong, while Mr. Tennant and a legal gentleman in London think that the Gas Company are right. Now if our Local Board ascertain in this way that the Company are right, they will of course carry out their present plan, if on the other hand they ascertain that they are wrong, the Board will at once acquaint them of their error, and the matter will be put on the right footing, but to expect Mr. J. Turner to do this on behalf of the people is not fair; it is saddling the wrong horse, although our Local Board are the proper people to do it. The meeting of course thanked Mr. Turner for having drawn the attention of the consumers and the Board to the matter. He has done his part, it rests with them now to do theirs. I intended replying to Mr. W. Hargreaves' letter which appeared in your last issue, advertising Mr. J. Turner's worthlessness on the Board. However, as that is so fully and flatly contradicted by the Election, I will not say more about it, than that I am sorry that his opinion is so much at variance with that of other people.

I remain,
Yours respectfully
SPECTATOR.

THE FOOTBALL DISPUTE.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

With your permission I will just have a few more words in reference to the late dispute in reply to Mr. H. Taylor, the referee. Seemingly, to judge from the letter of the Rothwell umpire, and the writer of last week's contribution, one must be most emphatically wrong, and as one is as much to be believed as the other, we will draw the curtain as to which it may be.

The letter itself is nothing more or less than an acknowledgment of the wrong step the referee took because if the Rothwell umpire went to him for a decision without being accompanied by the Oulton umpire, he had no right whatever to give it, for this reason, if only the Rothwell umpire appealed to him, how could he (the referee) be acting as arbiter between the umpires.

He shows very plainly by his letter that he did not understand his position, and if he had paid as many visits to our club room as he has done to Oulton since the match and before he wrote his letter, he would no doubt have written a somewhat different epistle, or allowed us to have a hand in its dictation.

Yours, &c.,
JOS. HARRISON, Junr.,
Hon. Sec. R. F. C.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high coloured; depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population have this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. The disease is Dyspepsia or Indigestion, for which Seigel's Curative Syrup is a certain remedy. Seigel's Operating Pills are an effective remedy for Constipation and Biliousness. Those afflicted with Asthma will find immediate relief by using the Rosinweed Tar Mixture. Genuine has A. J. White, Lim., on the stamp. An almanac containing testimonials from persons who have received benefit from use of Seigel's Curative Syrup will be furnished free of charge, by the proprietors, A. J. White, Lim. 17, Farringdon Road, London, E.C.

FLORILINE!—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d. —For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

DEAR FRED,

You will be surprised at receiving a letter from me, but thank God, I am pleased to say am getting better every day. I shall be so glad to breathe the fresh air again. It has seemed a dreadful long time to be in bed. You know I was taken to the Hospital last April to be treated for Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Well, on the 31st of July they tapped me, and took away 304 ounces of water. The same thing was done again on the 18th September, and [illegible] ounces of water obtained. On the 9th October I was discharged from the Hospital as incurable. In January this year (the 20th), was again tapped at home and 380 ounces of water taken away. The St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London refused me admission as a hopeless case, and the Bartholomew Hospital, Chatham, also refused me, as being the worst case they had seen for years, and two local doctors gave me up as hopeless. When I came from the Hospital it took three to put me to bed. My clothes had to be cut off. I was an object of misery and despair. After the Hospitals had refused me, and doctors given me up, my wife persuaded me to try Hop Bitters, and from the commencement have improved daily. I have only taken them seven weeks and can now get downstairs and walk about without even a stick. With the aid of a few more bottles of the Bitters shall be well again. The water has entirely left my body and legs. The only trace left is in my feet. It is a wonderful medicine. I wish I had tried it sooner, as I have nearly ruined myself and family with doctors' bills and other expenses. I might have been well long ago. At the Hospital I had no appetite whatever, but since using the Bitters eat everything with a relish. The only difficulty is the expense, but must not mind that so long as I am getting well. Am cheerful now that recovery is near, for every one had given me up as a bad job. With best wishes to . . .

I remain,
Your affectionate Brother,

I DO HEREBY GIVE NOTICE that at an adjourned meeting of the Ratepayers and Owners of the above-named District held on Friday, the 10th day of April, 1885 (the said meeting being adjourned from a meeting, called upon requisition, and held on Thursday, the 2nd day of April, 1885), the following resolution was put to and adopted by such said adjourned meeting, namely:—

"That this meeting of Owners and Ratepayers of the Rothwell Local Board District having heard the opinion of C. M. Atkinson, Esq., Barrister-at-Law, on the matter of the reserve fund of the Rothwell Gas Company, regards with amazement and displeasure the refusal of the Rothwell Local Board to take up the question of the price of gas supplied by the Rothwell Gas Company and the state of their reserve fund, and further that this meeting demands that the Rothwell Local Board shall co-operate with Messrs. Nowell and Turner in the matter, and if necessary take legal proceedings along with either or both of them, or any other consumer or consumers, to enforce the proper administration of the Rothwell Gas Act, 1882."

PEACE OR WAR.

For some days past the public mind has been occupied almost entirely with anxious consideration of Russia's action on the Afghan borderland. The interest of the operations of the Soudan expedition has dwarfed into insignificance, and a desire to withdraw the bulk of the British forces therein engaged has been pretty generally manifested, in order that the troops might be held in readiness to accentuate any decisive movement to compel Russia to respect the rightful limit of her territory which may be deemed necessary by her Majesty's Government. Naturally the battle near Penj-deh created a great sensation, though, had hostilities really been altogether avoided, there would have been far greater reason for surprise. Diplomatically, of course, we had a right to expect a peaceful attitude on Russia's part, and a calm consideration of all the points of difference as to the fixture of the frontier. Here, however, theory and practice stood wide apart, for the actual situation was dangerous in the extreme. Afghanistan, a mountainous belt between the vast territory of the Czar and our own Indian empire, is a tract of land which British interest imperatively demands shall be held neutral, if not friendly, to this country and to India. Any encroachment upon its bounds is an offence against Great Britain second only in magnitude to an actual invasion of the Queen's dominion. Russia, rightly or wrongly, disputes some of the roughly recognised and yet indistinctly defined points at which her own sovereignty ceases and the rule of the Ameer of Afghanistan begins. Pending the conclusion of measures to settle the question at issue, the Russian Government marched a military expedition to the "Debatable Land." Naturally enough, Afghanistan put out its own force to guard the outer edge of its wild possessions. Small wonder if two warlike forces standing thus face to face in antagonism should proceed to blows. The menacing position of Russia, indeed, was such as might reasonably be accepted as excuse for the Ameer's army, without further provocation, rushing out to repel what at least has the appearance of a threatened invasion. But if either force, with or without full authority, engaged in any actual breach of the peace, it does not seem possible to human nature that a fierce battle could have been avoided. Such was the danger of the position that it was well said that any one out of a hundred accidents might at any moment provoke war. Clearly, for taking up the position of menace, Russia was responsible for any hostility which ensued therefrom. This England saw and represented to the Court of St. Petersburgh, and an arrangement was entered into whereby Russia undertook to abstain from military advance, and await the result of the endeavours to fix the disputed limits. But the arrangement has proved futile, and a battle has resulted Of course, it is claimed by the Russian Government that the engagement occurred without official assent; but Russia is to blame, whether its General blundered or acted under instructions, for the wrongful acts of her forces. To speak plainly, Komaroff's army had no right to be within irritating distance of the Ameer's territory at the same time that the Czar was professing to seek a peaceful settlement of his claims; and whether or not Afghanistan struck the first blow, Russia by her action is justly regarded as the aggressor in the rupture that has resulted. For this Russia must answer to England, as pledged supporter of the Ameer, as possessor of India, and as a party to the arrangement which held the forces of the Czar to abstinence from hostility. Whether England was unwise in not at first requiring the withdrawal of the Russian troops is now of no consequence. They must forthwith be withdrawn, and proper reparation must be made for the mischief accomplished, before the delimitation proceedings can make further progression. Her Majesty's Government owes it to the Ameer, to India, and to the English nation to insist upon this much. The issue is one of immense importance, for upon it depends peace or war. And if war were engaged in on a scale of sufficient magnitude to decide the question—supposing Russia refuse to submit to taking the proper course—it would be a campaign of terrible extent. The conflict would cost this country untold gold and thousands of precious lives; while to Russia it would bring both bankruptcy and ruin. This even if the catastrophe ended with hostility between the two great powers immediately interested, which, we fear, could scarcely be expected. After all, the inevitable result could not well be otherwise than the enforcement of Russia to respect the rights of her neighbours, and to pay for her aggressiveness on terms imposed by the aggrieved parties. A vigorous campaign, in which all England's resources were brought to bear, would secure this end, but we may well pause to view the importance of entering upon such a war, and earnestly hope that firmness on the part of our own statesmen, and a proper appreciation of Russia of what the consequence would be to her, will bring about a settlement of the crisis without resource to arms. Russia cannot gracefully extricate herself from the position into which she has entered, but she can avert the disaster that otherwise awaits her by a tardy confession of wrong and honest atonement. A very short time will show us which it shall be, peace or war, and Russia must decide. The past history of Russian diplomacy is not of a nature to make England wait with complacency many days for Russia's reply to the policy which this country must adopt. Plain speaking and decisive action are what England calls for from the Government in this momentous emergency; and having regard to the magnitude of the issue, party is lost sight of, and all are for the State. The whole nation, while looking to her Majesty's Ministers to wisely and worthily uphold Great Britain's position, will rally to their support. Meanwhile the end of the crisis is painfully awaited; and we trust that the worst may not be realised, but a settled calm follow after the threatened storm in the polical sky.

TO-DAY'S LONDON PAPERS.

ENGLAND AND RUSSIA.

The Post says—The replies given by the Prime Minister and the Foreign Secretery to questions put last evening in both Houses of Parliament respecting the position of affairs on the Afghan frontier must be regarded as eminently unsatisfactory. No explanation whatever has been vouchsafed respecting the circumstances which have led to daily meetings of the Cabinet, and yet it is not unreasonable to conclude that matters of very grave import in connection with the present difficulty with Russia must have necessitated these frequent consultations of Her Majesty's Ministers. In fact, so far as we have any means of judging, the advisers of the Crown know neither more nor less than is conveyed by the daily press. It is certainly very remarkable that neither Mr. Gladstone nor Earl Granville can be induced to reply to the plain question—aye or no—whether telegraphic communication exists between St. Petersburg and Merv. Surely, considering that daily interviews take place between Earl Granville and M. de Staal, this question should admit of an early reply.

THE SOUDAN CAMPAIGN.

(MORNING POST TELEGRAM.)

SUAKIN, Thursday Evening.—It is to be hoped that the Government will promptly act upon the urgent representations of all those now in authority here, and will authorise the General to give an official guarantee of a stable Government in the Soudan. Such a guarantee would secure the instant and final submission of all the chief tribes here, who are now driven, for the sake of self-protection, to befriend the cause of Osman Digna. They are naturally afraid to oppose the Hadendowas, who would fall upon them as soon as the English forces were withdrawn.

The head-quarters have been informed that Lord Wolseley is not coming to Suakin, as had been expected.

RATEPAYERS' MEETING.

THE BOARD AND THE GAS COMPANY.

The adjourned meeting on this subject was held in the Mechanics' Hall on Friday, Mr. James Hargreaves presiding; the persons attending being nearly as many as on the previous Thursday.

The chairman briefly introduced the business of the meeting, stating that he should only allow gentlemen to speak on the new matter introduced by Mr. Turner at last meeting, and after that had been discussed, to allow Mr. Turner a final reply, and then to take the vote.

Mr. Wm. Hargreaves, having been asked to speak, thought it would be best to have the minute book produced, and the resolution read which was passed at the meeting when the question of opposing the Gas Bill was before the Board. (The chairman said that both Mr. Hargreaves and Mr. Turner having asked that the minute book might be produced, he had requested the clerk to have it at hand, and he now asked him to submit the resolution referred to.) The chairman then read the following resolutions moved at a special meeting held May 10th, 1882:—

"Proposed by Mr. Turner, seconded by Mr. Sanderson:—'That taking into consideration the statement made by Mr. Wm. Hargreaves, the chairman of the Gas Co., as to the alterations which had been made in the Rothwell Gas Bill by the Parliamentary Committee, that this meeting be adjourned until Monday, the 22nd inst., in order that the amended Bill may be inspected, to ascertain and verify Mr. Hargreaves' statement.'

An amendment was proposed by the chairman and seconded by Mr. Jas. Hargreaves:—'That after hearing the statements of the chairman of the Gas Co. as to various alterations which had been inserted in the Rothwell Gas Bill by the Parliamentary Committee, that such Bill be not opposed by the Board.'

For the amendment—The Chairman, Messrs. Jas. Hargreaves, J. Holmes, S. Bramley, and J. Oliver.

For the proposition—Messrs. Sanderson, Turner and Batty."

Mr. W. Hargreaves then proceeded to shew that this minute made no reference whatever to the reserve fund, and that the Board gave up its opposition not simply because of the reserve fund, but of other things being removed, as the clauses relating to electricity, the sliding scale, and the 5s. standard price. From extracts of a letter from Messrs. Tennant and Barret, to their Parliamentary agents, it was stated that the Local Board would not oppose provided the alterations mentioned by the chairman of the Gas Company were verified by a print of the amended Bill; this was sent to the clerk to the Board a day or two afterwards.

Mr. Tennant said that at last meeting Mr Turner stated that they had no other opinion on the subject but their own. He (Mr. Tennant) now proposed to read extracts from counsels' opinion on the subject of the reserve fund; at last meeting these papers were in London. He then read the opinion of their Parliamentary agents, followed by that of Mr. Fitzgerald, an eminent Parliamentary draughtsman, who distinctly states that secs. 30 to 34 of the Gas Clauses Act, 1847, are included in sec. 2 of the Rothwell Act, 1882. He also gave the opinion of Mr. Warner, Lord Redesdale's counsel, that the Gas Clauses Act of 1847 is incorporated in the special Act; this gentleman has before him all the Gas Acts brought before Parliament. Mr. Tennant also mentioned the opinion expressed by the counsel to the Speaker, who holds that it is to the advantage of the consumer that the Company have power to make up back dividends by means of a reserve fund. He was prepared to verify all these extracts by means of original letters and his own copying book.

Mr. Lawton said if it was to the advantage of consumers to have a reserve fund of £2,000, perhaps it would be so much more advantage if it were £10,000. Mr. Tennant replied that the section provides that the fund shall not be more than one-tenth of the nominal capital.

In reply to Mr. Sykes, as regards Insurance Fund, Mr. Tennant said, if they had no insurance fund, they would have to insure with some Company, which would be more expensive a great deal than placing on one side one-twentieth of their paid-up capital for this purpose.

In reply to questions by Mr. J. Abbishaw, Mr. Lawton and Mr. Nowell, Mr. Tennant said there are two funds, one of £400 for insurance, the other £2,000 as reserve against contingencies (this includes, as he afterwards stated, the £521 to the credit of the Company on its incorporation). No profit from the interest of these funds can come into the pockets of the shareholders. All interest on these funds goes towards the advantage of consumers by the reduction of gas. In reply to Mr. Nowell's complaint of the Company's illegal action in regard to sec. 38, Mr. Tennant said that, although they had the right to make up the whole of the reserve fund in one year, if they liked, the Company had only placed small amounts to that fund each term, so as not to interfere with the consumers' advantage in the price.

Mr. Turner was then allowed to reply, and in taking up Mr. W. Hargreaves' remarks, again read out the resolutions passed at the Board meeting in May, 1882, wherein he pointed out there was no mention of any of the alterations made in the Bill, and which led to the withdrawal of the opposition. He argued that these alterations should have been specified, and the only report they had, and on which they could rely, was that given in the Rothwell Times of May 12th, 1882, of which there was only the file copy possessed by Mr. Marshall, and from which report he had obtained extracts. Mr. W. Hargreaves objected to any reports from the Rothwell Times, which, he said, contained reports which were not correct, and things which had better not have been written; he only accepted the minute book as the authority. The chairman allowed the objection, as they could only act on the resolution found in the minute book. Mr. Turner continued, that as this was the only full report in existence, and the resolution gave no details what the alterations were which had caused the Board to withdraw its opposition, he maintained that this 'reserve fund' was one of the principal alterations referred to. Until December, 1884, this was his own impression, although he had not seen the report of the May '82 meeting since its publication, and it was only at the end of last year, that he obtained a view of the report referred to. What Mr. Hargreaves said about the reserve fund not being mentioned in the minute book was all nothing, as neither 'electricity,' the 'sliding scale', nor the 'standard price' are mentioned, but are all included with the reserve fund in the term 'alterations' promised by the then chairman of the Gas (Mr. W. Hargreaves). Mr. Turner then argued against several of Mr. Tennant's statements, contending that the opinion of their Parliamentary agents was nothing to the consumers. As to carrying small amounts to the reserve fund, he pointed out that in one half year as much as £420 was carried over. He maintained that the Insurance fund as provided in the Rothwell Bill was instead of the reserve fund specified in the 1847 Act, both funds being for the same object, to secure the shareholders against any contingency which would reduce their dividend. Before concluding, Mr. Turner defended his conduct in taking up this matter, believing that as a member of the Local Board, he was sent there to do his duty, and not merely to shake hands and pass on. He now expressed his willingness, (in playing what he called his trump card) to carry out the following proposal: that the opinion of some independent counsel shall be asked, who has neither been connected with the Gas Co. nor with himself or the Board, and if his decision is against the Gas Co., the Board shall pay the costs, but if in favour of the Company, he himself would pay.

The chairman then rose to put the resolution requiring the Board to take legal steps on this question; he said that only those persons who were occupiers or owners of property in this district would be allowed to vote; he asked that they should hold up one hand; and that he would count the numbers for and against, assisted by the clerk and the inspector. On being put, 42 voted in favour of the resolution, and 34 against, the resolution being thus carried. A majority of those present did not vote

The thanks of the meeting were then presented to Messrs. Nowell and Turner, and also to the chairman.

Mr. Wm. Hargreaves having honoured us by a reference to the reports appearing from time to time in this journal, it is our duty to remark that it is the easiest thing possible to make erroneous statements either by word of mouth or in writing, but much easier in the former case than in the latter; while as careful as possible, not to publish remarks which are evidently not meant exactly as they are spoken, we are not surprised that sometimes gentlemen may find speeches reported which become inconvenient when in print. Although we are perfectly aware that our reports are not infallible, and that sometimes points may be omitted which the speaker may think important, yet we flatter ourselves that comparing our reports with those of contemporaries, and judging from the opinions of gentlemen of all shades and opinions, they are usually fair, correct and unbiassed. We are pleased to record that on no occasion, to our remembrance, have our reports been so far wrong as to induce those concerned to send us a correction, and as no intimation has been received from Mr. Hargreaves during the three years elapsing since the discussion on the gas Bill, we must presume that our report of that meeting is substantially correct; in fact, we believe Mr. Hargreaves himself did not impugn its correctness, and we certainly think his address would have lost none of its effect, if he had not allowed himself to make these unnecessary remarks on a matter foreign to the subject in hand.

THE WAR CRISIS.

PROBABLE PEACEFUL SOLUTION.

MESSAGE FROM THE CZAR.

The Daily Telegraph's third edition contains the following telegram from its Vienna correspondent, dated to-day:—

The Russian answer to the British Government, forwarded to its Ambassador in London, contains the following passage:—

"I am charged by the personal commands of His Majesty the Czar to beg you to make known to the Government of the Queen that, in the opinion of His Majesty, a war would be deplorable for the two countries, and His Majesty hopes firmly that a prompt and simple (facile) arrangement will be established."

The Russian Ambassador in England has telegraphed the following reply to St. Petersburg:—"The English Cabinet has gladly accepted your Excellency's communication."

Consequently there is good reason to hope for a pacific issue to the Anglo-Russian conflict.

MURDER OF A BRADFORD MAN.

Telegrams from New York report the discovery of an undoubted murder in the Southern Hotel, St. Louis, Missouri. Two Englishmen, a Mr. Maxwell, of London, and a Mr. Preller, of Bradford, recently arrived there together. After they had both apparently left, the dismembered remains of a man were found in a trunk in the room they had occupied. The examination of the papers seems to suggest that the remains are those of Mr. Preller, but they were really unrecognisable, and it is by no means certain that the assumption is correct.

WOODLESFORD-WITH-OULTON CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION.

The third of the series of public meetings on political affairs, under the auspices of the the above Association, was held on Tuesday evening last, in the National School-room, Oulton, when an address on "Egypt" was delivered by Councillor Gordon, of Leeds. Mr. B. W. Higgins presided, and very briefly introduced the principal speaker. Before entering upon his subject, Mr. Gordon complimented the chairman on the sensible brevity of his remarks, contrasting it with the lengthy introductions of some chairmen of his experience, who too often "extracted all the plums from the pudding before one could get a cut in at it." Proceeding with his subject, the lecturer referred to the beginning of the "Egyptian question"—the establishment of the Dual Control, and the expenditure of £4,000,000 in Suez Canal shares by the Beaconsfield government. The Dual Control was said by apologists of the present government to be the first cause of the trouble which had come upon us, but it was said by Lord Granville and Mr. Gladstone, after they had been in office some time, that the Dual Control was working most satisfactorily. In the speaker's opinion it had been a great mistake for us to go to Egypt at all, but being there we ought to have pursued a firmer and more definite policy. What was wanted in such a country was described by the Psalmist as "a mighty hand and a stretched out arm" ever ready to uphold and defend those who trust us. Instead of this Mr. Gladstone had been a greater curse to Egypt than any of the plagues that befel her of old.—"He had pretty nearly destroyed all the first-born and had hung like a pall of cloud and fire over the land for the last few years. There had been two rebellions in Egypt; the first, a national rising under Arabi Pasha against the alien government of the present Khedive: this, Mr. Gladstone had used the utmost power of England to repress. The next was the movement in the Soudan, or south of Egypt, led by the Mahdi, characterised by Mr. Gladstone as the effort of a people struggling to be free. Then came the annihilation of the Egyptian expeditions under Hicks Pasha and Baker Pasha, for which the lecturer considered the government responsible. The peril of the beleaguered garrisons of Tokar, Sinkat, Marsala, etc., now called forth such an expression of public feeling, that the government were compelled to take some action for their relief. Gordon was sent to Khartoum. The speaker then gave an eloquent description of the mental and moral qualities which were distinguishing features in the character of the hero, dwelling on his peculiar knowledge of the Soudan and its people; yet in spite of all this, the government perversely refused to act on his advice. He wished to have an interview with the Mahdi at the beginning; this the government refused to sanction. He next desired that Zebehr Pasha should be sent out to him; but in deference to the outburst of public opinion against this course, they again denied his request. "England was too good and holy a nation, and Mr. Gladstone was far too good and holy a man to sanction the appointment of a slave-dealer to the government of the Soudan," forgetting that it was but a choice of evils, and that Gordon with his unparalleled knowledge of the situation, must have known best what was the wisest course to pursue. An expedition under Graham was sent out on the loudly proclaimed mission to "rescue and retire." But action was taken too late, the garrisons of Sinkat and Tokar after a gallant resistance were massacred, and they could only carry out the latter part of their policy and retire. The troops were withdrawn; then came the heroic stand made at Khartoum by Gordon against the hordes of the Mahdi, followed by the second expedition under Wolseley, the history of which was fresh in the minds of all; and now when there is nothing left to rescue, we were keeping a large army in Egypt for no intelligible purpose which a sane man could understand. The speaker next referred to the disturbances in South Africa, strongly condemning the policy of the government in that quarter. The late leader of the Conservative party had been most anxious to establish a scientific frontier in Northern India, but his efforts had been derided by those who would now give much to have possession of the frontier they formerly so despised. The anxiety of the Conservative leaders on the subject of the Russian advance to Merv, had been described by the Duke of Argyll at Leeds as mere 'mervousness.' Liberal politicians had a knack of inventing clever phrases, but the world could not be governed by quibbling phrases. The only thing that would affect a Russian diplomatist was a direct slap in the face. Russia had been described by Mr. Gladstone as that 'divine figure of the north;' the speaker preferred Tennyson's description of that power as 'the giant liar of the north." Instead of 'making enquiries' about the recent episode at Penjdeh, we should be better employed in preparing to stem the advance which Russia—under the cover of lying despatches—was secretly making towards India.

That Mr. Gladstone was a very good man, he believed in all sincerity, and he was sorry for it, because to his goodness Mr. Gladstone owed his present position and popularity. He (Mr. Gordon) would prefer to see even a competent scoundrel at the head of affairs, to seeing the destinies of our great empire drivelled away under the feeble influence of the noblest of good men.

The address, which occupied over an hour, was racy and vigorous, and it was listened to with quiet attention by a fairly numerous audience. At the close a vote of thanks proposed by Mr. Boothroyd and seconded by Mr. Hampshire, was unanimously and very cordially accorded to the lecturer. In moving it, Mr. Boothroyd specially invited all to vote for it, as in doing so they were merely paying a well-merited compliment to the lecturer, without in any way identifying themselves with the opinions he had expressed. He also wished to mention a personal matter, that was, to disclaim all knowledge of the occurrence of what 'Gossip' in the Rothwell Times had described as political teaching in the schools by a local schoolmaster. He was anxious for full publicity to be given to this, as he knew for a fact that discredit had been attributed to him as the guilty individual.

Councillor Gordon, in acknowledging the vote of thanks, moved a similar vote to the chairman, which was seconded by Mr. R. J. Smith. Mr. Higgins briefly responded, and the proceedings terminated.

WOODLESFORD CHURCH.

The fourth annual Special Musical Service which it has become the custom to give at Easter at the above church was held on Monday evening last, when Sullivan's "Festival Te Deum" followed by a selection from the Easter portion of the "Messiah" was performed by a fairly balanced chorus, consisting of members of the Woodlesford and Methley Choral Societies, accompanied by the organ and a small band of instrumentalists. Mr. G. Atkinson conducted, Mr. W. Lockwood, the church organist, presided at the organ, and the band consisted chiefly of members of the Leeds Amateur Orchestral Society and the Castleford Orchestral Society.

The "Te Deum" is an important work composed by Sullivan for the festival held at the Crystal Palace in celebration of the recovery of the Prince of Wales from a severe illness. It is written for soprano solo, chorus, orchestra, organ, and military band. The work is divided into seven numbers; the first opens with stately and effective strains for chorus, led up to by a short instrumental introduction in which a reminiscence of St. Anne's tune is noticeable. At the words "To Thee all angels cry aloud" a change is made from common time andante to three-four allegro, the tenors leading off with the four bar subject of a well-defined fugue. The next number is a soprano solo "To Thee Cherubim" combined with chorus singing the Sanctus pianissimo, the chorus having occasional prominence in double forte passages on the words "Heaven and earth are full" unaccompanied. A beautiful effect is produced in this number by the contrasted rhythms of the soprano solo and the accompanying chorus and organ. Number three is a bold and striking chorus with an elaborate accompaniment commencing with the words "The glorious company of the apostles." The next number is a long and difficult soprano solo on the words "When Thou tookest upon Thee" in B minor, the music changing to B major at the words "Thou sittest at the right hand of God." The next is a pastoral chorus in six-eight time in B major "We believe that Thou shalt come," and a beautiful specimen of Sullivan's best style. The graceful flowing subject, the closeness of the harmonies and modulations, and the difficulties presented to the performers, reminding one of Spohr's chorus writing. This is followed by a short soprano solo and chorus, andante in G, leading up to a spirited 8-bar fugue, allegro motto vivace. The concluding number is a fine and impressive chorus "Vouchsafe O Lord" in which free use is made of the well known strains of St. Ann's tune. At the words "O Lord let Thy mercy" a complicated and difficult fugue occurs on a new subject led off by bass voices, the accompaniment introducing occasional strains of psalm tune, and the movement is concluded by the return of the voices to the original tune chiefly in unison to an orchestral accompaniment of a fanciful and slightly secular character.

The selections from the "Messiah" comprised the choruses "Behold the Lamb," "Lift up your heads," "Worthy is the Lamb," and "Hallelujah." The air "He shall feed," "Come unto Him" was sung by Misses Teale and Braime. Miss Braime also sang very effectively the difficult solo music of the "Te Deum." The recits and air leading up to, and including "But Thou didst not leave" were taken by Mr. J. Prime; and Mr. Atkinson—in place of Mr. T. West, who had a cold—sang the "Trumpet" solo. Between the parts a short address was given by the vicar, the Rev. A. J. Irvin, B.A., from St. Mark, xiv., 26, and the service concluded with the singing of the Easter hymn "Jesus Christ is risen to-day."

Epp's Cocoa.—Grateful and Comforting.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in packets, labelled—"James Epps & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London."—Also makers of Epp's Chocolate Essence.

Holloway's Ointment & Pills.—Coughs, Influenza—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally, and the ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceedingly efficacious. When influenza is epidemic, this treatment is the easiest, safest and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of escaping from suffering when afflicted with colds, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which the health of so many is seriously and permanently injured in most countries.

THE Golden Cup Cocoa House, 157, Briggate.—The new premises are now complete and the accommodation greatly improved.

Borax—Patent Californian, 'The Household Treasure—Pure Antiseptic,' is sold in small and family packets by all intelligent dealers, prepared and ready for immediate use, with full directions for all Personal and Domestic purposes, and suitable for Academies, Hotels, Hospitals, Asylums, Ships, Public Institutions, and all homes—from the mansion to the cottage—everywhere—everywhere.

As a safe, permanent and warranted cure of Pimple Scrofula, Scurvy, Bad Legs, Skin and Blood Diseas and Sores of all kinds, we can with confidence recommend CLARKE'S WORLD-FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE.—Sold by Chemists everywhere

Cheap Nourishment.—Fourteen large Breakfast Cups of strong, reliable Cocoa can be made from a Sixpenny Packet of Cadbury's Cocoa Essence. Ask or Cadbury's, and do not be imposed upon.

Spruce Beer (Generally known as 'Black Beer.'—Non-intoxicant. Strongly recommended by the medical faculty for its strengthening qualities. Manufactured by Joseph Hobson, Dantzic Brewery, Regent Street, Leeds.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

Presentation to Mrs. Gladstone.—Mr. Peter Gilston, of Leeds, on Wednesday waited upon Mrs. Gladstone and presented her with a set of handsomely mounted scent-bottles, from the East Hunslet Liberal Association. This presentation originated in an incident which took place at the great meeting at Leeds in 1881. On that occasion a man fainted in the hall, and Mrs. Gladstone sent her smelling-bottle to assist in restoring him. The incident was noted at the time, and its sequel has been the beautiful present which Mrs. Gladstone received most cordially.

Woodlesford Wesleyan Chapel.—After being thoroughly painted and nicely decorated, the above named place of worship was re-opened on Sunday last, when two excellent sermons were preached, in the morning by the Rev. S. Pitt, and in the evening by Mr. Ezard, of Leeds. A children's service was held in the afternoon, conducted by the Rev. S. Pitt, assisted by Mr. Taylor, of London. On Monday, a public tea was held in the Alma School-room, when a large number partook of the good things provided. After tea, a public meeting was held in the chapel, presided over by J. H. Cookson, Esq., of Stanley; addresses were delivered by the Rev. S. Pitt, and Messrs. Cooke, Dalton, Langstaff, and Gurney. Well-merited votes of thanks to the chairman, on the motion of Mr. H. Langstaff and Mr. J. H. Langstaff, and to the ladies on the motion of Mr. Smith and Mr. Stead, brought the services to a close. The amount received after paying all expenses, leaves a substantial balance in the hands of the stewards.

Water.—The natural supplies of water are gradually increasing in the Lofthouse district, most of the wells are fully replenished. It is generally admitted now that the worst is past, and that no artificial supplies are needed.

Accident in the Football Field.—During a game at football played on Saturday last, between Outwood and Lofthouse, on the ground of the latter, a young man named Joseph Mortishaw from Outwood, whilst running with the ball, came into violent collision with a sturdy youth named Watson, and had his arm broken. The match was in consequence not played out. A special match is being arranged to be played on the Trinity ground at Wakefield, for the benefit of the unlucky player.

"Fit it with such Furniture as suits according to the fashion and the times," and purchase from E. Miller, 42, North Street, Leeds.

A Lively Local Board.—The Rawmarsh Local Board met on Wednesday for the first time since its reconstruction. The conduct of at least a couple of the members was disgraceful in the extreme. Oaths of the most vulgar description were frequent, and the vilest of epithets were applied to members who showed an inclination to transact the public business. One newly-elected member informed the chairman that if the table had not been between them he would have pitched him through the window and cracked his abominable neck.—Mercury.

Rothwell Church Bazaar.—We regret to find that in collecting our information as regards the persons contributing to the success of this effort, that the names of Miss Alice Bell and Mrs. S. Hargreaves should have been included in the list of stall-holders, and that Miss D. Fawkes very successfully represented Mrs. Winslow of "Soothing Syrup" fame, in the group of waxworks. The visits of Miss Bell to Rothwell are always welcome, and it is pleasant to be reminded now and again of the fine old Canon, our late vicar, and of the useful work done by his family years ago.

Child drowned.—A very distressing accident occurred on Wednesday, respecting which an inquest was held yesterday at the White Swan Inn, before Colonel Taylor, district coroner. From the evidence of Mrs. Fox, wife of Wm. Fox, miner, Shaw Fold, her little boy, Joe, was playing in the yard with other children, and she last saw him alive about a quarter past five. Half-an-hour after, she went out and was going into a little orchard close to the house, when she observed the feet of a child protruding above a water tub standing in the yard. Rushing to it, she was horrified to find it was the little fellow, head foremost in about eight inches of water. Screaming for help, she pulled him out, but unhappily life was quite extinct, and aided by a neighbour she carried him into the house. Mrs. Ann Lunn, who lives opposite, corroborated the mother's statement, adding that the little chap went into the orchard gate about twenty minutes past five, and was playing there by himself; she could not see what he was doing, as the gate swung to after him, and her next knowledge of him was when Mrs. Fox screamed for help. The boy was intelligent, strong and active, and no blame is attached to any one. A verdict of "Accidentally drowned" was returned.

Our young men.—We have several times had the pleasure of reporting under this head, the onward movement of Rothwell's sons, and we have once more to record an agreeable fact. During the last few days, Mr. James Arthur Hargreaves, eldest son of Mr. Jas. Hargreaves, colliery manager, of this town, has received a certificate that he has successfully passed the very severe preliminary examination necessary for entering the medical profession. Mr. Hargreaves purposes shortly entering on the usual course of studies at the Aberdeen University, whence we have no doubt we shall hear from time to time of his gradual advancement in the honorable profession he has chosen. It is almost unnecessary to say that all who know Mr. Hargreaves, will heartily join in our congratulations, and wish him every success.

Miners' Meeting.—A hurriedly called meeting of miners was held on Wednesday evening, on the Black Bull Hill, but owing to the short notice was poorly attended. Mr. Poulter, of Methley, and others addressed the meeting on the subject of the present strike against a reduction of wages, and urged the Rothwell men to do what they could to assist those now out of work. We understand that the men employed at Beeston Pit have agreed to contribute weekly to the strike fund 2s each, the boys giving 1s each.

Spruce Beer.—

"In the merry old times of our ancestors,
When Saxon and Dane ruled here,"

Or perhaps a little later, spruce beer was well known and recognised as a staple drink, taking equal rank with sack, mead, nut brown ale, and others of the various compounds with which our fathers of old were wont to make merry. Little by little, with the advance of civilization, the old drinks disappeared, and wine and spirits took their place, until spruce almost became to be looked upon rather as useful for wounds than anything else, and well we remember the traditional keg sent straight from Dantzic periodically, which was always to be found in many a home, while nowadays there is many a publican who does not keep it, and many a one also who is scarcely aware of its existence. Our attention, however, has lately been drawn to the fact that the article is now being manufactured by Mr. Joseph Hobson (late Kaye and Hobson), of the Dantzic Brewery, Regent Street, Leeds, in large quantities, under special circumstances, and adapted to a variety of objects.

In a late inspection which we made of the Dantzic Brewery, we were much struck with the magnitude of the concern, and at the admirable manner in which the whole of the details of the manufacture of this spruce beer are carried out. During our visit we saw the beer produced from the best barley malt, and if another proof of its genuineness should be wanting, we may state that the whole of the manufacturing operations are carried out under the supervision of the Excise officers, who allow of no adulteration. After the beer has been properly worked, it is run off into large vats, to store for twelve months, and then sent out in the small kegs so well known to the trade. Should the spruce or black beer be required for mixing with stout or porter it is generally sent out new, and also to some districts in that state for drinking purposes.

Holloways Pills.—Enfeebled Existence.—This medicine embraces every attribute required in a general and domestic remedy. It overturns the foundations of decease laid by defective food and impure air. In obstructions or congestions of the liver, lungs, bowels, or any other organs, these Pills are especially serviceable and eminently successful. They should be kept in readiness in every family, being a medicine of incomparable utility for young persons, especially those of feeble constitutions. They never pain or irritate the most sensitive nerves or most tender bowels. Holloway's Pills are the best known purifiers of the blood, the most active promoters of absorption and secretion, whereby all poisonous and obnoxious matters are removed from both solids and fluids.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

Occasional Notes.

A very enjoyable concert was given in the Parochial School-room, Swillington, on Thursday last, in aid of the funds of the Swillington Park Cricket Club. The programme was varied and interesting, and comprised several glees, trios and duetts. A couple of recitations "The magic wand" and "Our folks" were given by Dr. Purdy. Amongst those who contributed to the vocal items of the programme were Miss Wood, of Swillington Common School, Miss Middlemiss, Misses Davies, Miss L. Bean, Mr. B. W. Higgins, Mr. C. J. Hartley, Mr. E. Wilson and Mr. Tomlinson; Miss Middlemiss played a pianoforte solo, and Mr. E. J. Eminson gave a couple of comic songs. There was a good attendance and the efforts of the performers were cordially received. The net result is an addition of £5 to the fund of the Cricket club. It is proposed to have another concert here shortly in support of a fund for the wives and children of the soldiers engaged in the war.

The Special Musical Service which usually winds up the musical season at Woodlesford, was this year quite as interesting as on previous occasions. The work selected—Sullivan's "Te Deum"—was rather an ambitious task, but quite within the capacity of the societies engaged in its production. It has further the merits of complete novelty, and of being eminently suitable for performance in Church. The community are much indebted to the Choral Society for the opportunities which have been annually offered of enjoying a very tolerable performance of works of this class. In this way such works as "Christ and His Soldiers," Mozart's "Twelfth Mass," Gaul's "Holy City," &c, have been annually given in the church with all the necessary adjuncts to an effective rendering of the respective works. Of the performance of the "Te Deum" we may say that there was much to admire and something to find fault with. In the more difficult passages the chorus showed signs of a want of confidence and a disposition to lean on each other for their leads, the result one would suppose, of insufficient rehearsal together. In spite of occasional blemishes however the general effect of the service was very impressive and successful. There was a full church, and the offertory we are told amounted to 30s. Comment is unnecessary.

Councillor Gordon's address on "Egypt" to the Conservative association was a very successful affair and there was a decent attendance of outsiders to hear what he had to say on the subject. These little meetings excite a good deal of interest in the neighbourhood and are no doubt useful in drawing the attention of our future voters to political subjects and inducing them to study questions upon which they will be very soon invited to give a decision. It is unfortunate that all the information comes from one side only. The tedious reiteration of opinions about which we have heard almost all that can be said is getting wearisome. To make things livelier, cannot our Liberal friends get up a sort of counterblast to these Conservative fulminations, or are they content to let judgment go by default?

The coming week will mark an epoch in the history of church affairs in Woodlesford. The "mission" for which a band of workers have been making earnest preparations during the past few weeks, will commence on Saturday next and continue for ten days. Opportunities will then be offered which may never be offered again to those who accept, or refuse them. That they may be taken advantage of to the full extent, and that the "mission" may result in a great and permanent success, will be the earnest wish of all who have the good of the community at heart.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We would particularly urge our friends to send in their letters and news, as early as possible, as we cannot accept contributions later than Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, except in the case of matters occurring on Wednesday or Thursday, which should be forwarded within a short period after. Advertisements may be sent as late as Friday morning.

TOWN TALK.

The decision arrived at by the Rothwell Ratepayers last Friday night, on the Gas Co's Reserve Fund, was a good one in some respects. It was a pity to see so many who did not vote on the question. The object in calling the meeting was to find out what the ratepayers thought about the matter, but in this point, the meeting was a failure. Had those who did not vote an opinion? they ought to have had after hearing the two sides so thoroughly thrashed out, by Mr. Turner on the one hand and the Gas Co. on the other. The decision was to ask the Local Board to take the necessary steps to ascertain if the Company are entitled to the Reserve Fund of £2,000, in the first place, and then, if it is found that they are not to compel the Gas Company directors to carry out the provisions of the Act. It is very right that the Company should act in accordance with the provisions of the Law, and I should not be at all surprised if Mr. Turner succeeds in considerably altering certain concerns of the Gas Company, but I must confess that I don't believe the consumer will get the benefit as he states. What holds me back from lending my whole support to Mr. Turner's case, is an opinion which I cannot get rid of, that when we have fought and beaten the Company, and spent our money and time, they will apply the amount recovered from the Reserve Fune, to some other purpose than to the reduction in the price of gas; they might for anything I know, create more capital, or even pay the directors and other officials a heavy salary, as to as to defeat their opponents in the last stage of the fray. If Mr. Turner will be kind enough to let us see that the harvest will follow the sowing of the seed, or in other words that we shall get the Reserve Fund of the Gas Company divided among the consumers of gas, he will clear up grave doubts in many minds.

There is a stir in the local political wind. A blue poster announces a meeting in the Mechanics' Institute on Tuesday next, which is to be addressed by Lieutenant Colonel Charlesworth, the Conservative candidate for this district, and so-and-so and so-and-so esquires, about half dozen "great guns." Let all Franchised folks attend and hear Mr. Charlesworth's ideas on subjects new and old. Mr. Pickard ought to be here before long, but there seems to be nothing left of the once thriving Liberal club, but a valley of dry bones.

Dr. Nowell hit upon two good heads at the last Board meeting. Of course I don't mean to say that he has been striking any other member of the Board on that part very generally known as "knowledge box;" if so I should not have said "good heads," no one ventures to say quite so much. But in the report, Dr. Nowell's name appears prominently under two heads, "Election" and "Postal." He wants the Local Board to be elected by ballot, and he also wants a second delivery and despatch of letters. I am sure we all agree with him in both, and shall hail the day with joy when these things come about. The unpleasantness and inconvenience arising from the present unsatisfactory mode of the election of the Local Board, and the state of our postal accommodation is unbearable.

I noticed that at the last meeting of the Hunslet Board of Guardians, nearly half the business of the meeting consisted of votes of thanks to the chairman, vice-chairmen, &c., and it strikes me that it must be a very pleasant thing for the guardians to arrive at this annual meeting after the hard work of the year, when they have these pleasant duties to perform. How different is the way in which they close their year, to the method adopted by our Local Board. This year the chairman informed the members that the business of the year was done, and thanking them for their attention left the chair. This is more than is usually done, and I think the Board will do well to take a lesson from the Hunslet Board.

I am anxious to have the gullies in Rothwell cleansed by the Board at regular periods. I have recommended it before, and I certainly think the work ought to be at once undertaken by the Board. It is a work vitally affecting the public health, and now is the time to attend to it before the hot months of summer are upon us.

The strike among the miners of Yorkshire is in full swing. The strikers don't forget to visit Rothwell. It was a strange sight to see about a hundred men saunter down Commercial Street on Wednesday, most of them eating bread, and soliciting aid on either side of the street. The Rothwell miners are particularly fortunate. No matter what the cry of certain local politicians against the firm of Charlesworth's may be, they are good masters, and because they are good, they are popular. I have heard that it is probable that more coal will be pulled out of Beeston Pit this week than in any week before; it being expected that 4,000 tons will be brought to the top. There is plenty of work here for those who will do it; therefore let us be thankful that we are saved from the misery of a strike' and at the same time let us help those who are in need.

There is a rumour current that somewhere in the direction of Messrs Bowers' pits, a sheep has been stolen from a field during the night by some of those who are on strike. When the owner visited his field, it is said that he found a card tacked on to the gate of the field, with these words written on it.

Dear Sir,
You are rich and we are poor;
When this is done, we'll fetch some moor.

GOSSIP.

FOOTBALL.

ROTHWELL v. CARLTON (Rugby Rules).

The return match between these clubs was played at Carlton on Saturday last, in cold weather, and before a very small attendance of spectators. Rothwell were assisted by a few men from other clubs, one or two of whom shewed up well in the playing. Rothwell having won the toss, Carlton kicked off up hill and with the wind in their favour. Hostilities commenced in Rothwell quarters, and the usual number of scrimmages were formed, with various results. A try was afterwards got by Carlton, but the kick at goal failed. A drop kick at the Rothwell goal by one of Carlton three-quarters almost proved fatal. Except two minor points scored by the home team, nothing more resulted to the call of half-time. The game was recommenced, and was very even for a while, but eventually the Rothwell men pressed their opponents, and a minor point was registered in their favour. Another try by Carlton failed to score, as did a drop at goal, and at the call of time Rothwell were defeated by 2 tries and 2 minor points to one minor point.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes close, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above-named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety-one cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), London, England. This syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of system.

Borax Preparations are manufactured by the Patent Borax Company, under Royal Patents, which the Queen has awarded in recognition of their 'Great Excellence' 'Public Importance,' and 'Utility.'

Throat Affections and Hoarseness.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by John I. Brown & Sons, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London

Valuable Discovery for the Hair.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d. —For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name Consumption Emulsion. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 123 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find there is a gain of weight even after it has been used." Such a testimony as this speaks volumes for the efficiency of Phthisicon. In addition, it has proved of immense value as a curative agent in the early stages of Brain Disease and Scrofula; in fact, wherever there is impaired nutrition or lack of nerve power, its action is almost certain. It can be obtained of all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s., and 21s. per bottle. Wholesale of [illegible] and Sons, Farringdon-street, London, E.C.; or of W. B. Trick, F.P.S., 92, Green-lanes London, N.

Watches, Jewellery. — Midland Counties Watch Company.—(Cheapest house in the World) Ladies' or Gents' Fine Silver Crystal Glass, heavy Ladies' Watches, 25/-; Ladies' heavy-cased Gold Levers, 70/-; Gents' do. do. do., 80/-. Before purchasing send for Company's Catalogue, beautifully illustrated, 1,000 fine copper-plate engravings, gratis, post free on application, to any part of the world. Apply Company's Manager, A. Percy, Vyse Street, Birmingham. The press universally recommend their readers to obtain a catalogue.

Advice to Mothers!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it soften the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

Floriline!—For the Teeth and Breath.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

DEAR FRED,

You will be surprised at receiving a letter from me, but thank God, I am pleased to say am getting better every day. I shall be so glad to breathe the fresh air again. It has seemed a dreadful long time to be in bed. You know I was taken to the Hospital last April to be treated for Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Well, on the 31st of July they tapped me, and took away 304 ounces of water. The same thing was done again on the 18th September, and 408 ounces of water obtained. On the 9th October I was discharged from the Hospital as incurable. In January this year (the 20th), was again tapped at home and 360 ounces of water taken away. The St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London refused me admission as a hopeless case, and the Bartholomew Hospital, Chatham, also refused me, as being the worst case they had seen for years, and two local doctors gave me up as hopeless. When I came from the Hospital it took three to put me to bed. My clothes had to be cut off. I was an object of misery and despair. After the Hospitals had refused me, and doctors given me up, my wife persuaded me to try Hop Bitters, and from the commencement have improved daily. I have only taken them seven weeks and can now get downstairs and walk about without even a stick. With the aid of a few more bottles of the Bitters shall be well again. The water has entirely left my body and legs. The only trace left is in my feet. It is a wonderful medicine. I wish I had tried it sooner, as I have nearly ruined myself and family with doctors' bills and other expenses. I might have been well long ago. At the Hospital I had no appetite whatever, but since using the Bitters eat everything with a relish. The only difficulty is the expense, but must not mind that so long as I am getting well. Am cheerful now that recovery is near, for every one had given me up as a bad job. With best wishes to . . . .

I remain,
Your affectionate Brother,
(Signed) William Grayson.
1, Bush Terrace, Cage Lane,
Chatham, March 14, 1885.

To the Hop Bitters Co., London.
Gentlemen,—I enclose letter from my brother-in-law, Wm. Grayson, Chatham. He considers he owes his life to your Hop Bitters, and feels he cannot say enough in its praise.
Yours truly,
Fred. Stammers.
39, Castle Street, London.

LATER.
Chatham, March 24.
Since I wrote you ten days ago I have improved wonderfully. To-day I walked to the barber's shop (and got shaved), and back again by myself without fatigue. This is the first time I have been out alone since last April—over eleven months.
William Grayson.

HIGH AUTHORITY.
Dr. THOMPSON says Kidney Disease is probably next to Consumption the commonest cause of death among adults in this climate. You have had a recent and mysterious attack of asthma, pains in the back and around the loins, severe headaches, dizziness, inflamed eyes, a coated tongue and a dry mouth, loss of appetite, chilly sensation, indigestion (the stomach never is in order when the kidneys or liver are deranged), dryness of the skin, nervousness, night sweats, muscular debility, despondency, a tired feeling (especially at night), puffing or bloating under the eyes, and your muscular system seems utterly helpless. Dr. Roberts, of England; Prof. Thompson, of New York; and other celebrated authorities tell us that all these symptoms are sure indications of Bright's Disease! With some patients the disease runs slowly and for years. With others it comes as a thief in the night. This fact is an alarming one, and startles the inquiry, What can be done?
HOP BITTERS for the CURE of Kidney and Liver Complaints have no equal in the world, and those suffering from any of the above symptoms should use them at once.

VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the Individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade. Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has cast about him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. Having been thirty-five years in the trade, in the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was naturally 'up to all the wrinkles.' The middle men, known by the names of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of Manufacturers, who arranged to supply his Establishment at the cost of materials and men's time in the making. In short, placing the Goods before the public, at single articles at wholesale prices. The management is still under R. Scott's personal control, who takes this opportunity of thanking his Patrons in the past, and hopes to receive anew a mark of their confidence. In future the firm will be known as Scott & Co., Goldsmiths, Silversmiths, Opticians, Watch and Clock Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.
If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly restored by good workmen. Scott & Co. guarantee their work for 12 months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made as new, on very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT

Old Sores and Old Skin Diseases.

The seeds of these disorders are effectually expelled by this penetrating Unguent, not only from the superficial parts, but from the internal tissues likewise. Any case, even of twenty years' standing, speedily yields to its influence.

A Certain Cure for Bronchitis, Diphtheria, Sore Throat, Asthma, &c.

For curing sore throat, diphtheria, bronchitis, asthma, tightness of the chest, and pain in the side—which instant treatment alone prevents degenerating into more serious maladies, this Ointment has the same powers over chest complaints as a blister possesses, without causing pain or debility. Old asthmatic invalids will derive marvellous ease from the use of this Ointment, which has brought round many such sufferers and re-established health after every other means had signally failed.

Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, Old Sores, and Ulcers.

By rubbing the Ointment round the affected parts, it penetrates to the tissues beneath, and exercises a wonderful power on all the blood flowing to, and returning from, the diseased part. The inflammation diminishes, the pain becomes less intolerable, the matter thicker, and a cure is soon effected. In all long-standing cases, Holloway's Pills should also be taken, as they will thoroughly expel all depraved humours from the body.

Gout, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints.

Gout and Rheumatism arise from inflammation in the parts affected. To effect a permanent cure, adopt a cooling diet, drink plenty of water, take six of Holloway's Pills night and morning, and rub this Ointment most effectually twice a-day into the suffering parts; when used simultaneously, they drive all inflammation and depression from the system, subdue and remove all enlargement of the joints, and leave the sinews and muscles lax and uncontracted.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following complaints:—

Bad Legs
Bad Breasts
Burns
Bunions
Chilblains
Chapped Hands
Contracted and Stiff Joints
Corns (Soft)
Fistulas
Gout
Glandular Swellings
Lumbago
Piles
Rheumatism
Sore Nipples
Scalds
Sore Throats
Skin Diseases
Scurvy
Sore Heads
Tumours
Ulcers
Wounds

The Ointment and Pills are sold at Professor HOLLOWAY'S Establishment, 533, Oxford Street, London; also by nearly every respectable Vendor of Medicine throughout the Civilised World, in Pots and Boxes, at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., 22s., and 33s. each. The smallest Pot of Ointment contains one ounce; and the smallest Box of Pills four dozen.

Full printed directions are affixed to each Pot and Box, and can be had in any language, even in Turkish, Arabic, Armenian, Persian, or Chinese.

No. 10—3.

IS RHEUMATISM CURABLE? Yes, if you take WOODCOCK'S RHEUMATIC MIXTURE. Worth a Guinea a Box.
BEECHAM'S PILLS

BEECHAM'S PATENT PILLS. ST. HELENS LANCASHIRE

ARE admitted by thousands to be worth above A GUINEA A BOX for Bilious and Nervous Disorders, such as Wind and Pain at the Stomach, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Fulness, and Swelling after meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Scurvy, Blotches on the skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, &c., &c. The first dose will give relief in twenty minutes.

This is no fiction, for they have done it in thousands of cases. The Proprietor of these Pills having obtained (at great expense) a Patent for them, he challenges the whole world to produce a medicine equal to them for removing the above named complaints and restoring the patient to sound and lasting health.

Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try one box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be

WORTH A GUINEA A BOX.

For females of all ages these Pills are invaluable, as a few doses of them carry off all gross humours, open all obstructions, and bring about all that is required. No female should be without them. There is no remedy to be found to equal BEECHAM'S PILLS for removing any obstruction or irregularity of the system. If taken according to the directions given with each box, they will soon restore females of all ages to sound and robust health.

For a weak Stomach, impaired digestion, and all disorders of the Liver, they act like 'MAGIC,' and a few doses will be found to work wonders upon the most important organs in the human machine. They strengthen the whole muscular system, restore the long lost complexion, bring back the keen edge of appetite, and arouse into action, with the ROSEBUD of health, the whole physical energy of the human frame —These are "FACTS" admitted by thousands, embracing all classes of Society, and one of the best guarantees to the Nervous Debilitated is, BEECHAM'S PILLS have the largest sale of any Patent Medicine in the world.

BEECHAM'S MAGIC COUGH PILLS

Are a remedy for Coughs in General, Asthma Difficulty of Breathing, Shortness of Breath, Tightness and Oppression of the Chest, Wheezing, &c., these Pills stand unrivalled for anyone labouring under any of the above complaints. They need only try One Box to prove that they are the best ever offered to the public for Asthmatic and Consumptive Coughs, Hoarseness, and Oppression of the Chest. They speedily remove the sense of oppression and Difficulty of Breathing which nightly deprive the patient of rest. They give almost instant relief and comfort to those afflicted with the above distressing and, when neglected, dangerous complaints, but any person troubled with any of the above complaints should give Beecham's Cough Pills a trial

The most violent Cough will in a short time be removed.

Caution.—The public are requested to notice that the words "BEECHAM'S PILLS, St. Helen's," are on the Government Stamp affixed to each box of the Pills; if not on, they are a forgery.

Prepared only, and sold wholesale and retail by the proprietor, T. Beecham, Chemist, St. Helen's, Lancashire, in boxes, 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Sent post free for 15 or 36 stamps.

Sold by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Dealers in the United Kingdom.

LOCAL BOARD FOR THE DISTRICT OF
ROTHWELL WITH ROTHWELL HAIGH AND ROYDS GREEN.

I DO HEREBY GIVE NOTICE that at an adjourned meeting of the Ratepayers and Owners of the above-named District held on Friday, the 10th day of April, 1885 (the said meeting being adjourned from a meeting, called upon requisition, and held on Thursday, the 2nd day of April, 1885), the following resolution was put to and adopted by such said adjourned meeting, namely:—

"That this meeting of Owners and Ratepayers of "the Rothwell Local Board District having heard "the opinion of C. M. Atkinson, Esq., Barrister-at "Law, on the matter of the reserve fund of the "Rothwell Gas Company, regards with amazement "and displeasure the refusal of the Rothwell Local "Board to take up the question of the price of gas "supplied by the Rothwell Gas Company and the "state of their reserve fund, and further that this "meeting demands that the Rothwell Local Board "shall co-operate with Messrs. Nowell and Turner "in the matter, and if necessary take legal pro- "ceedings along with either or both of them, or any "other consumer or consumers, to enforce the proper "administration of the Rothwell Gas Act, 1882."

Dated this Sixteenth day of April, 1885,

HUNSLET BOARD OF GUARDIANS.

The first meeting of the new Board was held on Wednesday, the following members being present,—Rev. J. H. Evans, Rev. G. M. Platt, Messrs. J. Dixon, G. Greaves, C. Grosvenor, J. Graveley, J. Hargreaves, J. Hardcastle, G. Jepson, J. Jackson, W. Lawton, J. Parker, Riley, R. J. Smith, H. Sheard, J. Swithenbank, J. Swales, and the clerk, (Mr. Schofield).

The clerk introduced the business of the meeting by declaring the names of gentlemen who had been elected, according to the orders of the Local Government Board. He then asked some one to nominate a gentleman who should occupy the chair during the year.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—Mr. Graveley, in rising to make a proposition, expressed his great pleasure in performing so agreeable a duty. He flattered himself that the motion he intended making would be carried unanimously. During the last two years the gentleman he proposed to nominate, had occupied the chair with credit and approval, no complaint having been made of his conduct in that position. He was quite sure all the gentlemen who had previously sat under him would give him their votes, and he would cordially advise the new members to take the same course. He had very great pleasure in moving that Mr. Jas. Hargreaves be elected chairman of that Board. Mr. Dixon very heartily seconded the resolution, which was carried unanimously, and with acclamation. Having taken the chair, Mr Hargreaves returned thanks for the honor they had conferred upon him for the third time. He had experienced great pleasure in presiding over their meetings during the past year, and was quite sure the present Board would be able to conduct the business in a similarly satisfactory manner. He very cordially thanked every gentleman for his vote, and trusted they would never have cause to regret placing him in that honourable position. He would try to conduct the business agreeably, and to act fairly and courteously to all.

Mr. Graveley was proposed as first vice-chairman by Mr. Dixon, seconded by Mr. Sheard, and carried unanimously, save one. Mr. Graveley heartily acknowledged the honour.

Mr. Lawton moved that the Rev. J. H. Evans be the second vice-chairman, a motion which was seconded by Mr. Greaves. Mr. Dixon moved the election of Mr. Parker, which was seconded by Mr. Riley. On being put to the vote there were seven guardians in favor of Mr. Evans, and five for Mr. Parker; Mr. Evans was therefore elected, and returned thanks.

COST OF WORKHOUSE.—In accordance with a request by the Board, the clerk had prepared a statement as to the relative cost of the Workhouse, and the result is as follows—the difference in the last two years being considerably influenced by the reduction in cost of flour. For the year ending March 25th—

1882—	2,335	10	1	or	3	10½	per head.
1883 -	2,159	6	9	or	4	0½	,,
1884—	1,889	9	5	or	3	9½	,,
1885—	1,601	17	2	or	3	5¼	,,

COMMITTEES.—The Assessment Committee consists of the following gentlemen, Messrs. Hargreaves, Lawton, Graveley, Grosvenor, Smith, Hardcastle, Parker, Greaves, Evans and Dixon, with E. Calverley, Esq., and J. S. Calverley, Esq., ex officio.

The other Committees were then appointed for Workhouse Visitation, Vaccination, Finance, and School attendance.

The three sections for relief were re-arranged, so as to include the new members, the chairman and vice-chairmen being each chairman of one section.

The Rural Sanitary Authority was also agreed on, being the six members from Woodlesford and Oulton, Temple Newsam, Middleton and Thorp Stapleton, Mr. Smith chairman.

ROTHWELL ASSISTANT OVERSEERS.—The clerk read a telegram from Mr. Fred Parker, who has been from home for six months, stating that his ship having been placed in quarantine off Sydney, he would not be able to get home before the middle of May. The chairman said Mr. Marshall, who has been acting for Mr. Parker, had agreed to prepare a supplemental list, which would enable the Assessment Committee to correct the valuation list.

FINANCE.—The clerk reported that he had sold the £500 consols for £477 10s.

The calls on the several townships being now ready for service, a conversation was introduced by Mr. Lawton as to how these figures are ascertained. He wished to know how it was that although the rateable value had been so largely increased at Rothwell and other places, that the rates were no less. Mr. Schofield stated that all the calls were made on the same basis and in the same proportion. Mr. Lawton expressed his opinion that part of the money was swallowed up by Hunslet. The order for making the calls was finally agreed on.

SUNDRY.—The clerk read a letter from the Local Government Board stating that the report of their Inspectors, Messrs. Davy and Wodehouse, had not yet been received.

Mr. Smith gave notice of his intention to move two resolutions relating to the conduct of business.

The clerk asked the indulgence of the Board for leave of absence, his health being not at all satisfactory. This was agreed to, Mr. Keight being left in charge.

From a question by Mr. Lawton, the clerk expressed his ignorance of any clause in the Poor Law Acts requiring that the Rothwell Gas Co. should send a copy of their balance sheet to the Board. The chairman stated that it was provided for in the Gas Bill.

The usual wants and statistics were then gone through, and the meeting closed.

THROAT IRRITATION AND COUGH.—Soreness and dryness, tickling and irritation, inducing cough and affecting the voice. For these symptoms use Epps's Glycerine Jujubes. In contact with the glands at the moment they are excited by the act of sucking, the Glycerine in these agreeable confections becomes actively healing. Sold only in boxes, 7½d., tins 1s. 1½d., labelled "JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London." Dr. George Moore, in his work on "Nose and Throat Diseases," says: "The Glycerine Jujubes prepared by James Epps and Co., are of undoubted service as a curative or palliative agent," while Dr. Gordon Holmes, Senior Physician to the Municipal Throat and Ear Infirmary, writes: "After an extended trial, I have found your Glycerine Jujubes of considerable benefit (with or without medical treatment) in almost all forms of throat disease."

Holloways Pills.—Enfeebled Existence.—This medicine embraces every attribute required in a general and domestic remedy. It overturns the foundations of decease laid by defective food and impure air. In obstructions or congestions of the liver, lungs, bowels, or any other organs, these Pills are especially serviceable and eminently successful. They should be kept in readiness in every family, being a medicine of incomparable utility for young persons, especially those of feeble constitutions. They never pain or irritate the most sensitive nerves or most tender bowels. Holloway's Pills are the best known purifiers of the blood, the most active promoters of absorption and secretion, whereby all poisonous and obnoxious matters are removed from both solids and fluids.

LOCAL BOARD MEETING.

The first meeting of the new Board was held on Monday evening, all the members being present:—Messrs. W. Hargreaves, J. Dobson, J. Turner, J. Holmes, J. Hargreaves, H. P. Newsome, J. Oliver, J. Nowell, W. Lawton, with the clerk, collector, and inspector.

The newly elected members, Messrs. W. Hargreaves, J. Turner, and W. Lawton, having signed the usual declaration as to qualification, the clerk took the chair, and stated that the election of new members had taken place under the direction of Mr. Holmes, the returning officer, who had declared the three above mentioned gentlemen to be duly elected. The first business of this meeting now was to appoint a gentleman as chairman of the present meeting, and as chairman of the Board for the current year.

CHAIRMAN.—Mr. Nowell, before proposing a gentleman for this office, desired to apologise on behalf of himself and fellow members, for a neglect of duty in regard to Mr. James Hargreaves, their late vice-chairman, whom he wished to thank for the kind and agreeable manner in which he had conducted the few last meetings of the Board, during his short, too short, occupancy of the chair. Mr. Nowell then continued as regards the election of a chairman, and after referring to his objections raised last year against their late chairman, on account of his inability to attend the meetings, still urged the advisability of a change in the chairmanship. Every member was elected by the suffrages of the ratepayers, and he thought ought to share in the honours of the Board. The gentleman he was about to propose had one or two qualities which commended him as a suitable person to occupy the chair, being less connected commercially and socially with the various interests of the district, and likely to be less biassed than others, while his kind and courteous manner specially fitted him for securing the harmonious working of the Board. He begged to propose that Mr. John Oliver be elected chairman of the Board. Mr. J Turner in a few words expressed his pleasure in seconding the proposal, expressing his corroboration of all Dr. Nowell had said, and which he would strongly emphasize.

Mr Newsome, in rising, said he could take little exception to what had just been said about Mr. Oliver by Mr. Nowell. He could not forget, however, what had been said by that gentleman and others last year (when Mr. Hargreaves was proposed as chairman), and he did not know that there had been anything to alter their opinion of Mr. Hargreaves since that time. He quite approved of having a change in their chairman, and as Mr. Hargreaves was vice-chairman last year, he thought it only fair that he should be made chairman this year. He certainly stood in as good position as ratepayer as Mr. Oliver, especially considering the large interests he represented, besides which he had received, he believed, the largest number of votes given to any one member, which went to shew, that his election would be most in accordance with the wishes of the ratepayers. He would be most happy to support Mr. Oliver as vice-chairman. He moved that Mr. W. Hargreaves be elected chairman of the Board for this year. Mr. Holmes expressed his great pleasure in seconding the motion, especially as Mr. W. Hargreaves was the oldest member of the Board; as regards being a large ratepayer, he supposed they all paid their share, and in that respect, were equally eligible. Dr. Nowell desired to reply to some statements, but the clerk ruled any further remarks, except in support of the two propositions, as out of order.

The clerk then put the amendment for Mr. W. Hargreaves, when there voted Messrs. Newsome, Holmes, J. Hargreaves, Dobson and W. Hargreaves; for the proposition to elect Mr. Oliver, Messrs. Nowell, Turner, Oliver, and Lawton. Mr. Hargreaves was therefore declared elected.

Having taken the chair, Mr. Hargreaves returned thanks for placing him in that position, although he would have been glad if it could have been more unanimous. He trusted that any little differences which had arisen would be forgotten, that "they would bury the hatchet" and that the meetings would be conducted with becoming decorum and success. The coming year would be one of some difficulty, although he was pleased to think that they had got the roads into good repair. Again thanking all, both those who had voted against him and those who had voted for him, he resumed his seat.

VICE-CHAIRMAN.—Mr. Holmes intimated his pleasure in proposing Mr. Oliver as vice-chairman. Mr. J. Hargreaves was equally gratified in seconding the proposal. Mr. Turner and Mr. Nowell interposed as to the legality of appointing a vice-chairman, and referred to sec. 5, sch. 1, in the Public Health Act, 1875, where no provision is made for any but a chairman, and in his abscene, a chairman to be chosen for the current meeting. It having been at once acknowledged that a vice-chairman is not required by law, Mr. Oliver expressed his resolve not to allow his name to go forward, and the motion at once fell to the ground.

COMMITTEES.—Mr. Turner wished to know whether it was the opinion of the Board that the chairman of the Board should be on all Committees ex officio. Mr. Hargreaves said that so far as he was concerned as chairman of the Board, he would prefer that the chairman should not be on any Committee but those he was elected upon. After remarks by Mr. J. Hargreaves, Mr. Newsome, and Mr. Lawton, it was agreed that the chairman of the Board shall only act on his own Committees.

HIGHWAY.—Messrs J. Holmes (chairman), W. Hargreaves, J. Dobson, and W. Lawton.
BUILDING.—Messrs J. Nowell (chairman), Dobson, Turner, and Newsome.
FINANCE.—Messrs W. Lawton (chairman), Oliver, Newsome, and J. Hargreaves.
SANITARY AND SEWAGE.—Messrs Newsome (chairman), Holmes, W. Hargreaves, and Dobson.
WATERWORKS.—Messrs J. Turner (chairman), W. Lawton, W. Hargreaves, and Oliver.
BYELAWS AND SLAUGHTER-HOUSES.—Messrs J. Oliver (chairman), Turner, Lawton, and Nowell.
COMPENSATION.—Messrs W. Hargreaves (chairman), Oliver, Lawton, and Holmes.
GAS LAMPS.—Messrs J. Hargreaves (chairman), Nowell, Holmes, and Turner.

ELECTION.—A cheque was granted for £15 17s., the cost of conducting the last election. Mr. Turner and Mr. Lawton asked for and received particulars of the bill.

SANITARY.—The chairman reported a very objectionable nuisance in Carlton Lane.

Mr. Newsome moved that the gullies in the district be cleansed once in three months at the expense of the Board. He believed that this was the only plan for having the work done regularly and satisfactorily, as many people would not look after the gullies belonging their own houses. Dr. Nowell strongly objected to the proposal, which would only lay an additional tax on the people, without securing commensurate advantage. Every occupier or owner should look after this matter himself, or otherwise be summoned; Mr. Dobson fully supported Dr. Nowell's objection. As there was no seconder, the motion fell through.

BALLOT.—Mr. Nowell proposed (as he had previously given notice) that a petition be presented to the Local Government Board, asking that the ballot may be substituted for the present cumbrous and unsatisfactory mode of election; he should also move a similar resolution six months hence. Mr. Newsome seconded. Mr. Oliver supported it, and suggested that the Parliamentary candidates should be asked to support an alteration of the law. The chairman said the same resolution was moved by him five years ago; the motion was carried.

POSTAL.—Dr. Nowell not having seen Mr. Leal, the Leeds postmaster, asked leave to adjourn his motion on this subject.

HIGHWAYS.—The award of Mr. Farrer as regards the Board and Mr. W. Bulmer, on account of the roads, was read, and a balance is due to the contractor for £32 6s. 6d., for which a cheque was at once granted.

WATER.—The clerk referred to a minute at last meeting, directing the prosecution of Mr. Derrick, of the Queen's Hotel, Stourton, for wilfully wasting the Board's water. He said that Mr. Derrick had been over, and expressing his regret, had offered a slight payment for loss of water; he now asked whether the Board would accept this compromise. Considerable discussion ensued, several members feeling it necessary to fulfil the resolution, while others offered extenuating evidence; Mr. Holmes eventually gave notice of his intention to move that the resolution be rescinded at next meeting.

Mr. Turner reported the result of certain examinations and tests made by Mr. Starkie and himself, and it appears that the pipes from Thwaite Gate to the reservoir are perfectly tight, but that two leakages have been discovered in Rothwell. These defects have been remedied, and the Inspector now reports the tests are most satisfactory.

Mr. Newsome, in accordance with his notice, now moved that a return of income and expenditure on water account be prepared and laid before the Board. Mr. Turner seconded the motion, which was carried. The clerk said that as the yearly accounts were now being prepared, it would not be possible to attend to this matter till after the audit; the collector also intimated that as the books for the current year are now all prepared, any alteration in the charges could not be carried out till next year.

DRAINAGE.—A letter was read from the Corporation, asking an interview with members of the Board, as regards the Woodhouse Cemetery drainage. After conversation, it was agreed to leave the matter for decision with the two medical officers, as agreed some months ago.

Plans were laid on the table for the drainage of Cross St., and it was resolved that plans and estimates of cost shall be forwarded to the Local Government Board for approval. Mr. Holmes neutral.

NEWSPAPER FOR THE BOARD.—Mr. Turner moved that a copy of the Rothwell Times be purchased by the Board to be kept for reference and inspection by the members; Mr. Lawton seconded the proposal. The chairman moved an amendment in opposition, unless the paper contained a full and correct report; Mr. Holmes seconded. Mr. Lawton said he supposed the editor could be censured if there was not a full report. (!) Some doubts were expressed whether that would do any good.(?) Dr. Nowell remarked that he would be sorry to have a verbatim report inflicted on the public, and that some of them would be ashamed to see their speeches given in full. (Mr. Newsome, "Speak for yourself, doctor.") (Laughter.) "Oh no, I speak specially in regard to Mr. Newsome." (Renewed laughter.) He thought the reports were a very fair, readable resumé of what had transpired. A suggestion was made that it be purchased fortnightly (for reports of the meetings only) but this was not voted on. The motion having been put, was carried, the chairman, Mr. Newsome and Mr. Holmes voting against.

FINANCE.—Mr. Turner moved that a balance sheet of the Board's accounts be published in the Rothwell Times as prepared by the Finance Committee, and after being certified by the auditor; he would like it rather more detailed than last year. The chairman seconded the proposition, which was carried.

The collector reported having received as follows during the fortnight:—

General District Rate	5	17	11
Miscellaneous	1	0	6
	£6	18	5

SUNDRY.—Mr. Turner asked if the voting papers were still in the hands of the returning officer. The clerk replied that they were not; they were in his keeping, and were open for inspection by any ratepayer during the ensuing six months.

Mr. Turner also asked what had been done about the resolution as regards the Gas Co.'s reserve fund. The clerk said he had carried out the provisions of the law, having sent a copy to the Local Government Board; he had had copies printed and affixed to all places of public worship, and was advertising it for three weeks in the local journal.

The further discussion of the subject was adjourned to next meeting.

[Perhaps our remrks last week, on the subject of reports, will be sufficient reply on the above question.—ED.]

BORAX—PATENT CALIFORNIAN, 'The Household Treasure—Pure Antiseptic,' is sold in small and family packets by all intelligent dealers, prepared and ready for immediate use, with full directions for all Personal and Domestic purposes, and suitable for Academies, Hotels, Hospitals, Asylums, Ships, Public Institutions, and all homes—from the mansion to the cottage—everywhere—everywhere.

ROTHWELL CONSERVATIVE MEETING.

Perhaps the most important political meeting ever held in Rothwell took place on Tuesday evening in the Mechanics' Hall, when a number of gentlemen of known ability and standing rallied round the Conservative candidate for this division, Lieut.-Col. Charlesworth, and addresses were delivered in view of the approaching Parliamentary election. There was a crowded attendance, members of the party being present from the surrounding country, while there were also a large number of intelligent, thoughtful working-men who have now become enfranchised, the Liberal element being strongly represented throughout the room.

Shortly after half-past seven, the chair was taken by J. Selwyn Calverley, Esq., who in a few short but effective remarks explained the object of the meeting. Most persons would know that at a general meeting of the party held in Wakefield, Lieut.-Col. Charlesworth was asked to contest the Normanton division, and he cordially hoped they would return him at the head of the poll, whenever the election took place. Letters of apology and regret for their inability to be present were read from the Right hon. Jas. Lowther, M.P., Mr. W. L. Jackson, M.P., Mr. Sanderson and Mr. Geo. Irwin. The chairman then asked Colonel Charlesworth to address the meeting, assured that no gentleman could have been found in the district better qualified than he to represent the division in Parliament.

Lieut.-Col. Charlesworth, on rising was received with prolonged applause, for which he cordially thanked those present, and he asked that, as he supposed they were not all of his party, they would still give to him and his friends a fair hearing. He had come among them, so as to become better acquainted with the inhabitants of Rothwell, and anticipated paying other visits shortly. Rothwell occupied a considerable position in the Normanton division, and when the election took place, would be of great importance. As a member of a firm employing a large number of workmen, he had great interest in the place and people, and although not a practised political speaker, he asked them to take him as he was. He had not the 'gift of the gab' as some people had, though he thought it possible to have too much sometimes. If the Government had had less 'gabble and bluster' the country would have been better off to-day. The 'bluster' began in those Midlothian speeches of Mr. Gladstone, when the country was carried away with promises which have never been fulfilled, and pledges which have never been redeemed. Speaking of the present foreign policy, he stated that whereas the late Lord Beaconsfield had stopped the Russians at the gates of Constantinople, and had gained a scientific frontier in Afghanistan, the present Government had undone all this work, and were now finding themselves forced to do the same work over again. In Egypt there was bloodshed, anarchy and bankruptcy. In 1880 that country was comparatively prosperous — its revenue actually exceeded its expenditure. Now the country was bankrupt, and recently we had to issue a loan in a manner very derogatory to the dignity of England, and that loan was needed to pay debts which had been incurred through our interference. (Cheers.) We had now something like 15,000 troops in Egypt, and no one knew what we were going to do there. Had it not been for the imbecility of the Government, a twentieth part of our army might have accomplished a year ago the work now being done by the flower of our troops, Gordon might have been still alive, and Khartoum not have fallen. Five years ago, the great cry was a promise of peace, retrenchment and reform, and good trade. As to 'peace,' there have not been six consecutive months in which we have not been at war. Instead of retrenchment, the expenditure is now 89 millions, and Mr. Bright says it should never exceed 70 millions. The income tax was promised to be abolished, and yet the expenditure of the last four years of the present Government is 14 millions more than the last four years of the Beaconsfield Cabinet. As to trade, it has not improved; foreign markets are being gradually closed to us. There is no confidence in the Government, and until we have confidence in the Government protecting our interests, trade cannot revive. Although not a protectionist, he held that the question of fair trade would have to be taken into consideration, especially as regards our own colonies, so as to give them an advantage over foreign countries. Though he would not impose a tax on corn, he would advocate an enquiry how far hostile tariffs injured our trade, and endeavour to consolidate the empire more fully by giving every advantage to our own colonies. As they have shewn their sympathy with us by sending military assistance in our difficulty in the Soudan, so we should do what we can for them by fostering and encouraging their trade, and not slight them as has lately been done. In referring to Mr. Pickard, the other candidate, the speaker said that while glad to speak on the subject to the miners present, he did not think that they would wish to shut out other interests and trades, by having a member who would simply represent the miners of the division. Mr. Pickard advocated disestablishment; the speaker did not. He thought it was the first step towards the disestablishment of the constitution of the country. As regards education, he deprecated the removal of religious instruction in day schools, believing that religion was the backbone of the British constitution. He had been told that he went in for that grand old Tory policy "Beer and the Bible." Well, he did not know it was a very bad policy, after all. At any rate he was not in favour of local option, which he thought interfered with the liberty of the subject, neither could he quite agree with the Sunday closing movement. Although intemperance was a great curse, it could not be cured by Act of Parliament, but by advancement in moral and social education; at the same time, he fully appreciated the great benefits resulting from the efforts of the temperance party. He was resolved to fight the battle in a straight and manly way, hoping Mr. Pickard would do the same. He had been brought forward by others, he had not pushed himself into his present position, and he was willing to assist, if possible, in furthering the interests of his country. He earnestly asked the assistance of his local friends, and promised, with their help, to leave no stone unturned so as to secure a successful issue on the day of election.

Mr. Calverley rose to propose the first resolution, setting forth that Colonel Charlesworth is a fit and proper person to represent the Normanton division in Parliament. He stated that the question before the audience was whether they should be represented by Colonel Charlesworth or Mr. Pickard. He believed that numbers of Liberals were not in favour of Mr. Pickard. He did not know Mr. Pickard, but he had been carefully studying his speeches as reported in the Wakefield Express. He knew Colonel Charlesworth, and although his election might not commend itself to all present, he believed he would well represent all classes, being both a landowner and an employer of labour, or having the qualifications of both their late members, Messrs. Stanhope and Starkey. He warmly opposed the idea of having a paid member for that division, as being derogatory to his independence and character, and would not like to have a representative who might receive a notice from his committee intimating that unless he voted in a certain manner the supplies should be stopped. It was not Mr. Pickard's fault that he was poor and uneducated, but his misfortune; he hoped, however, he should never see a paid member for the Normanton division. Mr. Calverley also pointed out that Mr. Pickard was the representative of the miners, who were not one tenth of the total number of electors. He denied that "only a miner could represent miners" as had been stated, and referred to the Colonel's grandfather with pride and pleasure. He had seen three or four generations of workpeople all employed by the same firm, who had always stood by their men in good times and bad times. They had given assistance and sympathy in times of distress, and in spite of the disastrous strikes going on around them, harmony and good feeling was still maintained between Messrs. Charlesworth and their employés. On these grounds he very warmly supported Colonel Charlesworth, as representing every man, woman and child in the division, as a fit and proper person to become their member.

Mr. Ed. Green (the Conservative candidate for Wakefield), seconded the resolution in a vigorous and well delivered address, setting forth his opinion that an ultimatum ought long since to have been sent to Russia. Although war was a terrible thing, there was a worse thing than that, the loss of honour. This, he considered had been the policy of this Government Their "Grand old man" (loud applause from a number of persons in the hall) had been acting like a great big baby, that sits down and cries because he cannot get his own way (counter cheers greeted the latter part of the sentence). [As it was evident, references to Mr. Gladstone would cause irritation and opposition, Mr. Green confined his remarks to the two candidates.] They had two candidates, Mr. Pickard and Colonel Charlesworth. He objected to Mr. Pickard being called the miners' friend, holding that his action had been against the miners by fomenting strikes, and preventing work being carried on. Why did Mr. Pickard not stay at home, and get a seat in his own district. He believed they had turned him out at Barnsley, his own town, and he had got a seat on the School Board at Wakefield, where he did not pay a single penny of rate, while he (Mr. Green) was one of the largest ratepayers and had to pay large amounts which Mr. Pickard helped to lay in rates. He trusted all would support Colonel Charlesworth as the representative of both labour and capital, instead of a political demagogue and democratic partizan. The resolution, on being put, was carried with two dissentients.

Mr. Percy Tew, of Wakefield, moved the second resolution. "That the foreign policy of the Government had rendered it unworthy of the confidence of the nation." He proposed this motion with regret, because this want of confidence affected them all, both in matters of trade and in loss of national prestige. He said that the present Government had been afflicted with three diseases, which he might describe as Francomania, Russo-mania, and Turcophobia, weakening and damaging our influence among other nations, and tending to disaster and dissatisfaction to ourselves.

Mr. Jos. Charlesworth, in seconding the resolution, fully endorsed the fact that in its foreign policy the Government had miserably failed and urged the necessity for a thorough change. In order to secure this end, he was sure they could not do better than support his cousin, Colonel Charlesworth, whom he heartily recommended as being able to represent all parties and classes. Especially was he well qualified to represent the interests of the coal trade, his firm having been longer in the business and better acquainted with it than Mr. Pickard could be. He knew one thing the miners wanted, and that was more money, and he asked them to look at both sides of the question, and see which party had done most for them, the Liberals or Conservatives. He earnestly urged all voters that whenever the election came on, they should be early at the poll, and vote for Colonel Charlesworth, a course they would never regret.

Mr. C. H. Green, of Lofthouse, was called on to support the resolution, which he was only able to do very briefly, owing to a severe cold from which he was suffering.

The third resolution was proposed by Mr. C. E. Charlesworth, expressing continued confidence in the present leaders of the party, the Marquis of Salisbury and Sir Stafford Northcote. Arguing from Mr. Bright's advice to a Durham elector, not to vote for any class candidate, whether miner, labourer, or land owner, but for the man who would best represent the people as a whole, and who would be careful to protect their interests, he proceeded to state objections to Mr. Pickard who was the miners' candidate, and commended Colonel Charlesworth, who was selected to represent all interests. Designating the policy of the present Government as very flabby, he wished to ask whether they approved of it, and after describing the touching spectacle he had witnessed in London, of hundreds of people with uncovered heads gathered round the primrose-covered monument of the late Lord Beaconsfield, he urged all present to support the Conservative party by returning Colonel Charlesworth. He concluded by quoting two acrostics on 'Primrose,' describing the character of the rival parties.

Mr. Shuttleworth seconded the resolution in an excellent address, shewing up the good qualities of the present leaders, after which the motion was put, and carried, though a large number of hands were held up in opposition.

Rev. F. Fawkes, vicar of Rothwell, said he was brought up in the straitest sect of Whiggism, and it had been through much tribulation that he became a Conservative. He intended to record his vote for Colonel Charlesworth, and also to use his influence to secure his return, believing him to be the best man to represent all interests. He held in his hand a primrose, and he was heartily in accord with the objects of the Primrose league. The Primrose league meant an embodiment of those institutions which have ever been dear to Englishmen. It meant the preservation of an ancient monarchy; the retention of the three estates of the realm—the love of Queen and country, the consolidation of a great empire, the good of the church, with religious freedom and toleration; the well-considered promotion of every social reform which can further the welfare of the people. Speaking on the relations between capital and labour, he thought the proper thing to do in matters of advancing wages, was for the master to say to his men "you are now a better servant and are worth more money," rather than the men to have to demand it of the masters. He had seen many strikes when he lived in the Barnsley district, and had known the suffering and trouble they caused. He did not pity the men so much, but he pitied the poor women and children. He said paying a shilling a week to Mr. Pickard was like the "dog eating its tail to keep itself." Rather did he commend the plan adopted by Messrs. Charlesworth and their workpeople, whereby they now had plenty of work, while others were in the midst of a dispute. If the workmen under Messrs. Charlesworth had a grievance, they could go at once to their employers, and they usually managed to get good terms. He heartily commended Colonel Charlesworth's claims to their support, and moved that the best thanks of the meeting be presented to the gentlemen who had come to assist them in securing his return at the head of the poll.

Mr. J. G. Turner briefly seconded the vote of thanks, feeling quite sure that if they all followed the example of their president, that Colonel Charlesworth would come in by a large majority. The motion was carried.

Colonel Charlesworth, in moving the thanks of the meeting to the chairman, expressed his pleasure also in thanking those who, though not sharing the views of his friends and himself, had listened so attentively and quietly to their addresses, and he hoped that whenever Mr. Pickard came among them, that the same courtesy would be shewn by any Conservatives who might attend his meetings.

Mr. Harms, in seconding the proposition, did so both personally and on behalf of the Association of which he had the honour to be secretary. Their thanks were specially due to Mr. Selwyn Calverley, because he had had to travel from the South on purpose to attend this meeting. He had been greatly pleased that in such meetings as these, opportunities occurred for the better acquaintance of landowners with working people, and felt sure that this would be greatly to the benefit of the Conservative cause. He trusted that at some future day, they would have the pleasure of seeing their present chairman occupying a similar position to Colonel Charlesworth's, and that he would by-and-bye represent some constituency in Parliament. The vote of thanks was carried unanimously. The meeting then broke up.

ROTHWELL SCHOOL BOARD.

The monthly meeting of this Board, was held on Friday afternoon, present—Messrs W. Hargreaves, J. G. Turner, J. R. Seanor, J. Batty, W. Lawton, and the clerk, head teachers, and attendance officer.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

Petition.—A petition advocating the Sunday closing of public houses was ordered to be signed —unanimous.

Finance.—Cheques were granted for the following amounts: Rothwell Haigh salaries £41 14s. 2d., Rothwell £28 10s. 0d., Loan Commission £92 14s. 9d., Drawing grants £4 12s. 6d., Accounts £85 7s. 5d.

The clerk presented an estimate of income and expenditure for the current six months ending September 26, from which it appeared there would be a deficiency of £506 10s. 0d. Precepts were ordered £500 on Rothwell, and £6 10s. 0d. on Thorp Stapleton.

The treasurer had received during the month £130 10s. 0d. payment on precepts, Rothwell Haigh fees £13 6s. 4d, Rothwell £9 7s. 8d., and £4 12s. 6d. drawing grants.

Miss Greaves, Mrs. Dobson, Miss Walkington, Mr. Nicholson, and Mr. Harms, attended the meeting and had seperate interviews with the Board respecting their several schools. They also reported certain parents who are in arrears, and a resolution was passed to summons them for the amounts due.

In two or three cases payment of fees were excused, and in others orders were made for the parents to pay themselves in future.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

Mr. Alfred J. Whitworth, head master of St. Jude's boys' school, Hunslet, and a resident of Stourton, has just received an appointment from the Government as Assistant to Her Majesty's Inspector of schools in the district of Croydon and Epsom. We understand he leaves Stourton for his new sphere of labour on the 30th of the present month.

Parties visiting E. Miller's Furnishing Dépôt, 22, North Street, Leeds, often express their regret at not having called sooner!

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

Occasional Notes.

The Parish Mission which is proceeding in Woodlesford this week is monopolising people's thoughts and conversation at present. Large congregations are filling the church every evening, to listen with rapt attention to the earnest words of the missioner, the Rev. J. R. Willsey. Services are held at short intervals during the day, so that an opportunity is offered to everybody to attend some of them. The principal services are of course those of the evening. At these a regular succession of subjects arising naturally out of each other, are being treated upon in the sermons by the missioner, and the whole are cleverly interwoven together by a sort of connective address which follows each sermon. In this "instruction" the preacher gives a short summary of the teaching which has gone before, explains its connection with the sermon just preached, and gives some indication of the subject of the next evening's sermon. Those who can only attend some of the services are thus enabled to form an intelligible idea of the whole of the teaching which the mission is intended to bring forward. The special services for "mothers" and for "women only" have been well attended; and a very successful meeting was held at the Brewery, (Messrs H. Bentley and Co.) for workpeople and railway employés on Monday at noon. A children's service was held on Sunday afternoon, and this was followed by an address to "men only," by the missioner. There was a large gathering at this service and the effect produced by the deep-toned voices of the men singing the hymns unaccompanied, was both striking and impressive. The children's service and the special address to men, will be repeated on Sunday afternoon next. The last evening "mission" service will be held on Monday next, and the mission will be brought to a close by a celebration of Holy Communion on Tuesday morning.

That the consequences of the lock-out amongst the miners have reached an acute stage already, is made plain from the fact that they are driven by sheer distress to seek alms and food from door to door. Much sympathy is felt for the sufferings entailed upon the families, and there is a general disposition to help them, but the system of indiscrimate almsgiving is unsatisfactory and opens the door to imposition. Would it not be worth while for the local miners to appoint a committee of several of the best known amongst them, to whom contributions of money, or supplies, could be sent by the charitably disposed, and who would be a guarantee that such contributions would be distributed where the need for relief was most pressing.

TOWN TALK.

To say that Sunday last was "Primrose Day" would be superfluous; nobody could be unaware of the fact. The anniversary of the day on which that celebrated diplomatist and clever politician, the Earl of Beaconsfield, died, is nationally observed by the wearing of a simple primrose, the noble Earl's favourite flower. In and about Rothwell there were many who wore on their breast the little emblem of "sadness," shewing their sorrow for the death, and admiration of the life, of one of England's greatest statesmen. This is a very acceptable way of marking the time when the great Tory leader passed away, and the Liberal section, both public speakers and press organs, shew a marked spirit of jealousy and envy, when they indulge in their paltry scoffs and sneers, at this custom of the opposite party. A rather amusing story was told me by a friend of mine this week, the truth of which I can warrant. A certain old lady residing just outside the village was indulging this week in a retrospective view of the Beaconsfield administration and its accomplishments; then coming down to later days she enumerated the many troubles in which we are entangled abroad; the "wars and rumours of wars," lay heavy on her mind; he prospect was blacker than the present, the present worse than the past. The conclusion was the amusing part of the story, she said "They wear a Primrose for Mr. Beaconsfield, I think they'll have to wear a Love-lies-bleeding when Mr. Gladstone dies." Ha! Ha! Ha!

.. ..

The miners out on strike are striking while the iron is hot. It strikes one that it must be a good job they have in hand. Without jesting, they have come on us heavy this week. Five or six appeals for help in one day has been the regular thing. I should like to know what is the benefit they receive from the union; they have paid to the union, they worked to support the union, so that they might be prepared for a time of need. That time of need has now arrived, is it found to do its work? if it does, why do they so constantly solicit our help? If it does not, it is a failure, and it is to be hoped the miners will learn a lesson this time. To all appearances it will be a struggle in which the masters will get the best of it. The men will be compelled to go in at a reduction. There is not sufficient unity in their aim and purpose to make a union succeed. While other mines are putting out coal at the fastest speed possible, the market will not suffer so much as to compel the masters to yield.

It was my pleasure to attend the meeting of the Rothwell Conservative Association on Tuesday at the Mechanics' Institute. Taking the meeting as a whole I think it was a good one, and it must have been gratifying to the promoters to see their efforts succeed so well. Mr. Selwyn Calverley occupied the chair, and is to be highly complimented on the very admirable way in which he conducted the meeting: in making his maiden speech, he "made a very good one" as Mr. Harms put it, and I hope he will not let his first appearance on a Rothwell platform be his last. Colonel Charlesworth did very much better than might have been expected, judging from his attempts at speaking, when he opened the last Church Bazaar. What he said was good in many respects; his remarks about Local option, and Sunday closing will not suit a good many, but still he managed to get by those two points very nicely. He is frank, open and straight forward, and has a good prospect of strong support in Rothwell. Mr. Edward Green, of Wakefield was decidedly the best speaker; his remarks about the "Grand Old Man" being a "big baby" was however an indication that he himself was not entirely free from childish talk, and infantile ways. The audience stopped his little game when he began abusing Mr. Gladstone, and it was amusing to see how he turned to the matter as expressed in the resolution, because the time was short, as he put it. One thing was proved during Mr. Green's speech, viz:—that the audience respected the G. O. M. whether they liked Mr. Pickard or no. Mr. Calverley's speech was concise and pointed, and did good service to his party, and I also think that Mr. Percy Tew gave us some good ideas on "Francomania, Russomania, and Turcophobia." The Rev. F. Fawkes, our own vicar, gave us his political view also; he told us in addition, that he did not pity the men of Denaby Main Colliery, but he did pity the women and children, and he also informed us that in his opinion, the masters were the right persons to fix wages, and that the men should wait until the masters came to them and told them that they had found it convenient to give them an advance. I think that is putting the men out altogether; they have mutual interest and their money affairs should be arrived at mutually. Mr. Fawkes is the pastor of the parish of Rothwell, which is composed of Liberals and Conservatives, and even Radicals and Bradlaughites. In view of this fact, he would have befriended himself more, and pleased his audience better, had he done the same as he did on another ocassion recently, when he was tempted to indulge—refrained.

GOSSIP.

CARLTON WATER SUPPLY.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

On Saturday morning last, I was somewhat surprised at seeing in your issue of the previous day, a paragraph stating that the scarcity of water in Carlton and district was over, or nearly so. I thought your information was incorrect, but as I might be wrong, I mentioned the matter to five different persons residing in various parts of the district. On being asked if the supply was in moderate quantity the first replied in the negative. The second said—"I should like to know where the water is coming from! there is none at Rothwell Haigh or Robin Hood;" the third said—"Four of my family have had to wash themselves in one water this week;" the fourth said—"We have none in our neighbourhood;" and the fifth said—"I do not know where it is, as we have none." There are no public wells at Rothwell Haigh, Robin Hood, or Brighteye, and the whole of the supply is in private hands, and can be stopped at any time the owners think proper to do so. Rothwell Haigh has three sources of supply. Of these, one is totally unfit for domestic use, and the other two are both of them very hard. One has already failed and the other two are showing signs of doing so. At Robin Hood and Brighteye, the only available supply is pumped from the pits, and is altogether unfit for domestic use. At North-field the supply is short, and quality very indifferent. West-field is supplied by two wells, and the sewage finds it way into both. At Carlton, from one end to the other of the village, their is no public well, and the inhabitants have to depend mainly on the New Close well at one end, and the Carr well at the other. The New close well is at any time liable to contamination, and as mining operations progress, the supply may be cut off or materially diminshed. The quality of the water at the Carr well is very indifferent, and may at any time be further deteriorated. The truth is that more than one half of the population have at present a very scanty supply, and unless copious showers fall within the next fortnight or three weeks, it will be scantier still.

I should like to ask what the Parochial committee is doing in this matter? On or about the 18th of December, a meeting was held at Robin Hood school, at which certain plans were explained and a committee appointed to examine them and make arrangements for obtaining a supply. Shortly afterwards another meeting was held at Lofthouse, which deposed the committee previously appointed, and deputed the parochial committee to do the same work. Several meetings of this committee have since been held but no business has been done that I can hear of except drinking a few glasses of grog and then going home again. At one meeting only two of the members attended, and at another only one; and in this way the interests of Lofthouse with Carlton are attended to by this committee. I hope some of them will reply to this letter, and explain their conduct.

I am,
Yours truly,
W. MITCHELL.

[Our correspondent last week refers to Lofthouse in his letter, he does not mention Carlton.—Ed.]

VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the Individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has cast about him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. Having been thirty-five years in the trade, in the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was naturally 'up to all the wrinkles.' The middle men, known by the names of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of Manufacturers, who arranged to supply his Establishment at the cost of materials and men's time in the making. In short, placing the Goods before the public, at single articles at wholesale prices. The management is still under R. Scott's personal control, who takes this opportunity of thanking his Patrons in the past, and hopes to receive anew a mark of their confidence. In future the firm will be known as Scott & Co., Goldsmiths, Silversmiths, Opticians, Watch and Clock Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.

If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly restored by good workmen. Scott & Co. guarantee their work for 12 months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made as new, on very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes close, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above-named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety one cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), London, England. This syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of system.

Throat Affections and Hoarseness.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each Box.—Prepared by John I. Brown & Sons, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

Advice to Mothers!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it soften the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

IS RHEUMATISM CURABLE? Yes, if you take WOODCOCK'S RHEUMATIC MIXTURE. THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name Consumption Emulsion. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 143 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find there is a gain of weight even after it has been used." Such a testimony as this speaks volumes for the efficiency of Phthisicon. In addition, it has proved of immense value as a curative agent in the early stages of [illegible] Disease and Scrofula; in fact, wherever there is impaired nutrition or lack of nerve power, its action is almost certain. It can be obtained of all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s. and 21s. per bottle. Wholesale of Barclay and Sons, Farringdon-street, London, E.C.; or of W. B. Frick, J.P.S., 93, Green-lanes London, N

ONE BOX OF CLARKE'S B41 PILLS is warranted to cure all discharges from the Urinary Organs, in either sex (acquired or constitutional), Gravel, and Pains in the Back. Guaranteed free from Mercury. Wholesale Agents, Barclay & Sons, London, and all the Wholesale Houses.

DEAR FRED,

You will be surprised at receiving a letter from me, but thank God, I am pleased to say am getting better every day. I shall be so glad to breathe the fresh air again. It has seemed a dreadful long time to be in bed. You know I was taken to the Hospital last April to be treated for Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Well, on the 31st of July they tapped me, and took away 304 ounces of water. The same thing was done again on the 18th September, and 408 ounces of water obtained. On the 9th October I was discharged from the Hospital as incurable. In January this year (the 20th), was again tapped at home and 390 ounces of water taken away. The St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London refused me admission as a hopeless case, and the Bartholomew Hospital, Chatham, also refused me, as being the worst case they had seen for years, and two local doctors gave me up as hopeless. When I came from the Hospital it took three to put me to bed. My clothes had to be cut off. I was an object of misery and despair. After the Hospitals had refused me, and doctors given me up, my wife persuaded me to try Hop Bitters, and from the commencement have improved daily. I have only taken them seven weeks and can now get downstairs and walk about without even a stick. With the aid of a few more bottles of the Bitters shall be well again. The water has entirely left my body and legs. The only trace left is in my feet. It is a wonderful medicine. I wish I had tried it sooner, as I have nearly ruined myself and family with doctors' bills and other expenses. I might have been well long ago. At the Hospital I had no appetite whatever, but since using the Bitters eat everything with a relish. The only difficulty is the expense, but must not mind that so long as I am getting well. Am cheerful now that recovery is near, for every one had given me up as a bad job. With best wishes to . . . .

I remain,
Your affectionate Brother,
(Signed) William Grayson.
1, Bush Terrace, Cage Lane,
Chatham, March 14, 1885.

To the Hop Bitters Co., London.
Gentlemen,—I enclose letter from my brother-in-law, Wm. Grayson, Chatham. He considers he owes his life to your Hop Bitters, and feels he cannot say enough in its praise.
Yours truly,
Fred. Stammers.
20, Castle Street, London.

LATER.
Chatham, March 24.
Since I wrote you ten days ago I have improved wonderfully. To-day I walked to the barber's shop (and got shaved), and back again by myself without fatigue. This is the first time I have been out alone since last April—over eleven months.
William Grayson.

HIGH AUTHORITY.
Dr. THOMPSON says Kidney Disease is probably next to Consumption the commonest cause of death among adults in this climate. You have had a recent and mysterious attack of asthma, pains in the back and around the loins, severe headaches, dizziness, inflamed eyes, a coated tongue and a dry mouth, loss of appetite, chilly sensation, indigestion (the stomach never is in order when the kidneys or liver are deranged), dryness of the skin, nervousness, night sweats, muscular debility, despondency, a tired feeling (especially at night), puffing or bloating under the eyes, and your muscular system seems utterly helpless. Dr. Roberts, of England; Prof. Thompson, of New York; and other celebrated authorities tell us that all these symptoms are sure indications of Bright's Disease! With some patients the disease runs slowly and for years. With others it comes as a thief in the night. This fact is an alarming one, and startles the inquiry, What can be done?

HOP BITTERS for the CURE of Kidney and Liver Complaints have no equal in the world, and those suffering from any of the above symptoms should use them at once.

THE VOTE OF CREDIT.

There was a significance, which Europe and the world will not overlook, in the gratifying fact that the Vote of Credit for eleven millions was granted, in Committee in the House of Commons, after that masterly speech of Mr. Gladstone, without one dissentient voice. The situation is now entirely changed from the difficulty in 1880; and it is Russian aggressiveness in Central Asia, threatening the independence of Afghanistan and the security of the Indian Empire, that requires to be decisively checked once for all. With the exception of a small minority, who prate about an impossible arbitration, there is only one opinion throughout the country, as to the course which should be adopted in the present grave crisis, and the cheering which greeted Mr. Gladstone at the close of his Vote of Credit speech in the House of Commons, shows that the attitude the Government have adopted, as indicated by the Prime Minister's tone in conducting the negotiations with the Russian Government, has the entire approval of both parties in Parliament. If the Russians had contented themselves with subduing, and bringing into a state of settled order, the lawless Turkoman tribes of Central Asia, they would have been regarded as carrying out a needful and beneficial civilising mission; but the unscrupulous and headstrong manner in which General Komaroff has been conducting operations at the Afghan frontier makes it only too evident that there is an intention of invading the Ameer's dominions and capturing Herat, with the ulterior object of making a conquering descent upon the plains of India. The nation is agreed on the absolute necessity of the full strength of the Empire, in its military and naval resources, being put forth to render any such ambitious attempts impossible, and to maintain Britain in the proud and pre-eminent position she has so long worthily held as the leading Power of the world, and the promoter of civilisation to the uttermost ends of the earth. The statement of the Prime Minister, which was to the effect that the last conditions had been laid down, and that it was now entirely for the Russian Government to settle the question of peace or war, renders it almost certain that the latter course will be decided upon, and it is satisfactory to know that this country could hardly be in a better state of preparedness for entering upon the great struggle, than at the present moment. It is singularly fortunate that, just when a strain is expected to be put upon our resources, there is every reason to believe that no danger will be incurred by the early removal of the greater number of the troops from the Soudan—a step which the Government, acting under the advice of Lord Wolseley, are understood to have in contemplation. The Madhi has enough to do in holding his own against a formidable rival; Osman Digna has got enough of it, and retired to the back ground, and there is really nothing now, after General Gordon's death, rendering it at all needful for any British troops to undergo the hardships of an advance upon Khartoum. A large body of picked troops will thus be set free at what may be regarded as the nick of time, and the New South Wales contingent, by way of showing that the British Empire is full of vitality at all points, have cheerfully offered themselves for service in India or elsewhere whenever their campaign in the Soudan comes to an end.

THE AFGHAN QUESTION.

ENGLISH PROPOSAL OF ARBITRATION.

The Standard of this morning says—We are able to state, upon unquestionable authority, that the present position of the Afghan dispute is this:—

The proposal of Mr. Gladstone's Cabinet is that Russia and England should agree to submit to the arbitration of some one of the crowned heads of Europe the simple question whether the arrangement of the 17th March has been broken by Russia.

The proposal is now under the consideration of the Government of the Czar, and it has been decided to convoke a meeting of the Committee of Ministers at Gatchina to consider the question.

Mr. Gladstone had an agreeable surprise in store for the House last night in the latest information from Sir P. Lumsden, to the effect that the report of the Russian advance on Meruchak is 'quite unfounded.'

THE BUDGET.

Mr. Childers last night explained his Budget proposals, with very great clearness and skill. Rarely has a financial statement been expected with so much interest. Everybody knew that there would be a heavy deficit, but a thrill of sensation ran through the House when Mr. Childers announced that he had a deficit of £14,912,000 to meet. The Tories gave a half-ironical, half-satisfied cheer, and it was evident that they at least regarded the financial difficulties of the Government with satisfaction. Mr. Childers proposes to meet this deficit partly by increased taxation and partly by suspension of the payment of the Debt. He proposes to raise the income-tax to 8d., which will give him £5,400,000; to equalise the legacy and succession duties; to increase the duty on spirits by 2s. a gallon, the beer duty by 1s. a barrel, and to make some small changes on the stamp duties. The new taxes will produce altogether £7,600,000, leaving about the same sum to be provided by the suspension of the debt, of which £4,600,000 will be obtained this year, and £2,812,000 next.

Holloway's Ointment & Pills.—Coughs, Influenza—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally, and the ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceedingly efficacious. When influenza is epidemic, this treatment is the easiest, safest and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of escaping from suffering when afflicted with colds, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which the health of so many is seriously and permanently injured in most countries.

THE Golden Cup Cocoa House, 157, Briggate.—The new premises are now complete and the accommodation greatly improved.

THE WAR EXCITEMENT IN NEW SOUTH WALES.

The news that the British Government had accepted the offer of military assistance from New South Wales reached Sydney on a Sunday, being handed to the Acting Colonial Secretary, the Hon. W. B. Dalley, as he was returning from a complimentary banquet held up country on the previous evening. The substance of the despatch was speedily made known in the city, carried from mouth to mouth as the people after services flocked from the churches. Telegrams were also received later on, stating that the offer had been accepted out of compliment to the Colony, and that Her Majesty the Queen had personally expressed her high appreciation of the generous and spontaneous offer of assistance from New South Wales to England. The excitement was tremendous. It was as if an electric shock had passed through the whole Colony. "Late on that Sunday night," says a Sydney paper, "a grizzled old soldier, holding the rank of sergeant-major, lay quietly in bed, oblivious of the news that had arrived. Rat-a-tat-tat came a knock to the door. Rubbing the sleep from his eyes, he slowly turned out of bed and went to answer the call. A 'full private,' in his scarlet jumper, stood there stiff and straight as a post. 'Ordered to the front, Sergeant-Major,' was the curt message. The sleep left the old veteran's eyes. He straightened himself, and with every nerve thrilling through his body, answered 'Ready!' When next morning the announcement of the acceptance of our troops was published in official form, and the Government called for volunteers, there was but one cry from north to south, from east to west—'Ready!' From little country villages hid away in the forest, from dusty towns out upon the parched plains, came pouring in telegrams the reply, "We will send our five men," cried a tiny settlement. 'We will send our twenty,' cried another. 'Here, take our hundred, and God bless the old land,' cried still another; and so the answers came. Old men whose legs were stiff found them lissome, as, their eyes brightening at the news, they cried, 'Hurrah for Old England!' and offered to carry a gun in the regiment and spill their blood for mother land. Women, not only in our midst but from far off Colonies, said, 'Send us to nurse the wounded; let us play our part'; and young girls, as Elaine for Lancelot, sat down to work the standards to be carried in the war. And far and near, from the squatter in the back blocks to the merchant in the city, came rich gifts of money. 'Take this, and more we have to give,' they said. And those who gave not in money gave in kind. Depôts were formed, and one might laugh right heartily at some of the strange gifts that came pouring in, were it not that they were given with the heart to do something at this great time. In a couple of days chaos was reduced to order, and the work went on speedily and regularly, but the enthusiasm never flagged. It was no passing passion, but a deep-seated, firmly-rooted desire that filled men's hearts. We read—'The Commandant has received with gratification and wonder the urgent appeals of staid business men, surrounded with families and many other ties, not to refuse them the privilege of serving the Empire.' Old military officers, who had turned their swords into ploughshares, and had never dreamed of war again, brightened the dull metal of their cast-off uniforms, and buckling the belt around them, turned once more to war. Young men whose eyes had never seen the lands beyond the ocean, but who had the love of England with the life from their mothers' breast, threw down the axe or the stockwhip, and came into the city to give their lives for the Empire. It was a rich burst of chivalry that lifted men out of the lite of every day into an atmosphere of generous emotion and exalted feeling. The excitement caused by the acceptance of the colonial offer of troops was no less great in the country than in the metropolis. Each day brought news of the departure of country volunteers for Sydney. The enthusiasm was manifested in all manner of ways. The volunteers were escorted by torchlight processions to the railway stations, a patriotic address having been delivered on the way by the local Mayor from the balcony of the chief hotel, which for the time became a fountain at which all quenched their thirst. Then, amid the hurrahs of the whole population, down to the babes in arms, the 'Soudan lads' took their seats in the carriages, the fife and drum bands striking up 'The girl I left behind me,' and with a final cheer that hid the sobs of many a wife, sister or mother, the train moved off, and not till it was lost to sight did handkerchiefs cease to flutter or the cheering stop. The news was wired down the lines, and each station was crowded with people, who cheered the lads as they passed through. Along the coast at the seaport towns the same hearty feeling manifested itself. Commanding officers of local corps delivered heroic speeches to the volunteers; ladies decorated them with ribbons of red, white, and blue; Mayors made very vehement if not strictly grammatical orations, and poured out libations of strong liquor to the god Mars. Electric lights, blue lights, red lights, green lights, and every other sort of light were burned. Everybody wanted to shake hands with them; they were no longer referred to as men but as 'heroes'; they were glorified in the local newspapers, lauded by town councils, and held up as patterns by rustic parsons. During these two exciting weeks there was no prouder boast of a mother than 'My boy has gone to the war.'

WOODLESFORD CHURCH.

THE PARISH MISSION.

In November last a small gathering of members of the congregation of the above church, met at the invitation of the vicar to consider the advisability of holding a 'mission' in the parish. It was decided to go on with it, and in a New Year's address to his parishioners, the vicar was able to announce that he had secured the services of the Rev. T. R. Willacy, vicar of Thorganby, near York, as missioner. Subsequently, at a vestry meeting, a number of ladies undertook the task of preparing people for the coming 'mission;' and for the last two or three months, every house in the parish has been regularly visited once a week for that purpose. It is to the persevering and earnest efforts of these churchworkers that much of the success which has attended the mission, must be attributed.

There seems to be but one opinion as to the qualifications of the missioner for the serious and responsible nature of his work. He is pre-eminently fitted for a teacher. From the commencement of the mission on the 18th, to its close last Tuesday, he has excited and sustained an ever-growing interest in the services. There has been throughout a marked absence of mere emotional excitement. The most powerful appeals of the missioner were made in calm and persuasive accents to the better instincts, the higher nature, the reason and conscience of his hearers. His aim was not to stimulate sentimental feeling, but to fix in the minds of those he addressed, a deep-rooted determination to live a higher, purer, and more unselfish life; and to do this from the highest motives. Not merely for the sake of gaining heaven, or escaping punishment, but because all sin was grievous to God, as a violation of the law of our being, which is union with God, in Whose image we are made, and Who is the one and only Good of the soul. Commencing with this central idea, the preacher shewed how sin—"the transgression of the law of our being"—severs the union of the soul with God, and described the degradation and hopelessness of this unnatural state. The sinner was made to realise his true position in relation to God, and he was shewn how he wilfully kept His influence at arm's length, and even cast His love behind him, until by his final impenitence he compels God to confirm this severance for ever. In an eloquent sermon on the Prodigal Son, the missioner shewed how ready, and even eager, God is to meet the sinner if he will but turn to Him. Plainly and simply, step by step, God's method of dealing with the penitent was set forth. The conditions — true repentance, self-examination, and confession of sins to God were most minutely and practically explained; and the mistakes and errors arising from teaching based upon a shallow theology, pointed out. Following these in methodical order, were given descriptions of God's great gifts:—Faith, in its dual aspect—the substance believed in, and the power to believe; Hope, Love, and finally the Crown of Life; each separate division of the subject receiving exhaustive treatment in the sermons and 'instructions.' The last sermon, on Monday evening, from the text Rev. ii, 10, was a stirring exhortation to perseverance. We are to be 'faithful;' that is, not only full of belief in the faith, but full of fidelity to the end. This concluding service was a special thanksgiving, and differed from the penitential character of those which had gone before. At the close of the first part of the service, the Te Deum was sung, and 'memorial cards' distributed to the congregation. During the performance of the Hallelujah Chorus on the organ, those who did not wish to remain left the church, but a very large proportion remained behind to hear the last words of the missioner, and to receive 'resolution cards.' This was a most impressive and solemn service, and not likely to be soon forgotten by those who were present at it.

It is impossible within the limits of a short notice to give more than a bare outline of the general plan of the ten days' mission work. Besides the evening mission services, there was daily morning prayer and evensong with 'instruction' followed by Intercession. An address to workpeople was given every day at noon, and special services were held in the afternoon at three for 'women' only and for 'mothers.' Each Sunday afternoon there was a special address by the missioner to men only, the first on the dignity of manhood, the second on the degradation of that dignity; these were well attended. There were also children's services conducted by the assistant missioner, the Rev. E. A. Ommanney, of St. John's, Kennington, who also officiated at the daily celebration of Holy Communion. The expenses in connection with the mission—which are heavy—will be defrayed partly by the offertories taken in the church on the two Sundays and partly by special subscriptions for that purpose. The Thanksgiving offertory on Monday evening was devoted to relieving the distress prevalent in the village amongst the mining community.

EPP'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. SIXPENNY TELEGRAMS

The success or failure of this great reform in the telegraphic service will depend, we believe, on the way in which the authorities ultimately deal with the names and addresses of sender or receiver. As now proposed these are to be charged for as parts of the message, and to be included in the twelve words that are to be given for sixpence. If this plan is carried out, one of two things must generally happen. Either the names and addresses will be so cut down as to cause the post office endless trouble in delivery and to mislead the receivers by partial and confusing descriptions of their senders, or there will be very few words left for the message itself. Men of business can indeed say a good deal in four or five words, but the majority of mankind are not given to epigrams and cannot state so shortly what they mean. Then again this charging for addresses is an entirely new departure from the present practice as to inland telegrams, and this alone is a strong argument against it. What is wanted, as we conceive, is a compromise between the contending methods, and a plan which keeps as far as possible to that now in use should on that account be preferred. We would therefore suggest that 10 words should in every case be allowed for the addresses free, any words used beyond that to be charged for as part of the message. There are few cases in which the names and addresses of both sender and receiver could not well be comprised within 10 words, and these being allowed free, there would be no temptation to abbreviate unduly. We would then allow for the message charging 2d per line of five words after. The advantages of this plan are obvious. It keeps to the present scale of 20 words for a shilling and it fixes the rates by easy gradations. It would really be a reduction in telegrams, which the present proposal of the authorities is not, for 12 words at sixpence, to include both addresses, would often be little better than a delusion, leaving only two words upon an average for the message. People would therefore have to use more, and so spend eightpence or tenpence, thus leaving the sixpenny telegrams, of which we heard so much, as a mere name. It may be said that by adopting such a scale as that above suggested the department would lose, and according to their calculations it is possible that there might be some loss at the beginning. But we think this argument has already been made too much of, and too generally admitted. The department exists only for the service of the public, and the wants of the public must be first considered. If we were to listen to officials we should never move in anything. Their natural instinct is to stand still, and they are always able to prove anything by figures. A real sixpenny telegram will be a great boon to thousands, but as proposed by the post office it would not be a reality, and that is why we offer these suggestions.—Kemp's Mercantile Gazette.

5 words for 6d. 15 words for 10d.
10 ,, ,, 8d. 20 ,, ,, 1s.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

ROTHWELL WESLEYAN CHAPEL.—This place of worship has been closed nearly five weeks for cleaning, painting, and decorating, and will be re-opened on Sunday by a popular Leeds minister, the Rev. F. Woofenden, followed by other services. Every pains has been taken to make the edifice attractive and pleasing, and we have the utmost confidence in commending the contractors, Messrs. A. & G. Barker, for the tasteful and workmanlike manner in which they have carried out their undertaking. Any strangers or visitors will, we are quite sure, be cordially welcomed during the coming sermons.

MR. JAMES WICE.—We are sorry to learn that Mr. Wice, head master of the National Schools, Rothwell, is leaving the village this week. Mr. Wice only came here about 15 months ago, to take charge of the schools, and during his short sojourn amongst us he has drawn to himself many friends; he has succeeded in considerably improving the condition of his school even in so short a time, as the grant secured at the last examination will testify; his connection with the Rothwell Cricket Club has proved of invaluable service, as he is a good player in all departments, he has also rendered special aid in the musical world, and as one of the secretaries to the Mechanics' Institute. Mr. Wice is going to Hunslet to take charge of the St. Jude's School, thereby considerably improving his present position. We heartily congratulate Mr. Wice on having secured this post, and although regretting his loss, wish him every success in his new sphere.

BREAKAGE AT ROTHWELL HAIGH COLLIERY.—Yesterday, the engine used at the Midland Pit, Bullock Lane, for raising and lowering the cage in the shaft, broke down at half-past eight in the morning, rendering it necessary for all those working in the mine, to walk through the workings to the Rose Pit at Rothwell, where they were all drawn out.

"THE appearance upon entering (Providence House, 42, North Street Leeds), gave us an idea of a fairy-land of Furniture and Crystal palace of mirrors."

POLICE NEWS.

WEST RIDING COURT (MONDAY).

Thomas Leesom, a carter in the employ of Messrs. Bentley & Co., Oulton Brewery, was fined 10s. and costs for being asleep whilst in charge of a horse and cart at Rothwell, on the 18th April. P. S. Turton and P. C. Hardy gave evidence shewing that on the night of the 18th, at about half past eleven, they observed the defendant's horse walking down Commercial Street, and on stopping it found the defendant asleep at the bottom of the cart.

James Baxter, and five other lads from Hunslet Carr, were charged with gambling on the highway at Middleton on Sunday the 10th April, and were each fined 5s. and costs.

VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the Individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has cast about him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. Having been thirty-five years in the trade, in the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was naturally 'up to all the wrinkles.' The middle men, known by the names of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of Manufacturers, who arranged to supply his Establishment at the cost of materials and men's time in the making. In short, placing the Goods before the public, at single articles at wholesale prices. The management is still under R. Scott's personal control, who takes this opportunity of thanking his Patrons in the past, and hopes to receive anew a mark of their confidence. In future the firm will be known as Scott & Co., Goldsmiths, Silversmiths, Opticians, Watch and Clock Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.

If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly restored by good workmen. Scott & Co. guarantee their work for 12 months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made as new, on very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

CRICKET NOTES.

Football may be said to have finally terminated for this season, and will have to remain dead for another six months, when I have no doubt that it will reappear with renewed vigour, and the several tussles will be fought out with as keen an interest as ever.

The cricketing year is now in full swing, and last Saturday probably saw the opening matches of most of our village clubs. Owing to late arrival of cards, I shall only be able to note our local organisations somewhat briefly this year, as the space allotted to me will only allow of comment on the various matches played now that the season has got so far advanced.

Rothwell has a somewhat better list of clubs to meet this year than they had last, although I am afraid she will not be able to boast of as good a set of players as in 1884, unless by some miracle or other a few of the colts should turn out better than I have reason to expect. Wice's absence from the team will cause a vacancy which the Committee will have no small amount of trouble to fill as a good all round man, and I shall not be saying too much when I state that in Hirst, last year's professional, they have lost the gem of the team, and the greatest favourite with the spectators too. Although with Glover, the newly engaged player (who is a fairly good all round man) I fail to see, with such an amount of ill-luck as that stated above, how the Rothwell Club will be as strongly represented as it was in 1884. The list of fixtures include Gildersome, Altofts, Whitwood, Meanwood Park, Hunslet, Horbury, Birstal Young England, Brunetcliffe, Churwell, Woodlesford and East End for half-day matches; and Beeston Manor, Dacre Banks, Yorkshire Gentlemen, as day matches, along with the annual game between Gentlemen and Players for the benefit of the groundsmen. From this list, I am unable to discover the name of Lofthouse, the cause of which I fail to understand at present. It seems rather strange that these clubs which have faced each other with such earnestness and determination in former years, and every time each club confident of victory, should not be seen as opponents this year, and fight for the supremacy of the district. Disputes and that kind of thing cannot be attributed as the cause of the non arrangement, as both matches passed off extremely well last season. I am told that the blame lays with the Committee of the Lofthouse Club, but whether it does or not, I can assure both parties that they have made a great mistake, and one which will greatly damage the financial position of the clubs, because whenever do they get such "gates" as those when the annual tussles between the old rivals of Rothwell and Lofthouse are down to be played. Besides, these fixtures had a tendency to draw the spectators to the other club games, so as to ascertain for themselves the form which their favourites are expected to shew. I should like to know if the antagonists of Hunslet and Holbeck, would think of abandoning their matches? The 2nd eleven of Rothwell have matches arranged with Gildresome, Altofts, Whitwood, Meanwood Park, Leeds Middle Class School, Rothwell Temperance, Robin Hood, Churwell, and East End.

The committee of the Woodlesford Club have arranged an excellent list of fixtures which include the following clubs:—Garforth, Altofts West Riding, Lofthouse, Airedale Wanderers, Oulton, Whitwood, Roundhay, Methley, Kirkstall Educational, Newton, Rothwell, while day matches are settled with Horsforth Old, Morley Brittannia, and the Leeds Police. The above list of clubs include some very good teams, as many will no doubt be aware, and with Mr. Hodson, Hon. Sec., and a good working committee, we shall no doubt hear of this once famous body giving a good account of itself, and doing something like it was wont to do in days gone by.

The Carlton Cricket Club has launched out a little further this season, and next week will commence the year against Robin Hood, and then proceed in the usual way without an open date until Sept. 12th. The clubs down on the card to be opposed are Robin Hood, Hunslet Nelson, Leeds Star United, Rothwell 2nd, Morley Wesleyans, Hunslet M. N. C., Morley St. Peters, Lofthouse, Ardsley C. & F. C., Rothwell Temperance, and a day match with Tong Park. Matches with Middleton, Ardsley C. & F. C., and Kirkstall Church, have also been arranged for a second eleven.

The Rothwell club opened the year very badly indeed against Gildersome, and my patience was very sorely tried with the form shewn by some of our local men. It was was not the best eleven Rothwell can boast of that did duty for the honour of the club, but, nevertheless, had it not been for the carlessness of some of the men, the match might have been pulled through, as 38 was the number scored by Gildersome and the home team had scored 21 for the loss of 4 wickets, when a sudden colapse occurred to Rothwell, the other six wickets falling for six runs—less than one apiece, thus they suffered defeat by 38 to 27. The worst thing of the afternoon, and one which needs rectifying, is the manner in which the Rothwell batsmen make and obey one another's calls, and I can assure them that nothing is worse than a player to call on his companion, and then send him back when he has got half way over the ground, as was the case when Pape was run out on Saturday, and if both had done their duty, there was a good run and a nice time to get in. Besides the above, another player, H Richardson, met with the same fate, and to this may be attributed the cause of the defeat, as 11 runs is not the average score of two men, and a different state of things might have been recorded had they only been more careful. The professional, R Glover, of Pudsey Brittiania, was seen in the field for the first time, and his form as shown on Saturday, is very satisfactory, taking 4 wickets for 16 runs with the ball and contributing 7 out of their score of 27 with the bat; Wice performed even better than this in the trundling department; taking 6 wickets for 20 runs, while W E Richardson was head scorer with 10.

Rothwell Temperance met Streethouse at Rothwell on Saturday, and suffered defeat to a large extent. The visitors batted first, and owing mainly to the extraordinary bad fielding of the Rothwell men, managed to run up the respectable score of 93. The home eleven were all knocked out for a total of 32,—or, at least not all 'knocked' out, as three of them were run out,—a very bad point indeed, and I am inclined to think it a favourite piece of play with Rothwell clubs, which should be dropped as soon as possible. Our Temperance friends should try to mend their 'fielding,' (not the player of that name) as they will never win many matches until they do.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

THE mission services which have been carried on recently in Woodlesford Church were closed with a service of thanksgiving on Monday evening last. No pains or expense have been spared to make the effort worthy of the cause in which it was made, and the results—so far as they can be seen at present—must have gratified those who have worked so hard and earnestly to bring them about. The church authorities are to be congratulated on having secured the services of so able and energetic a missioner. His teaching has been simple, definite, and decisive, his logic unanswerable, and his appeals such as few could listen to unmoved. If only a few of those he has influenced, persevere in carrying out the principles he taught in their daily lives, the labour and trouble can never be said to have been in vain.

WE have several times had occasion to point out the evil arising from the unventilated state of our drains, and to give utterence to the angry grumbling of the public against the open grate system which seems to have been devised for the purpose of introducing the sewer gas at "proof" strength into the neighbouring cottages. It is only fair, however, that the other side of the question should be heard. Here are the views of an old ratepayer on the subject:—

Pish! what trouble and vexation,
What a deal of botheration,
We are put to by this precious sanitary reformation.
What's the sense of "sanitary,"
No such word in dictionary,
An expression to the good old English language quite contrary.
In our district so extensive,
If a drain's at all offensive,
It must instantly be mended, which is monstrously expensive.
How the scientific asses
Preach about their poisonous gases,
Making havoc 'mongst the habitations of the lower classes.
Things our forefathers knew nought of,
Now they tell us fever's caught off,
Oh! the time when sulphuretted hydrogen was never thought of.
I've no faith and no reliance,
On your chemistry and science,
If you'll act on my advice you'll set the doctors at defiance.
We, the scientist supposes,
Ought to make grates smell like roses,
People now-a days pretend to have such very dainty noses.
I'm convinced on much reflection,
That there is not such connection,
Which we heard so much of lately, 'twixt drain gasses and infection.
Dirt and filth with health agreeing
In the pig 'tis easy seeing,
Now inside, a pig, I'm told is very like a human being.
Surely anyone with brains,
Will own, that on our drains
We've wasted cash enough; are we better for our pains?
In further outlay to engage us,
Would I own make me outrageous,
Even supposing drainage smells to be infectious or contagious.
I would go to such expenses,
On no reasons nor pretences,
Let us save the cash, I say, and take the consequences.

TOWN TALK.

AFTER the eminently successful meeting held on the 21st. instant, under the auspices of the Rothwell Conservative Association, one is constrained to hope that something will shortly be forthcoming from the other side. Now that Messrs Turner and Nowell have got rid of the gas question for a short season, could they not gather together the scattered remains of the late lamented Liberal club. It would be a difficult task I know, With the decease of my esteemed friend, Mr. B. Batty, the heart of the Association failed, seemingly its very life went out. But the gaunt skeleton, with the two gentlemen named as its head, ought to do something; it would at any rate break the spell of Tory influence which seems to have sprung up in our midst and developed with such rapidity during late months. As things are now, the newly enfranchised voters are left at the mercy of the opposition; the Tories are earnestly asking for their vote, and unless the Liberals make a move too, they will get the coveted support of the working classes generally. When will they bestir themselves? Why are they sleeping when their cause needs their help so very much? What is the meaning of this indifference, this indolence, this folly. Awake thou that sleepest; "life is real, life is earnest," and if you don't intend to be completely beaten, and held up to scorn and contempt, you must offer some steady and continuous resistance. Are your principles and convictons true? Will they hold water? If so, be firm, and stand by them and don't dally away the precious moments, until after the battle is lost. Mr. Pickard, in the opinion of many, is not the best candidate the Liberals might have selected, but such as he is, we should like to hear him, and I hope before long we shall have the pleasure of seeing another monstre meeting such as the late one except in one particular—its object.

THE war fever is raging in every nook and corner of the land. As a nation we love peace, but there is not a Briton who is afraid of war when war is necessary. We are being forced into a great war, against our wish. Those at the helm have tried to avoid it, and the nation has patiently waited the issue; the prospect is day by day growing blacker and blacker. We will hope for peace to the last moment, but if it ends in war, we may reasonably expect that the war will be prosecuted with the same zeal and vigour, as has been exercised in our endeavour to gain a peaceful settlement of the dispute, and, that once in open conflict with the Russians, there will be no efforts spared which would secure the victory to the British, and teach the "Bear" that she may taunt and tease the lion, until the majestic lash of his tail reminds her of his presence.

IT would almost be a wonder if in the midst of all this warlike excitement, all our young fellows were unconcerned and unmoved. There is one youth who has this week left his native village and joined the colours; three more offered themselves, but were rejected, mere lads, but willing to serve, nevertheless. This would be a very suitable time, at which to start a volunteer corps for the district; the scheme was discussed in these columns about a year ago, but nobody took it up. There are lots of young men ready to join, what is lacking is one or two gentlemen who would take the responsibility upon themselves. Could not the Charlesworth's and Calverley's do something in this line; Lieut.-Col. Charlesworth would, no doubt, give them full directions, and I am confident it would turn out successful. There are a number of reserve men, old soldiers, and those who have been in the Leeds Volunteer Corps, living in and around Rothwell, whose services might be secured and utilised to great advantage.

I have noticed how busy Messrs Barker have been just lately at the Rothwell Wesleyan Chapel, and took the opportunity this week of having a look in. The interior looks well; in fact it is beautiful, and one would hardly recognise it as the same place. The work reflects great credit on the managers and contractors alike. I see from a very artistic letterpress circular, that the first services are to be held on Sunday, and I recommend those who can to attend.

THERE are other places in Rothwell which are being painted and cleaned and beautified in one way or other. I refer to private dwellings of the people; there is usually a lot of this sort of thing done about this time of the year. It is very annoying to have such work spoiled with the dust which drives along the roads in clouds and covers everything; therefore I think it would be advisable to have the streets watered. Will the Local Board, kindly give this matter their attention and give us this boon as early as possible.

THE Local Board seems to have been pretty equally divided as to who should occupy the position of chairman this year. Mr. Oliver was only one vote behind Mr. Hargreaves. Of recent years the Board has formed itself into two parties,—the colliery men and those who are not colliery men, and it appears to have been the intention of "the Turnerites" to gain a point at the expense of "Gas and black diamonds," I hope they will always try and keep within bounds, for I should not like it to become necessary for Mr. Hargreaves to resign his post of chairman. I fancy there are lively times in store, and I would advise the chairman to get his thick coat on.

GOSSIP.

MINERS' STRIKE.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

The matters being discussed among the miners in this vicinity, seems to me to be two very important ones, namely—'What will be the result of this great and unpleasant struggle which is now going on in West and South Yorkshire;' and 'What purpose had the Rev. F. Fawkes in making such unfair remarks respecting the miners in this and other districts, at the political meeting which was held last Tuesday night week.' With regard to the first question, I may say that it is far more pleasant for both masters and men when such strikes can be averted, for they mean distress and poverty on the one hand, and a waste of capital on the other; and for this past two weeks I never witnessed so much in the way of seeking charity as has been in Rothwell, and I am sure my heart ached to see the poor fellows pulling with such a will at those waggons which they have brought about with them. However, I must needs say that I think a very great mistake has been made with respect to the dispute; in this manner, that instead of the men who did not get notice for the said reduction going on working, they ought to have sent in for an advance of wages, then the matter would have been brought sooner to an end, as all the men would have been on strike together if the masters had not conceded the advance; but what is the present condition of affairs? Why there is one half working and the other half playing; and what does that mean? Why it simply means we are helping the masters to fight the men, and if the battle is lost we shall have to suffer likewise. I don't know whether most of the men have considered the matter over or not, but I have, and I know this, if I am earning a £ now, I shall only earn 18s. after. Now working men, my advice is, let us try and help those fighting all we can, both by money and by our energy, to bring this great battle to a successful issue. Unity would have been a grand thing for us this time, but divided we fall.

Now for a few words on the next question. I wonder many times if our vicar ever thinks about what he is going to say before he stands on a public platform. I often think he does not, or else he would turn his remarks in a fresh channel; it's not so very long since he dabbled with a question he ought to have been silent on. But this, I must inform him, has gone right to the heart of the miner, and I must also inform him that instead of him making friends with them, he has made the worst of enemies; but what matters that to him if he only keeps up with the aristocratic feeling, why the working man can go anywhere for what he cares. 'Ah, we must keep the poor down,' is simply their motto, and as for a working man waiting until his master comes and says 'You are a better servant now than what you have been, I will advance your wages,' why I just think he would never get an advance at all; he might get a reduction now and again, for we mostly find the masters seeking for a little more interest for their capital; and as for working men having no right to look after their interests, why it's simply ridiculous, for the hire of the hireling should have the same respect shown it as the capital of the capitalist. In conclusion, let me say that the men who pay their shilling a week do not pay it to Mr. Pickard, they pay it to the Association to which they belong, Mr. Pickard only getting his wages like all other working men, and if it were not for such men as him, we should know very little sometimes about our affairs.

Hoping you will kindly insert the above, and greatly oblige,

Yours truly,
A WORKING MAN.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes close, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above-named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety one cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), London, England. This syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of system.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it soften the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

THROAT AFFECTIONS AND HOARSENESS.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by JOHN I. BROWN & SONS, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London

DEAR FRED,

You will be surprised at receiving a letter from me, but thank God, I am pleased to say am getting better every day. I shall be so glad to breathe the fresh air again. It has seemed a dreadful long time to be in bed. You know I was taken to the Hospital last April to be treated for Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Well, on the 31st of July they tapped me, and took away 304 ounces of water. The same thing was done again on the 18th September, and 98 ounces of water obtained. On the 8th October I was discharged from the Hospital as incurable. In January this year (the 20th), was again tapped at home and 360 ounces of water taken away. The St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London refused me admission as a hopeless case, and the Bartholomew Hospital, Chatham, also refused me, as being the worst case they had seen for years, and two local doctors gave me up as hopeless. When I came from the Hospital it took three to put me to bed. My clothes had to be cut off. I was an object of misery and despair. After the Hospitals had refused me, and doctors given me up, my wife persuaded me to try Hop Bitters, and from the commencement have improved daily. I have only taken them seven weeks and can now get downstairs and walk about without even a stick. With the aid of a few more bottles of the Bitters shall be well again. The water has entirely left my body and legs. The only trace left is in my feet. It is a wonderful medicine. I wish I had tried it sooner, as I have nearly ruined myself and family with doctors' bills and other expenses. I might have been well long ago. At the Hospital I [illegible] the Bitters eat everything with a relish. The only difficulty is the expense, but [illegible] as I am getting well. [illegible] that this recovery is near, for every one had given me up as a bad job. With best wishes to [illegible]

I remain,
Your affectionate Brother,
(Signed) William Grayson,
1, Bush Terrace, Cage Lane,
Chatham, March 14, 1885.

To the Hop Bitters Co., London.

Gentlemen,—I enclose letter from my brother-in-law, Wm. Grayson, Chatham. He considers he owes his life to your Hop Bitters, and he cannot say enough in its praise.

Yours truly,
Fred. Stammers.
39, Castle Street, London.

LATER.

Chatham, March 24.

Since I wrote you ten days ago I have improved wonderfully. To-day I walked to the barber's shop (and got shaved), and back again by myself without fatigue. This is the first time I have been out alone since last April—over eleven months.

William Grayson.

HIGH AUTHORITY.

Dr. THOMPSON says Kidney Disease is probably next to Consumption the commonest cause of death among adults in this climate. You have had a recent and mysterious attack of asthma, pains in the back and around the loins, severe headaches, dizziness, inflamed eyes, a coated tongue and a dry mouth, loss of appetite, chilly sensation, indigestion (the stomach never is in order when the kidneys or liver are deranged), dryness of the skin, nervousness, night sweats, muscular debility, despondency, a tired feeling (especially at night), puffing or bloating under the eyes, and [illegible] Dr. Roberts, of England; Prof. Thompson, of New York; and other celebrated authorities tell us that all these symptoms are [illegible] Bright's Disease! [illegible]

HOP BITTERS for the CURE of Kidney and Liver complaints have no equal in the world, and those suffering from any of the above symptoms should use them at once.

FLORILINE!—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name CONSUMPTION EMULSION. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can really be relied upon for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 12 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. [illegible]

ONE BOX OF CLARKE'S B41 PILLS is warranted to cure all discharges from the Urinary Organs, in either sex (acquired or constitutional), Gravel, and Pains in the Back. Guaranteed free from Mercury. Sold in Boxes, 4s. 6d. each, by all Chemists and Patent Medicine Vendors throughout the World; or sent to any address for sixty stamps by the Makers, THE LINCOLN AND MIDLAND COUNTIES DRUG COMPANY, Lincoln. Wholesale Agents, BARCLAY & SONS, London, and all the Wholesale Houses.

IS RHEUMATISM CURABLE? Yes, if you take WOODCOCK'S RHEUMATIC MIXTURE. Speedily cures Rheumatic Pains in the Limbs, Rheumatic Pains in the Head, Rheumatic Pains in the Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatic Swellings and Stiffness; in fact, every phase of Rheumatism; no matter how acute or long standing, it never fails. OBSERVE—This is not a quack remedy warranted to cure everything, but a genuine SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM only. Sold by all medicine vendors at 1s. 9d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d. and 11s., or Post free for 23, 34, or 56 stamps. The 11s. size paid to nearest Railway Station for 11s. 3d. P.O. Order or Stamps, from PAGE D. WOODCOCK, Lincoln.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d. —For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

WATCHES, JEWELLERY.—MIDLAND COUNTIES WATCH COMPANY.—(Cheapest house in the World) Ladies' or Gents' Fine Silver Crystal Glass, heavy Ladies' Watches, 25/-; Ladies' heavy-cased Gold Levers, 70/-; Gents' do. do., 80/-. Before purchasing send for Company's Catalogue, beautifully illustrated, 1,000 fine copper-plate engravings, gratis, post free on application, to any part of the world. Apply Company's Manager, A. Percy, Vyse Street, Birmingham. The press universally recommend their readers to obtain a catalogue.

TWO MONTHS' CRUISE in the MEDITERRANEAN.—The Screw Steam Yacht, "CEYLON," 2,200 tons register, will sail from SOUTHAMPTON about 15th March, 1885, for a Two Months' CRUISE in the Mediterranean, visiting Gibraltar, Palermo, Naples, [illegible] Cyprus, Jaffa (for the Holy Land), Port Said, Alexandria (for the Scenes of the Egyptian Campaign), Malta, and Algiers. Fare 120 Guineas each, two in a Cabin; or 200 Guineas for a whole Cabin for one, table, wine and boat service included. For full particulars apply to the OCEAN STEAM YACHTING COMPANY (LIMITED), Passenger Office, 7, Pall Mall, S.W.; or 11, Abchurch-lane, E.C.

HEALTH EXHIBITION.—In weak, slow, or painful digestion there is no remedy like the QUEEN'S PEPTIC FOOD SOLVENT. Of all Chemists at [illegible] or MR. GEORGE DELGRENE, [illegible] Camden Road, London, N.W.

THE firm attitude of England in dealing with Russia over the Afghanistan dispute seems to have found a way in which diplomacy will eventually dispel the difficulty. The statesmanlike action of her Majesty's Ministers, supported by the whole body of Parliament, the vigorous preparation for war, the unanimous Credit Vote, and the dignified "plain spoken" speech of the Premier, a true interpretation of the national voice, have had eloquent effect at St. Petersburg. The merits of the question at issue are to be submitted to arbitration, and what is wrong set right, and what is right affirmed. That is immeasurably a more satisfactory prospect than one which could have nought to commend it but the struggle for glory and the sounding clash of arms, and which would involve the shedding of rivers of human blood. Every true Englishman will hope for a peaceful close to the international investigation, and the firm settlement of the frontier matter, once and for all. Our country will not give way to wrongful aggression, neither will she demand more than what is just and right; but if Russia has overstepped the Afghan border, she must return and make reparation to the Ameer, and henceforth respect his territory. Such will be the basis of a sound settlement, and during the investigation all shades of politicians here should judiciously refrain from any comment on Russia's present action which will be likely to embarrass the arbitrating Sovereign or our own Government. England stands insisting on the observance of right, ready to compel it if need be. Let that suffice to hold the confidence of the great people of our land. As we would 'beware the entrance to a quarrel,' being in it, let us now continue to 'so behave that the opposer may beware of' us. While there is a worse thing than war, the loss of honour, yet let us be sure of the justice and righteousness of that for which we fight. War is against all commerce and real advancement, the eleven million extra taxes is a mere flea-bite to what we should have to pay in case of a war with Russia. The wisest and calmest heads are needed to guide us in this matter. We must give up no just and necessary right, but we must be careful how we let the war-dogs loose. God alone can know the right way; let Christian England ask His help.

LOCAL BOARD MEETNG.

The usual meeting took place on Monday, present—Mr. W. Hargreaves (chairman), Messrs. J. Hargreaves, J. Holmes, J. Oliver, H. P. Newsome, J. Turner, J. Dobson, J. Nowell, and W. Lawton, with the clerk, collector and surveyor.

The minutes of previous meetings were agreed to with the exception of an alteration in the class of stone to be used on Leeds and Wakefield road, Mr. Turner carrying a resolution in favour of Shipley stone.

ROTHWELL GAS.—Mr. Turner in introducing a notice on the powers of the Rothwell Gas Light Company, to form a reserve fund, said there was no need to go through the preceding details, but simply referring to the resolution passed at the public meeting held on April 10th, proposed that the Board take steps for obtaining the opinion of some eminent counsel, with whom none of the parties concerned have previously had any connection; he suggested Mr. Webster, who had had to do with the Aston dispute. He would be very glad if the Board and the Gas Co. could agree on some one mutually, and accept his decision as final. Mr. Jas. Hargreaves would second, if the name was left out. The chairman suggested that the Gas Co. be asked to join in the expense. As chairman of the Gas Co. at the time referred to, he held that they had a right to form a reserve fund, but he objected to any private individual bearing the expense of this inquiry, and would be glad if the Board and the Co. could agree on an independent counsel, and share the expense; he thought Mr. Pembroke Stephen a very suitable counsel, and Mr. Warren a likely solicitor. Mr. Lawton objected to Mr. Warren, as having previously been engaged on this question, and rather commended a Rothwell man as being most unbiassed; he however mentioned Mr. Thos. Simpson. Mr. Nowell thought that they should remember the wording of the resolution, which called on the Board to "co-operate with Messrs. Nowell and Turner" in this matter, and suggested that the arrangements might very well be left in the hands of the Gas Committee. Mr Oliver remarked that Mr. Tennant gave them to understand at the public meeting, that the Gas Co. would be glad to submit the question to counsel, and moved that the Gas Committee of the Board meet the directors of the Co., with a view to agreeing on some eminent counsel; the chairman seconded Mr. Turner expressed his pleasure if such an agreement could be come to; he, however, argued that parliamentary barristers were not the most suitable men for special questions like this. He also bore out the remarks of Mr. Nowell as regards the powers of the Gas Committee. Mr. Jas. Hargreaves moved an amendment that three questions be submitted in writing to the Gas directors, "would they join in the expense of getting an opinion? would they agree to his decision? and who shall be the selected solicitor and barrister?" Mr. Lawton seconded this, urging that as only two days notice is necessary for calling the directors together, that Friday night be the time for the decision. Mr. Holmes, as representing Stourton interests, strongly deprecated any expense being thrown on the rates, feeling it was a very unfair thing for Rothwell Haigh and Stourton to have to contribute to an expenditure which did not benefit them in the least, but went to the advantage of gas consumers in Carlton, Lofthouse and other places, who paid nothing to the Board's income. Mr. Lawton, although not a gas consumer, argued that the Board was the governing body, and as such was bound to remedy any existing evils. They were sent to do their best for the district as a whole; he hoped there would not be any great expense. On being put, only Mr. Jas. Hargreaves and Mr. Lawton supported the amendment for "writing to the Co," and the motion for the Gas Committee to meet the directors, was carried, Messrs. Nowell, Holmes and Newsome abstaining from voting.

HIGHWAYS.—As the notice regarding Mr. Nickols' roads terminates this week, a resolution was passed that the Board take possession on the expiration of the term.

Mr. Jas. Hargreaves drew the attention of the Highway Committee to the need for the flagging in Church St. being completed.

The chairman remarked on the necessity for the parish plan being corrected in accordance with the alterations lately made. Mr. Jas. Hargreaves having intimated that the plan belonged to the overseers, a resolution was passed on the motion of Mr. Holmes and Mr. Dobson, that the overseers be requested to have the necessary corrections made on the parish plan.

FINANCE.—Three special cheques were signed for wages, &c.

The clerk reported that the audit will be held on Friday, the 15th inst.

It was arranged that the Finance Committee prepare an estimate of accounts for the ensuing half-year, with a view to laying a district rate.

SUNDRY.—The petition in favour of the ballot was read by the clerk and signed, on the motion of Mr. Turner and Mr. Lawton; one copy to be sent to the Local Government Board, and one to W. H Leatham, Esq., M.P.

The chairman brought before the Board a circular from the Mayor of Gravesend, proposing the erection of a school there, as a memorial to the late General Gordon. He also introduced the question of holding a public meeting for the purpose of aiding the wives and children of our soldiers and sailors now on duty. As no resolution was moved on the subjects, they were passed over.

The clerk reported the requirement of the Local Government Board, that copies of the register of voters now enfranchised, be prepared and exposed at the Board room, and at each post office in the district.

It was agreed that Mr. W. Brown be allowed the fruitage of the Board's land near the 'beck' for a small amount, he taking means to keep out trespassers.

The Inspector was allowed a week's holiday to visit his friends.

SEWAGE.—The clerk reported having had an interview with Mr. Simpson, as regards Woodhouse Cemetery drain, and the matter is a little further advanced, though not completed.

POSTAL.—Dr. Nowell stated that after an interview he had lately had with the officials at Leeds, he believed an application from the Board to the General Post Office, London, would secure the establishment of a second despatch and delivery in Rothwell. Mr. Newsome would like to have the pillar box in Wood Lane emptied on Sunday as well as week-days. Mr. Lawton and the chairman urged the necessity for a box on Rothwell Haigh, say at Beeston Pit. Mr. Holmes, feeling the advantages of three deliveries at Stourton, cordially agreed with the proposals, and a petition will accordingly be forwarded.

WATER.—A long conversation followed on the motion of Mr. Holmes to rescind a resolution ordering the prosecution of Mr. Thos. Derwick for wasting water, and to accept his offer of 5s. for compensation. It appeared from statements made that Mr. Derwick himself had tendered an apology and a payment immediately on ascertaining the charge (which had been made on another person supposed to be the landlord). As the evidence on either side was very conflicting, the resolution was finally rescinded with 5s. fine, but not before Mr. Nowell and Mr. Turner had left the room, opposed to such a decision.

The amount collected during the fortnight is for

HUNSLET BOARD OF GUARDIANS.

The usual meeting of this Board was held on Wednesday evening, present—Mr. Jas. Hargreaves (chairman), Mr. Graveley (vice-chairman), Messrs. J. Parker, H. Sheard, J. Dixon, W. Lawton, C. Grosvenor, G. Jepson, G. Greaves, J. Swales, R. J. Smith, W. Riley, J Swithenbank, and Rev. M. Platt, with Mr. Keight, the assistant clerk.

The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Several cases of settlement and arrangement were decided.

Mr. Smith brought on a proposition referring to the conduct of business, but after discussion, it was found that the present rules sufficiently meet his object.

Mr. Smith also asked that two copies of the agenda paper be placed on the table for the information of the members

Mr. Swales seconded as being an advantage to members who have to leave earlier than 8 o'clock.

An amendment to pass on to the next business was moved by Mr. Lawton and Mr. Dixon, but was lost; Mr. Smith's proposition was afterwards carried.

The chairman and clerk were asked to attend the meeting to be held shortly as regards the disposal of the Fever Hospital site and buildings.

The master stated that a number of pictures and copies of the Graphic had been kindly presented by Mr. Butterworth, late guardian. Thanks were passed for the suitable gift

The chairman mentioned a case in which a person in the Rothwell district is much in need of clothing, and it was agreed to let her have a dress and shawl shortly.

Mr. Lawton reported a woman in the workhouse whose husband and son are both well-to-do, and a motion was agreed on that steps be taken to find them, to pay to her support.

The usual routine business was then agreed to.

ROTHWELL WESLEYAN CHAPEL.

As was announced last week, the spacious chapel in which the Wesleyans have been accustomed to worship has been closed for some weeks for cleaning and decoration, and on Sunday last was re-opened for public service. The outer woodwork has been entirely repainted. The pitch pine gallery within has been re-varnished, and the pews in the body cleaned, stained and varnished to match. The panels round the gallery have been regilded and varnished, as have also the rostrum and communion rails, while the mahogany has been repolished and beautified. The walls are all painted a french grey, with a neat stencil pattern, above the pew tops; the ceiling has been painted cream, while the tasteful and expensive cornices and gaselier ornaments have been prettily brought out in various tints. The gaseliers are in maroon, blue and gold, the pillars being a faint green with gilt pickings. In the orchestra considerable pains have been expended on the arch, which is supported by granite-painted pillars. Behind the rostrum, within a gold border, is a broad stretch of crimson cloth, while a suite of handsome chairs have been purchased for the use of those who speak from this place; the entire range of steps and aisles have also been covered with matting. A lamp is being placed in front of the centre of the chapel, the iron railings have also been suitably painted, and sundry other improvements made. A large number of people visited the building during the week, and general satisfaction is expressed with the whole work. As we have before intimated, Messrs. A. & G. Barker have done the painting, etc., which is most creditable and gratifying; Mr. J. Wright has had the joiner's work; Mr. Batty and Mr. Butterick have supplied the matting and cloth, and Mr. Jos. Wright the glazing and plumbing. The entire cost is about £20.

The opening service was held on Sunday morning, when the Rev. F. Woofenden preached, the congregation being moderate. The sermon was based on the latter portion of the 10th chapter of Revelation, and was a masterly exposition of the subject. In the evening, Mr. Woofenden again occupied the rostrum, and spoke from the eleventh chapter of the same book, both sermons displaying a vast amount of research and acumen, while their delivery was attractive and useful. The choir aided considerably in the success of the services, and as the collections were over £10, everything may be said to have passed off most satisfactorily. Next Sunday, the Rev. Gregory Renton will preach, and attend a tea meeting on the following day, when it is anticipated a large number of his old friends will gather together to see and hear their former beloved minister.

Holloways Pills.—Enfeebled Existence.—This medicine embraces every attribute required in a general and domestic remedy. It overturns the foundations of decease laid by defective food and impure air. In obstructions or congestions of the liver, lungs, bowels, or any other organs, these Pills are especially servicable and eminently successful. They should be kept in readiness in every family, being a medicine of incomparable utility for young persons, especially those of feeble constitutions. They never pain or irritate the most sensitive nerves or most tender bowels. Holloway's Pills are the best known purifiers of the blood, the most active promoters of absorption and secretion, whereby all poisonous and obnoxious matters are removed from both solids and fluids.

LOFTHOUSE SCHOOL BOARD.

The ordinary monthly meeting was held at Robin Hood School on Wednesday night; the members present were Messrs. T. Oliver, (chairman), J. Armitage, H. Hall, J. Hammill, and Thos. Hargreaves, with Mr. J. H. Lee, the clerk. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been confirmed, the clerk reported that the treasurer had received the following amounts:—Use of Carlton School £1, Robin Hood fees £9 19 9d., books sold 12s. 5d.; Carlton school fees £7 2s. 5d., books sold 9s. 3d.; overseers of Lofthouse-with-Carlton on account of precept £67. Cheques were signed for salaries, £42 10s.

The application of Miss Harms, assistant teacher at Carlton school, for her salary to be advanced to £50 per year, was considered; the Board decided to give the advance until after the examination. Two applications for remission of fees were made; the Board agreed to remit a portion of these in each case. Sundry requisites for the schools were ordered to be got, which concluded the business.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

The Great Handel Festival.—All elements of the extensive permanent musical organisation that gives us every three years the national celebration of Handel's genius at the Crystal Palace, are now fairly astir, in preparation for the great Festival of June next, that is to mark the bi-centenary of that master whose works are more intimately part of the religious as well as the musical life of the English people than are any others. For this reason the Festival that would fall due next year is to be held in 1885, and the promise that, musically at least, it will surpass all its predecessors is abundant. The most famous and accomplished solo singers have been engaged; but the quality and organisation of the stupendous band and chorus—of 4,000 performers—is receiving very anxious attention. Never before has the work of testing each voice that is admitted to take part in the performance, and the elimination of weak and decayed voices, been so closely practised. At the last Festival it will be remembered, the fatal illness of Sir Michael Costa at the last moment made it doubtful who was to take his place, and Mr. Manns had to accept the bâton on the very morning of the Rehearsal day. How Mr. Manns, in very short time, grasped with authority the delighted allegiance of the army of representative instrumentalists, and then the loyal musical obedience of the chorus, will be long remembered. But to these great advantages he is able to add this time the all-important gain of preparing the army of executants and singers, whose united efforts are to present the art result. This duty Mr. Manns is discharging with splendid energy and scrupulous artistic care. There are to be double the number of rehearsals of the metropolitan voices—the great body styled the "London Contingent." Energetic efforts are being made to promote the necessary cohesion of the parts of the great choir, hitherto more or less separated until they meet on Rehearsal day in the Great Orchestra. The contingents of voices from the provinces will include, as on all former occasions, the Cathedral Choirs and the great county societies. It is hoped that provincial centres may be formed, where the district voices may be brought together in large subsidiary divisions for perfect rehearsal under Mr. Manns himself, so that all the benefit may accrue, when a few great bodies of performers shall meet on the Great Orchestra to rehearse together, rather than multitudinous smaller choral bodies, or isolated component voices. The constitution of the whole chorus, in regard to its musical quality, is now nearly completed, and the great rehearsals will soon begin. The Londoners are to meet in Exeter Hall as heretofore. The local centres have yet to be fixed. Already the regular habitués of the Handel Festivals, who attend every day, have commenced securing the best seats, that are always first alloted to them, and their numbers furnish every indication that interest in the great celebration is unabated—indeed, is as keen this year as the best wisher can desire, on account of this being a special celebration. Applications come from the most distant places, from America, from Italy, Sweden, all parts of Germany, and—whatever may be the present turmoil of affairs political—from Russia.

Fatal Accident at Robin Hood.—A very distressing accident occurred on Friday last at Thorpe Quarries, the property of Messrs. Geo. Armitage and Sons, by which a young man named John Thomas Newby (aged 16), living at Rothwell, lost his life. It seems that deceased (who should have been at the engine of which he was the caretaker) was assisting a man called William Tate, of Carlton, in removing some large flag stones four or five inches thick, and by some mishap had his head crushed between two of them. No one actually saw the stone fall upon him; Tate had just turned away to fetch something or other, leaving deceased standing near the flags, which were in a vertical position and a little distance from each other, when he heard the lad utter a sudden cry, 'O dear.' Tate rushed to the spot, and with some assistance from other workmen, succeeded in raising the stone, but it was too late, the poor fellow was quite dead. Amongst those who assisted in extricating the body was the father of the deceased, who is employed on the same premises. A cart conveyed the body home to Cross Street, where it arrived at about half past five, and as the news spread, great sorrow and sympathy was felt by the neighbours and friends of Newby. The inquest was held on Saturday at the Hare and Hounds Inn, before T. Taylor, Esq., coroner, and a verdict of 'Accidental death' returned by the jury. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon at Rothwell, and was attended by a large number of friends. The body was borne to its last resting place by members of the Temperance Fife and Drum Band, of which Newby was a member, and the class of lads with their teacher and superintendent from the Wesleyan Sunday School which Newby had attended were also present, besides a lot of fellow workmen and companions, and a large body of members of the Rothwell Temperance Society.

Stourton Primitives.—In connection with the above new school-chapel the teachers and scholars gave a service of song, on Sunday afternoon entitled "Daisy." The connective readings were given by Mrs. Appleton, from Methley. Miss C. Goodall, Miss Johnson' Miss M. Taylor and Master B. Castlehouse, rendered the solos in good style. Mr. Lancaster, of Hunslet, presided at the harmonium, and Mr. Webster conducted the singing. There was a very good company present, and a collection was made at the close which proved very satisfactory.

Colliery Accident.—An accident occurred at the Midland Pit, Rothwell Haigh, yesterday, which happily did not result so seriously as might be expected. James Hammill, of Springfield Place, Rothwell, is employed in looking after the loading of the wagons at the shaft head, and in the course of his work yesterday morning about 9 o'clock found it necessary to descend from the stage where the coals are received from the cage, to the wagon road below; the descent had to be made by means of a ladder commonly used for the purpose, but when a little distance down Mr. Hammill by some mishap made a false step and was precipitated to the ground, a distance of about sixteen feet, where he fell heavily between two of the wagons. He sustained injuries such as prevented him walking home, so, that he had to be conveyed thither in the manager's trap. Dr. Glaister was speedily in attendance and attended to the injuries.

A meeting of miners was held in the Sty Bank Field on Friday evening last. Mr. Alfred Steel occupied the chair, and there was a moderate attendance. The object of the meeting was to make arrangements with the men who have recently been subscribing a regular weekly amount to those out on strike, to send the amount direct to a large and influential committee, appointed by the union to look after the non-union men, which has for its object the equal distribution of money received for the relief of the "Locked out" throughout the whole of the Yorkshire Coal Field; the money has previously been sent to sub-organisations, and it was desirable to have a more satisfactory means of distributing the money, and a resolution was passed to send the amounts subscribed to the central fund at Barnsley. The meeting was addressed by Mr. B. Pickard, Mr. Byrne, Mr. Kaye and several others.

Mr. Chas. Collette.—The playgoers of Leeds and district have this week an agreeable item in their bill of fare in the presence of Mr. Chas. Collette, who is doing a six night's engagement at the 'Grand' Theatre. Mr. Collette is a comedian of no mean order, whose versatile talents are plainly indicated by the varied bill he has offered to the Leeds public. His impersonation of Colonel Woodd in the successful comedy of 'The Colonel,' is a finished performance, without any trace of coarseness, and is well worth a visit. In another line Mr. Collette is equally successful as Plumper in 'Cool as a cucumber,' in which character he strongly reminds us of the late Mr. Chas. Mathews, in whose comedy of 'My awful dad,' Mr. Collette gives perhaps one of his most amusing impersonations in Adonis Green. The comedian is well supported by Mrs. Collette (nee Miss Blanche Wilton) and a London company. Mr. Collette has a benefit on Friday night, when he gives 'The Colonel;' and concludes the engagement on Saturday with a most attractive programme, which includes 'My awful dad,' and 'Cryptoconchoidsyphonostomata.'

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

Occasional Notes.

Spring is at last upon us, and from amongst the tender leaves and fresh'ning foliage of every covert, our feathered songsters are filling the morning and evening air with their glad music, each singing proudly to his mate brooding over the new made nest. On behalf of these choristers of nature we wish to enlist the efforts of all who, as teachers or parents, have any influence or authority over the young, to prevent the mischievous destruction of bird's nests which is now being carried on by thoughtless young rascals. If the wanton cruelty of tearing away the nests which have been fashioned with so much care and ingenuity, and of destroying the eggs or fledglings, were properly impressed upon the youthful mind, we should see less of it. There can be no doubt in an observant mind, that birds are tenderly attached to their nests and nestlings, and if all those who appreciate the inspiriting influence of the music of birds were to take the songsters under their own protection and denounce the practice of bird-nesting, much good would be done.

The prospects of a terrible war which seemed so close upon us lately are now clearing away. The war at our own doors, between the miners and their employers however, is being carried on as vigorously as ever. There are as yet no indications of a truce, or treaty of peace between the contending parties. To a looker-on, a strike, with its wasteful havoc and suffering seems to be a very rough and clumsy way of settling a dispute of this kind. Can no process of arbitration be devised, in which both parties could put confidence and by the decision of which, both parties would abide? In the meantime the general public have so far very cheerfully provided the chief sufferers with the sinews of war. The men here speak gratefully of the help received from their more fortunate brethren at Rothwell. But this can't go on for ever; the sooner the dispute is settled by a just and fair arrangement, the better for all concerned.

The excursion arrangements for the summer months have just come into force. Week-end pleasure trips for two or three days, to favourite places of resort, can now be booked by ordinary trains at reduced fares from Woodlesford Station.

CRICKET NOTES.

A draw was the result of the match between Rothwell and Altofts, which was played at Rothwell on Saturday. The visitors took the wickets first, and compiled a total of 62, their chief contributors being W. Brown (21), W. Webster (16) and W. Fisher (10). Dobson, on behalf of Rothwell, captured three wickets for 4 runs, Glover three for 23, and Ward two for 16, the other being taken by Whiteley at a cost of 17 runs. On the home team defending, they fared badly at first, six wickets falling for 28 runs, however, the next wicket added other 10, and at the call of time, the game was made to look more favourable for the Rothwell partisans, the total being 51 for 7 wickets. Glover (prof.), being not out for 29.

Woodlesford (minus several of their best players) may be congratulated on their success over Lofthouse on Saturday, a feat very few expected. This was to a certain extent due to the valuable assistance rendered by Moss, of East End, who ran up a score of 60 out of a total of 108, by a piece of really brilliant batting, beside taking 5 wickets, three of which were bowled with three consecutive balls, thus performing the hat trick. Lofthouse only succeeded in making a total of 48, Crawford being top scorer with 19, followed by Chadwick 11, and Ward 8, the only players who offered any resistance to the trundling of the Woodlesford men. The visitors fared even worse than their opponents, four of their best men being out for only five runs, however, on Moss and Trineer getting together, they completely altered the aspect of affairs, and aided by Horn (13) and Lee (12) the score was raised to 108 before the last wicket fell. The fielding of both sides was good, and an interesting game was witnessed.

The match between the 2nd teams of Rothwell and Altofts, like that between the first elevens of these clubs, ended in a draw, slightly in favour of Altofts. The home players made the respectable score of 146, of which T. Cooper was top scorer with 46 (not out) followed by G. H. Lazenby 29, W. Teasdale 20, J. Buxton 15, and D. Fisher 15. Out of a total of 52 made by Rothwell, G. Wilson was responsible for 22 (not out), A. Cromack 16, and J. Tiffany 10.

I am sorry to have to record another crushing defeat received by our Temperance friends, this time at the hands of Hunslet Carr New Connexion, being the fourth defeat this season, and all home matches. If they are unable to win a match on their own ground, one may be at a loss to predict what sort of a stand will be made by them when away from home, and moreover, where are they to come from for off matches, as I verily believe that our Temperance friends have not had a team out of their own club on one single occasion this year. What reason had these men (if they wanted to play this noble game of cricket) to commence another club in opposition to the older organization, because they know very well that it is almost impossible to raise a representative team out of the Temperance Society, and by acting thus, they are injuring both themselves and the premier club of the village. I am fully aware of the fact that the club has in its ranks a few promising players, but the majority of its members are past their 'prime' or in other words 'done up' and I think it is folly of those who can play a little, to waste their time in such a manner, when they would be of much better service, and doing something far more creditable, had they to fall in with the premier village club, where they would have every facility for improving themselves and thus help to uphold the honour which was gained by our favourites in former years doing duty for the Rothwell C. C. As regards the score of Saturday, Hunslet succeeded in piling up a total of 162, of which D. Wilkinson was responsible for 93, H. Hobson 21, and J. Alms, 13. The Temperance side were disposed of for the meagre score of 39, or 123 behind their opponents.

The Stourton Harriers appear to be occupying their spare time in the summer with cricket, having already played a few matches this season. Last Saturday, they met on their own ground Hunslet Temperance, and were nicely defeated; none of the home players were able to reach double figures, J C Taylor being top scorer with 9, the total reaching 22. For the Temperance, Whiteley and H Passmore went in first, and made respectively 38 and 32. The other men shewed up badly, however, not doing credit to the previous batting. At the call of time the Hunslet team had scored 96 at a cost of 8 wickets.

The rival villages of Robin Hood and Carlton met at Carlton on Saturday. Carlton batted first, but S Hartley appeared to be dead on the spot, and took 7 wickets for 9 runs, capturing three of them in successive balls, the total of Carlton being 21. Robin Hood as a whole did not do much better, as they only managed 36, J Hick being responsible for 19 of them; however, they got the better of their opponents.

Value of Experience.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the Individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade. Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has cast about him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. Having been thirty-five years in the trade, in the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was naturally 'up to all the wrinkles.' The middle men, known by the names of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of Manufacturers, who arranged to supply his Establishment at the cost of materials and men's time in the making. In short, placing the Goods before the public, at single articles at wholesale prices. The management is still under R. Scott's personal control, who takes this opportunity of thanking his Patrons in the past, and hopes to receive anew a mark of their confidence. In future the firm will be known as Scott & Co., Goldsmiths, Silversmiths, Opticians, Watch and Clock Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.

If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly restored by good workmen. Scott & Co. guarantee their work for 12 months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made as new, on very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

TOWN TALK.

The accident at Robin Hood last Friday is the second of the same sort which has occurred very lately. No trouble should be spared to secure the safety of the workmen, no matter where employed, and altho' I would not for a moment think that there has been any neglect of duty on the part of anybody, yet I do think that by both managers and workmen exercising an ordinary amount of care such accidents would be very much fewer in number. Let this be a warning to all who are employed in any dangerous occupation, so that they may protect the precious spark of life which once extinquished cannot be kindled again.

The time of the year is coming on when the various Sunday School Anniversaries are celebrated. It is the usual thing to have special hymns for the anniversary, some of which have in years gone by been very appropriate, and often excellently sung by the youngsters. I am now going to make a suggestion, but before doing so let me say that I have been requested to insert this by a Sunday School man. I want to ask those who have the training of the singers to train them in other little, but very important points, viz:—to stand together, and hold their hymn paper in one position. The conductors would go completely mad if some scholars began singing the first line, some the second, others the third and so on, and on the same rule it gives me great uneasiness to see the children jumping to their feet one now and another then, and when once on their feet, some leaning on the pew in front with his hymn in his mouth, and his next door neighbour stood perfectly erect with his paper before him, and making his voice heard, in spite of the lad behind him, who is putting a pin inside his trousers. Let us have more uniformity; let them all rise as the baton rises, and train them to hold their hymns in a good position, and all in one position. I am sure it would be an advantage; they would then both sound and look well.

* * * *

Happening to be in the Grave Yard when the funeral of the unfortunate lad, took place, I was shocked at the way in which the grave digger went about the work of covering in the grave. Scarce had the mourners left the grave, indeed some of those who had attended the cortege were in the act of taking a last look at the inscription on the coffin, when the fellow came up with his spade and pushing his way through those congregated near the grave, began his work in right good earnest, not over politely asking the onlookers to depart. I hope this will be at once stopped and thereby save much pain to the friends of persons interred at Rothwell.

"Working Man's" letter last week was indeed characteristic of the miner; no one could doubt that a real working man was the author of it. There was no attempt to clothe the thoughts in such words as would be most likely to smooth down the hard things which were said. I said in my epistle a fortnight ago that Mr. Fawkes would have done well to have refrained from taking part in such a meeting as that held in the Mechanics' Institute on the 21st ult. Surely Mr. Fawkes must acknowledge this if he keeps his ears open. His remarks have been dissected and scrutinised many a time by the miners, and they can come but to one conclusion, that they are against themselves, and that therefore Mr. Fawkes is himself against them too. It is a most serious thing for the Vicar of a place to be looked upon in this light, and Mr. Fawkes must find that he is retarded in his work very much by these impressions taking possession of men's minds, and I think that such ideas should be corrected at once if possible. I don't know if Mr. Fawkes will reply to the remarks of 'Working Man' or no, but I think that something should be said on the other side, and I venture to offer one or two remarks on the subject. First, I think that Mr. Fawkes said more than he intended, and more than he really believes; secondly, that the miners have added a bit to what he really did say; thirdly, that taking Mr. Fawkes' usual words and actions, he is really a friend and not an enemy to the working classes. So much in Mr. Fawkes' favour; but on the other hand, he said a good deal more than he ought to have said, and after all I would advise our esteemed vicar not to dabble in these party questions, which have so much of ill-feeling always so closely allied with them.

* * * *

If Mr. Fawkes acts upon my advice, and in accordance with the lessons experience would teach, he will want something to fill up his time rendered vacant by the cutting off of the subject of "Party Politics" from the list of subjects he undertakes to teach as the vicar of the parish, and I will simply point to the Rev. Mr. Irvin, of Woodlesford, as an example worthy of imitation. We could do with a Mission here as well as they could at Woodlesford. Mr. Fawkes ought to be able to gather round him a grand band of 'Christain workers' out of his Sunday School and Church, and their united effort would make an impression somewhere. Is the hint worth taking up, Sir.

THE MINERS' STRIKE

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

Will you kindly permit me (through the medium of your journal) to say a few words to my fellow-workmen.

Fellow workmen, I have been thinking recently about our position as non-union men, and how we should stand were our masters to ask us to submit to a reduction.

We see in the present lock-out the result of not being united; the men who have contributed to the funds of the Association can now receive the sum of 9/6 per man, while the non-union men have to be content with a mere trifle, which is contributed by those who are at work, and I am sorry to say that that is with no regularity, for some men are only paying as low as 6d., and if they should pay the sum of 1s., that would be doing a great thing; now if we had all been united there would have been a regularity in contributions, and also the men that are locked out would have received the same with equality.

But, fellow-workmen, I think that our present position affords every opportunity to our masters in not only asking us to submit to a reduction, but demanding it; had we been united the masters would never have attempted to ask for a reduction; it is well known 'united we stand, divided we fall, and shall we continue to remain in our present position? I say no! But let us in future unite ourselves together with our brethren who are at present fighting our battles; it has been the custom for us to wait the decision of other collieries, and then follow in the same line. Now it is high time that we took a better view than this, and whatever struggle our brethren are in we ought to be in that position to suffer with them in fighting the same battle. Many have been the victories our brethren have achieved, and we shared in the spoil; now this ought not to be, but we ought to take up the same weapons and fight manfully alongside our comrades, and then greater would be our rejoicing in having been engaged in the fight. And what is the weapon we should use? This is a question which might easily be solved; that is, to all enter into the association, and let our masters see that we are as one man, and that we will in future think well of ourselves by being united. I will now close by saying, let us think the matter over, and see if it would not be far better for us thus to act than remain as we are.

I am, yours truly,
E. R.

MASTERS AND THEIR WORKMEN.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

I regret that your anonymous correspondent of this week ('A Working Man') did not sign his name, and so give me an opportunity, if he be a parishioner, of a personal explanation of some remarks which I made lately in the Mechanics' Institute, on the matter which is now pending between masters and men, in the immediate district, but as it appears that I have put up the backs of the miners as a body, it is perhaps better that I should explain myself through your columns, if you can find space.

I will first say, that if I left an impression on the minds of any present at that meeting, that I was advocating solely the cause of the colliery owner (or, as your correspondent expresses it, 'keeping up with the aristocratic feeling'), with an utter disregard to the best interests of the miner, I either unintentionally misrepresented my opinions, or was misunderstood. In speaking on the relations between capital and labour, I prefaced the few remarks which I made, by saying (if my memory serves me aright) that I was leading my hearers into a region of Utopia, where all things are well and wisely done, and that in the matter of wages, it was better for the masters to propose an advance, than for the men to demand it, by gentle violence. I am of the same opinion still, from a general point of view, having given the subject much thought, though this may be a matter of wonder to your correspondent.

I rejoice that I cannot possibly accept the motto which he would thrust upon me—"Ah, we must keep the poor down."—believing, as I do, that God's curse is on any oppression of man by man. The question for masters should be—not 'what is profitable for us to do?' but 'what is right and just?' Viewing the matter in this light: and if it be true, as is stated, that the present action taken by the masters is uncalled for, or premature, your correspondent and they who feel aggrieved, must admit that on the occasion in question, in place of blaming the men, I administered a wholesome rebuke to the employers of labour.

I still think the way which I proposed the more excellent way, and can confidently leave it to a higher authority than that of any earthly master, by quoting in conclusion from the portion of the New Testament appointed by the church to be read this evening—"Masters, render unto your servants that which is just and equal, knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven."

I am, Sir,
Yours faithfully,
FREDK. FAWKES.

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have is in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name Consumption Emulsion. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 1[illegible]8 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find there is a gain of weight even after it has been used." Such a testimony as this speaks volumes for the efficiency of Phthisicon. In addition, it has proved of immense value as a curative agent in the early stages of Brain Disease and Scrofula; in fact, wherever there is impaired nutrition or lack of nerve power, its action is almost certain. It can be obtained of all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s., and 21s. per bottle. Wholesale of Barclay and Sons, Farringdon-street, London, E.C.; or of W. B. Trick, M.P.S., 22, Green-lanes London, N

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes close, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above-named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety one cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), London, England. This syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of system.

Floriline!—For the Teeth and Breath.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

IS RHEUMATISM CURABLE? Yes, if you take WOODCOCK'S RHEUMATIC MIXTURE. Speedily cures Rheumatic Pains in the Limbs, Rheumatic Pains in the Head, Rheumatic Pains in the Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatic Swellings and Stiffness, in fact, every phase of Rheumatism; no matter how acute or long standing, it never fails. OBSERVE—This is not a quack remedy warranted to cure everything, but a genuine SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM only. Sold by all medicine vendors at 1s. 9d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d. and 11s., or Post free for 23, 34, or 56 stamps. The 11s. size paid to nearest Railway Station for 11s. 3d. P.O. Order or Stamps, from Page D. Woodcock, Lincoln.

ONE BOX OF CLARKE'S B41 PILLS is warranted to cure all discharges from the Urinary Organs, in either sex (acquired or constitutional), Gravel, and Pains in the Back. Guaranteed free from Mercury. Sold in Boxes, 4s. 6d. each, by all Chemists and Patent Medicine Vendors throughout the World; or sent to any address for sixty stamps by the Makers, The Lincoln and Midland Counties Drug Company, Lincoln. Wholesale Agents, Barclay & Sons, London, and all the Wholesale Houses.

DEAR FRED,

You will be surprised at receiving a letter from me, but thank God, I am pleased to say am getting better every day. I shall be so glad to breathe the fresh air again. It has seemed a dreadful long time to be in bed. You know I was taken to the Hospital last April to be treated for Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Well, on the 31st of July they tapped me, and took away 304 ounces of water. The same thing was done again on the 18th September, and 408 ounces of water obtained. On the 9th October I was discharged from the Hospital as incurable. In January this year (the 20th), was again tapped at home and 380 ounces of water taken away. The St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London refused me admission as a hopeless case, and the Bartholomew Hospital, Chatham, also refused me, as being the worst case they had seen for years, and two local doctors gave me up as hopeless. When I came from the Hospital it took three to put me to bed. My clothes had to be cut off. I was an object of misery and despair. After the Hospitals had refused me, and doctors given me up, my wife persuaded me to try Hop Bitters, and from the commencement have improved daily. I have only taken them seven weeks and can now get downstairs and walk about without even a stick. With the aid of a few more bottles of the Bitters shall be well again. The water has entirely left my body and legs. The only trace left is in my feet. It is a wonderful medicine. I wish I had tried it sooner, as I have nearly ruined myself and family with doctors' bills and other expenses. I might have been well long ago. At the Hospital I had no appetite whatever, but since using the Bitters eat everything with a relish. The only difficulty is the expense, but must not mind that so long as I am getting well. Am cheerful now that recovery is near, for every one had given me up as a bad job. With best wishes to . . . .

I remain,
Your affectionate Brother,
(Signed) William Grayson.
1, Bush Terrace, Cage Lane,
Chatham, March 14, 1885.

To the Hop Bitters Co., London.

Gentlemen,—I enclose letter from my brother-in-law, Wm. Grayson, Chatham. He considers he owes his life to your Hop Bitters, and feels he cannot say enough in its praise.

Yours truly,
Fred. Stammers.
39, Castle Street, London.

LATER.

Chatham, March 24.

Since I wrote you ten days ago I have improved wonderfully. To-day I walked to the barber's shop (and got shaved), and back again by myself without fatigue. This is the first time I have been out alone since last April—over eleven months.

William Grayson.

HIGH AUTHORITY.

Dr. THOMPSON says Kidney Disease is probably next to Consumption the commonest cause of death among adults in this climate. You have had a recent and mysterious attack of asthma, pains in the back and around the loins, severe headaches, dizziness, inflamed eyes, a coated tongue and a dry mouth, loss of appetite, chilly sensation, indigestion (the stomach never is in order when the kidneys or liver are deranged), dryness of the skin, nervousness, night sweats, muscular debility, despondency, a tired feeling (especially at night), puffing or bloating under the eyes, and your muscular system seems utterly helpless. Dr. Roberts, of England; Prof. Thompson, of New York; and other celebrated authorities tell us that all these symptoms are sure indications of Bright's Disease! With some patients the disease runs slowly and for years. With others it comes as a thief in the night. This fact is an alarming one, and startles the inquiry, What can be done?

HOP BITTERS for the CURE of Kidney and Liver Complaints have no equal in the world, and those suffering from any of the above symptoms should use them at once.

THE MINERS' STRIKE.

THE MASTERS AND THE PROPOSED SLIDING SCALE AND ARBITRATION.

Yesterday, a meeting of the colliery proprietors of South and West Yorkshire was held at Sheffield to consider the proposal of the men to refer the wages question to arbitration. As the result of the deliberations the following communication was forwarded to the miners' secretary, Mr. B. Pickard:—

"Royal Victoria Station Hotel, Sheffield,
14th May, 1885.

"Dear Sir,—We beg to enclose you resolution which was passed unanimously at a joint meeting of West Yorkshire and South Yorkshire coalowners, held in the above hotel this day, and are, yours faithfully, (Signed) "WALTER ROWLEY, Secretary West Yorkshire Coalmasters' Association.

(Signed) "F. PARKER RHODES, Secretary South Yorkshire Coalowners' Assurance Society.

"That the secretary inform Mr. Pickard, in reply to the resolution passed at the meeting of miners' delegates held at Barnsley on Monday last, that the question in dispute does not admit of arbitration, as the price of coal is now so low that it will be impossible to work many of the pits without loss, even when the ten per cent. has been agreed to; but that the coalowners will be prepared, when this reduction is accepted, to meet a deputation from the miners to consider a sliding scale and the desirability of the appointment of a joint committee for the prevention of disputes in the future."

THE DISPUTE AT DENABY MAIN.

PROBABLE SETTLEMENT.

The excitement which occurred amongst the evicted Denaby Main miners on Wednesday night was followed by an extraordinary calm yesterday morning. The expected arrival of further Cornishmen did not take place, neither did any fresh workmen come from elsewhere. The crowd which had collected at Mexborough station and outside the Montagu Hotel dispersed soon after midnight. At five o'clock yesterday morning only half a dozen Denaby colliers appeared near the pit to see how many were working. Forty-six men, including the deputies and other officials, as those from Penzance, were seen to go down in the cage, and it was thus clear that no more employés had been engaged since those which came on Tuesday. Major Hammond intimated to Mr. Peter Hatton, the chairman of the Denaby miners' lodge, that he was desired by the manager to convey to the miners his desire that a deputation should wait upon himself and the directors, at a time which they could themselves fix, with a view to their returning to work; and it was also said that there was a probability of all the summonses which had been taken out being withdrawn. The information was at once communicated to the officials of the lodge, and the bellman was sent round Mexborough to intimate that the Denaby miners were urged to meet at the lodge-room on important business.

Later on the meeting took place, and the room was crowded. Mr. Hatton presided, and a deputation of twelve miners was appointed to wait upon the managers, and the interview will take place to-day. A messenger then arrived and said the Cornishmen had expressed a desire to leave the colliery if the Denaby miners would help to pay their expenses back to Cornwall, and that they felt they were keeping men out of work who ought to be taking their places. This news was well received, and two miners were deputed to visit the colliery and see the strangers on the matter, and to tell them they need not fear the Denaby men, as they would be shown every consideration.

RE-OPENING OF WESLEYAN CHAPEL.

The re-opening services commenced on Sunday, May 3rd, by the Rev. F. Woofenden, were continued last Sunday by the Rev. G. Renton, followed by a most successful tea and meeting on Monday.

The Sunday services were very well attended, the evening congregation quite filling the spacious edifice, save a few odd seats. The morning sermon was based on "No man liveth unto himself;" the evening text being—"Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him."

In the afternoon, Mr. Renton conducted a children's service, which was of a very agreeable character, the address being on "Flowers, and their influence and use." The collections during the three services amounted to £29.

On Monday, a large number of friends gathered to tea, there being contingents from other parts of the circuit. The cost of the tea was subscribed for by means of 5s. gifts, the whole of the edibles reflecting great credit on the skill of our excellent confectioners.

Shortly after half-past six, a public meeting was opened in the chapel, there being a good attendance. The Rev. S. Pitt, the resident minister, having announced a hymn, the Rev. T. Rathmell offered prayer. Mr. Pitt then called on Mr. Wm. Hargreaves to occupy the chair, and expressed his pleasure in seeing him present with them.

Mr. Hargreaves, on taking the chair, was warmly received, and in the course of a short address expressed his opinion that there was not a more beautiful chapel in Yorkshire than the one they were now in, and thought that there were few places the size of Rothwell that could boast of three more convenient and attractive places of worship than their fine old church, and the beautiful chapels belonging to the Wesleyans and Primitives. He was exceedingly pleased to meet again with Mr. Renton, whom he had come to esteem as a friend, and he was quite sure they were very deeply indebted to Mr. Renton for the erection of the chapel, as no one could have done more than he had done, by the aid of his horse and carriage, in arranging for the work, and in collecting subscriptions. He had been well supported in his efforts, and they were all very pleased to see him again. The chairman then called on the secretary to the chapel trustees.

Mr. J. R. Seanor, the secretary, read a report of the renovation accounts, and urged all to do their best so as to get as clear of debt as possible before the services closed. They were very wishful to have the seats well filled, and he trusted many who do not go regularly to any place of worship would come with them, and he was sure what they heard would do them good.

Mr. J. H. Wice, of Wakefield, received a hearty welcome, and expressed his thorough satisfaction with the work done, and with the appearance of their neat and beautiful chapel, hoping they would soon have it all paid for. Mr. Wice, who is well-known as the oldest and most active leader in Wesleyan Methodism in the circuit, then proceeded to deliver a most interesting and useful address on the influence of John Wesley's life and teaching, attributing a considerable portion of our educational and even material national advancement to the impetus given to the various classes of the country by his words and writings. When he commenced his public life, not 150 years ago, the wealthy were debased and vicious, while the poor were without education or religion, the Bible not being found in more than one house out of every five. As the result of bible teaching and preaching, the desire for knowledge increased, education and religion spread, the middle classes sprang into existence, inventions were made and new powers brought into existence and service; habits of frugality and taste were cultivated, and society generally improved. A good deal of this result was attributed to Wesley's influence on those who were brought under his teaching, both the churches and the dissenting bodies being fired with new energy by his example. Mr. Wice stated that during the last 14 years, £24,000 had been expended in the Wakefield circuit for chapels and schools. He urged every member to rally round their minister, and assist in advancing the cause of religion; especially did he advise great attention to the Sunday School and young people; if they had the help and sympathy of the young they would succeed in whatever they undertook.

The Rev. Thos. Rathmell, in congratulating them on their beautiful chapel, said he did not care to have places of worship so fine that a working man felt afraid to enter; he thought they had now got a chapel fit for any gentleman, but so comfortable and attractive as to please anybody. Mr. Rathmell followed on similar lines to Mr. Wice, and stated that although John Wesley left 90,000 members at his death, that a much larger number of persons joined other churches, who were indebted to his preaching for their change of life. Speaking of the building and sustentation of chapels, he believed it was often a bad thing for one person to bear all the expense, and gave instances of trouble arising from such a course; he rather counselled all to do what they could in supporting their church. He also urged the cultivation of a kindly feeling to all, especially men who came to the service in a white smock, or with only a red handkerchief round his neck, and also towards those mothers whose only opportunity of hearing a sermon was by bringing their babies with them. He wished the Rothwell friends continued success.

A hymn having been sung, the Rev. S. Pitt was called upon to speak; he said he should not take up much time with his remarks, but make way for some other speakers whose voices were not so frequently heard amongst them. He spoke of the work done by the Rothwell Wesleyans, and especially their last enterprise. He thought it was a very legitimate way of drawing people to the services, and expressed the hope that the interest of the people who did not attend any place of worship would be secured, and that greater and more abiding good would be done in days to come.

The Rev. Gregory Renton expressed his great pleasure at having Mr. Hargreaves, (who had been one of his best friends while living here), in the chair, and hoped he would still continue a friend and supporter of Wesleyan Methodism in Rothwell. Referring to the time of the building of the chapel, he said he had only done his duty like many other workers in the cause, but he was proud to have an interest in the work and was glad to see the place look so well. He hoped great success would attend their efforts; God was on their side and they were sure to win. He had been much pleased with the congregations and collections on the previous day, and hoped the friends would give as largely as they were able, so as to leave as little as possible owing after the re-opening services. He made a strong appeal for earnest, united work in endeavouring to bring sinners to the feet of Jesus, and was glad to see that some whom he had tried to lead into the right path when residing in Rothwell, had since his departure, joined the Church and become earnest workers in its various operations. In order to accomplish the great work of the Gospel he hoped that the special blessing of God would rest upon them.

A collection was then taken amounting to £16 13s. 8d., after which votes of thanks were presented to the chairman and to the ladies on the motion of Mr. Batty and Mr. Morton, the proposition being very heartily carried. Mr Hargreaves having responded, the meeting was brought to a close in the usual manner.

The total amount collected during the re-opening services is £63 17 11; part of the proceeds of the last Christmas Sale is being used for this work, and there is about £25 still to be raised.

FOOTBALL CLUBS.

ROTHWELL.

The annual tea and social gathering of the above club was held in the National Schools, on Tuesday last, when fully 60 ladies and gentlemen were present and partook of an excellent repast, provided by Mr. and Mrs. Cromack, caretakers of the Working Mans' Club, and of whom great credit is due. While the tables were being cleared the company adjourned to a class-room, where the general meeting was held. Mr. John R. Seanor presided, and after a few preliminary remarks, introduced the secretary (Mr Jos. Harrison) to read the annual report, which shewed that during the past year the club has been successful in almost every respect, and at present stands in a very prosperous condition. The club has played 21 matches during the year, out of which 8 have been won, 8 lost, and 5 drawn, while the number of goals scored by them is 30, as against 21 by their opponents. During the last season, a marked improvement has been made in the playing department, and if the members continue to play under the rules of the Sheffield Association, a good all-round eleven will no doubt be turned out to do duty for the club. The income of the past season amounted to £13 15s 8d, and the expenditure £9 14s. 11½d., leaving a balance in the hands of the treasurer of £4 0s. 8½d. The club is also considerably strengthened as regards the number of members, having a better total than that of any previous year, and having risen during the past season from 16 to 31, which, together with 13 subscribers, makes a total of 44. After the report had been adopted, the meeting was adjourned till that day week (Tuesday next), when the election of officers and other important business is to be brought forward. At about 8 30, the tables having been cleared and removed, a nice company assembled to enjoy themselves. An overture on the piano by Mr. John R. Seanor opened the proceedings, and dancing followed, being indulged in by many of those present. A few songs, etc., were interspersed, and were well received. A topical duet was rendered by Messrs. A. W. Seanor and R. H Lewis, "Do you think so," the funny "get up" of the performers, and the various local "hits" causing much amusement; for the encore two more verses were rendered. The 'Sentry's' song from "Iolanthe" was sung by Mr. J. R. Seanor, while Mr. J. Harrison sang "The Mulligan Guards," with fife and drum accompaniment, causing roars of laughter; being re-called, the band paraded the room playing "The British Grenadiers." Mr. G. H. Armitage effectively recited "Curfew shall not ring to-night," and was encored. The Football Club Glee Party sang the ever welcome "Hail smiling morn" with taste. Mr. J. R. Seanor, Mr. M. Fowler, and Mr. J. W. Wright each played the piano for the dancing, Mr. R. H. Lewis also joining in several of the pieces with the flute. The entertainment was kept up till 10.30, when the company gradually dispersed, all expressing their thorough enjoyment of the party.

STOURTON ST. ANDREW'S.

The above club held their annual tea on Saturday last, a moderate number attending. After tea a meeting was held to make arrangements for next season, and to wind up the affairs of last. The report shewed that the income amounted to £7 17s. 11d., and the expenditure to £7 14s. 8d., leaving a balance in hand of 3s. 3d. 22 matches have been played by the first team, of which 9 have been won, 7 lost, and 6 drawn. The "A Team" have only played 4 matches, winning 3 and losing 1. The first team have scored 45 goals, against their opponents 44; "a team" 8 goals to antagonists 3. The only club that have twice defeated Stourton is Sheffield Hallam, they having scored in both matches no less than 13 goals to 4. Doncaster defeated the club on its own ground by 6 goals to nil. The greatest success attained by Stourton was over Robin Hood, when they scored 8 goals to nil. During the early part of the season the club was not very successful, but in 1885 they were only once beaten. Forty-five members, honorary and playing, have been enrolled. It was then decided after discussion to play "Rugby Rules" next season. The Rev. A. J. Miller was elected president, the Rev. V. Litchfield, Mr. Westerman, and Mr. Holmes, vice-presidents; Mr. Jas. Goldthorpe was also re-elected captain. After the election of the committee, and other officers, the meeting was brought to a close, and the rest of the evening spent in games, dancing, &c.

THE Golden Cup Cocoa House, 157, Briggate.—The new premises are now complete and the accommodation greatly improved.

ENGLAND AND RUSSIA.

It is understood, says a Simla telegram, that the new frontier of Afghanistan will start from Zulficar, and travel in an easterly direction to Chaman-i-Baid on the Kushk. Descending the river to Gauz-i-Khan, it will proceed in a north-easterly direction to the south of Penjdeh. The line thus defined lies partly between the frontiers proposed by England and Russia respectively.

It is also stated that the delimitation negotiations between England and Russia now in progress have proceeded so satisfactorily that M. Lessar is expecting early instructions to proceed to Central Asia.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

East Ardsley Post Office.—Mr. John Batty, draper, has been appointed sub postmaster for East Ardsley. The general postal, money order, and telegraph business has been removed to his shop, which is situated in a very central position, and by the early part of this week the postal service was in full operation in the new premises.

Stourton St. Andrews Church.—The anniversary of the opening of the above Church was commenced yesterday. The Holy Communion was celebrated at half past four in the morning, and in the evening at half past seven the Rev. E. W. R Hutchinson, late curate, conducted the public service, which was full choral with anthem. The church was suitably decorated and presented a very pleasing and attractive appearance.

Parties visiting E. Miller's Furnishing Depôt, 22, North Street, Leeds, often express their regret at not having called sooner!

Aurora Bicycle Club.—Last night, a meeting of this club was held at the Rothwell Working Man's Club, Mr. John R. Seanor presiding. The election of officers took place with the following result:—Captain, Mr. John R. Seanor; sub-captain, Mr. Tom Nowell; captain's bugler, Mr. G. Batty; bugler, Mr. A. Seanor; treasurer, Mr. J. W. Wright; secretary, Mr. Walter Hargreaves. A number of runs were also decided upon, the one to morrow being to Roundhay Park, when any bicyclists or tricyclists who are non-members of the club, will be gladly welcomed on taking part in the run. Start from Working Man's Club at 2 15.

The Vicar of Wakefield.—The Rev. Canon Stratton, paid a visit to this locality on Sunday last, preaching at Oulton Church in the morning, and at Swillington in the afternoon; there were good congregations at both places.

Seasonable Gift.—An excellent mode of assisting the chapel funds and at the same time affording pleasure and help to the poor, was carried out last Monday, by Mr. W. Hargreaves, who presented tea tickets to 21 widows in Rothwell.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

Occasional Notes.

The present season is a trying time for paterfamilias. The spring fever has set in with its distracting symptoms and is rife in every well-regulated household. "There is no place like home" we are told in the touching words of the song, and it is to be fervently hoped that there isn't. Home for most of us just now, is the last possibility in the way of a place of disquietude and unrest. It is the reign of disorder, everything is out of its place, all our favorite little habits are dislocated, there is a pervading odour of soft soap and furniture polish, and life under these conditions is anything but a rose-tinted dream to the married man. From early morn—when, stepping out of bed, he places his unprotected heel, with a howl of pain, upon the business end of a stray tinned tack—to dewy eve, when he threads his devious way through chaotic piles of furniture, back again—he is made to feel how entirely he is in the way, and is tempted to wish himself "anywhere, anywhere, out of the world" There is a bright side to the picture, however; the 'cleaning down' season brings extra employment to painters and decorators, and brisker trade to dealers in 'cheap paper hangings' and other indispensable accessories to household decoration; and when the agony is over and the brightness of the house seems to reflect some of the sunshine out of doors, we are ready to own that it has been worth while to endure the temporary discomfort, for the sake of the sense of cleanliness and smartness which follows.

It is time the voice of public opinion was raised against the spread of the gambling spirit amongst us. Betting on the results of horse races is carried on by numbers of young men and boys in our neighbourhood, and the evil is growing to an extent little known to those who ought to use their influence to check the practice. Such sporting papers as the Yorkshire Post and the Leeds halfpenny evening papers are eagerly conned for hints as to probable winners, and money is staked on the particular 'fancies' of the gulls on whom the experienced book-makers have to depend for an honest (?) livelihood. The vice is infatuating and demoralising; it occupies the mind to the exclusion of all that is good, and developes all that is small and mean in one's nature. It leads the youth who gives way to it into temptations to dishonesty which are hard to resist, and often results in loss of character, and moral ruin. We have no desire to sermonise, but a word of warning on the subject is surely not out of place.

Holloway's Ointment & Pills.—Coughs, Influenza—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the respiratory organs. In common colds and influenza the Pills, taken internally, and the ointment rubbed over the chest and throat, are exceedingly efficacious. When influenza is epidemic, this treatment is the easiest, safest and surest. Holloway's Pills purify the blood, remove all obstacles to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the over-gorged air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits; such are the ready means of escaping from suffering when afflicted with colds, coughs, bronchitis, and other chest complaints, by which the health of so many is seriously and permanently injured in most countries.

Throat Irritation and Cough.—Soreness and dryness, tickling and irritation, inducing cough and affecting the voice. For these symptoms use Epps's Glycerine Jujubes. In contact with the glands at the moment they are excited by the act of sucking, the Glycerine in these agreeable confections becomes actively healing. Sold only in boxes, 7½d., tins 1s. 1½d., labelled "James Epps & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London." Dr. George Moore, in his work on "Nose and Throat Diseases," says: "The Glycerine Jujubes prepared by James Epps and Co., are of undoubted service as a curative or palliative agent," while Dr. Gordon Holmes, Senior Physician to the Municipal Throat and Ear Infirmary, writes: "After an extended trial, I have found your Glycerine Jujubes of considerable benefit (with or without medical treatment) in almost all forms of throat disease."

Teeth, a Complete Set one Guinea.—Precisely the same Prize Medal Teeth supplied by other Dentists at the highest fees, five years' warranty.—Testimonial from Jas. Steward, Physician and Surgeon, L.R.C.P.E. "I have great pleasure in recommending your Guinea Sets of Teeth. The set you supplied to me are much superior to those for which I paid a much higher fee. They must prove a great boon to the working classes." Complete set made and fitted in a few hours. One visit only required from country patients at the Dental Supply Association, 10, Boar-lane, Leeds. Entrance, Gascoigne-street. Attendance, 10 to 7. Country Patients attended at their own Residences without extra charge.

CRICKET NOTES.

Saturday last proved to be anything but a pleasant day for our local clubs in their usual weekly contests, being cold and somewhat showery, causing the wicket to be of a dead nature, rather in favour of bowlers, such a day being more suited to footballers rather than cricketers. While speaking of football, I must not forget to note the successful affair brought about by the Committee of the Rothwell Football Club, in the shape of a tea and social, held last Tuesday, and which passed off beyond expectations, every one being well pleased and satisfied with the arrangements, and I think our friends of the cricket club can not do better than follow the example set by their neighbours, and instead of spending the time after the annual tea in discussing the various doings connected with the club, have an evening's enjoyment once in the year, and defer the business (after the report had been read and adopted) to some future time.

Rothwell journeyed to Whitwood on Saturday last, and would have secured an easy win had time allowed of the game being played out. The visitors took the wickets first, and managed to run up a total of 97. The professional again exhibited some fine form in the batting department, and played a brilliant innings of 46, but I am afraid that the majority of the team are allowing nearly all the scoring to be done by him, which looks as if they would be hopelessly at sea without his aid in this particular department; not that I want to take any honour off the shoulders of our professional with such an average as 41, but I should very much like some of the "old blocks" to shew a little more skill. A. Fowler was second highest scorer with 15, followed by G. Wilson 13, the latter of whom seems to be in rare form just now, and I have no doubt will be seen to advantage ere the season gets much further. Four of Whitwood wickets were down for 14 (mainly due to Ward, who captured 3 wickets for 9 runs, Glover taking the other at a cost of 4 runs) so Rothwell may be considered to have gained a moral victory over her opponent.

Woodlesford encountered a strong team of Airedale Wanderers at the former village on Saturday last, the Wanderers having A. Motley, the once famous fast bowler amongst their number. For the home team Parkin played in fine form, as did Hewitt and Lee. The wicket-keeping of Collin was much admired, and I should say if this player will only stick to this place in the field, and practice it well, he will in time make a first-class stumper. The total scored by Woodlesford was 130. The visitors had not long to bat, and they scored 20 for 3 wickets; Jas. Lowe played well for 12, having to retire owing to a fast one from Moss tapping his hand. I hear on good authority that W. Hirst is coming over to play with Woodlesford on Whit-Tuesday. A good team has been picked to represent Woodlesford against Oulton next Saturday, and a good game will no doubt be witnessed, although the odds are probably in favour of the former club.

At home, Rothwell 2nd encountered Whitwood 2nd, and would have gained an easy victory, had it not been for the rain putting a stop to the game on two or three occasions. The batting of the home team all-round was very satisfactory, only one "duck" figuring amongst the whole eleven. The score reached 115, out of which J. Tiffany played a fine innings of 20, while Pape hit freely for 17, backed up by W. I Taylor (16), A. Cripps (14, not out), and J. Wilson (10). Perhaps the best feature of the match was the splendid bowling feat achieved by Baines, who proved himself to be simply unplayable, taking 6 wickets at a cost of 9 runs, and I am told that this average would have been still further improved, had the wicket-keeper been better acquainted with his duties. The score of Whitwood was 24 for 6 wickets.

Those of my readers who at times like a little fun would have been well rewarded on paying a visit to the Temperance Cricket ground, where a party of 15, designated as 'Cave's Temperance Team' engaged 15 'old stagers' chosen from the Temperance Society. The home players succeeded in piling on a total of 95, out of which G. Hammill was top scorer with 37 (not out), followed by W. Tiffany with 15, and J. Blackburn 14. The other side soon topped this score, and when the stumps were drawn, had made 102 for the loss of two wickets, T. Austin being not out 48, J. Henry 27, J. Fountain 8, and T. Hobson not out 9. After the match, the teams along with several friends, partook of tea in the Temperance Hall.

POLICE NEWS.

WEST RIDING COURT (Friday).

Defrauding the Railway Company: A "Dodging" System Checked.—Eliza Cockerham and E. Garnett, two married women, the former of Woodlesford and the latter of Oulton, were charged with defrauding the Midland Railway Company by travelling on their line without tickets.—Mr. Whitelock (of the firm of Messrs. Beal and Co. Birmingham), instructed by Inspector Allison, appeared to prosecute, and said the offences were on different dates, but similar in character. The mode of operation was simply this: Defendants took return tickets from Woodlesford to Hunslet; then travelled on to Leeds, where they paid the excess fare. But they returned from Leeds to Woodlesford with the return half of the tickets to Hunslet and back, thus defrauding the Company of the fare between Leeds and Hunslet. These cases were very frequent. Evidence having been given to the above effect, the Bench ordered Cockerham to pay 18s. for trying to defraud the Railway Company of 2d. In the case of Garnett she said she had been in the habit of using Hunslet return half from Leeds, and paying the station master the difference. Sometimes when she had not had money the stationmaster had trusted her, but the stationmaster did not collect the ticket on the occasion in question, and she intended to pay the money.—The Stationmaster admitted that this had occurred one or two odd times.—In consideration of this the case was dismissed, but the Bench warned prisoner against such a thing occurring again.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We would particularly urge our friends to send in their letters and news, as early as possible, as we cannot accept contributions later than Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, except in the case of matters occurring on Wednesday or Thursday, which should be forwarded within a short period after. Advertisements may be sent as late as Friday morning.

TOWN TALK.

What an enormous outlay! What a tremendous expenditure! What an extravagant piece of work! How gigantic the undertaking! and a score other similar exclamations were used by persons reading the report of the re-opening of the Rothwell Wesleyan Chapel, in the Rothwell Times last week. The report gave an account of the many improvements and additions recently carried out. There was the painting throughout, a suite of new chairs (worth £10 alone), new matting for the aisles, a splendid new lamp, &c, &c, and to finish up with, "The entire cost is about £20." Mark the "entire" cost, and this large amount all expended during so short a period as five weeks, during which time the chapel has been closed. Of course the cost of the work was £120 and not £20 as reported. I suppose one of the "imps" which traditionally infest the printing-office, must have run off with the £100, thereby hoping to be able to do the "Masher" for a little while at any rate.

.. ..

Here follows a dialogue, which shews very clearly that the lucky contractors for the renovation of the chapel, have been presented with a most effective and valuable advertisement.

Scene.—A cottage home. Old man and his good lady sat by the fire; she, with a copy of Rothwell Times in her hands. Time:—6.30 last Friday night.

She:—'Hear tha, James! t'Metterdist Chapel's nob-but cost abaght £20 dewin up."
He:—"Tha nivver sez so, does ta."
She:—"Noa but t'Roddill Times sez so."
He:—"Well, for sewer."
She:—"Nah, I'll just put on my bonett an shawl, an go up to awr John Thomases and see him abaght hevin their house done up a bit for this Wissenda; an they mun go to Barkers' tew; they'll get it done up to Dick, for t'next to nowt, I'll be bun."
Exit Mrs. So and So.

.. ..

It is very likely that we shall have the great boon of a second despatch and delivery of letters given to us before long. Dr. Nowell has this time taken up the matter and it promises well to succeed at last I believe. The very same thing has been advocated time after time in the columns of this journal, and I am happy to see that the necessary steps for bringing about such a desirable state of things, are now being taken. This will be another step forward, and I trust that we shall all do our best to get the extra work carried out by the Postal Authorities, and also to make the undertaking a successful one.

.. ..

There was great curiosity felt last week by some readers to know who was the writer of that letter on the late Conservative meeting which the Editor styled "libellous and incorrect" and on that ground declined to publish. Well I am sure I can't satisfy their curiosity; I should be glad to give every one a fair opportunity of expressing his views on public matters, but no one can expect the proprietor of a newspaper to publish anything incorrect and libellous; in this case both words are used. If the writer of any letter cannot make his point clear without having resort to libellous and incorrect statements, the sooner he ceases to write and the better. But on the other hand this particular case may have occurred from ignorance, and perhaps the Stourton friend will be able to so arrange his words in another letter expressing the same sentiments as to be admissible.

The question of the Gas Co's Reserve Fund came before the Local Board again at the last meeting, and the decision was that the Gas Committee of the Board meet the directors of the Gas Company and agree upon a gentleman from whom to obtain an opinion; until that decision is obtained there will be little of interest in the affair. I have a slight notion, however, that whatever the Board take upon themselves to do in the matter, the benefit gained to the consumer will be a slight one only, if indeed any benefit accrues from Mr. Turner's election agitation at all. Certainly there has been a marked lull in the enthusiasm, since the result of the election was determined, and one is tempted to think that the question of the Reserve Fund was taken up by Mr. Turner from more than one motive.

GOSSIP.

MASTERS AND THEIR WORKMEN.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

Will you kindly permit me the privilege of saying a few words in response to the Rev. Mr. Fawkes' remarks, which appeared in your columns of last week. He begins by terming me anonymous because I did not sign my name, and the reason why I was anonymous was because position is such a grand thing, and I must inform him that I am not in possession of position, which enables a man to shine as it were in true colours, as many would like to do, but I am undoubtedly a working man, and the only source of my livelihood at present is down in the bowels of the earth. Then he goes on to say if I be a parishioner he would have liked a personal explanation of some of the remarks he made, but I think it is better as it is, for everybody who reads the Times will see the course of our remarks, for he made the statement publicly, therefore, I think in all fairness he should explain the same. Further, he states that he either unintentionally misrepresented his opinion, or was misunderstood, but I can't see for the life of me how he could be misunderstood when his remarks were so plainly spoken in reference to capital and labour, for these were the words he gave utterance to. As to relations between capital and labour he thought the proper thing to do in matters of advancing wages, was for the master to say to his men, 'you are now a better servant and are worth more money,' rather than the men to have to demand it of the masters. He had seen many strikes when he lived in the Barnsley district, and had known the suffering and trouble they caused. He did not pity the men so much, but he pitied the poor women and children. But what is pity without relief? There is one point I agreed with when he said it would be better if the masters would propose an advance and let the men have to demand it. But he forgot to say at the same time that it would be better if the men would propose the reduction, and not the masters demand it. But in this crisis they are demanding a reduction which I feel convinced is as unfair as anything can be, and the reason why I think so is this, they propose to tell us that they do not get a sufficient dividend for the capital laid out, but they forgot to tell us how many bad speculations they have made, and then they want to make up the difference out of the working man. However, I would like to ask what about the selling price of coal. Have they reduced that? No, and moreover than that they have not reduced them this last month as it is their usual wont to do, therefore I should think we are entitled to an advance and not a reduction. In conclusion, let me say that the motto I gave him a fortnight ago ('Ah, we must keep the poor down') still stands good in my opinion and ever will until I can see the aristocrats doing more to further the welfare of the working classes. Lastly, I refer our vicar to the Rev Mr. Leslie, of Mexborough, with these words "go thou and do likewise."

Allow me to remain,
Yours Truly,
A WORKING MAN.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

I notice in your issue of Friday last, a reply to the remarks of 'A working man' by Mr. Fawkes, and he finishes his letter by quoting from the New Testament. Does it never occur to the rev. gentleman to reflect who was the greatest, the most ardent agitator that ever lived, and whose life was spent in persuading the poor, with whom alone he associated, that they were as much worthy of consideration as their betters, and were the true lords of mankind. I have been waiting for an authoritative voice in defence of trades unions and their objects, but such men are usually too fully occupied to care to enter on a controversy which might be prolonged, and make demands on their time they they could not comply with, but it is to my mind very doubtful whether they are altogether wise in treating the hostility with which they are met on all hands with such indifference; or whether some portion of their time might not be profitably employed in grappling with the dense mass of ignorance which prevails in regard to their objects, and the modes by which they seek to attain them. With regard to their objects, it is no uncommon thing to hear trade unions spoken of as if they were formed for the purpose of promoting strikes, notwithstanding the fact that strikes have occurred and continue to occur in trades where no Union exists. The truth is, that the fundamental basis of Unions is a desire to secure their objects without resorting to what they well know to be a clumsy and expensive mode of securing or attempting to secure them; the disposition to resent the enforcement of intolerable terms; and the determination of men to seek what they feel to be their just due, is a feeling not confined to trades-unionists, or to any class of the community, but long experience has taught the labouring and artizan portion of the people that however deeply the feeling may be rooted in their hearts, they are, as individuals, in their relations with employers, powerless to give expression to it, and have no alternative but to bear the evils of the present time rather than fly to others they know not of. Hence the desire to find in combination a means of enabling them to assert their independence, and to secure a voice in the arrangement of the terms upon which their labour shall be sold; this on the face of it seems a simple thing to ask, and with the vaunted intelligence of our age it would appear almost incredible that so reasonable a claim should be refused. Yet I am convinced that the greater part of our labour struggles arise from the unwillingness of a large number of employers to recognise this principle in their dealings with their workpeople, and until this radical defect is removed, all the Courts of Conciliation or Boards of Arbitration that can be established will be powerless to produce harmonious relations between capital and labour; the idea that the employer, by the mere fact of being the wagepayer, should be the absolute dictator as to the price to be paid for labour, is one firmly held by and acted upon by many employers; and it is only by the combined power which the men find in their Unions that they are able to successfully contend with such a disposition in the employers. In these days of gigantic establishments the old system of personal management, where the employer knew all his workpeople, is impossible. Managers or foremen exercise powers that were formerly confined exclusively to the proprietors, and it is quite natural that these powers should be exercised in a less considerate manner than when kept in the hands of the employer himself; it follows that disputes and ruptures are of more frequent occurrence in cases of this kind, and that which is called outside influence is therefore more frequently called in; this is the favourite mode of describing the intervention of the trade Union, which is supposed to be always on the alert to promote a disturbance. But how is this intervention brought about? Simply by its being solicited by the workmen themselves, who ask the support of their Union either to repel an attack or to aid them in making an advance. The leader, who exists in the imagination of some, is an important personage in matters of this kind; he is supposed to dictate to the men who pay their subscriptions to him their course of action, and when he can succeed in fomenting a strike, then he is in his glory, and reaps large profits that he in some mysterious manner accumulates; this absurd conception of the trade Union leader, as he is called, is no exaggeration of the one entertained by numbers of persons, who find it more easy to believe any story, however wild and improbable, than to take the needed pains to test its accuracy. Who are these so-called leaders? They are invariably men who, by their knowledge of the requirements of their trade and by their devotion to the interests of their fellow-workmen, have well earned the confidence that is reposed in them. But this confidence is not a blind one, and the so-called leaders have rarely any power beyond that limited one which the rules of the organisations they serve give to them; and they can have no interest whatever in promoting hostile relations between their members and the employers. Indeed, all difficulties of this kind bring to them only added labour and increased responsibility, without one penny of additional payment; in point of fact, it is much more frequently the case that the leaders are in favour of moderate and conciliatory measures, while their followers advocate more extreme action, than it is to find them urging on their members to conflict with the employers; many instances could be given where the leading officials of trade organisations have incurred odium with their members from their excessive desire to preserve amicable relations with the employers; both with regard to the feelings of the officials of trade Unions and the great bulk of the members it is their desire to live at peace with the employing class, if they will only give them frank and fair treatment.

I am, yours faithfully,
May 11th, 1885. R. M. SYKES.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes close, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above-named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety one cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), London, England. This syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of system.

Holloways Pills.—Enfeebled Existence.—This medicine embraces every attribute required in a general and domestic remedy. It overturns the foundations of decease laid by defective food and impure air. In obstructions or congestions of the liver, lungs, bowels, or any other organs, these Pills are especially serviceable and eminently successful. They should be kept in readiness in every family, being a medicine of incomparable utility for young persons, especially those of feeble constitutions. They never pain or irritate the most sensitive nerves or most tender bowels. Holloway's Pills are the best known purifiers of the blood, the most active promoters of absorption and secretion, whereby all poisonous and obnoxious matters are removed from both solids and fluids.

Epp's Cocoa.—Grateful and Comforting.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in packets, labelled—"James Epps & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London."—Also makers of Epp's Chocolate Essence.

Watches, Jewellery.—Midland Counties Watch Company.—(Cheapest house in the World) Ladies' or Gents' Fine Silver Crystal Glass, heavy Ladies' Watches, 25/-; Ladies' heavy-cased Gold Levers, 70/-; Gents' do. do. do., 80/-. Before purchasing send for Company's Catalogue, beautifully illustrated, 1,000 fine copper-plate engravings, gratis, post free on application, to any part of the world. Apply Company's Manager, A. Percy, Vyse Street, Birmingham. The press universally recommend their readers to obtain a catalogue.

Advice to Mothers!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it soften the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

ONE BOX OF CLARKE'S B41 PILLS

is warranted to cure all discharges from the Urinary Organs, in either sex (acquired or constitutional), Gravel, and Pains in the Back. Guaranteed free from Mercury. Sold in Boxes, 4s. 6d. each, by all Chemists and Patent Medicine Vendors throughout the World; or sent to any address for sixty stamps by the Makers, The Lincoln and Midland Counties Drug Company, Lincoln. Wholesale Agents, Barclay & Sons, London, and all the Wholesale Houses.

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name Consumption Emulsion. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has fitted a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 1[illegible]8 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find there is a gain of weight even after it has been used." Such a testimony as this speaks volumes for the efficiency of Phthisicon. In addition, it has proved of immense value as a curative agent in the early stages of Brain Disease and Scrofula; in fact, wherever there is impaired nutrition or lack of nerve power, its action is almost certain. It can be obtained of all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s., and 21s. per bottle. Wholesale of Barclay and Sons, Farringdon-street, London, E.C.; or of W. B. Trick, A.P.S., 22, Green-lanes London, N.

Valuable Discovery for the Hair.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d.—For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

Floriline!—For the Teeth and Breath.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

Value of Experience.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the Individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade. Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has cast about him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. Having been thirty-five years in the trade, in the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was naturally "up to all the wrinkles." The middle men, known by the names of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of Manufacturers, who arranged to supply his Establishment at the cost of materials and men's time in the making. In short, placing the Goods before the public, at single articles at wholesale prices. The management is still under R. Scott's personal control, who takes this opportunity of thanking his Patrons in the past, and hopes to receive anew a mark of their confidence. In future the firm will be known as Scott & Co., Goldsmiths, Silversmiths, Opticians, Watch and Clock Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.

If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly restored by good workmen. Scott & Co. guarantee their work for 12 months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made as new, on very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

DEAR FRED,

You will be surprised at receiving a letter from me, but thank God, I am pleased to say am getting better every day. I shall be so glad to breathe the fresh air again. It has seemed a dreadful long time to be in bed. You know I was taken to the Hospital last April to be treated for Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Well, on the 31st of July they tapped me, and took away 304 ounces of water. The same thing was done again on the 18th September, and 408 ounces of water obtained. On the 9th October I was discharged from the Hospital as incurable. In January this year (the 20th), was again tapped at home and 300 ounces of water taken away. The St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London refused me admission as a hopeless case, and the Bartholomew Hospital, Chatham, also refused me, as being the worst case they had seen for years, and two local doctors gave me up as hopeless. When I came from the Hospital it took three to put me to bed. My clothes had to be cut off. I was an object of misery and despair. After the Hospitals had refused me, and doctors given me up, my wife persuaded me to try Hop Bitters, and from the commencement have improved daily. I have only taken them seven weeks and can now get downstairs and walk about without even a stick. With the aid of a few more bottles of the Bitters shall be well again. The water has entirely left my body and legs. The only trace left is in my feet. It is a wonderful medicine. I wish I had tried it sooner, as I have nearly ruined myself and family with doctors' bills and other expenses. I might have been well long ago. At the Hospital I had no appetite whatever, but since using the Bitters eat everything with a relish. The only difficulty is the expense, but must not mind that so long as I am getting well. Am cheerful now that recovery is near, for every one had given me up as a bad job. With best wishes to . . . . . .

I remain,
Your affectionate Brother,

Gentlemen,—I enclose letter from my brother-in-law, Wm. Grayson, Chatham. He considers he owes his life to your Hop Bitters, and feels he cannot say enough in its praise.

Yours truly,

LATER.

Chatham, March 24.

Since I wrote you ten days ago I have improved wonderfully. To-day I walked to the barber's shop (and got shaved), and back again by myself without fatigue. This is the first time I have been out alone since last April—over eleven months.

HIGH AUTHORITY.

Dr. THOMPSON says Kidney Disease is probably next to Consumption the commonest cause of death among adults in this climate. You have had a recent and mysterious attack of asthma, pains in the back and around the loins, severe headaches, dizziness, inflamed eyes, a coated tongue and a dry mouth, loss of appetite, chilly sensation, indigestion (the stomach never is in order when the kidneys or liver are deranged), dryness of the skin, nervousness, night sweats, muscular debility, despondency, a tired feeling (especially at night), puffing or bloating under the eyes, and your muscular system seems utterly helpless. Dr. Roberts, of England; Prof. Thompson, of New York; and other celebrated authorities tell us that all these symptoms are sure indications of Bright's Disease! With some patients the disease runs slowly and for years. With others it comes as a thief in the night. This fact is an alarming one, and startles the inquiry, What can be done?

HOP BITTERS for the CURE of Kidney and Liver Complaints have no equal in the world, and those suffering from any of the above symptoms should use them at once.

IS RHEUMATISM CURABLE? Yes, if you take WOODCOCK'S RHEUMATIC MIXTURE. Speedily cures Rheumatic Pains in the Limbs, Rheumatic Pains in the Head, Rheumatic Pains in the Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatic Swellings and Stiffness, in fact, every phase of Rheumatism; no matter how acute or long standing, it never fails. OBSERVE—This is not a quack remedy warranted to cure everything, but a genuine SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM only. Sold by all medicine vendors at 1s. 9d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d. and 11s., or Post free for 23, 34, or 56 stamps. The 11s. size paid to nearest Railway Station for 11s. 3d. P.O. HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT

Old Sores and Old Skin Diseases.

The seeds of these disorders are effectually expelled by this penetrating Ungent, not only from the superficial parts, but from the internal tissues likewise. Any case, even of twenty years' standing, speedily yields to its influence.

A Certain Cure for Bronchitis, Diphtheria, Sore Throat, Asthma, &c.

For curing sore throat, diphtheria, bronchitis, asthma, tightness of the chest, and pain in the side—which instant treatment alone prevents degenerating into more serious maladies, this Ointment has the same powers over chest complaints as a blister possesses, without causing pain or debility. Old asthmatic invalids will derive marvellous ease from the use of this Ointment, which has brought round many such sufferers and re-established health after every other means had signally failed.

Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, Old Sores, and Ulcers.

By rubbing the Ointment round the affected part, it penetrates to the tissues beneath, and exercises a wonderful power on all the blood flowing to, and returning from, the diseased part. The inflammation diminishes, the pain becomes less intolerable, the matter thicker, and a cure is soon effected. In all long-standing cases, Holloway's Pills should also be taken, as they will thoroughly expel all depraved humours from the body.

Gout, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints.

Gout and Rheumatism arise from inflammation in the parts affected. To effect a permanent cure, adopt a cooling diet, drink plenty of water, take six of Holloway's Pills night and morning, and rub this Ointment most effectually twice a-day into the suffering parts; when used simultaneously, they drive all inflammation and depression from the system, subdue and remove all enlargement of the joints, and leave the sinews and muscles lax and uncontracted.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following complaints:—

Bad Legs	Corns (Soft)	Scalds
Bad Breasts	Fistulas	Sore Throats
Burns	Gout	Skin Diseases
Bunions	Glandular Swellings	Scurvy
Chilblains	Lumbago	Sore Heads
Chapped Hands	Piles	Tumours
Contracted and Stiff Joints	Rheumatism	Ulcers
	Sore Nipples	Wounds

The Ointment and Pills are sold at Professor HOLLOWAY'S Establishment, 533, Oxford Street, London; also by every respectable Vendor of Medicine throughout the Civilized World, in Pots and Boxes, at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., 22s., and 33s. each, and the smallest Box of Pills contains four dozen.

Full printed directions are affixed to each Pot and Box, and can be had in any language, even in Turkish, Arabic, Armenian, Persian, or Chinese.

THE Redistribution and Registration Bills received the Royal Assent yesterday, so that this great measure of electoral reform is now the law of the land, and every householder or qualified lodger, whether residing in town or country, is thereby enfranchised, and will be able to record his vote for those who compose the Parliamentary council of England. The House will rise to-day to adjourn over the Whitsuntide holidays, after which the business of the present parliament will no doubt be wound up as speedily as possible, when the House will dissolve, and the conflicts and surprises of a general election will commence in real earnest, the final decision being taken during the early days of November. Two million new voters will then have a voice in the selection of their representative in the House; and at least half the elected members will never have had a seat in Parliament before. In this Normanton division we have Lieut.-Col. Charlesworth and Mr. Benj. Pickard; the former has already paid us a visit, and made a very good general impression; Mr. Pickard will no doubt hold a meeting shortly, and the electors will have opportunity of deciding for whom they will vote.

YESTERDAY morning an interesting ceremony was performed at Hull by Mrs. Smith, wife of Lieut.-Col. Gerald Smith, M.P., chairman of the Hull, Barnsley and West Riding Railway and Dock Co. This consisted in the opening of the great Alexandra Dock, by letting the water in, and thereby completing one portion of the Company's scheme. We are pleased to learn that the railway is now nearly finished, and will be officially opened for traffic early in July. Our interest in this scheme is considerable, as until this line is in a fair way of being opened, no further progress could possibly be advised with regard to one of its principal feeders, the East and West Yorkshire Union Railway. We may soon expect to hear of this Company waking up to life, and trust the frequent hopes expressed for its progress may soon be realised, and realised successfully.

FROM remarks made by Mr. Gladstone during a debate this week, it seems hardly likely that the gifted Premier will take an active part in politics, after the close of the present parliament; it is an open secret that with the completion of the new Reform Bills, the aged statesman considers his public career closed.

NEWS from St. Petersburg indicates that the negociations for a settlement of the dispute are not running so smoothly as could be desired. The warlike preparations are also still in progress. On the other hand, conferences are being constantly held between the Russian Ambassador and Earl Granville in London, and reports are issued of a favourable character. No doubt considerable time must elapse before matters can be satisfactorily arranged.

LOCAL BOARD MEETING.

The ordinary meeting of the Rothwell Board took place on Monday evening, present—Messrs. W. Hargreaves (chairman), J. Oliver, J. Hargreaves, B. P. Newsome, J. Turner, J. Dobson, J. Nowell, W. Lawton, and the clerk, collector and surveyor.

The clerk read the minutes of last meeting and also of several Committee meetings. Before the minutes were confirmed, the clerk asked permission to make a statement as regards the audit of the accounts lately completed, in which Mr. Adams urges the necessity of fully covering the expenditure of each half-year by its own income, and also of retaining a sufficient balance in hand to meet emergencies. The Finance Committee had recommended a rate of 1/8 in the £, which they anticipated would about meet the expenditure, but the members of that Committee now advised that the rate should be 1/10, so as to meet the wishes of the auditor. This alteration of the Finance Committee's minutes having been made, the confirmation of all the minutes was moved by Mr. Lawton and Mr. Newsome. Mr. Nowell, however, moved an amendment, objecting to the resolution passed a fortnight ago, as regards Mr. Derwick and his water, denouncing the Board's action in no measured terms as being derogatory to its honour and character. Mr. Turner, in seconding this amendment, contented himself with protesting against the rescinding of the resolution to prosecute Derwick. On being put, the amendment was voted on by Messrs. Nowell and Turner, the resolution being carried by the remaining members, except Mr. Jas. Hargreaves (neutral) who was absent during the previous discussion on the subject.

HEALTH REPORT.—Dr. Glaister presented his report, which included two months ending May 18th. In the four weeks ending April 18th, there have been 12 births (5 male, 7 female) and 19 deaths (15 male, 4 female), against 19 births and 3 deaths last year in the same month. The causes of death are:—Female, 1 year, whooping cough; male, 15 months, convulsions; male, 4 years, scar'etina; female, 3 years, measles; male, 61 years, apoplexy; male, 62 years, disease of brain; male, 11 months, convulsions; male, 11 months, measles; male, about 50 years, found drowned; male, 2 years, measles; female, 9 months, bronchitis; male 1½ days, premature birth; male, 2 years, convulsions; male, 13 months, bronchitis; male, 4 years, rickets; male, 6 months, measles; male, 5 months, measles, whooping cough; male, 2 years, whooping cough; male, 16 months, whooping cough. During the four weeks ending May 18th, 20 births and 12 deaths have been registered, the deaths being from the following causes:—male, 2 years, whooping cough and measles; male, 16 months, whooping cough; male, 3 months, found drowned; male, 11 days, convulsions; female, 10 years, broncho pneumonia; male, 1 year, meningitis; male, 1 year, scarlet fever; female, 8 months, bronchitis; male, 9 months, bronchitis; female, 6 months, dentition; female, 14 months, bronchitis; male, 6 years, tubercular meningitis. The doctor was sorry the death rate was so high, caused principally by the prevalence of whooping cough, scarlet fever and measles. He had used every precaution by disinfection, etc., to prevent the spread of contagious diseases. He mentioned two houses which were hardly habitable, and were not yet supplied with water. Mr. Lawton asked what he would do in that case, and the doctor replied that he would compel them to have a proper supply. Mr. Turner drew attention to several properties in which the "house drain had been most carefully severed from the main, for the express purpose of admitting sewer gas into the house." Mr. Nowell also knew of several houses which should be compelled to have water put in.

BYELAWS.—The chairman wished to introduce a subject on which complaints had been made to him by a majority of the Board, against the frequency with which members sometimes spoke on the same question. The only regulations they had now were contained in the 6th, 7th and 8th byelaws, as follows:—

6.—The chairman may, at his discretion, require that any motion or amendment shall be submitted by the proposer in writing, in order to its being accurately understood during the discussion and voting thereon.

7.—No negatived motion shall be again brought before or entertained by the Board until after the expiration of two months.

8.—Every member shall, in speaking, address the Chairman, and if two or more members shall rise to speak at the same time, the Chairman shall decide to whom the priority shall be given.

He suggested certain other byelaws for the better guidance of the chairman and members during their meetings, so as to enable them to conduct the business a little more regularly and orderly. These rules might be thoroughly considered by the Byelaws Committee, and then printed in a little book for their mutual guidance. Mr. Oliver, chairman of the Byelaws Committee, expressed his willingness to take up the matter at once. Mr. Turner declined taking part in such a work, unless the Board accepted his plan of having a blank book, into which might be entered any recommendation or resolution as regards their bye-laws, and to which they might turn in preparing a new code. Mr. Nowell also agreed with the suggestion and trusted all the bye-laws would soon be revised. He approved Mr. Turner's motion for a book of suggestions, besides which they had the 'model' byelaws. The Byelaws Committee will shortly meet on this subject.

ROTHWELL GAS LIGHT CO.—Mr. Jas. Hargreaves and Mr. Turner reported on their action as regards a meeting with the Gas Directors. It appears from their statement that Mr. Turner and Mr. Nowell saw the secretary of the Gas Co. on the night of the meeting, asking that the directors would meet the Board on Friday evening, and no objection was offered; on Friday an intimation was received from the directors that they could not meet without receiving a proper written notice. The clerk wrote on that day asking the directors to meet the Gas Committee at the Board room on Wednesday (13th). On the 11th, the secretary to the Gas Co. wrote that the directors could not meet on that day, but would be glad to see the Committee on Thursday at their meeting at the Gas works; this the Committee informed the directors they could not do. After some warm discussion on the conduct of the Gas Directors, held by some members to be simply for the purpose of postponing the question, while Mr. Newsome defended their action as being simply a wish to have all things done in order, a resolution was eventually arrived at. In reply to questions by Mr. Oliver and Mr. Lawton, it appeared from Mr. Newsome's answers, that the directors were willing to meet the Committee, but were not willing to come to the Board-room. The chairman thought that as the Committee had already been down to the Gas works, the directors ought to waive their objection, as such action might probably lead to unpleasantness. Mr. Lawton suggested that if some other place was proposed, probably both parties would be satisfied; this however was not accepted, and the following resolution was agreed to, (Mr. Turner having withdrawn a previous motion to obtain an opinion from Mr. Webster, Q.C.) It was moved by Mr. Oliver "That the directors of the Rothwell Gas Light Co. be asked to meet this Board at an adjourned meeting to be held in the Board-room on Friday evening at seven o'clock; and that should the directors decline or fail to meet, that the opinion of Mr. Webster, Q.C., be at once taken on the subject of the Co.'s Reserve Fund;" seconded by Mr. Dobson, and carried, Mr Lawton and Mr. Newsome being neutral.

HIGHWAYS.—The Highways Committee having had an interview with Mr. A. Nichols, late a contractor under the Board, a resolution was passed on the motion of Mr. Jas. Hargreaves, seconded by Mr. Turner, to pay Mr. Nichols £14 in full discharge of all claims, on terminating his engagement with the Board.

POSTAL TELEGRAPHS.—The clerk read a letter from the Postal Telegraphs Department, intimating that the seven years' guarantee entered into for the Rothwell Telegraph Office, has terminated, and that another agreement should now be entered into, if the office is to remain in existence. The support of the Telegraph Office at Rothwell has been a heavy charge on some eight or nine persons, who have had to make up a yearly deficiency of about £15 for the last seven years, and they will be glad to get rid of their responsibility.

Mr. J. Hargreaves suggested that a petition should be signed as largely as possible, pointing out that whereas Oulton and Woodlesford have each of them Telegraph Offices free, Rothwell has had to pay £15 a year to keep hers up, and asking the Department to place us on the same footing as them. The chairman agreed, and felt sure of this, that there would be no chance of any other guarantee fund being raised. It was afterwards suggested that a deputation wait on Mr. Leal, the postmaster of Leeds, and on the motion of Mr. J. Hargreaves, a resolution was passed, appointing the chairman, Mr. Turner, Mr. Lawton and Mr. Nowell.

INFIRMARY DEMONSTRATION.—In reply to an invitation from the secretaries, it was unanimously agreed, on the motion of the chairman and Mr. Oliver, to join the procession on Sunday, June 21st.

DISTRICT RATE.—It having been agreed to sign a new rate at 1/10 in the £ next Board day, the clerk read out the details of the estimate as prepared by the Finance Committee for the half-year ending September 29th.

WATER.—A letter was read from Mr. Drew, referring to his previous application for water, and asking a settlement. Mr. Lawton enquired how it was Mr. Drew had not been supplied. Mr. Newsome replied that he had been offered a supply in the ordinary way; he had also been offered a supply by meter, but he thought the rent charged was too much. In reply to Mr. Lawton, the clerk said the rent of the meter is the same as in Leeds (Dr. Nowell—" and lower than Oulton and Woodlesford, who don't allow any private meters, but all are under the supervision of the Board.") Mr. Oliver believed a motion had been proposed some time ago that the meters be charged 14s. a year, but that the subject was postponed till after a balance sheet of the water accounts had been submitted. Mr. Turner had a good word to say for the Gas Co., who, he remarked, were more liberal in the matter of meters than the Local Board. Mr. J. Hargreaves thought Mr. Drew should have accepted the Board's offer, and then if other meters are reduced, his would be reduced too. The chairman having pointed out that the water account could not be prepared till after the 25th March last, since which time the clerk had been fully engaged with the election, and then in preparing the books for the audit, had no doubt that the water account would be ready for next meeting, when the question of water charges could be gone into.

RAILWAY FARES.—Mr. Lawton wished to direct the attention of the Board to the grievance suffered by the people of Rothwell, Oulton and Woodlesford, in the heavy fare charged by the Midland Railway Co. from Woodlesford to Leeds, and moved that steps be taken to obtain its reduction. The resolution was cordially seconded by Mr. J. Hargreaves, and fully supported by the chairman and all the members.

The meeting was then adjourned to Friday evening at seven.

HUNSLET BOARD OF GUARDIANS.

The ordinary meeting of this Board took place on Wednesday; present, Mr. Jas. Hargreaves (chairman), Mr. J. Graveley and Rev. J. H. Evans (vice-chairmen), Messrs. J. Parker, H. Sheard, J. Swales, J Dixon, J. Swithenbank, J. Jackson, W. Lawton, W. Riley, C Grosvenor, J. Hardcastle, G. Jepson, Rev G. M. Platt, and the clerk.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

A number of settlement cases were gone into, and decided in various ways.

The Visiting Committee, through Mr. Dixon, reported having confirmed the punishments inflicted before last meeting. They also enquired into the complaints received of the negligent manner in which Mr. Slater, the dispenser, had done his duty. It was reported that instead of attending for two hours each week-day, or 312 days in the year 1884, he had only been present himself 30 times, sending an assistant instead (whose efficiency was doubted by the Board). It was also stated that certain medicines had been ordered by the doctor, and other medicines sent, thereby causing serious danger. The clerk, in reply to a question, said there was no attendance ordered on Sundays, but that in case of urgency, between Saturday evening and Monday evening, the doctor could supply the medicines himself and charge to the Board. The Board expressed its strong disapproval of the seldomness of the dispenser's attendance, and a letter to that effect was ordered, requiring more constant attendance to duty.

WHITSUNTIDE.—The chairman informed the Board that the Rev. J. H. Evans would be pleased to see the Workhouse children join with his school in their Whitsuntide festival, an announcement which met with the entire approval of the Board.

PRESENT.—The master reported having received a number of books for the use of the inmates, from Mr. Yates, Public Librarian; a vote of thanks was heartily accorded.

AUDIT.—The clerk reported that the audit had taken place, and was fairly satisfactory.

The ordinary routine of wants, etc., was then gone through, and the meeting closed at 7.30.

THE STRIKE AT DENABY MAIN.

PROBABLE CLOSING OF THE PIT.

Yesterday, in accordance with a resolution passed at a meeting of the board of directors the previous day, the Cornishmen and others working in the mine were given fourteen days' notice to leave. The various officials were likewise dealt with. If within the fourteen days a sufficient number of men offer their services for the work, the colliery will be kept open; but it is positively declared that should the reverse be the case, the pit will be set down. Such a result would be most disastrous to the trade of the district. Before the strike at Christmas 1,200 hands were employed and about £1,500 was weekly paid in wages. Only about thirty Cornishmen are now at the pit. The intimation as to the decision of the directors caused little surprise amongst the old hands. They say they are quite willing to return to the pit after the questions in dispute have been referred to arbitration, and that if Mr. Burt, M.P., is engaged for the purpose, they are sure a satisfactory understanding would be come to. Unless this be done, or the scheme which they have submitted to the masters be accepted, the men declare they will not return to work, and in this attitude they are supported by the Yorkshire Miners' Association, to which they now belong. It has been said that if the colliery is closed, it will not be opened under twelve months. The struggle has been one of the most keen ever emembered in South Yorkshire.

EPP'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. LOCAL & GENERAL.

PRIMITIVE METHODIST ANNIVERSARY.—The opening services in connection with the Rothwell Primitive Methodist Sunday School Anniversary, were celebrated last Sunday, when Mr. E. Simpson, of Pontefract, preached morning and evening, and also delivered an address to the teachers, scholars and friends in the afternoon. There was a large congregation in the afternoon, while in the evening a number of persons had to go away, unable to secure a seat. The children sang their hymns in a praiseworthy manner, under the baton of Mr. A. Steel, and accompanied by a small band of seven instrumentalists, along with the harmonium. Dialogues and recitations were as usual given at intervals, and altogether, the first day of the anniversary passed off successfully. The services will be continued on Sunday next, to be conducted by Mr. J. Tempest.

DEATH OF MR. WILDBLOOD.—We deeply regret having to chronicle a painful accident to Mr. Saml. Wildblood, who had reached the patriarchal age of 82, having resided for a considerable portion of his life in Oulton, where he died yesterday week. On the day in question he was sitting in the kitchen after dinner, while his wife and servant went upstairs to complete their household duties. Just afterwards, about 1.30, the girl thought she heard the cellar door open; she immediately ran down stairs, and had the pain of seeing Mr. Wildblood fall backwards down the cellar steps. She at once went down to him, but found him unable to speak. Assistance having been obtained, he was removed upstairs and Dr. Jewison was called in, but consciousness never returned, and he died at half-past four. An inquest was held on Friday before Major Taylor, and a verdict of "Accidental death" returned. The funeral took place on Sunday at Oulton, when a very large assemblage of persons followed the remains and witnessed the interment. Mr. Wildblood was respected by all who knew him, and lived in a quiet and honorable manner among his neighbours, while he held the highest place among the worshippers at the Methodist Free Church of his village.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—In connection with the first anniversary of this church, an entertainment was given on Saturday evening last, a good programme having been arranged. Mr. Geo. Blackburn gave a pianoforte solo, which was rendered in good style, and cordially received. Miss Gyton contributed much to the success of the entertainment by singing three songs, in a way which was very creditable to her. Miss Abson also sang with good expression. The Rev. V. Litchfield then introduced Mr. Gibson Taylor, the celebrated ventriloquist, who, with the aid of his dolls, &c., greatly amused the people present. Mr. G. Blackburn next rendered another pianoforte solo "The battle of Delhi," followed by Mr. Litchfield in an amusing "farm yard" song. Mr. G. Taylor then gave another short performance, shortly after which the programme was brought to a close, all present being highly gratified.

LOFTHOUSE FOOTBALL CLUB.—The annual meeting and supper of the above club were held at the Rose and Crown Inn, Lofthouse, on Tuesday evening last. After the cloth had been removed, the chair was taken by Mr. Jno. Walton. From the report of the secretary, it appeared that 22 matches had been played during the past season, of which 13 have been won, 5 lost, and 4 drawn, a result which could only be considered as satisfactory. The treasurer reported a balance in favour of the club. The election of officers was then proceeded with, the Rev. J. R. Crawford being re-elected president; eight vice-presidents and nine members of the committee were also re-elected. Messrs. W. Webster and J. Frobisher were appointed secretaries, and Mr. Wm. Fox treasurer. A vote of thanks to the chairman brought a pleasant meeting to a close.

ROTHWELL FOOTBALL CLUB.—On Tuesday last, the adjourned annual meeting of this club was held, Mr. J Wilson presiding. The first business was to decide whether the club continue to play the Association rules or Rugby rules, and after a long discussion, the former course was decided upon. As it was close upon ten o'clock when the vote was taken, it was resolved to postpone the election of officers to that day fortnight (Tuesday, June 2nd).

"THE appearance upon entering (Providence House, 42, North Street Leeds), gave us an idea of a fairyland of Furniture and Crystal palace of mirrors."

ANTI VACCINATION.—On Monday last, Mr. Wilson, relieving officer for Wakefield Union, charged Mr. John Dobson, of Carlton, with neglecting to have his child vaccinated. He was fined 10s. and costs.

SWINE FEVER.—A case of swine fever having broken out at Mr. W Holt's Rothwell, Superintendent Hall visited the place, and had the sow slaughtered and buried, and declared the premises infected.

COW-KEEPERS FINED.—A number of persons were brought up on Monday last, charged by Sergeant Turton with having neglected to get registered as cowkeepers and dairymen, amongst them being Mr. Reuben Ellis, Oulton; Mr W Jordan, Rothwell Haigh and Mr. Firth, Rothwell Haigh; also Mr. W Smith, of Oulton, for not registering himself as a purveyor of milk. Fined 10s costs each. Mr. Thomas Dixon, of Major Farm, Middleton, was also fined 5s and costs for refusing to allow Sergeant Turton to inspect his premises. Mr. Harland, of Leeds, defended.

THE Discovery of Painless Dentistry, and the practice of same by Dr. G. H. Jones, Surgeon Dentist, of 57, Great Russell Street, London, W.C., has gained for him Medals, Awards of Honour, and Diplomas far more numerous than have been gained by any other member of the dental profession.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

THE death of Samuel Wildblood removes a prominent member of the old-fashioned type of Methodism. A grandson of Sammy Hick, the well-known 'praying blacksmith,' he has lived up to the traditions of his family. His name—not unlovingly abbreviated 'Sammy'—has for a generation been associated with all that is patient, earnest and enthusiastic in the religious character. He has always been so devoted to the interests of the local body of United Free Church Methodists, that the little chapel where they meet for worship has become generally known and spoken of as 'Sammy's Chapel.' The influence of such an example as his life has been will, however, extend far beyond the immediate circle of the little community in which he was so prominent a figure. Even those whose superior notions led them to smile at what they considered the extravagances and eccentricities of his religious fervour, could but secretly admire and respect the consistency of his blameless life. He was 'an Israelite indeed in whom was no guile,' and as such his memory will be cherished, and—let us hope—his example copied. He had far exceeded the Psalmist's allotted span of three score years and ten; and the painful accident which caused his death, did but accelerate a little while the close which was surely drawing very near. There was a very large and representative attendance at the funeral, which took place at Oulton on Sunday afternoon.

CRICKET NOTES.

Rothwell met Meanwood at home on Saturday, and again the result was a draw very much in favour of Rothwell, who scored a grand total of 123. The professional, a very careful player, hit hard at any loose balls, especially those at leg, and at the same time displayed very good judgement in the event of any peculiar trundling; altogether, his score of 35 last Saturday, was the outcome of really first class cricket. Dobson was also seen to advantage, and gave the spectators a little of his old form, but when his score had reached 28, he was unfortunately thrown out. Wilson (a player whom I made special remark about), is next on the list, and again he exhibited good signs of further improvement, appearing to have adopted a new mode of batting altogether to that of former years, and while playing steady when the bowling is good and on the wicket his scoring is now very quick, as out of a total of 21, he had five 3's and two 2's. Meanwood scored 46 for the loss of 6 wickets, a total mainly due to the bad fielding of the home team, which I am sorry to say has not improved very much on that of last year, and on Saturday Midgley was let off by Whiteley with an easy ball straight into his hands, after which this batsman raised his score to 20. In the bowling department of the home team, Glover stands out best, his analysis reading 21 runs for 3 wickets.

As I almost predicted, Woodlesford proved victorious in their last Saturday's tussle with Oulton. For Oulton, Boothroyd and Coope, the two first men, made a good stand, the former being bowled for 16, closely followed by the latter with 15; the other men however, never made any determined stand at all, with the exception of F Mirfin (8), and the whole team was disposed of for a total of 51. The Woodlesford players scored faster, however, the Rev. A J Irvin compiling 35, followed by T Collin (23), J Hirst (16), and W Britton (15), their total reaching 101. The match had excited a great deal of interest in the two villages, and a fair number of spectators assembled to witness it.

Rothwell 2nd journeyed to Meanwood Park, but as usual, had great difficulty in getting a team together, having to secure the services of several substitutes. The visitors batted first, and made 68, J Tiffany being top scorer with 28, while the only other men who stood at all were Cromack (8), J Priestley (8), and J Waterhouse (7). Meanwood topped the Rothwell score, making 102, to which John Wilson contributed 34, H Kirk 14 (not out), and Croft 12. In the bowling department of Rothwell, J Tiffany did well in gaining 8 wickets at a cost of 52 runs, or an average of a little over 6 runs per wicket.

Stourton Harriers received a severe thrashing at the hands of Hunslet New Connexion on Saturday last. The latter team defended first, and ran up a total of 64, out of which Inghamells scored 16, L. E. Greenwood 11, and G. Gennings 12. Stourton were all disposed of for 25, none of the team being able to make a stand against the trundling of Williamson and Hill, while six out of the eleven were credited with a "duck." However, there is one thing which looks very bad indeed, that is for three of the players to have been run out, shewing that part of the cause of such a crushing defeat may be attributed to bad judgment rather than misfortune on their part.

TOWN TALK.

DID anybody notice the Parliamentary News in the daily papers last Saturday morning having special reference to the Hull and Barnsley Railway Company? This company has another Bill in Parliament, this being their third session successively. This time they are asking for an extension of time in which to complete the line, and also seeking power to make an alteration in the route as originally planned. There was a considerable discussion on the doings of the company generally, and the directors cannot feel flattered with what was said about them by Sir Robert Peel and Lord Randolph Churchill. Until this line is satisfactorily disposed of, it is of little use looking out for a move in the circles of the "Rothwell Railway" Company. It is sincerely to be hoped that the Hull and Barnsley line will soon be accomplished, and then we may safely look for the first sod being raised and in a little time the first trip made. Let us never be cast down; some people seem to have lost hope; I have not; I think the Railway will be made; at any rate don't begin using double broad black bordered note paper before the poor thing is actually lifeless. Should such a lamentable death take place, I think we should have to clothe the crows in crape and paint the poker black. Let us hope that when the general election comes, and the Tories return to power (a'hem) that a better state of trade will be brought about, and our pet scheme be carried out.

"IN union, in union, lets join hand in hand" is what the miners have sung during their strikes for many years past; but I am afraid they are not so united as they ought to be, and as they might be. Last Saturday a meeting of Pope and Pearson's Limited late workmen was held at Altofts, and decided to recommend the district to terminate the dispute as soon as possible. On Tuesday at the same place they had another meeting, but the resolution was entirely turned round; they decided to instruct their delegate to vote against resuming work. On Tuesday a majority of the Allerton Bywater men went in at a reduction, and it is said that many of the Foxholes miners are willing to join. They are bound to give way, and the sooner they go in, the better it will be for all parties. How long will they be before they can make up what they have lost during this strike. It has been a clumsy piece of business from beginning to end. I think there have not been so many companies in Rothwell this week as in the previous week; perhaps the weather does not favour "busking" operations. I don't think anyone will be sorry their call have been fewer, and most people will be quite content when they cease coming altogether.

.. ..

I SOMETIMES think that the service often held in chapels on the evening of the 31st December, and commencing at half-past ten or eleven, continuing until the first moments of the New Year, is rather a queer event, but I see they have something equally queer at Stourton. The Local and General column in the Rothwell Times last week told us that Holy Communion was celebrated in Stourton St Andrew's Church at half past four in the morning. This service has been held twice to my knowledge, and it strikes me as being a strange time to celebrate "The Lord's Supper." However it is for everybody to please themselves on these points and if they think they are called upon to attend this service it is quite right to me; but for my own part I think there is a right time for everything, and 4.30 or earlier, is not to me the most acceptable time for trudging to church.

.. ..

I WAS at no less than three different public places of worship on Sunday last; Church of England in the morning, Rothwell Primitives in the afternoon and Rothwell Wesleyan's at night. I always enjoy the beautiful Church service and especially when in the ancient church at Rothwell. Then in the afternoon, there was the Primitive Sunday School singing; the scholars really sung heartily and well, and I am glad to say observed to some extent that little hint I gave them. Then at night the Wesleyans (!) "Tut, tut, tut, tut, tut,, dear me" I thought when I got inside that the service must have been given up. There was a wretched congregation, and one must decide that all their strength was spent on the previous Sunday when the Rev. Mr. Renton was preaching, and they were all taking a holiday. That fine chapel, the superintendent minister, second Sunday after re-opening, and such a handful of a congregation. It was truly disgraceful, and ought to be remembered by all who regularly attend this place of worship, as the day in which 'Gossip' got lost in a pitch pine forest. Pews and pews empty! Hundreds of seats unoccupied! Wood, wood, wood, stared the minister in the face. I hope what I have said will do good.

SOME people may think it quite uncalled for when I draw their attention to the 'dust' question. This has been a wet week, but had it been a dry one, we should have seen what damage the dust would have done. The Local Board have before tried to get along without watering the streets in Rothwell. We have never yet had the streets in the village watered this season, but of course at Stourton it is quite a different thing, they have the streets watered there. Ah! but don't you know they are near the town, a better class of people altogether; think of those magnificent shops with their costly stock in trade, picture those gentlemen's houses on the Wakefield Road, then look at Rothwell, and there is no comparison. The fact of the matter is here, Stourton people are resolved upon having the dust laid, and they get it laid too; the Rothwell shopkeepers &c. will have to do the same, and look after their own interests. I wish the dust spoiled Physic and Coal trades, and Farms, and Auctioneering businesses, instead of Drapery, and Millinery, and Groceries, and Confectionery, then we should should soon see half-a-dozen water carts perambulating the district. I asked the Board a fortnight ago to give this matter their attention, and I now ask them again. On Monday last they watered Stourton, what I ask, is the reason that they don't give us the same privileges.

It only wants a month to the great Sacred Concert on behalf of the Leeds Infirmary. I am glad to hear that the Rev. F. Fawkes has changed his mind from opposing the demonstration last year, to helping it, and, in fact becoming its president this year. I hope that great success will attend the undertaking and that the result in every way will be satisfactory.

.. ..

THERE is the popular Whitsuntide Holiday close upon us; there seems to be nothing provided in the shape of entertainment at home, and one will be almost at a loss how to spend the time. Only tip the Americans, and let us have fine weather, and we'll manage to enjoy it, I'll be bound.

.. ..

I WAS completely surprised the other day, when taking a walk along Royds Lane past Mr. Turner's plot of land. There is a pile of soil and clay, resembling in size—well, not quite so big as the 'Peak' in Derbyshire, and a hole (out of which the mountain has evidently been taken), the dimensions of which I could not estimate. What strikes me more than anything else is that Mr. Turner is going in for something on a large scale, and I expect ere long to see a stack of buildings arise out of that abyss, at the same time imposing in appearance and perfect in construction.

GOSSIP.

Holloway's Pills & Ointment.—Old Wounds, Sores and Ulcers.—Daily experience confirms the fact which has triumphed over all opposition for more than forty years, viz., that no means are known equal to Holloway's remedies for curing bad legs, bad breasts, sores, wounds, diseases of the skin, erysipelas, abscesses, burns, scalds, and, in truth, all maladies where the skin is broken. To cure these infirmities quickly is of primary importance, as compulsory confinement indoors weakens the general health. The ready means of cure are found in Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which heal the sores and expel their cause. In the very worst cases the Ointment has succeeded in effecting a perfect cure after every other means had failed in giving adequate relief.

THE GENERAL ELECTION.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

For a length of time it was my full intention to retire from any participation in political matters, but now as a general election will shortly come on, and as other matters are assuming very great importance, I think it is the duty of every man to be up and doing. I am placed in a very peculiar position, I cannot give support to the candidates put forth by either party in the Normanton division, nor can I remain neutral. My position will be this, I shall disagree with both in some things and agree with both in other things. As I lay claim to the title of Liberal, or you may, if you like, say Radical, I think it is only fair to those of the same party to say, in short terms, why I disagree with the candidate they have selected.

I do not think it advantageous to have class candidates. In past times, class legislation has been carried out and has failed, and we may depend upon it that if class legislation be carried out in the way opposite to what it has been, we shall soon come to a point when it will be detrimental to the class it is intended to favour.

Judging by his speeches, Mr. Pickard is a class man, and that in the very narrowest sense. Not only has he endeavoured to sow discord between working men and all other classes, but he has distinctly told the colliers that all other portions of the working class are opposed to their interests.

The advice Mr. Pickard gave to the colliers in November, 1882, in regard to the then threatening strike was founded on incomplete and unsound knowledge of trade, and the advice he is now giving in the present dispute is of the same stamp, and the men would do well to consider it several times over before acting upon it.

At the meeting when Mr. Pickard's candidature was announced, a very curious statement was made by the chairman, to the effect that as the colliers had agreed to support the Liberals in other divisions of the Riding, the Liberals had agreed to support a working man's candidate in the Normanton division. And this may be perfectly fair, but there is this objection to it, that the voter does not vote because he holds certain principles, but because he is bound by agreement.

I am very much afraid that working men may be somewhat disappointed by working class members. Some of them are building upon them to a greater extent than they are justified. I believe that the removal of their grievances will come, but in a different way and to an extent different to that they expect. In a limited sense I agree with Mr. Calverley, when he says that a person of one class can represent the interests of a person of another class, but it must be evident that no person can represent the interests of a trade so well as one who is in it. Col. Charlesworth is in the coal trade, but he has never worked underground for a living, and for this reason he cannot understand the requirements of the miners as well as Mr. Pickard.

The meeting of Conservatives at Rothwell was the most perfect specimen of the village meeting I have heard tell of for some time. There was the squire, the parson, and the village schoolmaster, the principal employer and the village attorney. It was a pity that the pinder and constable were not there, as they would have completed the magic number, seven.

I don't know whether I am right or wrong, but Conservative speeches are so much alike that I am led to suspect that they are manufactured by steam. The following receipt would be a very good one:—The main ingredient is a large supply of abuse of Mr. Gladstone, sprinkle a few jokes of the M. O. G. kind amongst it, add a sufficiency of nonsense about 'fair trade,' do not forget a bucket full of platitudes about the working man's beer, and ruination of country if the church be disestablished, season to taste with flattery of working man, put the whole in a pan and boil it as Julius Ceasar Hannibal did the coals, seven hours in the afternoon. Take it and roll out as required. By following some such method as this, all thinking is rendered unnecessary and one would think that the gentlemen who addressed this meeting had followed this plan, as their speeches are so much like all the Conservative speeches we have heard during the last four or five years, we can hardly tell "t'other thro' which" as they say at Halifax.

It is really difficult to believe that the speeches delivered were meant as anything but jokes. If such were not the case, this meeting plainly shews that gentlemen of education and influence can be quite ignorant of politics, and in such case their ignorance can hardly be said to be their misfortune.

I cannot understand Mr. Harms' remarks. He seems to imply that because Mr. S. Calverley came from the south to the north of England, he should at some future time be a candidate for some constituency. If this be his meaning, there will be a considerable number of fit persons for the constituencies to choose from.

One thing about this meeting was remarkable, nothing was said about reform of the Land Laws, and very little about disestablishment and disendowment of the church, although these questions are likely to be pushed in the next Parliament. Mr. Fawkes must have sincerely regretted his speech for more reasons than one—I leave to others to deal with his reference to trade disputes—but his references to the primrose league were very peculiar. If the league is to be taken as a political institution, the meaning of it as laid down by the Rev. gentleman is directly contrary to fact. He says it means the preservation of an ancient monarchy, but the party led by various leaders, and finally Lord Beaconsfield, opposed all reforms till in 1832 and 1855 the monarchy was put into imminent danger. He says it meant the good of the church with religious freedom and toleration. The Conservatives never did in this century, anything to promote religious freedom and toleration. Their policy has always tended to oppression and intolerance. As a party, they never did promote any reform that had the tendency to benefit the people and destroy class distinctions. They opposed the reform bill of 1832, and practically that of 1866 also. I say practically because, although they introduced the bill, they were defeated on nearly every one of its proposals, and the bill as it was passed, was completely different from the bill as it was introduced.

I can quite agree with the expression of respect for the Messrs Charlesworth as employers, but it seems to me that Colonel Charlesworth has quite forgotten his dates, and will perhaps allow me to correct in one. He fixes the commencement of the gabble and bluster at the Midlothian speeches, but I must remind him that it commenced at the Lord Mayor's banquet in 1876. Again he says the income tax was promised to be abolished. Mr. Gladstone's manifesto proposing the abolition of the income tax was issued early in 1874, and by the election in that year the country emphatically condemned the proposal. Before he made his speech I think he did not see the books of his own concern. He says trade has not improved. In 1879 and 1880 many of his men were working under three days a week, they are now working full time or so. But independently of this any one who takes the trouble to read the returns, knows that other trades have improved in a greater ratio, than the coal trade although not so much as can be desired. And as to the prospects which in 1880 were held out, any one must be aware that the prospects of improvement were always accompanied by an expression of opinion that it would take more than one Parliament and perhaps more than two to restore trade to its normal condition. It may be a matter of importance as to whether there is confidence in the government, but whether there is or is not confidence, I for one do not see how we should benefit by a change. We have a policy of some kind—opinions as to whether it is good or bad may differ—but during the last few years the leaders of the Conservative party, although they have constantly found fault with the Ministry, have indicated no policy which in their opinion the Ministry ought to have followed. It is not sufficient to say you must not do this or that or the other, tell us what you think should be done and if the government can see its way I have no doubt whatever, but, that they will welcome any assistance the opposition can give. I think it was at Birmingham Lord Randolph Churchill laid down the dictum that it is the duty of the opposition to oppose, and if this be the opinion of the bulk of the Tory party it is quite sufficient to explain their conduct during the last two or three years—oppose, oppose, oppose, has been all their cry—oppose in season, oppose out of season, oppose a thing being done, oppose its not being done. And thus if ever they had a policy or thought of such a thing it has changed quite as oft as the moon, if not more often.

Colonel Charlesworth referred to the Fair Trade craze; he said that he would not put a duty on Corn. A great deal may be said on this subject, but my letter is already of inordinate length, I will therefore content myself by asking him to answer the following going to prevent a duty being put on something else? question—'If you put a duty on any article how are you He says intemperance is a curse, but it cannot be cured by Act of Parliament. But he does not believe intemperance to be a curse, as he says that the grand old policy of "Beer and the Bible" is not a very bad policy, or if it be he does not know it. I cordially join with Mr. J. Charlesworth in asking the miners to look and see which party has done most for them, and I go further; if any of them ask themselves this question and cannot answer it, and will let me know of that fact through your columns, I will help them to answer it.

I am, Sir,
Yours truly,
W. MITCHELL.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes close, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above-named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety-one cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), London, England. This syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of system.

AS a safe, permanent and warranted cure of Pimple Scrofula, Scurvy, Bad Legs, Skin and Blood Diseas and Sores of all kinds, we can with confidence recommend CLARKE'S WORLD-FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE.—Sold by Chemists everywhere

TEETH, A COMPLETE SET ONE GUINEA.—Precisely the same Prize Medal Teeth supplied by other Dentists at the highest fees, five years' warranty.—Testimonial from Jas. Steward, Physician and Surgeon, L.R.C.P.E. I have great pleasure in recommending your Guinea Sets of Teeth. The set you supplied to me are much superior to those for which I paid a much higher fee. They must prove a great boon to the working classes." Complete set made and fitted in a few hours. One visit only required from country patients at the Dental Supply Association, 19, BOAR-LANE, LEEDS. Entrance, Gascoigne-street. Attendance, 10 to 7. Country Patients attended at their own Residences without extra charge.

Holloways Pills—Enfeebled Existence.—This medicine embraces every attribute required in a general and domestic remedy. It overturns the foundations of disease laid by defective food and impure air. In obstructions or congestions of the liver, lungs, bowels, or any other organs, these Pills are especially serviceable and eminently successful. They should be kept in readiness in every family, being a medicine of incomparable utility for young persons, especially those of feeble constitutions. They never gripe or irritate the most sensitive nerves or most tender bowels. Holloway's Pills are the best known purifiers of the blood, the most active promoters of absorption and secretion, whereby all poisonous and obnoxious matters are removed from both solids and fluids.

SPRUCE BEER (Generally known as 'Black Beer.'—Non-intoxicant. Strongly recommended by the medical faculty for its strengthening qualities. Manufactured by Joseph Hobson, Dantzic Brewery, Regent Street, Leeds.

THROAT IRRITATION AND COUGH.—Soreness and dryness, tickling and irritation, inducing cough and affecting the voice. For these symptoms use Epps's Glycerine Jujubes. In contact with the glands at the moment they are excited by the act of sucking, the Glycerine in these agreeable confections becomes actively healing. Sold only in boxes, 7½d., tins 1s. 1½d., labelled "JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London." Dr. George Moore, in his work on "Nose and Throat Diseases," says: "The Glycerine Jujubes prepared by James Epps and Co., are of undoubted service as a curative or palliative agent," while Dr. Gordon Holmes, Senior Physician to the Municipal Throat and Ear Infirmary, writes: "After an extended trial, I have found your Glycerine Jujubes of considerable benefit (with or without medical treatment) in almost all forms of throat disease."

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name CONSUMPTION EMULSION. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 123 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find there is a gain of weight even after it has been used 3 days," and this speaks volumes [illegible] Disease and Scrofula [illegible] lack of nerve power [illegible] all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s., and 22s. per bottle. VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good to the Individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade. Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has caused him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. How he has done this is the secret, and the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was initiated 'up to all the wrinkles.' The middle men, known in the trade, of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of Manufacturers, who are arranged to supply his Establishment at the cost of materials and men's time in the making. In short, placing the Goods before the public, at single articles at wholesale prices. The management is still under R. Scott's personal control, who takes this opportunity of thanking his Patrons in the past, and for the greatly increased and continued confidence. In future the firm will be known as SCOTT & CO., Goldsmiths, Silversmiths, Opticians, Watch and Clock Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.

If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly restored to good working order. Scott & Co. guarantee their work for 12 months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made as new, on very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

DEAR FRED,

You will be surprised at receiving a letter from me, but thank God, I am pleased to say am getting better every day. I shall be so glad to breathe the fresh air again. It has seemed a dreadful long time to be in bed. You know I was taken to the Hospital last April to be treated for Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Well, on the 31st of July they tapped me, and took away 304 ounces of water. The same thing was done again on the 18th September, and 408 ounces of water obtained. On the 9th October I was discharged from the Hospital as incurable. In January this year (the 24th) was again tapped at home and 350 ounces of water taken away. The St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London refused me admission as a hopeless case, and the Bartholomew Hospital, Chatham, also refused me, as being the worst case they had seen for years, and two local doctors gave me up as hopeless. When I came from the Hospital it took three to put me to bed. My clothes had to be cut off. I was an object of misery and despair. After the Hospitals had refused me, and doctors given me up, my wife persuaded me to try Hop Bitters, and from the commencement have improved daily. I have only taken them seven weeks and can now get downstairs and walk about without even a stick. With the aid of a few more bottles of the Bitters shall be well again. The water has entirely left my body and legs. The only traces left is in my feet. It is a wonderful medicine. I wish I had tried it sooner, as I have nearly ruined myself and family with doctors' bills and other expenses. I might have been well long ago. At the Hospital I had no appetite whatever, but since using the Bitters eat everything with a relish. The only difficulty is the expense, but must not mind that so long as I am getting well. Am cheerful now that recovery is near, for every one had given me up as a bad job. With best wishes to [illegible]

I remain,
Your affectionate [illegible]
(Signed) William Grayson,
1, Bush Terrace, Cage Lane,
Chatham, March 14, 1885.

To the Hop Bitters Co., London.

Gentlemen,—I enclose letter from my brother-in-law, Wm. Grayson, Chatham. He considers he owes his life to your Hop Bitters, and feels he cannot say enough in its praise.

Yours truly,
Fred. Stammers.
30, Castle Street, London.

LATER.

Chatham, March 24.

Since I wrote you ten days ago I have improved wonderfully. To-day I walked to the barber's shop (and got shaved), and back again by myself without fatigue. This is the first time I have been out alone since last April—over eleven months.

William Grayson.

HIGH AUTHORITY.

Dr. THOMPSON says Kidney Disease is probably next to Consumption the commonest cause of death among adults in this climate. You have had a recent and mysterious attack of asthma, pains in the back and around the loins, severe headaches, dizziness, inflamed eyes, a coated tongue and a dry mouth, loss of appetite, chilly sensation, indigestion (the stomach never is in order when the kidneys or liver are deranged), dryness of the skin, nervousness, night sweats, muscular debility, despondency, a tired feeling (especially at night), puffing or bloating under the eyes, and your muscular system seems utterly helpless. Dr. Roberts, of England; Prof. Thompson, of New York; and other celebrated authorities tell us that all these symptoms are sure indications of Bright's Disease! With some patients the disease runs slowly and for years. With others it comes as a thief in the night. This fact is an alarming one, and startles the inquiry,—What can be done?

HOP BITTERS for the CURE of Kidney and Liver Complaints have no equal in the world, and those suffering from any of the above symptoms should use them at once.

WATCHES, JEWELLERY.—MIDLAND COUNTIES WATCH COMPANY.—(Cheapest house in the World) Ladies' or Gents' Fine Silver Crystal Glass, heavy Ladies' Watches, 25/-; Ladies' heavy-cased Gold Levers, 70/-; Gents' do. do. do., 80/-. Before purchasing send for Company's Catalogue, beautifully illustrated, 1,000 fine copper-plate engravings, gratis, post free on application, to any part of the world. Apply Company's Manager, A. Percy, Vyse Street, Birmingham. The press unanimously recommend their readers to obtain a catalogue.

FLORILINE!—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d.—For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

IS RHEUMATISM CURABLE? Yes, if you take WOODCOCK'S RHEUMATIC MIXTURE. Speedily cures Rheumatic Pains in the Limbs, Rheumatic Pains in the Head, Rheumatic Pains in the Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatic Swellings and Stiffness; in fact, every phase of Rheumatism; no matter how acute or long standing, it never fails. OBSERVE—This is not a quack remedy warranted to cure everything, but a genuine SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM only. Sold by all medicine vendors at 1s. 9d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d. and 11s., or Post-free for 23, 34, or 56 stamps. The 11s. size paid to nearest Railway Station for 11s. 3d. P.O. Order or Stamps, from PAGE D. WOODCOCK, Lincoln.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS!—Are you broken of your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT

Old Sores and Old Skin Diseases.

The seeds of these disorders are effectually expelled by this penetrating Unguent, not only from the superficial parts, but from the internal tissues likewise. Any case, even of twenty years' standing, speedily yields to its influence.

A Certain Cure for Bronchitis, Diphtheria, Sore Throat, Asthma, &c.

For curing sore throat, diphtheria, bronchitis, asthma, tightness of the chest, and pain in the side—which instant treatment alone prevents degenerating into more serious maladies, this Ointment has the same powers over chest complaints as a blister possesses, without causing pain or debility. Old asthmatic invalids will derive marvellous ease from the use of this Ointment, which has brought many such sufferers to re-established health after every other means had signally failed.

Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, Old Sores, and Ulcers.

By rubbing the Ointment round the affected parts, it penetrates to the tissues beneath, and exercises a wonderful power on all the blood flowing to, and returning from, the diseased part. The inflammation diminishes, the pain becomes less intolerable, the matter thicker, and a cure is soon effected. In all long-standing cases, Holloway's Pills should be taken, as they will thoroughly expel all depraved humours from the body.

Gout, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints.

Gout and Rheumatism arise from inflammation in the parts affected. To effect a permanent cure, adopt a cooling diet, drink plenty of water, take six of Holloway's Pills night and morning, and rub this Ointment most effectually twice a-day into the suffering parts; when inflammation subsides, [illegible] pain and depression from the system, subdue and remove all enlargement of the joints, and leave the sinews and muscles lax and uncontracted.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following complaints:—

Bad Legs	Corns (Soft)	Scalds
Bad Breasts	Fistulas	Sore Throats
Burns	Gout	Skin Diseases
Bunions	Glandular Swellings	Scurvy
Chilblains	Lumbago	Sore Heads
Chapped Hands	Piles	Tumours
Contracted and Stiff Joints	Rheumatism	Ulcers
	Sore Nipples	Wounds

The Ointment and Pills are sold at Professor HOLLOWAY'S Establishment, 533, Oxford Street, London; also by nearly every respectable Vendor of Medicine throughout the Civilized World, in Pots and Boxes, at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., 22s., and 33s. each. The smallest Pot of Ointment contains one ounce; and the smallest Box of Pills four dozen.

Full printed directions are affixed to each Pot and Box, and can be had in any language, even in Turkish, Arabic, Armenian, Persian, or Chinese.

WHITSUNTIDE FESTIVITIES.

Holiday makers have had every reason to be thankful for the charming weather which has prevailed during the Whitsun season. Although the showers on Sunday were rather disheartening, Monday broke out fine, and ever since we have had a delightful atmosphere, just broken once or twice by a few drops of refreshing rain. As usual the Sunday schools have kept high holiday, and on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the young people thronged the streets and the various places of worship in celebration of the anniversary. Numbers of people have taken the advantage of 'cheap trips' here and there, while the parks and other places of interest have been largely patronised. A short notice is appended of some of the festivals, the details of which are pretty much alike, consisting of sermons and singing on Sundays, and singing in procession, tea, and games on the week-day.

ROTHWELL PRIMITIVE SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY.—The services in connection with this anniversary were continued on Sunday last, Mr. James Tempest, of Hunslet, preaching sermons morning and evening, and addressing the scholars and parents in the afternoon. At the afternoon and evening services, the children sang anniversary hymns most heartily, accompanied by a small band, consisting of harmonium, two 1st violins, piccolo, two 2nd violins, trombone, and double-bass. A few of the scholars also rendered several dialogues and recitations with more or less success. Crowded congregations attended both afternoon and evening. On Monday, the ever popular 'school feast' took place; at about one o'clock in the afternoon, the scholars, teachers, and friends assembled at the school, and paraded the village, singing their hymns at various stopping places on the route. On returning to the school, the scholars sat down to their feast of tea and buns, followed by the public tea for friends and elder scholars, to which a large number did full justice. Ater tea, all parties adjourned to the cricket field in Royds Lane, kindly lent by the committee, where games, races, etc., served to fill up the evening's enjoyment.

LOFTHOUSE WESLEYANS.—The anniversary sermons were preached on Sunday by Mr. Sugden, of Bradford, and formerly of Wakefield. The congregations were good, and collections were taken for school expenses. The festival was held on Monday, the scholars singing their anniversary hymns in the usual manner. A public tea was provided for the parents and friends at five o'clock, and the children were also served to a good tea. Games of various kinds were indulged in during the evening, when old and young took an active part in the recreation

CARLTON WESLEYANS.—The festival in connection with this Sunday school was celebrated on Tuesday last. The scholars promenaded the village, and after singing their hymns at various places, returned to school for tea, in which they were joined by several friends. The Carlton Cricket Club kindly lent their field, and thither the youngsters with their teachers and friends proceeded, where everyone enjoyed the fun, and capered about to their hearts content.

OUZLEWELL GREEN WESLEYANS.—This Sunday School held its anniversary on Sunday and Monday. The sermons were given by Mr. Joseph Varley, of Rothwell, the chapel being filled. On Monday, the singing, tea, field, and fun came off in the regular way, being pleasing and invigorating to all.

STOURTON PRIMITIVES.—The Stourton Primitive Sunday School had their sermons, morning, afternoon, and evening on Sunday, and on Monday celebrated their anniversary with the usual treat. The scholars met at their new school shortly after dinner, and proceeded to several places in Stourton, where they sang their hymns. Returning to the school, they were regaled with a good tea, and in the evening repaired to the field kindly lent by Messrs Mark Oldroyd and Sons, (Limited), and usually known as the Blanket ground, where lively exercise was indulged in until the shades of night began to fall.

STOURTON WESLEYAN SUNDAY SCHOOL.—This Sunday school celebrated its anniversary on Whit-Sunday, Mr. Swales preaching in the morning, and Mr. Graves in the evening. The scholars sang their Whitsuntide hymns at each service. On Monday they met at the chapel, and paraded the streets singing, and afterwards were provided with tea in the chapel, at which a good number attended. The children then adjourned into the Bell Hill field which was kindly lent for the occasion, and spent the evening in games, racing and other amusing sports. On Tuesday, the teachers and elder scholars had a trip to Skegness, and returned home well satisfied with the way in which they had spent the Whitsuntide holidays.

STOURTON ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—The scholars attending the above church, held their annual festival on Whit-Monday in Middleton Park. The scholars sang in a few places in the village before proceeding to the park, where they were taken in waggons, &c., and provided with tea in the field. The evening was spent in various games and singing, and before returning home the children were presented with an orange and various kindsof toys. On Tuesday the teachers and elder scholars journeyed to Shipley and Bradford, whlie others went on to Blackpool, all spending an enjoyable day.

THE OLD BAND.—On Monday last, the Old Band journeyed to Thorner, where they had a double duty to perform. They presented a very pleasing and neat apppearance as they left the village, clad in their new uniform (after the Royal Artillery). Arrived at Thorner, the band headed the Mexbro' Odd-follow's Lodge and led the way to the Church, where a sermon was listened to, and selections from "Judas" played by the band. In the evening, the band was engaged to play for the Church Sunday School Festival.

ROTHWELL TEMPERANCE BAND.—The Temperance Band left the village on Monday morning for Horbury, where they assisted in the anniversary music of the New Congregational Sunday School, playing with the procession and in the field in the evening.

Holloway's Pills & Ointment.—Old Wounds, Sores and Ulcers.—Daily experience confirms the fact which has triumphed over all opposition for more than forty years, viz., that no means are known equal to Holloway's remedies for curing bad legs, bad breasts, sores, wounds, diseases of the skin, erysipelas, abscesses, burns, scalds, and, in truth, all maladies where the skin is broken. To cure these infirmities quickly is of primary importance, as compulsory confinement indoors weakens the general health. The ready means of cure are found in Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which heal the sores and expel their cause. In the very worst cases the Ointment has succeeded in effecting a perfect cure after every other means had failed in giving adequate relief.

TEETH, A COMPLETE SET ONE GUINEA.—Precisely the same Prize Medal Teeth supplied by other Dentists at the highest fees, five years' warranty.—Testimonial from Jas. Steward, Physician and Surgeon, L.R.C.P.E. "I have great pleasure in recommending your Guinea Sets of Teeth. The set you fitted me with are much superior to those for which I paid a much higher fee. Your system should be a boon to the working classes." Complete set made and fitted in a few hours. One visit only required from country patients at the Dental Supply Association, 19, BOAR-LANE, LEEDS. Entrances, Gascoigne-street. Attendance, 10 to 7. Country Patients attended at their own Residences without extra charge.

ROTHWELL LOCAL BOARD AND THE GAS CO. DIRECTORS.

On Friday evening, an adjourned Board meeting was held in the Board Room, to receive the directors of the Rothwell Gas Light Co., in relation to the Reserve Fund now being accumulated by them, and in regard to which a resolution was passed at a public meeting of the ratepayers, requiring the Board to take an opinion from some eminent counsel. The Directors now attended in response to an invitation from the Board.

There were present—Mr. W. Hargreaves (chairman), Messrs. J. Oliver, J. Turner, J. Nowell, and W. Lawton, with Mr. S. Hargreaves (clerk), as representing the Board; Messrs. Jas. Baines (chairman), W. Abbishaw, H. P. Newsome, G. Armitage, and W. Chapman, (the Board of directors,) with Mr. Tennant (solicitor) and Mr. Wormald (secretary) attended for the Gas. Co.

On being introduced to the Board, Mr. Tennant stated that the Directors had attended in compliance with the Board's wish; it was not a usual course under the circumstances, but they were wishful to do what was right, and to act in a courteous manner towards the Board. He desired, before entering on the subject for which they had met, to correct a statement published in the Rothwell Times, in which it was reported "that the Gas Committee had been down to the Gas works." As this might give the impression that the Committee had waited on the Directors and have a prejudicial effect on the minds of the public, he wished to say that they had no official intimation of the Board's wishes, until they got the Clerk's letter (on Friday, the 8th), and they could not consider the interview of Messrs. Turner and Nowell with the secretary, as a visit of the Committee to the Directors. The chairman said he had no doubt the Committee would be able to uphold any action they had taken on Monday in the matter; the object of the interview to-night was as regards taking counsel's opinion on the Reserve Fund. Mr. Tennant said he only wished to correct any wrong impression which might have been formed by the public, in order that they might be fairly treated. As regards the question at issue, Mr. Tennant asked that, should their interview not result in an agreement, that whatever might be said should be without prejudice as regards any future action.

The chairman then asked the Directors whether they were prepared to suggest any legal gentleman whose opinion they should obtain on the question of accumulating a reserve fund in connection with the Co. Mr. Tennant said they were quite willing that the question should be laid before the highest authority; he further stated that the Directors suggested Mr. Warner, counsel to Lord Redesdale, whose verbal opinion they had already obtained. In reply to Mr. Turner's enquiry, whether they were willing to abide by the decision when given, and to pay half the costs, Mr. Baines (chairman of the Directors) said they were quite agreed on these two points on certain conditions. He remarked that Mr. Turner had stated at the public meeting that the Board was willing to put the question before a disinterested person, and he thought Mr. Warner much more likely than Mr. Webster. The Directors then retired, and the two bodies further considered the subject, the two names mentioned being evidently distasteful to one or other of them; Mr. Warner being decidedly objected to by the Board, while the Directors were quite as strongly opposed to Mr. Webster.

On re-entering the room, the Chairman proposed that the following names be considered by the Directors, Mr. Webster, Mr. F. Lockwood, and Mr. W. Wills. At the request of the chairman, Mr. Tennant mentioned three gentlemen for the consideration of the Board; Mr. Warner, Mr. Michael, and Mr. Fitzgerald. The Directors then retired, while the two bodies considered the two proposals.

On re-assembling, Mr. Tennant reported that the Directors were not prepared to accept any of the names mentioned by the Board. The chairman in return was sorry the Board could not accept any of the names proposed by the Directors. He urged, however, the acceptance of Mr. Wills, who, as the co-publisher of the late work on Gas and Water Acts, was a most likely counsel. Mr. Tennant suggested that cases be prepared by the clerk to the Local Board on the one hand, and by the secretary of the Gas Co. on the other, and that these be sent up to the two London agents, who should decide who is the highest authority on such subjects, and to abide by his decision; should they not be able to agree, that some respectable London solicitor be called in to settle what counsel should be decided on. The chairman expressed his regret that the Directors could not see their way to accept the proposal of the Local Board, as it would have buried much feeling, and saved expense. Mr. Tennant replied that as the Directors had everything to lose and nothing to gain by the enquiry, they were anxious to have the very highest authority on the question. He thanked the Board for their kind reception, and suggested they should again retire, for further consultation by each body.

The Directors having again returned, the Chairman informed them that the Board could not think of accepting their latest proposal, but that they had agreed to the following resolution—That each party get up a 'case,' both cases to be submitted to Mr. Wills for decision on the point, each side to bear own costs and half the expense of counsel; if this is not accepted, that the Board proceed at once to take Mr. Webster's opinion on the question. Mr. Tennant having thanked the Board for their courteous reception, expressed his sorrow that they had not been able to come to an agreement, and the Directors withdrew.

A resolution was then put to the Board on the motion of Mr. Turner and Mr. Lawton, to the effect that Mr. Webster's opinion be at once obtained. Mr. Newsome neutral.

BORAX—PATENT CALIFORNIAN, 'The Household Treasure—Pure Antiseptic,' is sold in small and family packets by all intelligent dealers, prepared and ready for immediate use, with full directions for all Personal and Domestic purposes, and given to Academies, Hotels, Hospitals, Asylums, Ships, Public Institutions, and all homes—from the mansion to the cottage—everywhere—everywhere.

ROTHWELL SCHOOL BOARD.

A meeting of the School Board took place on Friday evening, present, Messrs. W. Hargreaves (chairman), J. G. Turner, J. R. Seanor, W. Lawton, and the clerk and attendance officer.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

FINANCE.—Cheques were passed for Loan Commissioners £31 17s. 0d.; Rothwell salaries £29 5s. 0d.; Rothwell Haigh salaries £42 2s. 2d.; petty cash £5. For fees during April there has been received: Rothwell, £7 14s. 8d., Rothwell Haigh, £12 18s. 1d.; Hunslet Guardians, £1 3s. 6d.

TEACHERS.—The clerk was instructed to advertise for candidates as pupil teachers. A special meeting was arranged for at Rothwell Haigh Schools, to consider certain internal management questions. Instructions were also given to advertise for school cleaner at Rothwell Haigh.

An invitation to join the Infirmary Demonstration was read, and accepted.

The fees of one child were ordered to be paid, and the name of a person who has previously had fees remitted to be removed from the list.

LOFTHOUSE SCHOOL BOARD.

The monthly meeting of this Board was held at Robin Hood School on Wednesday night; the members present were Messrs. T. Oliver (chairman), H. Hall, J. Hammill and T. Hargreaves, with the clerk, Mr. J. H. Lee. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The following amounts have been received by the treasurer since last meeting: Fees at Robin Hood School £11 7s. 8d.; Carlton School fees £8 14s. 8d.; and £67 7s. 6d. from the overseers of Lofthouse with-Carlton. Cheques were signed as follows: for monthly salaries of teachers, etc., £41 13s. 8d.; Public Works Loan Board interest, £7 13s. 9d; books, stationery, etc, £17 8s 0d.; and £5 petty cash. There was no other business of public interest.

THE MINERS' STRIKE.

Happily this unfortunate conflict between masters and men is nearly at an end, although we regret the serious and almost irreparable loss entailed in the district by the merchants having to go to other markets to purchase their coal. Nearly all the men on strike have now agreed to go in at the 10 per cent reduction, the Denaby Main men still hold out, however, against certain other disputed points, and it looks very much like those extensive pits being closed. We ought to feel very thankful that this immediate neighbourhood is not connected with the Union, and that our working men have had more than enough work for so long a period. We trust it may still continue good.

ROYAL VISIT TO LEEDS.

A gratifying announcement reached Leeds yesterday to the effect that the Prince and Princess of Wales have graciously consented to open the new buildings of the Yorkshire College at Leeds on July 15th. The Princess has never yet visited the borough, and we are sure will receive a hearty reception.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

THE long spell of cold showery weather which has prevailed without any indication of a favourable change, up to Whitsuntide, must have filled many minds with anxiety, and gloomy apprehensions of another addition to the list of summer holidays spoiled by unpropitious weather. The sudden change from February-like showers of rain and hail, to the bright summer weather of Monday and Tuesday should not be considered a chance coincidence; it is pleasanter to regard it as a response to the myriads of childish prayers for fine weather, from the children, to whom Whit-Monday is the great day of the year.

LARGE contingents of scholars from some of the principal Sunday schools of Leeds and Hunslet were conveyed out into the country by trains, canal boats, and wherries; and from quite an early hour in the day, the green fields around Woodlesford and Oulton were thronged by the youngsters and their teachers and friends, disporting themselves amid such surroundings as they seldom get amongst. During the late mission at a children's service, the assistant missioner, taking for his text a 'primrose,' incidentally mentioned that in a very large school in his district in London, a primrose had been held up, and not one of the 600 children present knew what it was, never having seen one before. The pathos and meaning of such an ignorance as this is difficult to realise by country people. In a town like Leeds it is of course not so bad as this; but even here, the glimpses of rural freshness and beauty are so rarely enjoyed by the majority of the children that it is nothing short of a calamity to them, when their annual country holiday is spoiled by unfavourable weather. As it was there could be nothing left to be desired, enjoyment seemed complete, not the least part of the fun being the journey up and down the canal in the boats.

LOCAL holiday-makers had also a good time of it. Many sought entertainment in the cricket fields where interesting matches were proceeding. The partisans of the Woodlesford Cricket Club must have enjoyed the performance of this capital village team on Tuesday, as they gallantly compiled a total of 218. Then there were the varied attractions of Oulton feast,—the shying at 'dollies,' and at cocoa nuts which seem to have taken the place of the old-fashioned 'Aunt Sally.' Donkey and pony rides, shooting galleries, throwing darts, the time-honoured swings and the booths for the sale of gingerbread and nuts, which seem to have peculiar associations with a "feast."

THE Oulton Brass Band held a gala, where the village lasses and lads gathered together in considerable numbers to indulge in dancing and other amusements assisted by the lively strains of the Band. For those who were disposed to seek their enjoyment at a distance, the usual facilities were offered in the way of special excursions. The number of bookings were very small however, which may be accounted for partly by the previous unsettled weather, but chiefly by the fact that, owing to the continuance of the strike, money is very scarce with those who usually avail themselves of these trips.

THE annual Sunday school treat in connection with the Oulton Wesleyan chapel has usually been held at this season. It is however postponed for a time. On Whitsun-day the festival was marked in the usual way by special services and anthems in the churches. At Woodlesford there was a choral celebration of Holy Communion after morning prayers.

WOODLESFORD Church Sunday School. Yesterday the boys forming the first class in the above school, chiefly choir boys, were entertained to tea by their teacher Mr. Irvin, at the United Kingdom Hotel, Methley. A substantial repast was provided by Mrs. Prime, to which the boys, after an afternoon spent at cricket, were able to do full justice. The interval after tea was filled up with more cricket-playing and athletic sports on a small scale promoted by several of the teachers who were present. The party, including several of the teachers, numbered about 35, and the outing seemed to be thoroughly well enjoyed by all.

EXTRAORDINARY AND FATAL OCCURRENCE AT LOFTHOUSE.

On Monday, a singular case was brought under the notice of Mr. W. H. Lee and Dr. Holdsworth, at the West Riding Police-court, at Wakefield. Six working men, named Moses Lunn, Joseph Armitage, Tom Whittlestone, Francis Hughes, George Wild, and James Hartley, were formally charged on suspicion with the manslaughter of Arthur Wright, a stonemason, 34 years of age. All the men live at the village of Lofthouse, and they were companions. Lunn, Whittlestone, Wild, and Hartley are miners, Hughes is a colliery check-weighman, and Armitage is a bricklayer. The case appeared to excite great interest, and a number of persons congregated about the Court-house. The details of the case were not fully gone into, a remand being asked for, but sufficient was stated to show that a very sad occurrence had taken place. From statements which were made to the Bench by Superintendent Hall, the Deputy-Chief Constable of the West Riding, Police-sergeant Moore, and Police-constable Wilson, it seemed that on Sunday night the six prisoners and the deceased were drinking together at various public-houses until ten o'clock, which is the closing hour. Having procured two bottles of whiskey, the party proceeded up what is known as Thorpe lane. It is supposed that the men went into a barn on a farm occupied by Mr. Walton to drink the whiskey, and it is thought that they must have set the place on fire, for it was soon enveloped in flames. All the prisoners contrived to get out of the barn, which contained a number of agricultural implements and a quantity of straw, and some of them raised an alarm. The fire burnt fiercely, and although every effort was made to extinguish the flames, this was not done until the barn and its contents had been destroyed. After the flames had been quenched, the body of Wright was found burnt almost to a cinder, and it was with some difficulty that it could be identified. Every particle of the man's clothing was destroyed, and when the body, which was face downwards, was being removed by the police, the flesh fell off in patches. The prisoners admitted being in the company of the deceased, but said that he left them and went into a field, and that immediately afterwards they saw the barn in flames. As the statements of the men were not regarded by the police as satisfactory, they were all apprehended, and on Monday, after statements to this effect had been made, they were remanded until next day. The men applied for bail, but their application was refused, as the Bench considered it a very grave charge.

On Monday night, Major Taylor, J.P., opened an inquest on the body of the deceased at the Rose and Crown Inn, Lofthouse; Mr. Schofield, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the prisoners, and Mr. Superintendent Hall was also present. The jury consisted of men living in Lofthouse, the foreman being Mr. Wm. Lunn, farmer.

Joseph Newton, blacksmith, Scissons House, Middleton, was first called. He said deceased was his nephew. He was a stonemason, 34 years of age, and lived at Lofthouse. He was a married man with two children. Witness did not know whether deceased's life was insured.

Moses Lunn, miner, one of the accused, said—I knew the deceased, and saw him in the Rose and Crown on Sunday night. Just before ten o'clock he came into the house with two other men named George Wild and James Hartley. They were the worse for beer. I was assisting in waiting, and did not see whether they got anything to drink in the house, I saw Hartley and Wright get a pint of whiskey and a pint of rum in bottles, however. This liquor they took away with them. After the house had been closed I went outside and found the deceased, George Wild, James Hartley, Joseph Armitage, Tom Whittlestone, and Francis Hughes standing on the road. They said they were going for a walk, and asked me to go along with them. We went into Thorpe-lane and drank the rum. On going a little further we drank the whiskey. Arthur Wright then left us, going into a field. A few minutes afterwards the rest of us turned back towards the village. Hughes hearing a cornerake in a field, said he would make it make a less noise. He went into the field, and before we had gone ten yards further he called out "Lads, John Walton's laith is on fire!" We looked and saw that the building, which was in the adjoining field, was in flames. I immediately ran towards the barn, and the rest followed me. When I got there I looked into the burning building, but saw no one inside, and said to my mates, "I wonder if Arthur is inside." I said that because deceased had not turned up. I shouted, but no one answered. I then left the barn, and having looked about for Wright, I came and gave information to the village police-officer. I afterwards returned to the building, and assisted to pump water and throw it on to the burning straw which the barn contained. Whilst we were thus engaged some one saw the form of a man lying inside, and we went in and found that it was Wright. He was lying on his face, and part of the roof had fallen upon him. He was dead, and his body was charred and stiff. Only a portion of his shirt remained unburnt. We carried his body to the Rose and Crown. We were all smoking when Wright left us. I cut the tobacco with which Wright filled his pipe, and I saw him light it. He had a box of matches.

By a Juror.—Wright was bad for liquor when he left us. He drank so hard on the road that one of us pulled the bottle from his mouth. He must have been away about twenty minutes when we saw the barn on fire.

Joseph Armitage, bricklayer, living at Lofthouse, deposed that he knew the deceased, and saw him about half-past six o'clock on Sunday evening, at which time he was going down the hill towards Carlton. Witness spoke to him, and deceased returned to the New Inn, at Ouzlewell Green, along with witness, George Wild, James Hartley, and Charles Green. They had two glasses of beer each, and then came to Lofthouse, and called at that house, and then went to the Elephant and Castle. At the Rose and Crown, shortly before ten, Wright was "getting a bit sharp," and seemed in very good spirits. When we left the house he told us he had something to drink in his pocket, and asked us to go with him and drink it. We went and 'supped' the liquor—raw whiskey. Wright drank very hard, and I stopped him. I believe he would have emptied the bottle if I had not prevented him. After we had drunk the liquor we all turned back along the lane. We heard a cornerake, and Hughes went into the field where it was to make it make a less noise. When he had got a few yards from us he called our attention to the fire at the barn. Up to that time I had not noticed that Wright was not with us. We went to the barn, and found that it was in flames. I went home and changed my clothes, intending to assist in extinguishing the fire. When I returned they had succeeded in putting out the flames.

Francis Hughes, colliery weighman, Lofthouse, gave similar evidence, saying that when he saw the flames, he exclaimed "Good God, the barn is on fire," and they ran towards the building. They could not see the deceased inside.

George Wild, miner, Westgate, Lofthouse, and James Hartley, miner, of the same place, made similar statements, (the latter saying that the crackling of the fire was dreadful), and Tom Whittlestone, miner, Lofthouse, also supported the evidence already given.

The coroner then briefly summed up, saying he did not know what further witness they could have called. All the men who had been called were in the locality when the barn was on fire, and the deceased must have been inside it when the fire occurred, whether the other men were there or not. Although the witnesses had given contradictory evidence with regard to the time that elapsed between deceased leaving them and the occurrence of the fire, they were all agreed as to the fire, and they all agreed that there was no suggestion that they should go into the barn for any purpose. They all seemed to be aware of the reason why deceased left them, though there was no reason why he should go into the barn for that purpose considering its distance from the road. The difficulty seemed to be to discover how the barn got on fire. All the men appeared to have been more or less drunk, and probably more drunk than they admitted. Deceased seemed to have been the most in the wrong, and he had come to the greatest harm.

The jury then consulted together, and in a few minutes returned a verdict to the effect that Arthur Wright came to his death by burning, but there was no evidence to show by whom the fire was caused. They also added a rider to the effect that no blame was attached to the men in company with the deceased on the night in question.

On Tuesday, the six men in custody of the West Riding police at Wakefield, on suspicion of having "feloniously killed and slain" Arthur Wright, a stonemason, who was found burnt to death in a barn at Lofthouse, as reported above, were again brought up at the Wakefield Court-house, before Dr. Holdsworth, on remand from the previous day. Mr. Schofield, solicitor, who attended the inquest at Lofthouse on Monday night, again appeared on behalf of the prisoners, and informed the magistrate that at the inquest the jury returned a verdict to the effect that Wright was burnt to death in the barn, but there was no evidence to shew who set the barn on fire, and at his (Mr. Schofield's) request they added a rider in which they stated that no blame was attached to the six prisoners. Under these circumstances, Mr. Schofield asked the Bench to discharge the prisoners, and to say that they left the court without a stain on their character. Dr. Holdsworth, addressing the prisoners, said he had nothing to say against their characters, but no doubt they would have for many a day to come, that upon their consciences which they would have to settle as best they could. No doubt they had got into the difficulty through drink, and if they had kept off the drink it might have been better both for themselves and for the man who had died, and who had left a wife and two children. It was, however, his simple duty to discharge them, and he accordingly did so.

CRICKET NOTES.

Rothwell has been especially fortunate in their Whit-tide matches, having been credited with most of the honour on every occasion. The first of the series of matches, and the one which calls for the largest share of comment, is that of last Saturday, against Hunslet, where Rothwell kept possession of the wickets all the afternoon. Both sides were fairly well represented. Ward and Walter Richardson were the two first batsmen for Rothwell, and until the first wicket fell contented themselves with keeping a strong defence, and during the time they were at the wicket, several changes were made in the bowling, but however, it was not until they had been at the wickets nearly two hours, and the score risen to 48, that Richardson was caught at point by T. Marsh. Glover had very hard luck, being out to a really magnificent catch made by T. Marsh off Gough, for which Marsh was loudly applauded. Ward was out to Carr off Gough when he had topped his 50, in attempting a long hit, having been at the wickets over two hours, and on returning was warmly applauded, which was duly acknowledged by his captain taking round the 'hat.' Whiteley showed a little improvement on his previous performances this time, and was credited with the only four hit on his side; Gibson and H. Richardson also did fairly well, being both not out 15 and 9 respectively. The only failure on the Rothwell side was G. Wilson, whose form on Saturday was completely different to that exhibited on the previous week, and I should think he must have been entirely out of love with the display he made. Shortly after six o'clock, rain commenced to come down, and after waiting a time for its abatement, the captains agreed to give up for the day, the Rothwell score standing 134 for eight wickets. The match on Monday is of very little importance, as Rothwell gained an easy victory in the first innings by 39 runs. The visitors (with the exception of Bellhouse) could not make any stand against the trundling of Glover and C. Tiffany, the latter player being especially mischievous, taking 7 wickets at a cost of 12 runs, three of which were bowled in one over. Glover got the other three men for 13 runs. In their second innings, the Beeston men were rather more fortunate, scoring 58, of which T. Bradley was responsible for 18 (not out), and W. Halliday 16. In the trundling department, Ward proved even more destructive than Tiffany had been in the first innings, capturing 7 wickets at a cost of 8 runs. J. Tiffany (who, I am pleased to notice, was given a place in the team of Monday last for the excellent services rendered by him in the 2nd eleven this year with both bat and ball) secured two wickets for as many runs, in the number of overs. Rothwell succeeded in putting together a total of 64, Ward being at the top with 16, followed by J. Tiffany with 15, and T. Dobson 12. On Tuesday, Dacre Banks visited Rothwell, and found in the ranks of the latter club 'foemen worthy of their steel,' as will be observed from the score for that day. The visitors elected to bat first, and by the aid of A. B. Foster (16), Redeough (14), J. H. Robinson (13), and S. Buck (11), registered a total of 78. The honour in the bowling department fell to C. Tiffany, whose analysis reads 11 runs, 2 wickets; Ward following with 4 wickets for 26 runs, and Glover 3 wickets for 22 runs. There is one little thing which I should like to point out to the worthy captain of the Rothwell club, in regard to the ends which the several bowlers have to trundle from. It is a well understood thing that the end nearest the park is not the best end for men to have to bowl from, neither are there any great feats accomplished as compared with the one nearest the pavilion, therefore I ask it as a favour, for him to give our professional a chance of trying his powers downhill, and perhaps (though he has bowled most creditably as the case now stands) he might prove as destructive as any of the other players. The reason of my asking this favour of the captain, is because of the valuable performances rendered by Glover with the bat, which entitles him to be given a fair trial with the ball (a thing the spectators are also wishful for) so that if he cares to remain at Rothwell, so and good; but if he is desirous of bettering himself, give him all the help and support you can, for I am sure he is worthy of it. The innings of Rothwell opened with Ward and Whiteley, the latter of whom was easily caught by A. Robinson when the total had only reached 3. Things did not look very pleasant for Rothwell, when Dobson was out at 11, but Glover soon removed all doubts, and, although, playing carefully at difficult balls, scored very rapidly indeed, and in less than half an hour from his partnership with Ward, scored the winning hit by driving one out of boundery. He had very bad luck, however, in being caught when his score had reached 47, the second time that he has fallen less than half-a-dozen short of his 50. His score included six 4s, four 3s, three 2s, and singles. Ward, who went in first, was stumped out in the last over of the match in attempting a long hit, at precisely the same score as the professional. During the three Whitsuntide matches, the Yorkshire colt has an average of 38-1. C Tiffany treated the spectators to a little of his "old fun," and put on 28 before he was bowled [illegible] by Buck. When the stumps were drawn the Rothwell total was 142 for 6 wickets.

Rothwell 2nd encountered Carlton at Rothwell on Saturday. The visitors took possession of the wickets first, and had put together 70 before retiring. Of this number, W. Hardwick was responsible for 17, Fozzard 15 (not out), and Ainsworth 12. The Rothwell score only reached 38, J. Tiffany alone making 20 of them, and J. Wilson 7, the other men being simply not in it. I am not at all surprised at the results of the 2nd eleven matches, for only once this season have they had an eleven out of their own club, having had to make up with any sort of players. I think it greatly behoves the Committee to try and mend the team a little, and give that valuable player, J. Tiffany, a little talent along with him, because as the case now stands I have no doubt but that it is discouraging to such players to be continually playing any class of men, and if for this reason he had to retire, the Committee might at any moment, as regards playing a second eleven, "throw up the sponge."

Rothwell Temperance journeyed to Hunslet on Saturday last, to meet Hunslet New Connexion. The match was played on the Moor, and resulted in the downfall of the visitors, who only scored 43, their opponents making 61. For the New Connexion, Wilkinson batted well for 26, while Hobson scored 15, but the other batsman did not shew up well at all. J. W. Blackburn and E. Websdale made 9 each for Rothwell, W. Blackburn scoring 8. On Tuesday our Temperance Club met the kindred organization of Oulton, at the latter village, and again suffered defeat. Rothwell batted first, and made the modest score of 74. This the Oulton players topped at a cost of 4 wickets, W. A. Mirfin alone compiling 53 (not out), while Whitely was run out after compiling 16; the the total reaching 84. The head scorer on the Rothwell side was E. Websdale with 17, followed by W. Hopton 13, and A. Smith 10. Our Temperance club must bestir itself, and make some effort to win, or we shall hear at the end of the season that every match they have played has been either lost or drawn.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes close, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above-named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety-one cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), London, England. This syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of system.

TOWN TALK.

Right in the midst of the Whitsuntide festivities, we have suddenly been overtaken by the most painful occurrence I have known of in this district for some time. Arthur Wright, a stonemason, living at Lofthouse, has met with an awful death by burning; the grim details, I have no doubt, will be given in another column, so it is no use my going into them again. The event has created a very sad feeling in the hearts of many people in the district, and especially in the village in which the poor fellow resided, has the impression been manifest. While deeply sympathising with the friends of the deceased man, we cannot get away from the fact that he and his companions were very much to blame in what they did just prior to the accident, and it is to be hoped that all those who are habitually following the same course of life, will take a lesson from this unfortunate man's end.

The Holiday has been, as I predicted last week, a quiet season. There has been no event of interest scarcely, unless it be to the cricketing community. A few persons have availed themselves of the cheap excursions, to interesting places far and near, a few have made trips on their two-wheelers, and a few went to Oulton Feast; of the bulk left at home, most seem to have had a quiet time of it altogether. The pits were working a shift on Monday, which is quite a new thing in these years, and is an indication of the heavy demand now being made on the supply which is minus half its yielding power.

In the letter which Dr. Nowell wrote to the Editor immediately after the last School Board Election, he said "the Local Board of Rothwell should revise its bye-laws, and make them conformable to common sense, or at least to imperial legislation". He was not a member of the Board at that time I believe (Nov. '83) but he became a member in the following April, when one would have thought he would have put his shoulder to the wheel, and have put right, what he had so condemned as being foolish and unreasonable. But such was not the case, and in November, last year, I took upon myself to tender him a little reminder, and thought to see him take the matter up at once, but was disappointed. Now the Chairman of the Board is moving in the matter—the Chairman, of whom the doctor and other members have no better opinion than they might have—he is doing the work at last, and has got so far in his undertaking as to suggest 'certain other byelaws for the better guidance of the chairman and members.' Dr. Nowell ought to have been into this business long ago, but we find that when another takes hold of this work instead of talking and thinking about taking hold, he was content with doing nothing more than 'agree with the suggestion, and trusted all the byelaws would soon be revised.' Mr. Turner declined having anything to do with the work, unless they adopted his plan of having a book provided in which to enter suggestions, from time to time, as they occurred to the members. As a remedy for this, I would suggest that Mr. Turner buys a penny memorandum book, and carries it in his breast pocket, so that at any rate the bright inspirations of his mind may not be lost, no matter what becomes of those of other people.

Mr. Lawton has hit upon a good point in drawing the attention of the Board to the heavy charge made by the Midland Railway Co. for passengers between Leeds and Woodlesford. There is now a very small proportion of the people travelling between Rothwell and Leeds who use the railway; the reason is that the fare is too much, and the ordinary people prefer paying twopence tram fare and walking from Thwaite Gate. I think it would not be a bad plan if the parish authorities at Oulton and Woodlesford would unite with our Local Board in asking the Co. to reduce the charge, and thereby lend additional weight to the petition, and ensure its success to a very much larger extent.

The Rothwell Primitive Sunday School anniversary came to an end on Monday. I want to draw attention to the collection taken at the services on the two Sundays. There have been six services held, with a gross attendance of about 3,000 persons. The collections altogether amounted to about £11, or a little over ¾d. each. Certainly there was a lot of children included in the above number, but the children generally have their mite to place in the box. The average ¾d. is a very small amount indeed, and it is something greatly to be regretted that people should be so 'scrubby' in supporting the Sunday Schools in which their own children are taught the great lessons of the Royal Law of God.

'Whatever's up,' they kept saying, as one Board member after another marched down Commercial St., and disappeared somewhere near the Coach and Horses, between six and half-past, last evening. The Medical Officer went in just now, and the inspector (no case of small-pox, I hope). Then I saw the other man of physic, the teetotal doctor, rush straight into the front entrance of the Inn. I wasn't much surprised to see some of the members patronize the trade, but to see such staunch temperance men as some of them are, I couldn't make out. By-and-bye, I saw our Editor, and felt sure then, there was going to be some great and important event about to transpire, or that some great 'gun' was going to be fired, perhaps a political gun, but I could'nt reconcile that with Mr. Turner and Mr Holmes going arm in arm, and Mr. Newsome smiling lovingly on Mr. Dobson so I had to make my humblest bow, and interview the Editor on the subject. To my intense pleasure, I found that the estimable chairman of the Local Board had invited the various members and officers of the Board to dine with him, and this was the time and this the place. Ah! how I wish I could have got into that corner cupboard or had a telephone introduced into that same room. But it's no use crying about it. I am quite sure of this, that the dinner would be of the best and most varied, that the chairman would wear his most amiable smile, that everybody would be pleased with everybody else, and that the evening would pass away in the most sociable manner, and all would feel deeply grateful to Mr. Hargreaves for his kindness and hospitality. There would be the loyal toasts, the chairman's health, and complimentary speeches without end. I am quite sure I heard Mr. Lawton's hearty laugh, and I think they would hardly let Dr. Glaister off without one of his well-rendered recitations. I wonder if anything was said about the new Railway, or the second Postal Delivery? I am quite sure from what I hear of the 'going home,' that the social gathering will do a lot of good, and when next they meet, may I be there.

GOSSIP.

LOFTHOUSE BURNING CASE.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

In reference to the sad calamity that happened here last Sunday night, resulting in the death of a young man, who was burnt to a cinder as the fruits of drinking. As I thought would be, no questions were asked by the jury that would reveal the truth that the whole of the men arrested for aiding and abetting his death were together in the barn. If they were (as we believe they were), why did they leave him and run away? The law may acquit them, but they are morally guilty of helping his death. I trust these camping places for gamblers and people who supply drink to them after they are already drunk, will be watched in future. One question I ask. Where does the money go that's begged round the village for the widow and children left to mourn his loss? Most of it to the clergyman, sexton and undertaker.

I remain, faithfully yours,
Lofthouse, PARISIONER.

DEAR FRED.

You will be surprised at receiving a letter from me, but thank God, I am pleased to say am getting better every day. I shall be so glad to breathe the fresh air again. It has seemed a dreadful long time to be in bed. You know I was taken to the hospital last April to be treated for Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Well, on the 21st of July they tapped me, and took away 306 ounces of water. The same thing was done again on the 18th September, and 408 ounces of water obtained. On the 9th October I was discharged from the Hospital as incurable. In January this year the Evil was again tapped at home and 300 ounces of water taken away. The St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London refused me admission as a hopeless case, and the Bartholomew Hospital, Chatham, also refused me, as being the worst case they had seen for years, and two local doctors gave me up as hopeless. When I came from the Hospital it took three to put me to bed. My clothes had to be cut off. I was an object of misery and despair. After the Hospitals had refused me, and doctors given me up, my wife persuaded me to try Hop Bitters, and from the commencement have improved daily. I have only taken them seven weeks and can now get downstairs and walk about without even a stick. With the aid of a few more bottles of the Bitters shall be well again. The water has entirely left my body and legs. The only trace left is in my feet. It is a wonderful medicine. I wish I had tried it sooner, as I have nearly ruined myself and family with doctors' bills and other expenses. I might have been well long ago. At the Hospital I had no appetite whatever, but since using the Bitters eat everything with a relish. The only difficulty is the expense, but must not mind that so long as I am getting well. Am cheerful now that recovery is near, for every one had given me up as a bad job. With best wishes to . . . . . .

I remain,
Your affectionate [illegible]
(Signed). William Grayson,
1, Bush Terrace, Cage Lane,
Chatham, March 14, 1885.

To the Hop Bitters Co., London.

Gentlemen,—I enclose letter from my brother-in-law, Wm. Grayson, Chatham. He considers he owes his life to your Hop Bitters, and feels he cannot say enough in its praise.

Yours truly,
Fred. Stammers.
30, Castle Street, London.

LATER.

Chatham, March 24.

Since I wrote you ten days ago I have improved wonderfully. To-day I walked to the barber's shop (and got shaved), and back again by myself without fatigue. This is the first time I have been out alone since last April—over eleven months.

William Grayson.

HIGH AUTHORITY.

Dr. THOMPSON says Kidney Disease is probably next to Consumption the commonest cause of death among adults in this climate. You have had a recent and mysterious attack of asthma, pains in the back and around the loins, severe headaches, dizziness, inflamed eyes, a coated tongue and a dry mouth, loss of appetite, chilly sensation, indigestion (the stomach never is in order when the kidneys or liver are deranged), dryness of the skin, nervousness, night sweats, muscular debility, despondency, a tired feeling (especially at night), puffing or bloating under the eyes, and your muscular system seems utterly helpless. Dr. Roberts, of England; Prof. Thompson, of New York; and other celebrated authorities tell us that all these symptoms are sure indications of Bright's Disease! With some patients the disease runs slowly and for years. With others it comes as a thief in the night. This fact is an alarming one, and startles the inquiry, What can be done?

HOP BITTERS for the CURE of Kidney and Liver Complaints have no equal in the world, and those suffering from any of the above symptoms should use them at once.

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have in it their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in repairing the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name CONSUMPTION EMULSION. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 113 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c. he states, [illegible]

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d. —For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

IS RHEUMATISM CURABLE? Yes, if you take WOODCOCK'S RHEUMATIC MIXTURE. Speedily cures Rheumatic Pains in the Limbs, Rheumatic Pains in the Head, Rheumatic Pains in the Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatic Swellings and Stiffness; in fact, every phase of Rheumatism; no matter how acute or long standing, it never fails. OBSERVE—This is not a quack remedy warranted to cure everything, but a genuine SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM only. Sold by all medicine vendors at 1s. 9d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s., or Post free for 23, 34, or 56 stamps. The 11s. size paid to nearest Railway Station for 11s. 8d. P.O. Order or Stamps, from PAGE D. WOODCOCK, Lincoln.

FLORILINE!—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

THROAT AFFECTIONS AND HOARSENESS.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by JOHN I. BROWN & SONS, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the Individual: An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade. Mr. E. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known to the public, [illegible]

Rothwell Times,

Friday, June 5, 1885.

As announced last week, the Prince and Princess of Wales are coming to Leeds on Tuesday, July 14th, on Wednesday they will open the new buildings of the Yorkshire College, and on Thursday they leave for Preston. At a meeting yesterday, the Leeds Corporation appointed a Committee for carrying out such festive demonstrations as may be decided on, and no doubt both Leeds and the district round will keep high holiday during the Royal Visit.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS reassembled yesterday afternoon after the Whitsuntide holidays. The Chancellor of the Exchequer announced that next day he would make a statement in reference to the Budget proposals. Sir C. Dilke, in reply to Mr. Arnold, said the question of postponing the School Board elections in November, in view of a General Election, had been under consideration. The Prime Minister stated in reply to Lord J. Manners, that the negotiations with reference to the delimitation of the Afghan frontier were still proceeding. As to the proposed arbitration on the Penjdeh incident he would have something to say next day. The House afterwards went into Committee of Supply on Civil Service votes, in discussing which Mr. Broadhurst pressed upon the Government the importance of increasing the staff of Inspectors under the Factory and Workshop Acts.

A SERIOUS explosion occurred on Wednesday in the Margaret Pit, one of the Lambton collieries of the Earl of Durham, near Sunderland. There were twenty-five men and boys in the pit at the time of the accident, but twelve of these were rescued by exploring parties. The others remain entombed, and as water is flooding the workings, grave apprehensions are felt for their safety. The explosion occurred when the miners broke into old workings, from which accumulated gas and water rushed into the mine. A deputy, named Carter, who was rescued, died shortly after from the effects of after-damp, as proved by inquest held yesterday. The water is subsiding, but little hope is entertained of saving the thirteen men, who are in the flooded workings. Constant exertions, however, are being used to get to them as speedily as possible.

THE funeral of Victor Hugo took place on Monday, and passed off satisfactorily. Addresses having been delivered before the catafalque, the head of the procession started from the Arc de Triomphe at mid-day. The procession itself extended from the Arc de Triomphe to the Panthéon, and occupied three hours and a half in moving from one point to the other. The ceremony at the Panthéon is stated to have been a most impressive one. The weather was favourable, and, except a few accidents, nothing occurred to mar the proceedings. It is estimated that two million persons witnessed the enormous and imposing procession. Following the coffin were ten cars laden with floral wreaths, garlands, crosses, which had arrived from all parts of the world, some of them costing £40 or £50 each. It is held by many, that no such largely attended funeral has ever before taken place.

THE question of capital and labour is to the fore across the Atlantic just now. Here, in England, we have had a great strike among colliers, which is yet scarely settled. But a cessation of work of alarming extent, owing to a disagreement between masters and men, has occurred in the States. There are over a hundred thousand hands standing idle rather than accept a reduction of wages. The strike is among the iron and steel workers west of the Alleghany Mountains, and north of the Ohio River, and has been initiated by the trade association. Yet such is the stagnation in the industry that the employers affirm that the cessation of labour will rather help than inconvenience them. At such a critical time of trade depression it would be much pleasanter to see men and masters standing shoulder to shoulder to weather the commercial storm, than thus getting to logger-heads, which can but result in disaster. What is wanted is more fellow-feeling and sympathy between capital and labour, for their interests are one and the same.

LOCAL BOARD MEETING.

The usual meeting of the Board was held on Monday evening last, present—Messrs. W. Hargreaves (chairman), J. Hargreaves, J. Holmes, J. Oliver, H. P. Newsome, J. Turner, J. Dobson, J. Nowell, W. Lawton, and the clerk, medical officer, collector, and surveyor.

DISTRICT RATE.—As proposed a fortnight ago, it was now moved by Mr. Lawton, seconded by Mr. J. Hargreaves—that a new general district rate of 1/10 be laid. The motion was, of course, carried, and the rate book signed by five members of the Board.

FINANCE.—Owing to certain objections by the auditor, the fund out of which ordinary payments may be made is now emptied, and the Finance Committee only recommend the payment this meeting of such cheques as are absolutely necessary for carrying on the Board's work. To meet these calls one of the members kindly offered the use of some £40 which he is not requiring for two or three weeks, at the end of which period it is anticipated the collector will have been able to deposit a sufficient amount in the bank to meet the Board's liabilities. On behalf of the Board, the chairman expressed his thanks to the gentleman referred to.

The amount collected this fortnight is £9 6s. 5d. for water rents.

HIGHWAYS.—Mr. Newsome reported that Mrs. Smith will be glad to let the Board have a quantity of "boulders" gathered out of her field, if the Board will undertake to lead them off. The chairman thought the Committee would be glad to do this, as such material would answer very well for their bye-lanes.

Mr. Holmes urged the great necessity for a new water barrel. He believed it would really be a great advantage everyway; Mr. Newsome had pleasure in seconding the motion, of which he quite approved; tenders to be obtained from various persons, and the selection to be left with the Highway Committee. Mr. Turner was strongly in favour of Bailey's Hydrostatic van, but Mr. Lawton (and others) objected to it on account of cost and weight, and he was sure he could get a suitable barrel for a very much smaller figure than was talked about (£19). The chairman then put the resolution, jocularly remarking that "this was not for watering turnips."

HEALTH REPORT.—Dr. Glaister now proceeded to read his report of the health of the district for the last year, from which the following particulars are gleaned:—There have been 89 deaths and 220 births registered in the Board's district during the year 1884. Taking the population at 6,623, the same as last year, this gives an average birth rate of 33.2 against 35.3; the death rate on this calculation is 13.4 per 1,000 against 13.7 in 1883, 20.3 in 1882, and 11.9 in 1881, so that the average death rate for the four years has been 14.8 per thousand. During the past year 2 deaths have occurred from measles, 2 from diptheria, 1 scarlet fever, 1 whooping cough, 1 typhoid fever, 4 diarrhœa, 1 heart disease, 1 suicide, 1 lightning, 7 phthisis. One case of small-pox had broken out, but was quickly stamped out. Reference was made to the subject still in dispute, as regards the drain from Woodhouse Cemetery, and the details of the Board's action given. An official inspection of the water supply for Mr. Oliver, Mr. Lawton, and other houses in the district, had shewn that the sources are quite insufficient. Dr. Glaister also remarked on the sanitary examination he had made of property owned by Mr. John Holmes, and which had resulted in the houses being properly drained and connected with the main sewer. Almost every house is now in communication with the main drains, the exceptions being now under the notice of the Board. The ashpits and privies have been fairly well attended to, though the doctor advises the advantage of this work being undertaken by the Board. The complaints of the stench arising from the manholes were noticed, but the doctor expressed an opinion adverse to the present mode of ventilation by long shafts, and holding that it is better to allow the sewer gas to escape in the middle of the streets, where it can be rendered inocuous by copious dilution with fresh air, than to make its way into our houses." A sudden rainfall by filling the drains drives out the sewer gas, and if sufficient outlets are not provided, the traps are forced, and its entrance into the house is free." The report closes as follows—"I believe our system of ventilation, though certainly not perfect, is the best yet known, namely, trapped gullies, and surface ventilation from a large number of manholes placed in the middle of the streets. Unfortunately all our manholes are not placed in the middle of the street, and in some cases where the manhole is at the side of the street and near a door, I think the Board should provide charcoal trays. Some time ago I suggested to the Board that periodic flushings should take place in the higher portions of the district, and some scientific plan of taking observations should at the same time be carried out, when some true idea might be had of its practical value; this, though promised at the time, has never been carried out. I hope the Board will during the present year take the matter up in a spirit of earnestness, and that some improvement may be effected."

The chairman suggested that, in order to enable members fully to consider the report, a number of copies should be printed, and the several points could be taken up at another meeting. On the motion of Mr. J. Hargreaves and Mr. Dobson, 50 copies were ordered to be printed.

In connection with the report, a conversation took place on the relative death rates of various years, from which it appears that the calculations of the last three years have been based on the last census returns, the previous years being on a recognised advance each year.

A discussion of some interest also followed on an expression of opinion by Dr. Glaister in his report, that the plan adopted in Wood Lane by the Board for ventilating the sewers, is not satisfactory. Mr Holmes especially defended the plan, as an experiment which he held had worked very satisfactorily both in Wood Lane and at Stourton; the people living near being now relieved of the unpleasant odours which used to emanate from the manholes in those districts. Mr. Lawton introduced the question of obtaining permission to utilize the chimneys as a means of drawing the stench away from the main drains. Dr. Glaister did not think that would remove the objection, and intimated the possibility of its injuring the effect of the syphon trap at the houses. Dr. Nowell was strongly in favour of utilizing chimneys for this purpose, and said the Authority were now endeavouring to carry out such a plan at Woodlesford. The chairman said they had frequently had this subject under consideration, but he thought it better to wait until they had carefully considered the report, and go thoroughly into the matter at a later period.

ROTHWELL SEWAGE.—The clerk read a letter from the Local Government Board signifying their consent to the Board's appropriating some £47 of the money lent for Rothwell Sewage scheme to the drainage of Cross Street (which was somehow omitted in the original plan). The assent of the Public Works Loan Commissioners was ordered to be asked, on the motion of Mr. Newsome, seconded by the chairman, but Messrs. Oliver, Lawton, Dobson and Holmes were neutral.

BYE-LAWS.—Mr. Oliver and other members of the Byelaws Committee had met, and now suggested three or four rules for the guidance of the chairman and members in conducting the meetings of the Board.

On the motion of Mr. Oliver and Mr. Lawton, it was agreed that these regulations be entered in a book to be kept on the table for reference; any other suggestions being added as circumstances may require.

WATER.—The clerk reported that the accounts in relation to the Waterworks scheme were now ready for the consideration of the Committee. He might say, for the information of the Board, that instead of any profit being made, there was a very serious loss on their water supply. In the calculations of some gentlemen no account was taken of the nearly £300 payable yearly for repayment of loan and interest. It was agreed that the Waterworks Committee should meet on Friday evening to consider the entire subject.

ROYAL VISIT TO LEEDS.—Mr. Newsome, amid much laughter, directed attention to the coming visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales to Leeds, and asked whether it might not be possible (should they stay at Temple Newsam), to induce their Royal Highnesses to come through Oulton, Rothwell and Hunslet. If they succeeded in this plan, Mr. Calverley might probably be wishful to remove the old cottages at the bottom of Wood Lane, so as to give a better entrance to the town, and thereby add new lustre to his name. Dr. Nowell thought the only way of removing them would be by getting dynamitards to blow them up. The chairman—"What about the church?" Dr. Nowell—Oh, the church would be in danger." Mr. Oliver thought Mr. Newsome should give notice of such a proposal. Mr. Lawton, before seconding the motion, was very anxious to know if Mr. Newsome was going to purchase the plot on the other side of the road, opposite to the cottages? The conversation then dropped.

THE GAS QUESTION.—The clerk enquired what members were intending to go through the case against the Gas Reserve Fund, before being presented to counsel. Mr. Turner thought the Board should refer to the resolution passed at the public meeting "to co-operate with Messrs. Turner and Nowell." Mr. Lawton moved—That the Gas Committee go into the case to be laid before counsel, as regards the Reserve Fund of the Rothwell Gas Light Co. Mr. Newsome thought the report ought to be laid before the entire Board, as the Board would have to pay the costs. Mr. Turner held to his opinion, and remarked on the persistent obstruction which Mr. Nowell and he had received from the Board in this matter. Mr. Dobson seconded Mr. Lawton's motion, which was carried, Messrs. J. Hargreaves, Holmes, Turner, and Newsome being neutral.

HUNSLET BOARD OF GUARDIANS.

The fortnightly meeting of this Board took place on Wednesday, present—Mr. J. Hargreaves (chairman), Mr. J. Grayeley (vice-chairman), Messrs W. Lawton, C. Grosvenor, J. Dixon, W. Riley, J. Swithenbank, R. J. Smith, G. Jepson, J. Hardcastle, J. Jackson, H. Sheard, J. Parker, Rev. G. M. Platt, and the clerk (Mr. Schofield).

The cases for relief occupied a considerable length of time, after which the minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

Mr. Slater, the dispenser, attended the meeting, to meet certain charges laid against him a fortnight ago, and which were reported in these columns. In regard to complaints of non-attendance, he stated that he himself had been present a much larger number of times than was reported, and when unable to attend, he had sent a fully qualified assistant (not a lad as had been intimated, but a properly certified person, nearly 21 years of age). He had often been present, as well as his assistant, and was fully cognizant of what had been done. He also distinctly denied having ever dispensed a medicine different to that prescribed, but gave instances in which fault was attributable to the doctor, for not properly describing his prescription or neglecting to send an order. After hearing Mr. Slater's explanation, the Board decided to make further enquiries as regards the doctor's statement that wrong medicine had been sent. While pointing out the importance of attending much more frequently in person, the Board felt considerable reason for complaint in Mr. Slater's past conduct, but accepted his assurance of more regular attendance in future.

A poor woman from Rothwell, was reported to have died at Wakefield Ayslum on the 28th of May, having been kept by the Guardians since 1861.

The usual returns and orders were then agreed to.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

FOLLOWING the custom which prevails in other important centres of civilisation we give a breif resume of the musical and entertainment season of 1884-5. It is rather "a chronicle of small beer" there is nothing very brilliant to record; but at the same time it is interesting and may be useful, to recall the principal events which went to relieve the dulness of the winter months.

To begin with, we had the Musical and Dramatic Entertainment in connection with the Church Dedication Festival, in November. This was a very successful affair; the difficulty being to find room for all the people who wished to attend. The musical part of the programme was not of a very ambitious character, consisting for the most part of humorous songs and feeble glees, varied by one or two good recitations. As however, amusement was the principal object of this after-tea entertainment none were disposed to find fault. The chief attraction was the dramatic performance. A capital representation of "A Bed of Roses—aided by a very creditable home-spun scene—was given by Mrs. R. J. Smith, Miss Castle, Dr. Purdy, Mr. W. Wright, Mr. R. J. Smith, and Mr. A Batty. This performance was successfully repeated at Hunslet and East Ardsley, at each place in aid of the respective churches. Seeing that a decent dramatic performance never fails to allure the local public, it is almost a wonder that we have no Dramatic Association, or Thespian Society, for the systematic cultivation of the dramatic talent which undoubtedly exists among our people. There are many young ladies and gentlemen who feel within them the burning flame of genius in a histrionic way. Only give it opportunity, room for developement, and who can tell what might happen. The Church Entertainment was followed in December by the Choral Society's opening concert; when the numerous patrons of this useful organisation were invited to note the progress made by the singers under the direction of their conductor Mr. G. A. Atkinson. A very choice selection of part-songs—most of which were new to us—were very fairly rendered by a remnant of the once capital chorus of the Society. Many of the best known voices were missing however, and this falling off would account for the balance of parts being a little less perfect than usual. The rest of the programme was sufficiently interesting and varied, though the frivolous element was rather more prominent than one would be led to expect at a concert under the auspices of a society which professes to be educational in its character. It is but fair to the promoters though, that this was due chiefly to the persistent encores and re-encores of the one or two comic songs in the programme. A good humorous song is all very well in its way, and generally affords a very welcome contrast and relief to the more important items of a concert programme; but those who cannot appreciate anything better, show little consideration for those who can, or for the singer, when they selfishly insist on repetitions ad nauseam of what is gratifying only to their own primitive tastes.

The annual concert promoted by the committee of our flourishing Mechanics' Institute in aid of the funds, was a very pleasant little affair: nor the least interesting items being the hand bell selections by the Church bell-ringers. This event was also the occasion of the production of a "Topical Duett" by Mr. R. J. Smith, sung by the author and Mr. Parkin. In the same week a very successful concert was given by the Oulton Brass Band, in aid of the fund for presenting a testimonial to their leader Mr. B. Walker. The programme was of the ordinary miscellaneous character. Special mention may be made of the very creditable performance of one or two instrumental selections by members of the band. There was a large attendance. There is no reason why this concert should not become an annual event. The band is a popular institution, and public support might be always counted upon; judging from their performance on this occasion, the band, with a little special practice, and the exercise of the same degree of self restraint would be quite capable of giving an intelligent rendering of concert music, and this might be made a characteristic feature of their concerts.

ONE or two very enjoyable concerts have been given in the Parochial School-room, Swillington, promoted by the Church choir, the cricket club etc. These events cause quite a ripple of excitement in the very smooth course of ordinary affairs. They are always looked forward to with much interest, and have been invariably well-attended.

THE closing and most important of the musical events of the season was the performance of Sullivan's Festival "Te Deum" and part of the "Messiah" by members of the choral society. As this was fully reported quite recently in the Rothwell Times it is unnecessary to enlarge upon it again now. We trust that these annual Special Musical Services in the Church, which were commenced four years ago, will be continued, that the standard character of the works given will be kept up, and that the progressive excellence of the performances may be sustained. It is a far cry from the Church Musical Service to a minstrel entertainment, but we cannot close this note without expressing a hope that the latter event—which this year, to the general disappointment was allowed to drop—will again take its proper place in the list of next season entertainments.

WITH the exception of Mr. C. T. Hartley, a young bass singer with a promising voice, no fresh musical talent has been brought to the surface. Amongst local amateurs the following well known vocalists have given valuable service at the concerts, etc., Miss Braime, Miss Teale, and Miss Longbottom, of Methley; Misses Davies, of Swillington, and Miss Stead; Mr. B. W. Higgins, Mr. T. West, Mr. J. Porter, Mr. R. J. Smith, Mr. H. Parkin, Mr. J. Prime, and Mr. A. Batty. Miss Middlemiss has, with her usual ready good-nature, contributed pianoforte solos and assisted in accompanying the vocalists on most occasions, fully sustaining her brilliant reputation as a pianist; and Mr. W. Lockwood as secretary and accompanist to the choral society has done useful and unobtrusive work in the way of promoting and assisting at several of the concerts etc.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

ROTHWELL FOOTBALL CLUB.—The adjourned annual general meeting of this club took place on Tuesday last, at the Working Man's Club, Mr. H. Chapman presided. The first business was the election of officers for the season 1885—86, with the following results:—President, *Rev. F. Fawkes; captain, *Mr. W. Hartley; vice, *Mr. A. Ward; treasurer, *Mr. H. Chapman; secretary, *Mr Jos. Harrison; Committee, Messrs. *J. W. Wright, A. Chapman, John R. Seanor, *J. W. Chadwick, Geo. Wilson, *A. W. Seanor, and *R. H. Lewis. *Retiring officers. Other business concluded the meeting.

TEMPERANCE MEETINGS AT ROTHWELL.—On Sunday last, several temperance friends from Leeds held two meetings in this village, that in the afternoon being held in the open air, near the Cross. Mr. John Hulse presided, and delivered a practical address, stating that the average amount spent in the liquor traffic was 136 millions per annum during the 10 years ending 1880; he urged the working classes to look to their own interests and abstain from this gigantic curse; he approved of the work of the Salvation Army, as they were striving for the redemption of the people, as the teetotallers were. Mr. Farthing then addressed the meeting, and spoke of the advantages of teetotalism, contrasting the condition of teetotallers with that of the drinkers; he was an abstainer of 23 years' standing, yet he had suffered severely from those with whom he was intimately connected, he having to work when he was 10 years of age, when he ought to have had a better start in life, had it not been for the intemperance of others. As a labour question this subject closely affected the working classes: the liquor traffic only paid 2/6 in the £ for labour, while other branches of industry paid 17/6 in the £. Mr. G. Marshall, in an earnest address, urged his fellow working men to make the best of this life by using the fruits of their labour to the best advantage; he had been a Trade Unionist for 40 years, and he hoped the time would soon come when the working people would band themselves together to further their own interests. Mr. G. Brown spoke from 30 years' experience of total abstinence; he said that Englishmen were the most drunken lot in the world, and stated that in a certain dramshop in Leeds, the customers were five females to one male, shewing the great prevalence of intemperance among females. Referring to domestic matters he had a far happier home since he signed the pledge; they often heard the remark that teetotallers turned infidels, but there were thousands of teetotallers who went to churches and chapels in Leeds. If people wanted happy homes, they must become abstainers; he hoped working men would follow his example. The chairman, in closing the meeting, humorously contrasted the difference between the drinkers and the sober portion of the community in their homes and habits; he said that the liquor traffic was entirely unknown in heathen lands until it was introduced by Englishmen. There was a good attendance, and the audience listened very attentively to the speakers. Several melodies were sung from Sankey's selection. The evening meeting was held in the Temperance Hall. Mr. G. Brown presided, and delivered an appropriate address. Mr. Tempest, during his speech, said he had been an abstainer all his life, and although he had not suffered from the effects of drink personally, he had seen its disastrous effects on others, giving several instances that had come under his own observation; two cases he mentioned particularly, where splendid fortunes had been wasted and life destroyed through its baneful effects. He urged the friends present to do all in their power to destroy that terrible pestilence, more especially by training the young in the Band of Hope, a department he had worked in for many years, having been connected for a long period with one having 350 members. Mr. John Hulse then delivered a humorous and practical address; he said he had had 25 years' experience of total abstinence He had been brought up near that Sodom and Gomorrah—Burton-on-Trent; when standing at the door of his house he could smell the liquor he soon learned to imbibe. The speaker referred to his parents, saying that by abstinence he had been enabled to support his parents in their old age. He quoted figures to show the prevalence of drinking habits in London, to the effect that 50 public houses around the Elephant and Castle had been visited by 17,347 men, 10,665 women, and 1,645 children in the last three hours of a Saturday night, and 200 public-houses had been visited by 86,608 persons during the above space of time, and at 12 houses near Tolman Square between 10 and 12 o'clock in the evening, 1,250 females entered; these figures showed the dreadful prevalence of drinking among women and children. Mr. G. Marshall, in the course of an earnest address, urged the people to embrace total abstinence, enumerating the benefits he had derived therefrom during 25 years. Mr. Farthing, in the course of his short speech, said he hoped they would only vote in the coming general election, for those men in favor of the Permissive Bill.

HANDEL BI-CENTENARY FESTIVAL.—Mr. Manns has finished selecting and organising the vast body of instrumentalists and singers that are to fill the Crystal Palace orchestra on the occasion of the Bi-centenary Celebration of the birth of Handel. The 4,000 executants have been appointed and recruited to the full number, with scrupulous care as to individual efficiency and musical quality. The metropolitan rehearsals have been going forward with enthusiasm, and at the first summons the London contingent filled all the seats in Exeter Hall, not only on the great orchestra, but where the audience usually are, over the whole body of the building. On Saturday Mr. Manns left London to conduct provincial rehearsals, beginning at Bradford, one of the most musical of county towns, and a centre of vocal power rich in quality. Notable contingents of picked singers are to come from Edinburgh, Glasgow, Birmingham, Liverpool, Manchester, Brighton, Leeds, Norwich, &c., and great enthusiasm prevails among all who are going to bear part on the great occasion at the Crystal Palace. There is some disputatious stir in musical circles anent a purpose of Mr. Manns at the coming Festival. Besides the Concerto recently discovered by Rockstro in the Royal Library at Buckingham Palace, a noble Sonata by the great master is to be played on the Selection Day. Both these compositions are in all material respects new to the public. The Sonata was written by Handel to be played on the violin. Mr. Manns, taking into account the vast auditorium of the Festival, and feeling an assurance in the remarkable skill of the body of violinists that he has brought together for the occasion, is going to render the Sonata by means of all the violins—in fact, by 200 trained instrumentalists at fewest! The effect is said to be grandly beautiful, but the purists and the curious among amateurs are already preparing for battle over the innovation.

CARLTON WESLEYAN SUNDAY SCHOOL.—The sermons in connection with the anniversary of this school were preached on Sunday by Mr. D. Mc'Adoo, of Sharlston, who conducted the services, morning, afternoon, and evening. The congregations were very good, and the musical portion of the anniversary gave great satisfaction to those who listened, and reflected credit on Mr. Keightley, the conductor, and the scholars and teachers who took part. A small band of instrumentalists kindly gave their assistance The addresses of Mr. Mc'Adoo were excellent, as they usually are; the collections amounted to a trifle over last year's (which were very good), and the festival throughout has been a success.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE OF A ROTHWELL FARMER.—All sorts of rumours have been floating during the week concerning the disappearance of Mr. Wm. Hy. Jordan, of Rothwell Haigh, who left his home on Thursday morning a week ago, about eleven o'clock, to attend Lord Stourton's rent audit, and on other business in Leeds. He did not return, however, as was expected, and both Friday and Saturday passed away without any tidings of the missing man. By this time his friends became alarmed, and fearing some misfortune had befallen Mr. Jordan, they gave information to the authorities, who made every enquiry, and advertised his disappearance in the Gazette. Beyond having been seen in Leeds on the Thursday, no tidings could be gathered, and people gradually came to the conclusion that he had not committed suicide, as was at first supposed, but that he had emigrated, (as he had money in his possession). All doubts on this subject are now set at rest, as Mrs. Jordan has this morning received a few lines from her husband, intimating that he is alive and well, though his exact whereabouts has not been made known. The many rumours which have been repeated in various forms may therefore be discredited, and the fact of his being still alive accepted as correct. We trust everything will soon be cleared up, and that his family and friends will again have his presence and help.

THE heat during the last few days has been almost tropical, and the drop of rain which has fallen to-day has been very refreshing, only we could do with a little more.

PARTIES visiting E. Miller's Furnishing Depôt, 22, North Street, Leeds, often express their regret at not having called sooner!

CRICKET NOTES.

Rothwell had a pleasant outing to Horbury on Saturday, and encountered the "cloth villagers" club on their own ground. Horbury batted first, and were all got out for the comparatively low score of 36, Jessop being top scorer with 8. In the bowling Ward, took 6 wickets at the cost 15 runs, while Dobson secured 2 wickets for 7 runs. Rothwell seemed to have an easy task before them, but everyone was surprised at the manner in which they were disposed of. Ward and W E Richardson were the first representatives of Rothwell, and before long the latter was given out "leg before." Glover succeeded in hitting a "2," when he was given out in the the same way—not to his entire satisfaction, however. The other wickets went down in succession, Dobson alone making a bit of a stand, scoring 7, while at the finish Ward came out bat in hand for 12—rather a small score considering the time he was in; the total scored was 29. The bad condition of the wicket is blamed for the exceeding smallness of the scores. For Horbury, the wickets were secured by the brothers Hellawell, George taking six and Fred four.

Rothwell 2nd were successful in their encounter with Horbury 2nd at Rothwell on Saturday, which however, was mainly brought about by the valuable aid lent by C. Tiffany, of the first team, as will be seen below. Horbury went in and made a total of 46, of which F. Collinson was responsible for 14, and F. Wilby 13, while the extras numbered 13, therefore the total runs scored off the bat was only 33, five of the batsmen being credited with the distasteful (to them) "duck." In the bowling department, C. Tiffany took 3 wickets for only 1 run, Baines 5 for 21, and Chadwick 1 for 11 runs. The home team scored 67 off the bat, and with as many extras as their opponents (13) had a total of 80. C. Tiffany batted well for 34, as did also J. W. Chadwick for 15, the only pair who reached double figures.

The Rothwell Temperance eleven journeyed to Hunslet, there to oppose the White Rose, at the hands of whom they again suffered defeat, this time by only two runs, a rather near "shave." Nevertheless it is a defeat, making the number of matches lost this season into seven, out of a like number played. The Temperance eleven defended first and ran up a score of 46, 13 of which were extras. I. Blackburn was head scorer on his side with 8, followed by E. Websdale with 7. Out of the 48 obtained by the home team, 14 were down for extras, so that they only added one more run than their opponents with the bat. Howen was the principal scorer of the White Rose with 10.

THE LAY OF THE 'DUSTY' TRADESMAN

'Spring's delights,' and 'charming weather'
Is the talk when friends now meet;
These, and dust combined together,
(Are they bahn ta walter t'street.)

If we wish to 'draw' some custom,
And our goods outside display,
There's such dust you cannot trust 'em.
(It's fair cum i' claads ta day.)

Then inside your stock gets covered,
This to clean you make a start;
Whew! Oh dear! I'm nearly smothered;
(Wheer's that blooming watter cart.)

'Aqua pura' there is plenty,
And we do not wish to quarrel,
But when needed, let's have twenty,
(It's like nout, just a nut barrel.)

It would really be a blessing
If well watered was the road;
But I'll drop it, as a blessing
Perhaps may get from t'Local Board.

THROAT IRRITATION AND COUGH.—Soreness and dryness, tickling and irritation, inducing cough and affecting the voice. For these symptoms use Epps's Glycerine Jujubes. In contact with the glands at the moment they are excited by the act of sucking, the Glycerine in these agreeable confections becomes actively healing. Sold only in boxes, 7½d., tins 1s. 1½d., labelled "JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London." Dr. George Moore, in his work on "Nose and Throat Diseases," says: "The Glycerine Jujubes prepared by James Epps and Co., are of undoubted service as a curative or palliative agent," while Dr. Gordon Holmes, Senior Physician to the Municipal Throat and Ear Infirmary, writes: "After an extended trial, I have found your Glycerine Jujubes of considerable benefit (with or without medicinal treatment) in almost all forms of throat disease."

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We would particularly urge our friends to send in their letters and news, as early as possible, as we cannot accept contributions later than Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, except in the case of matters occurring on Wednesday or Thursday, which should be forwarded within a short period after. Advertisements may be sent as late as Friday morning.

TOWN TALK.

IT must have been quite an interesting occupation to have watched the proceedings at the meeting of the Local Board and the directors of the Gas Co., on the 22nd ult. One can easily picture the Directors entering the Board-room, with their worthy chairman at the head, the rear being brought up by that young Samsonian, Mr. Abbishaw. With these two stalwart defenders, the directors, with their solicitor and secretary, would no doubt feel quite safe in entering the 'Lion's Den' in Churchfield, and it would not have been a great wonder if the Local Board had completely collapsed on seeing such a parcel of 'invincibles' enter their own domain, especially as only five members put in an appearance, out of the nine gentlemen forming the Board. Then there was the withdrawing and the re-assembling, the retiring and the re-entering, which in plain words made up a most amusing farce. After all the talk and nonsense, the meeting ended as one might have expected—in moonshine—nothing more definite than the ideas of some members of the Board, as to what is the meaning of the resolution passed at the public meeting on the gas question some weeks since, nor the knowledge of the powers of the Gas Co. possessed by some of the shareholders. The Board, after getting rid of their visitors, decided to obtain an opinion on their own responsibility, this action being what should have been done at first, without trifling away a lot of time in negotiating with the Gas Co., and thereby giving them time to prepare a way of escape, in the shape of a sale by auction of £2,000 worth of shares.

** ** ** **

I HEAR that Mr. Lawton has been favoured with instructions from the Gas Co. to conduct their sale, on Wednesday next, at the 'White Swan.' How is it he has got the job? Have the Directors forgotten that he was elected on the Local Board a short time ago?

** ** ** **

THE main topic of conversation this week has been the very mysterious disappearance of Mr. Jordan, of Rothwell Haigh. Up to now (Thursday morning) nothing has been heard of his whereabouts. Certain it is that he is missing; twenty speculations have been made as to his motive in thus forsaking his farm and family; numerous and conflicting rumours have been afloat that he or his body had been discovered. There is something very strange about the affair; surely his family ought to have some idea of the reasons for his conduct, but there is nothing definite known, so far as I can tell

** ** ** **

PITY the Parish which provides a place for such a poor, paltry, pestiferous person as the one who penned that piece of pugnacious prose, which appeared in the paper last week, and which had appended the nom de plume 'Parishioner.' When I see a well built house I can tell it is well built, and when I see a piece of bad work, I know it to be bad, and reckon up the builder accordingly; on the same lines, I have learnt how to reckon up the writer of a newspaper letter, by what the letter contains, and the sentiments it expresses. The writer of the letter makes several strong statements which it is impossible to verify, concerning the men in company with poor Wright just before his death: these are full of folly. But the close is what I want to be at; some may agree with him in his condemnation of the six men referred to, but all must condemn him for the 'one question' he asks about the money collected for the poor widow and children. One question will I ask; how much did 'Parishioner' subscribe to the relief of the distressed ones? or, Did he subscribe at all? If he subscribed heavily, he ought to know where his money went to. If not, he has no right to ask the question.

** ** ** **

Now let us all be loyal; the Prince and Princess of Wales are coming, not to Rothwell, but to Leeds. The 15th of July is the day fixed for the Royal visit. This is on a Wednesday, just the right day for making a hearty reception for them. We must have a general holiday, pits, shops, match factory, all closed; nobody but P.S. Turton and his two followers left to guard our little town, let us all be off to see the sights. More next week on this subject.

** ** ** **

THE Local Board has made a small attempt (their attempts are generally of this class) to water the streets. The 'turn out' is a disgrace to the town; the idea of watering the streets of Rothwell with a barrel having an outlet at the back in the shape of a 'spiket.' Nothing more need be said.

GOSSIP.

LOFTHOUSE BURNING CASE.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

Regarding the letter in your last issue, concerning the Lofthouse burning case, it appears to me, as it must to every sensible person, that it is only the dolorous whine of a prejudiced, narrow minded and malicious person. The only statement which has any foundation in fact, is that drink was sold to the man; and even then he goes farther than he can prove, as he does not know whether the man was drunk when he bought the liquors or not. He distinctly states that it is the truth that the men were in the barn when it was on fire, which statement is nothing more or less than a decided libel, as he would find to his cost, if the men were as stupid and meddling as he seems to be. 'Parishioner' asks a question, which I will answer for him. The money which was 'begged' round the village was partly spent in the funeral, and the other went to the widow. 'Parishioner' seems to insinuate that deceased ought not to have been buried, or else why does he throw a 'skit' at the clergyman, sexton and undertaker? He strongly reminds me of a person who said that 'those who burned him to death ought to bury him.' Perhaps he does not know the significance of the sentence which I will choose for my nom de plume, which is—

"JUDGE NOT THAT YE BE NOT JUDGED."

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

How any sane person could put words together in the sense that Parishioner has done, is to me a marvel from beginning to end, it is a tissue of falsehoods He says "as I thought would be, no questions were asked by the jury that would reveal the truth that the whole of the men were in the barn." If he knows we were there, why did he not attend the inquest and prove his assertion? Instead of that, Sir, he shelters behind the door of a nom de plume, and fires bullets made of spite and malice. He must indeed be very ignorant of the law or else he would be more cautious; he distinctly charges the jury with a breach of duty, which on their oath they were bound faithfully and loyally to perform. Furthermore, he says, "if they were as we believe they were, why did they leave him and run away?" We! I ask who is we, and echo answers 'Parishioner.' I would refer your readers to the paragraph at the time which appeared in the Wakefield Express to further dispel that wild allusion, as for his nonsense about us running away and leaving the poor fellow, there was a number of people that saw us there, long after the fire had broken out. The law, says the zealous guardian of public morality, "may acquit them, but they are morally guilty of helping his death," a charge, Sir, which I hurl back to say, 1st, that the jury added a rider to their verdict that no blame was attached to us; 2nd, the coroner concurred with the verdict and rider; 3rd, Dr. Holdsworth said in the Wakefield Court-house, that no suspicion was attached to our character in the matter; 4th, Mr. Superintendent Hall said that he believed we were as innocent of what we had been charged with as he was himself. On Whit-Monday morning, the case stood thus: a sad, heart-rending calamity occurred by which a man lost his life, and as we had been in his company, we were suspected of having been concerned in his death. So far we are either guilty or not guilty, and did we not present ourselves to the best of our knowledge [illegible] to the satisfaction of a coroner, whose strict impartiality stands prominent in his profession, to twelve jurymen, and the public, with the exception of Parishioner, (who counts for nothing) before the sound of the charge died away, that we were not guilty. Have we not done all in our power to aid the 'powers that be' in clearing up this sad accident; they brought a grave charge against us, and did we not as it were aid them in sustaining it by volunteering our evidence. But what does Parishioner do behind the counter of his assumed name but misrepresent us in every particular. I wonder what the public will think of his absurd question as to where the money has gone that was generously collected and charitably given to aid the well-nigh heartbroken widow in her hour of dire distress. To my mind I never heard or read of such heartless talk. You are bound to draw one of two conclusions from it, either the money paid for the funeral or else the balance has been misapplied. I ask what right as he to ask that question at all? I rather think if he gives his name to the public it can be proved that he was as lacking in charity to contribute a mite to the poor woman, as he was wanting in patience to wait for a penny paper so as to read the case in its entirety. I trust, that though there might be those who will not agree with our conduct on the sad occasion, that will not deter them from stretching out the hand of sympathy to lessen the load of sadness and sorrow on that poor woman's mind. I am sorry to trespass so far in your paper, and the charge of moral guilt which Parishioner brings against us is my only excuse.

Yours faithfully,

Lofthouse, June 2nd. FRANCIS HUGHES.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes close, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above-named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety one cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited). London, England. This syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of system.

Holloways Pills.—Enfeebled Existence.—This medicine embraces every attribute required in a general and domestic remedy. It overturns the foundations of decease laid by defective food and impure air. In obstructions or congestions of the liver, lungs, bowels, or any other organs, these Pills are especially servicable and eminently successful. They should be kept in readiness in every family, being a medicine of incomparable utility for young persons, especially those of feeble constitutions. They never pain or irritate the most sensitive nerves or most tender bowels. Holloway's Pills are the best known purifiers of the blood, the most active promoters of absorption and secretion, whereby all poisonous and obnoxious matters are removed from both solids and fluids.

BORAX PREPARATIONS are manufactured by the PATENT BORAX COMPANY, under Royal Patents, which the Queen has awarded in recognition of their 'GREAT EXCELLENCE' 'PUBLIC IMPORTANCE,' and 'UTILITY.

CHEAP NOURISHMENT.—Fourteen large Breakfast Cups of strong, reliable Cocoa can be made from a Sixpenny Packet of Cadbury's Cocoa Essence. Ask or Cadbury's, and do not be imposed upon.

BORAX—PATENT CALIFORNIAN, 'The Household Treasure—Pure Antiseptic,' is sold in small and family packets by all intelligent dealers, prepared and ready for immediate use, with full directions for all Personal and Domestic purposes, and suitable for Academies, Hotels, Hospitals, Asylums, Ships, Public Institutions, and all homes—from the mansion to the cottage—everywhere—everywhere.

TEETH, A COMPLETE SET ONE GUINEA.—Precisely the same Prize Medal Teeth supplied by other Dentists at the highest fees, five years' warranty.—Testimonial from Jas. Steward, Physician and Surgeon, L.R.C.P.E. I have great pleasure in recommending your Guinea Sets of Teeth. The set you supplied to me are much superior to those for which I paid a much higher fee. They must prove a great boon to the working classes." Complete set made and fitted in a few hours. One visit only required from country patients at the Dental Supply Association, 19, BOAR-LANE, LEEDS. Entrance, Gascoigne-street. Attendance, 10 to 7. Country Patients attended at their own Residences without extra charge.

Holloway's Pills & Ointment.—Old Wounds, Sores and Ulcers.—Daily experience confirms the fact which has triumphed over all opposition for more than forty years, viz., that no means are known equal to Holloway's remedies for curing bad legs, bad breasts, sores, wounds, diseases of the skin, erysipelas, abscesses, burns, scalds, and, in truth, all maladies where the skin is broken. To cure these infirmities quickly is of primary importance, as compulsory confinement indoors weakens the general health. The ready means of cure are found in Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which heal the sores and expel their cause. In the very worst cases the Ointment has succeeded in effecting a perfect cure after every other means had failed in giving adequate relief.

EPP'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in packets, labelled—"JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London."—Also makers of Epp's Chocolate Essence.

GENUINE ORANGE BITTERS.—24s. per case of one dozen net cash. These Bitters are made from the very finest Seville oranges and will be found to be an admirable and pleasant tonic. Manufactured by Joseph Hobson, Dantzic Brewery, Regent Street, Leeds.

"THE appearance upon entering (Providence House, 42, North Street, Leeds), are as an idea of a fairy-land of Furniture and Crystal palace of mirrors."

DEAR FRED,

You will be surprised at receiving a letter from me, but thank God, I am pleased to say am getting better every day. I shall be so glad to breathe the fresh air again. It has seemed a dreadful long time to be in bed. You know I was taken to the Hospital last April to be treated for Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Well, on the 31st of July they tapped me, and took away 304 ounces of water. The same thing was done again on the 18th September, and 408 ounces of water obtained. On the 9th October I was discharged from the Hospital as incurable. In January this year (the 20th), was again tapped at home and 360 ounces of water taken away. The St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London refused me admission as a hopeless case, and the Bartholomew Hospital, Chatham, also refused me, as being the worst case they had seen for years, and two local doctors gave me up as hopeless. When I came from the Hospital it took three to put me to bed. My clothes had to be cut off. I was an object of misery and despair. After the Hospitals had refused me, and doctors given me up, my wife persuaded me to try Hop Bitters, and from the commencement have improved daily. I have only taken them seven weeks and can now get downstairs and walk about without even a stick. With the aid of a few more bottles of the Bitters shall be well again. The water has entirely left my body and legs. The only trace left is in my feet. It is a wonderful medicine. I wish I had tried it sooner, as I have nearly ruined myself and family with doctors' bills and other expenses. I might have been well long ago. At the Hospital I had no appetite whatever, but since using the Bitters eat everything with a relish. The only difficulty is the expense, but must not mind that so long as I am getting well. Am cheerful now that recovery is near, for every one had given me up as a bad job. With best wishes to . . . .

I remain,
Your affectionate Brother,
(Signed) William Grayson.
1, Bush Terrace, Cage Lane,
Chatham, March 14, 1885.

To the Hop Bitters Co., London.

Gentlemen,—I enclose letter from my brother-in-law, Wm. Grayson, Chatham. He considers he owes his life to your Hop Bitters, and feels he cannot say enough in its praise.

Yours truly,
Fred. Stammers.
83, Castle Street, London.

LATER.

Chatham, March 24.

Since I wrote you ten days ago I have improved wonderfully. To-day I walked to the barber's shop (and got shaved), and back again by myself without fatigue. This is the first time I have been out alone since last April—over eleven months.

William Grayson.

HIGH AUTHORITY.

Dr. THOMPSON says Kidney Disease is probably next to Consumption the commonest cause of death among adults in this climate. You have had a recent and mysterious attack of asthma, pains in the back and around the loins, severe headaches, dizziness, inflamed eyes, a coated tongue and a dry mouth, loss of appetite, chilly sensation, indigestion (the stomach never is in order when the kidneys or liver are deranged), dryness of the skin, nervousness, night sweats, muscular debility, despondency, a tired feeling (especially at night), puffing or bloating under the eyes, and your muscular system seems utterly helpless. Dr. Roberts, of England; Prof. Thompson, of New York; and other celebrated authorities tell us that all these symptoms are sure indications of Bright's Disease! With some patients the disease runs slowly and for years. With others it comes as a thief in the night. This fact is an alarming one, and startles the inquiry, What can be done?

HOP BITTERS for the CURE of Kidney and Liver Complaints have no equal in the world, and those suffering from any of the above symptoms should use them at once.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it soften the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name CONSUMPTION EMULSION. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 163 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find there is a gain of weight even after it has been used." Such a testimony as this speaks volumes for the efficiency of Phthisicon. In addition, it has proved of immense value as a curative agent in the early stages of Brain Disease and Scrofula; in fact, wherever there is impaired nutrition or lack of nerve power, its action is almost certain. It can be obtained of all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s., and 22s. per bottle. Wholesale of Barclay and Sons, Farringdon-street, London, E.C.; or of W. B. Trick, A.P.S., 93, Green-lanes London, N.

FLORILINE!—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

THROAT AFFECTIONS AND HOARSENESS.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by JOHN I. BROWN & SONS, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London

WATCHES, JEWELLERY.—MIDLAND COUNTIES WATCH COMPANY.—(Cheapest house in the World) Ladies' or Gents' Fine Silver Crystal Glass, heavy Ladies' Watches, 25/-; Ladies' heavy-cased Gold Levers, 70/-; Gents' do. do. do., 80/-. Before purchasing send for Company's Catalogue, beautifully illustrated, 1,000 fine copper-plate engravings, gratis, post free on application to any part of the world. Apply Company's Manager, A. Percy, [illegible] Street, Birmingham. The press universally recommend their readers to obtain a catalogue.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d. —For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade. Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known [illegible] "up to all the wrinkles." The middle men, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" [illegible] Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.

If your Watches or Clocks are out of order let them be properly repaired by good workmen. Scott & Co. guarantee the work they do for 12 months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made as new, on very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

Friday, June 12, 1885.

THE unexpected defeat of the Government on the question of how their very heavy financial obligations should be discharged, plunges the country into one of those great political crises which are so much to be deplored. Until the issues between parties have been so far settled as to give us a Ministry with a working majority at the head of affairs, legislature is certain to remain at a virtual standstill; and with the deadlock of the political machinery there will be an accompanying stagnation of trade. This is a matter of more moment to the man whose judgment is not warped by political prejudices than the mere question of Liberal or Tory dominance in the councils of the nation. Nowadays one can well afford to be an Englishman first and a politician afterwards—if, indeed, it is really necessary to pin one's faith to party at all. The actual difference between the practical statesman who professes Liberalism and his nominal opponent who takes his stand under the banner of Conservatism has grown less and less of late years. The policy of each has to be shaped to suit the people's will, and the result is that the measures proposed by either set of legislators are very much alike. Government by the people is an accomplished fact, and the aim of Ministers in office is to make their acts acceptable to the country at large, and so continue at the head of administrative affairs. The enjoyment of the pleasures of office can only thus be assured. England is so satisfied with its grand Constitution that it wishes for no alteration which would do violence to the feelings of any considerable component part of the realm. The changes rendered necessary by changing Time may be brought about smoothly and without danger of anything akin to a revolution. So much of wisdom has in the glorious past been exercised by the makers of England's greatness that Parliament to-day is a mighty institution existing to work out the behests of the sovereign power of public opinion. Instead of the old order of things, in which Government governed the people, and that not always in strict equity, now Parliament is ruled by the people. Right is the real ruler; and the difference between any combinations of statesmen who could gain and continue to hold the lead in matters of natural legislation and control consists simply in a divergence of opinion as to which is the best method of reaching the common goal of right and justice to all mankind, on which the eye of England is happily fixed. And even those differences with regard to the steering of the ship of State along its fixed course grow smaller and less important year by year. The honest and capable Conservative, and the sincere and skilful Liberal, when they become Ministers of the Crown, are so much alike that it matters little which is "in" and which is "out." A war of words goes on between the two in Parliament, on the public platform, and through the yet wider medium of the press, it is true. But analyse it, and what do you find? It is a ceaseless struggle for the sweets of office. The splendid efforts of political oratory, the brilliant endeavours of debate, the subtlety of the most artful argument, the craft of misrepresentation, and the onslaughts of abuse which grace or disgrace the arena of politics, are but weapons forged to fight for the dazzling delight of grasping the golden keys of State. Hour after hour of Parliament's precious time is frittered away in thus pandering to the exigencies of party, and the while the work of legislation waits. Instead of concentrating their talents upon a joint endeavour to attain the end in view in the wisest way, the ablest men of the day waste their strength in truculent attacks upon each other, or in defending themselves from the fierce assaults of rival politicians. Macaulay, in his glorious lays of ancient Rome, sang of a time in the history of the Empire, which once ruled the world, when "none were for a party," when "all were for the State." How the thoughtful Englishman who disdains the babble of contending political partizans longs for the establishment of such a golden age of statecraft as the poet tells us in such glowing language existed in the "brave days of old!" Would that we could fling for ever away the sin by which the angels fell, for man can never, as another immortal bard has truthfully asserted, hope to win by it. For months we shall now be in a national turmoil, with our magnificent machinery of government grinding as it were the wind, and all because a narrow majority declares that the party in office has proposed to recruit its treasury in an imprudent manner. Such trifles as these are made the pretext at intervals of every few years for the defeats of Governments and the succession of Oppositions to power, and the bulk of the time between is taken up by an interminable striving to hasten on the exchange of party supremacy. It would be a happy day for England, agreed as she is that all her national doings shall be based upon principles of integrity, if she could devise some expedient for divesting herself of the impediments to a continuous legislative progress which from time to time bring about a political deadlock like the present. An unbiassed mind cannot but be grievously affected at the sight of gifted statesmen of the high capacity of Mr. Gladstone and the late Lord Beaconsfield, expending the best years of their lives in holding together a political party, instead of consecrating their undivided attention and masterly intellectual endowments to the service of the country which has so proudly claimed them as her own. When politicians were less honest a great gulf separated the party, which ruled by might or favour, or a temporary adherence to an acceptably rightful policy, but the gap has disappeared. The statesmen of the present time remain so by virtue of faithfully adapting their action to reflect the desire of the people who placed them in power; and hence we find Liberal and Conservative agreeing even upon so vexed a question as Parliamentary representation. Whichever party henceforth holds office it will be but to execute the commands of the nation, and those commands are given forth with no uncertain sound; so that whether a Whig or a Tory be Prime Minister there can be little real difference in the doings and attitude of the nation. Why then should we have such oft-recurring legislative deadlocks, during which all England is occupied with witnessing the struggles of political placemen and seekers after office?

THE intelligence of the Government defeat early on Tuesday morning, was announced in the morning papers of that day, and has been the all-absorbing topic of discourse ever since. The division arose on an amendment to Mr. Childers' Budget proposal taxing beer and spirits at a higher figure than at present, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach leading the opposition. At half-past one in the morning the vote was taken, resulting in a majority of 12 against the Government; for the amendment 264, against 252. As Mr. Gladstone, Sir Charles Dilke, and others had intimated that the result of the division would be taken as a matter of life or death to the Cabinet, Mr. Gladstone moved that the House adjourn. This was followed on Tuesday afternoon by an announcement stating that the Premier had already intimated the intention of the Cabinet to resign, and that a courier had left with despatches to that effect for the Queen. As Her Majesty is at Balmoral, a reply could not be received till to-day, when the House will again assemble. All sorts of rumours are afloat, but nothing has yet transpired to shew what course will eventually be pursued by the Queen. Continental opinion is greatly exercised on the ultimate nature of the coming Cabinet, and every phase of Parliamentary utterance and action is closely watched.

In connection with the Ministerial crisis, it is stated that last night the Queen commanded the Marquis of Salisbury to wait upon her at once. His Lordship accordingly left London last night at nine o'clock for Balmoral. According to the Press Association, the Queen is said, before taking this step, to have ascertained that Mr. Gladstone was not disposed to withdraw his resignation. It is now officially stated that in consequence of the state of political affairs Her Majesty's departure from Balmoral, which was fixed for the 19th, will take place at as early a date as can be arranged.

INFIRMARY Sunday will soon be here, and we trust will be the most successful we have yet held. From one cause or another, little has yet been heard of this great event, and we deem it necessary to call the attention of our readers to its rapid approach. Perhaps one principal reason for the calm arises from the fact that there has been no note of opposition, little difference of opinion in regard to the several points connected with the day and the various preliminaries of the celebration. So far as Rothwell is concerned, we seem to have come to the conclusion that, all things considered, Sunday is the best day for the festival, and certainly so long as it is kept in the manner which has prevailed in previous years, it is not likely any great objection will be raised. We do trust that as the supporters of the Sunday argue that they are but following out the Saviour's example of doing good on the Sabbath day, they will follow his pattern right through and not allow any infringement of the sacred hours specially devoted to divine service and religious duty. It is gratifying, also, to find that in the stead of Mr. Charlesworth, who would so appropriately have occupied the honorable chair had he been able, that the scruples of the Vicar have been overruled and that he takes the presidency this year. Given fine weather, there is every reason to anticipate the most successful celebration we have ever had, and in one form or another we trust every person present or resident in Rothwell on Sunday week will heartily give to the grand collection made that day for the benefit of the Leeds Infirmary. No man, woman, or child ought to exempt himself from participating in so glorious an offering, and we hope the contents of the sheets and boxes will prove that "everyone has done his duty" and given according to his ability.

ANOTHER of the earth's great ones has proved the wisdom of the words of the preacher, "all is vanity." The Empress Eugenie, a woman of strong sense and much ability, who has had more to do with the history of her own time than will ever be told by the chronicler, and whose ambition and determined will enabled her to see the fulfilment of many of her plans, but whose sun has set, it seems, for ever, groans under the heavy hand of fate. When she had to give up the splendours of her imperial throne she sought an asylum for her grief in England, and here she laid her dead husband to rest. But high hope yet burned within her, for her son the Prince Imperial would, aided by her, she felt, win back the Crown of France and all the bright glories which before gathered round the name of Napoleon. But, alas! he died an inglorious death on the sands of Zululand, and he, too, now sleeps at Chislehurst by his father's side. The bitter disappointment which has settled like a pall on the dead hopes of the Empress is touchingly visible in her letter to Monsignor Goddard on his silver jubilee. Speaking of Chislehurst, she says: "In that church of St. Mary, where in other days we all three went to pray, there are now two tombs. Those who were dear to me are no more. I am left alone, sole remnant of a shipwreck, which proves how fragile and vain are the grandeurs of this world."

THE forty-eighth annual meeting of the Yorkshire Union of Mechanics' Institutes was held on Wednesday, at York. There was a numerous attendance of delegates (Messrs. J. G. Turner and J. Abbishaw representing Rothwell), and the visitors included the Marquis of Lorne, the Lord Mayor of York, the Very Rev. the Dean of York, and Sir F. Milner, M.P. Sir Edward Baines, in delivering his Presidential address, traced the history of Mechanics' Institutes. He said it had been found by experience that the natural capacities of the humbler classes, if only cultivated, were equal to those of the middle and upper classes; and the great and varied educational facilities afforded by such Institutes as these—the curriculum of which now included everything which was requisite in a commercial and industrial education—were calculated to raise the framework of society from that which is rude and degrading to that which is noble and refined. Sir Edward pointed out that Continental nations formerly outstripped us in the industrial and commercial world, owing to the ignorance which prevailed in this country; but now we were beginning to gain ground and hold our own again. Several new Institutes were admitted, and Sir Edward Baines was re-elected President. Some discussion took place on night-schools in villages. It was decided that the next meeting should be held at Ripon. In the evening a large public meeting was held, under the presidency of the Marquis of Lorne, who was supported by Sir Edward Baines and other gentlemen.

THE ROYAL VISIT TO LEEDS.

The Mayor of Leeds (Ald. Bower), the ex-Mayor (Ald. Woodhouse), Ald. Spark, and the Town Clerk (Mr. Morrison), representing the Corporation, and Mr. W. Beckett Denison, Sir A. Fairburn, and Mr. Ernest Denison, representing the Council of the Yorkshire College, had an interview on Monday at Marlborough House with Mr. Knollys, private secretary to the Prince of Wales, with reference to the arrangements connected with the visit of their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales to Leeds to inaugurate the Yorkshire College buildings on Wednesday, the 15th July. Mr. Knollys explained to the deputation that the Prince and Princess had already intimated that they would stay at Studley Royal on the occasion of their visit to Leeds, before they received the offer of Kirkstall Grange, so that Mr. Newsome's motion to endeavour to secure a Royal procession through Rothwell and Oulton from Temple Newsam cannot be further entertained.

The following is suggested as a programme that could be well carried out on Wednesday, July 15th:—

Their Royal Highnesses leave Studley Royal	10.45
Arrive in Leeds	11.45
Arrive Town Hall	12.0
Leave Town Hall	12.40
Arrive at the Yorkshire College	1.0
Leave the College	2.0
Arrive at the Coliseum for lunch	2.15
Leave Coliseum and proceed through principal streets	3.30
Arrive at the Railway Station en route for Studley	4.30

PARLIAMENTARY POLLING CENTRES.

A good deal of uncertainty having been expressed as to the continuance of Rothwell as a polling district, the Local Board have taken means for ascertaining the facts. As has before been pointed out to enquirers, the paragraph in a contemporary containing a number of polling places proposed to be made in this division, referred only to "additionals," not to the polling centres already existing, of which Rothwell is one As definite information has now been received, our readers may rest assured that the old place is not "snuffed out." Mr. Starkey, in obtaining this fact, also presented an application this morning to the magistrates from the Local Board, asking that Stourton may be added to the list of Parliamentary polling places. Should this be granted, two new stations will be added to this district in the Normanton division — Oulton-with-Woodlesford and Stourton, while Lofthouse-with-Carlton will enjoy that privilege in the Morley division. We shall therefore have Rothwell, Oulton, Stourton, and Lofthouse, at which votes for parliamentary elections may be registered.

POLICE NEWS.

WEST RIDING COURT (Friday).

Before Dr. Kendall and Mr. Lipscomb.

Game Trespass.— Thomas Benson, a miner residing near the Old Engine, Wakefield Road, Rothwell Haigh, was summoned by Robert Craig, gamewatcher for Mr. Walker, for trespassing in pursuit of game on land situate in Rothwell Haigh the property of Lord Stourton occupied by Mrs. Gotthorpe and Mrs. Bansley. It was proved that defendant was seen to leave the footpath and encourage a lurcher dog to hunt over the adjoining field; defendant who had been previously warned not to allow his dog to range off the roads, was fined 5s. and ordered to pay costs amounting to 16s. Mr. Tennant, solicitor, prosecuted.

Refusing to Quit.—Sam Ellis, of Commercial Street, Rothwell, was summoned by William Andrews, landlord of the Black Bull Hotel, Rothwell, for refusing to quit his house after being requested to do so; Mr. Tennant, solicitor, Leeds, appeared in support of the summons. Evidence was given that defendant being an annoyance to the company and those assisting in the house had been requested by the landlord to conduct himself in a quiet and respectable manner or leave, he then became abusive, used bad language, and challenged the landlord to fight and refused to quit the house. The complainant did not ask for a heavy penalty. The Bench inflicted a fine of 2s. 6d , and costs £1 4s.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

Occasional Notes.

A transformation has been effected in the appearance of the interior of our beautiful village church at Oulton, by the insertion of new stained glass windows into the whole of the lancet-headed lights on the south side and in three on the north side of the Nave. The style and treatment is uniform with those which were put in some time ago. Each light is divided into three medallions in which are represented scenes from the New Testament, such as "The Baptism of Christ," "Christ before Agrippa," "The vision of St. Peter," "The conversion of St. Paul," "The light of the world," &c., &c. The whole of the subjects exhibit a high degree of excellence in the glass-stainer's art, and are much more interesting than the stiff, formal, geometic patterns which they have displaced. Many would be glad to see a further transformation effected by the removal of two very objectionable features which have always marred the fine appearance of the church and the effectiveness of the services. These are the boxed-up order of the pews, with their high doors and look of exclusiveness, and the old-fashioned and thoroughly bad arrangement of the choir and organ in a loft at the back of the congregation. If the pew doors were abolished, and the pews converted into open stalls, arranged so as to expose to view the bases of the handsome columns, and the present apology for an organ replaced by a more suitable instrument, placed with the choir in the roomy chancel of the church; the interior would be more in accordance with the requirements of public worship, more worthy of the graceful and imposing exterior of the church and to its beautiful surroundings, and their can be little doubt that such alterations would promote the heartiness and impressiveness of the services.

Throat Irritation and Cough.—Soreness and dryness, tickling and irritation, inducing cough and affecting the voice. For these symptoms use Epps's Glycerine Jujubes. In contact with the glands at the moment they are excited by the act of sucking, the Glycerine in these agreeable confections becomes actively healing. Sold only in boxes, 7½d., tins 1s. 1½d., labelled "James Epps & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London." Dr. George Moore, in his work on "Nose and Throat Diseases," says: "The Glycerine Jujubes prepared by James Epps and Co., are of undoubted service as a curative or palliative agent," while Dr. Gordon Holmes, Senior Physician to the Municipal Throat and Ear Infirmary, writes: "After an extended trial, I have found your Glycerine Jujubes of considerable benefit (with or without medical treatment) in almost all forms of throat disease."

Borax Preparations are manufactured by the Patent Borax Company, under Royal Patents, which the Queen has awarded in recognition of their 'Great Excellence,' 'Public Importance,' and 'Utility.'

Cheap Nourishment.—Fourteen large Breakfast Cups of strong, reliable Cocoa can be made from a Sixpenny Packet of Cadbury's Cocoa Essence. Ask for Cadbury's, and do not be imposed upon.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

Barnsley Juvenile Temperance Choir.—During the early part of this week numbers of persons have been attracted to the Temperance Hall by the clever and interesting entertainments provided by the above party. The choir consists of nine girls, ages varying from eight to fourteen, and one boy about nine, and is under the management of Mr. B. Drake, the musical training and accompaniment being performed by Mr. J. T. W. Drake. The children are selected from the Bands of Hope, and though not constantly engaged in this work, give entertainments now and again during the season in furtherance of temperance work, and any financial benefits are equally divided between the Society and the troupe Through their entertainments considerable interest on behalf of temperance has been awakened in many of those who have heard them, and it is gratifying to learn that during their stay in Rothwell, a number of persons have decided to become total abstainers. The Juvenile Choir as we have stated, consists principally of girls, who, on first presenting themselves, at once captivate the audience by their pleasant manners, their childish innocence, and their tasteful uniforms. They made their first appearance on Sunday, when two sacred concerts were given in the Hall, at three o'clock and at eight, Mr. James Hargreaves presiding in the afternoon, and Mr. S Seanor in the evening. A children's entertainment was given at five o'clock on Monday afternoon, Mr. S. Sidebottom being chairman. Three full evenings were occupied by the interesting little people on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, when the chair was occupied by Mr. J. R. Seanor, Rev. A. M. Semwell, and Mr. J. Mantle respectively. The entertainments consist of solos, duetts, and choruses, interspersed with musical sketches, and recitations, and taken as a whole, make up a very attractive, varied and profitable programme. The recitations and dialogues are mostly of a moral or religious character, and are generally carefully given. But the great success of the performance is in the wonderful ability of the little people in music, as for instance "The Morris Band" or "The Village Choir" in choruses. It cannot be considered invidious to the others, if we express our special surprise and pleasure at the way in which little Gertie Drake and Master Imison sing with proper dramatic action the taking duet "The Milkmaid." This same little woman of eight perfectly impersonated one of the parties in the "Wife's appeal for a new dress," while her sister (a year older) appeared as the gentleman in the duet, and the presentation of the piece was something remarkable for two so young, with all the changes of time and tune found in this composition. These two sisters have several other well-known duets and little plays, in which they display ability seldom found in children so young. The duett "My mother in law" by Miss Jackson and Master Imison was excellently well done, as well as other items we might mention. The elder girls admirably sustain the parts appointed to them, both in part singing and in dialogues and recitations, and altogether, the party deserve public patronage both for their real ability and the object of their entertainments. As may be supposed the pieces were frequently applauded and encored, and the visit to Rothwell must be considered by both the Temperance Society and the Choir, as most successful. Votes of thanks were presented to the several gentlemen who have so kindly lent their influence in presiding at the various meetings, and there was in each case a general expression of pleasure and gratification with the performance. Mr. Drake spoke very gratefully of the kindness he and his protegés had experienced in Rothwell and warmly thanked those who had so willingly and hospitably received them. The Temperance Brass Band paraded the village on Sunday afternoon and Wednesday evening, while on Tuesday the Fife and Drum Band performed the same useful work, reminding the inhabitants of the entertainments.

Sale of Gas Shares.—A sale of rather unusual character in Rothwell took place on Wednesday, at the White Swan Inn, when Mr. W. Lawton, of Rothwell Haigh, offered by auction £2000 worth of new shares in the Rothwell Gas Company in 200 £10 shares Having been well advertised, there was a large attendance of buyers and there was no difficulty in commencing business at the time specified, half-past six. The new shares will bear a dividend of not more than seven per cent, according to the Company's Act, (the old ones having a maximum dividend of ten per cent.) There was an evident desire to secure some of the offered stock and the keen competition which was apparent throughout the evening spoke well for the excellent character this speculation has secured. Mr. Lawton stated, just previous to opening for bids, that he should offer the shares in lots of ten, five, and two, so as to meet the several classes of buyers, and this decision was fully supported by the result. The first lot of ten shares commenced with an offer of £10 each, which rapidly rose to £13 5s., at which price they were knocked down to an Horbury gentleman. A lot of five shares were next offered, which went at £13 10s., a couple of shares fetching the same price. Then followed successive parcels of tens, fives, and twos, until the whole of the 200 shares were disposed of, the prices ranging from £13 5s. to £13 10s. Over fifty shares found their way into the hands of consumers, mostly new shareholders. The sale closed before 8 o'clock, when, after thanking the gentlemen present for their attendance, Mr. Lawton was able to hand over to the directors an account shewing a total realization of £2651 10s. 0d.

Sudden Illness.—We are sorry to have to record that Mr. James Baines, of Rothwell, and chairman of the Rothwell Gas Company, has this week been attacked with sudden illness. Yesterday morning Mr. Baines proceeded to his work, at Beeston Pit, Rothwell Haigh, as was his wont, arriving about 6 o'clock; but he had been there only a short time when he was attacked with very violent illness. Mr. Lawton, who lives near, had the kindness to drive Mr. Baines home in his phaeton, as soon as he was able to bear the journey, arriving at about 7.30. Dr. Glaister was called in and pronounced the illness a very serious one. We are, however, glad to hear this morning that Mr. Baines has had a comfortable night and is somewhat better.

Rothwell Primitive Chapel.—This week there have been special mission services held in the above chapel. The series of services commenced on Sunday last, and have been continued each evening during the week, at 7 o'clock. The services have been conducted by Miss Gill, of Apperley Bridge assisted by Rev. F. Smith, one of the circuit ministers. There have been very nice congregations, to listen to the earnest and captivating addresses, or more correctly, sermons, delivered each night by Miss Smith, and it is perhaps largely due to the exertions of the devoted members of the Society in singing through the streets and inviting their friends to the house of God, that such numbers have been drawn out of the streets and their homes this beautiful weather.

The Treatment of Emigrants in Canada.—A letter has been received from the Rev. Mr. Bridger, of St. Nicholas's, Liverpool, emigrants' chaplain, who left this city at the end of April last, in the Allan Royal Mail Steamer "Polynesian," in charge of a number of emigrants for the Canadian North West. Mr. Bridger, dating from Port Arthur on the 16th ult., writes:—We reached this place safely this evening. The arrangements for passengers on the "Polynesian" were the best I have yet seen, and the attention of the stewards all that could be desired. The arrangements made on the railroad cars for emigrants are really first-rate, sleeping cars for the whole party being provided. The officials do everything in their power to make the travelling comfortable. The long railway journey can now be made with something like comfort, and as the baggage is checked right through, emigrants need have no fear for the safety of any luggage they may bring along with them." The next party of emigrants, under the auspices of the Society for promoting Christian Knowledge, will leave Liverpool on the 9th July, by the Allan Royal Mail Steamer "Parisian." The Rev. R. F. Winter (Mr. Bridger's colleague) will be in charge.—Liverpool Daily Post, June 3rd, 1885.

The Christian Million is taking a high position as a home and fireside paper. Its pages are bright and attractive, and its illustrations are of a superior class. There is variety enough to interest every member of the family circle. The current issue to hand is most interesting. Let us indicate a little of the nature of its contents. Short and crisp leaderettes concerning current events and men and things come first; then follow well-written articles on matters social, political, religious; "news of the week," "religious intelligence," and columns full of interesting tit-bits, and graphic anecdotes. There is a page for Sunday—a feature of the paper to which much care is devoted. "Songs for Sunday" are the composition of the readers of the paper who have entered into honourable rivalry to produce their best music and words for the sacred day. The current issue also contains the opening chapters of a new serial story, which promises to be a great favourite, being from the practised pen of that inimitable story-teller, the Rev. J. Jackson Wray.

"The appearance upon entering (Providence House, 42, North Street, Leeds), gave us an idea of a fairyland of Furniture and Crystal palace of mirrors."

CRICKET NOTES.

After such an excellent show of batting displayed by Rothwell at Hunslet in the first match this season between these clubs, it was no doubt thought by the partizans of the teams that a good game would be in store for those who took the trouble to witness the return match; Saturday last was the date, and being a cricketer's day in every respect, as far as the weather was concerned, a larger number of persons wended their way to the Cricket field in Royds Lane than has been known for some time Rothwell won the toss, and in the second over in the match, Ward was given out to a catch behind the wicket, a decision which did not give entire satisfaction, and one which I myself consider should not have caused the dismissal of the batsman, because the wicket-keeper appealed for stumping him, when the batsman was given in, after which the bowler enquired of the other umpire for a catch, and received a reply that the batsman played the ball and therefore was out. The case stood thus, that one umpire gave one decision, and the other umpire another, so that there was a 'doubt' on the point, and I think it states in the rules that in such cases the batsman shall claim the benefit of the doubt. There was no real stand made until Whiteley and Glover became partners, when the pair completely altered the state of affairs, and gave Rothwell spectators a little better hope of success. However, the innings was brought to a close for a total of 64. Waters, W. Marsh and Ruston bowled exceedingly well, their respective averages being 4 wickets for 28 runs, 3 for 7 runs, and 3 for 12 runs. The fielding of T. Marsh was a treat to witness, and Yeadon should also be complimented for his play behind the wickets, although I may say that he is not to be complimened on the manner in which he appealed for some of the balls; in fact, this will also apply to Tye and others of the Hunslet team, who lost no opportunity of exclaiming 'How's that.' Hunslet's first batsmen were very fortunate in running up a total of 34, before the first wicket fell, as Tom Marsh had only scored one when he was missed behind the wickets, and before he was out had given two more similar chances, which were not taken, however; Finister's innings of 24 was a more creditable one. Tye and W. Marsh also reached double figures, the former scoring 13 and the latter 11. Thus when four wickets were down, Hunslet had won with 3 runs to spare, but the next three wickets fell for a cost of two runs, when it was found that the 'tail end' of the Hunslet team were at the Bowling Green, and refused to come to bat, although it still wanted some 40 minutes off drawing time. Of course it would be very well for Hunslet to refuse to allow the 'tail end' to bat, as we know that for the match to end as it did would show better in the papers for them (with the exception of the Rothwell Times) rather than for the whole team to be out for very few more runs. The bowling of Dobson proved very destructive, as in four overs he captured four wickets for a like number of runs. Baines also trundled fairly well, taking 2 wickets at a cost of 16 runs. The fielding of Rothwell was not of the best order, nor such as I like to see by far.

Rothwell 2nd journeyed to Leeds to oppose the Middle Class School, and were represented by a fairly good eleven, though they suffered defeat by some 23 runs. The School batted first, and succeeded in making 57, of which Wilson was head scorer with 17, followed by Colbeck with 15 not out. For Rothwell, J. W. Chadwick secured 7 wickets at a cost of 34 runs. The visitors did not consider this a very large score, and no doubt thought they had a nice win in view, but however this idea was put aside, as Watmough bowled so well that he got them all out for 34, which included five extras. None of the team reached double figures, H. Richardson being head scorer with 9.

Hunslet Temperance paid a visit to Rothwell on Saturday, and indulged in a friendly game with the Rothwell Temperance Club. Rothwell took the willow first, and made 30, J. E. Ward being top scorer with 10. Hunslet topped this by 13 runs, making 43, Holden being at the top with 20. I've an idea there's a screw loose somewhere, as our temperance club does not seem to be able to win a match. Come, line up teetotallers, and let us see the record of a match won before the season's end.

POINT.

ROTHWELL v. HUNSLET.

The return match between these clubs was played off last Saturday, on the ground of the former, Rothwell batted first, and sent in Ward and Richardson, to the bowling of Tye from the pavilion end, and Waters from the park end. In the second over Ward was caught behind the wicket off Waters. (1 for 1). Dobson came next, and when the score had risen to 13, he was taken by a splendid catch low down by T. Marsh off Waters. Soon after this, Richardson took a most decided 'mow' at one of Waters' balls, which clean bowled him. C. Tiffany succeeded, and after scoring 4, tipped a ball up, which was taken in fine style by T. Marsh with the left hand. Waters at this time was bowling exceedingly well. Glover was next man in, and relieved the monotony of the game by a nice leg hit for 3, followed later on by one clean over the ropes. Whiteley (who was his partner) also hit rather freely, and these two players sent up a good few runs between them. W. Marsh was now put on bowling in place of Tye, and Ruston in place of Waters. Whiteley hit a 3 off each bowler soon after. The over following Whiteley was given out l b w, off W. Marsh, having made 15; the last ball in the over following was skied by Baines to Frith. (6 for 53). Fowler now partnered Glover and directly after cut one for 3, but Glover was soon after caught behind the wickets, having made 19. Wilson came in and hit a 3, but two balls later Fowler was taken at point by T. Marsh. (8 for 64). A. Tiffany succeeded, and quickly skied one to Waters. After a short interval, the Rothwell men appeared in the field, Hunslet being represented by Finister and T. Marsh, to the bowling of C. Tiffany from the pavillion end, and Glover from the park end. Several singles came first, followed by a long hit for 4 by T. Marsh, and a 3 by Finister soon after. Ward now went on bowling downhill in place of C. Tiffany, and Marsh was missed behind the wicket off the new bowler's third ball. Soon after Finister and Marsh each sent a 3 The bowling was now proving rather too expensive, and C. Tiffany took Glover's place, Baines relieving Ward at the top end. The change took effect, as in Tiffany's first over, he clean bowled T. Marsh. (1 for 34). The colossal Joe Waters succeeded but did not reign long, as next over he was bowled by Baines. (2 for 37). Tye came next, and had a near shave of being bowled by C. Tiffany first ball; however, after hitting rather heavy at a few balls, he skied one to Baines the bowler. (3 for 53). W. Marsh partnered Finister, who during this time had been batting very safe, although not scoring much. Not long after Marsh sent the winning hit, which was hailed with cheers by the visitors' partizans. Finister was directly after caught by Wilson off Dobson, after making the nice score of 24. In the next over, W. Marsh was given out l b w to Dobson for 11. Yeadon was also clean bowled by Dobson for 2, and Ruston fell to a splendid catch made by Baines at long-on in the same over, thus the last three wickets only added 2 runs, when the match terminated.

TOWN TALK.

Mr. Gladstone has for some time been struggling against great difficulties; he has not only had the Tory and Parnellite opposition constantly to overcome, but he has also been hampered with the whims and fancies of his own friends and colleagues. That it was very probable the present cabinet would come to an untimely end has been the opinion of many, but having lingered on so long, it is almost a pity it should not have been allowed to struggle on to the end. The Budget proposals have proved fatal; Gladstone has been defeated. The immediate cause of this calamity is the proposal to impose an extra duty on beer and spirits, which means that the extra revenue is to be extracted from the purses of one particular class of people—the drinkers, whereas Sir M. Hicks-Beach thought the duty should be levied on some article which is consumed by each and every class, and suggested tea, as an article which would bear the tax very well. The Liberal majority in the House had been greatly reduced by many who could not support the Ministry remaining neutral, and thus the Grand Old Man has lost the battle. There is a fix. The way out of the difficulty is not yet forthcoming, and I shall leave it to be decided by others more learned than "Gossip."

When the discussion on the increased taxation took place in the House of Commons early on Tuesday morning, Mr. O'Sullivan again came to the front, and renewed his old proposal to put a tax on bachelors, commending it by saying that these gentlemen could easily get rid of the tax if they did not like it. I should suggest £1 per annum between the ages of 25 and 30 years, this amount to be doubled every five years. Wouldn't the old maids sign a petition to this effect? I think they would indeed. Some men are possessed of an exceedingly deep forethought, and gifted with the power of looking far into the future; such an one, I should suppose a certain old bachelor of Rothwell Haigh to be. "Prevention is better than cure," we are told, and it is said that this young (?) farmer is making every preparation to avoid paying this proposed tax on bachelors; it is reported that he has, in his distress, consulted with a certain Mrs.——of Shipley, a comely widow, and that they two have jointly discovered a way of escape, a good, sensible, happy, and altogether complete and satisfactory solution of the problem. I believe the "spurrings" have already been "put in" and it is expected soon to see this sprightly bachelor, evade the tax collector through the rosy gate of matrimony.

The farmers in the district immediately round Rothwell must be very, very poor, there are so many of them who dare not venture to make their domestic expenditure any larger by seeking out their "other half," and imitating the noble example set by the gentleman referred to in the last paragraph. There are two or three Johns, and a Joseph or two, and several others, who will have to be looking out; it would be the best speculation they ever made, if they each took to themselves a wife. Let the immortal words of the undying Longfellow be theirs:

"Let us then be up and doing,
With a heart on triumph set,
Still contriving, still pursuing,
Each a lovely wife to get."

.. .. ..

"Can these dry bones live?" was a question asked a long time ago. Can a man who has cut his throat, and is laid at the Swan Junction awaiting an inquest, a man who has jumped into the canal, and drowned himself, afterwards being taken out at Waterloo, so bruised and mangled by the boats as to be utterly beyond recognition, a man who has, in a dozen ways met man's last foe in his vilest garb, can that man live? Yes he can. Mr. Jordan, like the proverbial cat, has been killed "nine" times, and still he lives. Several persons have been suffering from "shock" during the last day or two. Mr. Jordan has returned home and in carrying on his usual work on the farm, has been occasionally espied about the premises, by persons walking to and from the town, who have experienced a feeling of surprise, fright, terror, at the sight of the apparition. Mr. Jordan will perhaps tell us where he is going, next time he wants a day or two's off, and it will save much unnecessary trouble and excitement.

All the arrangements are nearly completed for the Infirmary demonstration on Sunday week. Everything which could ensure the success of the undertaking has, I believe, been done; the only thing to be waited and trusted for, is the smile of heaven, the bright shining of the sun, which I hope will be vouchsafed. I am glad to know that all the Sunday schools in Rothwell have decided to join in the undertaking, and I hope that the authorities will fall in love with the meeting so that they may not have any uncertainty about the character of the proceedings in future years.

It is well known that neighbours in Rothwell do not always live in peace. There are sometimes disputes of a heated and noisy nature take place. I was told this week of a little incident which is a sample of the causes of these "set tos." It occurred in a row on Rothwell Haigh, that one of the houses was minus a tenant; one morning the following notice appeared on a piece of paper posted on the door of the house:

This house to let.
apply at the Spiby Lane Witch
No 17.

The spelling was strikingly indicative of the ignorance of the writer with the fundamental rules of word making, and the spirit of the notice is also an indication that the author's mind is low, peevish and unprincipled. Let me advise such folks to mind what they are about, or they may find the policeman at their door some morning.

.. .. ..

Mr. Marshall, the collector to the Local Board, has again found it necessary to visit his friends, his calls this week have been very numerous and far extending. Another one-and-tenpenny rate. It comes down rather slowly, one is tempted to think. This amount is the same as last time, but it was twopence more a year ago. It is probable that twopence more will be taken off the next half year; if so, we shall all be thankful, but I shall not depend upon a reduction, as it is not a well paying game depending on the Local Board for blessings of this kind.

Rumour has become fact, and that which was hinted at two or three weeks ago is now accomplished. The Salvationists have occupied the Infidel Hall. No, that is'nt exactly it. The Conservative Association has not only come out boldly in defence of its principles, but have actually taken and occupied the rooms lately tenanted by the Liberal (or Radical) Club What does it matter to the Co-operative Society whether their tenants are Tory or Democrat, so long as they let their property and get the rent. What indeed—but still it seems rather funny for the captain of the (I was going to say Salvationists again) Rads, and joint landlord of the Co op, to let the room to these, his sworn foes. So it is, however. Oh my! would'nt there be a sweeping out. How carefully would every nook and cranny be cleared of any pernicious scrap of heretical literature. What a disinfection would take place, so that no remaining germ of Gladstonian disease remained in the place. What a responsibility must have rested on the honored exterminator of every vestige of radical vice and vermin. And then when the cleaning down is finished, we shall see the new place thoroughly beautified, and ready to receive the large influx of new members which is confidently expected.

But, what about those people whose tenets we have been used to hear so frequently set forth. Where is the once-glorious Liberal Association, the Club that was so graciously received by Mr. Gladstone on his visit to Leeds? Is there no spirit left in them? Are there no gentlemen sufficiently interested in the education and instruction of the newly enfranchised working men of this place as to give a little time and money for the furtherance of the great principles of Liberal policy. Are they to be allowed only to hear one side of the question? What sort of a reception is Mr. Pickard to have? Everybody seems to fight shy of the Liberal candidate. People say he is not the best man by a long way, and it seems to me that when he comes, if ever he comes, he will have a very cool reception. As things are at present, the majority will either not vote at all, or will vote, not because of personal predilection for one candidate or the other, but because of party orders. Come gentlemen of the Orange, let us see a bit of pluck, or else shew the white feather at once.

Once there was a Rothwell Flower Show Society; is there one yet?

"Oh! no, we never mention her," might very well be said of this once prosperous organisation. We are less than two months off Bank Holiday, but there is no sign of a move. Now really gentlemen, I cannot do without my prizes and my flower show pleasures. Tell us, are we to have a kick-up or no?

GOSSIP.

Holloways Pills.—Enfeebled Existence.—This medicine embraces every attribute required in a general and domestic remedy. It overturns the foundations of decease laid by defective food and impure air. In obstructions or congestions of the liver, lungs, bowels, or any other organs, these Pills are especially serviceable and eminently successful. They should be kept in readiness in every family, being a medicine of incomparable utility for young persons, especially those of feeble constitutions. They never pain or irritate the most sensitive nerves or most tender bowels. Holloway's Pills are the best known purifiers of the blood, the most active promoters of absorption and secretion, whereby all poisonous and obnoxious matters are removed from both solids and fluids.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes close, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above-named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety one cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), London, England. This syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of system.

Borax—Patent Californian, 'The Household Treasure—Pure Antiseptic,' is sold in small and family packets by all intelligent dealers, prepared and ready for immediate use, with full directions for all Personal and Domestic purposes, and suitable for Academies, Hotels, Hospitals, Asylums, Ships, Public Institutions, and all homes—from the mansion to the cottage—everywhere—everywhere.

Teeth, a Complete Set one Guinea.—Precisely the same Prize Medal Teeth supplied by other Dentists at the highest fees, five years' warranty.—Testimonial from Jas. Steward, Physician and Surgeon, L.R.C.P.E.: I have great pleasure in recommending your Guinea Sets of Teeth. The set you supplied to me are much superior to those for which I paid a much higher fee. They must prove a great boon to the working classes." Complete set made and fitted in a few hours. Sold only in packets, labelled—"James Epps & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London."—Also makers of Epp's Chocolate Essence.

DEAR FRED,

You will be surprised at receiving a letter from me, but thank God, I am pleased to say am getting better every day. I shall be so glad to breathe the fresh air again. It has seemed a dreadful long time to be in bed. You know I was taken to the Hospital last April to be treated for Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Well, on the 21st of July they tapped me, and took away 304 ounces of water. The same thing was done again on the 18th September, and [illegible] ounces of water obtained. On the 9th October I was discharged from the Hospital as incurable. In January this year (the 20th), was again tapped at home and [illegible] ounces of water taken away. The St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London refused me admission as a hopeless case, and the Bartholomew Hospital, Chatham, also refused me, as being the worst case they had seen for years, and two local doctors gave me up as hopeless. When I came from the Hospital it took three to put me to bed. My clothes had to be cut off. I was an object of misery and despair. After the Hospitals had refused me, and doctors given me up, my wife persuaded me to try Hop Bitters, and from the commencement have improved daily. I have only taken them seven weeks and can now get downstairs and walk about without even a stick. With the aid of a few more bottles of the Bitters shall be well again. The water has entirely left my body and legs. The only trace left is in my feet. It is a wonderful medicine. I wish I had tried it sooner, as I have nearly ruined myself and family with doctors' bills and other expenses. I might have been well long ago. At the Hospital I had no appetite whatever, but since using the Bitters eat everything with a relish. The only difficulty is the expense, but must not mind that so long as I am getting well. Am cheerful now that recovery is near, for every one had given me up as a bad job. With best wishes to . . . .

I remain,
Your affectionate Brother,
(Signed) William Grayson.
1, Bush Terrace, Cage Lane,
Chatham, March 14, 1885.

To the Hop Bitters Co., London.

Gentlemen,—I enclose letter from my brother-in-law, Wm. Grayson, Chatham. He considers he owes his life to your Hop Bitters, and feels he cannot say enough in its praise.

Yours truly,
Fred. Stammers.
30, Castle Street, London.

LATER.

Chatham, March 24.

Since I wrote you ten days ago I have improved wonderfully. To-day I walked to the barber's shop (and got shaved), and back again by myself without fatigue. This is the first time I have been out alone since last April—over eleven months.

William Grayson.

HIGH AUTHORITY.

Dr. THOMPSON says Kidney Disease is probably next to Consumption the commonest cause of death among adults in this climate. You have had a recent and mysterious attack of asthma, pains in the back and around the loins, severe headaches, dizziness, inflamed eyes, a coated tongue and a dry mouth, loss of appetite, chilly sensation, indigestion (the stomach never is in order when the kidneys or liver are deranged), dryness of the skin, nervousness, night sweats, muscular debility, despondency, a tired feeling (especially at night), puffing or bloating under the eyes, and your muscular system seems utterly helpless. Dr. Roberts, of England; Prof. Thompson, of New York; and other celebrated authorities tell us that all these symptoms are sure indications of Bright's Disease! With some patients the disease runs slowly and for years. With others it comes as a thief in the night. This fact is an alarming one, and startles the inquiry, What can be done?

HOP BITTERS for the CURE of Kidney and Liver Complaints have no equal in the world, and those suffering from any of the above symptoms should use them at once.

Throat Affections and Hoarseness.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by John I. Brown & Sons, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London

THE CONSUMPTION EMULSION (registered as PHTHISICON).—The public have it in their power to very materially relieve many of the distressing symptoms arising from Asthma, Bronchitis, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Phthisicon, however, is invaluable in restoring the waste of tissue caused by that dreaded disease Consumption, hence the name Consumption Emulsion. This Emulsion has been recommended by many eminent medical men, as the only emulsion which can reliably be used for this purpose; and we have the authority of Dr. Alabone, the eminent specialist in Consumption, that this preparation has filled a long-felt want in the treatment of Phthisis—viz., "a compound which shall arrest waste of tissue, and serve as a digestible food to the Consumptive patient." We cannot do better than quote his own words. On page 143 of his work, entitled "Consumption: Its Cure," &c., he states, "It greatly assists my treatment. I almost invariably find there is a gain of weight even after it has been used." Such a testimony as this speaks volumes for the efficiency of Phthisicon. In addition, it has proved of immense value as a curative agent in the early stages of Brain Disease and Scrofula; in fact, wherever there is impaired nutrition or lack of nerve power, its action is almost certain. It can be obtained of all Chemists at 4s. 6d., 11s., and 21s. per bottle. Wholesale of Barclay and Sons, Farringdon-street, London, E.C.; or of W. B. Trick, A.P.S., 93, Green-lanes London, N

Advice to Mothers!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it soften the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

Floriline!—For the Teeth and Breath.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

Valuable Discovery for the Hair.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d. —For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

Watches, Jewellery.—Midland Counties Watch Company.—(Cheapest house in the World) Ladies' or Gents' Fine Silver Crystal Glass, heavy Ladies' Watches, 25-; Ladies' heavy-cased Gold Levers, 70-; Gents' do. do. do., 80-. Before purchasing send for Company's Catalogue, beautifully illustrated, 1,000 fine copper-plate engravings, gratis, post free on application, to any part of the world. Apply Company's Manager, A. Percy, Vyse Street, Birmingham. The press universally recommend their readers to obtain a catalogue.

Value of Experience.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the Individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade. Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has cast about him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. Having been thirty-five years in the trade, in the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was naturally 'up to all the wrinkles.' The middle men, known by the names of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c, all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of Manufacturers, who arranged to supply his Establishment at the cost of materials and men's time in the making. In short, placing the Goods before the public, at single articles at wholesale prices. The management is still under R. Scott's personal control, who takes this opportunity of thanking his Patrons in the past, and hopes to receive anew a mark of their confidence. In future the firm will be known as Scott & Co., Goldsmiths, Silversmiths, Opticians, Watch and Clock Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.

If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly restored by good workmen. Scott & Co. guarantee their work for 12 months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made as new, on very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

How quickly we change with changing times! It seems only yesterday that all our interest and sympathies were absorbed in the actions of our military expedition in the Soudan. Now its leaders are coming quietly home one by one almost unnoticed, and we are well nigh forgetting those who fell in the fight. And still later the country was on the tiptoe of excitement in view of the danger of war with Russia, and we were arming ourselves at every point in preparation for conflict. Now, without anything that was done having been since undone, the war fever has abated. There has been no arbitration on the point respecting which Russia gave England such serious offence—only a promise. Even the delimitation of the disputed Afghan frontier is indefinitely postponed, until weather permits its resumption with comfort. Now the change in Government fills the mind of every Englishman, and in place of Egypt and Afghanistan having paramount consideration, we are occupied with thoughts of Salisbury and Northcote, and all pertaining to their assumption of office on the one hand, and of Gladstone and his retiring Ministers, and the peerages offered and refused on the other. Truly as regards our public life, we live in an atmosphere of fever heat, and it is well that an overruling Providence sometimes wisely delays the settlement of momentous crises in the affairs of the nations until men's passions and excitements are somewhat becalmed, and reason reigns where impulse awhile held sway.

OUR Morley friends have, after many ups and downs, finally secured that their division shall be called after their own name, and on Tuesday evening they very properly welcomed home their representatives most enthusiastically, and will now feel that Batley is not to rob them of the well-won distinction, of returning an M.P. for Morley.

AMONG the many resolutions of sympathy with and unabated confidence in the late Premier, Mr. Gladstone, coming up from Town Councils and other corporate bodies, it is rather remarkable to find similar tokens of esteem from several Nonconformist Conferences, earnestly thanking him and his cabinet for their recent action in regard to the threatened rupture with Russia, and looking forward to the speedy return to power of a stronger and more largely supported Liberal Government.

A CALAMITOUS colliery explosion occurred yesterday in the Clifton Hall Colliery, Pendlebury, near Manchester, the property of Messrs Andrew Knowles and Co. Limited. At the time there were about 350 miners, including 26 boys, in the workings, 160 in the Trencherbone, and the remainder were about equally distributed in the Doe and Five Quarter Mines. The force of the explosion blocked the main shaft; but after some trouble a descent was made by several exploring parties, and a terrible scene met their view. The dead and injured were strewn about. The work of rescue was pursued throughout the day with unremitting zeal. At present it is believed that nearly 170 men and boys have perished, and many of those recovered alive are seriously injured. Last evening twenty-two bodies had been recovered, and there are 147 men and boys missing.

WE regret to state that R. B. Mackie, Esq., M.P. for Wakefield, died last evening, at his London residence, Hertford-street, Mayfair, somewhat suddenly. The hon. gentleman was elected in 1880, and had been selected to contest the borough at the next election, in opposition to Mr. E. Green. Mr. Mackie was about 57 years of age.

LOCAL BOARD MEETING.

The usual fortnightly meeting of the Rothwell Local Board took place at the Board Room, on Monday last, at six o'clock in the evening, the chairman and all the members being present, with the clerk and surveyor.

The minutes of the last meeting, and also of several committee meetings were read and passed, on the motion of Messrs. Lawton and Dobson.

HIGHWAYS.—The clerk said that some dross would soon be required for the roads, and it was resolved to advertise in the Rothwell Times on June 19th (to-day), for tenders for 400 tons of the best black dross. Mr. Turner was neutral.

With reference to the buying of a new water cart for watering the Rothwell roads, Mr. Holmes said he had obtained estimates from two Leeds firms for a cart like those used by the Leeds Corporation, the amount of one being £27, while the other was only £21. After a little conversation on the subject, Mr. Oliver proposed, and Mr. Turner seconded a resolution, that an advertisement be inserted in the Leeds Mercury, asking for fresh estimates. It was, however, desirable to some members of the Board to secure a cart without delay, and an amendment was proposed by Mr. Holmes, that the offer of a cart at £21 be accepted; this was seconded by Mr. Dobson, and on being put to the meeting was supported by the chairman, and Messrs. Holmes, Dobson, J. Hargreaves, and H. P. Newsome, the resolution being supported by the mover and seconder and Mr. Lawton (Dr. Nowell only just coming in as the motion was being put, did not vote), the amendment was therefore carried.

The clerk said the auditor from the County Authority had been to examine the accounts, and made some suggestions.

Mr. Dobson gave notice that at next meeting he should move that the resolution to buy Bradford curbing be rescinded, and he thought it would be advisable to obtain prices from several Robin Hood firms in the meantime.

Mr. Jas. Hargreaves reported that he, along with the surveyor, had waited upon the Authorities at Wakefield, and had ascertained that Rothwell still remained a polling station under the new arrangement; he had suggested that another district should be made of that part of the Rothwell township north of the Leeds and Barnsdale Road and the Midland Railway, to poll at Stourton, which scheme will be recommended to the Justices.

POSTAL.—Dr. Nowell said that the Committee appointed to attend to the telegraph and postal business had waited upon Mr. Leal, postmaster of Leeds. Mr. Leal had received them, as he supposed he ought to, as gentlemen, and had been kind and courteous to them. The pillar box at Beeston Pit would probably be erected; with reference to the second delivery, arrangements are being made to carry it out, but there seems to be some little difficulty in arranging the second despatch. Mr. Leal decidedly thought the guarantors of the telegraph business should now be relieved of their responsibility, and had privately suggested that a letter to this effect be sent to the Chief Secretary in London, and that the point be firmly held to. It was therefore resolved on the motion of Mr. Jas. Hargreaves, seconded by Dr. Nowell, that letters be written to Mr. Leal on the postal business, and to London on the telegraphs.

A surcharge made by the district auditor was reported by the clerk, and steps were taken to have the amount allowed, on the motion of the chairman, seconded by Mr. Holmes.

WATER.—Mr. Oliver read a statement of the finances connected with the water supply, which shewed that instead of its yielding a profit as some had imagined, it really is a serious loss to the Board. Taking the whole of the six years since the introduction of water into the district, he shewed that nearly £1100 deficiency had to be accounted for; of course this statement includes the half-yearly repayment of principal and interest. Mr. Oliver thought the water supply should be something like self-supporting, and felt persuaded a most serious waste of water was regularly taking place, and as a remedy, hinted that the Board should encourage the use of meters, so that however much or little consumers used they might be charged accordingly. He suggested twelve shillings per year as a meter rent (½-inch meters) and thought a minimum quantity should be fixed. After some discussion on the question, a resolution was moved by Mr. Newsome, seconded by Mr. Lawton, and carried, that a copy of the statement read by Mr. Oliver be supplied to each member of the Board, so that they may have every opportunity of grasping the various points contained in it.

A cheque for an amount due to the Public Works Loan Commissioners was issued, on the motion of Messrs. Lawton and Newsome.

ROYAL VISIT.—Mr. Newsome was exceedingly sorry to learn that the Royal visitors to Leeds were not going to stay at Temple Newsam, so that there was no hope of their passing through Rothwell this time; but still this was no reason why the improvement contemplated at the bottom of Wood Lane should not be carried out, and he thought some means should be taken to get Mr. Calverley to either give, lend or sell the cottages to the Board. On Mr. Newsome resuming his seat, Mr. Lawton moved that Mr. Newsome be appointed to wait on Mr. Calverley with a view of securing the coveted plot near the church on the very best terms; this was seconded by Mr. Oliver, and carried.

FIRES.—The chairman said he should like to have the hose and other apparatus tested, so that in case of a fire in the district there would be no 'hitch' in the work of extinguishing it. A resolution was therefore passed on the motion of the chairman, seconded by Mr. Nowell, that Mr. Starkie be some time called out to extinguish 'a fire.' It will then be seen how long it will take to get ready, and what power of water pressure can be obtained.

FINANCE.—The rates received and paid were—

LIBERAL MEETING AT ROBIN HOOD.

A meeting was held last night in the School-room connected with the Robin Hood Free Church, for the purpose of forming a branch of the Morley Liberal Association, for the district of Lofthouse and Carlton with Thorpe. There was a good attendance, numbering perhaps 200, and the meeting was well served with speakers, who had a very hearty reception.

Dr. Young, of Ardsley, was invited to occupy the chair, on the motion of Mr. Horner and Mr Beeton, and fully approved himself as a most eligible president. Having thanked the friends for the honor they had done him in placing him in the chair, at this the first Liberal meeting held in the place, he called on Mr. Mitchell, the secretary pro. tem., to read the notice calling the meeting. After expressing his pleasure that after so much fighting, Morley had at last secured the name of the division, the chairman called on Mark Oldroyd, Esq., president of the Morley Association, to address the meeting.

Mr. Oldroyd, on rising, was warmly applauded, and intimated his pleasure and surprise at finding, contrary to what he had been told, that there were some Liberals in Lofthouse-with-Carlton, feeling that anyone who said so after this meeting, would be telling—according to Sir Stafford Northcote—"a big thumper." Mr. Oldroyd then proceeded, in a carefully prepared and interesting manner, to speak of Liberalism, its past and future policy, and without using strong or offensive language, certainly carried the majority of his audience with him. He held that Conservatism maintained privilege and supported monopoly, and detested reform; it pandered to the Throne, it patted the Lords, it deified the Church, and cajoled the people. They were mostly persons who, having privileges and benefits themselves, were disinclined to give to others, they might therefore well join in singing "Praise God, from whom all blessings flow," concluding with "As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be." As Liberals they gave way to no man in loyalty to the Throne; they denied, however, the exclusive right of hereditary lords to sit in the second chamber. They offered equal rights and privileges to all citizens, and asked for fair play all round, and favour to none. The speaker went on to enumerate some of the results of Liberal legislation since 1868, when the last Reform Bill was brought forward, viz., the Education Act, Abolition of the Irish Church, the introduction of the Ballot, Abolition of Purchase in the Army, Repeal of the Malt Tax, Agricultural Holdings Act, the Bankruptcy Act and New Patent Laws, the Corrupt Practices Bill, and the Land Act and Arrears Bill for Ireland, crowned by the completion of the two great results of the session, the Reform and Redistribution Bills. These Acts, said Mr. Oldroyd, had been passed in face of the most factious and determined opposition and obstruction, and when argument failed, smooth-faced youths had hurled slander and personal abuse at the head of their grand and noble chief, the leader of the Liberal party. If the achievements of the past had been great, when only the few old electors were able to vote, how much more successful and advanced might they not expect to be, when the Liberal army was strengthened and increased by the two million recruits who would vote at the next election, a majority of whom would be on their side? He looked forward to greater and more quickly acquired victories in the future, for although the Conservatives were now in office, they were not in power, and he ventured to predict that after the general election, they would neither be in office nor in power. The next Parliament would be the first really representative house, speaking through its members, the opinion of the people of this country. He had looked in vain for any statement of policy from either the Marquis of Salisbury in Wales, or Sir Stafford Northcote in Devon. The future programme of the Liberals, however, included County Government, easy transfer of Land, the Abolition of the law of Entail, hereditary sinecures to be done away, the disestablishment and disendowment of the Churches of Scotland and Wales, and a fair warning to the Church of England. These were a few of the items which another Parliament would have to consider, and he besought all who were newly enfranchised to weigh well these subjects, and join the Association about to be formed for this district. Mr. Oldroyd concluded in a most stirring and eloquent manner, by moving that a branch of the Morley Liberal Association be formed for Lofthouse and Carlton with Thorpe.

Dr. Young followed up the speech of Mr. Oldroyd with a few trenchant remarks on the Employers' Liability Act and its advantages to working men, and also warned his hearers against any fear of voting according to their consciences, because of being punished by those above them, promising that any case of intimidation should be thoroughly investigated and exposed. Although he had been born and brought up in a Tory cradle, he had learned by study and observation that the Liberal party was the side of right and freedom, and he urged all to take the same course.

Mr. F. Stapleton, secretary of the Association, seconded the resolution, urging working men to join the Association, as a means of using to their own advantage the great power and privileges now afforded them as electors. He stated that the electors of this Lofthouse with Carlton and Thorpe district were entitled to nine delegates on the General Council, and to one seat on the Executive.

Mr. W. Mitchell, of Carlton, supported the motion, and at his suggestion, it was agreed that any one of the nine delegates might attend the meetings of the Executive, so that if one gentleman could not conveniently go, another might. He urged his neighbours to join the Association, and thereby diffuse political knowledge and further the interests of the Liberal party generally.

Mr. Mitchell, of Ossett, and Mr. Wilson, of Mirfield, also supported the resolution, which on being put, was carried with one dissentient.

The visitors having now to leave, a hearty vote of thanks was passed to them for their kindness in coming over, and for their addresses, proposed by Mr. Beeton and seconded by Mr. Mitchell. Mr. Oldroyd suitably acknowledged the vote.

Dr. Nowell, on the invitation of Dr. Young, then took the chair, and expressed his thorough sympathy with the objects of the meeting. By birth and associations he had been imbued with Tory notions, and it was only when he had cut his "wisdom teeth" that he had found his error. He thought it was one of the greatest anomalies for a working man to be a Tory. He was proud of the good attendance and enthusiasm manifested that evening, and felt it a reproach that Rothwell had been so backward in this matter.

A number of names were then enrolled as members of the society, after which the meeting broke up, with thanks to Dr. Nowell for his services.

THROAT IRRITATION AND COUGH.—Soreness and dryness, tickling and irritation, inducing cough and affecting the voice. For these symptoms use Epps's Glycerine Jujubes. In contact with the glands at the moment they are excited by the act of sucking, the Glycerine in these agreeable confections becomes actively healing. Sold only in boxes, 7½d., tins 1s. 1½d., labelled "JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London." Dr. George Moore, in his work on "Nose and Throat Diseases," says: "The Glycerine Jujubes prepared by James Epps and Co., are of undoubted service as a curative or palliative agent," while Dr. Gordon Holmes, Senior Physician to the Municipal Throat and Ear Infirmary, writes: "After an extended trial, I have found your Glycerine Jujubes of considerable benefit (with or without medical treatment) in almost all forms of throat disease."

Holloway's Pills & Ointment.—Old Wounds, Sores and Ulcers.—Daily experience confirms the fact which has triumphed over all opposition for more than forty years, viz., that no means are known equal to Holloway's remedies for curing bad legs, bad breasts, sores, wounds, diseases of the skin, erysipelas, abscesses, burns, scalds, and, in truth, all maladies where the skin is broken. To cure these infirmities quickly is of primary importance, as compulsory confinement indoors weakens the general health. The ready means of cure are found in Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which heal the sores and expel their cause. In the very worst cases the Ointment has succeeded in effecting a perfect cure after every other means had failed in giving adequate relief.

HUNSLET BOARD OF GUARDIANS.

An ordinary meeting of members of this Board was held on Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Jas. Hargreaves (chairman) presiding. There were also present Messrs. Grosvenor, Dixon, Graveley, Parker, Sheard, Jepson, Swithenbank, R. J. Smith, Riley, Lawton, and Swales, Rev. G. M. Platt, and Mr. T. Schofield, (clerk).

The minutes of previous meeting were read and confirmed.

Mr. Nicholson, surgeon, one of Hunslet medical officers, wrote in explanation of charges brought against him by the dispenser of medicines in the Board's employ. He was not aware that he had at any time ordered a "plaster as before," where no original prescription had been given. It was however, a prevalent practice for persons applying for these prescriptions to tear the papers in two, so that the prescription for the plaster may have appeared on the first sheet and thus have been lost. Otherwise it was possible—but extremely improbable—that a clerical error may have been committed, which might easily have been rectified. The error was evidently, in the case at issue, effected by a mere slip of the pen. Had the dispenser returned this prescription to him at once, asking for further instructions, it would have been much more satisfactory to everyone concerned.

A lengthy conversation then ensued, as a result of which a resolution was moved by Mr. Grosvenor and seconded by Mr. Dixon, to the effect that the clerk write to the two medical officers of the Hunslet district, informing them that if they did in case of emergency on Sunday have medicines for pauper patients made up at their own cost, the members of the Board would consider themselves bound to make good this expense.

This motion was unanimously adopted.

Amongst the workhouse requirements asked for by the master was the usual quantity of beer, and a resolution was proposed (but ultimately withdrawn) to the effect that this be refused. It was decided that Messrs. Tetley be next applied to for the supply of this order, in place of Messrs. Bentley, brewers, Oulton.

POLLING-PLACES IN THE WEST RIDING OF YORKSHIRE.

Yesterday a meeting of West Riding magistrates was held at the offices of the Clerk of the Peace for the West Riding, at Wakefield, for the purpose of considering what towns will be the most convenient for the holding of the elections in the several divisions of the West Riding. Mr. Wm. Aldam, of Frickley Hall, near Doncaster, presided, and there was a good attendance of Justices. A large number of memorials had been received from various districts, and they were very carefully considered. It was decided that the places of election, where the nominations will be made, and the results of the poll declared, in the various Parliamentary divisions of the northern, eastern, and southern parts of the Riding, shall be at the subjoined places:—

Northern Division.—For Skipton, at Skipton; for Keighley, at Keighley; for Shipley at Bradford; for Sowerby Bridge, at Sowerby Bridge; and for Elland, at Elland.

Eastern Division.—For Ripon, at Harrogate; Otley, at Otley; Barkstonash, at Selby; Osgoldcross, at Pontefract; Pudsey, at Pudsey; and Cleckheaton, at Cleckheaton.

Southern Division.—For Morley, at Morley; Normanton, at Wakefield; Colne Valley, at Slaithwaite; Holmfirth, at Penistone; Barnsley, at Barnsley; Hallamshire, at Sheffield; Rotherham, at Rotherham; and Doncaster, at Doncaster.

THE NEW MINISTRY.

Lord Salisbury has now completed the composition of his Ministry, with the single important exception of Chief Secretary for Ireland. The list stands as follows:—Prime Minister and Foreign Secretary, the Marquis of Salisbury; First Lord of the Treasury, Sir Stafford Northcote; Lord Chancellor, Sir H. Giffard; Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir M. Hicks-Beach; Home Secretary, Sir R. Cross; Secretary for War, Mr. W. H. Smith; India, Lord R. Churchill; Colonies, Colonel Stanley; First Lord of the Admiralty, Lord Hamilton; Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, Earl Carnarvon; Lord Chancellor of Ireland, Mr. Gibson; President of the Local Government Board, Mr. A. J. Balfour; Vice-President of the Council, Mr. E Stanhope.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes close, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above-named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety-one cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), London, England. This syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system.

Cheap Nourishment.—Fourteen large Breakfast Cups of strong, reliable Cocoa can be made from a Sixpenny Packet of Cadbury's Cocoa Essence. Ask for Cadbury's, and do not be imposed upon.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

Rothwell Wesleyan Sunday School Anniversary.—The celebration of this anniversary has this year taken place a fortnight earlier than usual, in hope that better weather would favour the school, and certainly this all-important factor has been everything that one could desire, both Sunday and Wednesday being really beautiful, sunny but not hot, while refreshing showers the day before had greatly benefitted vegetation, as well as laid the dust. Sermons were preached in the chapel on Sunday, by the Rev. T. Rathmell, the evening congregation being large. In the afternoon, a children's service was conducted by Mr. Rathmell, when the gallery presented a most pleasing sight, filled as it was, with children and teachers, every face beaming with gladness and many of them wearing these lighter costumes so well suited to such an occasion. The musical portion of the services was taken up with the singing of the special hymns prepared for the anniversary, and as usual, were generally well sung and reflected great credit on the singers and their conductor Mr. Ward. Collections were made at each service on behalf of the school funds, but we are sorry to learn, that the amount was not so large as last year. On Wednesday, the scholars, teachers, and friends mustered about two o'clock, and shortly after started on their annual peregrination of the town, the long procession being headed by the banner of the school and followed by a large number of listeners, who were greatly gratified by the hymn singing at various points on the route. The singing was accompanied by quite a band of young men mostly connected with the school, who ably assisted with wind and stringed instruments. On completing their circuit, the children were directed to the school-room, where busy teachers gladly waited on their young charge, supplying them with the accustomed repast of "tea and buns" which was despatched with true British gusto. By five o'clock the youngsters were disposed of and scampered off to the Cricket field, kindly lent by the Cricket Club for the evening's festivities. A large number of teachers and friends afterwards partook of a good meat tea, following which, they too, wended their way, though with more sober steps to "the field." Here parcels of nuts and sweets and balls were distributed by the superintendents, and soon the greensward was covered with knots of players heartily enjoying games of cricket, ball, tursey, 'jolly miller' hare and hounds, etc. On such days as these the old scholar, now become a grandfather, feels a buoyancy and juvenility which induces him to lay aside his staff and have a run with the little 'uns,' while the mate whom he wooed and won on such a day as this, forty years ago, joins in a spell at the ever-new games of long ago. About eight o'clock, a cry was raised that the balloons were being prepared, and soon every eye and every foot were turned in one direction, and by-and-bye a small balloon rose from the field, and made its way higher and higher and further, until it became the merest speck in the distant horizon, and eventually vanished. This was followed by a second shortly after, which also went up most majestically, and dissappeared in the gathering shades of twilight. By nine o'clock, most of the scholars and friends assembled in the school, and after congratulations had been exchanged, cheers were given for the Queen, the minister, and other friends, followed by the "buns" with which the scholars found their way home, thoroughly tired, but heartily gratified with the day's festival.

Stourton Wesleyan Band of Hope Festival.—The half-yearly festival was held at Stourton on Saturday last, and the committee were favoured with excellent weather for the occasion. At 2.30 the Band of Hope children assembled at the Sunday School, and formed a procession up the road to 'Jaw Bones,' where they were met by the Rothwell Temperance Prize Brass Band. Afterwards they returned to Stourton, the band playing several quicksteps as they went along. After parading the streets for a considerable time the children again assembled at school for tea, leaving the band to play a few selections alone. At five o'clock a public tea was provided, of which about 220 partook. During the afternoon the amount collected was £2 2s. 4½d., making a nice sum for a start. At 7 o'clock a meeting was held, when Mr. John Nash, the president of the Band of Hope, introduced the chairman, Mr. Wm. Cave, (of Leeds), who delivered a short address on intemperance, smoking, gambling, etc., and entreated the people, and especially the younger ones, to leave off these habits, if they had started. A melody 'I feel like singing all the day,' having been sung by the members, Miss M. Ramsden nicely recited 'After many years.' Miss C. Booth then sang 'Beautiful Valley of Eden,' after which Miss M. E. Wood recited 'No public-house in Heaven,' followed by the melody 'Answer "No."' A dialogue was next given by Misses Fowler and Nash, and Mr. S. Lorriman, entitled 'Well, I never,' each singing a solo in it. This was followed by a quartette, 'The Three Chafers,' by Messrs. T. Kale, P. Harris, J. Fieldhouse and A. Smith, which created considerable amusement. A recitation was then given by Master Frank Hill, 'Somebody's Mother,' followed by a solo, 'Beautiful River,' by Miss Clemson. Miss A. E. Longthorn recited 'Turn the Carpet,' and Masters Batty and Bedford sang 'Merry Dick,' after which the collection was made, the first part of the programme being ended. The proceeds of the collection amounted to £1 1s. 6½d. The second part of the programme commenced with the members singing their third melody, 'Onward.' Miss Pease then recited 'The gold digger's story,' followed by a duett, 'Albion on thy fertile plains,' by Messrs. T. Kale and A. Smith. The next was a recitation, 'Sober thoughts,' by Miss Jane Massey, after which Messrs. A. Smith, W. Fowler, A. C. Smith, and G. W. Smith gave a string quartette, composed by Mr. A. C. Smith; the piece was well given and well received. Miss R. Gillings recited 'Take the safe path,' and Miss Ward rendered the solo, 'Many happy returns of the day,' followed by a recitation, 'O change my father's heart,' by Master T. Longthorn. The next was another dialogue, 'Wanted, a young man,' Messrs. J. Wormald, A. Nash, J. Horsman and T. Bird taking the various characters. After the doxology, and votes of thanks to chairman, teamakers, etc., the meeting was closed. Mr. Abm. Smith conducted, and Mr. F. Fatkin accompanied the singing.

Stack Fire.—The stack yard of Mr. J. Whitely, farmer, Robin Hood, was partly destroyed by fire on Thursday week. Two stacks of corn and one of straw were entirely consumed. The thrashing machine had just done its work, and was preparing for its departure, and it is thought the fire originated through the engine. Mr. Whitely, we hear, is insured.

Church Missionary Services.—Special sermons were preached on Sunday, at Rothwell Church, in connection with the society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign parts, when the Rev. J. L. Barnett, M. A. occupied the pulpit, and urged the claims of the society. A children's service was held in the afternoon, when Mr. Barnett gave an interesting address on missionary work, with incidents and anecdotes. Collections were made on each occasion on behalf of the society.

Rothwell Old Band.—On Tuesday the Old Band, was engaged to play on Hunslet Moor. The band left Rothwell about tea time, and proceeding to the Moor, played a good selection of popular music, to the evident satisfaction of the public. The band-men wore their new uniform.

Earthquake Shock.—Yesterday morning, there was considerable consternation created in Rothwell, by a slight shock which took place at about half-past eleven. The shock seems to have been most felt in Butcher Lane, and especially on the West side of the street, where several persons noticed the windows and doors shake, and in some cases the crockery in the cupboards "jingle," while some who were on their feet felt the floor shake violently. The shock appears to have been felt in various parts of Yorkshire, correspondents in Leeds, York, Driffield, and other places, agreeing in reporting a tremulous shaking from about eleven o'clock. At first it was supposed to be caused by mining operations carried on here, but the news from other localities, confirm the opinion that we have been visited by a real, though slight earthquake.

Parties visiting E. Miller's Furnishing Depôt, 22, North Street, Leeds, often express their regret at not having called sooner!

CRICKET NOTES.

Rothwell first journeyed to Meanwood on Saturday, and although not strongly represented, did exceedingly well. They won the toss, and of course elected to bat. C. Tiffany, who scored 31, batted in his best style, and Glover (who seemed to be rather unfortunate, receiving two very nasty knocks, one of which caused his eye to swell very much) also hit in his usual free-and-easy style, but when he had just secured his fifty he had to retire for the second time from injuries, and did not resume his innings again. George Wilson 'cut,' as is his wont, and succeeded in making 13. G. Borwell, a newly initiated member of the team, shewed some good defence, though his hitting was not very clean; however, going in fourth wicket down, he brought out his bat for a nicely played innings of 17. The actual score reached 131. There was only about half an-hour for the home team to bat, in which time they lost 4 wickets for 26 runs, Sykes being head scorer with 12. C. Tiffany obtained 3 wickets for 14 runs, and Baines 1 wicket for 11 runs.

Rothwell 2nd had it almost their own way with Meanwood Park 2nd, at Rothwell. Meanwood batted first, and made 50, to which T. Walsh contributed 15, and H. Kirk 12. Pape, with his 'fast 'uns,' bore off the palm for bowling, securing 4 wickets at a cost of 0 runs. The home team commenced well, the first wicket putting on 22, which form was kept up to the finish, and at the close 130 was totalled to their credit. Of this number, Chadwick (who almost made up for any previous looseness in batting) made 35 (not out), Pape 27, Seanor 14, and Armitage 10, while other numbers made up the total, which is a decided improvement on previous efforts.

Lofthouse, on their own ground last Saturday, would have treated the men from Castleford to such a thrashing as (I have little doubt) they have not experienced for a long while, had time allowed of the game being played out. Lofthouse occupied the wickets first, and made the gigantic score of 270, H. Noble batting finely for 122 (not out), while his cousin John also exhibited a little of his old form, and succeeded in running up a total of 69. Along with these, Dewse scored 18, S. Ward and Hollings 16 apiece, and Moss 10. The visitors had not long to bat, but when the stumps were drawn, had lost two good wickets (Allison 10, Chappel 3) for 22 runs, E. Byford being not out 2, and A. Hartley not out 7.

Robin Hood scored a nice win on Saturday against Morley Wesleyans, at Robin Hood. The home team batted first, and ran up 126, a good score for a club of their standing; towards this total Sam Hartley batted well for 33, W. Horner 28, T. Hemsworth 22, and J. Hick 13. The united efforts of the Morleyites only managed to put together 58, to which C. and E. Appleyard contributed respectively 22 and 19. The winners are certainly to be congratulated on their success.

The Stourton Harriers club journeyed to Starbeck on Saturday, to meet the club of that name, and returned home defeated. Stourton took the wickets first, and ran up 44, Coggill being top scorer with 14. Starbeck topped this by 8 runs only, and of these W Kenn made 20, and S Whitehouse 13, there being six 'ducks' Coggill bowled exceedingly well for Stourton, taking 6 wickets for 16 runs.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

Occasional Notes.

Misgivings are evidently entertained in some quarters that the parishioners of Swillington are in danger of drifting Rome-wards. To check this imaginary tendency a pamphlet is being circulated which in the form of question and answer, attributes motives and implies beliefs and practices on the part of the adherents of one school of thought in the church which are scarcely justified by facts. It is hardly fair to identify the efforts of those who are trying to infuse more life and earnestness into the services of the church, with attempts to promulgate Romish doctrines; and to go out of the way to discredit such efforts, appears to a looker-on neither judicious nor becoming. So far as we are concerned the errors of Romanism are dead and can never be revived. The cry of "No Popery" now falls on heedless ears. Those who think differently and who consider that controversy is necessary with the advocates of greater reverence and higher ceremonial, should at least remember that—to have any influence—such controversy ought to be conducted with gentleness, gravity, caution, and with perfect accuracy and fairness. These are qualities which do not exactly obtrude themselves upon the perceptions of the pamphlet referred to. There are surely many greater and more real evils to engage the energies of an earnest-minded country parson than mere differences of opinion about the forms of religion.

POLICE NEWS.

The County Court.—At Tuesday's sitting of the County Court, before His Honor Judge Greenhow, Dr. Glaister, of Rothwell, sued Mrs. Walter Barron, late of the Empress Hotel, Wakefield, for £2 13s. 6d., alleged to be due for professional services.—Mr. Tennant, of Leeds, appeared for the plaintiff; and from his statement it seemed that in 1882 the defendant, who was then a spinster, named Rosa Studd, kept the Unicorn Hotel, Carlton, and her mother lived with her. In March of that year Dr. Glaister was sent for to the Unicorn to see defendant's mother, whom he attended for some time, paying fourteen visits, and supplying medicine &c. His charge for this was £1 17s. 6d. The other portion of the claim was for attending a little girl, a sister of defendant's, in September, 1882.—The defendant denied that Dr. Glaister was sent for on her authority, and she repudiated her liability.—His Honor, however, gave a verdict for the plaintiff.

LEEDS BOROUGH COURT (Friday).

Drunk and Assaulting the Police.—Henry Goodier, miner, of Rothwell Haigh, was charged with having been drunk and disorderly, and assaulting the police and a man named Emmatt Burnett. From the evidence it appeared that on Thursday night, prisoner was intoxicated and creating a disturbance in Woodhouse street. A crowd of people had surrounded the prisoner, who struck one of them named Burnett. Police-constable Rennard came up and took the prisoner into custody, and was conveying him to the police-station when the prisoner attacked him, striking and kicking him about the body.—Mr. Bruce committed him to prison for four months with hard labour.

MONDAY.

Pitch and Toss.—Frederick Todd and Thomas Bonner, of Hunslet Carr, were both charged with playing pitch and toss, on a footpath leading from Bell Hill to Middleton. From the evidence of P. S. Turton and P. C. Seal, it appears that at a quarter after three on Sunday afternoon, the defendants were caught gambling, and they were immediately apprehended and conveyed to Wakefield goal. They were fined 2s 6d., and had also £1 4s. 2d. costs to bear between them.

Drunk and Disorderly.—Thomas Giblin, an Irishman, and employed as a farm labourer at Thorpe, was fined 2s. 6d. and 10s. 6d. costs for being drunk and disorderly in Commercial-street, Rothwell, at 10.40 on Sunday evening last. P. C. Hardy proved the case, and said he found the prisoner creating a disturbance; he ordered him to be off, but he refused, and he therefore took him into custody.

Wilful Damage.—George Greenwood, greengrocer, of Rothwell, prosecuted a lad named Blackburn, son of Geo. Blackburn, of Rothwell, for doing wilful damage to his door; he was fined 6d. and costs.

WEDNESDAY.

A Drunken Woman.—Sarah Kennady, a married woman, of Leeds, was charged by P. C. Wilson with being drunk and incapable. The woman was found at Old Engine, Rothwell Haigh on Monday, laid on the highway helplessly drunk. Her defence was that the drink had been given her by others, and she was discharged.

Indecent Assault.—On Wednesday, an indecent assault was committed at Rothwell Haigh by Samuel Hollings, of Woodhouse Hill. Two married women called Hannah Silverwood and Harriet Farrer, were coming on the way from Leeds to Rothwell to visit some friends, and when travelling on Jaw Bones Lane, they met a strange man, who on meeting them, got hold of one of the women, and throwing her down on the sidewalk, attempted to commit the assault complained of. The other woman immediately began casting heavy stones at the licentious fellow, whereupon he decamped in the direction of Leeds. The women then hurried on to Wood Lane, and proceeded to the house of P. C. Jackson, who happening to be at home, instantly started after the man, coming in sight of him somewhere near the 'fifty acre' field, the man bolted and Jackson gave chase, and managed to come up to him near Ebor House in Middleton. He at once took him into custody and marched him off to Wakefield, where he will be brought before the magistrates to-day.

Borax—Patent Californian, 'The Household Treasure—Pure Antiseptic,' is sold in small and family packets by all intelligent dealers, prepared and ready for immediate use, with full directions for all Personal and Domestic purposes, and suitable for Academies, Hotels, Hospitals, Asylums, Ships, Public Institutions, and all homes—from the mansion to the cottage—everywhere—everywhere.

Teeth, a Complete Set one Guinea.—Precisely the same Prize Medal Teeth supplied by other Dentists at the highest fees, five years' warranty.—Testimonial from Jas. Steward, Physician and Surgeon, L.R.C.P.E. I have great pleasure in recommending your Guinea Sets of Teeth. The set you supplied to me are much superior to those for which I paid a much higher fee. They must prove a great boon to the working classes." Complete set made and fitted in a few hours. One visit only required from country patients at the Dental Supply Association, 19, Boar-lane, Leeds. Entrance, Gascoigne-street. Attendance, 10 to 7. Country Patients attended at their own Residences without extra charge.

As a safe, permanent and warranted cure of Pimples Scrofula, Scurvy, Bad Legs, Skin and Blood Disease and Sores of all kinds, we can with confidence recommend CLARKE'S WORLD-FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE.—Sold by Chemists everywhere.

Borax Preparations are manufactured by the Patent Borax Company, under Royal Patents, which the Queen has awarded in recognition of their 'Great Excellence' 'Public Importance,' and 'Utility.'

VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the Individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade. Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has cast about him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. Having been thirty-five years in the trade, in the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was naturally 'up to all the wrinkles.' The middle men, known by the names of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of [illegible] Manufacturers, who arranged to supply his Establishment at [illegible] In short, [illegible] Makers. Top Corner [illegible] Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds. If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly repaired by good workmen. [illegible] Scott & Co. guarantee all their work for 12 months. [illegible] Send stamp for price list.

Genuine Orange Bitters.—24s. per case of one dozen. [illegible] These Bitters are made from the very finest Seville oranges and may be used as an admirable and pleasant tonic. Manufactured by Joseph Hobson, Dantzic Brewery, Regent Street, Leeds.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We would particularly urge our friends to send in their letters and news, as early as possible, as we cannot accept contributions later than Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, except in the case of matters occurring on Wednesday or Thursday, which should be forwarded within a short period after. Advertisements may be sent as late as Friday morning.

TOWN TALK.

There is much speculation in various quarters, as to the identity of the writer of the 'Town Talk' column, which appears with such regularity in the Rothwell Times. Some say it is So-and-so, while others say it is somebody else. Everybody reads 'Town Talk,' although they do not all approve of what is sometimes said in its short paragraphs, (for instance, Mr. Clark). People's opinions of 'Gossip' are very varied; some few take his part, and uphold him in his attempts to put down wrong and eulogise the right, while there are many who openly, and sometimes within the sound of my own ear, condemn him as biassed, impertinent, conceited, good-for-nothing, and dangerous. Mr. Editor is slightly inclined to the latter belief, I am tempted to think; at any rate he seems to agree with the last adjective—'dangerous'; whether he can fully approve of the others or no I will not venture to decide. I say he appears to look upon my contribution as a very dangerous piece of machinery. I can imagine him, when he receives my bundle of M.S. each week, turning it over and over, holding it up to the light, and gravely contemplating the advisability or not of breaking the seal, and disclosing the awful contents. But he makes up his mind; he opens it, and my bits of 'Talk' find themselves face to face with the shears and waste paper box. Watch them; they tell clear of these two, and every other enemy, and (what a mercy) they appear in due course in their usual place. But that is not the finish; the indulgent reader of my writings invariably finds 'We do not hold ourselves responsible,' &c., &c., at the top of the column. 'This is a dangerous bit, we have nothing whatever to do with it,' says the profound editorial 'We.' Oh dear, what a pity. 'Point' may say what he pleases, and the nameless writer of the 'Occasional Notes' can utter his bitterest words when it suits him, and there is no such prefix there. No, they don't write 'Town Talk.' The 'Notes' are written to pat people, and stroke their coats, and the Cricket Clubs are not averse to having their failings pointed out; but you! you nasty, insignificant, foul-mouthed little street-'gossip,' we are not responsible for what you may say.

There is an art in advertising. Mr. Owen put an advertisement in the Rothwell Times last week, stating that No. 9 in Churchfield was not for sale. It is just possible the house may even be for sale, and that this has been published in order to draw special attention to the house. The same style has been pursued in advertising the Infirmary Demonstration, in the Wakefield Express last Saturday, but I'm afraid the result will not be a very good one. Instead of Whitehall Field, they have Whitehead's Field; then they make the 'Twelfth Mass' the joint production of Messrs. Samson and Mozart; the procession is said to be arranged for leaving the 'Mechanics' (wherever those skilful workmen may be located I cannot tell) at ten o'clock instead of one, and in the names of the three officials there is a similar number of mistakes. For J. Turner they put J. Iveson; E. Whitehead—F. Whitehead; and Robert Nicholson—R. M. Robson.

.. ..

I believe I am just re-echoing public opinion when I ask for a little favour of the Infirmary Demonstration Committee. The Committee are well aware that even among their own number, and also among the general public, there are those who are not exactly in sympathy with a Sunday demonstration. It is a very difficult work to please everyone, but I think they should give every section of their supporters due consideration. There will be, on Sunday afternoon, at least three religious services given up on account of the Demonstration, and what I desire to enforce is that there shall be nothing done to interfere with the other public services of the church and chapels. Last year, I remember, there was a letter in this journal complaining that the Band leaving Rothwell to fetch one of the distant contingents, annoyed the worshippers, and disturbed the solemnity of the sacred service, in the old Parish Church. Now, let us avoid this; it may be done quite conveniently. The point to be aimed at in this undertaking is to make as many friends and as few enemies as possible.

At Lofthouse, the public have done a very natural, but at the same time, a very dangerous thing. They have found the author (as they suppose), of that unpopular letter which appeared a week or two ago, anent the burning case, and of course their wroth has waxed very hot. So far as I can learn this is the only ground for the supposition, that immediately after the melancholy accident had taken place, those who had the charity to solicit small contributions on behalf of the widow and children, and for interring the poor man, waited upon a certain centrally situated tradesman, and a noted religionist, and asked for a small donation, telling him the way in which the money was to be used, when the saintly fellow replied "those who burned him may bury him." On the Friday following, the letter signed "A Parishioner" appeared in the Rothwell Times, and the outraged public, "spotted" their friend, who had spoken those kindly words a day or two before as the writer and were speedily planning how they might "take it out of him." There have been 'boycotting' and other methods suggested, but I think they will have to be content with words of vengeance and looks of scorn.

I have been looking for a week or two for the insertion of the statement of accounts for the year ending March 25th which is usually issued by the Local Board; there seems to be some delay, what is the reason? can't they get the accounts to balance? or are they going to keep us in the dark a bit.

GOSSIP.

A CASE FOR ENQUIRY.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Sir,

I hear that one of our best roadmen, Wm. Kaye, of Oulton, has been kept from his work during this last week, and for what? I suppose the case stands thus,—Kaye had been working for more than a week on Royds Green roads, and he asked the inspector, Mr. Starkie, why he had not been to look at the work during that time; the inspector at once felt offended, and suspended Kaye from his work. Now was Kaye wrong in asking him that, or was the inspector right in not being there? This ought to be looked into impartially. I believe that Kaye is a good practical hand at road making, and is also a diligent worker, and it seems to me we want more practical men at that kind of work. If this is not the true state of the case, perhaps Mr. Starkie will give it in your next issue.

I remain,
Yours truly,
OBSERVER.

Throat Affections and Hoarseness.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by John I. Brown & Sons, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

Valuable Discovery for the Hair.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d. —For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

DEAR FRED,

You will be surprised at receiving a letter from me, but thank God, I am pleased to say [illegible] I shall be so glad to breathe the fresh air again. [illegible] to the Hospital last April to be treated for Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. [illegible] they tapped me, and took away [illegible] of water [illegible] On the 9th October I was discharged from the Hospital as incurable. [illegible] The St. Bartholomew's Hospital [illegible] as a hopeless case, [illegible] When I came from the Hospital it took three to put me to bed. My clothes had to be cut off. [illegible] After the Hospital had refused me, and the doctors given me up, my wife's sister came [illegible] to try Hop Bitters, and from the commencement I have improved daily. I have only taken them seven weeks and can now get downstairs and walk about without even a stick. With the aid of a few more bottles of the Bitters shall be well again. The water has entirely left my body and legs. The only trace left is in my feet. It is a wonderful medicine. I wish I had tried it sooner, [illegible] myself and family with doctors' bills and other expenses. [illegible] since using the Bitters eat everything [illegible] a bad job. With best love [illegible]

I remain,
Your affectionate Brother,
(Signed) William Grayson.
1, Bush Terrace, Gage Lane,
Chatham, March 14, 1885.

To the Hop Bitters Co., London.
Gentlemen,—I enclose letter from my brother-in-law, Wm. Grayson, Chatham. He considers he owes his life to your Hop Bitters, and so do we.
Yours truly,
Fred. Stammers.
38, Castle Street, London.

LATER.
Chatham, March 24.
Since I wrote you ten days ago I have improved wonderfully. To-day I walked to the barber's shop (and got shaved), and back again by myself without fatigue. This is the first time I have been out alone since last April—over eleven months.
William Grayson.

HIGH AUTHORITY.
Dr. THOMPSON says Kidney Disease is probably next to Consumption the commonest cause of death among adults in this climate. You have had a [illegible] pain in the back and around the loins, severe headaches, dizziness, inflamed eyes, a coated tongue and a dry mouth, loss of appetite, chilly sensation, indigestion (the stomach never is in order when the kidneys or liver are deranged), dryness of the skin, nervousness, night sweats, muscular debility, despondency, a tired feeling (especially at night), puffiness under the eyes, and your muscular system seems utterly helpless. Dr. Roberts, of England; Prof. Thompson, of New York; and other celebrated authorities tell us that all these symptoms are sure indications of Bright's Disease! With some patients the disease runs slowly and for years. With others it comes on with a rush [illegible]
HOP BITTERS for the CURE of Kidney and Liver Complaints have no equal in the world, and those suffering from any of the above symptoms should use them at once.

Floriline!—For the Teeth and Breath.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

Advice to Mothers!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

Watches, Jewellery.—Midland Counties Watch Company.—(Cheapest house in the World.) Ladies' or Gents' Fine Silver Crystal Glass, heavy Ladies' Watches, 25/-; Ladies' heavy-cased Gold Levers, 70/-; Gents' do. do. do., 80/-. Before purchasing send for Company's Catalogue, beautifully illustrated, 1,000 fine copper-plate engravings, gratis, post free on application, to any part of the world. Apply Company's Manager, A. Percy, Vyse Street, Birmingham. The press universally recommend their readers to obtain a catalogue.

Worth a Guinea a Box.
BEECHAM'S PILLS

BEECHAM'S PATENT PILLS S.HELENS LANCASHIRE

ARE admitted by thousands to be worth above a Guinea a Box for Bilious and Nervous Disorders, such as Wind and Pain at the Stomach, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Fulness and Swelling after meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Scurvy, Blotches on the skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, &c., &c. The first dose will give relief in twenty minutes.

This is no fiction, for they have done it in thousands of cases. The Proprietor of these Pills having at great expense a Patent for them, he challenges the whole world to produce a medicine equal to them for removing [illegible] complaints and to [illegible] sound and lasting health.

Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try one Box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be
WORTH A GUINEA A BOX.

For females of all ages these Pills are invaluable, as a few doses of them carry off all gross humours, open all obstructions, and bring about all that is required. No female should be without them. There is no medicine to be found to equal BEECHAM'S PILLS for removing any obstruction or irregularity of the system. If taken according to the directions given with each box, they will soon restore females of all ages to sound and robust health.

For a weak Stomach, Impaired Digestion, and all disorders of the Liver, they act like 'MAGIC,' and a few doses will be found to work wonders upon the most important organs in the human machine. They strengthen the whole muscular system, restore the long-lost complexion, bring back the keen edge of appetite, and arouse into action with the ROSEBUD of health, the whole physical energy of the human frame. These are "FACTS" admitted by thousands, embracing all classes of Society, and one of the best guarantees to the Nervous and Debilitated is, BEECHAM'S PILLS have the largest sale of any Patent Medicine in the world.

BEECHAM'S MAGIC COUGH PILLS
Are a remedy for Coughs in General, Asthma, Difficulty of Breathing, Shortness of Breath, Tightness and Oppression of the Chest, Wheezing, &c. These Pills are specially [illegible] for anyone labouring under any of the above afflictions. They need only try One Box to prove that they are the best medicine for Asthmatic and Consumptive Coughs, Hoarseness, and Oppression of the Chest. They speedily remove that sense of oppression and difficulty of breathing which nightly deprive the patient of rest. They give almost instant relief and comfort to those afflicted with those distressing and, when neglected, dangerous complaints, but any person troubled with any of the above complaints should give Beecham's Cough Pills a trial. The most violent Cough will in a short time be removed.

Caution.—The public are requested to notice that the words "Beecham's Pills, St. Helen's," are on the Government Stamp affixed to each box of the Pills; if not on, they are a forgery.

Prepared only, and sold wholesale and retail by the proprietor, T. Beecham, Chemist, St. Helen's, Lancashire, in boxes, 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Sent post free for 15 or 36 stamps. Sold by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Dealers in the United Kingdom.

N.B.—Full directions are given with each box.

Friday, June 26, 1885.

THE difficulties besetting the new Premier in the formation of a Ministry were finally overcome on Tuesday, when Mr. Gladstone announced that the Conservatives had now definitely accepted office. On Wednesday, Mr. Gladstone and the other members of the late Cabinet proceeded to Windsor and delivered up their seals of office to Her Majesty; and shortly afterwards Lord Salisbury and his colleagues in the present Government went thither and received them. The members of the House of Commons also changed sides on that day, and owing to the number of Liberals being larger than that of the Conservatives, it was found impossible to secure seats for all on the Opposition side, so that loyal Englishmen found themselves in unpleasant proximity to the Parnell cave, while several strong Liberals had to sit side by side with Tory opponents.

YESTERDAY new writs were issued for such constituences as are represented by the new Ministers, in order that they may ask for re-election. The Royal Assent was given in the House of Lords to the Princes Beatrice Annuity Bill, the Seats Bill, and several other measures. Both Houses adjourned last night till Monday, July 6th, when the bye-elections will have taken place.

THE annual flower show of the Leeds Horticultural Gardens Company was opened on Wednesday by the Mayor (Alderman Bower). The exhibition is an excellent one, but the attendance was small in consequence of a continuous downpour of rain during the whole day. The weather being much more promising yesterday, the attendance was considerably improved, and it is to be hoped the bright sunshine to-day will induce large numbers of persons to visit this popular show. The sum of £260 is offered in prizes.

WAKEFIELD ELECTION.—In consequence of the death of Mr. Mackie, a new writ for Wakefield was yesterday received by the Mayor. The Conservative candidate had already been selected, and at a meeting held on Monday evening, it was unanimously decided to invite Mr. W. Hartley Lee, J.P., to contest the constituency on the Liberal side. Mr. Lee issued his address on Wednesday, and the prosecution of electioneering will now go on at fever pace. The Mayor has fixed next Thursday for the nominations, and the Monday after for the polling.

INFIRMARY DEMONSTRATION AT ROTHWELL.

The sixth demonstration on behalf of the funds of the Leeds Infirmary was held in the Whitehall Field, (kindly lent by Mr. Bumby) on Sunday last, and was attended by a large number of persons, although the weather was not favorable for outdoor gatherings. The wind blew the dust about most uncomfortably during the procession; and two or three slight showers fell while the meeting was going on, while the atmosphere was heavy and rather chilly. These disadvantages were largely responsible for the attendance on Sunday being smaller than last year, and we fear the financial result will have proportionately suffered.

After some delay, the Rothwell Sunday Schools had decided to take part in the procession this year, and the Vicar having also agreed to become president, the division of opinion on the subject of Sunday Demonstrations was not apparent, and in this sense everything was agreeable and harmonious.

According to arrangement, the several Sunday Schools and Societies, with the gentlemen representing the various governing bodies, were asked to meet at the Mechanics' Institute at one o'clock, and from this time till half-past, the entire neighbourhood of the Institute was a busy scene of life and activity. The Leeds West York Artillery Band played through Stourton, and brought up persons from that hamlet and Rothwell Haigh; the Oulton Band headed the Old Society and others from that village, and the Rothwell Temperance Band led the Wesleyan School and others from Carlton, the whole meeting with the Old Band and the great body of people about one o'clock.

A procession having been formed, moved off up Royds Lane, along Springfield Street, down Swithens Street and Butcher Lane, and along Commercial Street to the Field in Gillett Lane. The procession proper took about six minutes to pass a given point. The order observed was as follows:—the 1st West York Artillery Band, followed by Mr. Wm. Hargreaves, Mr J. Oliver, Mr. Newsome, Mr. J. G. Turner, Mr. Jas. Hargreaves, Mr. W. Lawton, and Mr. J. Turner, with Mr. Starkie (inspector), representing the chairman and members of the Board of Guardians, Local Board and School Board; Mr Marshall, proprietor of the Rothwell Times; Mr. Parker, Mr. Giles, Mr. John Abbishaw, Mr. J. Hirst, Mr. B. Taylor (librarian), Mr. G. H. Armitage (secretary), and other members of the committee of the Mechanics' Institute. The several Sunday schools came next, four abreast, the Church, Carlton Wesleyan and Rothwell Wesleyan. The Rothwell Old Band headed the Primitive Methodist scholars and the Band of Hope children, together with the Old Society, the Foresters, Loyal Milton, and Friendly Alliance Lodges. Then came the Oulton Band leading the Ancient Order of Romans, the Temperance Band bringing up the rear with the Rothwell Temperance Society.

The position selected for the meeting was the same as last year, on the north side of the 'beck,' but owing to the direction of the wind, the people had to move to one side of the platform in order to hear to advantage.

The orchestra consisted of about 200 singers from Rothwell, Carlton, Lofthouse, Hunslet, Methley, Castleford, Oulton and Woodlesford, ranged on rising tiers of seats, and some 30 instrumentalists, who clustered round the conductor and the harmonium, on a slightly raised platform below. The speakers' platform was at the right-hand side of the conductor, and the children were grouped immediately in front.

Shortly after two o'clock, the proceedings were opened by the Rev. F. Fawkes, M.A., the president, by singing the hymn commencing to the popular tune "Hanover," after which Mr. Fawkes offered prayer.

> "O worship the King, all glorious above,"

The president, having remarked that although they might not all be able to hear the speaking, urged all to give as God had prospered them, as they were wanting deeds to-day, not words. Referring to his position as president, he echoed the words used by their president last year (Mr. James Hargreaves), that although he could not agree with the Demonstration being on a Sunday, he had waived his objections, in order to further the good of the Infirmary, but still hoped that they would shortly be able to have, as they had in London and many large towns, a Hospital Sunday, when collections should be taken in the various churches and chapels, and a Hospital Saturday for the celebration of such festivals as these. Movements of this character were often only short-lived, and he thought the Infirmary would not suffer if they adopted the other plan. He trusted, however, that this would be a success, and they might expect it would be so, as they had asked God's blessing on it. Referring to a remark of Dr. Glaister's last year, that such efforts lifted such institutions out of the cold region of charity to the higher one of mutual help and sympathy, Mr. Fawkes pointed out that, reaping the benefit, working men were willingly accepting the responsibility of supporting such institutions. He contrasted the manner of maintaining hospitals and infirmaries here to the plan adopted on the Continent, where, along with your Highway Rate, you have to pay a Hospital Rate, and hoped the day was far distant when the rich and poor could not join together in voluntarily supporting such philanthropic efforts. Instancing the visit of Her Majesty to the wounded soldiers at Netley, Mr. Fawkes trusted that there would gradually come a better understanding between the upper and lower classes. No doubt we were becoming, year by year, more democratic, and disestablishment and disendowment of the Church were coming nearer, but when the Church no longer worked for the people, but with the people, he did not fear such an occurrence with the working classes on their side.

The band and chorus now broke out in the well-known strains of Mozart's 12th Kyrie, which, though rather broken at first, pulled together pretty well, and on entering the "Gloria" got well on and finished capitally. A lengthy selection from "Moses in Egypt," by Rossini, was given by the Leeds Artillery Band in good style, but like many other good things, too much in quantity. The performance occupied nearly half an hour, was tastefully played, and merited a more patient and attentive hearing than it was possible to give to it, in the open air.

The chorus followed with three other selections from the "12th Mass," and in each succeeded well, the various beauties being well brought out, especially the glorious instrumental bass runs in "Et Resurrexit" and "Dona Nobis," while the choral notes in connection with them were well touched. The other selection was the somewhat popular "Quoniam," which went capitally.

Mr. Wilberforce, of Leeds, congratulated the meeting on having the Vicar in the chair, feeling that he was certainly the right man in the right place. He considered there was no need of apology for holding such a meeting on the Sabbath day, in support of so noble an institution as the Infirmary, where neither sect, caste, nor character were excluded. After acknowledging the debt of gratitude due to the wealthier classes for founding such institutions, Mr. Wilberforce remarked on the favorable signs of the times, which led working men to band together to support them by weekly contributions out of their small incomes. Although the opportunity of hearing the musical programme no doubt had a considerable influence in drawing together so many persons, yet he felt sure that everyone felt a deep interest in the success and progress of this great philanthropic institution, and urged all to contribute to the best of their ability.

The Old Band followed, without loss of time, by selections from "Kallawooda's Mass in C," a novelty here, but possessing some beautiful and striking lines; we would commend the repetition at some time and place where its 'points' can be noted more generally, and with greater comfort than on Sunday last.

The choir now rendered two of the finest choruses out of Handel's "Samson," "Then round about the starry throne," and "Fixed in his everlasting seat," succeeded by a dramatic glee "Hail, Apollo," by the Rothwell Temperance Band, which fully maintained its good name.

Dr. Glaister was next called on to speak, his address having been looked forward to with considerable interest, but owing to the inclement character of the weather, it could not be either given or received with the relish it certainly merited. After expressing his pleasure in again joining in such a festival, he argued that their meeting was not an excuse for having a day's pleasure, it was no mere holiday gathering, but it was the demonstration of a growing movement, on the principles of self help; great changes were being wrought among the working classes, and this was one result of the growing desire and resolve to help each other on to independence. In the feudal days, the labourer was paid partly in wages, partly in protection; when he became old or unable to work, he looked to his employer for support and sustenance. Now, the system was optional, so far as the employer was concerned. The labourer now received the highest price his employer could afford, and the labourer offered his abilities at the highest rate he could command. While they had increased advantages, privileges, and rights, the working man had also his responsibilities, and one of his first duties was to take on his own shoulders the necessity of making some provision for old age and sickness. While the wealthy helped of their abundance, in establishing and maintaining hospitals and infirmaries, these places exist for the special benefit of the working classes, and to their honour be it spoken, they were not at all desirous of shirking their responsibility, and everywhere they were willing cheerfully to pay something for the support of these grand institutions. In this movement, Rothwell has taken an honourable position, and he now appealed to all, still to keep in the van of progress, and cherish those feelings of sturdy independence and manly uprightness, which tend to the elevation of the masses.

The choir then sang, with their usual ability and taste, the chorus "And the glory of the Lord" from the Messiah, succeeded by a few numbers from Mozart's 12th Mass by the Oulton Band, who did excellent service on this occasion.

Councillor Gilston, of Hunslet (who was unfortunately limited to time), briefly but tersely addressed the audience, which, said he, would have been very much larger, had it not been so cloudy. Some people called this gathering place a "cloise," others called it a field, but on the present occasion, he would adopt the language of a friend of his, and call it "God's closet." He thought that their meeting was for a God-like purpose, to help those who could not help themselves; and they did right to introduce the attractions of music, an art in which the greatest geniuses have expended their grandest efforts. He urged all to do their very best in the collections, and although the company was smaller, to take care that the Infirmary did'nt suffer on that account. He encouraged Rothwell to go on in this good way, as others were looking on, and following her lead, Hunslet having copied her example last year and sent £80 to the Infirmary. In order to secure larger contributions, he suggested that persons of influence should be placed besides the sheets, and he was sure more valuable coins would be dropped in than there now were.

The chorus then rendered Handel's glorious Hallelujah, after which the Old Hundredth was sung and the demonstration closed.

Although the entire result of the demonstration has not quite reached that of last year, owing in a considerable degree to the weather, yet every effort has been made by the secretaries, Mr. Whitehead and Mr. Nicholson, to secure its success, and thanks are due to them and the Committee for their generous and gratuitous labour.

To the conductor of the chorus special praise is due, he having had unusual difficulties to overcome, and his assiduous attention to practice as well as his very creditable conducting are worthy of record. One of Mr. Lambert's difficulties arose from the comparatively small attendance at the practices, and while thanks are to be offered to those who gave their services, many more might have helped in this matter.

Owing to the want of time, Mr. Wm. Hargreaves, Mr. Jas. Hargreaves, Mr. S. Batty, Mr. James Batty, and Dr. Purdy, who were all prepared to speak, had to be left out.

The amount collected in the boxes was £6 6s. 9d., and in the sheets £31 5s. 2½d. There was also £1 10s. from sale of programmes. Tea was provided by the Committee for persons coming from a distance, the financial proceeds, 10s. 8d., being placed to the general account. The music used by the choir has been offered for sale and has realised about £1 10s.

On Monday, a brass band festival and gala was held in the field, when £3 1s. 1d. was taken towards defraying the expenses.

The total amount netted will be about £34, which will be handed to the Infirmary funds by Mr. J. Turner, treasurer to the Demonstration Committee.

DEATH OF R. B. MACKIE, ESQ., M.P.

It is seldom the death of a gentleman causes so general and heartfelt regret as has been experienced and manifested in Wakefield and neighbourhood, on receipt of the news of Mr. Mackie's sudden decease. It was late on Thursday night that intelligence arrived from his house in London, announcing the unexpected termination of his illness, and all through Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, sadness and sorrow were depicted on every countenance. Mr. Mackie was born in 1829, and after passing his youth in earnest and successful study, at his majority became partner with his father in the well-known and highly respected firm of Robert Mackie & Sons. In 1852, Mr. Mackie married Miss Shaw, of Sandal, but only enjoyed wedded life a short time, Mrs. Mackie dying soon after their first and only child, was born; he never married again, and Miss Edith G. Mackie has been his constant and much loved companion ever since. Mr. Mackie partly relinquished business some eight years ago, and after devoting considerable time to travels, entered on public political life in 1880, as member for Wakefield, which position he purposed seeking at the coming election. In every institution and society in Wakefield and neighbourhood, Mr. Mackie took a deep and intelligent interest, and both religious and commercial circles deeply feel their loss. A liberal in politics and a personal friend of Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Mackie was unremitting in his attendance in Parliament, and until Sunday week, there was no sign of failing health. On that day, however, he became unwell, and notwithstanding every medical attention, died on Thursday, the 18th inst. The funeral took place on Monday at Belle Vue Cemetery, the entire town exhibiting tokens of sorrow, by closed shops, mourning habiliments and respectful demeanor. The remains arrived at Wakefield from London at half-past one, where many wreaths and garlands were placed on the bier, after which a great procession was formed extending about a mile in length. Liberals and Conservatives, Church people and Wesleyans, all classes and societies, headed by the Mayor and Corporation, mingled in the saddening spectacle, everyone feeling that the town had sustained the loss of one of her greatest ornaments. The burial service was conducted by the Rev. Canon Straton, closing at half-past three. Among other tokens of condolence, a resolution of sympathy was unanimously passed by the members of the Wesleyan Quarterly Meeting (who had attended the funeral) for presentation to Miss Edith G. Mackie, referring to the late Mr. Mackie's generous and kindly support of their various enterprises in this circuit; Mr. Mackie was, in his early manhood, a member of West Parade Society, and still retained a pew in the chapel, always assisting most liberally and willingly in the several schemes submitted to him.

HANDEL BI-CENTENARY FESTIVAL.

From Our Own Reporter.

Equipped with tickets for a splendid seat in the front gallery of the Crystal Palace, I and my friend made our way to Sydenham on Friday morning, which we reached about eleven o'clock, and as the weather was fine, we greatly enjoyed the beautiful grounds through which we passed, finally reaching the magnificent structure so well known throughout the world. Making our way upstairs, we found our seat, and amused ourselves with the entry of the thousands of people below and around us. Of course the principal interest centred in the orchestra right before us, and it was a sight to note the four parts fill the magnificent space prepared for them, the tenors and basses on either side, the sopranos in the front middle and the contraltos behind them, while over 500 instrumentalists swarmed all round the conductor's stand. Precisely at twelve o'clock, Mr. Manns appeared, and at once every singer rose, and every fiddlestick and instrument was in position, and away went the "Hallelujah Chorus" like a mighty overpowering stream—it was glorious. But I must not go further as regards Friday, for that was only rehearsal day, and although the seats were from 7/6 each upwards, some 15,000 people were present, to hear the snatches of various parts of Handel's great works. The taste we had on Friday raised our expectations to fever pitch as to what the concert itself would be. By-and-bye Monday came, and we were again in our former seats by half-past one. If we were delighted on Friday, the scene and the music on Monday was simply entrancing. In front were the pretty light dresses of the lady singers in lavender, white and blue, flanked with the black coats of the gentlemen, with the magnificent organ towering high above them, and the glittering instruments of the band in front; such a scene, once seen, is never forgotten. Then the 25,000 people constituting the audience, among them the noblest and wealthiest of the land, youth and beauty everywhere joining with those of riper age. But Mr. Manns has taken his stand, and without a hitch that glorious work (the "Messiah") is gone through in such a style, and with such performers, as has never previously been attained; from the first bars of the opening overture, to the last note of the difficult "Amen" chorus, one was simply electrified and overjoyed. To specify is no easy task. The choruses were like some all-powerful torrent, carrying with them the feeling of strength and harmony, and in such a number as "For unto us," the amount of accordant noise was glorious, the famous "Tower drums" used at the Westminster celebration a hundred years ago being brought into requisition again on this occasion. Then again, the effect of 3,000 trained voices, with such accompaniments, joining to sing "Hallelujah," in the presence of 25,000 people reverently standing, was exceedingly impressive. Madame Albani took the principal soprano solos, and her splendid voice rang through the wondrous hall, her finishing A alt. in "Rejoice greatly" being very effective. Madame Patti was warmly applauded for her "O thou that tellest," as was also Signor Foli in that striking song, "The people that walked in darkness." Madame Patey undertook the contralto, and especially was she at her best in "He was despised." Mr. Maas has already made his mark in Yorkshire, and his sweet voice and earnest style are peculiarly adapted to the fine tenor songs with which Mr. Sims Reeves' name used to be so closely connected. The arrival of Mr. Santley to sing that acme of sacred bass solos "Why do the nations," was heralded by vigorous hand-clapping on the part of the choir, which soon spread throughout the vast building, and his performance fully maintained his previous successes. Mr. A. J. Eyre, the Crystal Palace organist, presided at the grand organ, and skilfully assisted in the various numbers. Of Mr. Manns, the conductor, too much can hardly be said, in the way of praise and honour; he is perfect master both of his music and his gigantic orchestra; he knows what he wants, and is resolved to have it; and certainly, he deserves the highest credit for the splendid result of his labours.

On Wednesday, the attendance was not quite so large, and the programme was less familiar and popular, than either Monday or Friday. It consisted of selections from works other than "The Messiah" or "Israel in Egypt", and the audience, while less numerous, was more select. Nevertheless the visitors reached 19,000, and had we not been favored with the glorious performance on Monday, the programme rendered on the second day would have thoroughly captivated us. The list included selections from "Saul" "Joseph", "Jubas Maccabæus", "Ode to St. Cecilia" and other less known and smaller works The artistes included Madame Albani, Madame Valleria, Madame Trebelli, Mr. Lloyd, Mr. Maas, Mr. Barrington Foote and Mr. Santley, who acquited themselves remarkably well, the better known singers being several times recalled. Mr. Best and Mr. Eyre divided the organ work between them, each playing a solo in excellent style. The violin sonata, about which so much has been said by critics, as being unsuitable and almost sacreligious played other than as a solo, was rendered by 150 violins according to Mr. Mann's wish, and the effect was wonderful, not the slightest discord being discernible, while every 'bow' moved in perfect harmony and accord. Thoroughly delighted with our second day in this grand Festival, we left our seats about half-past six, loooking forward with high expectations to Friday's "Israel in Egypt," about which I will write you next week. I ought to mention one prominent and important improvement I notice in this Festival; I refer to the clear and correct enunciation of the words by the more than 3000 singers (a fact which I would commend to the attention of my Yorkshire friends), neither was there the slighest wavering among the hundreds of instrumentalists.

ROTHWELL SCHOOL BOARD.

The monthly meeting of this Board was held on Friday last, all the members being present, with the clerk and attendance officer.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

The appointment of Miss Jagger as assistant in the Rothwell Haigh Girls' school was confirmed, at a salary of £35 per annum.

The various applications for the post of assistant in the Boys' school were considered, and two candidates selected for further correspondence.

Dr. Nowell and Mr. Fatkin laid a complaint to the Board, that their daughters, who are pupil teachers in the Rothwell Infant School, are kept in after four o'clock. The subject was left for enquiry.

Miss Barnes having sent in her resignation as a candidate, the clerk was instructed to endeavour to secure another girl in her place.

Applications were read for the situation of cleaner at Rothwell Haigh School, and the final decision was left in the hands of the clerk and management Committee.

There were a few bad attenders at Rothwell, but the attendance officer reported that at Stourton, there were hardly any children absent but had a lawful excuse. Summonses were allowed for several who have been very bad at Rothwell.

Cheques were drawn for the payment of officers' salaries, £11 5s.; teachers' salaries, Rothwell Haigh £44 13s. 4d., Rothwell £30.; quarter's coal account, £14 13s. 8d., and insurance £2 5s. 0d. The receipts for the month are:- Rothwell Haigh fees £10 0s 9d., Rothwell £9 11 9d.

LOFTHOUSE SCHOOL BOARD.

The monthly meeting of this Board was held on Wednesday night at Robin Hood School. The members present were—Messrs. T. Hargreaves (who presided), J. Armitage, and H. Hall, with the clerk, Mr. J. H. Lee.

Cheques were signed for the usual salaries, amounting to £50 8s. 8d.; the treasurer had received during the month £8 1s. 9d. fees at Robin Hood School, and £7 7s. 9d. at Carlton. There was one application for remission of fees, which was granted. The other business was formal.

WOODLESFORD AND OULTON.

Occasional Notes.

The Infirmary Demonstration at Rothwell on Sunday last was as successful as usual in point of numbers, many people from Oulton and Woodlesford helping to swell the large gathering in the Whitehall Field. Interesting addresses were delivered by well-known speakers. It becomes, however, increasingly difficult, year by year, to say anything new on the subject of supporting the medical charities; and people are not disposed to travel far to hear the most stirring address, or the most eloquent sermon on a matter upon which all are agreed, and all minds are made up. The music is the principal attraction. This should be borne in mind by the promoters of our own demonstration which is to be held in Oulton Church at the end of July The demonstration has been held alternately in Oulton and Woodlesford Churches, and on previous occasions has been marked simply by a plain service and sermon. Would it not be worth while to make the event more popular and attractive, by inviting the members of neighbouring choirs to unite and give us a grand choral service and an anthem worthy of the occasion. There would be no difficulty in obtaining qualified singers, and if the matter was arranged at once, there is ample time for preparation. An open air musical performance is subject to many drawbacks. There can be no doubt that the efforts of the chorus and instrumentalists at Rothwell—under the disadvantages of a high wind and occasional showers—were for the most part thrown away, so far as musical effect went. On the other hand there could be nothing to interfere with the success of a high-class musical service in church, and such a service need not preclude the hearty joining in of the congregation in the hymns and other general portions. As an augmented choir would have to occupy the chancel, an opportunity would be offered for contrasting the effect of the singing in this, its proper position, with the results obtained under the present arrangement.

The remaining windows on the north side of the nave in Oulton Church are this week being filled in with new stained glass. These will complete the lower tier of lights. The improvement in the appear of the church is much admired; but it is rather a "dim religious light" which finds its way through the richly coloured subjects of the new windows. In dull weather this will be a decided inconvenience.

The bill of costs for the late "Mission" at Woodlesford has just been published. It is rather an expensive piece of business, the total expenses reaching the formidable total of £22 odd; towards defraying this, only about £11—chiefly from the special offertory—has as yet been raised. Now that the deficiency is made known however, the deficit will no doubt be speedily made up.

The "nameless writer of 'Occasional Notes'" received some attention from 'Gossip' last week and was credited with a remarkable feat. He is said to "pat people and stroke their coats" (whatever that means) by the utterance of "bitterest words." This is incomprehensible; it is impossible for an average understanding to cypher it out, or to see where the application comes in. The whole tone of the paragraph discloses a feeling of discontent and jealousy which is difficult to account for. "Gossip" ought to congratulate himself on his position of "greater freedom and less responsibility." He enjoys all the delight of untramelled scribbling, whereas if the Editor withdrew the usual formula disclaiming responsibility it must necessarily follow that the perils of shears and waste-paper basket would become more real. He would be reduced to the limits of dismal accuracy and propriety, and the consequent loss of those "bits of talk" of a personal and highly seasoned character would rob his lively column of much of the piquant attraction which such matter always has for the majority of readers.

Epp's Cocoa.—Grateful and Comforting.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in packets, labelled—"James Epps & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London."—Also makers of Epp's Chocolate Essence.

Teeth, a Complete Set one Guinea.—Precisely the same Prize Medal Teeth supplied by other Dentists at the highest fees, five years' warranty.—Testimonial from Jas. Steward, Physician and Surgeon, L.R.C.P.E. I have great pleasure in recommending your Guinea Sets of Teeth. The set you supplied to me are much superior to those for which I paid a much higher fee. They must prove a great boon to the working classes." Complete set made and fitted in a few hours. One visit only required from country patients at the Dental Supply Association, 19, Boar-lane, Leeds. Entrance, Gascoigne-street. Attendance, 10 to 7. Country Patients attended at their own Residences without extra charge.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

The popular weekly, Choice Chips, will in future be published by Mr. Joseph Hughes, of Ludgate Hill, London. It will be edited by Mr. W. Davenport Adams, who may be trusted to make it a thoroughly readable miscellany.

Leeds and District Wesleyan Band of Hope Union.—The above union held their usual tea in the Wesleyan Chapel, Stourton, on Saturday evening last, when the representatives &c, of a number of Bands of Hope in the district attended. After tea, Mr. Webber was called upon to give a paper on "My duty as an Abstainer." The essay was rather a lengthy one, and created a good discussion afterwards. Several addresses were delivered by gentlemen present, and a very instructive and interesting evening was spent.

Stourton Wesleyan Sunday School Anniversary.—The above anniversary was held on Sunday last, when Mr. Swales preached in the morning, and the Rev. A. B. Gardiner in the afternoon and evening. The services were well attended, especially in the afternoon and evening. The children sang their Whitsuntide hymns, Mr. Genner conducting. The total collections for the day amounted to £3. 6s. 9½d.

Street Accident.—On Sunday evening when the Salvation Army was singing through the streets, a rather serious accident occurred. When at the bottom of Commercial Street, the drummer began beating his drum, a horse attached to a waggonette took fright and running up the street, knocked down a little girl, whose name is Emma Newton, aged 4 years. She was at once picked up and taken to her home in Jail yard, in an unconscious state, and it was seen that her injuries, chiefly on the head and face were somewhat serious. Under the careful treatment of Dr. Glaister, the little girl is improving very much, and although she may never lose the mark on her face she is progressing speedily towards complete recovery.

Colliery Accident.—Yesterday at about half-past one, noon, Samuel Heaton, of Commercial Street, Rothwell, happened an accident in the Robin Hood Pit. While Heaton was working a stone fell, knocking him on the head and back, and partially disabling him. He was conveyed home in a trap, and is, we are glad to learn considerably better this morning.

"Fit it with such Furniture as suits according the fashion and the times," and purchase from E. Miller, 42, North Street, Leeds.

Miners Notice.—A collier's wife says "My husband and two lads are miners; when they come home I give them kaye's lavaline and some warm water to wash with; the effect is wonderful, I could not do without it"—Advt.

CRICKET NOTES.

Rothwell encountered a reputed eleven on Saturday, Birstal Young England, and made a nice win. The home team won the toss, and put together 77, the scoring been very slow at times. Glover was top scorer with 18, C Tiffany following him with 15. Birstal failed in their attempts to make the score, and when the last wicket fell, had only made 33, none of the batters reaching double figures. Dobson carried off the palm for bowling, he securing 3 wickets at a cost of 7 runs. The fielding of the Rothwell men was remarkably good, and partly accounts for the smallness of their opponents' score.

The second eleven had an "off" match, (to the bottom end of the field), to play the Temperance club. Rothwell batted first, and mainly through the efforts of Pape, who made 29, they put together 47. The Temperance men followed on soon after, but were disposed of in less than 7 overs for the enormous total of 13. Pape also took the honours of bowling, taking 4 wickets for "no" runs. Chadwick also bowled well, taking 3 wickets for 9 runs.

Lofthouse met Woodhouse Temperance for the first time this season, on their own ground, and secured a remarkable victory by 117 runs. The visitors, aided by Horsey (21), and Preston (13), put together a total of 62, a rather low score due to the fine trundling of France and Moss. The home team then occupied the wickets, and before the last man was out had registered the excellent score of 179. J Noble, who appears to be in fine form just now, was head scorer with a nicely played innings of 43, followed by G W Hollings with a creditable display for 42, while G Dewse 34, W Chadwick 25, H Noble 12, and S Ward 10 (not out), were also seen to advantage, and deserve a share of the honour of such a brilliant victory as that gained by their club over the Temperance men on Saturday last.

The second elevens of these clubs also opposed each other on the Woodhouse Temperance ground, when Lofthouse again proved her superiority over her opponents, this time by 39 runs For Lofthouse J Newell batted well for 40, while W Dewse made 18, and A Ward and A Colley 13 apiece, towards a total of 108. The home team were dismissed before this total was reached owing to the good bowling of Newbold, who was credited with 7 wickets out of the ten obtained. The head scorer on the Temperance side was Abbott who scored 26, followed by G Thackray 11, and Greenwood 10. The total reached 69, of which 10 were extras.

Robin Hood journeyed to Carr Gate, to meet the club of that place, and would have gained a very easy victory had there been sufficient time for the match to have been finished. For Robin Hood, S Hartley batted an extremely fine innings of 31, while E Milner shewed good form for 23, as did W Horner J Hick for 21 and 10 respectively, the whole eleven being responsible for the nice score of 112. Carr Gate had not long to occupy the wickets, but at the drawing of the stumps, had lost five men for but 18 runs. T Hemsworth accomplished a remarkable feat in the trundling department, capturing 4 wickets at a cost of only 7 runs, an average of 1-3

Stourton Harriers encountered Hunslet Wesleyans on the Haigh Park ground, and secured a well-fought victory by 18 runs. The Wesleyans defended first and putting together 61 runs, James Goldthorpe playing in his very best style for 17, Cookson also hitting freely for 18. On the Harriers' side, Cleaver was first with 13, followed by F Jones with 10, the whole amounting to 79, of which 19 are extras,—rather bad fielding on the part of the Wesleyans, I should say, or there would never be such a large number of extras.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes close, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above-named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety one cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), London, England. This syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of system.

VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.—The keen competition nowadays brings ultimate good for the Individual! An instance of this is seen in the Jewellery, Watch, Clock, and Optician Trade. Mr. R. Scott, Goldsmith, &c., so long and favourably known in Leeds, has cast about him to discover how to sell cheaper, and thus command a larger trade. Having been thirty-five years in the trade, in the course of which he has "gone through" each branch, from the Manufacturing to the Retail Shop, he was naturally 'up to all the wrinkles.' The middle men, known by the names of Merchants, Factors, Wholesale Dealers, Commercial Travellers, &c., all, in ordinary course, have a pick at, or "add to" the prices of the Goods before they reach the ultimate user. The question was, "How to jump over these, and thus avoid their profits?" Manufacturing each class of Goods directly on the premises was impracticable, inasmuch as it would require almost a town's population to produce the requisite variety of designs and qualities. What cannot be done in a direct manner can frequently be accomplished indirectly. So R. Scott has surrendered exclusive proprietorship in favour of Manufacturers, who arranged to supply his Establishment at the cost of materials and men's time in the making. In short, placing the Goods before the public, at single articles at wholesale prices. The management is still under R. Scott's personal control, who takes this opportunity of thanking his Patrons in the past, and hopes to receive anew a mark of their confidence. In future the firm will be known as Scott & Co., Goldsmiths, Silversmiths, Opticians, Watch and Clock Makers, Top Corner (The Illuminated Projecting Clock) of Briggate and Lowerhead Row, Leeds.

If your Watches or Clocks are out of order have them properly restored by good workmen. Scott & Co. guarantee their work for 12 months. Silver Plate and Jewellery made as new, on very economical terms. Send stamp for price list.

TOWN TALK.

The first thing to notice this week, I think, must be the Infirmary Demonstration, which took place last Sunday afternoon. People had dinner prepared earlier than usual, in order to attend the great meeting, and by one o'clock the streets, usually so calm and restful, were thronged with lively, well-behaved crowds. The Demonstration was headed by Ingledew's Band, immediately followed by the members of the Boards, and other public bodies; one thing was particularly noticeable, that all the public business, or nearly so, is carried on by a certain 'few'; this was suggested to my mind by observing gentlemen in the procession who attended in two, three or four capacities. The Sunday Schools were there, not in very large numbers though, and when the children of the four schools were concentrated representing the whole of Rothwell and a good half of Carlton, it appeared as though we had been having a very insignificant birth-rate for the last ten years, accompanied by a tremendously heavy infant mortality. I do not intend dwelling on the speeches made and the various other items in the programme, it would be too heavy a task; certainly the affair as a whole was not so successful as last year. The speeches were not all spicy, some were unwise, some were dry; the exceptions were few, but there were exceptions after all. "All's well that ends well," we are sometimes told; the Infirmary Demonstration did not end well; the collection was fearfully below last year, a fact greatly to be deplored, and one to be ashamed of. The result must be very discouraging to the committee and officers, who have worked so constantly and continuously to bring the undertaking to a successful end.

At the Liberal meeting held eight days ago, at the little village of Robin Hood, Dr. Nowell, in speaking of the good attendance and enthusiasm manifested that evening, said he felt it as a reproach that Rothwell had been so backward in the matter of political teaching. I hope that the reproach spoken of by Dr. Nowell will be deepened and made so unbearable that he, along with the other smouldering embers of what was once a blazing hot fire, will begin to glow and blaze with the earnest zeal which was a few years ago their chief characteristic. Dr. Nowell, so far as I know him (and I have known him longer than some people) is not in the habit of telling 'fibs.' No doubt he did feel very much condemned for the lack of spirit in his own and his companions' breasts, but I want to tell him that there is an anomaly quite as great as that of a working man being a Tory, in danger of coming to pass; I refer to the fact that in spite of the great reproach Dr. Nowell feels when attending these outside meetings, he does not attempt to remove the cause of the reproach, when it is so much in his power so to do. The local Tories have captured your head quarters, Sir, and such head-quarters too. Your work is to retake the position, or erect another in front of it. "Nothing succeeds like success," and you may depend upon it the Tories are at the top just now in Rothwell; popular favour will be shewn them next November if you don't mind. Come, do waken up and do something. Fetch Mr. Pickard and let him talk.

P. C. Jackson, one of the 'new bobbies,' made a good catch of that fellow who committed an assault on two women at Rothwell Haigh on Wednesday in last week. He did the trick neat and tidy. I am given to understand that he is not only new to Rothwell, but also new to the honourable profession to which he is devoting his life's energy; he is verily 'a new bobby,' fresh to the job, and he has made a good start for a 'P S.,' which will no doubt soon be given him, should he continue in this good path. As a slight token of the gratitude felt by an innumerable company of the fair sex, to the heroic 'Robert,' let all maids and matrons unite and erect a choice memento in honour of him, so that the remembrance of his noble deed may be for ever perpetuated.

I have scarcely dared to mention the Rothwell Temperance Hall and its supporters this last month or two. Whenever I have cause to disapprove of anything done by these "radical tetotalers," I am met with such a wolfish snarl that I have avoided noticing them for some time. I am coming on them again; let them kick if they like. The worthy (?) president, Mr. Mantle, seems to be supposing himself to be something more than he is, and than he ought to be. I heard of him the other night asking one of the old and tried members of the society, not over politely, to disconnect himself with the Society, simply because he objected in the Committee, to business being done which belonged to the Trustees, he being one of them. I think the members have done very unwisely in electing Mr. Mantle as President; from what I can learn, he is a very unsuitable man for the post. He went to the Temperance Hall, because he could not get all his own way at the Church of England Temperance Society, and if he is allowed to do as he pleases in Holmes Square, I don't think it will be to the benefit of the Society or the extension of Temperance work.

With many other districts, we felt the earthquake shock. At first I was not inclined to think much about it, but there is no doubt of its actually having taken place. Those who are inclined to be afraid, when violent nature asserts his presence and displays some of his majestic rage, either in excessive wind, rain, hail, or thunder, will now have another enemy to encounter. I have heard of some who are making themselves quite miserable about the matter. I'm sure they are very foolish. Do they ever think that all the sunshine, the beauty, and the harmony of nature, was made that they might be happy, and that every flower and tree, every valley and hill, every rippling river and placid lake, and indeed the whole of this beautiful creation, is intended to charm, ennoble, and satisfy them.

GOSSIP.

A Case for Enquiry.—In regard to a letter appearing under this head last week, we find that Mr. Starkie absolutely denies the correctness of the statements therein contained, and we therefore regret its publication. For this reason, we also hold over other letters on both sides of this subject.

Holloways Pills.—Enfeebled Existence.—This medicine embraces every attribute required in a general and domestic remedy. It overturns the foundations of decease laid by defective food and impure air. In obstructions or congestions of the liver, lungs, bowels, or any other organs, these Pills are especially serviceable and eminently successful. They should be kept in readiness in every family, being a medicine of incomparable utility for young persons, especially those of feeble constitutions. They never pain or irritate the most sensitive nerves or most tender bowels. Holloway's Pills are the best known purifiers of the blood, the most active promoters of absorption and secretion, whereby all poisonous and obnoxious matters are removed from both solids and fluids.

Cheap Nourishment.—Fourteen large Breakfast Cups of strong, reliable Cocoa can be made from a Sixpenny Packet of Cadbury's Cocoa Essence. Ask for Cadbury's, and do not be imposed upon.

As a safe, permanent and warranted cure of Pimples Scrofula, Scurvy, Bad Legs, Skin and Blood Diseases and Sores of all kinds, we can with confidence recommend CLARKE'S WORLD-FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE.—Sold by Chemists everywhere

Valuable Discovery for the Hair.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Price 3s. 6d.—For an Oil to make the Hair soft, glossy, and luxuriant, ask for "CARTER'S COLOGNE OIL." Price 1s. of all dealers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

DEAR FRED,

You will be surprised at receiving a letter from me, but thank God, I am pleased to say am getting better every day. I shall be so glad to breathe the fresh air again. It has seemed a dreadful long time to be in bed. You know I was taken to the Hospital last April to be treated for Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Well, on the 31st of July they tapped me, and took away 304 ounces of water. The same thing was done again on the 18th September, and 408 ounces of water obtained. On the 9th October I was discharged from the Hospital as incurable. In January this year (the 20th), was again tapped at home and 360 ounces of water taken away. The St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London refused me admission as a hopeless case, and the Bartholomew Hospital, Chatham, also refused me, as being the worst case they had seen for years, and two local doctors gave me up as hopeless. When I came from the Hospital it took three to put me to bed. My clothes had to be cut off. I was an object of misery and despair. After the Hospitals had refused me, and doctors given me up, my wife persuaded me to try Hop Bitters, and from the commencement have improved daily. I have only taken them seven weeks and can now get downstairs and walk about without even a stick. With the aid of a few more bottles of the Bitters shall be well again. The water has entirely left my body and legs. The only trace left is in my feet. It is a wonderful medicine. I wish I had tried it sooner, as I have nearly ruined myself and family with doctors' bills and other expenses. I might have been well long ago. At the Hospital I had no appetite whatever, but since using the Bitters eat everything with a relish. The only difficulty is the expense, but must not mind that so long as I am getting well. Am cheerful now that recovery is near, for every one had given me up as a bad job. With best wishes to . . . . . .

I remain,
Your affectionate Brother,
(Signed) William Grayson.
1, Bush Terrace, Cage Lane,
Chatham, March 14, 1885.

To the Hop Bitters Co., London.

Gentlemen,—I enclose letter from my brother-in-law, Wm. Grayson, Chatham. He considers he owes his life to your Hop Bitters, and feels he cannot say enough in its praise.

Yours truly,
Fred. Stammers.
89, Castle Street, London.

LATER.

Chatham, March 24.

Since I wrote you ten days ago I have improved wonderfully. To-day I walked to the barber's shop (and got shaved), and back again by myself without fatigue. This is the first time I have been out alone since last April—over eleven months.

HIGH AUTHORITY.

Dr. THOMPSON says Kidney Disease is probably next to Consumption the commonest cause of death among adults in this climate. You have had a recent and mysterious attack of asthma, pains in the back and around the loins, severe headaches, dizziness, inflamed eyes, a coated tongue and a dry mouth, loss of appetite, chilly sensation, indigestion (the stomach never is in order when the kidneys or liver are deranged), dryness of the skin, nervousness, night sweats, muscular debility, despondency, a tired feeling (especially at night), puffing or bloating under the eyes, and your muscular system seems utterly helpless. Dr. Roberts, of England; Prof. Thompson, of New York; and other celebrated authorities tell us that all these symptoms are sure indications of Bright's Disease! With some patients the disease runs slowly and for years. With others it comes as a thief in the night. This fact is an alarming one, and startles the inquiry, What can be done?

HOP BITTERS for the CURE of Kidney and Liver Complaints have no equal in the world, and those suffering from any of the above symptoms should use them at once.

Throat Affections and Hoarseness.—All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country at 1s. 1½d. per box. People troubled with a "hacking cough," a "slight cold," or bronchial affections, cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic affections. See that the words "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are on the Government Stamp around each box.—Prepared by John I. Brown & Sons, Boston, U.S. European depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London

Advice to Mothers!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It soothes the child, it soften the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 1½d. per bottle.

Floriline!—For the Teeth and Breath.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

Worth a Guinea a Box.
BEECHAM'S PILLS

ARE admitted by thousands to be worth above a Guinea a Box for Bilious and Nervous Disorders, such as Wind and Pain at the Stomach, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Fulness, and Swelling after meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Scurvy, Blotches on the skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, &c., &c. The first dose will give relief in twenty minutes.

This is no fiction, for they have done it in thousands of cases. The Proprietor of these Pills having obtained (at great expense) a Patent for them, he challenges the whole world to produce a medicine equal to them for removing the above named complaints and restoring the patient to sound and lasting health.

Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try one box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be

WORTH A GUINEA A BOX.

For females of all ages these Pills are invaluable, as a few doses of them carry off all gross humours, open all obstructions, and bring about all that is required. No female should be without them. There is no remedy to be found to equal BEECHAM'S PILLS for removing any obstruction or irregularity of the system. If taken according to the directions given with each box, they will soon restore females of all ages to sound and robust health.

For a weak Stomach, impaired digestion, and all disorders of the Liver, they act like 'Magic,' and a few doses will be found to work wonders upon the most important organs in the human machine. They strengthen the whole muscular system, restore the long lost complexion, bring back the keen edge of appetite, and arouse into action, with the Rosebud of health, the whole physical energy of the human frame.—These are "Facts" admitted by thousands, embracing all classes of Society, and one of the best guarantees to the Nervous Debilitated is, Beecham's Pills have the largest sale of any Patent Medicine in the world.

BEECHAM'S MAGIC COUGH PILLS

Are a remedy for Coughs in General, Asthma Difficulty of Breathing, Shortness of Breath, Tightness and Oppression of the Chest, Wheezing, &c., these Pills stand unrivalled for anyone labouring under any of the above complaints. They need only try One Box to prove that they are the best ever offered to the public for Asthmatic and Consumptive Coughs, Hoarseness, and Oppression of the Chest. They speedily remove the sense of oppression and Difficulty of breathing which nightly deprive the patient of rest. They give almost instant relief and comfort to those afflicted with the above distressing and, when neglected, dangerous complaints, but any person troubled with any of the above complaints should give Beecham's Cough Pills a trial

The most violent Cough will in a short time be removed.

Caution.—The public are requested to notice that the words "Beecham's Pills, St. Helen's," are on the Government Stamp affixed to each box of the Pills; if not on, they are a forgery.

Prepared only, and sold wholesale and retail by the proprietor, T. Beecham, Chemist, St. Helen's, Lancashire, in boxes, 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Sent post free for 15 or 36 stamps.
